Deut. 28. 15. 20 * Wherefore these plagues are come vpon vs, and the curse which the Lord appointed by Moses his seruant at the time that hee brought our Fathers out of the land of Egypt to giue vs a land that floweth with milke and hony, as appeareth this day.

21 Neuertheless, we haue not hearkned vnto the voyce of the Lord our God, according to all the words of the prophets, whom he sent vnto vs.

22 But euery one of vs followed the wicked imagination of his owne heart, to serue strange gods, and to doe euill in the sight of the Lord our God.

CHAP. II.

1 The Iewes confesse that they suffer iustly for their sinnes. The true confession of the Christians. 11 The Iewes desire to haue the wrath of God turned from them. 32 He promiseth that he will call againe the people from captiuitie, and giue them a new and euerlasting Testament.

THerefore the Lord our God hath performed his word, which he pronounced against vs, and against our Iudges that gouerned Israel, and against our Kings, and against our Princes, and against the men of Israel and Iuda,

2 To bring vpon vs great plagues, such as neuer came to passe vnder the whole heauen, as they that were done in Ierusalem, according to things, that were written in the law of Moyses, Deut. 28. 53. 3 That some among vs should * eat the flesh of his owne sonne, and some the flesh of his owne daughter.

4 Moreouer, he hath deliuered them to be in subiection to all the kingdoms that are round about vs, to be as a reproch and desolation among all the people round about where the Lord hath scattered them.

5 Thus they are brought beneath, and not aboue, because wee haue sinned against the Lord our God, and haue not heard his voice.

Chap. 1. 15. 6 * To the Lord our God appertaineth righteousnesse, but vnto vs and to our fathers open shame, as appeareth this day.

7 For all these plagues are come vpon vs, which the Lord hath pronounced against vs.

8 Yet haue wee not prayed before the Lord that we might turne euery one from the imaginations of his owne wicked heart.

9 So the Lord hath watched ouer the plagues, and the Lord hath brought them vpon vs: for the Lord is righteous in all his workes, which he hath commanded vs.

10 Yet we haue not hearkened vnto his voice, to walke in the commaundements of the Lorde that he hath giuen vnto vs.

Dan. 9. 15. 11 * And now, O Lord God of Israel, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and an hie arme, and with signes, and with wonders, and with great power, and hast gotten thy selfe a Name, as appeareth this day, 12 O Lord our God, we haue sinned, we haue done wickedly: we haue offended in all thine ordinances.

13 Let thy wrath turne from vs: for wee are but a few left among the heathen, where thou hast scattered vs.

14 Here our prayers, O Lord, and our petitions, and deliuer vs for thine owne sake, & giue vs fauour in the sight of them, which haue led vs away, 15 That all the earth may know that thou art the Lord our God, and that thy Name is called vpon Israel, and vpon their posterity.

16 Therefore looke downe from thine holy Temple, and thinke vpon vs: incline thine eare, O Lord, and heare vs.

Deut. 26. 15 Isa. 63. 15. Psal. 6. 5, 6. and 115. 17. 18. Isa. 38. 18, 19. ‖ Or, glory, nor praise of righteousnesse.

17 * Open thine eyes, and behold: for the dead that are in the graues, and whose soules are out of their bodies, * giue vnto the Lord, neither ‖ praise nor righteousnesse.

18 But the soule that is vexed for the greatnesse of sinne, and hee that goeth crookedly, and weake, and the eyes that faile, and the hungry soule will giue thee praise and righteousnesse, O Lord.

19 For we do not require mercie in thy sight, O Lord our God, for the righteousnesse of our fathers, or of our Kings,

20 But because thou hast sent out thy wrath and indignation vpon vs, as thou hast spoken by thy ‖ seruants the Prophets, saying,

‖ Or, by the hand of thy seruants. Iere. 27. 7.

21 * Thus saith the Lord, Bow downe your shoulders, and serue the king of Babylon: so shal ye remaine in the land, that I gaue vnto your fathers.

22 But if yee will not heare the voyce of the Lord, to serue the king of Babylon, 23 I will cause to cease in the cities of Iuda, and in Ierusalem, I will cause to cease the voyce of mirth, and the voyce of ioy, and the voyce of the bridgrome, and the voyce of the bride, and the land shall bee desolate of inhabitants.

24 But wee would not hearken vnto thy voyce, to serue the King of Babylon: therefore hast thou performed the words that thou spakest by thy seruants the Prophets, namely, that the bones of our Kings, and the bones of our fathers should be caryed out of their places.

25 And loe, they are cast out to the heat of the day, and to the colde of the night, and are dead in great misery with famine, and with the sword, and in banishment.

26 And the Temple wherein thy Name was called vpon, thou hast brought to the state, as appeareth this day, for the wickednesse of the house of Israel, and the house of Iuda.

27 O Lord our God, thou hast entreated vs according to equitie, and according to all thy great mercie, 28 As thou spakest by thy seruant Moyses, in the day when thou diddest commaund him to write thy Law before the children of Israel, saying,

Leuit. 26. 14 deut. 18. 15 29 * If yee will not abide my voyce, then shall this great swarme and multitude be turned into a very few among the nations where I will scatter them.

30 For I know that they will not heare me: for it is a stifnecked people: but in the lande of their captiuitie they shall remember themselues,

31 And know that I am the Lord their God: then will I giue them an heart to vnderstand, and eares, 32 And they shall heare, and praise mee in the land of their captiuitie, and thinke vpon my Name.

33 Then shall they turne them from their hard backes, and from their euill workes: for they shall remember the way of their fathers, which sinned before the Lord.

34 And I will bring them againe into the land, which I promised with an othe vnto their fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and they shall be lords of it: and I will increase them, and they shall not be diminished.

35 And I will make an euerlasting couenant with them, that I will bee their God, and they shall be my people: and I will no more driue my people of Israel out of the land that I haue giuen them.

CHAP. III.

1 The people continueth in their prayer begun for their deliuerance. 9 He praiseth wisdom vnto the people, shewing that so great aduersities came vnto them for the despising thereof. 36 Onely God was the finder of wisedome. 37 Of the incarnation of Christ.

O Lord Almighty, O God of Israel, the soule that is in trouble, and the spirit that is vexed, crieth vnto thee.

2 Heare, O Lord, and haue mercie: for thou art mercifull, and haue pity vpon vs, because we haue sinned before thee.

3 For thou endurest for euer, and we vtterly perish.

4 O Lord Almightie, the God of Israel, heare now the prayer of the dead Israelites, and of their children, which haue sinned before thee, and not hearkened vnto the voyce of thee their God, wherefore these plagues hang vpon vs.

5 Remember not the wickednesse of our fathers, but thinke vpon thy power and thy Name at this time.

6 For thou art the Lord our God, and thee O Lord, will wee praise.

7 And for this cause hast thou put thy feare in our hearts, that we should call vpon thy Name, and praise thee in our captiuity: for we haue considered in our mindes all the wickednesse of our fathers, that sinned before thee.

8 Behold, we are yet this day in our captiuitie, where thou hast scattered vs, to bee a reproch and a curse, and subiect to payments, according to all the iniquities of our fathers, which are departed from the Lord their God.

9 O Israel, heare the commandements of life: hearken vnto them, that thou mayst learne wisdome.

10 What is the cause, O Israel, that thou art in thine enemies land, and art waxen old in a strange countrey, 11 And art defiled with the dead, and art counted with them, that goe downe to the graues?

12 Thou hast forsaken the fountaine of wisedome:

13 For if thou haddest walked in the way of God, thou shouldest haue remained safe for euer.

14 Learne where is wisedome, where is strength, where is vnderstanding, that thou mayest knowe also from whence commeth long continuance, and life, and where the light of the eyes and peace is.

15 Who hath found out her place? or who hath come into her treasures?

16 Where are the princes of the heathen, and such as ruled the beasts vpon the earth?

17 They that had their pastime with the fowles of the heauen, that hoarded vp siluer and gold, wherein men trust and made none end of their gathering?

18 For they that coined siluer, and were so carefull of their worke, and whole inuention had none end, 19 Are come to nought, and gone downe to hell, and other men are come vp in their steads.

20 When they were young, they sawe the light, and dwelt vpon the earth: but they vnderstood not the way of knowledge, 21 Neither perceiued the paths thereof, neither haue their children received it: but they were farre off from that way.

22 It hath not beene heard of in the land of Chanaan, neither hath it beene seene in Theman, 23 Nor the Agarines that sought after wisedome vpon the earth, nor the merchants of Merran, and of Theman, nor the expounders of fables, nor the searchers out of wisedome haue knowen the way of wisedome, neither doe they thinke vpon the pathes thereof.

24 O Israel, howe greate is the house of God! and howe large is the place of his possession!

25 It is great, and hath none end, it is high, and vnmeasurable.

26 There were the giants, famous from the beginning: that were of so great stature, and so expert in warre.

27 Those did not the Lord chuse, neither gaue he the way of knowledge vnto them.

28 But they were destroyed, because they had no wisedome, and perished through their owne foolishnesse.

29 Who hath gone vp into heauen to take her, and brought her downe from the cloudes?

30 Who hath gone ouer the sea to finde her, and hath brought her rather then fine gold?

31 No man knoweth her wayes, neither considereth her paths.

32 But he that knoweth all things, knoweth her, and he hath found her out with his vnderstanding: this same is hee which hath prepared the earth for euermore, and hath filled it with foure footed beasts.

33 When hee sendeth out the light, it goeth: and when hee calleth it againe it obeyeth him with feare.

34 And the starres shine in their watch, and reioyce. When he calleth them, they say, Here we be: and so with cheerefulnesse they shew light vnto him that made them.

35 This is our God, and there shall none other be compared vnto him.

36 Hee hath found out all the way of knowledge, and hath giuen it vnto Jacob his seruant, and to Israel his beloued.

37 Afterward he was seene vpon earth, and dwelt among men.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The reward of them that keepe the Law, and the punishment of them that despise it. 12 A comforting of the people being in captiuitie. 19 A complaint of Ierusalem, and vnder the figure therof the Church. 25 A consolation and comforting of the same.

THis is the booke of the commandements of God, and the Law that endureth for euer: all they that keepe it, shall come to life: but such as forsake it, shall die.

2 Turne thee, O Iacob, and take holde of it: walke by this brightnes before the light therof.

3 Giue not thine honour to another, nor the things that are profitable vnto thee, to a strange nation.

4 O Israel wee are blessed: for the thinges that are acceptable vnto God, are declared vnto vs.

5 Bee of good comfort, O my people, which art the memoriall of Israel.

6 Ye are sold to the nations, not for your destruction: but because ye prouoked God to wrath ye were deliuered vnto the enemies.

7 For ye haue displeased him that made you, offering vnto deuils, and not to God.

8 Yee haue forgotten him that created you, euen the euerlasting God, and yee haue grieued Ierusalem, that nourished you.

9 When shee saw the wrath comming vpon you from God, she said, Hearken, ye that dwell about Sion: for God hath brought mee into great heauinesse.

10 I see the captiuitie of my sonnes & daughters, which the euerlasting will bring vpon them.

11 With ioy did I nourish them, but I must leaue them with weeping and mourning.

12 Let no man reioyce ouer me a widow, and forsaken of many, which for the sinnes of my children am desolate, because they departed from the Law of God.

13 They would not know his righteousnesse, nor walke in the wayes of his commandements: neither did they enter into the paths of discipline, through his righteousnesse.

14 Come, yee that dwell about Sion, and call to remembrance the captiuitie of my sonnes and daughters, which the euerlasting hath brought vpon them.

15 For hee hath brought vpon them a nation from far, an impudent nation, and of a strange language, 16 Which neither reuerence the aged, nor pitie the yong: these haue caried away the deare beloued of the widowes, leauing me alone, and destitute of my daughters.

17 But what can I helpe you?

18 Surely he that hath brought these plagues vpon you, can deliuer you from the hands of your enemies.

19 Goe your way, O children, goe your way, for I am left desolate.

20 I haue put off the clothing of peace, and put vpon me the sackcloth of prayer, and so long as I liue, I will call vpon the euerlasting.

21 Bee of good comfort, O children: cry vnto God, and he will deliuer you from the power, and hand of the enemies.

22 For I haue hope of your saluation through the euerlasting, and ioy is come vpon mee from the holy One, because of the mercy which shall quickly come vnto you from our euerlasting Sauiour.

23 For I sent you away with weeping, and mourning: but with ioy and perpetuall gladnes will God bring you againe vnto me.

24 Like as now the neighbours of Sion saw your captiuitie, so shall they also see shortly your saluation from God, which shall come vnto you with great glorie, and brightnes from the Euerlasting.

25 My children, suffer patiently the wrath that is come vpon you from God: for thine enemie hath persecuted thee, but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt treade vpon his necke.

26 My darlings haue gone by rough wayes, and we are led away as a flocke that is scattered by the enemies.

27 Bee of good comfort, my children, and cry vnto God: for hee that led you away, hath you in remembrance.

28 And as it came into your minde to goe astray from your God: so endeuour your selues tenne times more, to turne againe and to seeke him.

29 For he that hath brought these plagues vpon you, will bring you euerlasting ioy againe, with your saluation.

30 Take a good heart, O Ierusalem: for he which gaue thee that name, will comfort thee.

31 They are miserable that afflict thee, and such as reioyce at thy fall.

32 The cities are miserable whome thy children serue: miserable is shee that hath taken thy sonnes.

33 For as she reioyced at thy decay, and was glad of thy fall, so shall shee be sory for her owne desolation.

34 For I will take away the reioycing of her great multitude, and her ioy shall be turned into mourning.

35 For a fire shall come vpon her from the Euerlasting, long to endure, and she shalbe inhabited of deuels for a great season.

36 O Ierusalem looke toward the East, and behold the ioy that commeth vnto thee from thy God.

37 Loe, thy sonnes (whome thou hast let goe) come gathered together from the East vnto the West, reioycing in the word of the holy One vnto the honour of God.

CHAP. V.

1 Ierusalem is moued vnto gladnesse for the returne of her people, and vnder the figure thereof the Church.

PVt off thy mourning clothes, O Ierusalem, and thine affliction, and decke thee with the worship & honour, that commeth vnto thee from God, for euermore.

2 Put on the garment of righteousnesse, that commeth from GOD, and let a crowne vpon thine heade of the glorie of the euerlasting.

3 For God wil declare thy brightnesse to euery countrey vnder the heauen.

4 And God will name thee by this name for euer, The peace of righteousnesse, and the the glory of the worship of God.

5 Arise, O Jerusalem, and stand vp on hie, and looke about thee toward the East, and beholde thy children gathered from the East vnto the West by the word of the holy One, reioycing in the remembrance of God.

6 For they departed from thee on foote, and were led away from their enemies: but God will bring them againe vnto thee, exalted in glory, as children of the kingdome.

7 For God hath determined to bring downe euery high mountaine, and the long enduring rocks, and to fill the valleies, to make the ground plaine, that Israel may walke safely vnto the honour of God.

8 The woodes and all sweete smelling trees shall ouershadow Israel at the commandement of God.

9 For God shall bring Israel with ioy in the light of his maiestie, with the mercie and righteousnesse that commeth of him.

CHAP. VI.

A COPIE OF THE EPISTLE THAT Jeremias sent vnto them that were led away captiues into Babylon by the King of the Babylonians, to certifie them of the thing that was commanded him of God.

In this chapter are the makers and mainteiners of images mightily confuted.

BEcause of the sinnes, that yee haue committed against God, ye shal be led away captiues vnto Babylon, by Nabuchodonosor, King of the Babylonians.

2 So when ye be come into Babylon, ye shall remaine there many yeeres, and a long season, euen a seuen generations, and after that will I bring you away peaceably from thence.

a That is, seuentie yeeres.

3 *Now shall yee see in Babylon gods of siluer, and of gold, and of wood, borne vpon mens shoulders, to cause the people to feare:

*Isa 44.8,9, 10.& 46.5, 7.plal.115. 4.wisd.13. 10.

4 Beware therefore that ye in no wise be like the strangers, neither be ye afraid of them, when yee see the multitude before them and behinde them worshipping them.

5 But say yee in your hearts, O Lord, wee must worship thee.

6 For mine Angel shalbe with you: and shall care for your soules.

7 As for their tongue, it is polished by the carpenter, and they themselues are gilted, and layd ouer with siluer: yet are they but lyes, and cannot speake.

8 And as they take gold for a mayde that loueth to be dekt,

9 So make they crownes for the heades of their gods: sometimes also the Priestes themselues conuey away the gold and siluer from their gods, and bestow it vpon themselues.

10 Yea, they giue of the same vnto the harlots, that are in their houses: againe, they decke these gods of siluer, and gods of golde, and of wood, with garments like men.

11 Yet cannot they be preserued from rust and wormes, 12 Though they haue couered them with clothing of purple, and wipe their faces because of the dust of the Temple, whereof there is much vpon them.

13 One holdeth a scepter, as though hee were a certaine Iudge of the countrey: yet can hee not slay such as offend him.

14 An other hath a dagger or an axe in his right hand: yet hee is not able to defend himselfe from battell, nor from theeues: so then it is euident that they be no gods.

15 Therefore feare them not: for as a vessell that a man vseth, is nothing worth when it is broken, 16 Such are their gods: when they be set vp in their temples, their eyes be full of dust by reason of the feet of those that come in.

17 And as the ‖gates are shut in round about vpon him that hath offended the king: or as one that should be led to be put to death, so ye priestes keepe their temples with doores, & with lockes, and with barres, least their gods should be spoyled by robbers.

‖Or, courts.

18 They light vp candles before them: yea, more then for themselues, whereof they cannot see one: for they are but as one of the posts of the temple.

19 They confesse, that euen their hearts are gnawen vpon: but when the things that creepe out of the earth, eate them and their clothes, they feele it not.

20 Their faces are blacke through the smoke that is in the Temple.

21 The owles, swallowes & birdes flie vpon their bodies, and vpon their heads, yea, and the cats also.

22 By this yee may be sure, that they are not gods: therefore feare them not.

23 Notwithstanding the golde, that is about them to make them beautifull, except one wipe off the rust, they cannot shine: neither when they were molten, did they feele it.

24 The thinges wherein is no breath, are bought for a most high price.

25 *They are borne vpon mens shoulders, because they haue no feet, whereby they declare vnto men, that they be nothing worth, yea, and they that worship them, are ashamed.

*Isa.46.7.

26 For if they fall to the ground at any time, they cannot rise vp againe of themselues, neither if one set them vpright, can they moue of themselues, neither if they bee bowed downe can they make themselues straight: but they set gifts before them, as vnto dead men.

27 As for the thinges that are offred vnto them, their Priestes sell them, and abuse them: likewise also the women lay vp of the same: but vnto the poore and sicke they giue nothing.

28 The menstruous women, and they that are in childbed, touch their sacrifices: by these things ye may know that they are no gods: feare them not.

29 From whence commeth it then, that they are called gods? because the women bring gifts to the gods of siluer, and gold, and wood.

30 And their Priestes sit in their temples, hauing their clothes rent, whose heads and beardes are shauen, and being bare headed, 31 They roare and cry before their gods, as men do at the feast of one that is dead.

32 The Priests also take away of their garments, and cloth their wiues and children.

33 Whether it bee euill that one doeth vnto them, or good, they are not able to recompense it: they can neither set vp a King, nor put him downe.

34 In like maner they can neither giue riches nor money: though a man make a vowe vnto them, and keepe it not, they will not require it.

35 They can saue no man from death, neither deliuer the weake from the mightie.

36 They cannot restore a blinde man to his sight, nor helpe any man at his neede.

37 They can shew no mercie to the widow, nor doe good to the fatherlesse.

38 Their gods of wood, gold, and siluer, are as stones that bee hewen out of the mountaine, and they that worship them, shall bee confounded.

39 How should a man then thinke or say, that they are gods?

40 Moreouer, the Chaldeans themselues dishonour them: for when they see a dumbe man, that cannot speake, they present him to Bel, 41 And desire that hee would make him to speake, as though hee had any feeling: yet they that vnderstand these things, cannot leaue them: for they also haue no sence.

42 Furthermore, the women, girded with coards, sit in the streetes, and burne ‖ straw. ‖Or, branne.

43 And if one of them bee drawen away, and lie with such as come by, shee casteth her neighbour in the teeth, because shee was not so worthily reputed, nor her coard broken.

44 Whatsoeuer is done among them, is lies: how may it then be thought or said, that they are gods?

45 Carpenters and goldsmiths make them, neither bee they any other thing, but euen what the workman will make them.

46 Yea, they that make them, are of no long continuance: how should then the things that are made of them, be gods?

47 Therefore they leaue lies, and shame for their posteritie.

48 For when there commeth any warre, or plague vpon them, the Priestes imagine with themselues, where they may hide themselues with them.

49 How then can men not perceiue, that they be no gods, which can neither defend themselues from warre, nor from plagues?

50 For *seeing they be but of wood, and of siluer, and of golde, men shall know hereafter that they are but lies, and it shalbe manifest to al nations and Kings, that they bee no gods, but the workes of mens hands, & that there is no worke of God in them. Psal. 115.4. wisd. 13.10.

51 Whereby it may be knowen, that they are no gods.

52 They can set vp no King in the land, nor giue raine vnto men.

53 They can giue no sentence of a matter, neither preserue from iniurie: they haue no power, but are as crowes betweene the heauen and the earth.

54 When there falleth a fire vpon the house of those gods of wood, and of siluer, and of gold, the Priests will escape and saue themselues, but they burne as the balkes therein.

55 They cannot withstand any King or enemies: how can it then bee thought or said that they be gods?

56 Moreouer, these gods of wood, of golde, and of siluer can neither defend themselues from theeues nor robbers.

57 For they that are strongest, take away their gold and siluer, and apparell, wherewith they be clothed: and when they haue it, they get them away: yet can they not helpe themselues.

58 Therefore it is better to be a King, and so to shew his power, or else a profitable vessel in an house, whereby he that oweth it might haue profit, then such false gods: or to bee a doore in an house, to keepe such things safe as bee therein, then such false gods: or a pillar of wood in a palace, then such false gods.

59 For the Sunne, and the Moone, and the starres that shine, when they are sent downe for necessarie vses, obey.

60 Likewise also the lightning, when it shineth, it is euident: and the wind bloweth in euery countrey.

61 And when God commaundeth the clouds to goe about the whole world, they doe as they are bidden.

62 When the fire is sent downe from aboue to destroy hils and woods, it doth that which is commanded: but these are not like any of these things, neither in forme nor power.

63 Wherefore men should not thinke, nor say that they bee goods, seeing they can neither giue sentence in iudgement, nor doe men good.

64 Forsomuch now as yee are sure, that they be no gods, feare them not.

65 For they can neither curse, nor blesse Kings:

66 Neither can they shewe signes in the heauen among the heathen, neither shine as the Moone.

67 The beasts are better then they: for they can get them vnder a couert, and do themselues good.

68 So yee may be certified that by no maner of meanes they are gods: therefore feare them not.

69 For as a scarrow in a garden of cucumbers keepeth nothing, so are their gods of wood, and of siluer, and of gold:

70 And likewise their gods of wood, and gold, and siluer, are like to a white thorne in an orchard, that euery bird sitteth vpon, and as a dead body that is cast in the darke.

71 By the purple also and brightnesse which fadeth vpon them, ye may vnderstand, that they be no gods: yea, they themselues shall be consumed at the last, and they shall bee a shame to the countrey.

72 Better therefore is the iust man, that hath none idoles: for hee shall bee farre from reproofe.

¶ The song of the three holy children, which followeth in the third Chapter of Daniel, after this place, They fell downe bound into the middes of the hote herie fornace.

25 The prayer of Azarias. 46 The cruelty of the king. 48 The flame deuoureth the Chaldeans. 49 The Angel of the Lord was in the fornace. 51 The three children praise the Lord, and prouoke all creatures to the same.

24 AND they walked in the midst of the flame, praising God, and magnified the Lord.

25 Then Azarias stood vp, and prayed on this manner, and opening his mouth in the middes of the fire, said, 26 Blessed bee thou, O Lord God of our fathers: thy Name is worthy to bee praised and honoured for euermore.

27 For thou art righteous in all the things, that thou hast done vnto vs, and all thy workes are true, and thy wayes are right, and all thy iudgements certaine.

28 In all the things that thou hast brought vpon vs, and vpon Ierusalem, the holy citie of our fathers, thou hast executed true iudgments: for by right & equity thou hast brought all these things vpon vs because of our sinnes.

29 For wee haue sinned and done wickedly, departing from thee: in all things haue we trespassed, 30 And not obeied thy commandements, nor kept them, neither doneas thou hadst commanded vs, that we might prosper.

31 Wherfore in all that thou hast brought vpon vs, and in euery thing that thou hast done to vs, thou hast done them in true iudgement:

32 As in deliuering vs into the hands of our wicked enemies, and most hatefull traitors, and to an vnrighteous king, and the most wicked in all the world.

33 And now we may not open our mouthes: wee are become a shame and reproofe vnto thy seruants, and to them that worship thee.

34 Pet for thy Names sake we beseech thee, giue vs not vp for euer, neither breake thy Couenant, 35 Neither take away thy mercy from vs, for thy beloued Abrahams sake, and for thy seruant Isaacs sake, and for thy holy Israels sake.

36 To whom thou hast spoken and promised, that thou wouldest multiply their seede as the starres of heauen, and as the sand, that is vpon the sea shore.

37 For we, O Lord, are become lesse then any nation, and bee kept vnder this day in all the world, because of our sinnes:

38 So that now we haue neither Prince, nor Prophet, nor gouernour, nor burnt offering, nor sacrifice, nor oblation, nor incense, nor place to offer the first fruits before thee, that we might find mercy.

39 Neuertheless, in a contrite heart, and an humble spirit let vs be receiued.

40 As in the burnt offering of rammes and bullocks, and as in ten thousand of fat lambes, so let our offering be in thy sight this day, that it may please thee: for there is no confusion vnto them, that put their trust in thee.

41 And now we folow thee with all our heart, and feare thee, and seeke thy face.

42 Put vs not to shame, but deale with vs after thy louing kindnesse, and according to the multitude of thy mercies.

43 Deliuer vs also by thy miracles, and giue thy Name the glory, O Lord, 44 That all they that doe thy seruants euill, may be confounded: euen let them bee confounded by thy great force and power, and let their strength be broken,

45 That they may know, that thou onely art the Lord God, & glorious ouer the whole world.

46 Now the Kings seruants that had cast them in, ceased not to make the ouen hote with [a] naphtha, and with pitch, and with towe, and with fagots, 47 So that the flame went out of the fornace fourtie and nine cubits.

48 And it brake forth, and burnt those Chaldeans, that it found by the fornace.

49 But the Angel of the Lord went downe into the fornace with them that were with Azarias, and smote the flame of the fire out of the fornace, 50 And made in the middes of the fornace like a moyst hissing wind, so that the fire touched them not at all, neither grieued nor troubled them.

51 Then these three (as out of one mouth) praised, and glorified, and blessed God in the fornace, saying, 52 Blessed bee thou, O Lord God of our fathers, and praised, and exalted aboue all things for euer, and blessed bee thy glorious and holy Name, and praised aboue all things, and magnified for euer.

53 Blessed be thou in the Temple of thine holy glory, and praised aboue all things, and exalted for euer.

54 Blessed be thou that beholdest the depths, and sittest vpon the Cherubims, and praised aboue all things and exalted for euer.

55 Blessed bee thou in the glorious throne of thy kingdome, and praised aboue all things, and exalted for euer.

56 Blessed bee thou in the firmament of heauen, and praised aboue all things, and glorified for euer.

57 All yee workes of the Lord, blesse yee the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

58 O [b] heauens, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer. Psal 148.4.

59 O Angels of the Lord, blesse yee the Lord, praise him, & exalt him aboue all things for euer.

60 All yee waters that be aboue the heauen, blesse yee the Lord, praise him, and exalt him aboue all things for euer.

61 All yee powers of the Lord, blesse yee the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboue all things

The hiſtorie of ‖ Suſanna, which ſome ioyne to the end of Daniel, and make it the thirteenth Chapter.

8 The two gouernours are taken with the loue of Suſanna. 19 They take her alone in the garden. 20 They ſolicite her to wickednеſſe 23 She chuſeth rather to obey God, though it be to the danger of her life. 34 She is accuſed. 45 Daniel doth deliuer her. 62 The gouernours are put to death.

THere dwelt a man in Babylon called Ioacim.

2 And he tooke a wife, whoſe name was Suſanna, the daughter of Helcias, a very faire woman, & one that feared God.

3 Her father and her mother alſo were godly people, and taught their daughter according to the Law of Moſes.

4 Now Ioacim was a great rich man, and had a faire garden ioyning vnto his houſe, and to him reſorted the Iewes, becauſe he was more honourable then all others.

5 The ſame yere were appointed two of the ancients of the people to be Iudges, ſuch as the Lord ſpeaketh of, that the iniquitie came from Babylon, and from the ancient Iudges, which ſeemed to rule the people.

6 Theſe haunted Ioacims houſe, and all ſuch as had any thing to doe in the Law, came thither vnto them.

7 Now when the people departed away at noone, Suſanna went into herhuſbands garden to walke.

8 And the two elders ſaw her that ſhe went in dayly and walked, ſo that their luſt was inflamed toward her.

9 Therefore they turned away their mind, and caſt downe their eyes, that they ſhould not ſee heauen, nor remember iuſt iudgements. a To wit, from God.

her lone, yet durst not one shewe another his griefe.

11 For they were ashamed to declare their lust, that they desired to haue to doe with her.

12 Yet they watched diligently from day to day to see her.

13 And the one said to the other, Let vs goe now home, for it is dinner time.

14 So they went their way, and departed one from another: yet they returned againe, and came into the same place, and after that they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust: then appointed they a time both together when they might finde her alone.

15 Now when they had spied out a conuenient time, that shee went in, as her maner was, with two maydes onely, and thought to wash her selfe in the garden, (for it was an hotte season)

16 And there was no body there, saue the two Elders that had hid themselues, and watched for her:

17 She saide to her maydes, Bring me oyle and sope, and shut the garden doores, that I may wash me.

18 And they did as shee bade them, and shut the garden doores, and went out themselues at a backe doore, to fet the thing that she had commanded them: but they saw not the Elders, because they were hid.

19 Now when the maides were gone foorth, the two Elders rose vp and ranne vnto her, saying, 20 Beholde, the garden doores are shut, that no man can see vs, and we burne in loue with thee: therefore consent vnto vs, and lie with vs.

21 If thou wilt not, wee will beare witnesse against thee, that a yong man was with thee, and therefore thou didst sende away thy maydes from thee.

22 Then Susanna sighed, and said, I am in trouble on euery side: for if I doe this thing, it is death vnto me: and if I doe it not, I cannot escape your hands.

23 It is better for me to fall into your hands, and not doe it, then to sinne in the sight of the Lord.

24 With that Susanna cryed with a loude voyce, and the two elders cried out against her.

25 Then ranne the one, and opened the garden doore.

26 ¶ So when the seruants of the house heard the cry in the garden, they rushed in at the backe doore, to see what was done vnto her.

27 But when the Elders had declared their matter, the seruants were greatly ashamed: for there was neuer such a report made of Susanna.

28 On the morrow after, came the people to Joacim her husband, and the two Elders came also, full of mischeuous imagination against Susanna, to put her to death, 29 And said before the people, Send for Susanna the daughter of Helcias Joacims wife. And immediatly they sent.

30 So she came with her father and mother, her children, and all her kinred.

31 Now Susanna was very tender, and faire of face.

32 And these wicked men commaunded to vncouer her face, (for she was couered) that they might be satisfied with her beauty.

33 Therefore they that were about her, and all that knew her, wept.

34 Then the two Elders stood vp in the middest of the people, and laid their hands vpon her head, 35 Which wept, and looked vp toward heauen: for her heart trusted in the Lord.

36 And the Elders sayde, As wee walked in the garden alone, shee came in with two maides, whom she sent away from her, and shut the garden doores.

37 Then a yong man, which there was hid, came vnto her, and lay with her.

38 Then wee which stoode in a corner of the garden, seeing this wickednesse, ran vnto them, and we saw them as they were together.

39 But wee could not hold him: for he was stronger then we, and opened the doore and leaped out.

40 Now when wee had taken this woman, we asked her what yong man this was, but shee would not tell vs: of these things are wee witnesses.

41 Then the assembly beleeued them, as those that were the Elders and iudges of the people: so they condemned her to death.

42 Then Susanna cryed out with a loude voyce, and sayd, O euerlasting God, that knowest the secrets, and knowest all things afore they come to passe, 43 Thou knowest, that they haue borne false witnesse against mee, and beholde, I must die, whereas I neuer did such things as these men haue maliciously inuented against me.

44 And the Lord heard her voyce.

45 ¶ Therefore when shee was led to bee put to death, the Lord raised vp the holy spirit of a yong child, whose name was Daniel, 46 Who cryed with a loude voyce, I am cleane from the blood of this woman.

47 Then all the people turned them toward him, and sayd, What meane these wordes, that thou hast spoken?

48 Then Daniel stoode in the middes of them, and sayd, Are yee such fooles, O Israelites, that without examination, or knowledge of the trueth, yee haue condemned a daughter of Israel?

49 Returne againe to iudgement: for they haue borne false witnesse against her.

50 Wherefore the people turned againe in all haste, and the Elders sayd vnto him, Come, sit downe among vs, and shew it vs, seeing God hath giuen thee the office of an Elder.

51 Then sayd Daniel vnto them, Put these two aside, one farre from another, and I will examine them.

52 So when they were put asunder one from another, hee called one of them and sayde vnto him, O thou that art old in a wicked life, nowe thy sinnes which thou hast committed afore time are come to light.

53 For thou hast pronounced false iudgements, and hast condemned the innocent, and hast let the guiltie goe free, albeit the Lorde sayth, * The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay. Exod. 23.

54 Now then, if thou hast seene her, tell mee, Vnder what tree sawest thou them companying panying together? Who answered, Under a lentike tree.

55 Then sayd Daniel, Verely thou hast lyed against thine owne ‖head: for loe, the Angel of God hath received the sentence of God, to cut thee in two. ‖Or, life.

56 So put hee him aside, and commaunded to bring the other, and sayd vnto him, O thou seede of Chanaan, and not of Juda, beautie hath deceiued thee, and lust hath subuerted thine heart.

57 Thus haue ye dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for feare companied with you: but the daughter of Juda would not abide your wickednesse.

58 Now therefore tell me, Vnder what tree diddest thou take them companying together? Who answered, Vnder a ‖ pine tree. ‖Or, mirtle tree.

59 Then said Daniel vnto him, Verely thou hast also lied against thine head, for the Angel of God waiteth with the sword to cut thee in two, and so to destroy you both.

60 ¶ With that all the whole assembly cryed with a loud voyce, and praysed God, which saueth them that trust in him.

61 And they arose against the two Elders, (for Daniel had conuicted them of false witnesse by their owne mouth.)

62 * And according to the Lawe of Moyses they dealt with them, as they dealt wickedly against their neighbour, and put them to death. Thus the innocent blood was saued the same day. Deut. 19. 19. prou. 19. 5.

63 Therefore Helcias and his wife praysed God for their daughter Susanna, with Joacim her husband, and all the kinred, that there was no dishonestie found in her.

64 From that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the sight of the people.

65 And King Astiages was layed with his fathers, and Cyrus of Persia reigned in his stead.

¶ The historie of Bel and of the Dragon, which is the fourteenth Chapter of Daniel after the Latine.

NOwe when King Astyages was layed with his fathers, Cyrus the Persian receiued his kingdome.

2 And Daniel did eate at the kings table, and was honoured aboue all his friends.

3 Now the Babylonians had an idole, called Bel, and there were spent vpon him euery day twelue [a] great measures of fine flowre, and fourtie sheepe, and fire great [b] pots of wine.

4 And the King worshipped it, and went dayly to honour it: but Daniel worshipped his owne God. And the King sayd vnto him, Why doest not thou worship Bel?

5 Who answered, and sayd, Because I may not worship idoles made with handes, but the liuing God which hath created the heauen and the earth, and hath power vpon all flesh.

6 Then sayd the King vnto him, Thinkest thou not that Bel is a liuing God? Seest thou not how much hee eateth and drinketh euery day?

7 Then Daniel smiled and sayd, O king, be not deceiued: for this is but clay within, & brasse without, and did neuer eate any thing.

8 So the king was wroth, and called for his priests, and sayd vnto them, If yee tell mee not who this is that eateth vp these expenses, ye shall die:

9 But if yee can certifie me that Bel eateth them, then Daniel shall die: for hee hath spoken blasphemie against Bel. And Daniel sayd vnto the king, Let it bee according to thy word.

10 (Now the Priests of Bel were threescore and ten, beside their wiues and children:) and the King went with Daniel into the temple of Bel.

11 So Bels priests sayd, Behold, wee will goe out, and set thou the meate there, O King, and let the wine bee filled: then shut the doore fast, and seale it with thine owne signet.

12 And to morrow when thou comest in, if thou findest not that Bel hath eaten vp all, wee will suffer death, or els Daniel that hath lied vpon vs.

13 Now they thought themselues sure enough: for vnder the table they had made a priuie entrance, and there went they in euer, and tooke away the things.

14 So when they were gone forth, the King set meates before Bel. Now Daniel had commaunded his seruants to bring ashes, and these they strowed throughout all the Temple, in the presence of the King alone: then they went out, and shut the doore, and sealed it with the Kings signet, and so departed.

15 Now in the night came the Priests with their wiues and children, (as they were wont to doe) and did eate and drinke vp all.

16 In the morning betimes, the King arose and Daniel with him.

17 And the King sayd, Daniel, are the seales whole? Who answered, Yea, O king, they bee whole.

18 And assoone as hee had opened the doore, the king looked vpon the table, and cryed with a loud voyce, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceit.

19 Then laughed Daniel, and held the king that he should not goe in, and sayd, Behold now the pauement, and marke well whose footsteps are these.

20 And the king sayd, I see the footesteps of men, women, and children: therefore the king was angry, 21 And tooke the Priests, with their wiues, and children, and they shewed him the priuie doores, where they came in, and consumed such things as were vpon the table.

22 There-

22 Therefore the King slew them, and deliuered Bel into Daniels power, who destroyed him and his temple.

23 ¶ Moreouer in that same place there was a great Dragon, which the Babylonians worshipped.

24 And the King sayd vnto Daniel, Sayest thou that this is of brasse also? loe, hee liueth, and eateth and drinketh, so that thou canst not say that he is no liuing God: therefore worship him.

25 Then sayd Daniel vnto the King, I will worship the Lord my God: for hee is the liuing God.

26 But giue me leaue, O King, and I will slay this Dragon without sword or staffe. And the King sayd, I giue thee leaue.

27 Then Daniel tooke pitch, and fatte, and hayre, and did seethe them together, and made lumpes thereof: this hee put in the Dragons mouth, and so the Dragon burst in sunder. And Daniel sayd, Behold, whom ye worship.

28 When the Babylonians heard it, they were wonderfull wroth, and gathered them together against the King, saying, The King is become a Iew: for hee hath destroyed Bel, and hath slaine the Dragon, and put the Priestes to death.

29 So they came to the King, and sayd, Deliuer vs Daniel, or else wee will destroy thee and thine house.

30 Nowe when the King sawe, that they preassed sore vppon him, and that necessitie constrayned him, hee deliuered Daniel vnto them:

31 Who cast him into the Lions den, where he was sixe dates.

32 In the denne there were seuen Lions, and they had giuen them euery day two bodies and two sheepe, which then were not giuen them, to the intent that they might deuoure Daniel.

33 ¶ Now there was in Iewrie a Prophet called Abbacuc, which had made pottage, and broken bread in a bowle, and was going into the field, for to bring it to the reapers.

34 But the Angel of the Lord sayd vnto Abbacuc, Goe, carry the meate that thou hast, into Babylon vnto Daniel, which is in the Lyons denne.

35 And Abbacuc sayd, Lord, I neuer saw Babylon, neyther doe I know where the denne is.

36 Then the Angel tooke him by the crowne of the head, & bare him by the haire of the head, and through a mighty wind set him in Babylon vpon the denne.

37 And Abbacuc cryed, saying, O Daniel, Daniel, take the dinner that God hath sent thee.

38 Then sayd Daniel, O God, thou hast thought vpon me, and thou neuer forsakest them that seeke thee and loue thee.

39 So Daniel arose, and did eat, and the Angel of the Lord set Abbacuc in his owne place againe immediatly.

40 Vpon the seuenth day the King went to bewaile Daniel: and when he came to the den, he looked in, and behold, Daniel sate in the mids of the Lions.

41 Then cried the King with a loud voyce, saying, Great art thou, O Lord God of Daniel, and there is none other besides thee.

42 And he drew him out of the den, and cast them that were the cause of his destruction into the denne, and they were deuoured in a moment before his face.

20 Thus Antiochus wanne many strong cities in the land of Egypt, and tooke away the spoyles of the land of Egypt.

21 And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypt, hee turned againe in the hundreth fourtie and three yeere, 22 And went vp toward Israel and Jerusalem with a mightie people,

23 And entred proudly into the Sanctuarie, and tooke away the golden Altar, and the Candlesticke for the light, and all the instruments thereof, and the Table of the shewbread, and the powring vessels, and the bowles, and the golden basens, and the vaile, and the crownes, and the golden apparell, which was before the Temple, and brake all in pieces.

24 Hee tooke also the siluer and golde, and the precious iewels, and hee tooke the secret treasures that hee found, and when hee had taken away all, hee departed into his owne land, 25 After hee had murthered many men, and spoken very proudly.

26 Therefore there was a great lamentation in euery place of Israel.

27 For the Princes and the Elders mourned: the young women, and the yong men were made feeble, and the beautie of the women was changed, 28 Euery bridegrome tooke him to mourning, and she that sate in the marriage chamber was in heauinesse.

29 The land also was moued for the inhabitants thereof: for all the house of Jacob was couered with confusion.

h The battell of Macedonia.

30 h After two yeeres the king sent his chiefe taskemaster into the cities of Juda, which came to Jerusalem with a great multitude, 31 Who spake peaceable words vnto them in deceit, and they gaue credit vnto him.

32 Then he fell suddenly vpon the citie, and smote it with a great plague, & destroyed much people of Israel.

33 And when hee had spoyled the citie, he set fire on it, casting downe the houses thereof, and walls thereof on euery side.

34 The women and their children tooke they captiue, and led away the cattell.

35 Then fortified they the city of David with a great & thicke wall, and with mightie towers, and made it a strong hold for them.

36 Moreouer, they set wicked people there, and vngodly persons, and fortified themselues therein.

37 And they stored it with weapons and vitailes, and gathered the spoyle of Jerusalem, and laide it vp there.

38 Thus became they a sore snare, and were in ambushment for the Sanctuarie, and were wicked enemies euermore vnto Israel.

39 For they shedde innocent blood on euery side of the Sanctuarie, and defiled the Sanctuarie, 40 Insomuch that the citizens of Jerusalem fled away because of them, and it became an habitation of strangers, being desolate of them whom she had borne: for her owne children did leaue her.

41 Her Sanctuarie was left waste as a wildernesse: her holy dayes were turned into mourning, her Sabbaths into reproch, and her honor brought to nought.

42 As her glory had beene great, so was her dishonour, and her excellencie was turned into sorrow.

43 Also the king wrote vnto all his kingdom, that all the people should bee as one, and that euery man should leaue his lawes. Joseph. Ant. 12. cap. 6. & 7.

44 And all the heathen agreed to the commandement of the king.

45 Yea, many of the Israelites consented to his religion, offering vnto idoles, and defiling the Sabbath.

46 So the king sent letters by the messengers vnto Jerusalem, and to the cities of Juda, that they should follow the strange lawes of the countrey, 47 And that they should forbid the burnt offerings and sacrifices, and the ‖ offerings in the Sanctuarie, ‖ Or, drinke offerings.

48 And that they should defile the Sabbaths and the feasts,

49 And pollute the Sanctuarie and the holy men,

50 And to set vp altars and groues, and chappels of idoles, and offer vp swines flesh, and vncleane beasts,

51 And that they should leaue their children vncircumcised, and defile their soules with vncleannesse, and pollute themselues, that they might forget the Law, and change all the ordinances, 52 And that whosoeuer would not doe according to the commandement of the king, should suffer death.

53 In like manner wrote hee throughout all his kingdomes, and set ouerseers ouer all the people, for to compell them to doe these things.

54 And he commanded the cities of Juda to doe sacrifice, citie by citie.

55 Then went many of the people vnto them by heapes, euery one that forsooke the Law, and so they committed euill in the land.

56 And they droue the Israelites into secret places, euen whereſoeuer they could flee for ſuccour.

57 The fifteenth day of Caſleu, in the hundreth and fiue and fortieth yeere, they ſet vp the abomination of deſolation vpon the altar, and they builded altars throughout the cities of Iuda on euery ſide.

58 And before the doores of the houſes, and in the ſtreetes they burnt incenſe.

59 And the bookes of the Law, which they found, they i burnt in the fire, and cut in pieces.

i It is a manifeſt note of the enemies of God, to burne the bookes of the Law, Hiſt. eccleſ. lib. 8. cap. 2.

60 Whoſoeuer had a booke of the Teſtament found by him, or whoſoeuer conſented vnto the Law, the kings commandement was, that they ſhould put him to death by their authoritie.

61 And they executed theſe things euery moneth vpon the people of Iſrael that were found in the cities.

62 And in the fiue and twentieth day of the moneth, they did ſacrifice vpon the altar, which was in the ſtead of the altars of ſacrifices.

63 And according to the commaundement, they put certaine women to death, which had cauſed their children to be circumciſed.

64 And they hanged vp the children at their neckes, and they ſpoyled their houſes, and ſlewe the circumciſers of them.

65 Yet were there many in Iſrael, which were of courage, and determined in themſelues, that they would not eat vncleane things, 66 But thoſe rather to ſuffer death, then to bee defiled with thoſe meates: ſo becauſe they would not breake the holy couenant, they were put to death.

67 And this ‖ tyrannie was very ſore vpon the people of Iſrael.

‖ Or, rage.

CHAP. II.

1 The mourning of Mattathias and his ſonnes for the deſtruction of the holy citie. 19 They refuſe to doe ſacrifice vnto idoles. 24 The zeale of Mattathias for the law of God. 33 They are ſlaine, and will not fight againe becauſe of the Sabbath day. 49 Mattathias dying, commaundeth his ſonnes to ſticke by the word of God, after the example of the fathers.

Ioſeph. Ant. 12. cap. 7.

IN thoſe dayes ſtood vp Mattathias the prieſt, the ſonne of Joannes, the ſonne of Simeon, of the ſonnes of Joarib of Jeruſalem, and dwelt in Modin.

2 And hee had fiue ſonnes, Joanan called Gaddis,

3 Simon called Thaſſi,

4 Judas which is called Maccabeus,

5 Eleazar called ‖ Abaron, and Jonathan, whoſe name was Apphus.

‖ Or, Anaran.

6 Now he ſaw the blaſphemies, which were committed in Juda and Jeruſalem:

7 And hee ſaid, Woe is me: wherefore was I borne, to ſee this deſtruction of my people, and the deſtruction of the holy citie, and thus to ſit ſtill? it is deliuered into the hands of the enemies.

8 And the Sanctuarie is in the hands of ſtrangers: their Temple is as a man that hath no renowme.

9 Her glorious veſſels are caried away into captiuitie: her infants are ſlaine in the ſtreetes, and her young men are fallen by the ſword of the enemies.

10 What people is it, that hath not ſome poſſeſſion in her kingdome, or hath not gotten of her ſpoyles?

11 All her glory is taken away: of a free woman, ſhee is become an handmaide.

12 Behold, our Sanctuary, and our beautie, and honour is deſolate, and the Gentiles haue defiled it.

13 What helpeth it vs then to liue any longer?

14 And Mattathias rent his clothes, he, and his ſonnes, and put ſackecloth vpon them, and mourned very ſore.

15 ¶ Then came men from the King to the citie of Modin, to compell them to forſake God, and to ſacrifice.

16 So many of the Iſraelites conſented vnto them: but Mattathias and his ſonnes aſſembled together.

17 Then ſpake the commiſſioners of the king, and ſaid vnto Mattathias, Thou art the chiefe and an honourable man, and great in this citie, and haſt many children and brethren.

18 Come thou therefore firſt, and fulfill the Kings commandement, as all the heathen haue done, and alſo the men of Juda, and ſuch as remaine at Jeruſalem: ſo ſhalt thou and thy familie bee in the Kings fauour: and thou and thy children ſhall be enriched with ſiluer and gold, and with many rewards.

19 Then Mattathias anſwered & ſaid with a lowde voice, Though all nations that are vnder the kings dominion obey him, and fal away euery man from the religion of their fathers, and conſent to his commandements, 20 a Yet will I and my ſonnes, and my brethren, walke in the couenant of our fathers.

a The father pro miſeth for his children, that they ſhall ſerue God: ſo doeth Ioſhua for his houſhold, Ioſh. 24. 15.

21 God be mercifull vnto vs, that we forſake not the law and the ordinances.

22 Wee will not hearken vnto the Kings words to tranſgreſſe our religion, neither on the right ſide, nor on the left.

23 And when hee had left off ſpeaking theſe words, there came one of the Iewes, in the ſight of all, to ſacrifice vpon the altar which was at Modin, according to the kings commandement.

24 Now when Mattathias ſaw it, he was ſo inflamed with zeale, that his reines ſhooke, and his wrath was kindled according to the ordinance of the law: therefore hee ranne vnto him, and killed him by the altar:

b It is a griefe to the godly to ſee the people offend.

25 And at the ſame time hee ſlew the Kings commiſſioner, that compelled him to doe ſacrifice, and deſtroy the altar.

26 Thus bare he a zeale to the Law of God, * doing as Phinees did vnto Zambri the ſonne of Salomi.

Numb. 25. 7.

27 ¶ Then cried Mattathias with a lowde voyce in the citie, ſaying, Whoſoeuer is zealous of the Law, and will ſtand by the couenant, let him come forth after me.

28 So he, and his ſonnes fled into the mountaines, and left all that they had in the citie.

29 Then many that ‖ ſought after iuſtice and iudgement,

‖ Or, that liued iuſtly & vprightly.

30 Went downe into the wildernes to dwell there, both they, and their children, and their wiues and their cattell: for the afflictions increaſed ſore vpon them.

31 ¶ Now when it was told vnto the kings ſeruants, seruants, and to the garisons, which were in Ierusalem in the citie of Dauid, that men had broken the Kings commaundement, and were gone downe into the secret places in the wildernesse, 32 Then many pursued after them: & hauing ouertaken them, they camped against them and set the battell in aray against them on the Sabbath day, 33 And sayd vnto them, Let this now bee sufficient: come forth and do according to the commandement of the King, and ye shall liue.

34 But they answered, We will not goe forth, neither will we doe the kings commaundement, to defile the Sabbath day.

35 Then they gaue them the battell.

36 But the other answered them nothing, neither cast any one stone at them, or stopped the prime places, 37 But said, We will die all in our innocency: the heauen and earth shall testifie for vs, that ye destroy vs wrongfully.

38 Thus they gaue them the battell vpon the Sabbath, and slew both men and cattell, their wiues & their children to the number of a thousand people.

39 ¶When Mattathias and his friends vnderstood this, they mourned for them greatly, 40 And said one to another, If we all doe as our brethren haue done, and fight not against the heathen for our liues, and for our lawes, then shall they incontinently destroy vs out of the earth.

41 Therefore they concluded at the same time, saying, Whosoeuer shall come to make battell with vs vpon the Sabbath day, wee will fight against him, that wee die not all, as our brethren that were murthered in the secret places.

42 Then came vnto them the assembly of the Assideans, which were of the strongest men of Israel, all such as were well minded toward the Law.

43 And all they that were fled for persecution, ioyned themselues vnto them, and were an helpe vnto them.

44 So they gathered a power, and smote the wicked men in their wrath, and the vngodly in their anger, but the rest fled vnto the heathen, and escaped.

45 Then Mattathias and his friendes went about and destroyed the altars, 46 And circumcised the children by force that were vncircumcised, as many as they found within the coasts of Israel, 47 And they pursued after the proude men: and this act prospered in their hands.

48 So they recouered the Law out of the hand of the Gentiles, and out of the hand of kings, and gaue not place to the wicked.

49 Now when the time drewe neere, that Mattathias should die, hee sayd vnto his sonnes, Now is pride and persecution increased, and the time of destruction, and the wrath of indignation.

50 Now therefore, my sonnes, be ye zealous of the Law, and giue your liues for the couenant of our fathers.

51 Call to remembrance what actes our fathers did in their time: so shall yee receiue great honour and an euerlasting name.

52 *Was not Abraham found faithfull in tentation, and it was imputed vnto him for righteousnesse? Gen.22.9, 10.rom.4.3.

53 *Ioseph in the time of his trouble kept the commaundement, and was made the Lord of Egypt. Gen41.40.

54 *Phinehes our father, because he was zealous and fernent, obteined the couenant of the euerlasting Priesthood. Num.25.13 ecclus 45. 23,24.

55 *Iesus for fulfilling the word, was made the gouernour of Israel. Iosh.1.2.

56 *Caleb, because he bare witnes before the congregation, receiued the heritage of the land. Num 14.6, 7.ioth.14.

57 *Dauid, because of his mercy, obtained the throne of the kingdome for euermore. 13. 2.Sam.2.4.

58 *Elias, because hee was zealous and fernent in the Law, was taken vp euen vnto heauen. 2.King.2.11

59 *Ananias, Azarias, and Misael by their faith were deliuered out of the flame. Dan.3.16, 17,18,26.

60 *Daniel, because of his innocencie, was deliuered from the mouth of the Lions. Dan.6.22

61 And thus yee may consider throughout all ages, that whosoeuer put their trust in him, shall not want strength.

62 *Feare not yee then the wordes of a sinfull man: for his glory is but dung and wormes. Mat.10.26, 28,31.isa. 40.6,7.& 51.7,8.

63 To day is he set vp, and to morrow he shall *not be found: for he is turned into his dust, and his purpose perisheth. Iam 1.10. 1.pet. 1.24.

64 Wherefore my sonnes, take good hearts, and shew your selues men for the Law: for by it shall you obtaine glory. ecclus 14. 18.

65 And behold, I know that your brother Simon is a man of counsell: giue eare vnto him alway: he shall be a father vnto you.

66 And Iudas Maccabeus hath beene mighty and strong, euen from his youth vp: let him be your captain, and fight you the battel for the people.

67 Thus shall ye bring vnto you all those that obserue the Law, and shall auenge the iniuries of your people.

68 Recompense fully the heathen, and giue your selues to the commandement of the Law.

69 So he blessed them, and was laid with his fathers,

70 And died in the hundreth, fortie and first yeere, and his sonnes buried him in his fathers sepulchre at Modin, and all Israel made great lamentation for him.

CHAP. III.

1 Iudas is made ruler ouer the Iewes. 11 Hee killeth Apollonius and Seron the princes of Syria. 44 The confidence of Iudas toward God. 55 Iudas determineth to fight against Lysias, whom Antiochus had made captaine ouer his host.

THen Iudas his sonne, called Maccabeus, rose vp in his place.

2 And all his brethren helped him, and all they that held with his father, and fought with courage the battell of Israel.

3 So he gate his people great honour: he put on a brest plate as a gyant, and armed himselfe, and set the battell in aray, & defended the campe with his sword.

4 In his actes hee was like a Lyon, and as a Lions whelpe roaring after the pray.

5 For hee pursued the wicked, & sought them out, and burnt vp those that vexed his people.

6 So

6 So that the wicked fled for feare of him, and al the workers of iniquitie were put to trouble: and saluation prospered in his hand.

7 And hee grieued diuers Kinges, but Jacob reioyced by his acts, and his memoriall is blessed for euer.

8 Hee went also thorow the cities of Juda, and destroyed the wicked out of them, and turned away the wrath from Israel.

9 So was he renowmed vnto the ends of the earth, and he assembled together those that were ready to perish.

a Who was gouernour of Syria, Ioseph. Antiq. 12. chap. 9.

10 ¶ But a Apollonius gathered the Gentiles, and a great hoste out of Samaria, to fight against Israel.

11 Which when Judas perceiued, hee went foorth to meete him, and smote him, and slew him, so that many fell downe slaine, and the rest fled.

12 So Judas tooke their spoiles, and tooke also Apollonius sword, and fought with it all his life long.

13 ¶ Now when Seron a prince of the armie of Syria, heard that Judas had gathered vnto him the congregation, and Church of the faithfull, and went forth to the warre, 14 He said, I will get me a name, and will be glorious in the realme: For I will goe fight with Judas, and them that are with him, which haue despised the kings commandement.

15 So he made him ready to go vp, and there went with him a mighty hoste of the vngodly to help him, and to be auenged of the children of Israel.

16 And when hee came neere to the going vp of Beth horon, Judas went forth to meete him with a small company.

17 But when they saw the armie comming against them, they said to Judas, How are wee able, being so few, to fight against so great a multitude, and so strong, seeing wee be so wearie, and haue fasted all this day?

18 Then said Judas, It is an easie thing for many to bee shut vp in the handes of few, and there is no difference before the God of heauen, to deliuer by a great multitude, or by a small compame.

19 For the victorie of the battell standeth not in the multitude of the hoste, but the strength commeth from heauen.

20 They come against vs with a cruell and proude multitude to destroy vs, and our wiues, and our children, and to robbe vs, 21 But we doe fight for our liues, and for our Lawes.

22 And God himselfe will destroy them before our face: therefore be not yee afraid of them.

23 And when he had left off speaking, he leapt suddenly vpon them: so was Seron and his host destroyed before him.

24 And they pursued them from the going downe of Beth-horon vnto the plaine: where there were slaine eight hundreth men of them, & the residue fled into the land of the Philistims.

25 Then the feare and terrour of Judas and his brethren fell vpon the nations round about, 26 So that his fame came vnto the king: for all the Gentiles could tell of the warres of Judas.

27 ¶ But when king Antiochus heard these tidings, hee was angry in his minde: wherefore he sent foorth, and gathered all the power of his Realme, a very strong army, 28 And opened his treasure, and gaue his hoste a yeeres wages in hand, commanding them to be ready for a yeere for all occasions.

29 Neuertheless, when hee saw that the money of his treasures failed, and that the tributes in the countrey were small, because of the dissension, and plagues that hee had brought vpon the land, in taking away the Lawes which had bene of old time,

30 He feared least he should not haue now at the second time, as at the first, for the charges and gifts that he had giuen with a liberall hand afore: for in liberalitie hee farre passed the other kings that were before him.

31 Wherefore hee was heauie in his minde, and thought to goe into Persia, for to take tributes of the countreyes, and to gather much money.

32 So he left Lysias a noble man, and of the Kings blood to oucrsee the kings businesse, from the riuer of Euphrates, vnto the borders of Egypt, 33 And to bring vp his sonne Antiochus, till he came againe.

34 Moreouer hee gaue him halfe of his hoste and Elephants, and gaue him the charge of all things that he would haue done,

35 And concerning those which dwelt in Juda and Jerusalem, that hee should send an armie against them, to destroy and roote out the power of Israel and the remnant of Jerusalem, and to put out their memoriall from that place, 36 And to set strangers for to inhabite al their quarters, and part their land among them.

37 And the king tooke the halfe of the host that remained, and departed from Antiochia his royall citie, in the yeere an hundreth fourtie and seuen, and passed the riuer Euphrates, and went thorow the hie countreyes.

38 Then Lysias chose Ptolomeus the sonne of Dorimnus, and Nicanor, and Gorgias mighty men and the kings friends, 39 And sent with them fourtie thousand footmen, and seuen thousand horsemen, to goe into the land of Juda, and to destroy it, as the King commaunded.

40 So they went foorth with all their power and came & pitched by † Emmaus in the plaine countrey. † Emmaus.

41 Now when the merchants of the countrey heard the rumour of them, they tooke very much siluer and gold, and seruants, and came into the campe to buy the children of Israel for slaues, and the strength of Syria and of strange nations ioyned with them.

42 ¶ Now when Judas and his brethren saw that trouble encreased, and that the hoste drewe neere vnto their borders, considering the kinges words, whereby he had commaunded to destroy the people, and vtterly abolish them, 43 They sayd one to another, Let vs redresse the decay of our people, and let vs fight for our people, and for our Sanctuary.

44 Then the congregation were soone ready gathered to fight, and to pray, and to desire mercy and compassion.

45 As for Jerusalem, it was not inhabited, but was as a wildernesse. There went none that was borne in it, in or out at it, and the Sanctuarie

Sanctuary was troden downe, and the strangers kept the fortresse, and it was the habitation of the heathen: and the mirth of Jacob was taken away: the pipe and the harpe ceased.

46 So they gathered themselues together, and came to Maipha before Jerusalem: for in Maipha was the place where they prayed aforetime in Israel.

47 And they fasted that day, and put sackecloth vpon them, and cast ashes vpon their heads and rent their clothes,

48 And opened the booke of the Law, wherein the heathen sought to paint the likenesse of their idoles, 49 And brought the Priestes garments, and the first fruits, and the tithes, and set there the Nazarites, which accomplished their dayes.

50 And they cryed with a lowd voyce toward heauen, saying, What shall we do with these? and whither shall we cary them away?

51 For thy Sanctuarie is troden downe and defiled, and thy Priestes are in heauinesse, and brought downe.

52 And beholde, the heathen are come against vs, to destroy vs: thou knowest what things they imagine against vs.

53 How can we stand before them, except thou helpe vs?

54 Then they blewe the trumpets, and cryed with a lowd voyce.

55 And after this Judas ordeined captaines ouer the people, euen captaines ouer thousands, and captaines ouer hundreths, and captaines ouer fiftes, and captaines ouer ten.

56 And they commaunded them that builded houses, or married wiues, or planted Vineyards, or were fearefull, that they should returne euery one to his owne house, *according to the Law.

*Deut. 20.5. Iudg. 7.3.

57 So the hoste remooued, and pitched vpon the Southside of Emmaus.

58 And Judas said, Arme your selues and bee valiant men, and be ready against the morning to fight with these nations, which are gathered together against vs, to destroy vs and our Sanctuary.

59 For it is better for vs to die in battell, then to see the calamities of our people and of our Sanctuary.

60 Neuertheless, as the will of God is in heauen, so be it.

CHAP. III.

1 Judas goeth against Gorgias which lieth in wait. 14 He putteth Gorgias and his hoste to flight. 28 Lysias inuadeth Iudea, 29 But Judas driueth him out. 43 Judas purifieth the Temple, and dedicateth the Altar.

Then tooke Gorgias fiue thousand foote men, and a thousand of the best horsemen, and departed out of the campe by night, Ioseph. lib. 12. chap. 10.

2 To inuade the campe of the Iewes, and to slay them suddenly: and the men of the fortresse were his guides.

3 Now when Judas heard it, hee remooued, and they that were valiant men, to smite the Kings army which was at Emmaus, 4 Whiles yet the army was dispersed from the campe.

5 In the meane season came Gorgias by night into Judas campe: and when he found no man there, hee sought them in the mountaines: for said he, they flee from vs.

6 But assoone as it was day, Judas shewed himselfe in the fielde with three thousand men, which had neither harneste nor swordes to their mindes.

7 And they saw that the armies of the heathen were strong and well armed, and their horsemen about them, and that these were expert men of warre.

8 Then sayd Judas to the men that were with him, Feare ye not their multitude, neither bee afraid of their assault.

9 Remember how our fathers were deliuered *in the Red sea, when Pharaoh pursued them with an army.

*Exod. 14.9, 29.

10 Therefore now let vs cry vnto heauen, and the Lord will haue mercy vpon vs, and remember the Couenant of our fathers, and will destroy this hoste before our face this day:

11 So shall all the heathen know, that there is one, which deliuereth and saueth Israel.

12 Then the strangers lift vp their eyes, and saw them comming against them, 13 And they went out of their tents into the battell, and they that were with Judas blewe the trumpets.

14 So they ioyned together, and the heathen were discomfited, and fled by the plaine.

15 But the hindmost of them fel by the sword, and they pursued them vnto ‖ Gazeron, and into the plaines of Idumea, & of Azotus, and of Jamnia, so that there were slaine of them about three thousand men.

‖ Or, Assemoth.

16 So Judas turned againe with his hoste, from pursuing them,

17 And said vnto the people, Be not greedy of the spoiles: for there is a battell before vs.

18 And Gorgias and the army is here by vs in the mountaine: but stand yee now fast against your enemies, and ouercome them: then may yee safely take the spoiles.

19 As Judas was speaking these words, there appeared one part which looked from the mountaines.

20 But when Gorgias saw that his were fled, and that Judas souldiers burnt the tents: (for the smoke that was seene, declared what was done.)

21 When they saw these things, they were sore afraid, and when they sawe also that Judas and his hoste were in the field ready to set themselues in aray, 22 They fled euery one into the land of strangers.

23 So Judas turned againe to spoyle the tents, where hee gate much golde and siluer, and precious stones, and purple of the sea, and great riches.

24 Thus they went home, and sung Psalmes and praised toward the heauen: for hee is gracious, and his mercy endureth for euer.

25 And so Israel had a great victory in that day.

26 ¶ Now all the strangers that escaped, came, and tolde Lysias all the things that were done.

27 Who when he heard these things was sore afraid & discouraged, because such things came not vpon Israel as he would, neither such things as the king had commanded him, came to passe.

28 Therefore the next yeere following, gathered Lysias threescore thousand choien foote men, men, and fiue thousand horsemen to fight against Jerusalem.

29 So they came into ‖ Idumea, and pitched their tents at ‖ Beth-sura, where Judas came against them with ten thousand men.

30 And when he saw that mighty army, hee prayed, and sayd, Blessed be thou, O Sauiour of Israel, * which didst destroy the assault of the mighty man by the hand of thy seruant Dauid, * and gauest the hoste of the strangers into the hand of Jonathan, the sonne of Saul, and of his armour bearer:

31 Shut vp this army in the hand of thy people of Israel, and let them bee confounded with their power, and with their horsemen.

32 Make them afrayde, and consume their boldnesse and strength, that they may bee astonished at their destruction.

33 Cast them downe by the sword of them that loue thee: then shal all they that know thy Name, praise thee with songs.

34 So they ioyned together, and there were slaine of Lysias hoste, fiue thousand men, and they fell before them.

35 Then Lysias, seeing his army put to flight, and the manlinesse of Judas souldiers, and that they were ready, either to liue or die valiantly, he went into Antiochia, and gathered strangers, and when he had furnished his army, hee thought againe (being prepared) to come against Judea.

36 Then sayd Judas & his brethren, Behold, our enemies are discomfited: let vs now goe vp, to clense, and to repaire the Sanctuary.

37 So all the hoste gathered them together, and went vp into the mountaine of Sion.

38 Now when they saw the Sanctuary layde waste, and the Altar defiled, & the doores burnt vp, and the shrubs growing in the courts, as in a forest, or as on one of the mountaines, and that the Priests chambers were broken downe,

39 They rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, and cast ashes vpon their heads, 40 And fell downe to the ground on their faces, and blew an alarme with the trumpets, and cried toward heauen.

41 Then Judas commanded certaine of the men to fight against those which were in the castle, till he had clensed the Sanctuary.

42 So he chose Priestes that were vndefiled, such as delighted in the Law,

43 And they clensed the Sanctuary, and bare out the defiled stones into an vncleane place, 44 And consulted what to doe with the altar of burnt offerings which was polluted.

45 So they thought it was best to destroy it, lest it should bee a reproch vnto them, because the heathen had defiled it: therefore they destroyed the altar, 46 And layed vp the stones vpon the mountaine of the Temple in a conuenient place, till there should come a prophet, to shew what should be done with them.

47 So they tooke whole stones according to the Law, and builded a new Altar according to the former, 48 And made vp the Sanctuary, & the things that were within the Temple, and the courts, and all things.

49 They made also newe holy vessels, and brought into the Temple the candlesticke, and the altar of burnt offerings, and of incense, and the Table.

50 And they burnt incense vpon the Altar, and lighted the lampes which were vpon the candlesticke, that they might burne in the Temple.

51 They set also the Shew bread vpon the table, and hanged vp the vailes, and finished all the workes that they had begun to make.

52 And vpon the fiue and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, which is called the moneth of Challeu, in the hundreth and eight and fortieth yeere they arose vp betimes in the morning, 53 And offered sacrifice according to the Law, vpon the new altar of burnt offrings, that they had made.

54 According to the time, and according to the day, that the heathen had defiled it, in the same day, was it made newe with songs, and harpes, and lutes, and cymbals.

55 And all the people fell vpon their faces, worshipping and praysing toward the heauen him that had giuen them good successe.

56 So they kept the dedication of the Altar eight dayes, offering burnt offerings with gladnesse, and offered sacrifices of deliuerance and praise, 57 And decked the forefront of the Temple with crownes of gold and shieldes, and dedicated the gates and chambers, and hanged doores vpon them.

58 Thus there was very great gladnesse among the people, and the reproch of the heathen was put away.

59 So Judas and his brethren with the whole Congregation of Israel ordeined that the dayes of dedication of the Altar should bee kept in their season from yeere to yeere, by the space of eight dayes, from the fiue and twentieth day of the moneth Challeu, with mirth and gladnesse.

60 And at the same time builded they vp mount Sion with hie walles and strong towres round about, least the Gentiles should come and tread it downe, as they had done afore.

61 Therefore they set a garison there to keepe it, and fortified Beth-sura to keepe it, that the people might haue a defence against Idumea.

CHAP. V.

3 Judas vanquished the heathen that goe about to destroy Israel, and is helped of his brethren Simon and Ionathan. 50 He ouerthroweth the city of Ephron, because they denied him passage thorow it.

NOw when the nations round about heard, that the Altar was builded, and the Sanctuary renewed as afore, they were sore grieued. Ioseph lib. 13. cap. 13.

2 Therefore they thought to destroy the generation of Jacob that was among them, and began to slay and destroy the people.

besieged them, and destroyed them vtterly, and burnt their towers with fire, with all that were in them.

6 Afterward, went hee against the children of Ammon, where hee found a mightie power, and a great multitude with Timotheus their captaine.

7 So hee had many battels with them, but they were destroied before him, and so he discomfited them,

8 And tooke Gazer, with the townes thereof, and so turned againe into Judea.

9 ¶ Then the heathen that were in Galaad, gathered them together against the Israelites that were in their quarters, to slay them: but they fled to the castle of Datheman,

10 And sent letters to Judas, and to his brethren, saying, The heathen that are about vs, are gathered against vs, to destroy vs.

11 And they make them ready for to come, and to take the fortresse, whereunto wee are fled, and Timotheus is captaine of their hoste.

12 Come now therefore, and deliuer vs out of their hands: for many of vs are slaine:

13 And all our brethren that were at Tubin, are slaine, and they haue taken away their wiues and their children, and their goods, and destroyed there almost a thousand men.

14 While these letters were yet a reading, behold, there came other messengers from Galile, with their clothes rent, which tolde the same tidings, 15 And saide that they of Ptolemais, and of Tyrus, and of Sidon, and of all Galile of the Gentiles were gathered against them to destroy them.

16 When Judas and the people heard these wordes, a great Congregation came together, to consult what they might doe for their brethren that were in trouble, and whome they besieged.

17 Then saide Judas to Simon his brother, Chuse thee out men, and go and deliuer thy brethren in Galile, and I and my brother Jonathan will goe into the countrey of Galaad.

18 ¶ So hee left Josephus the sonne of Zacharias, and Azarias to bee captaines of the people, and to keepe the remnant of the hoste in Judea, 19 And commanded them saying, Take the ouersight of this people, and make no warre against the heathen, vntill we come againe.

20 And vnto Simon were giuen three thousand men, to goe into Galile, and to Judas eight thousand men for the countrey of Galaad.

21 Then went Simon into Galile, and gaue diuers battels to the heathen, and the heathen were discomfited by him.

22 And hee pursued them vnto the gates of Ptolemais: and there were slaine of the heathen almost three thousand men: so hee tooke their spoiles.

23 Thus they rescued them that were in Galile and in Arbattis with their wiues, and their children, and all that they had, and brought them into Judea with great ioy.

24 ¶ Judas Maccabeus also, and his brother Jonathan went ouer Jorden, and trauailed three daies iourney in the wildernesse,

25 Where they met with the Nabathites, who receiued them louingly, & tolde them euery thing that was done vnto their brethren in the countrey of Galaad,

26 And how that many of them were besieged in Bosora, and Bosor, in Alemis, ‖ Chalbon, Maged and Carnaim (al these cities are strong and great)

‖ Or, Chaphor.

27 And that they were kept in other cities of Galaad, and to morrow they are appointed to bring their hoste vnto these fortes, and to take them, and to destroy them all in one day

28 So Judas & his hoste turned in all haste by the way of the wildernesse towarde Bosora, and wanne the citie, and slew all the males with the edge of the sword, and tooke all their spoile, and set fire vpon the citie,

29 And in the night he remoued from thence, and went toward the fortresse.

30 And betimes in the morning when they looked vp, beholde, there was an innumerable people bearing ladders, and instruments of warre, to take the forte, and had assaulted them.

31 When Judas sawe that the battel was begun, and that the cry of the citie went vp to heauen with trumpets, and a great sound, 32 Then he sayd vnto the armie, Fight this day for your brethren.

33 So he went forth behinde them with three companies, and they blew the trumpets, and cried with prayer.

34 Then the hoste of Timotheus knew, that it was Maccabeus, and they fled from him, and hee smote them with a great slaughter, so that there was killed of them the same day, almost eight thousand men.

35 ¶ Then departed Judas vnto Masipha, and layde siege vnto it, and wan it, and slew all the males thereof, and spoiled it, and set fire vpon it.

36 From thence went hee and tooke Chasbon, Maged, and Bosor, and the other cities in Galaad.

37 After these things gathered Timotheus another hoste, and he camped before Raphon beyond the flood.

38 Now Judas had sent to espie the hoste, and they brought him worde againe, saying, All the heathen that bee round about vs, are gathered vnto him, and the hoste is very great,

39 And hee hath hired the Arabians to helpe them, and they haue pitched their tents beyond the flood, and are ready to come & fight against thee. So Judas went to meet them.

40 Then Timotheus said vnto the captains of his hoste, When Judas and his hoste come nere the flood, if hee passe ouer first vnto vs, we shall not be able to withstand him: for he will be too strong for vs.

41 But if he be afraid, and campe beyond the flood, we will goe ouer vnto him, and shall preuaile against him.

42 Now when Judas came neere to the flood, he caused the gouernors of the people to remaine by the flood, and commanded them, saying, Suffer none to pitch a tent, but let euery man come to the battell.

43 So hee went first ouer toward them, and all the people after him: and al the heathen were discomfited before him, and cast away their weapons, and fled into the temple that was at Carnaim.

44 Which citie Judas wanne, and burnt the Temple with all that were in it: so was Carnaim subdued, and might not withstand Judas.

45 ¶ Then Judas gathered al the Israelites that were in the countrey of Galaad, from the least vnto the most, with their wiues and their children, and their baggage, a very great hoste, to come into the land of Juda.

46 So they came vnto Ephron, which was a great citie by the way, and strongly defenced: they could not passe neither at the right hand nor at the left, but must go thorow it.

47 But they that were in the citie, shut themselues in, and stopped vp the gates with stones: & Judas sent vnto them with peaceable wordes, saying, 48 Let vs passe thorow your land, that we may goe into our owne countrey, and none shall hurt you: we will but onely goe thorow on foot: but they would not open vnto him.

49 Wherefore Judas commanded a proclamation to be made thorowout the hoste, that euery man should assault it according to his standing.

50 So the valiant men set vpon it, and assaulted the citie, all that day, and all that night, and the citie was giuen ouer into his hands:

51 Who slew all the males with the edge of the sword, and destroyed it, and tooke the spoile therof, and went thorow the city ouer them that were slaine.

52 Then went they ouer Jorden into the great plaine before Bethsan.

53 And Judas gathered together those that were behind, and gaue the people good exhortation all the way thorow, till they were come into the land of Juda.

54 Thus they went vp with ioy and gladnes vnto mount Sion, where they offred burnt offerings, because there were none of them slaine, but came home againe in safety.

55 ¶ Now whiles Judas & Jonathan were in the land of Galaad, and Simon their brother in Galile before Ptolemais, 56 Joseph the sonne of Zacharias and Azarias the captaines, hearing of the valiant acts, and battels which they had atchieued, said, 57 Let vs get vs a name also, and goe fight against the heathen that are round about vs.

58 So they gaue their host a commandement, and went toward Jamnia.

59 But Gorgias and his men came out of the city to fight against them.

60 And Joseph & Azarias were put to flight, & pursued vnto the borders of Judea: and there were slaine that day of the people of Israel about two thousand men: so that there was a great ouerthrow among the people of Israel, 61 Because they were not obedient vnto Judas and his brethren, but thought to do some valiant thing.

62 Also they came not of the stocke of these men, by whose hands deliuerance was giuen to Israel.

63 But the man Judas, and his brethren were greatly commended in the sight of all Israel, and of all the heathen, whereseeuer their name was heard of.

64 And the people came vnto them, bidding them welcome.

65 Afterward went Judas foorth with his brethren, & fought against the children of Esau in the land toward the South, where he wanne Hebron, and the townes therof, and he destroyed the castell therof, and burnt the towers therof round about. Ioseph. Ant. 12 cap. 11. & 12.

66 Then remooued he to go into the land of the ‖ strangers, and went thorow Samaria.

67 At the same time were the Priests of the city slaine in the battell, which would shew their valiantnes, and went forth to battell without counsell: and when Judas came to Azotus in the strangers land, he brake downe their altars, and burnt with fire the images of their gods, and tooke away the spoiles of the cities, and came againe into the land of Juda. ‖ Or, Philistims.

CHAP. VI.

1 Antiochus willing to take the citie of Elimais, is driuen away of the citizens. 8 He falleth into sickenes, and dieth. 17 His sonne Antiochus is made king. 34 The maner to prouoke elephants to fight. 43 Eleazarus valiant act. 48 The siege of Sion.

NOw when king Antiochus trauailed thorow the high countries, he heard that Elimais in the countrey of Perlia, was a city greatly renowmed for riches, siluer, and gold, Ioseph. Ant. 12. cap. 13.

2 And that there was in it a very rich Temple, whereas were couerings of golde, coat armours, and harnesse, which Alexander king of Macedonia the sonne of Philip (that reigned first in Grecia) had left there.

3 Wherefore he went about to take the city, and to spoile it, but he was not able: for the citizens were warned of the matter,

4 And rose vp against him in battell, and he fled and departed thence with great heauinesse, and came againe into Babylon.

5 Moreouer, there came one which brought him tidings in the countrey of Perlia, that the armies that were against the land of Juda, were driuen away,

6 And that Lysias, which went foorth first with a great power, was driuen away of the Jewes, and that they were made strong by the armour, and power, and diuers spoiles which they had gotten of the armies whom they had destroyed,

7 And that they had pulled down the abomination, which he had set vp vpon the altar at Jerusalem, and fenced the Sanctuarie with high walles, as it was afore, and Beth sura his citie.

8 So when the King had heard these words, he was astonished, and sore mooued: therefore he laid him downe vpon his bed, and fell sicke for very sorrow, because it was not come to passe as he had thought.

9 And there continued he many dayes: for his griefe was euer more and more, so that he saw he must needes die.

10 Therefore he sent for all his friends, and said vnto them, The sleepe is gone from mine eyes, and mine heart faileth for very care.

11 And I thinke with my selfe, Into what aduersitie am I come? and into what floods of miserie am I fallen now, where as aforetime I was in prosperitie, and greatly set by, by reason of my power?

12 And now doe I remember the euils that I

I haue done at Ierusalem: for I tooke all the vessels of gold and siluer that were in it, and sent to destroy the inhabitants of Iuda without cause.

13 I know that these troubles are come vpon me for the same cause, and behold, I must die with great sorow in a strange land.

14 Then called hee for Philip, one of his friends, whom he made ruler of all his Realme, 15 And gaue him the crowne, and his robe, and the ring, that hee should instruct his sonne Antiochus, and bring him vp, till hee might reigne himselfe.

16 So king Antiochus died there in the hundreth fourty and ninth yeere.

17 ¶When Lysias knew that the king was dead, hee ordeined Antiochus his sonne (whom hee had brought vp) to reigne in his fathers stead, and called him Eupator. Ioseph. Ant. 12. chap. 14

18 Now they that were in the castle at Ierusalem, kept in the Israelites round about the Sanctuary, and sought alwayes their hurt, and the strengthening of the heathen.

19 Therefore Iudas thought to destroy them, and called all the people together to besiege them.

20 So they came together, and besieged them in the hundreth and fiftie yere, and made instruments to shoote, and other engines of warre.

21 But certaine of them that were besieged, gate forth, (vnto whom some vngodly men of Israel ioyned themselues.)

22 And they went vnto the king, saying, How long wilt thou cease from executing iudgement, and auenge our brethren?

23 Wee haue beene ready to serue thy father, and to goe forward in those things, that hee appointed, and to obey his commandements.

24 Therefore they of our nation fell from vs for this cause, and whersoeuer they found any of vs, they slew them, and spoyled our inheritance.

25 And they haue not onely layd hand vpon vs, but vpon all about their borders.

26 And behold, this day are they besieging the castle at Ierusalem to take it, and haue fortified the Sanctuary, and Beth-sura.

27 And if thou doest not preuent them quickly, they will doe greater things then these, and thou shalt not be able to ouercome them.

28 When the king heard this, hee was very angry, and called all his friends, the captaines of his armie, and his horsemen, 29 And bandes that were hired, came vnto him from the kings, that were confederate, and from the Iles of the sea.

30 So the number of his armie was an hundreth thousand footmen, and twenty thousand horsemen, and two and thirtie Elephants exercised in battell.

31 These came through Idumea, and drewe neere to Beth-sura, and besieged it a long season, and made engines of warre: but they came out and burnt them with fire, and fought valiantly.

32 Then departed Iudas from the castle, and remoued the host toward Beth-zacarias, ouer against the Kings campe.

33 So the king arose very early, and brought the army and his power toward the way of Beth-zacarias, where the armie set themselues in aray to the battell, and blew the trumpets.

34 And to prouoke the Elephants for to fight, they shewed them the blood of grapes and mulberies, 35 And they set the beastes according to the ranges: so that by euery Elephant there stood a thousand men armed with coats of maile and helmets of brasse vpon their heades, and vnto euery beast were ordeined fiue hundreth horsemen of the best,

36 Which were ready at all times whersoeuer the beast was: and whithersoeuer the beast went, they went also, & departed not from him.

37 And vpon them were strong towres of wood that couered euery beast, which were fastened thereon with instruments, and vpon euery one were two and thirtie men that fought in them, and the Indian that ruled him.

38 They set also the remnant of the horsemen vpon both the sides in two winges of the hoste, to stirre them vp, and to keepe them in the valleyes.

39 And when the sunne shone vpon the golden shieldes, the mountaines glistered therewith, and gaue light as lamps of fire.

40 Thus part of the kings army was spread vpon the hie mountaines, and part beneath: so they marched forward warily, and in order.

41 And all they that heard the noyse of their multitude, & the marching of the company and the rating of the harneste, were astonied: for the army was very great and mighty.

42 Then Iudas and his hoste entered into the battel, and they slew fiue hundreth men of the kings armie.

43 ¶Now when Eleazar, the sonne of ‖ Aberon, saw one of the Elephants armed with royall harneste, and was more excellent then all the other beasts, he thought that the king should be vpon him. ‖ Or, Saura.

44 Wherefore he ieoparded himselfe to deliuer his people, and to get him a perpetual name, 45 And ranne boldly vnto him through the middes of the hoste, slaying on the right hand and on the left, so that they departed away on both sides.

46 So went he to the Elephants feete, and gate him vnder him, and slew him: then fel the Elephant downe vpon him, and there hee died. a This example is not to be followed, because it is contrary to the cõmandement.

47 But the other, seeing the power of the king and the fiercenesse of his armie, departed from them.

48 ¶And the kings armie went vp to meete them toward Ierusalem, and the king pitched his tents in Iudea toward mount Sion.

49 Moreouer the king tooke truce with them that were in Beth-sura: but when they came out of the citie, because they had no vitailes there, and were shut vp therein, and the lande had rested, 50 The king tooke Beth-sura, and set there a garison to keepe it.

51 And besieged the Sanctuary many daies, and made instruments to shoote, and other engins of warre, and instruments to cast fire and stones, and pieces to cast darts and slings.

52 ‖They also made engins against their engins and fought a long season. ‖ Or, the Iewes.

53 But in the garners there were no vitailes, for it was the seuenth yeere, and then they that were in Iudea, and were deliuered from the Gentiles, had eaten vp the reſidue of the ſtore,

54 So that in the Sanctuary were few men left: for the famine came ſo vpon them, that they were ſcattered euery man to his owne place.

55 ¶ Now when Lyſias heard that Philip, (whom Antiochus the King, whiles hee liued, had ordeined to bring vp Antiochus his ſonne, that he might be king.)

56 Was come againe out of Perſia, & Media, and the Kings hoſte with him, and thought to take vnto him the rule of things, 57 He and his haſted, & were ſtirred forward by them in the caſtle to goe and tell the King, and the captaines of the hoſte, and to others, ſaying, We decreaſe dayly, and our victailes are but ſmall: and the place that wee lay ſiege vnto, is ſtrong, and the affaires of the realme depend vpon vs.

58 Now therefore let vs ‖ agree with theſe men, and take truce with them, and with all their nation, 59 And graunt them to liue after their Law, as they did afore: for they be grieued, and doe all theſe things, becauſe wee haue broken their Lawes.

60 So the King and the Princes were content, and ſent vnto them to make peace, and they receiued it.

61 When the king and the princes had made an othe vnto them, they came vpon this out of the fortreſſe.

62 And the king went vp to mount Sion: but when hee ſaw that the place was well defenced, he brake his othe that he had made, and commaunded to breake downe the wall round about.

63 Then departed he in all haſte, and returned vnto Antiochia, where he found Philip hauing dominion of the citie: ſo he fought againſt him, and tooke the citie by force.

CHAP. VII.

1 Demetrius reigned, after hee had killed Antiochus & Lyſias. 5 He troubleth the children of Iſrael through the counſell of certaine wicked perſons. 37 The prayer of the Prieſts againſt Nicanor. 41 Iudas killeth Nicanor, after he had made his prayer.

Ioſeph. Ant. 12. chap. 5.

IN the hundreth, and one and fiftieth yeere departed Demetrius the ſon of Seleucus from Rome, and came vp with a few men vnto a city of the ſea coaſt and reigned there.

2 And when hee came into the poſſeſſion of his fathers kingdome, his ſouldiers tooke Antiochus and Lyſias & brought them vnto him.

3 But when it was told him, he ſaid, Shew me not their faces.

4 So they put them to death. Now when Demetrius was ſet vpō the throne of his kingdome, 5 There came vnto him all the wicked and vngodly men of Iſrael whoſe captaine was Alcimus, that would haue beene the high Prieſt.

6 Theſe men accuſed the people vnto the king, ſaying, Iudas & his brethren haue ſlaine all thy friendes, and driuen vs out of our owne land.

7 Wherefore ſend now ſome man, whome thou truſteſt, that he may goe and ſee all the deſtruction, which hee hath done vnto vs & to the kings land, and let him puniſh them with all their partakers.

8 Then the king choſe Bacchides a friend of his, which was a great man in the Realme, and ruled beyond the flood, and was faithfull vnto the king, and ſent him, 9 And that wicked Alcimus, whom he made hie Prieſt, and commaunded him to be auenged of the children of Iſrael.

10 So they departed, and came with a great hoſt vnto the land of Iuda, and ſent meſſengers to Iudas and his brethren, deceitfully with peaceable words.

11 But they beleeued not their ſaying: for they ſaw that they were come with a great hoſte.

12 Then a company of the gouernours aſſembled vnto Alcimus and Bacchides to intreat of reaſonable points.

‖ Or, Haſidims.

13 And the ‖ Aſideans were the firſt that required peace among the children of Iſrael.

14 For ſayd they, He that is a Prieſt of the ſeed of Aaron, is come with this armie: therefore he will not hurt vs.

15 Then he ſpake vnto them peaceably, and ſwore vnto them, and ſayd, We will doe you no harme, neither your friends:

16 And they beleeued him: but hee tooke of them threeſcore men, and ſlew them in one day, according to the words that were written,

17 They haue caſt the bodies of thy Saints, and their blood round about Ieruſalem, & there was no man that would burie them. Pſal. 79. 2.

18 So there came a feare and a trembling among all the people: for they ſaid, There is neither truth nor righteouſneſſe in them: for they haue broken the appointment and oth that they made.

‖ Or, Bethſeth, or Bezeth.

19 Then Bacchides remooued from Ieruſalem, & pitched his tent at ‖ Beth-zecha, where he ſent forth & tooke many of the men that had forſaken him, and certaine of the people whome he ſlew and caſt into the great pit.

20 Then committed hee the countrey vnto Alcimus, and left men of war with him to helpe him: ſo Bacchides went to the king.

21 Thus Alcimus ſtroue for the Prieſthood.

22 And all ſuch as troubled the people reſorted vnto him: inſomuch that they obtained the land of Iuda, and did much hurt in Iſrael.

23 Now when Iudas ſawe all the miſchiefe that Alcimus & his company had done among the Iſraelites more then the heathen, 24 Hee went foorth round about all the borders of Iudea, and puniſhed thoſe that were fallen away, ſo that they came no more abroad in the countrey.

25 But when Alcimus ſaw that Iudas and his people had gotten the vpper hand, and knew that he was not able to abide them, hee went againe to the King and accuſed them of wicked things.

Ioſeph. Ant. 12. chap. 16.

26 Then the King ſent Nicanor one of his chiefe Princes, which hated Iſrael deadly, and commaunded him that hee ſhould deſtroy the people.

27 ¶ So Nicanor came to Ieruſalem with a great hoſte, and ſent vnto Iudas, and his brethren deceitfully with friendly wordes, ſaying, 28 Let there be no warre betweene mee, and you, I will come with few men, to ſee how ye do, friendly.

29 So

29 So he came vnto Judas, and they saluted one another peaceably: but the enemies were prepared to take away Judas.

30 Neuertheleſſe, it was told Judas, that he came vnto him vnder deceit: therfore he feared him, and would see his face no more.

31 When Nicanor perceiued that his counsell was bewrayed, he went out to fight against Judas, beside ‖ Carpha-salama, ‖ Or, Caphar-sarama.

32 Where there were slaine of Nicanors host about fiue thousand men: so they fled vnto the citie of Dauid.

33 After this came Nicanor vp vnto mount Sion, and some of the Priests with the Elders of the people went forth of the Sanctuarie to salute him peaceably, and to shew him the burnt offering that was offered for the King.

34 But hee laughed at them, and mocked them, and counted them prophane, and spake proudly, 35 And swore in his wrath, saying, If Judas and his hoste bee not deliuered now into mine hands, if euer I come againe in safetie, I will burne vp this house. With that, went he out in a great anger.

36 Then the priests came in, and stood before the altar in the Temple, weeping, and saying,

37 For somuch as thou, O Lord, hast chosen this *House, that thy Name might be called vpon therin, and that it should be an house of prayer, and petition for thy people,

*Isa. 56. 5, 7.

38 Bee auenged of this man and his hoste, and let them bee slaine by the sword: remember their blasphemies, and suffer them not to continue.

39 When Nicanor was gone from Jerusalem, hee pitched his tent at Beth-horon, and there an hoste met him out of Syria.

‖ Or, Adarsa

40 And Judas pitched in ‖ Adasa, with three thousand men, where Judas prayed, saying, 42 So destroy thou this hoste before vs to day, that all other may know that hee hath spoken wickedly against thy Sanctuarie, and punish him according to his malice.

43 So the armies ioyned together in battell, the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar: but Nicanors hoste was discomfited, and hee himselfe was first slaine in the battell.

44 Now when his armie sawe that Nicanor was slaine, they cast away their weapons, and fled.

45 But they pursued after them a dayes iourney from Adasa vnto Galera, blowing an alarme with the trumpets after them.

46 So they came forth of all the townes of Judea round about, and rushed vpon them, and threw them from one to another, so that they all fell by the sword, and there was not one of them left.

47 Then they tooke the spoiles, and the pray, and smote off Nicanors head, and his right hand, which he held vp so proudly, and brought it with them, and hanged them vp afore Jerusalem.

48 So the people reioyced greatly, and kept that day as a day of great gladnesse.

49 And they ordeined to keepe yeerely that day on the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar.

50 Thus the land of Juda was in rest a little while.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Judas considering the power and policie of the Romanes, maketh peace with them. 22 The conditions of mutuall friendship sent to the Iewes.

JUdas heard also the fame of the Romans, that they were mighty, and valiant, and agreeable to all things that were required of them, and made peace with all that came vnto them,

3 And what they had done in the countrey of Spaine: how that they had wonne there the mines of siluer and gold.

4 And that by their counsel and gentle behauiour they were rulers in euery place, though the place was farre from them, and that they had discomfited and giuen great ouerthrowes to the Kings that came against them, from the vttermost part of the earth, & that others gaue them tribute euery yeere,

5 How they had also discomfited by battell Philip and Perses kings of the ‖ Macedonians, and others that rose against them, and how they ouercame them,

‖ Or, Citims.

6 And how great Antiochus king of Asia, that came against them in battell, hauing an hundreth and twentie Elephants, with horsemen and charets, and a very great armie, was discomfited by them,

9 Againe when it was told them that the Grecians were comming to destroy them,

10 They sent against them a captaine, which gaue them battell, and slew many of them, and tooke many prisoners with their wiues, and children, and spoyled them, and conquered their land, and destroyed their strong holdes, and subdued them to bee their bondmen vnto this day:

men consulted dayly, and prouided for the common affaires, to gouerne them well, 16 And that they committed their gouernement to one man euery yeere, who did rule ouer all their countrey, to whom euery man was obedient: and there was neither hatred nor enuie among them.

17 ¶ Then Judas chose Eupolemus the sonne of John, the sonne of Accus, and Jason the sonne of Eleazar, and sent them vnto Rome, to make friendship and mutuall fellowship with them,

18 That they might take from them the yoke (for they saw that the kingdome of the Grecians would keepe Israel in bondage.)

19 So they went vnto Rome, which was a very great iourney, and came into the ‖ Senate where they spake and said, ‖Or, councell

21 And the matter pleased them.

22 And this is the copie of the Epistle that they wrote in tables of brasse, and sent to Jerusalem, that they might haue by them a memoriall of the peace, and mutuall fellowship.

23 Good successe be to the Romanes, and to the people of the Iewes, by sea, and by land for euer, and the sword, and enemie be from them.

24 If there come first any warre vpon the Romanes, or any of their friends throughout all their dominion, 25 The people of the Iewes shall helpe them, as the time shall bee appointed, with all their heart.

26 Also ‖ they shall giue nothing to them that come to fight for them, nor serue them with wheate, nor weapons, nor money, nor ships, as it pleaseth the Romanes, but ‖ they shall keepe their couenants without taking any thing of them. ‖Or, the Romanes. ‖Or, the Iewes.

27 Likewise also, if warre come first against the nation of the Iewes, the Romanes shal helpe them with a good will, according as the time shall be appointed them.

28 Neither shall wheate be giuen vnto them, that take their part, nor weapons, nor money, nor ships, as it pleaseth the Romanes, who will keepe these couenants without deceit.

29 According to these articles the Romanes made the bond with the people of the Iewes.

30 If after these points the one partie, or the other will adde or diminish, they may doe it at their pleasures, and whatsoeuer they shall adde or take away, shalbe ratified.

31 And as touching the euill that Demetrius hath done vnto the Iewes, we haue written vnto him, saying, Wherefore layest thou thine heauie yoke vpon our friends, and confederates the Iewes?

32 If therefore they complaine any more against thee, wee will doe them iustice, and fight with thee by sea and by land.

CHAP. IX.

1 After the death of Nicanor, Demetrius sendeth his armie against Judas. 18 Judas is slaine. 31 Jonathan is put in the stead of his brother. 47 The battel betweene Jonathan and Bacchides. 55 Alcimus is smitten with the palsie, and dieth. 68 Hee commeth vpon Jonathan by the counsell of certaine wicked persons, and is ouercome. 70 The truce of Ionathen with Bacchides.

IN the meane season, when Demetrius had heard how Nicanor and his hoste had giuen the battell, hee sent Bacchides, and Alcimus againe into Judea, and his ‖ chiefe strength with them. Ioseph. Ant. 12. cap. 18. ‖Or, the right horne.

2 So they went forth by the way that is toward Galgala, and pitched their tents before Mesaloth which is in Arbelis, and wan it, and slew much people.

3 And in the first moneth of the hundreth, fiftie and two yere, they laide their siege against Jerusalem.

4 But they raised their campe, and came to Berea with twentie thousand foote men, and two thousand horsemen.

5 Now Judas had pitched his tent at ‖ Eleaza, and three thousand chosen men with him. ‖Or, Iasa.

6 And when they saw that the multitude of the armie was great, they were sore afraide, and many conueyed themselues out of the hoste, so that there abode no moe of them, but eight hundreth men.

7 When Judas sawe that his hoste failed him, and that he must needes fight, hee was sore troubled in mind that hee had no time to gather them together, and was discouraged.

8 Neuertheless, hee said vnto them that remained, Let vs rise, and goe vp against our enemies, if peraduenture we may bee able to fight with them.

9 But they would haue staied him, saying, We are not able: but let vs rather saue our liues: turne backe now, seeing our brethren are departed: for shall wee fight against them, that are so few?

10 Then Judas said, a God forbid, that wee should doe this thing, to flee from them: if our time bee come, let vs die manfully for our brethren, and let vs not staine our honour. a He that was wont to pray and ouercome, is ouercome when he trusteth in his strength, and omitteth prayer.

11 Then the hoste remooued out of the tents, and stood against them, who had diuided their horsemen into two troupes, and they that threw with slings, and the archers marched in the foreward, and they that fought in the foreward were all valiant men.

12 And Bacchides was in the right wing. So the armie drew neere on both sides, and blew the trumpets.

13 They of Judas side blew the trumpets also, and the earth shooke at the noyse of the armies, and the battell continued from morning to night.

14 And when Judas sawe that Bacchides and the strength of his armie was on the right side, he tooke with him all the hardie men, 15 And brake the right wing, and followed vpon them vnto mount Azotus.

16 Now when they which were of the left wing, saw that the right wing was discomfited, they followed Judas behinde, and them that were with him, hard at the heeles.

17 Then was there a sore battell: for many were slaine of both the parties.

18 Judas also himselfe was killed, and the remnant fled.

19 So Jonathan and Simon tooke Judas their brother, and buried him in his fathers sepulchre sepulchre in the citie of Modin.

20 And all the Israelites wept for him, and mourned greatly for him, and lamented many dayes, saying, 21 How is the valiant man fallen which deliuered Israel!

22 Concerning the other things of Judas, both the battels and the valiant acts that he did, and of his worthinesse, they are not written: for they were very many.

Ioseph. Ant. 13. chap. 1. and 3.

23 ¶ Now after the death of Judas, wicked men came vp in all the coasts of Israel, and there arose all such as gaue themselues to iniquitie.

24 In those dayes was there a very great famine in the land, and all the countrey gaue ouer themselues with them.

25 And Bacchides did chuse wicked men, and made them lords in the land.

26 These sought out, and made search for Judas friends, and brought them vnto Bacchides, which auenged himselfe vpon them, and mocked them.

37 And there came so great trouble in Israel, as was not since the time that no Prophet was seene among them.

28 Then came all Judas friends together, and sayd vnto Jonathan,

29 Seeing thy brother Judas is dead, and there is none like him to goe forth against our enemies, euen against Bacchides, and ‖ against them of our nation that are enemies vnto vs,

‖ Or, against the enemies of our nation.

30 Therfore, this day we chuse thee that thou mayest be our Prince and captaine in his place to order our battell.

31 So Jonathan tooke the gouernance vpon him at the same time, and ruled in stead of his brother Judas.

32 But when Bacchides knew it, he sought for to slay him.

33 Then Jonathan and Simon his brother perceiuing that, fled into the wildernes of Thecua with all their company, and pitched their tents by the water poole of Asphar.

34 Which when Bacchides vnderstood, hee came ouer Jorden with all his hoste vpon the Sabbath day.

35 (Now had Jonathan sent his brother John a captaine of the people, to pray his friends the Nabathites, that they would keepe their baggage which was much.

‖ Or, Iambri.

36 But the children of ‖ Ambri came out of Medaba, and tooke John and al that he had, and when they had taken it, went their way.

37 After this came word vnto Jonathan, and to Simon his brother, that the children of Ambri made a great mariage, and brought the bride from ‖ Medaba with great pompe: for she was daughter to one of the noblest Princes of Canaan.

‖ Or, Nadabath.

38 Therfore they remembred John their brother, and went vp and hid themselues vnder the couert of the mountaine.

39 So they lift vp their eyes, and looked, and behold there was a great noise, and much preparation: then the bridegroome came forth, and his friendes and his brethren met them with timbrels and instruments of musicke, and many weapons.

40 Then Jonathans men that lay in ambush, rose vp against them, & slew many of them, and the remnant fled into the mountains, so that they tooke all their spoiles.

41 Thus the marriage was turned to mourning, and the noise of their melodie into lamentation.

42 And so when they had auenged the blood of their brother, they turned againe vnto Jorden.

43 When Bacchides heard this, he came vnto the border of Jorden with a great power vpon the Sabbath day.)

44 Then Jonathan said vnto his company, Let vs rise now, and fight against our enemies: for it is not to day as in time past.

45 Behold, the battel is before vs, and behind vs, and the water of Jorden on this side and that side, and the marise and forest, so that there is no place for vs to turne aside.

46 Wherefore crie now vnto heauen, that yee may be deliuered from the power of your enemies: so they ioyned battell.

47 Then Jonathan stretched out his hand to smite Bacchides: but he turned aside from him and reculed.

48 Then Jonathan and they that were with him lept into Jorden, and swimmed ouer vnto the further banke: but the other would not passe through Jorden after them.

49 So in that day were slaine of Bacchides side about a thousand men.

50 Then he turned againe to Jerusalem, and built vp the strong cities in Juda, as the castle of Jericho, and Emmaus, and Bethhoron, and Bethel, and Thamnatha, ‖ Pharathoni, and ‖ Tepho, with hie walles, with gates, and with barres,

‖ Or, Phara.
‖ Or, Thope.

51 And set garisons in them, that they might vse their malice vpon Israel.

52 He fortified also the citie Beth-sura, and Gazara, and the castle, and set a garison in them with prouision of victuals.

53 He tooke also the chiefest mens sonnes in the countrey for hostages, and put them in the castle at Jerusalem to be kept.

54 ¶ Afterward in the hundreth fiftie and three yeere, in the second moneth, Alcimus commanded that the walles of the inner court of the sanctuary should bee destroyed, and hee pulled downe the monuments of the Prophets, and began to destroy them.

55 But at the same time Alcimus was plagued, and his enterprises were hindered, and his mouth was stopped: for he was smitten with a palsie, and could no more speake, nor giue order concerning his house.

56 Thus died Alcimus with great torment at the same time.

57 And when Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, hee turned againe to the King, and so the lande of Juda was in rest two yeeres.

58 Then all the vngodly men held a counsell, saying, Behold, Jonathan and his company dwell at ease, and without care: wherefore let vs bring Bacchides hither, and hee will take them all in one night.

59 So they went and consulted with him.

60 Who arose and came with a great hoste, and sent letters priuily to his adherents, which were in Juder, to take Jonathan, and those that were with him: but they could not, for their counsell was knowen vnto them,

‖Or, Jonathan. 61 And ‖ they tooke fiftie men of the countrey, which were the chiefe workers of this wickednesse, and slew them.

‖Or, Bethbessen. 62 ¶ Then Jonathan and Simon with their company departed vnto ‖ Beth-basin which is in the wildernesse, and repaired the decay thereof, and made it strong.

63 When Bacchides knew this, he gathered all his hoste, and sent word to them that were of Judea.

64 Then came he and laid siege to Beth-basin, and tought against it a long season, & made instruments of warre.

65 But Jonathan had left his brother Simon in the citie, and went forth into the countrey, and came with a certaine number,

‖Or, Odares. 66 And slew ‖ Odomeras and his brethren, and the children of Phasiron in their tents: so he began to slay, and increased in power.

67 Simon also and his company went out of the citie, and burnt vp the instruments of warre, 68 And fought against Bacchides, and discomfited him, and vexed him sore, so that his counsell and iourney was in vaine.

b Wicked counsel falleth on the counsellers. 69 Wherefore he was very wroth at the wicked men, b that gaue him counsell to come into the countrey, and slew many of them, and purposed to returne into his owne countrey.

70 Whereof when Jonathan had knowledge, he sent ambassadours vnto him, to intreate of peace with him, and that the prisoners should be delinered.

71 Which thing he accepted, & did according to his desire, and made an othe, that hee would neuer do him harme all the dayes of his life.

72 So he restored vnto him the prisoners that he had taken aforetime out of the land of Juda, and so returned and went into his owne land, neither did he come any more into their borders.

73 Thus the sword ceased from Israel, and Jonathan dwelt at Machmas, and began there to gouerne the people, and destroyed the vngodly men out of Israel.

CHAP. X.

4 Demetrius desireth to haue peace with Ionathan. 18 Alexander also desireth peace with the Jewes. 48 Alexander maketh warre against Demetrius. 50 Demetrius is slaine. 51 The friendship of Ptolemeus and Alexander.

Ioseph. Ant. 13. chap. 2. 3. IN the hundreth and threescore yeere came Alexander the sonne of Antiochus Epiphanes and tooke Ptolemais, and they receiued him, and there he reigned.

2 Now when Demetrius the king heard it, he gathered an exceeding great hoste, and went forth against him to fight.

3 Also Demetrius sent letters vnto Jonathan with louing words, as though hee would preferre him.

4 For hee sayd, Wee will first make peace with him, before hee ioyne with Alexander against vs.

5 Els he will remember all the euill that we haue done against him, and against his brethren and his nation.

6 And so he gaue Jonathan leaue to gather an hoste, and to prepare weapons, and to bee confederate with him, and commanded the hostages that were in the castle, to bee delinered vnto him.

7 ¶ Then came Jonathan to Jerusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in the castle.

8 Therefore they were sore afraide, because they heard that the king had giuen him licence to gather an armie.

9 So they that were of the castle, deliuered the hostages vnto Jonathan, who restored them to their parents.

10 Jonathan also dwelt at Jerusalem, and began to build and repaire the citie.

11 And hee commanded the workemen to build the walles, and the mount Sion round about with hewen stone to fortifie it: and so they did.

12 Then the strangers that were in the castles which Bacchides had made, fled, 13 So that euery man left his place, & went into his owne countrey.

14 Onely at Beth-sura remained certaine which had forsaken the Law and the commandements: for it was their refuge.

15 ¶ Now when King Alexander had heard of the promises that Demetrius had made vnto Jonathan: and when it was told him of the battels and noble actes, which hee and his brethren had done, and of the paines that they had endured, 16 He sayd, Might wee finde such a man? now therefore we will make him our friend and confederate.

17 Upon this hee wrote a letter, and sent it vnto him with these words, saying, 18 KING ALEXANDER to his brother Jonathan sendeth salutation.

19 We haue heard of thee, that thou art a very valiant man, and worthy to be our friend.

20 Wherefore this day we ordaine thee to be the hie Priest of thy nation, and to be called the Kings friend: (and he sent him a purple robe, and a ‖ crowne of gold,) that thou mayest ‖ consider what is for our profit, and keepe friendship toward vs.

‖Or, mitre. ‖Or, take our part.

21 So in the seuenth moneth of the hundreth and threescore yeere, vpon the feast day of the tabernacles, Jonathan put on the holy garment, and gathered an hoste, and prepared many weapons.

22 ¶ Which when Demetrius heard, he was marueilous sory, and sayd, Ioseph. Ant. 13. chap. 3.

23 What haue we done that Alexander hath preuented vs in getting the friendship of the Jewes for his strength?

24 Yet will I write and exhort them, and promise them dignities and rewards that they may helpe me.

25 Whereupon hee wrote vnto them these words, KING DEMETRIVS vnto the nation of the Jewes sendeth greeting.

26 We haue heard that ye haue kept your couenant toward vs, and continued in our friendship, and haue not ioyned with our enemies, whereof we are glad.

27 Now therefore remaine still, and keepe fidelitie towards vs, and we will recompense you for the good things that ye haue done for vs, 28 And will release you of many charges, and giue you rewards.

29 And now I discharge for your sake all the Jewes from tributes, and free you from the customes cuſtomes of ſalt, and the crowne taxes, and from the third part of the ſeede.

30 And from the halfe of the fruit of the trees which is mine owne duety, I ſo releaſe them, that from this day forth, none ſhall take any thing of the land of Juda, or of the three gouernments, which are added thereunto, as of Samaria and of Galile, [a] from this day forth for euermore.

a And of the countrey beyond Iorden, as Ioſephus writeth.

31 Jeruſalem alſo with all things belonging thereto, ſhall bee holy and free from the tenths and tributes.

32 Alſo I releaſe the power of the caſtle which is at Jeruſalem, and giue it vnto the hie Prieſt, that he may ſet in it ſuch men, as he ſhall chuſe to keepe it.

33 Moreouer I freely deliuer euery one of the Jewes that were taken away priſoners out of the land of Juda throughout all my Realme, and euery one of them ſhalbe free from tributes, yea, euen their cattell.

34 And all the feaſts, and Sabbaths, and new moones, and the dayes appointed, and the three dayes before the feaſt, and the three dayes after the feaſt, ſhall be dayes of freedome and libertie for all the Jewes in my Realme, 35 So that in them no man ſhall haue power to doe any thing, or to vexe any of them in any maner of cauſe.

36 Alſo thirty thouſand of the Jewes ſhall be written vp in the Kings hoſte, and haue their wages payed them as appertaineth to all them that are of the Kings armie: and of them ſhall bee ordeined certaine to keepe the kings ſtrong holds.

37 And ſome of them ſhall bee ſet ouer the kings moſt ſecret affaires, and their gouernours and their princes ſhall be of themſelues, and they ſhal line after their own lawes, as the king hath commanded in the land of Juda.

38 And the three gouernments that are added vnto Judea from the countrey of Samaria, ſhall be ioyned vnto Judea, and they ſhall bee as vnder one, and obey none other power, but the high Prieſt.

39 And I giue Ptolemais and the borders thereof vnto the Sanctuary at Jeruſalem, for the neceſſary expences of the holy things.

40 Moreouer, I will giue euery yeere fifteene thouſand ſicles of ſiluer of the kings reuennes, out of the places appertaining vnto me.

41 And all the ouerplus which they haue not payed for the things due, as they did in the former yeeres, from henceforth they ſhall giue it toward the works of the Temple.

42 And beſides this, the fiue thouſand ſicles of ſiluer which they receiued yeerely of the accompt appointed for the entertainement of the Sanctuary, theſe yeeres paſſed, euen theſe things ſhall be releaſed, becauſe they appertaine to the Prieſts that miniſter.

43 Item, whoſoeuer they be that flee vnto the Temple at Jeruſalem, or within the liberties thereof and are indebted to the king for any maner of thing, they ſhall be pardoned, and all that they haue in my Realme

44 For the building alſo and repairing of the workes of the Sanctuarie, expences ſhall be giuen of the kings reuennes.

45 And for the making of the walles of Jeruſalem, and fortifying it round about, that the holdes in Judea may bee built vp, ſhall alſo the coſts be giuen out of the kings reuenues.

46 ¶ But when Jonathan and the people heard theſe words, they gaue no credite vnto them, neither receiued them: for they remembred the great wickednelle that he had done in Iſrael, and how ſore he had vexed them.

47 Wherefore they agreed vnto Alexander; for hee was the firſt that had intreated of true peace with them, and ſo were confederate with him alway.

48 Then gathered King Alexander a great hoſte, and camped ouer againſt Demetrius.

49 So the two kings ioyned battell: but Demetrius hoſte fled, and Alexander purſued him, and preuailed againſt them.

50 So that ſore battell continued till the Sunne went downe, and Demetrius was ſlain the ſame day.

51 ¶ Then Alexander ſent Ambaſſadours vnto Ptolemeus the king of Egypt, with theſe words, ſaying, Ioſeph. Ant. 13. cap. 6.

52 For ſo much as I am come againe to my Realme, and am ſet in the throne of my fathers, and haue gotten the dominion, and haue deſtroied Demetrius, and enioy my countrey,

53 Seeing that I haue euen giuen him the battell, and hee and his armie is diſcomfited by me, and I ſit in the throne of his kingdome, 54 Let vs now make friendſhip together, and giue me now thy daughter to wife: ſo ſhall I be thy ſonne in law, and giue thee rewards, and vnto her things according to thy dignitie.

55 Then Ptolemeus the king gaue anſwere, ſaying, Happie bee the day, wherein thou art come againe vnto the land of thy fathers, and ſitteſt in the throne of their kingdome.

56 Now therefore will I fulfill thy writing: but meete me at Ptolemais that we may ſee one another, and that I may make thee my ſonne in law, according to thy deſire.

57 So Ptolemeus went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and came vnto Ptolemais in the hundreth threeſcore and two yeere, 58 Where king Alexander met him, and hee gaue vnto him his daughter Cleopatra, and married them at Ptolemais with great glorie, as the maner of kings is.

59 ¶ Then wrote King Alexander vnto Jonathan, that he ſhould come and meete him.

60 So he went honourably vnto Ptolemais, and there he met the two kings, and gaue them great preſents of ſiluer and golde, and to their friends, and found fauour in their ſight.

61 And there aſſembled certaine peſtilent fellowes of Iſrael, and wicked men to accuſe him: but the king would not heare them.

62 And the king comanded that they ſhould take off the garments of Jonathan, and clothe him in purple, and ſo they did: and the king appointed him to ſit by him,

63 And ſayd vnto his Princes, Goe with him into the mids of the citie, and make a proclamation, that no man complaine againſt him of any matter, and that no man trouble him for any maner of cauſe.

64 So when his accuſers ſaw his honour according as it was proclaimed, and that he was clothed in purple, they fled all away.

65 And the king preferred him to honour, and wrote wrote him among his chiefe friends, and made him a duke and partaker of his dominion.

66 Thus Jonathan returned to Jerusalem with peace and gladnesse.

67 ¶ In the hundreth, threescore and five yere came Demetrius the sonne of Demetrius, from Creta vnto his fathers land.

68 Whereof when king Alexander heard, he was very sory, and returned vnto Antiochia.

69 Then Demetrius appointed Appollonius the gouernour of Cocilosyria, who gathered a great host, and camped in Jamnia, and sent vnto Jonathan the hie Priest, saying, 70 Darest thou, being but alone, lift vp thy selfe against vs? and I am laughed at, and reprocched, because of thee: now therfore why doest thou vaunt thy selfe against vs in the mountaines?

71 Now then if thou trust in thine owne strength, come downe to vs into the plaine field, and there let vs trie the matter together: for I haue the strength of cities.

72 Aske and learne who I am, and they shall take my part: and they shall tell thee that your foote is not able to stand before our face: for thy fathers haue beene twice chased in their owne land.

73 And now how wilt thou bee able to abide so great an host of horsemen and footmen in the plaine, where is neither stone, nor rocke, nor place to flee vnto?

74 When Jonathan heard the wordes of Apollonius, he was moued in his mind: wherefore hee chose tenne thousand men, and went out of Jerusalem, and Simon his brother met him for to helpe him.

75 And hee pitched his tents at Joppe: but they shut him out of the citie: for Apollonius garison was in Joppe.

76 Then they fought against it, and they that were in the citie, for very feare let him in: so Jonathan wan Joppe.

77 Apollonius hearing of this, tooke three thousand horsemen with a great host of foote men, and went toward Azotus, as though he would goe forward, and came immediatly into the plain field, because he had so many horsemen, and put his trust in them.

78 So Jonathan followed vpon him to Azotus, and the armie skirmished with his arriere band.

79 For Apollonius had left a thousand horsemen behind them in ambush.

80 And Jonathan knew that there was an ambushment behind him: and though they had compassed in his host, and shot darts at the people from the morning to the euening, 81 Yet the people stood stil, as Jonathan had commanded them, till their horses were weary.

82 Then brought Simon forth his host, and set them against the band: but the horses were weary, and he discomfited them, and they fled: so the horsemen were scattered in the field, 83 And they fled to Azotus, and came into the temple of Dagon their idole, that they might there saue themselues.

84 But Jonathan set fire vpon Azotus and all the cities round about it, and tooke their spoiles, and burnt with fire the temple of Dagon with all them that were fled into it.

85 Thus were slaine and burnt about eight thousand men.

86 So Jonathan remooued the host from thence, and camped by Ascalon, where the men of the citie came forth, and met him with great honour.

87 After this went Jonathan and his host againe to Jerusalem with great spoyles.

88 And when King Alexander heard these things, he began to doe Jonathan more honour, 89 And sent him a collar of golde, as the vse is to bee giuen vnto such as are of the Kings blood: he gaue him also Accaron, with the borders thereof in possession.

CHAP. XI.

1 The dissention betweene Ptolemeus and Alexander his sonne in law. 17 The death of Alexander. 19 Demetrius reigneth after the death of Ptolemeus. 22 Sion is besieged of Jonathan. 42 Demetrius seeing that no man resisted him, sendeth his armie againe. 54 Tryphon moueth Antiochus against Demetrius.

AND the king of Egypt gathered a great host, like the sand that lyeth vpon the sea shore, and many ships, and went about throughout deceit to obtaine the kingdome of Alexander, and to ioyne it vnto his owne Realme. Ioseph. Ant. 13. chap. 7.

2 Upon this he went into Syria with friendly wordes, and was let into the cities, and men came forth to meete him: for king Alexander had commanded them to meete him, because hee was his father in law.

3 Now when hee entred into the citie of Ptolemais, he left bands and garisons in euery citie.

4 And when he came neere to Azotus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon that was burnt, and Azotus, and the suburbs thereof that were destroyed, and the bodies cast abroad, and them that he had burnt in the battel: for they had made heapes of them by the way where hee should passe.

5 And they tolde the King what Jonathan had done, to the intent they might get him euill will: but the king held his peace.

6 And Jonathan met the King with great honour at Joppe, where they saluted one another, and lay there.

7 So when Jonathan had gone with the King vnto the water that was called Eleutherus, he turned againe to Jerusalem.

8 So king Ptolemeus gate the dominion of the cities by the sea vnto Seleucia vpon the sea coast, imagining wicked counsels against Alexander, 9 ¶ And sent ambassadours vnto king Demetrius, saying. Come, let vs make a league betweene vs, and I will giue thee my daughter, which Alexander hath, and thou shalt reigne in thy fathers kingdome.

10 For I repent that I gaue Alexander my daughter: for he goeth about to slay me.

11 Thus he slandered Alexander, as one that should desire his Realme.

12 And he tooke his daughter from him, and gaue her vnto Demetrius, and forsooke Alexander, so that their hatred was openly knowen.

13 Then Ptolemeus came to Antiochia, where he set two crownes vpon his owne head, of Asia, and of Egypt.

14 In the meane season was King Alexander in Cilicia: for they that dwelt in those places, had rebelled against him:

15 But

15 But when Alexander heard it, he came to warre against him, and Ptolemeus brought forth his host, and met him with a mighty power, and put him to flight.

16 Then fled Alexander into Arabia, there to be defended: so Ptolemeus was exalted.

17 And Zabdiel the Arabian smote off Alexanders head, and sent it vnto Ptolemeus.

18 But the third day after, King Ptolemeus died, and they that were in the holdes, were slaine one of another.

19 And Demetrius reigned in the hundreth, threescore and seuenthyeere.

20 ¶ At the same time gathered Ionathan them that were in Iudea, to lay siege vnto the castle which was at Ierusalem, and they made many instruments of warre against it.

21 Then went there certaine vngodly persons (which hated their owne people) vnto king Demetrius, and told him that Ionathan besieged the castle.

22 So when hee heard it, he was angrie, and immediatly came vnto Ptolemais, and wrote vnto Ionathan, that he should lay no more siege vnto it, but that he should meete him, and speake with him at Ptolemais in all haste.

23 Neuertheless, when Ionathan heard this, hee commanded to besiege it: hee chose also certaine of the Elders of Israel, and the Priests, and put himselfe in danger, 24 And tooke with him siluer and gold, and apparell, and diuers presents, and went to Ptolemais vnto the King, and found fauour in his sight.

25 And though certaine vngodly men of his owne nation had made complaints vpon him,

26 Yet the King intreated him as his predecessors had done, and promoted him in the sight of all his friends, 27 And confirmed him in the hie Priesthood with all the honourable things, that hee had afore, and made him his chiefe friend.

28 Ionathan also desired the King, that hee would make Iudea free with the three gouernments, and the countrey of Samaria, and Ionathan promtied him three hundred talents.

29 Whereunto the king consented, and gaue Ionathan writing of the same, conteining these words, 30 KING DEMETRIVS vnto his brother Ionathan, and to the nation of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

31 Wee send you heere a copie of the letter, which wee did write vnto our cousin Lasthenes concerning you, that ye should see it.

32 King Demetrius vnto Lasthenes his father, sendeth greeting.

33 For the faithfulnesse that our friends the nation of the Iewes keepe vnto vs, and for their good will toward vs, we are determined to doe them good.

34 Wherefore wee assigne to them the coasts of Iudea, with the three gouernments, Apherema, and Lydda, and Ramathe (which are added vnto Iudea, from the countrey of Samaria) and all that appertaineth to all them that sacrifice in Ierusalem: both concerning the payments which the King tooke yeerely afore time, both for the fruites of the earth, and for the fruits of the trees.

35 As for the other things appertaining vnto vs of the tenthes and tributes, which were due vnto vs, and the customes of salt, and crowne tares, which were payed vnto vs, we discharge them of all from henceforth.

36 And nothing hereof shal be reckoned from this time forth and for euer.

37 Therefore see that ye make a copie of these things, and deliuer it vnto Ionathan, that it may bee set vp vpon the holy mount in an open place.

38 After this, when Demetrius the king saw that his land was in rest, and that no resistance was made against him, hee sent away all his host, euery man to his owne place, except certaine bands of strangers, whome hee brought from the yles of the heathen: wherefore all his fathers host hated him.

39 Now was there one Tryphon, that had bene of Alexanders part afore, which when hee saw that al the host murmured against Demetrius, he went to ‖ Simalcue the Arabian, that brought vp Antiochus the sonne of Alexander, ‖Or, Emalcuel, 40 And lay fore vpon him, to deliuer him this young Antiochus, that he might reigne in his fathers stead: hee told him also what great euill Demetrius had done, and how his men of warre hated him, and he remained there a long season.

41 Also Ionathan sent vnto King Demetrius to driue them out which were in the castle at Ierusalem, and those that were in the fortresses: for they fought against Israel.

42 So Demetrius sent vnto Ionathan, saying, I will not onely doe these things for thee and thy nation, but if opportunitie serue, I will honour thee and thy nation.

43 Now therefore thou shalt doe me a pleasure, if thou wilt send me men to helpe mee: for all mine army is gone from me.

44 So Ionathan sent him three thousand strong men vnto Antiochia, and they came vnto the King: wherefore the King was very glad at their comming.

45 ¶ But they that were of the citie, euen an hundreth and tweutie thousand men, gathered them together in the mids of the citie, & would haue slaine the King.

46 But the King fled into the palace, and the citizens kept the streetes of the citie, and began to fight.

47 Then the King called to the Iewes for helpe, which came to him altogether, and went abroad through the citie, 48 And slew the same day an hundreth thousand, and set fire vpon the citie, and tooke many spoyles in that day, and deliuered the King.

49 So when the citizens saw that the Iewes had gotten the vpper hand of the citie, and that they themselues were disappointed of their purpose, they made their supplication vnto the king saying,

50 ‖ Grant vs peace, and let the Iewes cease from vexing vs and the citie. ‖Or, giue vs the right hand, 51 So they cast away their weapons, & made peace and the Iewes were greatly honoured before the King, and before all that were in his realme, and they came againe to Ierusalem with great pray.

52 Then King Demetrius sate in the throne of his kingdome, and had peace in his land.

53 Neuertheles, he dissembled in all that euer he hee spake, and withdrew himselfe from Jonathan, neither did hee reward him according to the benefites which hee had done for him, but troubled him very sore.

54 ¶ After this returned Tryphon with the yong child Antiochus, which reigned, and was crowned.

55 Then there gathered vnto him all the men of warre, whom Demetrius had scattered, and they fought against him, who fled, and turned his backe.

56 So Tryphon tooke the ‖ beasts, and wan Antiochia. ‖ Or, Elephantes.

57 And young Antiochus wrote vnto Jonathan, saying, I appoint thee to bee the chiefe Priest, & make thee ruler ouer the foure gouernments, that thou maiest be a friend of the kings.

58 Upon this he sent him golden vessels to be serued in, and gaue him leaue to drinke in gold, and to weare purple, & to haue a collar of gold.

59 He made his brother Simon also captaine from the coastes of Tyrus vnto the borders of Egypt.

60 Then Jonathan went forth, and passed thorow the cities beyond the flood, and all the men of warre of Syria gathered vnto him for to helpe him: so he came vnto Ascalon, and they of the citie receiued him honourably.

61 And from thence went he vnto Gaza: but they of Gaza shut him out: wherefore hee laide siege vnto it, & burned the suburbs thereof with fire, and spoyled them.

62 Then they of Gaza made supplication vnto Jonathan, and he made peace with them, and tooke of the sonnes of the chiefe men for hostages, and sent them to Jerusalem, and went thorow the countrey vnto Damascus.

63 And when Jonathan heard that Demetrius Princes were come into Cades, which is in Galile, with a great hoste, purposing to driue him out of the countrey, 64 He came against them, and left Simon his brother in the countrey.

65 And Simon besieged Beth-sura, & fought against it a long season, and shut it vp.

66 So they desired to haue peace with him, which hee granted them, & afterward put them out from thence, and tooke the city, and set a garison in it.

67 Then Jonathan with his hoste, came to the water of Genesar, and betimes in the morning came to the plaine of Azor.

68 And behold, the hostes of the ‖ strangers met him in the plaine, & had laid ambushments for him in the mountaines. ‖ Or, heathen.

69 So that when they came against them, the ambushments rose out of their places and skirmished.

70 So that all that were of Jonathans side, fled: and there was not one of them left, except Mattathias the sonne of ‖ Absalomus, and Judas the sonne of Calphi the Captaines of the hoste. ‖ Or, Abessalomus.

71 Then Jonathan rent his clothes, and cast earth vpon his head and prayed, 72 And turned againe to them to fight, and put them to flight, so that they fled away.

73 Now when his owne men that were fled, saw this, they turned againe vnto him, and helped him to follow after all vnto their tents at Cades, and there they camped.

74 So there were slaine of the strangers the same day about three thousand men, and Jonathan turned againe to Jerusalem.

CHAP. XII.

1 Ionathan sendeth ambassadours to Rome, 2 and to the people of Sparta, to renew their couenant of friendship. 24 Ionathan putteth to flight the Princes of Demetrius. 40 Tryphon taketh Ionathan by deceit.

IOnathan now seeing that the time was meete for him, chose certaine men, and sent them vnto Rome, to stablish and renew the friendship with them. Ioseph. Ant. 13 cap. 8.

2 He sent letters also vnto the ‖ Spartians and to other places, for the same purpose. ‖ Or, Lacedemonians.

3 So they went vnto Rome, and entred into the Senate, and said, Jonathan the hie priest and the nation of the Jewes sent vs vnto you, for to renewe friendshippe with you, and the bond of loue, as in times past.

4 So the Romanes gaue them free passports, that men should leade them home into the land of Juda peaceably.

5 ¶ AND THIS is the copie of the letters that Jonathan wrote vnto the Spartians, 6 Jonathan the hie Priest with the Elders of the nation, and the priests, and the rest of the people of the Jewes, send greeting vnto the Spartians their brethren.

7 Heretofore were letters sent vnto Onias the hie Priest, from ‖ Arius, which then reigned among you, that you would be our brethren, as the copie hereunder written specifieth. Ioseph. Ant. 12 cap. 5. ‖ Or, Darius.

8 And Onias entreated the Ambassadour honourably, and receiued the letters: wherein there was mention made of the bond of loue and friendship.

9 But as for vs, we neede no such writings: for wee haue the holy bookes in our handes for comfort.

10 Neuertheless, we thought it good to send vnto you, for the renewing of the brotherhood and friendship, lest wee should bee strange vnto you: for it is long since the time that ye sent vnto vs.

11 Wherefore we remember you at al seasons continually, and in the feasts and other dayes appointed, when we offer sacrifices and prayers, as it is meet and conuenient to thinke vpon our brethren.

12 And wee reioyce at your prosperous estate.

13 And though we haue bene enuironed with great troubles and warres, so that the Kings round about vs haue fought against vs, 14 Yet would we not be grieuous vnto you, nor to other of our confederates and friends in these warres.

15 For we haue had helpe from heauen, that hath succoured vs, and wee are deliuered from our enemies, and our enemies are subdued.

16 Yet haue we chosen Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason, and sent them vnto the Romanes, for to renew the former friendship with them, and league.

17 Wee commaunded them also to goe vnto you, and to salute you, and to deliuer you our letters concerning the renewing of our brotherhood.

18 And

18 And now ye shall doe vs a pleasure to giue vs an answere of these things.

19 ¶ And this was the copy of the letters, which Arius the king of Sparta sent vnto Onias.

20 THE KING of the Spartians vnto Onias the high Priest sendeth greeting.

21 It is found in writing that the Spartians and Iewes are brethren, and come out of the generation of Abraham.

22 And now for so much as this is come to our knowledge, yee shall doe well to write vnto vs of your prosperitie.

23 As for vs we haue written vnto you, that your cattell and goods are ours, and ours are yours: these things haue we commaunded to be shewed vnto you.

24 ¶ Now when Ionathan heard that Demetrius Princes were come to fight against him, with a greater hoste then afore, 25 He went from Ierusalem, and met them in the land of Hamath: for hee gaue them not space to come into his owne countrey.

26 And he sent spies vnto their tents, which came againe and told him, that they were appointed to come vpon him in the night.

27 Wherefore, when the Sunne was gone downe, Ionathan commaunded his men to watch, and to bee in armes readie to fight all the night, and sent watch men round about the hoste.

28 But when the aduersaries heard that Ionathan was readie with his men to the battell, they feared, and trembled in their hearts, and kindled fires in their tents, and fled away.

29 Neuertheless Ionathan and his company knew it not till the morning: for they saw the fires burning.

30 Then Ionathan followed vpon them, but he could not ouertake them: for they were gone ouer the flood Eleutherus.

31 So Ionathan turned to the Arabians, which were called Zabedei, and slew them, and tooke their spoile.

32 Hee proceeded further also, and came vnto Damascus, and went thorow all the countrey.

33 But Simon his brother went forth, and came to Ascalon and to the next holdes, departing vnto Ioppe, and wanne it.

34 For he heard that they would deliuer the hold to them that tooke Demetrius part: wherfore he set a garison there to keepe it.

35 ¶ After this came Ionathan home, and called the Elders of the people together, and deuised with them for to build vp the strong holds in Iudea, 36 And to make the walles of Ierusalem higher, and to make a great mount betwixt the castle and the citie, for to separate it from the citie, that it might be alone, and that men should neither buy, nor sell in it.

37 So they came together to build vp the citie: for part of the wall vpon the brooke of the East side was fallen downe, and they repaired it, and called it Caphenatha.

38 Simon also set vp Adida in Sephela, and made it strong with gates and barres.

39 ¶ In the meane time Tryphon purposed to reigne in Asia, and to bee crowned when hee had slaine the king Antiochus. Ioseph Ant. 13. chap. 9.

40 But he was afraid that Ionathan would not suffer him, but fight against him: wherefore he went about to take Ionathan, & to kill him: so he departed and came vnto Bethsan.

41 Then went Ionathan forth against him to the battell with fourtie thousand cholen men, and came vnto Bethsan.

42 But when Tryphon saw that Ionathan came with so great an hoste, hee durst not lay hand vpon him,

43 But receiued him honourably, and commended him vnto all his friends, and gaue him rewards, and commanded his men of warre to be as obedient vnto him, as to himselfe,

44 And said vnto Ionathan, Why hast thou caused this people to take such trauell, seeing there is no warre betweene vs?

45 Therefore now send them home againe, and chuse certaine men to waite vpon thee, and come thou with mee to Ptolemais: For I will giue it thee, with the other strong holds, and the other garisons, & all them that haue the charge of the common affaires: so will I returne, and depart: for this is the cause of my comming.

46 Ionathan beleeued him, and did as hee sayd, and sent away his hoste, which went into the land of Iuda, 47 And retained but three thousand with him, whereof he sent two thousand into Galile, and one thousand went with himselfe.

48 Now assoone as Ionathan entred into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, and tooke him, and slewe all them with the sword, that came in with him.

49 Then sent Tryphon an hoste of footmen and horsemen into Galile, and into the great plaine, to destroy all Ionathans company.

50 But when they knew that Ionathan was taken, and slaine, and those that were with him, they encouraged one another, and came forth against them ready to the battell.

51 But when they which folowed vpon them, sawe that it was a matter of life, they turned backe againe.

52 By this meanes al they came into the land of Iuda peaceably, and bewailed Ionathan, and them that were with him, and feared greatly, and all Israel made great lamentation.

53 For al the heathen that were round about them, sought to destroy them.

54 For they said, Now haue they no captaine, nor any man to help them: therefore let vs now fight against them, and root out their memorie from among men.

CHAP. XIII.

1 After Ionathan was taken, Simon is chosen captaine. 17 Tryphon taking his children and money for the redemption of Ionathan, killeth him and his children. 31 Tryphon killeth Antiochus, and possesseth the realme. 36 Demetrius taketh truce with Simon. 43 Simon winneth Gaza. 50 Hee possesseth the towre of Sion. 53 He maketh his sonne Iohn captaine.

NOw when Simon heard that Tryphon gathered a great hoste to come into the land of Iuda, and to destroy it, Ioseph Ant. 13. chap. 9.

2 And sawe that the people was in great trembling and feare, hee came vp to Ierusalem, and gathered the people together, know what great thinges I, and my brethren, and my fathers house haue done for the Law, and the Sanctuary, and the battels, and troubles that we haue seene.

4 By reason whereof all my brethren are slaine for Israels sake, and I am left alone.

5 Now therefore God forbid, that I should spare mine owne life in any time of trouble: for I am not better then my brethren.

6 But I will auenge my nation, and the Sanctuarie, and our wiues and our children: for all the heathen are gathered together to destroy vs of very malice.

7 In hearing these words the hearts of the people were kindled,

8 So that they cryed with a loud voyce, saying, Thou shalt be our captaine in stead of Judas and Jonathan thy brethren.

9 Fight thou our battels, and whatsoeuer thou commandest vs, we will doe it.

10 ¶ So hee gathered all the men of warre, making haste to finish the walles of Jerusalem, and fortified it round about.

11 Then sent he Jonathan the sonne of Absalomus with a great hoste vnto Joppe, which drone them out that were therin, and remained there himselfe.

12 Tryphon also remoued from Ptolemais with a great armie, to come into the land of Juda, and Jonathan was with him as prisoner.

14 But when Tryphon knew that Simon stood vp in stead of his brother Jonathan, and that he would fight against him, he sent messengers vnto him, saying,

15 Whereas we haue kept Jonathan thy brother, it is for money that he is owing in the kings accompt concerning the businesse that he had in hand.

16 Wherefore send now an hundreth talents of siluer, and his two sonnes for hostages, that when he is letten forth hee will not turne from vs, and we will send him againe.

17 Neuertheless Simon knew that hee dissembled in his words, yet commaunded hee the money and children to bee deliuered vnto him, least he should be in greater hatred of the people of Israel:

18 Who might haue sayd, Because hee sent him not the money and the children, therefore is Jonathan dead.

19 So hee sent the children and an hundreth talents: but hee dissembled, and would not let Jonathan goe.

20 ¶ Afterward came Tryphon into the land to destroy it, and went round about by the way, that leadeth vnto Adora: but whersoeuer they went, thither went Simon and his hoste.

21 Now they that were in the castle sent messengers vnto Tryphon, that hee should make haste to come by the wildernesse, and to send them vitailes.

22 So Tryphon made ready all his horsemen: but the same night fell a very great snow, so that he came not, because of the snow: but he remoued & went into the countrey of Galaad.

23 And when he came neere to Balcama, he slew Jonathan, and he was buried there.

24 So Tryphon returned, and went into his owne land.

25 ¶ Then sent Simon to take the bones of Jonathan his brother, and they buried him in Modin his fathers citie.

26 And all Israel bewailed him with great lamentation, and mourned for him very long.

27 And Simon made vpon the sepulchre of his father and his brethren, a building high to looke vnto of hewen stone behind and before,

28 And set vp seuen pillars vpon it, one against another, for his father, his mother, and foure brethren, 29 And set great pillars round about them, and set armes vpon the pillars for a perpetuall memorie, and carued ships beside the armes, that they might bee seene of men sayling in the Sea.

30 This sepulchre which he made at Modin, standeth yet vnto this day.

31 ¶ Now as Tryphon went forth with the yong King Antiochus, he slew him traitorously, Ioseph. Ant. l 3. chap. 10.

32 And reigned in his steade, and crowned himselfe King of Asia, & brought a great plague vpon the land.

33 Simon also built vp the castles of Judea, and compassed them about with high towres, and great walles, euen with towres, and gates, and barres, and layd vp vitailes in the strong holds.

34 Moreouer Simon chose certaine men and sent them to King Demetrius, that hee would discharge the land: for all Tryphons doings were robberies.

35 Whereupon Demetrius the king answered him and wrote vnto him after this maner.

36 DEMETRIVS the King vnto Simon the hie Priest, and the friend of Kings, and to the Elders, and the nation of the Iewes, sendeth greeting.

37 The golden crowne, and ‖ precious stone that ye sent vnto vs, haue we receiued, and are ready to make a stedfast peace with you, and to write vnto the officers to release you of the things wherein wee made you free. ‖Or, ceNar, or baudricke: in Greeke Bainen, or baheu.

38 So the things that we haue granted you, shall be stable: the strong holds which yee haue builded, shall be your owne.

39 Also we forgiue the ouersights, and faults committed vnto this day: and the crowne taxe that ye ought vs, and whereas was any other tribute in Jerusalem, it shall bee now no tribute.

40 And they that are meete among you tobe written with our men, let them bee written vp, that there may be peace betweene vs.

41 Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken from Israel in the hundreth and seuentie yeere.

42 And the people of Israel began to write in their letters and publique instruments, IN THE FIRST yeere of Simon, the hie and chiefe Priest, gouernour and Prince of the Iewes.

43 In those dayes Simon camped against Gaza, and besieged it round about, where hee set vp an engine of warre, and approched neere the citie, and beat a tower, and tooke it.

44 So they that were in the engine, lept into the city, and there was great trouble in the city,

45 In so much that the people of the city rent their clothes and climed vp vpon the walles with with their wiues, and children, and cryed with a loud voice, beseeching Simon to graunt them peace, saying, 46 Deale not with vs according to our wickednesse, but according to thy mercie.

47 Then Simon pitied them, & would fight no more against them, but put them out of the citie, and cleansed the houses, wherein the idoles were, and so entred thereunto with Psalmes and thanksgiuing.

48 So when he had cast all the filthines out, he set such men in it as kept the Law, and fortified it, and builded there a dwelling place for himselfe.

49 Now, when they in the castle at Ierusalem were kept, that they could not come forth nor goe into the countrey, neither buy nor sell, they were very hungry, and many of them were famished to death,

50 In so much that they besought Simon to make peace with them: which he granted them, and put them out from thence, and cleansed the castle from filthinesse.

51 And vpon the three and twentie day of the second moneth, in the hundreth seuentie and one yeere they entred into it with thanksgiuing, and branches of palme trees, and with harpes, and with cymbals, and with violes, & with psalmes and songs, because the great enemie of Israel was ouercome.

52 And he ordeined that the same day should be kept euery yeere with gladnesse.

53 And he fortified the mount of the Temple that was besides the castle where he dwelt himselfe with his company.

54 Simon also seeing that John his sonne was now a man, he made him captaine of all the hostes, and caused him to dwell in ‖ Gazaris.

‖ Or, Gaza.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Demetrius is ouercome of Arsaces. 11 Simon being captaine, there is great quietnes in Israel. 18 The couenant of friendship with the Romanes, & with the people of Sparta is renued.

IN the hundreth, seuentie and two yere, gathered King Demetrius his hoste, and departed vnto Media, to get him helpe for to fight against Tryphon.

2 But when Arsaces the king of Persia and Media heard, that Demetrius was entred within his borders, he sent one of his princes to take him aliue.

3 So he went and ouercame the army of Demetrius, and tooke him, and brought him to Arsaces which kept him in ward.

4 Thus all the land of Iuda was in rest, so long as Simon liued: for he sought the wealth of his nation: therefore were they glad to haue him for their ruler, and to do him worship allway.

5 Simon also wanne the city of Ioppe to his great honour to be an hauen towne, and made it an entrance vnto the yles of the sea.

6 He enlarged also the borders of his people, and conquered the countreyes.

7 He gathered vp many of their people that were prisoners, and he had the dominion of Gazaris, and Beth-sura, and the castle, which hee clensed from filthinesse, and there was no man that resisted him.

8 So that euery man tilled his ground in peace, and the land gaue her fruits, & the trees gaue their fruit.

9 The Elders sate in the open places, and consulted all together for the Common wealth, and the yong men were honourably clothed and armed.

10 He prouided vitailes for the cities, and all kind of munition, so that his glorious fame was renowned vnto the end of the world.

11 Hee made peace thorowout the land, and Israel had perfit mirth and ioy.

12 For euery man sate vnder his vine, and the figtrees, and there was no man to fray them.

13 There was none in y land to fight against them: for then the kings were ouercome.

14 He helped all those that were in aduersitie among his people: hee was diligent to see the Law kept, and hee tooke away the vngodly, and wicked.

15 He beautified the Sanctuary, and increased the vessels of the Temple.

16 When the Romans heard, and the Spartians had knowledge that Ionathan was dead, they were very sory.

17 But when they heard that Simon his brother was made high Priest in his stead, and how he had won the land againe with the cities in it, 18 They wrote vnto him in tables of brasse, to renew the friendship and bond of loue, which they had made with Iudas and Ionathan his brethren.

19 Which writings were read before the congregation at Ierusalem, and this is the copy of the letters that the Spartians sent.

20 THE SENATORS and citie of Sparta vnto Simon the great Priest, and to the Elders, and to the Priestes, and to the residue of the people of the Iewes their brethren send greeting.

21 When your ambassadours that were sent vnto our people, certified vs of your glory and honour, we were glad of their comming, 22 And haue registred their ambassage in the publike records in this maner, NVMENIVS the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Iason the Iewes ambassadours came vnto vs, to renew amitie with vs.

23 And it pleased the people, that the men should bee honourably intreated, and that the copie of their ambassage should bee registred in the publike records, that it might bee for a memoriall vnto the people of Sparta: and a copie of the same was sent to Simon the chiefe Priest.

24 After this, Simon sent Numenius to Rome, with a great shield of gold of a thousand pound weight to confirme the friendship with them.

25 Which when the people vnderstood, they sayd, What thanks shall we recompence againe vnto Simon and his children?

26 For he and his brethren, and the house of his father haue stablished Israel, and ouercome their enemies, and haue confirmed the libertie thereof: therefore they wrote this in tables of brasse, and set it vpon pillars in mount Sion.

27 The copie of the writing is this, In the eight and twentie day of the moneth ‖ Elul, in the hundreth seuentie and two yeere, in the third yeere of Simon the high Priest. ‖ August.

28 In ‖ Saramel in the great congregation of the Priests, and of the people, and of the gouernours of the nation, and of the elders of the countrey, wee would signifie vnto you, that many battels haue bene fought in our countrey.

‖ Or, Ierusalem.

29 Wherein Simon the sonne of Mattathias (come of the children of Jarib) and his brethren put themselues in danger, and resisted the enemies of their nation, that their Sanctuarie, and Law might be maintained, and did their nation great honour.

30 For Jonathan gathered his nation together, and became their hie Priest, and is layde with his people.

31 After that would their enemies haue inuaded their countrey, and destroied their land, and lay their hands on their Sanctuary.

32 Then Simon resisted them, and fought for his nation, & spent much of his owne substance, and armed the valiant men of his nation, and gaue them wages.

33 He fortified also the cities of Judea, and Bethsura that lieth vpon the borders of Judea, (where the ordinance of their enemies lay sometime) and set there a garrison of the Jewes.

34 And he fortified Joppe, which lieth vpon the sea, and ‖ Gazara that bordereth vpon Azotus (where the enemies dwelt afore) and there he placed Jewes, & furnished them with things necessary for the reparation thereof.

‖ Or, Gaza, or Gazaru.

35 Nowe when the people saw the faithfulnesse of Simon, and to what glory hee thought to bring his nation vnto, they made him their gouernour, and the chiefe Priest, because he had done all these things, and for the vprightnesse, and fidelitie that hee had kept to his nation, and that sought by all meanes to exalt his people.

36 For in his time they prospered wel by him, so that the heathen were taken out of their countrey, and they also which were in the citie of Dauid at Jerusalem, where they had made them a castle, out of the which they went, and defiled all things that were about the Sanctuarie, and did great hurt vnto Religion.

37 And he set Jewes in it, and fortified it, for the assurance of the land and citie, and raised vp the walles of Jerusalem.

38 And King Demetrius confirmed him in his hie Priesthood for these causes, 39 And made him one of his friends, and gaue him great honour.

40 For it was reported that the Romanes called the Jewes their friends and cofederates, and that they honourably receiued Simons ambassadours, 41 And that the Jewes and Priests consented that Simon should be their prince, and high Priest perpetually, till God raised vp the true Prophet,

42 And that he should be their captaine and haue the charge of the Sanctuarie, and so set men ouer the workes, and ouer the Countrey, and ouer the weapons, and ouer the fortresses, and that shoulde make prouision for the holy things,

43 And that he should be obeied of euery man, and that all the writings in the countrey should be made in his name, and that he should be clothed in purple, and weare gold,

44 And that it should not be lawfull for any of the people, or Priests to breake any of these things, or to withstand his words, or to call any congregation in the countrey without him, or be clothed in purple, or weare a collar of golde:

45 And if any did contrary to these things, or brake any of them, hee should be punished.

46 So it pleased all the people to agree that it should be done to Simon according vnto these words.

47 Simon also accepted it, and was content to be the hie Priest, and the captaine, and the Prince of the Jewes and of the Priests, and to be the chiefe of all.

48 And they commanded to set vp this writing in tables of braſſe, and to fasten it to the wall that compassed the Sanctuary in an open place, 49 And that a copy of the same should be layd vp in the treasurie, that Simon and his sonnes might haue it.

CHAP. XV.

1 Antiochus maketh a couenant of friendship with Simon. 11 Tryphon is pursued. 15 The Romans write letters vnto Kings and nations in the defence of the Jewes. 27 Antiochus refusing the helpe that Simon sent him, breaketh his couenant.

MOreouer, King Antiochus the sonne of Demetrius sent letters from the yles of the sea, vnto Simon the priest, and prince of the Jewes, and to all the nation,

2 Conteining these words, ANTIOCHVS the King vnto Simon the great Priest, and to the nation of the Jewes, sendeth greeting.

3 For so much as certaine pestilent men haue vsurped the kingdome of our Fathers, I am purposed to challenge the realme againe, and to restore it to the olde estate: wherefore I haue gathered a great holte, and prepared ships of warre,

4 That I may goe through the countrey, and be auenged of them, which haue destroyed our countrey, and wasted many cities in the realme.

5 Now therefore I do confirme vnto thee all the liberties, whereof all the Kings my progenitors haue discharged thee, and all the payments, whereof they haue released thee.

6 And I giue thee leaue to coine money of thine owne stampe within thy countrey,

7 And that Jerusalem and the Sanctuary be free, and that all the weapons that thou hast prepared, and the fortresses, which thou hast builded, and keepest in thine handes, shall bee thine.

8 And all that is due vnto the King, and all that shal be due vnto the King, I forgiue it thee, from this time forth for euermore.

9 And when we haue obteined our kingdom, we wil giue thee and thy nation, and the temple great honour, so that your honor shalbe knowen throughout the world.

10 ¶ In the hundreth, seuenty & foure yeere, went Antiochus into his fathers land, and all the bandes came together vnto him, so that few were left with Tryphon. Ioseph. Ant. 13. chap. 11.

11 So the King Antiochus pursued him, but he fled and came to Dora, which lieth by the sea side.

12 For hee saw that troubles were toward him, him, and that the armie had forsaken him.

13 Then camped Antiochus against Dora with an hundreth and twenty thousand fighting men, and eight thousand horsmen.

14 So he compassed the citie about, and the ships came by the sea. Thus they pressed the city by lande, and by sea, insomuch that they suffered no man to go in nor out.

15 In the meane season came Numenius, and his company from Rome, hauing letters written vnto the kings and countries, wherin were conteined these words, 16 LVCIVS the Consul of Rome vnto king Ptolemeus sendeth greeting.

17 The ambassadours of the Iewes are come vnto vs as our friends and confederates from Simon the high Priest, and from the people of the Iewes, to renew friendship, and the bond of loue, 18 Who haue brought a shield of golde weighing a thousand pound.

19 Wherefore we thought it good to write vnto the kings and countries, that they should not go about to hurt them, nor to fight against them, nor their cities, nor their countrey, neither to maintaine their enemies against them.

20 And we were content to receiue of them the shield.

21 If therefore there be any pestilent felowes fled from their countrey vnto you, deliuer them vnto Simon the hie Priest, that hee may punish them according to their owne law.

22 The same things were written to Demetrius the King, and to Attalus, and to Arathes, and to Arsaces, ‖Or, Sampface.

23 And to all the countreys, as ‖Sampsames, and to them of Sparta, and to Delus, and to ‖Mindus, & to Sycion, and to Caria, and to Samos, and to Pamphylia, and to Lycia, and to Halicarnassus, and to Rhodus, and to Phaseles, and to Coos, and to Siden, and to Coztyna, and to Gnidon, and to Cyprus, and to Cyrene.

Or, Delo.
Or, Mido, or, Mydus,

24 And they sent a copy of them to Simon the high Priest.

25 ¶ So Antiochus the king camped against Dora the second time euer ready to take it, and made diuers engines of warre, and kept Tryphon in, that he could neither go in nor out.

26 Then Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to help him with siluer and golde, and much furniture.

27 Neuertheless, he would not receiue them, but brake all the Couenant, which he had made with him afore, and withdrewe himselfe from him, 28 And sent vnto him Athenobius one of his friends, to commune with him, saying, Ye withhold Joppe, and Gazara, with the castle that is at Jerusalem, the city of my Realme.

29 Whose borders yee haue destroyed & done great hurt in the land, and haue the gouernment of many places of my kingdome.

30 Wherefore now deliuer the cities, which ye haue taken, with the tributes of the places, that ye haue rule ouer without the borders of Judea, 31 Or else giue me for them fiue hundreth talents of siluer, and for the harme that yee haue done, and for the tributes of the places other fiue hundreth talents: if not, we will come, and fight against you.

32 So Athenobius the kings friende came to Jerusalem, and when he saw the honour of Simon, and the cupboord of gold and siluer plate, and so great preparation, he was astonished, and tolde him the kings message.

33 Then answered Simon, and sayde vnto him, We haue neither taken other mens lands, nor withholden that which appertaineth to others: but our fathers heritage, which our enemies had vnrighteously in possession a certaine time.

34 But when we had occasion, we recouered the inheritance of our fathers.

35 And whereas thou ‖ requirest Joppe and Gazara, they did great harme to our people, and thorow our countrey, yet will wee giue an hundreth talents for them. But Athenobius answered him not one word,

‖Or, complainest concerning.

36 But turned againe angry vnto the King, and told him all these wordes, & the dignitie of Simon, with all that he had seene: and the king was very angry.

37 ¶ In the meane time fled Tryphon by ship vnto Dztholias.

38 Then the king made Cendebeus captaine of the sea coast, and gaue him bandes of footmen and horsemen, 39 And commanded him to remoone the hoste toward Judea, and to builde vp Cedzon, and to fortifie the gates, and to warre against the people: but the King pursued Tryphon.

40 So Cendebeus came vnto Jamnia, and began to vexe the people, and to inuade Judea, and to take the people prisoners, & to slay them.

41 And he built vp Cedzon, where he set horsmen and garisons, that they might make outrodes by the wayes of Judea, as the King had commanded him.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Cendebeus the captaine of Antiochus host is put to flight by the sonnes of Simon. 11 Ptolemeus the sonne of Abubus killeth Simon & his two sonnes at a banket. 25 Iohn killeth them that lie in wait for his life.

THen came John vp from Gazara, & told Simon his father, what Cendebeus had done.

Ioseph. Ant. 13. chap. 12.

2 So Simon called two of his eldest sonnes, Judas and John, and said vnto them, I and my brethren, and my fathers house, haue euer from our youth vnto this day fought against the enemies of Israel, and the matters haue had good successe vnder our hands, and we haue deliuered Israel oftentimes.

3 But I am now olde, and yee by Gods mercy are of a sufficient age: bee ye therefore in stead of me, and my brother, & goe forth and fight for our nation, and the helpe of heauen be with you.

4 So he chose twenty thousand fighting men of the countrey with the horsemen, which went forth against Cendebeus, and rested at Modin.

5 In the morning they arose, and went into the plaine field: and behold, a mighty great hoste came against them both of footemen, and horsemen: but there was a riuer betwixt them.

6 And John ranged his armie ouer against him, and when hee sawe that the people was afrayde to goe ouer the riuer, hee went ouer first himselfe, and the men seeing him, passed thorowe after him.

7 Then he deuided his men, and set the horsemen in the mids of the footmen.

8 For their enemies horsemen were very many: but when they blew the trumpets Cendebeus fled with his host, whereof many were slaine, and the remnant gate them to the fortresse.

9 Then was Judas Johns brother wounded: but John followed after them, till hee came to Cedron, which Cendebeus had built.

10 Also they fled vnto the towers, that were in the fields of Azotus and those did Iohn burne with fire: thus were there slaine two thousande men of them: so he returned peaceably into the land of Juda.

11 ¶ Now in the fielde of Jericho was Ptolemeus the sonne of Abubus made captaine, and he had abundance of siluer and gold.

12 (For hee had married the daughter of the hie Priest)

13 Therefore hee waxed proud in his minde, and thought to rule the lande, & thought to slay Simon and his sonnes by deceit.

14 Now as Simon went about thorowe the cities of the countrey, and studied carefully for them, hee came downe to Jericho with Mattathias, and Judas his sonnes in the hundreth, seuentie and seuen yeere, in the eleuenth moneth, which is the moneth Sabat.

15 Then the sonne of Abubus receiued them by treason into a litle hold, called Dochus, which he had built, where he made the a great banket, and had hid men there.

16 So when Simon & his sonnes had made good cheere, Ptolemeus stood vp with his men and tooke their weapons, and entred in to Simon in the banket house, and slewe him with his two sonnes and certaine of his seruants.

17 Wherby hee committed a great villenie, and recompensed euil for good.

18 Then wrote Ptolemeus these things and sent to the king, that he might send him an host to helpe him, and so would deliuer him the countrey with the cities.

19 He sent other men also vnto Gazara, to take John, & sent letters vnto the captaines to come to him, and he would giue them siluer, and gold and rewards.

20 And to Jerusalem he sent other to take it, and the mountaine of the Temple.

21 But one ran before, and tolde John in Gazara, that his father, & his brother were slaine, and that Ptolemeus had sent to slay him.

22 When hee heard this, hee was sore astonished, and layd hands on them that were come to slay him, and slew them: for hee knew that they went about to kill him.

23 Concerning other things of John, both of his warres, and of his noble acts (wherein he behaued himselfe manfully) of ỹ building of wals which he made, and other of his deeds, 24 Beholde, they are written in the Chronicles of his Priesthood, from the time that he was made high Priest after his father.

The second Booke of the Maccabees.

CHAP. I.

1 An Epistle of the Iewes that dwelt at Ierusalem, sent vnto them that dwelt in Egypt, wherein they exhort them to giue thankes for the death of Antiochus. 19 Of the fire that was hid in the pitte. 24 The prayer of Neemias.

THe brethren the Iewes which be at Jerusalem, and they that are in the countrey of Judea, vnto the brethren the Iewes that are thorowout Egypt, send salutation, and prosperitie.

2 God be gracious vnto you, and remember his couenant made with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob his faithfull seruants,

3 And giue you all an heart to worship him, and to doe his will with a whole heart and with a willing minde,

4 And open your hearts in his Lawe & commandements, and send you peace,

5 And heare your prayers, and bee reconciled with you, & neuer forsake you in time of trouble.

6 Thus now we pray here for you.

7 When Demetrius reigned in the hundreth threescore and ninth yere, we Iewes wrote vnto you in the trouble and violence that came vnto vs in those yeeres, after that Jason and his company departed out of the holy lande and kingdome,

8 And burnt the porch, & shed innocent blood. Then wee prayed vnto the Lord, & were heard: we offered sacrifices and fine flour, and lighted the lampes, and set forth the bread.

9 Nowe therefore keepe yee the dayes of the feast of the tabernacles in the moneth Chasleu.

10 ¶ In the hundreth, fourescore and eight yeere, the people that was at Jerusalem, & in Judea, and the counsell, and Judas, vnto Aristobulus king Ptolemeus master, which is of the stocke of the anointed Priests, and to the Iewes that are in Egypt, sendeth greeting and health.

11 Insomuch as God hath deliuered vs from great perils, we thanke him highly, as though we had ouercome the King.

12 For he brought them into Persia by heaps that fought against the holy citie.

13 For albeit the captaine and the army that was with him, seemed inuincible, yet they were slaine in the Temple of Nanea, by the deceite of Naneas priests.

14 For Antiochus as though he would dwell with her, came thither, he and his friends with him to receiue money vnder the title of a dowry.

15 But when the priests of Nanea had laid it forth, and he was entred with a small company within the temple, they shut the temple, when Antiochus was come in.

16 And by opening a priuy doore of the vant, they cast stones, as it were thunder, vpon the captaine and his, and hauing bruised them in pieces, they cut off their heads, and threw them to those that were without.

17 God be blessed in all things, which hath deliuered vp the wicked.

18 Whereas wee are now purposed to keepe the the purification of the temple vpon the fiue and twenty day of the moneth Challeu, we thought it necessary to certifie you thereof, that yee also might keepe the feast of the Tabernacles, and of the fire which was giuen vs when Neemias offred sacrifice, after that he had built the Temple, and the altar.

19 For when as our fathers were led away vnto Persia, the Priests, which sought the honour of God, tooke the * fire of the altar priuily, and hid it in a hollow pit, which was dry in the bottome, and therein they kept it, so that the place was vnknowen vnto euery man.

Leuit. 6. 13. and 10. 2. and 16. 12.

20 Now after many yeeres when it pleased God that Neemias should be sent from the king of Persia, hee sent of the posteritie of those Priests, which had hid it, to fetch the fire, and as they told vs, they found no fire, but thicke water.

21 Then commaunded hee them to draw it vp, and to bring it: and when the things appertaining to the sacrifices were brought, Neemias commaunded the Priests to sprinkle the wood, and the things layd thereupon with water.

22 When this was done, and the time came that the Sunne shone, which afore was hid in the cloud, there was a great fire kindled, so that euery man marueiled.

23 Now the Priests, and all prayed, while the sacrifice was consuming: Ionathan began, and the other answered thereunto.

24 And the prayer of Neemias was after this manner, O Lord, Lord God maker of all things, which art fearefull & strong, and righteous, and mercifull, and the only and gracious King,

25 Onely liberall, onely iust and Almightie and euerlasting, thou that deliuerest Israel frō al trouble, and hast chosen the fathers, and sanctified them, 26 Receiue the sacrifice for thy whole people of Israel, and preserue thine owne portion, and sanctifie it.

27 Gather those together, that are scattered from vs: deliuer the that serue among the heathen: look vpon them that are despised, and abhorred, that the heathen may know that thou art our God.

28 Punish them that oppresse vs, and with pride doe vs wrong.

29 Plant thy people againe in thine holie place, *as Moyses hath spoken.

Deut. 30. 5.

30 And the Priests sang Psalmes thereunto.

31 Now when the sacrifice was consumed, Neemias commaunded the great stones to bee sprinkled with the residue of the water.

32 Which when it was done, there was kindled a flame, which was consumed by the light, that shined from the altar.

33 ¶ So when this matter was knowen, it was told the king of Persia, that in the place where the Priests, which were led away, had hid fire, there appeared water, wherewith Neemias and his companie had purified the sacrifices.

34 The king tried out the thing, and closed the place about, and made it holy.

35 And to them that the king fauoured, hee gaue and bestowed many gifts.

36 And Neemias called y same place a Ephthar, which is to say, purification: but many men call it Nephthar.

a That is to say, a shining, it is also called Nephi, or Nephthar, which is a cleansing.

CHAP. II.

4 How Jeremie hid the Tabernacle, the Arke and the Altar in the hill. 23 Of the fiue bookes of Iason conteined in one.

IT is found also in the writings of Jeremias the Prophet, that he commanded them which were caried away, to take fire, as was declared, and as the Prophet cōmanded them that were led into captiuitie,

2 *Giuing them a law, that they should not forget the commandements of the Lord, & that they should not erre in their minds, when they saw images of gold and siluer, with their ornaments.

Baruch. 6.

3 These and such other things commanded he them, and exhorted them that they should not let the Law goe out of their hearts.

4 It is written also, how the Prophet, by an oracle that he had, charged them to take the Tabernacle and the Arke, and follow him: and when hee came vp into the mountaine where Moyses went vp, * and sawe the heritage of God,

Deut. 34. 1.

5 Jeremias went foorth, and found an hollow caue, wherein he layd the Tabernacle, and the Arke, and the altar of incense, and so stopped the doore.

6 And there came certaine of those that followed him, to marke the place: but they could not find it.

7 Which when Jeremias perceiued, hee reprooued them, saying, As for that place, it shall be vnknowen, vntill the time that God gather his people together againe, and that mercie be shewed.

8 Then shal the Lord shew them these things, and the maiestie of the Lord shall appeare and the cloud also, as it was shewed vnder Moyses, and as * when Salomon desired, that the place might be honourably sanctified.

9 For it is manifest that hee, being a wise man, offered the * sacrifice of dedication, and consecration of the Temple.

Leuit. 9. 24. and 10. 16. 2. Chro. 7. 1.

10 * And as when Moyses prayed vnto the Lord, the fire came down from heauen, and consumed the sacrifice: so when Salomon prayed, * the fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the burnt offering.

11 And Moyses said, because the sinne offe was not eaten, therefore it is consumed.

12 So Salomon kept those eight dayes.

13 These things also are declared in the writings and registers of ‖ Neemias, and how hee made a libzarie, and how he gathered the acts of the Kings, and the Prophets, and the acts of Dauid, and the epistles of the Kinges concerning the holy gifts.

‖ Some read Ieremie.

14 Euen so Judas also gathered all thinges that came to passe by the warres that were among vs, which things we haue.

15 Wherefore if yee haue need thereof, send some to fetch them vnto you.

16 Whereas wee then are about to celebrate the purification, we haue written vnto you, and ye shall doe well, if yee keepe the same dayes.

17 Wee hope also that the God which deliuered all his people, and gaue an heritage to them all and the kingdome, and the priesthood, hood, and the Sanctuary,

Deut. 30. 5. 18 * As he promised in the Law, will shortly haue mercy vpon vs, and gather vs together from vnder the heauen into his holy place: for hee hath saued vs from great perils, and hath cleansed the place.

19 As concerning Judas Maccabeus & his brethren, the purification of the great Temple, and the dedication of the altar,

20 And the warres against Antiochus Epiphanes, and Eupator his sonne, 21 And the manifest signes that came from heauen vnto those, which manfully stood for the Iewes religion: (for though they were but few, yet they ran thorow whole countreyes, and pursued the barbarous armies, 22 And repayred the Temple that was renowmed thorowout al the world, and deliuered the cities, and established the Lawes, that were like to be abolished, because the Lord was mercifull vnto them with all lenitie.)

23 Wee will assay to abridge in one volume those things that Iason the Cyrenian hath declared in fiue bookes.

24 For considering the wonderfull number, and the difficultie that they haue that would be occupied in the rehearsall of stories, because of the diuersitie of the matters,

25 We haue endeuoured, that they that would read, might haue pleasure, and that they which are studious, might easily keepe them in memorie, and that whosoeuer read them, might haue profit.

26 Therefore to vs that haue taken in hand this great labour, it was no easie thing to make this abridgement, but required both sweat and watching.

27 Like as he that maketh a feast, & seeketh other mens commoditie, hath no small labour: so wee also for many mens sakes are very well content to vndertake this great labour.

28 Leauing to the author the exact diligence of euery particular, wee will labour to goe forward according to the prescript order of an abridgement.

29 For as hee that will build a new house, must prouide for the whole building, but he that setteth out the plat, or goeth about to paint it, seeketh but onely what is comely for the decking thereof:

30 Euen so I thinke for vs, that it appertaineth to the first writer of a storie to enter deepely into it, and to make mention of al things, and to be curious in euery part:

31 But it is permitted to him that will shorten it, to vse few words, & to auoid those things that are curious therein.

32 Here then will we begin the story, adding thus much to our former wordes, that it is but a foolish thing to abound in words before the storie, and to be short in the storie.

CHAP. III.

2 Of the honor done to the Temple by the kings of the Gentiles. 6 Simon vttereth what treasure is in the Temple. 7 Heliodorus is sent to take them away. 26 He is striken of God, and healed at the prayer of Onias.

VVHat time as the holy city was inhabited with al peace, and when the lawes were very well kept, because of the godlines of Onias the high Priest, and hatred of wickednesse,

2 It came to passe that euen the Kings did honour the place, and garnished the Temple with great gifts.

3 In so much that Seleucus king of Asia of his own rents, bare all the costs belonging to the seruice of the sacrifices.

4 But one Simon of the tribe of Beniamin being appointed ruler of the Temple, contended with the hie Priest concerning ‖ the iniquitie committed in the citie. ‖ Or, the state & prouision.

5 And when he could not ouercome Onias, hee gate him to Apollonius the sonne of Thraseas, which then was gouernour of Coelosyria, and Phenice,

6 And told him that the treasurie in Jerusalem was full of innumerable money, which did not belong to the prouision of the sacrifices, and that it were possible that these thinges might come into the kings hands.

7 Now when Apollonius came to the king, & had shewed him of the money, as it was told him, the king chose out Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commaundement, to bring him the foresayd money.

8 Immediatly Heliodorus tooke his iourney as though he would visite the cities of Coelosyria and Phenice, but in effect to fulfill the kings purpose.

9 So when hee came to Jerusalem, & was courteously receiued of the hie Priest into the citie, hee declared what was determined concerning the money, and shewed the cause of his comming, and asked if these things were so indeed.

10 Then the hie Priest told him that there were such things layed vp by the widowes & fatherlesse, 11 And that a certaine of it belonged vnto Hircanus the sonne of Tobias a noble man, and not as that wicked Simon had reported, and that in all, there were but foure hundreth talents of siluer, and two hundreth of gold, 12 And that it were altogether impossible to do this wrong to them that had committed it of trust to the holinesse of the place and Temple, which is honoured thorough the whole world for holinesse and integrity.

13 But Heliodorus because of the kings commandement giuen him, said that in any wise it must be brought into the kings treasurie.

14 So he appointed a day, & went in to take order for these things: then there was no small griefe throughout the whole citie.

15 For the Priests fel downe before the altar in the Priests garments, & called vnto heauen vpon him which had made a Law concerning things giuen to be kept, that they should be safely preserued for such as had committed them to be kept.

16 Then they that looked the hie Priest in the face, were wounded in their heart: for his countenance, and the changing of his colour declared the sorrow of his minde.

17 The man was so wrapped in feare and trembling of the body, that it was manifest to them that looked vpon him, what sorrow he had in his heart.

18 Others also came out of their houses by heapes vnto the common prayer, because the place was like to come vnto contempt.

19 And

19 And the women, girt with sackecloth vnder their brests, filled the streets, and the virgins that were kept in, ranne some to the gates, and some to the walles, and others looked out of the windowes.

20 And all held vp their hands toward heauen, and made prayer.

21 It was a lamentable thing to see the multitude that fell downe of all sorts, and the expectation of the hie Priest being in such anguish.

22 Therfore they called vpon the Almightie Lord, that he would keepe safe & sure the things, which were layed vp for those that had deliuered them.

23 Neuertheless, the thing that Heliodorus was determined to doe, that did he performe.

24 And as hee and his souldiers were now there present by the treasurie, he that is the Lord of the spirits, and of all power, shewed a great vision, so that all they which presumed to come with him, were astonished at the power of God, and fell into feare and trembling.

25 For there appeared vnto them an horse with a terrible man sitting vpon him, most richly barbed, and he ran fiercely and smote at Heliodorus with his forefeete, and it seemed that he that sate vpon the horse, had harnesse of gold.

26 Moreouer, there appeared two yong men, notable in strength, excellent in beautie, and comely in apparel, which stood by him on either side, and scourged him continually, and gaue him many sore stripes.

27 And Heliodorus fell suddenly vnto the ground, and was couered with great darknesse: but they that were with him, tooke him vp, and put him in a litter.

28 Thus he that came with so great companie, and many souldiers into the said treasurie, was borne out: for hee could not helpe himselfe with his weapons.

29 So they did know the power of God manifestly, but hee was dumbe by the power of God, and lay destitute of all hope and health.

30 And they praised the Lord that had honoured his owne place: for the Temple which a litle afore was full of feare and trouble, when the Almightie Lord appeared, was filled with ioy and gladnesse.

31 Then straightway certaine of Heliodorus friends, prayed Onias, that hee would call vpon the most High to grant him his life, which lay ready to giue vp the ghost.

32 So the high Priest, considering that the King might suspect that the Iewes had done Heliodorus some [a] euill, he offered a sacrifice for the health of the man.

a In working some trecherie or sorcerie against him.

33 Now when the high Priest had made his prayer, the same yong men in the same clothing appeared, and stood beside Heliodorus, saying, Giue Onias the high Priest great thankes: for, for his sake hath the Lord graunted thee thy life:

34 And seeing that thou hast beene scourged from heauen, declare vnto all men the mightie power of God: and when they had spoken these words, they appeared no more.

35 So Heliodorus offered vnto the Lord sacrifice, and made great vowes vnto him which had graunted him his life, and thanked Onias, and went againe with his hoste to the king.

36 Then testified hee vnto euery man of the great workes of God that he had seene with his eyes.

37 And when the king asked Heliodorus, who were meet to be sent yet once againe to Ierusalem, he said, 38 If thou hast any enemy, or traitour, send him thither, & thou shalt receiue him well scourged, if hee escape with his life: for in that place, no doubt, there is a special power of God.

39 For hee that dwelleth in heauen hath his eye on that place, and defendeth it, and he beateth and destroyeth them that come to hurt it.

40 This came to passe concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treasurie.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Simon reporteth euill of Onias. 7 Iason obtaineth the office of the hie Priest by corrupting the King, 27 and was by Menelaus d. frauded by like bribing. 34 Onias is slaine traiterously by Andronicus.

THis Simon now, of whom wee spake afore, being a bewrayer of the money, and of his owne natural countrey, reported euill of Onias, as though he had mooued Heliodorus vnto this, and had beene the inuenter of the euill.

2 Thus was he bold to call him a traitour, that was so beneficial to the city, and a defender of his nation, and so zealous of the Lawes.

3 But when his malice increased so far, that through one that belonged to Simon, murders were committed,

4 Onias considering the danger of this contention, and that Apollonius, as hee that was the gouernour of Coelosyria and Phenice, did rage, and increased Simons malice,

5 Hee went to the King not as an accuser of the citizens, but as one that intended the common wealth both priuately and publikely.

6 For hee saw it was not possible, except the King tooke order, to quiet the matters, and that Simon would not leaue off his folly.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus called Epiphanes, tooke the kingdome, Iason the brother of Onias laboured by vnlawfull meanes to be high Priest.

8 For he came vnto the King, and promised him three hundreth and threescore talents of siluer, and of another rent fourescore talents.

9 Besides this he promised him an hundred and fiftie, if hee might haue licence to set vp a place for exercise, and a place for the youth, and that they would ‖ name them of Ierusalem, Antiochians.

‖ Or, that he would write the Antiochians that were at Ierusalem among them.

10 The which thing when the king had granted, and hee had gotten the superioritie, hee began immediatly to draw his kinsmen to the customes of the Gentiles,

11 And abolished the friendly priuiledges of the kings, that the Iewes had set vp by Iohn the father of Eupolemus, which was sent ambassadour vnto Rome, to become friends and confederates: he put downe their lawes and policies, and brought vp new statutes, and contrarie to the Law.

‖ Or, huskins, in token of wantonnesse as the Gentiles did.

12 For hee presumed to build a place of exercise vnder the castle, and brought the chiefe yong men vnder his subiection, and made them weare ‖ hats.

13 So there beganne a great desire to follow the maners of the Gentiles, and they tooke vp the fashions of strange nations by the exceeding wickednesse of Jason, not the hie Priest, but the vngodly person, 14 So that the Priestes were now no more diligent about the seruice of the altar, but despised the Temple, and regarded not the sacrifices, but made haste to bee partakers of the wicked expenses at the play,[a] after the calling of the stone.

a This game was to trie strength by casting a stone that had an hole in the mids, or a piece of mettall.

15 For they did not set by the honour of their fathers, but liked the glory of the Gentiles best of all.

16 By reason whereof great calamitie came vpon them: for they had them to bee their enemies and punishers, whose customs they followed so earnestly, and desired to be like them in all things.

17 For it is not a light thing to transgresse against the Lawes of God, but the time following shall declare these things.

18 ¶ Now when the ‖ games that were vsed euery fift yeere, were played at Tyrus, the King being present,

19 This wicked Jason sent from Jerusalem men to looke vpon them, as though they had beene Antiochians, which brought three hundreth drachmes of siluer for a sacrifice to Hercules: albeit they that caried them, desired they might not be bestowed on the sacrifice, (because it was not comely) but to bee bestowed for other expenses.

20 So hee that sent them, sent them for the sacrifice of Hercules: but because of those that brought them, they were giuen to the making of gallies.

21 ¶ Now Apollonius the sonne of Menesthens was sent into Egypt because of the coronation of King Ptolemeus Philometor: but when Antiochus perceiued that he was euill affectioned toward his affaires, he sought his own assurance, and departed from thence to Joppe, and so came to Jerusalem, 22 Where hee was honourably receiued of Jason, and of the citie, and was brought in with torchlight, and with great shoutings, and so he went with his hoste vnto Phenice.

23 Three yeere afterward Jason sent Menelaus, the foresaid Simons brother, to beare the money vnto the King, and to bring to passe certaine necessarie affaires, whereof he had giuen him a memoriall.

24 But hee, being commended to the King, magnified him for the appearance of his power, and turned the Priesthood vnto himselfe: for he gaue three hundreth talents of siluer more then Jason.

25 So he gate the Kings ‖ letters patents, albeit he had nothing in himselfe worthy of the hie Priesthood, but bare the stomacke of a cruell tyrant, and the wrath of a wilde beast.

26 Then Jason which had deceiued his owne brother, being deceiued by another, was compelled to flee into the countrey of the Ammonites.

27 So Menelaus gate the dominion: but as for the money that hee had promised vnto the king, he tooke none order for it, albeit Sostratus the ruler of the castle required it.

28 For vnto him appertained the gathering of the customes: wherefore they were both called before the King.

b That is, of them that measured the corne.

30 ¶ Whiles these things were in doing, the Tharsians, and they of Mallot made insurrection, because they were giuen to the Kings concubine called Antiochis.

31 Then came the king in all haste to appease the businesse, leauing Andronicus a man of authoritie to be his lieutenant.

32 Now Menelaus, supposing that hee had gotten a conuenient time, stole certaine vessels of gold out of the Temple, and gaue certaine of them to Andronicus: and some hee sold at Tyrus and in the cities thereby.

33 Which when Onias knew of a suertie, he reproued him, and withdrew himselfe into a Sanctuarie at Daphne by Antiochia.

34 Wherefore Menelaus, taking Andronicus apart, prayed him to slay Onias: so when hee came to Onias, hee counselled him craftily, giuing him his right hand with an oath: (howbeit hee suspect him, and perswaded him to come out of the Sanctuarie) so hee slew him incontinently without any regard of righteousnesse.

35 For the which cause not onely the Jewes, but many other nations also were grieued, and tooke it heauily for the vnrighteous death of this man.

36 ¶ And when the King was come againe from the places about Cilicia, the Jewes that were in the citie, and certaine of the Greekes that abhorred the fact also, complained because Onias was slaine without cause.

37 Therefore Antiochus was sorie in his mind, and he had compassion, and wept because of the modestie and great discretion of him that was dead.

38 Wherefore being kindled with anger, hee tooke away Andronicus garment of purple, and rent his clothes, and commanded him to be led throughout the citie, and in the same place where hee had committed the wickednesse against Onias, hee was slaine as a murtherer. Thus the Lord rewarded him his punishment, as hee had deserued.

39 ¶ Now when Lysimachus had done many wicked deedes in the citie through the counsell of Menelaus, and the bruite was spread abroad, the multitude gathered them together against Lysimachus: for hee had carried out now much vessell of gold.

40 And when the people arose, and were full of anger, Lysimachus armed about three thousand, and began to vse vnlawfull power, a certaine tyrant being their captaine, who was no lesse decayed in wit then in age.

41 But when they vnderstood the purpose of Lysimachus, some gate stones, some great clubs, and some cast handfuls of dust which lay by, vpon Lysimachus men, and those that inuaded them.

42 Whereby many of them were wounded, some were slaine, and all the other chased away: but the wicked Churchrobber himselfe, they killed besides the treasurie.

43 For these causes an accusation was laide against against Menelaus.

44 And when the King came to Tyrus, three men sent from the Senate pleaded the cause before him.

45 But Menelaus being now convinced, promised to Ptolemeus the son of Dorimenes much money, if he would perswade the king.

46 So Ptolemeus went to the King into a court, whereas he was to coole himselfe, and turned the kings minde, 47 Insomuch that hee discharged Menelaus from the accusation (notwithstanding hee was the cause of all mischiefe) and condemned those poore men to death, which if they had told their cause, yea, before the Scythians, they should have been heard as innocent.

48 Thus were they soone punished uniustly, which followed upon the matter for the citie, and for the people, and for the holy vessels.

49 Wherefore they of Tyrus hated that wickednesse, and ministred all things liberally for their buriall.

50 And so through the couetousnesse of them that were in power, Menelaus remained in authoritie, increasing in malice, and declared himselfe a great traitor to the citizens.

CHAP. V.

1 Of the signes and tokens seen in Ierusalem. 6 Of the end and wickednes of Iason. 11 The pursuit of Antiochus against the Iewes. 15 The spoyling of the Temple. 27 Maccabeus fleeth into the wildernesse.

ABout the same time Antiochus undertooke his second voyage into Egypt.

2 And then were there seene throughout all the citie of Ierusalem fourty dayes long, horsemen running in the aire, with robes of Golde, and as bands of spearemen,

3 And as troupes of horsemen set in aray, incountring and coursing one against another with shaking of shields and multitude of darts, and drawing of swords and shooting of arrows, and the glittering of the golden armour seene, and harnesse of all sorts.

4 Therefore every man prayed, that those tokens might turne to good.

5 Nowe when there was gone foorth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had beene dead, Iason tooke at the least a thousand men, and came suddenly upon the city, and they that were upon the walles, being put backe, and the citie at length taken,

6 Menelaus fled into the castle, but Iason slew his owne citizens without mercie, not considering, that to have the aduantage against his kinsemen is greatest disaduantage, but thought that hee had gotten the victorie of his enemies, and not of his owne nation.

7 Yet hee gate not the superioritie, but at the last receiued shame for the reward of his treason, and went againe like a vagabond into the countrey of the Ammonites.

8 Finally he had this end of his wicked conuersation, that he was ‖ accused before Areta the king of the Arabians, and fled from citie to city, being pursued of every man, and hated as a forsaker of the Lawes, and was in abomination, as an enemie of his countrey and citizens, and was driuen into Egypt.

‖ Or, shut vp.

9 Thus he that had chased many out of their owne countrey, perished as a banished man, after that hee was gone to the Lacedemonians, thinking there to haue gotten succour by reason of kinred.

10 And hee that had cast many out vnburied, was throwne out himselfe, no man mourning for him, nor putting him in his graue: neither was hee partaker of his fathers sepulchre.

11 ¶ Now when these things that were done, were declared to the king, hee thought that Iudea would haue fallen from him: wherefore hee came with a furious minde out of Egypt, and tooke the citie by violence.

12 He commanded his men of warre also, that they should kill and not spare such as they met, and to slay such as went into their houses.

13 Thus was there a slaughter of yong men, and olde men, and a destruction of men and women and childzen, and virgins and infants were murthered:

14 So that within three dayes were slaine fourescore thousand, and fourtie thousand taken prisoners, and there were as many sold as were slaine.

15 Yet was hee not content with this, but durst goe into the most holy Temple of all the world, hauing Menelaus that traitour to the Lawes, and to his own countrey, to be his guide, 16 And with his wicked hands tooke the holy vessels, which other kings had giuen for the garnishing, glory, and honour of that place, and handled them with his wicked hands.

17 So hauty in his minde was Antiochus, that he considered not that God was not a little wroth for the sinnes of them that dwelt in the city, for the which such contempt came vpon that place.

18 For if they had not been wrapped in many sinnes, hee, alsoone as he had come, had suddenly been punished, and put backe from his presumption, as Heliodorus was, whom Seleucus the king sent to view the treasurie.

19 But God hath not chosen the nation for the places sake, but the place for the nations sake.

20 And therfore is the place become partaker of the peoples trouble, but afterward shall it bee partaker of the benefits of the Lord, and as it is now forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty, so when the great Lord shall be reconciled, it shall be set vp in great worship againe.

21 ¶ So when Antiochus had taken eighteene hundred talents out of the Temple, hee gate him to Antiochia in all haste, thinking in his pride to make men saile vpon the drie lande, and to walke vpon the sea: such an high minde had he.

22 But he left deputies to vexe the people: at Ierusalem Philip a Phrygian by birth, in maners more cruell then he that set him there:

23 And at Garizin Andronicus, and with them Menelaus, which was more grieuous to the citizens then the other, and was despitefull against the Iewes his citizens.

24 Hee sent also Apollonius a cruell prince, with an army of two and twenty thousand, whom he commanded to slay those that were towards mans age, and to sell the women, and the yonger sort.

25 So when he came to Ierusalem, he fained peace, and kept him still vntill the holy day of Sabbath: and then finding the Iewes keeping the feast, hee commanded his men to take their weapons.

26 And so hee slewe all them that were gone forth to the shewe, and running thorow the citie with his men armed, hee murthered a great number.

27 But Iudas Maccabeus, being as it were the tenth, fled into the wildernes, and liued there in the mountaines with his company among the beastes, and dwelling there, and eating grasse, lest they should be partakers of the filthinesse.

CHAP. VI.

1 The Iewes are compelled to leaue the Law of God. 4 The Temple is defiled. 10 The women cruelly punished. 28 The grieuous paine of Eleazarus.

NOt long after this, sent the King an old man of ‖Athens, for to compel the Iewes to transgresse the lawes of the fathers, and not to be gouerned by the Law of God,

‖ Or, Antiochia.

2 And to defile the Temple that was at Ierusalem, and to call it the Temple of Iupiter Olympius, & that of Garizin, according as they did that dwelt at that place, Iupiter that keepeth hospitality.

3 This wicked gouernement was sore and grieuous vnto the people.

4 For the temple was full of dissolution, and gluttony of the Gentiles, which dalied with harlots, and had to doe with women within the circuite of the holy places, and brought in such things as were not lawfull.

5 The altar also was full of such things, as were abominable and forbidden by the Law.

6 Neither was it lawfull to keepe the Sabbaths, nor to obserue their ancient feastes, nor plainely to confesse himselfe to be a Iew.

7 In the day of the Kings birth they were grieuously compelled perforce euery moneth to banquet, and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, they were constrained to goe in the procession of Bacchus with garlands of yuie.

8 Moreouer, through the counsell of Ptolemeus, there went out a commandement vnto the next cities of the heathen against the Iewes, that the like custome, and ‖ banqueting should be kept.

9 And who so would not conforme themselues to the maners of the Gentiles, should bee put to death: then might a man haue seene the present miserie.

10 For there were two women brought forth that had circumcised their sonnes, whom when they had led round about the city (the babes hanging at their breasts) they cast them down headlong ouer the walles.

11 Some that were runne together into dennes to keepe the Sabbath day secretly, were discouered vnto Philip, and were burnt together, because that for the reuerence of the honourable day they were afraide to helpe themselues.

12 ¶ Now I beseech those which reade this booke, that they be not discouraged for these calamities, but that they iudge these afflictions not to be for destruction, but for a chastening of our nation.

13 For it is a token of his great goodnesse, not to suffer sinners long to cõtinue, but straight wayes to punish them.

14 For the Lord doth not long wait for vs, as for other nations, whom he punisheth when they are come to the fulnesse of their sinnes.

15 But thus hee dealeth with vs, that our sinnes should not be heaped vp to the full, so that afterward he should punish vs.

16 And therefore hee neuer withdraweth his mercie from vs: and though hee punish with aduersitie, yet doeth he neuer forsake his people.

17 But let this bee spoken now for a warning vnto vs: and now will we come to the declaring of the matter in fewe wordes.

18 ¶ Eleazar then one of ỹ principal Scribes, an aged man, and of a wel fauoured countenance was constrained to open his mouth, and to eate swines flesh.

19 But hee desiring rather to die gloriously then to liue with hatred, offred himselfe willingly to the torment, and spit it out:

20 As they ought to goe to death which suffer punishment for such things, as it is not lawfull to taste of for the deare to liue.

21 But they that had the charge of this wicked banket, for that olde friendship of the man, tooke him aside priuily, and prayed him that hee would take such flesh, as was lawfull for him to vse, and as hee would prepare for himselfe, and dissemble as though hee had eaten of the things appointed by the King, euen the flesh of the sacrifice,

22 That in so doing hee might be deliuered from death, and that for the olde friendship that was among them, he would receiue this fauour.

23 But he began to consider discreetly, and as became his age, and the excellency of his ancient peeres, and the honour of his gray haires, whereunto he was come, and his most honest conuersation from his childhoode, but chiefly the holy Law made and giuen by God: therefore hee answered consequently, and willed them straightwayes to send him to the graue.

24 For it becommeth not our age, sayd he, to dissemble, whereby many yong persons might thinke that Eleazar being fourescore yeeres old and ten, were now gone to ‖ another religion.

‖ Or, to another maner of life.

25 And so through mine hipocrisie (for a litle time of a transitory life) they might bee deceiued by me, and I should procure malediction, and reproch to mine olde age.

26 For though I were now deliuered from the torments of men, yet could I not escape the hand of the Almighty, neither aliue nor dead.

27 Wherefore I will nowe change this life manfully, and will shewe my selfe such as mine age requireth, 28 And so will leaue a notable example for such as be young to die willingly, and couragiously for the honourable and holy Lawes. And when he had sayd these wordes, immediatly he went to torment.

29 Now they that led him, changed the loue which they bare him before, into hatred, because of the words that he had spoken: for they thought it had been a rage.

30 And as he was ready to giue the ghost because of the strokes, he sighed and sayd, The Lord that hath the holy knowledge, knoweth manifestly, that whereas I might haue beene deliuered from death, I am scourged, and suffer these these sore paines of my body: but in my mind I suffer them gladly for his religion.

31 Euen now after this maner ended hee his life, leauing his death for an example of a noble courage, and a memoriall of vertue, not onely vnto yong men, but vnto all his nation.

CHAP. VII.

The punishment of the seuen brethren and of their mother.

IT came to passe also that seuen brethren, with their mother, were taken to bee compelled by the king against the Lawe to taste swines flesh, and were tormented with scourges and whips.

2 But one of them which spake first, sayde thus, What seekest thou? and what wouldest thou know of vs? wee are ready to die rather then to transgresse the lawes of our fathers.

3 Then was the king angry, and commanded to heate pans and cauldrons, which were incontinently made hote.

4 And he commanded the tongue of him that spake first to bee cut out, and to slay him, and to cut off the vtmost parts of his body in the sight of his other brethren and his mother.

5 Now when hee was thus mangled in all his members, he commanded him to be brought aliue to the fire and to frie him in the pan: and while the smoke for a long time smoked out of the pan, the other brethren with their mother exhorted one another to die couragiously, saying in this maner,

6 The Lord God doth regard vs, & in deede
Deut.32.36. taketh pleasure in vs, as Moyses * declared in the song wherein hee testified openly, saying, That God will take pleasure in his seruants.

7 ¶ So when the first was dead after this maner, they brought the second to make him a mocking stocke: and when they had pulled the skinne with the haire ouer his head, they asked him if hee would eate, or he were punished in all the members of the body.

8 But hee answered in his owne language, and sayd, No. Wherefore hee was tormented forthwith like the first.

9 And when hee was at the last breath, hee sayd, Thou murtherer takest this present life from vs, but the King of the world will raise vs vp, which die for the Lawes, in the resurrection of euerlasting life,

10 ¶ After him was the third had in derision, and when they demaunded his tongue, hee put it out incontinently, and stretched forth his hands boldly,

11 And spake manfully, These haue I had from the heauen, but now for the Lawe of God I despise them, and trust that I shall receiue them of him againe.

12 Insomuch that the King and they which were with him, marueiled at the yong mans courage, as at one that nothing regarded the paines.

13 ¶ Now when he was dead also, they vexed and tormented the fourth in like maner.

14 And when hee was now ready to die, hee sayd thus, It is better that wee should change this which we might hope for of men, and waite for our hope from God, that wee may be raised vp againe by him: as for thee, thou shalt haue no resurrection to life.

15 ¶ Afterward they brought the fift also and tormented him,

16 Who looked vpon the King, and sayd, Thou hast power among men, and though thou bee a mortall man, thou doest what thou wilt: but thinke not that God hath forsaken our nation, 17 But abide a while, and thou shalt see his great power, how he will torment thee and thy seede.

18 After him also they brought the sixt, who being at the point of death, said, Deceiue not thy selfe foolishly: for wee suffer these things, which are worthy to be wondred at for our owne sakes, because we haue offended our God.

19 But thinke not thou, which vndertakest to fight against God, that thou shalt bee vnpunished.

20 But the mother was marueilous aboue all other, and worthy of honourable memorie: for when she saw her seuen sonnes slaine within the space of one day, she suffered it with a good will, because of the hope that she had in the Lord,

21 Yea, she exhorted euery one of them in her owne language, and being full of courage and wisedome, stirred vp her womanly affections, with a manly stomacke, and sayd vnto them,

22 I cannot tell howe yee came into my wombe: for I neither gaue you breath nor life: it is not I that set in order the members of your body,

23 But doubtlesse the Creator of the worlde, which formed the birth of man, and found out the beginning of all things, will also of his owne mercie giue you breath, and life againe, as yee now regard not your owne selues, for his lawes sake.

24 Now Antiochus thinking himselfe despised, and considering the iniurious wordes, while the youngest was yet aliue, he did exhort him not onely with wordes, but sware also vnto him by an othe that he would make him rich and wealthy, if he would forsake the lawes of his fathers, and that hee would take him as a friend, & giue him offices.

25 But when the yong man would in no case hearken vnto him, the King called his mother, and exhorted that shee would counsell the young man to saue his life.

26 And when he had exhorted her with many words, she promised him that shee would counsell her sonne.

27 So shee turned her vnto him, laughing the cruell tyrant to scorne, and spake in her owne language, O my sonne, haue pitie vpon mee, that bare thee nine moneths in my wombe, and gaue thee sucke three yeeres, and nourished thee, and tooke care for thee vnto this age, & brought thee vp.

28 I beseech thee, my sonne, looke vpon the heauen and the earth, and all that is therein, and consider that God made them of things that were not, and so was mankinde made likewise.

29 Feare not this hangman, but shew thy selfe worthy such brethren by suffering death, that I may receiue thee in mercie with thy brethren.

30 While she was yet speaking these words, the yong man sayd, Whom waite ye for? I will not obey the kings commandement: but I will obey the commandement of the Law that was giuen vnto our fathers by Moyses.

31 And

31 And thou that imaginest all mischiefe against the Hebrewes, shalt not escape the hand of God.

32 For wee suffer these things because of our sinnes.

33 But though the liuing Lord be angry with vs a little while for our chastening and correction, yet will he be reconciled with his own seruants.

34 But thou, O man without religion and most wicked of all men, lift not thy selfe vp in vaine, which art puffed vp with vncertaine hope, and liftest thine handes against the seruants of God.

35 For thou hast not yet escaped the iudgement of Almighty God, which seeth all things.

36 My brethren that haue suffered a little paine, are now vnder the diuine Couenant of euerlasting life: but thou through the iudgment of God, shalt suffer iust punishments for thy pride.

37 Therefore I, as my brethren haue done, offer my body and life for the Lawes of our fathers, beseeching God, that he will soone be mercifull vnto our nation, and that thou by torment and punishment mayest confesse, that he is the onely God, 38 And that in me and my brethren the wrath of the Almighty, which is righteously fallen vpon all our nation, may ceasse.

39 Then the king being kindled with anger, raged more cruelly against him then the others, and tooke it grieuously that he was mocked.

40 So he also died holily, and put his whole trust in the Lord.

41 Last of all after the sonnes, was the mother put to death.

42 Let this now bee enough spoken concerning the bankets, and extreme cruelties.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Judas gathereth together his hoste. 9 Nicanor is sent against Iudas. 16 Judas exhorteth his souldiers to constancie. 20 Nicanor is ouercome. 27 The Iewes giue thanks, after they haue put their enemies to flight, diuiding part of the spoiles vnto the fatherlesse & vnto the widowes. 30 Timotheus and Bacchides are discomfited. 35 Nicanor fleeth vnto Antiochus.

THen Judas Maccabeus, and they that were with him, went priuily into the townes, and called their kinsfolkes and friends together, and tooke vnto them all such as continued in the Iewes religion: and assembled fiue thousand men.

2 So they called vpon the Lord, that hee would haue an eye vnto his people, which was vexed of euery man, and haue pitie vpon the Temple that was defiled by wicked men,

3 And that hee would haue compassion vpon the citie that was destroyed, and almost brought to the ground, and that he would heare the voice of the blood that cried vnto him,

4 And that he would remember the wicked slaughter of the innocent children, and the blasphemies committed against his Name, and that he would shew his hatred against the wicked.

5 Now when Maccabeus had gathered this multitude, he could not be withstood by the heathen: for the wrath of the Lord was turned into mercy.

6 Therefore he came at vnawares, and burnt vp the townes and cities: yet he tooke the most commodious places, and slew many of the enemies.

7 But specially hee vsed the nights to make such assaults, in so much that the bruite of his manlinesse was spread euery where.

8 ¶ So when Philip saw that this man increased by litle and litle, and that things prospered with him for the most part, hee wrote vnto Ptolemeus the gouernour of Coelosyria and Phenice to helpe him in the kings businesse.

9 Then sent he speedily Nicanor the sonne of Patroclus, a speciall friend of his, and gaue him of all nations of the heathen no lesse then twenty thousand men, to roote out the whole generation of the Iewes, and ioyned with him Gorgias a captaine, which in matters of warre had great experience.

10 Nicanor ordeined also a tribute for ỳ king of two thousand talents, which the Romanes should haue, to be taken of the Iewes that were taken prisoners.

11 Therefore immediatly he sent to the cities on the sea coast, prouoking them to buy Iewes to be their seruants, promising to sell fourescore and ten for one talent: but he considered not the vengeance of Almighty God, that should come vpon him.

12 When Judas then knewe of Nicanors comming, he told them that were with him, of the comming of the armie.

13 Now were there some of them fearefull, which trusted not vnto the righteousnes of God, but fled away, and abode not in that place.

14 But the other solde all that they had left, and besought the Lord together to deliuer them from that wicked Nicanor, which had sold them, or euer he came neere them.

15 And though hee would not doe it for their sakes, yet for the couenant made with their fathers, and because they called vpon his holy and glorious Name.

16 And so Maccabeus called his men together, about fiue thousand, exhorting them not to bee afraide of their enemies, neither to feare the great multitude of the Gentiles, which came against them vnrighteously, but to fight manly,

17 Setting before their eyes the iniury that they had vniustly done to the holy place, and the cruelty done to the citie by derision, and the destruction of the orders established by their fathers.

18 For they, said hee, trust in their weapons and boldnesse: but our confidence is in the Almightie God, which at a becke can both destroy them that come against vs, and all the world.

19 Moreouer, hee admonished them of the helpe that God shewed vnto their fathers, as when there perished an hundreth and fourescore and fiue thousand vnder *Sennacherib, 2. King. 19. 35. isa. 37. 36. tob. 1. 18 ecclus. 48. 22 1 mac. 7. 41.

20 And of the battell that they had in Babylon against the Galatians, how they came in all to the battell eight thousand, with foure thousand Macedonians: and when the Macedonians were astonished, the eight thousand slew an hundreth and twenty thousand through the helpe that was giuen them from heauen, whereby they had receiued many benefites.

21 Thus when hee had made them bold with their words, and ready to die for the lawes and

and the countrey, he diuided his army into foure parts,

22 And made his owne brethren captaines ouer the army, to wit, Simon, and Ioseph, & Ionathan, giuing ech one fifteene hundreth men.

23 And when Eleazarus had read the holy booke, and giuen them a token of the helpe of God, Iudas which led the forward, ioyned with Nicanor,

24 And because the Almightie helped them, they slew aboue nine thousand men, and wounded and maimed the most part of Nicanors hoste, and so put all to flight, 25 And tooke the money from those that came to buy them, and pursued them farre: but lacking time, they returned.

26 For it was the day before the Sabbath, and therfore they would no longer pursue them.

27 So they tooke their weapons, and spoyled the enemies, and kept the Sabbath, giuing thankes, and praising the Lord wonderfully, which had deliuered them that day, and powred vpon them the beginning of his mercy.

Num. 31. 27. 1. sam. 30. 24

28 And after the Sabbath, *they distributed the spoyles to the sicke, and to the fatherlesse, and to the widowes, and diuided the residue among themselues and their children.

29 When this was done, and they all had made a generall prayer, they besought the mercifull Lord to bee reconciled at the length with his seruants.

30 Afterward with one consent they fell vpon Timotheus and Bacchides, and slew aboue twenty thousand, and wan high & strong holds, and diuided great spoyles, and gaue an equall portion vnto the sicke, and to the fatherlesse, and to the widowes, and to aged persons also.

31 Moreouer, they gathered their weapons together, and laide them vp diligently in conuenient places, and brought the remnant of the spoyles to Ierusalem.

32 They slew also Philarches a most wicked person which was with Timotheus, and had vexed the Iewes many wayes.

33 And when they kept the feast of Victorie in their countrey, they burnt Callisthenes that had set fire vpon the holy gates, which was fled into a little house: so he receiued a reward meet for his wickednesse.

34 And that most wicked Nicanor, which had brought a thousand merchants to buy the Iewes, 35 Hee was through the helpe of the Lord brought down: of them whom he thought as nothing, insomuch that he put off his glorious raiment, and fled ouerthwart the countrey like a fugitiue seruant, and came alone to Antiochia, with great dishonour through the destruction of his hoste.

36 Thus hee that promised to pay tribute to the Romanes, by meanes of the prisoners of Ierusalem, brought newes, that the Iewes had a ‖defender, and for this cause none could hurt the Iewes, because they followed the Lawes appointed by him.

‖Or, God their defender.

CHAP. IX.

1 Antiochus willing to spoyle Persepolis, is put to flight. 5 As he persecuteth the Iewes, he is striken of the Lord. 13 The fained repentance of Antiochus, 28 He dieth miserably.

AT the same time came Antiochus againe with dishonour, out of the countrey of Persia.

2 For when hee came to Persepolis, and went about to robbe the Temple, and to subdue the citie, the people ran in a rage to defend them selues with their weapons, and put them to flight, and Antiochus was put to flight by the inhabitants, and returned with shame.

3 Now when he came to Ecbatane, hee vnderstood the things that had come vnto Nicanor and Timotheus.

4 And then being chafed in his mme, hee thought to impute to the Iewes their fault, which had put him to flight, and therefore commaunded his charetman to driue continually, and to dispatch the iourney: for Gods iudgment compelled him: for he had said thus in his pride, I will make Ierusalem a common burying place of the Iewes, when I come thither.

5 But the Lord Almightie, and God of Israel, smote him with an incurable and inuisible plague: for assoone as hee had spoken these words, a paine of the bowels that was remediesse, came vpon him, and sore torments of the inner parts,

6 And that most iustly: for he had tormented other mens bowels with diuers and strange torments.

7 Howbeit hee would in no wise cease from his arrogancie, but swelled the more with pride, breathing out fire in his rage against the Iewes, and commaunded to haste the iourney: but it came to passe that he fell downe from the charet that ranne swiftly, so that all the members of his body were bruised with the great fall.

8 And thus he that a little afore thought hee might commaund the floods of the Sea (so proud was he beyond the condition of man) and to weigh the high mountaines in the balance, was now cast on the ground, and caried in an horselitter, declaring vnto all the manifest power of God.

9 *So that the wormes came out of the body of this wicked man in abundance: & whiles he was aliue, his flesh fell off for paine and torment: and all his armie was grieued at his ‖ smell.

Act. 12. 23.

10 Thus no man could beare because of his stinke, him that a little afore thought he might reach to the starres of heauen.

11 Then he began to leaue off his great pride, and selfewill when hee was plagued, and came to the knowledge of himselfe by the scourge of God, and by his paine which increased euery moment.

12 And when he himselfe might not abide his owne stinke, hee said these words, It is meete to bee subiect vnto God, and that a man which is mortall, should not thinke himselfe equall vnto God through pride.

13 This wicked person prayed also vnto the Lord, who would nowe haue no mercie on him, 14 And said thus, that he would set at libertie the holy citie vnto the which hee made haste to destroy it, and to make it a burying place.

15 And as touching the Iewes (whom hee had iudged not worthie to bee buried, but would haue cast them out with their children to be deuoured of the foules & wild beasts) hee would make them all like the citizens of Athens.

16 And wheras he had spoiled the holy Temple afore, hee would garnish it with great gifts, and increase the holy vessels, and of his owne rents beare the charges belonging to the sacrifices.

17 Yea, and that he would also become a Iew himselfe, and goe thorow all the world that was inhabited, and preach the power of God.

18 But for all this his paines would not cease: for the iust iudgement of God was come vpon him: therefore despairing of his health he wrote vnto the Iewes this letter vnder written, containing the forme of a supplication.

19 ¶ THE KING, and prince Antiochus vnto the Iewes his louing citizens, wisheth much ioy, and health and prosperitie.

20 If yee and your children fare well, and if all things goe after your minde, I giue great thankes vnto God hauing hope in the heauen.

21 Though I lie sicke, yet am I mindfull of your honour, and good will for the loue I beare you: therefore when I returned from the countrey of Persia, & fell into a sore disease, I thought it necessarie to care for the common safetie of al, 22 Not distrusting mine health, but hauing great hope to escape this sicknesse.

23 Therefore considering that when my father led an hoste against the high countreys, he appointed who should succeede him:

24 That if any controuersie happened contrarie to his expectation, or if that any tidings were brought that were grieuous, they in the land might knowe to whom the affaires were committed, that they should not be troubled.

25 Againe, when I ponder how that the gouernours, that are borderers and neighbours vnto my kingdome, waite for all occations, and looke but for opportunitie, I haue ordeined that my sonne Antiochus shall be King, whom I oft commended & committed to many of you, when I went into the high prouinces, and haue written vnto him as followeth hereafter.

26 Therefore, I pray you, and require you to remember the benefites that I haue done vnto you generally, and particularly, and that euery man will be faithfull to me and to my sonne.

27 For I trust that he will be gentle and louing vnto you according vnto my mind.

28 ¶ Thus the murtherer & blasphemer suffered most grieuously, and as hee had intreated other men, so hee died a miserable death in a strange countrey among the mountaines.

29 And Philip that was brought vp with him, carried away his body, who fearing the sonne of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolemens Philometor.

CHAP. X.

1 Iudas Maccabeus taketh the citie and the Temple. 10 The acts of Eupator. 16 The Iewes fight against the Idumeans. 24 Timotheus inuadeth Iudea, with whom Iudas ioyneth battell. 29 Fiue men appeare in the aire to the helpe of the Iewes. 37 Timotheus is slaine.

MAccabeus now and his companie, through the helpe of the Lord, wanne the Temple and the citie againe,

2 And destroyed the altars, & chappels that the heathen had builded in the open places,

3 And cleansed the Temple, and made another altar, and burned stones, and tooke fire of them, and offered sacrifices, and incense two yeeres, and fire moneths after, and set forth the lampes, and the shewbread.

4 When that was done, they fell downe flat vpon the ground, and besought the Lord, that they might come no more into such troubles: but if they sinned any more against him, that he himselfe would chasten them with mercy, and that they might not be deliuered to the blasphemous, and barbarous nations.

5 Now vpon the same day, that the strangers polluted the temple, on the very same day it was cleansed againe, euen the fiue and twentieth day of the same moneth which is ‖ Chaslen. ‖ Or, Nouember.

6 They kept eight dayes with gladnesse as in the feast of the Tabernacles, remembring, that not long afore they held the feast of the Tabernacles when they liued in the mountaines and dennes like beasts.

7 And for the same cause they bare greene boughes, and faire branches and palmes, and sang Psalmes vnto him that had giuen them good successe in cleansing his place.

8 They ordeined also by a common statute and decree, that euery yere those dayes should be kept of the whole nation of the Iewes.

9 And this was the end of Antiochus called Epiphanes.

10 ¶ Now will wee declare the acts of Antiochus Eupator, which was the sonne of this wicked man, gathering briefly the calamities of the warres that followed.

11 For when he had taken the kingdome, hee made one Lysias, which had beene captaine of the hoste in Phenice, and Coelosyria, ruler ouer the affaires of the Realmes.

12 For Ptolomeus that was called Macron, purposed to doe iustice vnto the Iewes for the wrong that had beene done vnto them, and went about to behaue himselfe peaceably with them.

13 For the which cause, hee was accused of his friendes before Eupator, and was called oft times traitour, because hee had left Cyprus that Philometor had committed vnto him, and came to Antiochus Epiphanes: therefore seeing that hee was no more in estimation, he was discouraged, and poysoned himselfe, and died.

14 ¶ But when Gorgias was gouernour of the same places, he entertained strangers, and made warre oft times against the Iewes.

15 Moreouer, the Idumeans that held the strong holds which were meete for their purpose, troubled the Iewes, and by receiuing them that were driuen from Ierusalem, tooke in hand to continue warre.

16 Then they that were with Maccabeus, made prayers, and besought God that he would bee their helper, and so they fell vpon the strong holds of the Idumeans, 17 And assaulted them sore, that they wanne the places, and slew al that fought against them on the wall, and killed all that they met with, and slew no lesse then twentie thousand.

18 And because certaine (which were no lesse then then nine thousand) were fled into two strong castels, hauing all maner of things conuenient to sustaine the siege, 19 Maccabeus left Simon, and Joseph, and Zaccheus also, and those that were with them, which were enow to besiege them, and departed to those places which were more necessary.

20 Now they that were with Simon, being led with couetousnes, were intreated for money (through certaine of those that were in ỳ castle) and tooke seuenty thousand [a] drachmes and let some of them escape.

a A drachme is the eight part of an ounce, which is about three pence.

21 But when it was told Maccabeus what was done, hee called the gouernours of the people together, & accused those men, that they had sold their brethren for money, and let their enemies goe.

22 So he slew them when they were conuict of treason, and immediatly wanne the two castles:

23 And hauing good successe, as in all the warres that he tooke in hand, he slew in the two castles moe then twenty thousand.

24 Now Timotheus whome the Iewes had ouercome afore, gathered an armie of strangers of all sorts, and brought a great troupe of horsemen out of Asia, to winne Jewrie by strength.

25 But when he drew neere, Maccabeus, and they that were with him, turned to pray vnto God, and sprinkled earth vpon their heads, and girded their reines with sackcloth, 26 And fell downe at the foote of the altar, and besought the Lord to bee mercifull to them, and to be an enemie to their enemies, and to be an aduersary to their aduersaries,* as the law declareth.

*Exod. 23. 20 Deut. 20. 4.

27 So after their prayer they took their weapons, and went on further from the citie, and when they came neere to the enemies, they tooke heed to themselues.

28 And when the morning appeared, they both ioyned together: the one part had the Lord for their refuge, and pledge of prosperitie, and noble victorie, and the other tooke courage as a guide of the warre.

29 But when the battel waxed strong, there appeared vnto the enemies from heauen fiue comely men vpon horses with bridles of golde, and two of them led the Iewes, 30 And tooke Maccabeus betwixt them, and couered him on euery side with their weapons, and kept him safe, but shot darts & lightnings against the enemies, so that they were confounded with blindnesse, and beaten downe and full of trouble.

31 There were slaine of foote men twentie thousand and fiue hundred, and fiue hundred horsemen.

32 As for Timotheus himselfe, hee fled vnto Gazara, which was called a very strong holde, wherein Chereas was captaine.

33 But Maccabeus and his company layde siege against the fortresses with courage for foure dayes.

34 And they that were within, trusting to the height of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and spake horrible words.

35 Neuertheless, vpon the ‖ fifth day in the morning, twentie young men of Maccabeus company, whose hearts were enflamed, because of the blasphemies, came vnto the wall, & with bold stomacks smote downe those that they met.

36 Others also that climed vp vpon the engines of warre against them that were within, set fire vpon the towers, and burnt those blasphemers quicke with the fires that they had made, and others brake vp the gates, and receiued the rest of the armie, and tooke the citie.

37 And hauing found Timotheus, that was crept into a caue, they killed him, and Chereas his brother with Apollophanes.

38 When this was done, they prayed the Lord with Psalmes and thankesgiuing, which had done so great things for Israel, and giuen them the victorie.

CHAP. XI.

1 Lysias goeth about to ouercome the Iewes. 8 Succour is sent from heauen vnto the Iewes. 16 The letter of Lysias vnto the Iewes. 20 The letter of king Antiochus vnto Lysias. 27 A letter of the same vnto the Iewes. 34 A letter of the Romanes to the Iewes.

VEry shortly after this, Lysias the Kinges steward, and a kinsman of his, which had the gouernance of the affaires, took sore displeasure for the things that were done.

2 And when he had gathered about fourescore thousand, with al the horsemen, he came against the Iewes, thinking to make the citie an habitation of the Gentiles.

3 And the Temple would he haue to get money by, like the other temples of the heathen: for he would sell the Priests office euery yeere.

4 And thus being puffed vp in his minde, because of the great number of footemen, and thousands of horsemen, and in his fourescore Elephants,

5 He came into Judea, and drew neere to Beth-sura, which was a castle of defence, fiue [a] furlongs from Jerusalem, and layed sore siege vnto it.

a Whereof eight make a mile.

6 But when Maccabeus and his company knew that hee besieged the holds, they, and all the people made prayers with weeping, & teares before the Lord, that he would send a good Angel to deliuer Israel.

7 And Maccabeus himselfe first of all tooke weapons, exhorting the other that they would ieopard themselues together with him to helpe their brethren: so they went forth together with a couragious mind.

8 And as they were there besides Jerusalem, there appeared before them vpon horsebacke a man in white clothing, shaking his harnesse of gold.

9 Then they prayed the mercifull God all together, and tooke heart, insomuch that they were ready, not only to fight with men, but with the most cruel beasts, and to breake down walls of yron.

10 Thus they marched forward in aray, hauing an helper from heauen: for the Lord was mercifull vnto them.

11 And running vpon their enemies like lyons, they slew eleuen thousand footemen, and sixteene hundreth horsemen, and put al the other to flight.

12 Many of them also being wounded, escaped naked, & Lysias himselfe fled away shamefully, fully and so escaped.

13 Who as he was a man of vnderstanding, considering what losse he had had, and knowing that the Hebrewes could not bee ouercome because the Almighty God helped them, sent vnto them,

14 And promised that hee would consent to all things which were reasonable, and perswade the king to be their friend.

15 Maccabeus agreed to Lysias requestes, hauing respect in all thinges to the commonwealth, and whatsoeuer Maccabeus wrote vnto Lysias concerning the Iewes, the king granted it.

16 For there were letters written vnto the Iewes from Lysias containing these wordes, LYSIAS vnto the people of the Iewes sendeth greeting,

‖Or, Absalon, or Absalom.

17 Iohn and ‖ Abessalom, which were sent from you, deliuered me the things that you demand by writing, and required me to fulfill the things that they had declared.

18 Therefore what things soeuer were meet to bee reported to the king himselfe, I haue declared them, and he granted that that was possible.

19 Therefore if yee behaue your selues as friends toward his affaires, hereafter also I will endeuour my selfe to doe you good.

20 As concerning these things, I haue giuen commandement to these men, & to those whom I sent vnto you, to commune with you of the same particularly.

21 Fare yee well, the hundred and eight and fortie yeere, the foure and twentieth day of the moneth Dioscorinthius.

22 ¶ Now the Kings letter conteined these wordes, KING ANTIOCHVS vnto his brother Lysias sendeth greeting.

23 Since our father is translated vnto the gods, our will is, that they which are in our Realme, liue quietly, that euery man may applie his owne affaires.

24 We vnderstand also that the Iewes would not consent to our father, for to be brought vnto the customs of the Gentiles, but would keepe their owne maner of liuing: for the which cause they require of vs, that we would suffer them to liue after their owne lawes.

25 Wherefore our minde is that this nation shall bee in rest, and haue determined to restore them their Temple, that they may be gouerned according to the customs of their fathers.

26 Thou shalt doe well therefore to send vnto them, and grant them peace, that when they are certified of our minde, they may be of good comfort, and cheerefully goe about their owne affaires.

27 And this was the Kings letter vnto the nation, KING ANTIOCHVS vnto the Elders of the Iewes, and to the rest of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

28 If ye fare well, we haue our desire: we are also in good health.

29 Menelaus declared vnto vs that your desire was to returne home, & to apply your owne businesse.

‖Or, April, some reade Xanticus, and some Zanticus.

30 Therefore, those that will depart, we giue them free liberty, vnto the thirty day of the moneth of ‖ Panthicus, 31 That the Iewes may vse their owne manner of liuing and lawes, like as afore, and none of them by any manner of wayes to haue harme for things done by ignorance.

32 I haue sent also Menelaus to comfort you.

33 Fare yee well: the hundreth and eight and fortie yeere, the fifteenth day of the moneth of Panthicus.

34 ¶ The Romanes also sent a letter conteining these words, QVINTVS MEMMIVS and Titus ‖ Manilius ambassadours of the Romanes, vnto the people of the Iewes send greeting.

‖Or, Manius.

35 The things that Lysias the kings kinseman hath granted you, we grant the same also.

36 But concerning that which he shal report vnto the king, send hither some with speed, whe yee haue considered the matter diligently, that wee may consult thereupon, as shall bee best for you: for we must goe vnto Antiochia.

37 And therefore make haste and send some men, that we may know your mind.

38 Farewell: this hundreth and eight and fortie yeere, the fifteenth day of the moneth of Panthicus.

CHAP. XII.

2 Timotheus troubleth the Iewes. 3 The wicked deed of them of Ioppe against the Iewes. 6 Iudas is auenged of them. 9 He setteth fire in the hauen of Iamnia. 20 The pursuit of the Iewes against Timotheus. 24 Timotheus is taken and let goe vnhurt. 32 Iudas pursueth Gorgias.

WHen these couenants were made, Lysias went vnto the king, and the Iewes tilled their ground.

2 But the gouernours of the places, as Timotheus, and Apollonius the sonne of Genneus, and Ieronymus, and also Demophon, and besides them Nicanor the gouernour of Cyprus, would not let them liue in rest and peace.

3 ¶ They of Ioppe also did such a vile act: they prayed the Iewes that dwelt among them, to goe with their wiues and children into the ships, which they had prepared as though they had ought them none euill will.

4 And so by the common aduice of the citie, they obeyed them, and suspected nothing: but when they were gone foorth into the deepe, they drowned no lesse then two hundreth of them.

5 Now when Iudas knew of this crueltie shewed against his nation, he commanded those men that were with him, to make them ready.

6 And hauing called vpon God the righteous Iudge, he went foorth against the murtherers of his brethren, and set fire in the hauen by night, and burnt the ships, and those that fled thence, he slew.

7 ¶ And when the citie was shut vp, hee departed as though hee would come againe, and roote out all them of the citie of Ioppe.

8 But when he perceiued that the Iamnites were minded to doe in like manner vnto the Iewes, which dwelt among them, 9 He came vpon the Iamnites by night, and set fire in the hauen with the nauie, so that the light of the fire was seene at Ierusalem, vpon a two hundreth and fortie furlongs.

10 Now when they were gone from thence nine furlonges, in their iourney toward Timotheus, about fiue thousand men of foote and and fiue hundreth horsemen of the Arabians set vpon him.

11 So the battel was sharpe, but it prospered with Iudas through the helpe of God: the [a] Nomades of Arabia, being ouercome, besought Iudas to make peace with them, and promised to giue him certaine ‖cattell, and to helpe him in other things.

a So called, because they were shepheards. ‖Or, pastures

12 And Iudas thinking that they should in deede bee profitable concerning many things, granted them peace: whereupon they shooke hands, and so they departed to their tents.

13 ¶ Iudas also assaulted a citie called Caspis, which was strong by reason of a bridge, and fenced round about with walles, and had diuers kinds of people dwelling therein.

14 So they that were within it, put such trust in the strength of the walles, and in store of victuals, that they were the slacker in their doings, reuiling them that were with Iudas, and reproching them: yea, they blasphemed and spake such words as were not lawfull.

15 But Maccabeus souldiers, calling vpon the great prince of the world (which without any ‖instruments, or engines of warre, did *cast downe the walles of Iericho, in the time of Iesus) gaue a fierce assault against the walles, ‖Or, battell rammes. *Iosh. 6.20.

16 And tooke the city by the will of God, and made an exceeding great slaughter, insomuch that a lake of two furlongs broad, which lay thereby, seemed to flow with blood.

17 ¶ Then departed they from thence, seuen hundreth and fiftie furlongs, and came to Characa vnto the Iewes, that are called Tubieni.

18 But they found not Timotheus there: for he was departed from thence, and had done nothing, and had left a garrison in a very strong holde.

19 But Dositheus, & Sosipater, which were captaines with Maccabeus, went forth, & slew those that Timotheus had left in the fortresse, more then ten thousand men.

20 And Maccabeus prepared, & ranged his army by bands, and went couragiously against Timotheus, which had with him an hundreth and twenty thousand men of foot, and two thousand and fiue hundreth horsemen.

21 When Timotheus had knowledge of Iudas comming, he sent the women, and children, and the other baggage afore vnto a fortresse called Carnion (for it was hard to beliege, and vneasie to come vnto because of the straights on all sides)

22 But when Iudas first band came in sight, the enemies were smitten with feare, & a trembling was among them through the presence of him that seeth all things, insomuch that they fleeing one here, another there, were oft times hurt by their owne people, and wounded with the points of their owne swords.

23 But Iudas was very earnest in pursuing, and slew those wicked men: yea, hee slew thirtie thousand men of them.

24 Timotheus also himselfe fell into the hands of Dositheus, and Sosipater, whom hee besought with much craft to let him go with his life, because he had many of the Iewes parents, and the brethren of some of them, which, if they put him to death, should be despised.

25 So when he had assured them with many words, and promised that he would restore them without hurt, they let him goe for the health of their brethren.

26 ¶ Then went Maccabeus toward Carnion, and Artagation, and slew fiue and twenty thousand persons.

27 And after that hee had chased away and slaine them, Iudas remooued the host toward Ephron a strong city, wherein was Lysias and a great multitude of all nations, and the strong yong men kept the walles, defending them mightily: there was also great preparation of engins of warre, and darts.

28 But when they had called vpon the Lord, which with his power breaketh the strength of the enemies, they wanne the citie, and slewe fiue and twentie thousand of them that were within.

29 ¶ From thence went they to Scythopolis, which lyeth fiue hundred furlongs from Ierusalem.

30 But when the Iewes that dwelt there, testified that the ‖Scythopolitans dealt louingly with them, and intreated them kindely in the time of their aduersitie,

‖ Or, Scythians.

31 They gaue them thankes, desiring them to be friendly still vnto them, and so they came to Ierusalem, as the feast of the weekes approched.

32 ¶ And after the feast called Pentecost, they went forth against Gorgias the gouernour of Idumea:

33 Who came out with three thousand men of foote, and foure hundreth horsemen.

34 And when they ioyned together, a few of the Iewes were slaine, 35 And Dositheus one of the Baccenors, which was on horseback and a mighty man, tooke Gorgias, and layd holde of his garment, and drew him by force, because hee would haue taken the wicked man aliue: but an horseman of Thracia fell vpon him, and smote off his shoulder, so that Gorgias fled into ‖Marisa.

‖ Or, Moresa, or, Maresa.

36 And when they that were ‖with Esdrin, had foughten long, and were weary, Iudas called vpon the Lord, that hee would shew himselfe to bee their helper, and Captaine of the field.

‖Or, with Gorgias.

37 And then he began in his owne language, and sung Psalmes with a lowd voyce, insomuch that straightwayes he made them that were about Gorgias, to take their flight.

38 ¶ So Iudas gathered his host, and came into the citie of Odolla. And when the seuenth day came, they cleansed themselues (as the custome was) and kept the Sabbath in the same place.

39 And vpon the day following, as necessitie required, Iudas and his company came to take vp the bodies of them that were slaine, and to bury them with their kinsemen in their fathers graues.

40 Now vnder the coates of euery one that was slaine, they found iewels that had bene consecrate to the idoles of the *Iamnites, which thing is forbidden the Iewes by the Law. Then euery man sawe that this was the cause wherefore they were slaine.

*Deut. 7.25, iosh. 7.1, 11,12.

41 And so euery man gaue thankes vnto the Lord, the righteous Iudge, which had opened the things that were hid.

42 And

42 And they gaue themselues to prayer, and besought him, that they should not vtterly be destroyed for the fault committed. Besides that, noble Iudas exhorted the people to keepe themselues from sinne, forasmuch as they sawe before their eyes the things which came to passe by the sinne of these that were slaine, 43 And hauing made a gathering throughout the company, sent to Ierusalem about two thousand drachmes of siluer, to offer a sinne offering, doing very wel and honestly, that he thought of the resurrection.

44 For if hee had not hoped that they which were slaine, should rise againe, it had bene superfluous, and vaine, to [a] pray for the dead.

45 And therefore he perceiued that there was great fauour layed vp for those that died godly. (It was an holy & good thought.) So he made a reconciliation for the dead that they might bee deliuered from sinne.

[a] From this verse to the end of this chapter, the Greeke text is corrupt, so that no good sense, much lesse certaine doctrine can be gathered thereby. Also, it is euident, that this place was not written by the holy Ghost, both because it dissenteth from the rest of the holy Scriptures, and also the authour of this booke acknowledging his owne infirmitie, desireth pardon, if hee haue not attained to that hee should. And it seemeth that this Iason the Cyrenian, out of whom he tooke this abridgement, is Ioseph Ben-gorion, who hath written in Ebrew fiue bookes of these matters, and intreating this place, maketh no mention of this prayer for the dead, Lib. 3. cap 19. For it is contrary to the custome of the Iewes, euen to this day, to pray for the dead. And though Iudas had so done, yet this particular example is not sufficient to establish a doctrine, no more then Zipporahs was to proue that women might minister the Sacraments, Exodus 4. 25. or the example of Razis, that one may kill himselfe, whom this authour so much commendeth, Chap. 14 41.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The comming of Eupator into Iudea. 4 The death of Menelaus. 10 Maccabeus going to fight against Eupator, moueth his souldiers vnto prayer. 15 He killeth fourteene thousand men in the tents of Antiochus. 21 Rhodocus the betrayer of the Iewes is taken.

IN the hundreth fourty and nine yeere, it was told Iudas that Antiochus Eupator was comming with a great power into Iudea,

2 And Lysias the steward and ruler of his affaires with him, hauing both in their army an hundreth and tenne thousand men of foot of the Grecians, and fiue thousand horsemen, and two and twenty Elephants, and three hundreth charets set with hookes.

3 Menelaus also ioyned himselfe with them, and with great deceit encouraged Antiochus, not for the safegard of the country, but because he thought to haue bene made the gouernour.

4 But the King of kings moued Antiochus minde against this wicked man, and Lysias informed the king that this man was the cause of all mischiefe, so that the King commaunded to bring him to Berea to put him vnto death as the maner was in that place.

5 Nowe there was in that place a tower of fiftie cubits high, full of ashes, and it had an instrument that turned round, and on euery side it rouled downe into the ashes:

6 And there whosoeuer was condemned of sacrilledge, or of any other grieuous crime, was cast of all men to the death.

7 And so it came to passe that this wicked man should die such a death, and it was a most iust thing that Menelaus should want buriall.

8 For because he had committed many sinnes by the altar, whose fire and ashes were holy: hee himselfe also died in the ashes.

9 ¶ Now the king raged in his minde, and came to shew himselfe more cruel vnto the Iewes then his father.

10 Which things when Iudas perceiued, he commaunded the people to call vpon the Lord night and day, that if euer hee had holpen them, he would now helpe them, when they should be put from their Law, from their countrey, and from the holy Temple:

11 And that hee would not suffer the people which a little afore began to recouer, to bee subdued vnto the blasphemous nations.

12 So when they had done this altogether, and besought the Lord for mercy with weeping and fasting, and falling downe three dayes together, Iudas exhorted them to make themselues ready.

13 And he being apart with the Elders, tooke counsell to goe forth, afore the king brought his hoste into Iudea, and should take the city, and commit the matter to the helpe of the Lord.

14 So committing the charge to the Lord of the world, hee exhorted his souldiers to fight manfully, euen vnto death for the Lawes, the Temple, the city, their countrey, and the common wealth, and camped by Modin.

15 And so giuing his souldiers for a watchword, The victory of God, hee picked out the manliest yong men, and went by night into the kings campe, and slewe of the hoste fourteene thousand men, and the greatest Elephant with all that sate vpon him.

16 Thus when they had brought a great feare, and trouble in the campe, and all things went prosperously with them, they departed.

17 This was done in the breake of the day, because the protection of the Lord did helpe them.

18 ¶ Nowe when the King had tasted the manlinesse of the Iewes, hee went about to take the holds by policie, 19 And marched toward Beth-sura, which was a strong holde of the Iewes: but hee was chased away, hurt, and lost of his men.

20 For Iudas had sent vnto them that were in it, such things as were necessary.

21 But Rhodocus which was in the Iewes hoste, disclosed the secrets to the enemies: therefore he was sought out, and when they had gotten him, they put him in prison.

22 After this did the King commune with them that were in Beth-sura, and ‖ tooke truce with them, departed, and ioyned battell with Iudas, who ouercame him.

‖ Or, gaue and took the right hand.

23 But when hee vnderstood, that Philip (whom he had left to be ouerseer of his businesse at Antiochia) did rebell against him, hee was astonished, so that hee yeelded himselfe to the Iewes, and made them an oth to doe all things that were right, and was appeased toward them, and offered Sacrifice and adorned the Temple, and shewed great gentlenesse to the place,

24 And embraced Maccabeus, & made him captaine and gouernour from Ptolemais vnto the Gerreneans, 25 Neuertheleſſe when hee came to Ptolemais, the people of the citie were not content with this agreement: and becauſe they were grieued, they would that he ſhould breake the conenants.

26 Then went Lyſias vp into the iudgement ſeate, and excuſed the fact aſwell as he could, and perſwaded them, and pacified them, and made them well affectioned, and came againe vnto Antiochia. This is the matter concerning the Kings iourney, and his returne.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Demetrius mooued by Alcimus ſendeth Nicanor to kill the Iewes. 18 Nicanor maketh a compact with the Iewes, 29 which he yet breaketh through the motion of the King. 37 Nicanor commandeth Razis to be taken, who ſlayeth himſelfe.

AFter three yeeres was Judas informed that Demetrius the ſonne of Seleucus was come vp with a great power and nauy by the hauen of Tripolis,

2 When hee had wonne the countrey, and ſlaine Antiochus and his lieutenant Lyſias.

3 Nowe Alcimus, which had beene the high Prieſt, and wilfully defiled himſelfe in the time that all things were confounded, ſeeing that by no meanes he could ſaue himſelfe, nor haue any more entrance to the holy Altar,

4 Hee came to King Demetrius in the hundreth fiftie and one yeere, preſenting vnto him a crowne of golde, & a palme, and of the boughes which were vſed ſolemnely in the Temple, and that day he held his tongue.

5 But when he had gotten opportunitie, and occaſion for his rage, Demetrius called him to counſell, and aſked him what deuiſes or counſels the Iewes leaned vnto.

6 To the which he anſwered, The Iewes that be called Aſideans, whoſe captaine is Judas Maccabeus, maintaine warres, and make inſurrections, and will not let the Realme be in peace.

7 Therefore I, being depriued of my fathers honour (I meane the hie Prieſthood) am now come hither, 8 Partly becauſe I was well affectioned vnto the Kings affaires, and ſecondly becauſe I ſought the profit of mine owne citizens: for all our people, through their raſhneſſe, are not a little troubled.

9 Wherefore, O King, ſeeing thou knoweſt all theſe things, make prouiſion for the countrey, and our nation which is abuſed, according to thine owne humanitie, that is readie to helpe all men.

10 For as long as Judas liueth, it is not poſſible that the matter ſhould be well.

11 When he had ſpoken theſe words, other friends alſo hauing euill will at Judas, ſet Demetrius on fire.

12 Who immediately called for Nicanor the ruler of the Elephants, and made him captaine ouer Judea, 13 And ſent him forth, commanding him to ſlay Judas, and to ſcatter them that were with him, and to make Alcimus hie prieſt of the great Temple.

14 Then the Heathen which fled out of Judea from Judas, came to Nicanor by flockes, thinking the harme and calamities of the Iewes to be their welfare.

15 Now when the Iewes heard of Nicanors comming, and the gathering together of the Heathen, they ſprinckled themſelues with earth, and prayed vnto him which had appointed himſelfe a people for euer, and did alwayes defend his owne portion with euident tokens.

16 So at the commandement of the captaine, they remoued ſtreightwayes from thence, and came to the towne of Deſſau, 17 Where Simon Judas brother had ioyned battell with Nicanor, and was ſomewhat aſtoniſhed through the ſodden ſilence of the enemies.

18 Neuertheleſſe Nicanor hearing the manlineſſe of them that were with Judas, and the bolde ſtomackes that they had for their countrey, durſt not proone the matter with bloodſhedding.

19 Wherefore he ſent Poſſidonius, ‖ Theodotus, and ‖ Matthias before to make peace. ‖ Or, Theodotus. ‖ Or, Mattathias.

20 So when they had taken long aduiſement therepon, and the captaine ſhewed it vnto the multitude, they were agreed in one minde, and conſented to the couenants.

21 And they appoynted a day when they ſhoulde particularly come together: ſo when the day was come, they ſet for euery man his ſtoole.

22 Neuertheleſſe Judas commaunded certaine men of armes to waite in conuenient places: leaſt there ſhould ſuddenly ariſe any euill through the enemies: and ſo they communed together of the things whereupon they had agreed.

23 Nicanor, while he abode at Jeruſalem, did none hurt, but ſent away the people that were gathered together.

24 Hee ‖ loued Judas, and fauoured him in his heart. ‖ Or, had Iudas before his eyes.

25 He prayed him alſo to take a wife, and to beget children: ſo he married, and they liued together.

26 But Alcimus perceiuing the loue that was betweene them, and vnderſtanding the conenants that were made, came to Demetrius, and tolde him, that Nicanor had taken ſtrange matters in hand, and ordeyned Judas a traitor to the Realme, to be his ſucceſſor.

27 Then the King was diſpleaſed, and by the reports of this wicked man, hee wrote to Nicanor, ſaying, that he was very angry for the couenants, commanding him that he ſhoulde ſend Maccabeus in all haſt priſoner vnto Antiochia.

28 When theſe things came to Nicanor, hee was aſtoniſhed and ſore grieued, that he ſhould breake the things wherein they had agreed, ſeeing that that man had committed no wickedneſſe.

29 But becauſe it was not commodious to him to withſtand the King, he ſought craftily to accompliſh it.

30 Notwithſtanding when Maccabeus perceiued that Nicanor beganne to be rough vnto him, and that hee intreated him more rudely then he was wont, he perceiued that ſuch rigour came not of good, and therefore hee gathered a few of his men, and withdrewe himſelfe from Nicanor.

31 But the other perceiuing that he was preuented by Maccabeus worthie policie, came into the great and holy Temple, and commanded the Priests, which were offering their vsuall sacrifices, to deliuer him the man.

32 And when they sware that they could not tell where the man was, which he sought, 33 He stretched out his right hand toward the Temple, and made an othe in this maner, If ye will not deliuer mee Iudas as a prisoner, I will make this Temple of God a plaine field, & will breake downe the altar, and will erect a notable temple vnto Bacchus.

34 After these wordes he departed: then the Priests lift vp their hands toward heauen, and besought him that was euer the defender of their nation, saying in this maner, 35 Thou, O Lord of all things, which hast need of nothing, wouldest that the Temple of thine habitation should be among vs.

36 Therefore now, O most holy Lord, keepe this house euer vndefiled, which lately was cleansed, and stoppe all the mouthes of the vnrighteous.

37 Nowe was there accused vnto Nicanor, Razis one of the Elders of Ierusalem, a louer of the citie, and a man of very good report, which for his loue was called a father of the Iewes.

38 For this man aforetimes when the Iewes were minded to keepe themselues vndefiled and pure, being accused to bee of the Religion of the Iewes, did offer to spend his body and life with all constancie for the Religion of the Iewes.

39 So Nicanor willing to declare the hatred that he bare to the Iewes, sent about fiue hundreth men of warre to take him.

40 For hee thought by taking him to doe the Iewes much hurt.

41 But when this companie woulde haue taken his castle, and would haue broken the gates by violence, & commanded to bring fire to burne the gates, so that hee was readie to be taken on euery side, he fell on his sword, 42 Willing rather to die manfully, then to giue himselfe into the handes of wicked men, and to suffer reproch vnworthie for his noble stocke.

43 Notwithstanding what time as he missed of his stroke for haste, and the multitude rushed in violently betweene the doores, he ranne boldly to the wall, and cast himselfe downe manfully among the multitude:

44 Which conueyed themselues lightly away, and gaue place, so that he fell vpon his bellie.

45 Neuertheless while there was yet breath in him, being kindled in his minde, he rose vp, & though his blood gushed out like a fountaine, and he was very sore wounded, yet he ranne thorow the mids of the people,

46 And gate him to the toppe of an hie rocke: so when his blood was vtterly gone, he tooke out his owne bowels with both his hands, & threw them vpon the people, calling vpon the Lord of life and Spirite, that he would restore them againe vnto him, and thus he died.

a As this priuate example ought not to bee followed of the godly because it is contrary to the words of God, although the authour seeme here to approoue it: so that place as touching prier, Chap. 12.44. though Iudas had appointed it, yet were it not sufficient to prooue a doctrine, because it is onely a particular example.

CHAP. XV.

1 Nicanor goeth about to come vpon Iudas on the Sabbath day. 5 The blasphemie of Nicanor. 14 Maccabeus expounding vnto the Iewes the vision encourageth them. 31 The prayer of Maccabeus. 30 Maccabeus commandeth Nicanors head & hands to be cut off, and his tongue to be giuen vnto the foules. 39 The authour excuseth himselfe.

NOw when Nicanor knewe that Iudas and his company were in the countrey of Samaria, he thought with all assurance to come vpon them, vpon the Sabbath day.

2 Neuertheless the Iewes that were compelled to goe with him, sayd, O kill not so cruelly and barbarously, but honour and sanctifie the day that is appointed by him that seeth all things.

3 But this most wicked person demaunded, Is there a Lord in heauen, that commanded the Sabbath day to be kept?

4 And when they sayde, There is a liuing Lord, which ruleth in the heauen, who commanded the seuenth day to be kept,

5 Then he sayd, And I am mightie vpon earth to commaund them for to arme themselues and to performe the Kings businesse. Notwithstanding he could not accomplish his wicked enterprise.

6 For Nicanor lifted vp with great pride, purposed to set vp a memorial of the victorie obtained of all them that were with Iudas.

7 But Maccabeus had euer sure confidence and a perfect hope that the Lord would helpe him,

8 And exhorted his people not to be afrayde at the comming of the heathen, but alway to remember the helpe that had beene shewed vnto them from heauen, and to trust nowe also that they shoulde haue the victorie by the Almightie.

9 Thus he encouraged them by the law and Prophets, putting them in remembrance of the battels that they had wonne afore, and so made them more willing,

10 And stirred vp their hearts, and shewed them also the deceitfulnesse of the heathen, and how they had broken their othes.

11 Thus hee armed euery one of them, not with the assurance of shieldes and speares, but with wholesome wordes and exhortations, and shewed them a dreame worthy to bee beleeued, and reioyced them greatly.

12 And this was his vision, He thought that he saw Onias, (which had bene the high Priest, a vertuous and a good man, reuerent in behauiour, and of sober conuersation, well spoken, and one that had bene exercised in all points of godlinesse from a childe) holding vp his hands toward heauen, and praying for the whole people of the Iewes.

13 ¶ After this there appeared vnto him another man which was aged, honourable, and of a wonderfull dignitie, and excellency aboue him.

14 And Onias spake and sayd, This is a louer of the brethren, who prayeth much for the people, and for the holy citie, to wit, Jeremias the Prophet of God.

15 He thought also that Jeremias held out his right hand, & gaue vnto Judas a sword of gold: and as he gaue it, he spake thus, 16 Take this holy sword a gift from God, wherewith thou shalt wounde the aduersaries.

17 And

and so being comforted by the wordes of [illegible] which were very sweet and able to stirre them vp to valiauntnes & to encourage the hearts of the yonng men, they determined to pitch no campe, but courageously to set vpon them, and manfully to assaile them, and to try the matter hand to hand, because the citie and the Sanctuarie and the Temple were in danger.

18 As for their wiues and children, and brethren, and kinsefolkes, they set lesse by their danger: but their greatest and principall feare was for the holy Temple.

19 Againe they that were in the citie, were carefull for the armie that was abroad.

20 Now whiles they all waited for the tryall of the matter, and the enemies now met with them, and the hoste was set in aray, & the ‖beasts were separated into conuenient places, and the horsemen were placed in the wings:

‖Or, Elephants.

21 Maccabeus considering the comming of the multitude, and the diuers preparations of weapons, and the fiercenesse of the beasts, held vp his hands toward heauen, calling vpon the Lord that doeth wonders, & that looked vpon them, knowing that the victorie commeth not by the weapons, but that hee giueth the victorie to them that are worthy, as seemeth good vnto him.

22 Therefore in his prayer he sayd after this maner, O Lord,* thou that didst send thine Angel in the time of Ezekias king of Iudea, who in the hoste of Sennacherib, slew an hundreth fourescore and fiue thousand,

*2. King. 19. 35. Isa 37. 36. Tob. 1. 18. Eccl. 48. 22.

23 Send now also thy good Angel before vs, O Lord of heauens, for a feare and dread vnto them, 24 And let them be discomfited by ỳ strength of thine arme, which come against thine holy people to blaspheme. Thus with these wordes he made an end.

25 Then Nicanor and they that were with him, drew neere with trumpets and shoutings for ioy.

26 But Iudas and his companie praying and calling vpon God, encountred with the enemies.

27 So that with their handes they fought, but with their hearts they prayed vnto God, and slew no lesse then fiue and thirtie thousand men, for through the presence of God they were wonderously comforted.

28 Now when they left off, and were turning againe with ioy, they vnderstood that Nicanor himselfe was slaine for all his armour.

29 Then they made a great shout and a cry, praysing the Almightie in their owne language.

30 Therefore Iudas which was euer the chiefe defender of his citizens both in body and mind, and which bare euer good affection towardes them of his nation, commanded to smite off Nicanors head, with his hand and shoulder, and to bring it to Ierusalem.

31 And when he came there, he called al them of his nation, and set the Priestes vp the altar, and sent for them of the castle, 32 And shewed them wicked Nicanors head, and the hand of that blasphemer, which hee had holden vp against the holy Temple of the Almightie, with proud bragges.

33 Hee caused the tongue also of wicked Nicanor to be cut in litle pieces, and to be cast vnto the foules, and that the rewards of his madnes should be hanged vp before the Temple.

34 So euery man prayed toward the heauen the glorious Lord, saying, Blessed be hee, that hath kept his place vndefiled.

35 Hee hanged also Nicanors head vpon the high castle, for an euident and plaine token vnto all of the help of God.

36 And so they established altogether by a common decree that they would in no case suffer this day without keeping it holy:

37 And that the feast should be the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is called Adar in the Syrians language, the day before Mardocheus day.

38 Thus farre as concerning Nicanors matters, and from that time the Hebrewes had the citie in possession. And here will I also make an end.

39 If I haue done well, and as the storie required, it is the thing that I desired: but if I haue spoken slenderly and barely, it is that I could.

40 For as it is hurtfull to drinke wine alone, and then againe water: and as wine tempered with water is pleasant and delighteth the taste: so the setting out of the matter delighteth the eares of them that read the storie. And heere shall be the end.

The end of the Apocrypha.

¶ The ſumme of the whole Scripture of the Bookes of the Old and New Teſtament.

GOD.

THE bookes of the olde Teſtament doe teach vs, that the ſame God, whom Adam, Noe, Abraham, Iſaac, Iacob, Dauid, and the other fathers did worſhip, is * the onely true God, and that hee the ſame is Almighty and [a] euerlaſting: who of his meere goodneſſe hath created by his Word [b] heauen and earth, and all that is in them: From whom all things doe come: without whom there is nothing at all: And that he is [c] iuſt and mercifull: who alſo [d] worketh all in all, [e] after his owne will: [f] To whom it is not lawfull to ſay, wherefore doth he thus or thus?

Creation of man. Sinne.

MOreouer, theſe Bookes teach vs, that this very God Almighty, after he created all things, ſhope alſo Adam the firſt man, [g] to the image and ſpirituall ſimilitude of himſelfe, and that he did conſtitute him Lord ouer all things that he had created in earth. Which Adam by the enuie and fraude of the deuill, tranſgreſſing the precept of his Creator, [h] by this his ſinne brought in ſuch and ſo great ſinne into the worlde, that we which be ſprong from him by the fleſh, [i] bee in nature the children of wrath, and thereupon we be made ſubiect and thrall to death, to damnation, to the yoke and tyranny of the deuill.

Chriſt promiſed.

FVrthermore, we are taught by theſe excellent bookes, that God promiſed to [k] Adam, [l] Abraham, [m] Iſaac, [n] Iacob, [o] Dauid, and to other Fathers of the olde time, that he would ſende that bleſſed ſeede, his ſonne Ieſus Chriſt our Sauiour, which ſhould deliuer all thoſe from ſinne, and from the [p] tyrannie of the deuill which by a liuely and working faith ſhould beleeue this promiſe, and put their truſt in Ieſus Chriſt, hoping that of him and by him, they ſhould obtaine this deliuerance.

The Law.

ALſo they giue vs to vnderſtand, that in the meane ſeaſon, while thoſe Fathers the Iſraelites looked for the ſaluation, and deliuerance promiſed (for that the nature of man is ſuch, ſo proud and ſo corrupt, that thoſe would not willingly acknowledge themſelues to bee ſinners, which had neede of the Sauiour promiſed) God the Creator gaue by Moſes his [q] Lawe written in two Tables of ſtone: that by it, ſinne & the malice of mans heart being [r] knowen, men might more vehemently thirſt for the [ſ] comming of Ieſus Chriſt, who ſhould redeeme and deliuer them from ſinne: which thing, neither the Lawe, nor yet the ſacrifices and oblations of the Law did [t] performe. For they were ſhadowes and figures of the true oblation of the body of Chriſt: by which oblation all [u] ſinne ſhould be blotted out, and quite put away.

BY the bookes of the new Teſtament we be taught, that Chriſt ſo afore promiſed (* which is God aboue all things moſt bleſſed for euer) euen he, I ſay, was ſhadowed in the bookes of the olde Teſtament, and in ſacrifices figured, that hee was [a] ſent at the laſt from the Father, the ſelfe ſame time which the Father did conſtitute within himſelfe: I ſay, [b] at that time when all wickednes abounded in the world, then hee was ſent: And this Ieſus our Sauiour being borne in the fleſh, [c] ſuffered death, and roſe againe from the dead. Which actes of his were not done by him in reſpect of the [d] good workes of any man (for we were all ſinners) but that this God our Father ſhould [e] appeare true, in exhibiting the abundant [f] riches of his grace which he promiſed, and that [g] through his mercie hee might bring vs to ſaluation.

Whereupon it is euidently ſhewed in the [h] Newe Teſtament, that Ieſus Chriſt, being the true [i] Lambe, the true [k] ſacrifice of the worlde, [l] putting away the ſinnes of men, came into this worlde to purchaſe grace and [m] peace for vs with the Father, [n] waſhing vs from our ſinnes in his owne blood, and [o] ſhould deliuer vs from the bondage of the deuill, whom by ſinne we did ſerue: And ſo we ſhould be [p] adopted by him to be the ſonnes of God, made [q] heires with him of that moſt excellent and euerlaſting kingdome.

The holy Ghoſt. Faith. Charitie. Hope.

Now that we ſhould acknowledge this ſingular and excellent benefit of God towards vs, almighty God [r] giueth vs his holy Spirit: the [ſ] fruit and effect of which, is faith in God, and in his Chriſt. For without the holy Ghoſt, by which we are inſtructed and [t] ſealed, neither can we beleeue that God the Father ſent Meſſias, nor yet that Ieſus is Chriſt: For [u] no man (ſaith Paul) can ſay that Ieſus is the Lord, but by the holy Ghoſt. The [x] ſame Spirit witneſſeth to our ſpirit, that we are the children of God, [y] and powreth into our bowels that Charitie which Paul deſcribeth to the Corinthians. Furthermore, that holy Spirit doth giue vs hope, which is a ſure looking for eternall life, whereof he himſelfe is the certaine [z] token and pledge. Alſo he giueth vs other * ſpirituall gifts, of the which Paul writeth to the Galatians. Therefore the benefit of faith is not to be deſpiſed or litle to be ſet by. For by the means of this truſt & [a] faith in Chriſt, which [b] worketh by charity, & ſheweth it ſelfe ſoorth by the works of charity, mouing man thereto, we are [c] iuſtified and ſanctified: that is to ſay, God and the Father of our Lord Iuſtification and ſanctification.

Iesus Christ (which is made our [d] Father also by him, being our [e] brother) doth accompt vs to bee iust and holy through his grace, and through the merite of his Sonne Iesus Christ, not [f] imputing our sinnes to vs, so farre forth, that we should suffer the paines of hell for them.

Finally, Christ himselfe [g] came into the world, to the intent that we through him being sanctified and cleansed from our sinnes, following his will in good workes, should denie the things pertaining to the flesh, and freely [h] serue him in righteousnesse and holinesse all the dayes of our life: and that [i] by good workes (which God hath prepared for vs to walke in) we should [k] shew our selues to bee called to his grace and gift of faith: which good works who so hath not, doth shew himselfe not to haue such a faith in Christ as is required in vs.

Good workes.

Christ our master and teacher.

To Christ must we come, and [l] follow him with a cheerefull minde, that he may teach vs: For hee is [m] our master, [n] lowly and humble of heart: he is to vs an [o] example, whereby we must learne the rule to liue well.

Bishop. Mediatour. Aduocate.

Moreouer, hee is our [p] Bishop, and our [q] high Priest, which did himselfe offer vp for vs his owne blood, being the onely [r] mediatour betweene God and men: Who now sitteth at the right hand of God the Father, being made our [s] aduocate, making prayer and intercession for vs: who doubtlesse shall obteine for vs [t] whatsoeuer we shall desire, either of him, or else of his Father in his Name, if so be that we thus desiring, shall beleeue that he will so doe: for thus hath he promised. Therefore let vs not doubt, if we sinne at any time, to come with [u] repentance (to the which hee doeth inuite and stirre vs at the very beginning of his preaching) and with sure trust to the [x] throne of his grace, with this beliefe, that wee shall obteine mercie. For therefore [y] hee came into the world, that hee might saue sinners by his grace.

Iudgement.

Eternall life.

Eternall fire.

THis is verily Christ Iesus, which shall come at a [z] certaine time appointed by his Father, and shall sit in great maiestie to [a] iudge all men, and to render to euery man [b] the workes of his body according to that he hath done, whether it be good or euill: And hee shall say to them which shall be on the right side, which in this world did looke for the good things to come (that is to say, life euerlasting:) [c] Come yee blessed of my Father, enioy the kingdome that hath beene prepared for you from the beginning of the world: but to them which shall bee on the left side, hee shall say, Depart from me yee cursed into euerlasting fire prepared for the deuill and his Angels. And then [d] shall the end be, when Christ hauing vtterly vanquished all maner of enemies, shall deliuer vp the kingdome to God the Father.

To what intent the Scriptures were written.

TO the intent that wee might vnderstand these things, the [e] sacred Bookes of the Bible were deliuered to vs by the goodnesse of God through his holy Spirit, with the preaching of that doctrine which is conteined in them, and with his Sacraments, by which the trueth of his doctrine is seal'd vp to vs: that we [f] might vnderstand, I say, and beleeue that there is one onely true God, and one Sauiour Iesus Christ, whom (as he had promised) he hath sent: [g] and that we beleeuing might haue in his Name life euerlasting.

Christ the onely foundation.

BEsides this [h] foundation, no man can lay any other in the Church of Christ: and vpon this foundation the Church doeth stand sure and stedfast. And Paul willeth him to bee [i] accursed which shall preach any other faith and saluation, then by Iesus Christ, yea, although hee were an Angel from heauen.

For [k] of him, through him, and for him, are all things: To whom with the Father and the holy Ghost, be all honour and glory, world without end, Amen.

¶ Certaine questions and answeres touching the doctrine of Predestination, the vse of Gods word and Sacraments.

Question.

WHy doe men so much vary in matters of religion?

Answere.

Because all haue not the like measure of knowledge, neither do all beleeue the Gospel of Christ.

Question.

What is the reason thereof?

Answere.

Because they onely beleeue the Gospel and doctrine of Christ, which are ordained vnto eternall life.

Question.

Are not all ordained vnto eternall life?

Answere.

Some are vessels of wrath ordained vnto destruction, as others are vessels of mercie prepared to glory.

Question.

How standeth it with Gods iustice, that some are appointed vnto damnation?

Answere.

Very well: because all men haue in themselues sinne, which deserueth no lesse: and therefore the mercy of God is wonderfull in that hee vouchsafeth to saue some of that sinful race, and to bring them to the knowledge of the trueth.

Question.

If Gods ordinance and determination must of necessitie take effect, then what need any man to care? for hee that liueth well, must needes be damned, if he be thereunto ordained: and he that liueth ill must needes be saued if he be thereunto appointed.

Answere.

Not so: for it is not possible, that either the elect should alwayes be without care to doe well, or that the reprobate should haue any will thereunto. For to haue either good will or good worke, it is a testimony of the Spirit of God, which is giuen to the elect onely, whereby faith is so wrought in them, that, being graft in Christ, they grow in holinesse to that glory, whereunto they are appointed. Neither are they so vaine as once to thinke that they may doe as they list themselues, because they are predestinate vnto saluation: but rather they endeuour to walke in such good workes as God in Christ Iesus hath ordained them vnto, and prepared for them to be occupied in, to their owne comfort, stay and assurance, and to his glory.

Question.

But how shall I know my selfe to bee one of those whom God hath ordained to life eternall?

Answere.

By the motions of spirituall life, which belong onely to the children of God: by the which that life is perceiued, euen as the life of this body is discerned by the sence and motions thereof.

Question.

What meane you by the motions of spirituall life?

Answere.

I meane remorse of conscience, ioyned with the lothing of sinne, and loue of righteousnes: the hand of faith reaching vnto life eternall in Christ, the conscience comforted in distresse, and raised vp to confidence in God by the worke of his Spirit: a thankefull remembrance of Gods benefits receiued, and the vsing of all aduersities as occasions of amendement sent from God.

Question.

Cannot such perish as at some time or other feele these motions within themselues?

Answere.

It is not possible that they should: for as Gods purpose is not changeable, so hee repenteth not of the gifts and graces of his adoption: neither doth he cast off those whom he hath once receiued.

Question.

Why then should we pray by the example of Dauid, that he cast vs not from his face, and that hee take not his holy Spirit from vs?

Answere.

In so praying we make protestation of the weakenesse of flesh, which moueth vs to doubt: yet should not we haue courage to aske, if wee were not assured that God will giue according to his purpose and promise that which we require.

Question.

Do the children of God feele the motions aforesayd alwayes alike?

Answere.

No truely: for God sometime to proue his, seemeth to leaue them in such sort, that the flesh ouermatcheth the spirit, whereof ariseth trouble of conscience for the time:

yet the spirit of adoption is neuer taken from them, that haue once receiued it: else might they perish. But as in many diseases of the body, the powers of bodily life are letted: So in some assaults these motions of spirituall life are not perceiued, because they lie hidden in our manifold infirmities, as the fire couerd with ashes. Yet as after sickneſſe commeth health, and after clouds the sunne shineth cleare: so the powers of the spirituall life wil more or lesse be felt and perceiued in the children of God.

Question.

What if I neuer feele these motions in my selfe, shall I despaire, and thinke my selfe a castaway?

Answere.

God forbid: for God calleth his at what time he seeth good: & the instruments wherby he vsually calleth, haue not the like effect at all times, yet it is not good to neglect the meanes whereby God hath determined to worke the saluation of his. For as wax is not melted without heat, nor clay hardened but by meanes thereof: so God vseth meanes both to draw those vnto himselfe, whom he hath appointed vnto saluation, and also to bewray the wickednesse of them whom hee iustly condemneth.

Question.

By what meanes vseth God to draw men to himselfe that they may be saued?

Answere.

By the preaching of his word and the ministring of his Sacraments thereunto annexed.

Question.

What meane you by the word of God?

Answere.

I meane the doctrine of the Prophets and Apostles which they receiued of the spirit of God, and haue left written in that Booke which we commonly call the Old and New Testament.

Question.

How may I be assured that it is the word of God, which that Booke conteineth?

Answere.

By the maiestie of God appearing in that plaine and simple doctrine: by the purenes, vprightnesse and holines thereof: by the certaintie of euery thing therein affirmed: by the successe of all things according to it: by perpetuall consent which is to be seene in euery part thereof: by the excellencie of the matters vttered: But especially by the testimony of Gods Spirit, whereby it was written, who moueth the hearts of those in whom it resteth, to consent vnto the worde, and reuerently to imbrace it.

Question.

How doth this word of God serue to draw men vnto him?

Answere.

When it is so preached and heard, that men may vnderstand and learne what God teacheth: accept and receiue thankfully that which is thereby giuen, promised & assured: and be moued with desire and diligence to doe that which it commandeth.

Question.

Doe the Sacraments also serue to this ende?

Answere.

Yea verely: that by sight, taste and feeling, as well as by hearing, we might be instructed, assured, and brought to obedience.

Question.

How doth our Baptisme serue hereunto?

Answere.

It teacheth vs to put on Christ, that with his righteousnesse our sinfulnes may be hidden: it assureth vs that we are so graft into Christ, that all our sinnes by him are washed away: it chargeth vs to die to sinne, to continue in the profession of Christ, and to loue each other.

Question.

Hath the Lords supper also this vse?

Answere.

Yea doubtlesse: for it teacheth, that the body and blood of Christ crucified, is the only food of the new borne children of God: it assureth that Christ is wholly theirs to giue and to continue life spirituall and heauenly to body and soule, to nourish, strengthen, refresh, & to make cheerefull the hearts of the elect: it requireth thankfull remembrance of the death of Christ, vnitie among those that doe professe him with a free confession of his trueth.

Question.

Why is not this vse of the Sacraments commonly knowen?

Answere.

Because they are abused for forme, for fashion, for custome and company, without regard vnto the word, whereunto they are so annexed, that they ought not vpon any necessitie, by any person bee seuered from it, which teacheth the right vse of euery thing.

Question.

I perceiue that nothing is more necessary then the word of God: therefore I pray you shew me how I may attaine to some knowledge and profit thereby.

Answere.

By diligent hearing of such as preach it, by continuall and orderly exercise of reading and praying.

Question.

What orderly exercise thinke you most conuenient to be vsed herein?

Answere.

Answere.

That as euery day, twise at the least, wee most commonly receiue foode to the nourishment of this corporall life: so no day bee let passe without some reading, in such sort that occasion thereby may bee taken to speake againe vnto God by prayer, as he in his word speaketh vnto vs: So that at the least two Chapters would bee orderly and aduisedly read euery day, all other businesse, impediments and lets set apart.

Question.

This seemeth very easie to be done: what thinke you else requisite?

Answere.

That some especiall places of Scripture be so committed to memorie, that the minde may euer be furnished with some good matter against all temptations. To which ende I note these Scriptures vnto you, whereunto you may ioyne other at your owne choise: Psalmes 139.37.50. Esa.53. Joh.17. Rom. 8.1. Tim.4.

Question.

But the Scriptures are hard, and not easie to vnderstand.

Answere.

Discourage not your selfe herewith: for God maketh them easie to such as in humilitie seeke him: and that hardnesse that you finde, serueth to moue you to the more diligence, and to make inquirie of such as haue knowledge, when any doubt ariseth. That which you perceiue not at one time, God shall reueile at another: So that you shall haue your growing in grace, knowledge and godlinesse, to Gods glorie and your owne comfort in Christ, whose Name for euer bee praised. Amen.

The holy [a] Gospel of Iesus Christ [b] according to Matthew.

a This word signifieth good tydings, and is taken here for the story which conteineth the ioyfull message of the comming of the sonne of God promised from the beginning.
b That is, written and taught by Matthew.

THE ARGVMENT.

IN this historie written by Matthew, Marke, Luke, & Iohn, the Spirit of God so gouerned their hearts, that although they were foure in number, yet in effect and purpose they so consent, as though the whole had bene composed by any one of them. And albeit in stile and maner of writing they be diuers, and sometime one writeth more largely that which the other doeth abridge: neuertheless in matter and argument, they all tend to one end: which is to publish to the world the fauour of God toward mankinde through Christ Iesus, whom the Father hath giuen as a pledge of his mercy and loue. And for this cause they entitle their story, Gospel, which signifieth good tydings, forasmuch as God hath performed in deed that which the fathers hoped for. So that hereby we are admonished to forsake the world, and the vanities thereof, and with most affectioned hearts embrace this incomparable treasure freely offred vnto vs: for there is no ioy nor consolation, nor peace nor quietnesse, no felicitie nor saluation, but in Iesus Christ, who is the very substance of this Gospel, & in whom all the promises are Yea, and Amen. And therefore vnder this word is contained the whole new Testament: but commonly we vse this name for the historie, which the foure Euangelists write, containing Christs comming in the flesh, his death, and resurrection, which is the perfect summe of our saluation. Matthew, Marke, and Luke are more copious in describing his life and death: but Iohn more laboureth to set forth his doctrine, wherin both Christs office, and also the vertue of his death and resurrection more fully appeare: for without this, to know that Christ was borne, dead, and risen againe, shou'd nothing profit vs. The which thing notwithstanding that the three first touch partly, as hee also sometime intermedleth the historicall narration, yet Iohn chiefly is occupied herein. And therefore as a most learned interpreter writeth, they describe, as it were, the body, and Iohn setteth before our eyes the soule. Wherefore the same aptly termeth the Gospel written by Iohn, the key which openeth the doore to the vnderstanding of the others: for whosoeuer doth know the office, vertue and power of Christ, shall read that which is written of the Sonne of God come to be the Redeemer of the world, with most profit. Now as concerning the writers of this historie, it is euident that Matthew was a Publicane or custome gatherer, & was thence chosen of Christ to be an Apostle. Marke is thought to haue beene Peters disciple, and to haue planted the first Church at Alexandria, where he died the eight yeere of the reigne of Nero. Luke was a Physition of Antiochia, and became Pauls disciple, and fellow in all his trauailes: he liued fourescore and foure yeeres, and was buried at Constantinople. Iohn was that Apostle whom the Lord loued, the sonne of Zebedeus, and brother of Iames: he died threescore yeere after Christ, and was buried neere to the citie of Ephesus.

1.Chro. 3.17,19. ezra 3.2. and 5.2.

*And Salathiel begate Zorobabel.

13 And Zorobabel begate Abiud. And Abiud begate Eliacim. And Eliacim begate Azor.

14 And Azor begate Sadoc. And Sadoc begate Achim. And Achim begate Eliud.

15 And Eliud begate Eleazar. And Eleazar begate Matthan. And Matthan begate Jacob.

16 And Jacob begate Joseph, the husband of Marie, [k] of whom was borne Jesus, that is called [l] Christ.

17 So all the generations from Abraham to David, are foureteene generations: and from David vntill they were caryed away into Babylon, foureteene generations: and after they were caried away into Babylon, vntill Christ, foureteene generations.

18 ¶ Now the birth of Jesus Christ was thus: [m] When as his mother Mary was *betrothed to Joseph, [n] before they came together, shee was found [o] with child of the holy Ghost.

19 Then Joseph her husband being a [o] iust man, and not willing to* make her a publike example, was minded to put her away secretly.

20 But whiles hee thought these things, behold, the Angel of the Lord appeared vnto him in a [p] dreame, saying, Joseph thou [q] sonne of Dauid, feare not to take Marie for thy wife: for that which is conceiued in her, is of the holy Ghost.

21 And shee shall bring forth a sonne, and thou shalt *call his name [r] Jesus: for he shall *saue his people from their sinnes.

22 And all this was done that it might bee fulfilled, which was spoken of the Lord by the Prophet, saying, 23 *Behold, a Virgine shall bee with child, and shall beare a sonne, and [s] they shall cal his name Emmanuel, which is by interpretation, [t] God with vs.

24 ¶ Then Joseph being raised from sleepe, did as the Angel of the Lord had inioyned him, and tooke his wife.

25 But knewe her not, till shee had brought forth her [u] first borne sonne, and hee called his name IESVS.

CHAP. II.

1 The time and place of Christs birth. 11 The wise men offer their presents. 14 Christ fleeth into Egypt. 16 The young children are slaine. 23 Ioseph turneth into Galilee.

WHen * Jesus was then borne at Beth-lehem in [a] Judea, in the dayes of Herode the King, behold, there came [b] Wisemen from the East to Jerusalem,

2 Saying, Where is the King of the Iewes that is borne? for wee haue seene his [c] starre in the East, and are come to [d] worship him.

3 When king Herode heard this, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.

4 And gathering together all the chiefe Priests and Scribes of the people, he asked of them, where Christ should be borne.

5 [e] And they sayde vnto him, At Beth-lehem in Judea: for so it is written by the Prophet,

6 *And thou Beth lehem in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come the gouernour that shall feede my people Israel.

7 Then Herode [f] priuily called the wisemen, and diligently inquired of them the time of the starre that appeared,

8 And sent them to Beth-lehem, saying, Goe, and search diligently for the babe: and when yee haue found him, bring mee word againe, that I may come also, and worship him.

9 ¶ So when they had heard the King, they departed: and loe, the [g] starre which they had seene in the East, went before them, till it came, and stoode ouer the place where the babe was.

10 And when they sawe the starre, they reioyced with an exceeding great ioy, 11 And went into the house, and ‖ found the babe with Mary his mother, and fell downe, and worshipped him, and opened their treasures, and presented vnto him giftes, euen [h] golde, and incense and myrrhe.

12 And after they were warned of God in a dreame, that they should [i] not go againe to Herode, they returned into their countrey another way.

13 ¶ After their departure, beholde, the Angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dreame, saying, Arise, and take the babe and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and bee there till I bring thee word: for Herode will seeke the babe, to destroy him.

14 So hee arose, and tooke the babe and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt, 15 And was there vnto the death of Herode, [k] that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken of the Lord by the * Prophet, saying, Out of Egypt haue I called my Sonne.

16 ¶ [l] Then Herode, seeing that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent foorth, and slew all the male children that were in Beth lehem, and in all the coastes thereof, from two yeere olde and vnder, according to the time which hee had diligently searched out of the wisemen.

13 ¶ *h Enter in at the ſtrait gate, for it is the wide gate, and broade c way that leadeth to destruction: and many there bee which goe in thereat.

14 Because the gate is streit, and the way narrow that leadeth vnto life, and few there be that find it.

15 ¶ Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheepes clothing, but inwardly they are rauening wolues.

16 Yee shall know them by their fruites. *Do men gather grapes of thornes? or figs of thistles?

17 So euery good tree bringeth forth good fruit, and a corrupt tree bringeth forth euill fruit.

18 A good tree cannot bring forth euill fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

19 *Euery tree that bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewen downe, and cast into the fire.

20 Therefore by their fruites yee shall know them.

21 ¶ Not euery one that sayth vnto mee, f Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdome of heauen, * but hee that doeth my Fathers will which is in heauen.

22 Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, haue wee not *by thy Name prophesied? and by thy Name cast out deuils, and by thy Name done many ‖great workes?

23 And then will I profesſe to them, h* I neuer knew you: *depart from me, yee that worke iniquitie.

24 Whosoeuer then heareth of me these wordes, * and doeth the same, I will liken him to a wise man, which hath builded his house on a rocke:

25 And the raine fell, & the floods came, and the windes blew, and beate vpon that house, and it fell not: for it was grounded on a rocke.

26 But whosoeuer heareth these my words, and doeth them not, shall be likened vnto a foolish man, which hath builded his house vpon the sand:

9 For I am a man also vnder the authority of another, and haue souldiers vnder me: and I say vnto one, Goe, and hee goeth: and to another, Come, and he commeth: and to my seruant, Doe this, and he doeth it.

10 When Iesus heard that, he marueiled, and said to them that followed him, Verely I say vnto you, I haue not found so great faith, euen in Israel.

3 Christ excuseth his disciples which pluck the eares of corne. 10 He healeth the dried hand. 22 Helpeth the possessed that was blind & dumbe. 31 Blasphemy. 34 The generation of vipers. 35 Of good words. 36 Of idle words. 38 Hee rebuketh the vnfaithfull that would needes haue tokens. 49 And sheweth who is his brother, sister, and mother.

AT* that time Iesus went on a Sabbath day through the corne, and his disciples were an hungred, and began to plucke the eares of corne and to eate.

2 And when the Pharises sawe it, they sayd vnto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which is not lawfull to doe vpon the Sabbath.

3 But hee sayd vnto them, * a Haue ye not read what Dauid did when hee was an hungred, and they that were with him?

4 How he entred into the house of God, and ate the shewe bread, which was not lawfull for him to eate, neyther for them which were with him, but onely for the * Priests?

5 Or haue yee not read in the Lawe how that on the Sabbath dayes the Priestes in the Temple * b breake the Sabbath, and are blamelesse?

6 But I say vnto you, that heere is one greater then the Temple.

7 Wherefore if ye know what this is, * I will haue mercy, and not sacrifice, yee would not haue condemned the innocents.

8 For the Sonne of man is c Lord, euen of the Sabbath.

9 * And hee departed thence, and went into their Synagogue.

10 And beholde, there was a man which had his hande dried vp. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawfull to heale vpon a Sabbath day? that they might accuse him.

11 And he sayd vnto them, What man shall there bee among you, that shall haue a sheepe, and if it fall on a Sabbath day into a pit, will hee not take it and lift it out?

12 How much more then is a man better then a sheepe? therefore it is lawfull to doe well on a Sabbath day.

13 Then sayde hee to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it forth, and it was made whole as the other.

14 Then the Pharises went out, & consulted against him how they might destroy him.

15 But when Iesus knew it, he departed thence, and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all,

16 And charged them that they should not make him knowen,

17 That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by Esaias the Prophet, saying, 18 * Beholde my seruant whom I haue chosen, my beloued in whom my soule delighteth: I will put my spirite on him, and he shall shew d iudgement to the Gentiles.

19 He shall not e strine, nor cry, neyther shal any man heare his voice in the streets.

20 A f bruised reede shall he not breake, and smoaking flaxe shall hee not quench, till hee bring forth iudgement g vnto victorie.

21 And in his Name shall the Gentiles trust.

22 ¶ * Then was brought to him one possessed with a deuill, both blinde and dumbe, and he healed him, so that he which was blind and dumbe, both spake and saw.

23 And all the people were amazed, and sayd, Is not this the Sonne of Dauid?

24 But when the Pharises heard it, they said, This man casteth the deuils no otherwise out, but through Beelzebub the prince of deuils.

42 * The Queene of the South shall rise in iudgement with this generation, and shal r condemne it: for she came from the vtmost partes of the earth to heare the wisdome of Solomon: and behold, a greater then Solomon is here.

43 ¶ * Nowe when the vncleane spirit is gone out of a man, hee walketh throughout ‖ drye places, seeking rest, and findeth none.

44 Then hee sayeth, I will returne into mine house, from whence I came: and when hee is come, hee findeth it empty, swept and garnished.

45 Then he goeth, and taketh vnto him s seuen other spirites worse then himselfe, and they enter in and dwell there: * and the end of that man is worse the the beginning. Euen so shall it be with this wicked generation.

46 ¶ * While hee yet spake to the multitude, beholde, his mother, and his t brethren stood without, desiring to speake with him.

47 Then one said vnto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speake with thee.

48 But he answered and said to him that told him, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren?

49 And hee stretched foorth his hand toward his disciples, & sayd, Behold my * mother and my brethren.

50 For whosoeuer shal do my fathers will which is in heauen, the same is my brother and sister and mother.

CHAP. XIII.

3 The state of the kingdome of God set forth by the parable of the seed. 24 Of the tares. 31 Of the mustard seed. 33 Of the leauen. 44 Of the treasure hid in the field. 45 Of the pearles, 47 And of the net. 57 The Prophet is contemned in his owne countrey.

THe * same day went Iesus out of the house, and sate by the sea side.

2 And * great multitudes resorted vnto him, so that hee went into a shippe, and sate downe: and the whole multitude stood on the shore.

3 Then he spake many things to them in parables, saying, Behold, a sower went forth to sowe.

4 And as he sowed, some fel by the wayes side, and the foules came and deuoured them vp.

5 And some fel vpon stony ground, where they had not much earth, & anon they sprung vp, because they had no depth of earth.

6 And when the sunne rose vp, they were parched, and for lacke of rooting withered away.

7 And some fell among thornes, and the thornes sprung vp and choked them.

8 Some againe fell in good ground, and brought forth fruite, one corne an hundreth folde, some sixtie folde, and another thirtie folde.

9 Hee that b hath eares to heare, let him heare.

10 ¶ Then the disciples came, and sayd to him, Why speakest thou to them in parables?

11 And he answered and said vnto them, Because it is giuen vnto you to know the secrets of the kingdom of heauen, but to them it is not c giuen.

12 * d For whosoeuer hath, to him shal be giuen, & he shall haue abundance: but whosoeuer hath not, from him shall bee taken away, euen e that he hath.

13 Therefore speake I to them in parables, because they seeing, doe not see: & hearing, they heare not, neither vnderstand.

Isa.6.9.mar.4.12.luk.8.10. ioh.12.40.acts 28.26.rom.11.8.

14 So in them is fulfilled the prophesie of Esaias, which prophesie sayth, * By hearing, ye shall heare, and shal not understand, and seeing yee shall see, and shall not perceiue.

f That which the prophet referreth to the secret counsell of God, is hereattributed to the hard stubbornesse of the people: for the one cannot bee separated from the other.

15 f For this peoples heart is waxed fat, and their eares are dul of hearing, and with their eyes haue they winked, least they should see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and should understand with their hearts, and should returne, that I might heale them.

16 But blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your eares, for they heare.

17 * For verely I say vnto you, that many Prophets and righteous men haue desired to see those things which yee see, and haue not seene them, and to heare those things which ye heare, and haue not heard them.

g To wit, the glory of the sonne of God, to acknowledge him their Sauiour.

Luke 10.24. Marke 4.15. luke 8.11.

18 ¶ * Heare yee therefore the parable of the sower.

19 Whensoeuer a man heareth the word of the kingdome, and vnderstandeth it not, the euill one commeth, and catcheth away that which was sowen in his heart: and this is hee which ‖ hath receiued the seede by the way side.

‖ Or, was sowen.

20 And hee that receiued seede in the stonie ground, is hee which heareth the worde, and incontinently with ioy receiueth it.

21 Yet hath he no roote in himselfe, and dureth but a season: for as soone as tribulation or persecution commeth because of the worde, by and by he is offended.

22 And he that receiueth the seed among thornes, is hee, that heareth the worde: but the care of this world, and the deceitfulnesse of riches choke the worde, and he is made vnfruitfull.

23 But he that receiueth the seede in the good ground, is he that heareth the word, & vnderstandeth it, which also beareth fruite, and bringeth forth some an hundreth fold, some sixtie fold, and some thirtie folde.

24 ¶ Another parable put he forth vnto them, saying, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a man which sowed good seede in his field.

h He teacheth that the good & the bad shall be mixt togethr in the Church, to the end that the faithfull may arme themselues with patience and constancie.

25 h But while men slept there came his enemie, and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.

26 And when the blade was sprung vp, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

27 Then came the seruants of the householder, and sayd vnto him, Master, sowedst thou not good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?

i Christ meaneth onely that the Church shall neuer be without some wicked men, although they bee neuer so sharply punished by such meanes as he hath left to purge his Church

28 And hee sayd to them, The enuious man hath done this. Then the seruants said vnto him, Wilt thou then that we goe and gather them vp?

29 But hee sayd, Nay, lest while yee goe about to gather the tares, yee plucke vp also with them the wheat.

30 i Let both grow together vntill the harueste, and in time of haruest I will say to the reapers, Gather yee first the tares, and bind them in sheaues to burne them; but gather the wheate into my barne.

31 ¶ * Another parable hee put forth vnto them, saying, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a graine of mustard seede, which a man taketh and soweth in his fielde:

Marke 4.30,31. luke 13.19.

32 Which indeed is the k least of all seeds: but when it is growen it is the greatest among herbes, and it is a tree, so that the birds of heauen come and build in the branches thereof.

k This teacheth vs not to be astonished at the small beginnings of the Gospel.

33 ¶ * Another parable spake he to them, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto leauen, which a woman taketh and hideth in three peckes of meale, l till all bee leauened.

Luke 13.21.

l By this he admonisheth them to waite till the fruit of the Gospel appeare.

34 ¶ * All these things spake Iesus vnto the multitude in parables, and without parables spake he not vnto them, Marke 4.33,34. Psal.78.2.

35 That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet, saying, * I will open my mouth in m parables, and will vtter the things which haue been kept secret from the foundation of the world.

m This word signifieth graue and sententious prouerbes, to the end that the doctrine might haue the more maiestie, and the wicked might thereby be confounded.

36 Then sent Iesus the multitude away, and went into the house. And his disciples came vnto him, saying, Declare vnto vs the parable of the tares of the field.

37 Then answered he, and sayd to them, He that soweth the good seed, is the Sonne of man,

38 And the fielde is the worlde, and the good seede, they are the children of the kingdome, and the tares are the children of the wicked, 39 And the enemie that soweth them, is the deuill, * and the haruest is the end of the world, and the reapers be the Angels.

Ioel.3.13. reue.14.15.

40 As then the tares are gathered and burned in the fire: so shall it be the ende of this world.

41 The Sonne of man shall send forth his Angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdome all things that n offend, and them which doe iniquitie, n The wicked which hurt others by their euill examples.

42 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire. There shall bee wailing and gnashing of teeth.

43 * Then shall the iust men shine as the Sunne in the kingdome of their Father. Hee that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

Dan.12.3. wisd.3.7.

44 ¶ Againe, the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a treasure hid in the field, which when a man hath found, hee hideth it, and for ioy thereof departeth, and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

45 ¶ Againe, the kingdome of heauen is like to a merchant man that seeketh good pearles, 46 Who hauing found a pearle of great price, went, and solde all that hee had, and bought it.

47 ¶ Againe, the kingdome of heauen is like o vnto a draw net cast into the sea, that gathereth of all kinds of things.

o It is a kind of net that gathereth in all things that come in the way.

48 Which, when it is full, men draw to land, and sit & gather the good into vessels, and cast the p bad away.

p The Greeke word signifieth rotten things.

49 So shall it be at the end of the world.

The

The Angels shall goe foorth, and seuer the bad from the iust, 50 And shal cast thē into a fornace of fire: there shalbe wailing, and gnashing of teeth.

51 ¶ Iesus sayd vnto them. Vnderstand yee all these things? They sayd vnto him, Yea, Lord.

52 Then sayd hee vnto them, Therefore euery q Scribe which is taught vnto the kingdome of heauen, is like vnto an housholder, which bringeth foorth out of his r treasure things both new and old.

53 ¶ And it came to passe that when Iesus had ended these parables, hee departed thence, 54 * And came into his owne countrey, and taught them in their Synagogue, so that they were astonied, and sayd, Whence commeth this wisedome and great workes vnto this man?

55 Is not this the carpenters sonne? is not his mother called Mary, * and his ‖ brethren Iames and Ioses, and Simon and Iudas?

56 And are not his sisters all with vs? Whence then hath he all these things?

57 And they were offended with him. Then Iesus said to them, * A prophet is not without honour, t saue in his own countrey, and in his owne house.

58 And hee did not many great workes there, for their vnbeliefes sake.

CHAP. XIIII.

2 Herods opinion concerning Christ. 10 Iohn is beheaded. 19 Christ feedeth fiue thousand men with fiue loaues & two fishes. 23 He prayes in the mountaine. 25 He appeareth by night vnto his disciples vpon the sea, 31 And saueth Peter. 33 They confesse him to be the sonne of God. 36 He healeth all that touched the hem of his garment.

AT * that time Herod the Tetrarch heard of the fame of Iesus,

2 And said vnto his seruants, This is Iohn Baptist: a he is risen againe from the dead, & therfore great b workes are wrought by him.

3 * For Herod had taken Iohn & bound him, & put him in prison for Herodias sake, his brother Philips wife.

4 For Iohn sayd vnto him, It is not * c lawfull for thee to haue her.

5 And when hee would haue put him to death, he feared the multitude, because they counted him as a * Prophet.

6 But when Herods birth day was kept, the daughter of Herodias daunced before them, and pleased Herod.

7 Whereforе he d promised with an oth, that he would giue her whatsoeuer she would aske.

8 And she being before instructed of her mother, sayd, Giue mee here Iohn Baptists head in a platter.

9 And the king was sory: nevertheless because of the othe, and them that sate with him at the table, hee commanded it to be giuen her,

10 And sent, and beheaded Iohn in the prison.

11 And his head was brought in a platter, and giuen to the maid, and she brought it vnto her mother.

12 And his disciples came, and tooke vp his ‖ body, and buried it, and went, and tolde Iesus.

13 * And when Iesus heard it, hee departed thence by ship into a e desert place apart. And when the multitude had heard it, they followed him afoote out of the cities.

14 And Iesus went foorth and sawe a great multitude, and was moued with compassion toward them, and hee healed their sicke.

15 ¶ And when euen was come, * his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the houre is already past: let the multitude depart, that they may go into the townes, and buy them victuals.

16 But Iesus sayde to them, They haue no f neede to goe away: giue yee them to eate.

17 Then sayd they vnto him, We haue here but fiue loaues, and two fishes.

18 And he said, Bring them hither to me.

19 And he commanded the multitude to sit downe on the grasse, and tooke the fiue loaues and the two fishes, and looked vp to heauen and ‖ blessed, and brake, and gaue the loaues to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

20 And they did all eate, and were satisfied, and they tooke vp of the fragments that remained, twelue baskets full.

21 And they that had eaten, were about fiue thousand men, beside women and little children.

22 ¶ And straightway Iesus g compelled his disciples to enter into a ship, and to goe ouer before him, while he sent the multitude away.

23 And afoone as hee had sent the multitude away, hee went vp into a mountaine alone to pray: * and when the euening was come, he was there alone.

24 And the ship was now in the middes of the sea, and was tossed with waues: for it was a contrary wind.

25 And in the h fourth watch of the night, Iesus went vnto them, walking on the sea.

26 And when his disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirit, and cryed out for feare.

27 But straightway Iesus spake vnto them, saying, i Be of good comfort. It is I: be not afraid.

28 Then Peter answered him, and sayd, Master, if it bee thou, k bid mee come vnto thee on the water.

29 And he said, Come. And when Peter was come downe out of the ship, he walked on the water, to goe to Iesus.

30 But when he saw a mighty wind, hee was afraid: and as he l begaune to sinke, he cried, saying, Master, saue me.

31 And immediatly Iesus stretched forth his hand, and caught him, and sayd to him, m O thou of little faith, wherefore diddest thou doubt?

CHAP. XV.

3 Christ excuseth his disciples, and rebuketh the Scribes and Pharises, for transgressing Gods commandement by their owne traditions. 13 The plant that shalbe rooted out. 18 What things defile a man. 22 He deliuereth the woman of Canaanees daughter. 26 The bread of the children. 30 He healeth the sicke, 36 And feedeth foure thousand men, besides women and children.

THen came to Iesus the Scribes and Pharises, which were at Ierusalem, saying,

2 *Why doe thy disciples transgresse the tradition of the Elders? for they [a] wash not their hands when they eate ‖ bread.

3 But he answered and said vnto them, Why doe ye also transgresse the commandement of God by your tradition?

4 * For God hath commaunded, saying, Honour thy father and mother: * and hee that curseth father or mother, let him die the death.

5 But ye say, Whosoeuer shall say to father or mother, [b] By the gift that is offered by me, thou mayest haue profit,

6 Though hee honour not his father, or his mother, shall be free: thus haue yee made the commandement of God of no authoritie by your tradition.

7 Ø hypocrites, Esaias prophecied well of you, saying,

8 * This people draweth neere vnto me with their mouth, and honoureth mee with the lippes, but their heart is farre off from mee.

9 But [c] in vaine they worship mee, teaching for doctrines mens precepts.

10 * Then hee called the multitude vnto him, and said vnto them, Heare and vnderstand.

11 That which goeth into the mouth, defileth not the man, but that which commeth out of the mouth, that defileth the man.

12 ¶ Then came his disciples, and said vnto him, Perceiuest thou not, that the Pharises are offended in hearing this saying?

13 But hee answered and said, * [d] Euery plant which mine heauenly Father hath not planted, shalbe rooted vp.

14 [e] Let them alone: they be the * blinde leaders of the blinde: and if the blinde leade the blinde, both shall fall into the ditch.

15 ¶ * Then answered Peter, and said to him, Declare vnto vs this parable.

16 Then said Iesus, Are yee yet without vnderstanding?

17 Perceiue yee not yet, that whatsoeuer entreth into the mouth, goeth into the belly, and is cast into the draught?

18 But those thinges which proceed out of the mouth, come from the heart, and they defile the man.

19 For out of the heart * come euill [f] thoughts, murthers, adulteries, fornications, theftes, false testimonies, slanders.

20 These are the things which defile the man: but to eat with vnwashen handes, defileth not the man.

21 * And Iesus went thence, and departed into the coastes of Tyrus and Sidon.

22 And beholde, a woman a Canaanite came out of the same coastes, and cryed saying vnto him, Haue mercy on mee, Ø Lord, the sonne of Dauid: my daughter is miserably vexed with a deuill.

23 But hee answered her not a worde. Then came to him his disciples, & besought him, saying, [g] Send her away, for she cryeth after vs.

24 But he answered, and said, I am not sent, but vnto the * lost sheepe of the house of Israel.

25 Yet shee came, and worshipped him, saying, Lord helpe me.

26 And he answered, and said, Is it not good to take the childrens bread, and to cast it to [h] whelpes.

27 But she said, Trueth, Lord: yet indeed the whelpes eat of the crummes, which fall from their maisters table.

28 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto her, Ø woman, great is thy [i] faith: be it to thee, as thou desirest. And her daughter was made whole at that houre.

29 ¶ So Iesus * went away from thence, and came neere vnto the sea of Galile, and went vp into a mountaine and sate downe there.

30 And great multitudes came vnto him, * hauing with them halte, blinde, dumbe, maimed, and many other, and cast them downe at Iesus feete, and hee healed them, 31 Insomuch that the multitude wondered, to see the dumbe speake, the maimed whole, the halt to goe, and the blinde to see: and they glorified the God of Israel.

32 * Then Iesus called his disciples vnto him, and said, [k] I haue compassion on this multitude, because they haue continued with me already three dayes, and haue nothing to eate: and I will not let them depart fasting, lest they faint in the way.

33 And his disciples sayde vnto him, Whence should we get so much bread in the wildernesse, as should suffice so great a multitude?

34 And Iesus said vnto them, How many loaues haue yee? and they said, Seuen, and a few little fishes.

35 Then he commanded the multitude to sit downe on the ground,

36 And tooke the seuen loaues, and the fishes, and gaue thanks, and brake them, and gaue to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

8 But Iesus e knowing it, sayde vnto them, O yee of little faith, why thinke you thus in your selues, because yee haue brought no bread?

9 Doe yee not yet perceiue, neither remember the fiue loaues, when there were * fiue thousand men, and how many baskets tooke yee vp?

10 Neither the seuen loaues when there were * foure thousand men, and howe many baskets tooke yee vp?

11 Why perceiue yee not, that I said not vnto you concerning bread, that yee should beware of the leauen of the Pharises and Sadducees?

12 Then vnderstoode they that hee had not said, that they should beware of the leauen of bread, but of the f doctrine of the Pharises, and Sadducees.

13 ¶ * Now when Iesus came into the coastes of Cesarea Philippi, hee asked his disciples, saying, Whome doe men say that I the Sonne of man am?

14 And they said, Some say, Iohn Baptist: and some, Elias: and others, Jeremias, or one of the Prophets.

15 Hee said vnto them, But whom say yee that I am?

16 Then Simon Peter answered, and said, * Thou art the Christ, the Sonne of the liuing God.

17 And Iesus answered, and said to him, Blessed art thou, Simon the sonne of Jonas: for g flesh and blood hath not reuealed it vnto thee, but my Father which is in heauen.

18 And I say also vnto thee, that thou art * Peter, and vpon h this rocke I will build my Church: and the i gates of hell shall not ouercome it.

19 k And I * will giue vnto thee the keyes of the kingdome of heauen, and whatsoeuer thou shalt l binde vpon earth, shall be bound in heauen: and whatsoeuer thou shalt ‖ loose on earth shalbe loosed in heauen.

20 Then hee charged his disciples, that they should m tell no man that he was Iesus the Christ.

21 ¶ n From that time forth Iesus began to shew vnto his disciples, that he must go vnto Ierusalem, and suffer many things of the Elders, and of the hie Priestes and Scribes, and be slaine, and rise againe the third day.

22 Then Peter tooke him aside, and began to rebuke him, saying, Master, pitie thy selfe: this shall not be vnto thee.

23 Then hee turned backe and said vnto Peter, Get thee behind me, o Satan: thou art an offence vnto me, because thou vnderstandest not the things that are of God, but the things that are of men.

24 Iesus then said vnto his disciples, * If any man will follow mee, let him forsake himselfe, and take vp his crosse and follow me.

25 For * whosoeuer will p saue his life, shal lose it: and whosoeuer shal lose his life for my sake, shall find it.

26 * For what shall it profit a man, though he should win the whole world, if he lose his owne soule? or what shall a man giue for recompense of his soule?

27 For the Sonne of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his Angels, and * then shall hee giue to euery man according to his deedes.

2 And was [a] transfigured before them: and his face did shine as the Sunne, and his clothes were as white as the light.
3 And behold, there appeared [b] vnto them Moses and Elias, talking with him.
4 Then answered Peter, and said to Iesus, Master, it is [c] good for vs to be here: if thou wilt, let vs make here three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.
5 While hee yet spake, behold, a bright cloud shadowed them: and behold, there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, [*] This is my beloued Sonne, [d] in whome I am wel pleased: [e] heare him.
6 And when [f] the disciples heard that, they [f] fell on their faces, and were sore afraid.
7 Then Iesus came and touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraide.
8 And when they lifted vp their eyes, they saw no man saue Iesus onely.
9 ¶ And as they came downe from the mountaine, Iesus charged them, saying, Shewe the vision to no man, [g] vntill the Sonne of man rise againe from the dead.
10 [] And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the Scribes that [] Elias must first come?
11 And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Certainely Elias must first come, and restore all things.
12 But I say vnto you, that Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but haue done vnto him whatsoeuer they would: likewise shall also the Sonne of man suffer of them.
13 Then the disciples perceiued that hee spake vnto them of Iohn Baptist.
14 ¶ [*] And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a certain man and kneeled downe to him,
15 And said, Master, haue pitie on my sonne: for hee is lunatike, and is sore vexed: for oft times hee falleth into the fire, and oft times into the water.
16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not heale him.
17 Then Iesus answered and said, [h] O generation faithlesse and crooked, how long now shal I be with you? how long now shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me.
18 And Iesus rebuked the deuill, and he went out of him, and the child was healed at that houre.
19 Then came the disciples to Iesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out?
20 And Iesus said vnto them, Because of your vnbelefe: for [*] verily I say vnto you, if yee haue faith as much as is a graine of mustard seede, ye shall say vnto this mountaine, [i] Remoue hence to yonder place, and it shal remoue: and nothing shalbe vnpossible vnto you.
21 Howbeit this kind goeth not out, but by [k] prayer and fasting.
22 ¶ And as [||] they abode [*] in Galile, Iesus said vnto them, The sonne of man shall be deliuered into the hands of men,
23 And they shall kill him, but the third day shall he rise againe: and they were very sorie.
24 ¶ And when they were come to Capernaum, they that receiued [l] polle money, came to Peter, and sayde, Doeth not your Master pay tribute?
25 He said, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Iesus preuented him, saying, What thinke it thou, Simon? Of whom doe the kings of the earth take tribute, or polle money? of their children, or of strangers?
26 Peter said vnto him, Of strangers. Then said Iesus vnto him, Then are the children free.
27 Neuertheless, lest we should [m] offend them, go to the sea, and cast in an angle, and take the first fish that commeth vp, and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt finde a [n] piece of twentie pence: that take, and giue it vnto them for me and thee.

3 And hee went out about the b thirde houre, and sawe other standing idle in the market place,

4 And sayd vnto them, Goe yee also into my vineyard, and whatsoeuer is right, I will giue you: and they went their way.

5 Againe he went out about the sixt and ninth houre, and did likewise.

6 And hee went about the eleuenth houre, and found other standing idle, and said vnto them, Why stand yee here all the day idle?

7 They sayd vnto him, Because no man hath hired vs. He sayd to them, Goe ye also into my vineyard, and whatsoeuer is right, that shall ye receiue.

8 ¶ And when euen was come, the Master of the vineyard sayd vnto his steward, Call the labourers, and giue them their hire, beginning at the last, till thou come to the first.

9 And they which were hired about the eleuenth houre, came and receiued euery man a penie.

10 Now when the first came, they supposed that they should receiue more, but they likewise receiued euery man a peny.

11 And when they had receiued it, they murmured against the master of the house, 13 And he answered one of them, saying, ‖ Friend, I doe thee no wrong: diddest thou not agree with me for a peny?

18 Behold, we goe vp to Ierusalem, and the Sonne of man shalbe deliuered vnto the chiefe Priests, and vnto the Scribes, and they shall condemne him to death,

John 18.32. 19 And * shal deliuer him to the Gentiles to mocke and to scourge, and to crucifie him: but the third day he shall rise againe.

Marke 10.35. 20 * Then came to him the mother of Zebedeus children with her sonnes, worshipping him, and desiring a certaine thing of him.

21 And he sayd vnto her, What wouldest thou? Shee sayd to him, Graunt that these my two sonnes may sit, the one at thy right hand, and the other at thy left hand in thy kingdome.

e He setteth the crosse before their eyes to draw them from ambition, calling it a cup, to signifie the measure of the afflictions, which God hath ordeined for euery man: the which thing also he calleth baptisme.

22 And Iesus answered, and sayd, Yee knowe not what yee aske. Are yee able to drinke of the e cup that I shal drinke of, and to be baptized with the baptisme that I shall be baptized with? They sayd to him, Wee are able.

23 And he said vnto them, Ye shal drinke in deede of my cuppe, and shall bee baptized with the baptisme that I am baptized with, but to sit at my right hand, and at my left hand, is not f mine to giue: but it shall be giuen to them, for whom it is prepared of my Father.

f God my father hath not giuen me charge to bestow offices of honour here: but to be an example of humilitie vnto all.

Marke 10.41. luke 22.25. Phil. 2.7.

24 * And when the other ten heard this, they disdained at the two brethren.

25 Therefore Iesus called them vnto him, and sayd, Ye know that the lords of the Gentiles haue domination ouer them, and they that are great, exercise authority ouer them.

26 But it shal not bee so among you: but whosoeuer will be great among you, let him be your seruant,

27 And whosoeuer will be chiefe among you, let him be your seruant, 28 * Euen as the Sonne of man came not to be serued, but to serue, and to giue his life for the ransome of many.

Marke 10.46. luke 18.35. 29 ¶ * And as they departed from Iericho, a great multitude followed him.

30 And behold, two blinde men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Iesus passed by, cried, saying, O Lord, the Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie vpon vs.

31 And the multitude rebuked them, because they should hold their peace: but they cried the more, saying, O Lord, the Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie vpon vs.

32 Then Iesus stood still, and called them, and sayd, What will yee that I should doe to you?

33 They sayd to him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.

34 And Iesus moued with compassion touched their eyes, and immediatly their eyes receiued sight, and they followed him.

CHAP. XXI.

7 Christ rideth into Ierusalem on an asse. 12 The buyers and sellers are chased out of the Temple. 15 The children wish prosperity vnto Christ. 19 The figtree withereth. 22 Faith requisite in prayer. 25 Iohns baptisme. 28 The two sonnes. 33 The parable of the husbandmen. 42 The corner stone reiected. 43 The Iewes reiected, and the Gentiles receiued.

AND * when they drewe neere to Ierusalem, and were come to Bethphage, vnto the mount of the Olives, then sent Iesus two disciples,

2 Saying to them, Goe into the towne that is ouer against you, and anon ye shall find an a asse bound, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them vnto me.

3 And if any man say ought vnto you, say yee, that the Lord hath needs of them, and straightway he will let them goe.

4 All this was done, that it might bee fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet, saying,

5 ¶ * Tell ye the b daughter of Sion, Behold, thy king commeth vnto thee, meeke, and sitting vpon an asse, and a c colt, the foale of an asse vsed to the yoke.

6 So the disciples went, and did as Iesus had commanded them,

7 And brought the asse & the colt, and put on d them their clothes, and set him thereon.

8 And a great multitude spred their garments in the way: & other cut downe branches from the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 Moreouer, the people that went before, and they also that followed, cryed, saying, e Hosanna the sonne of Dauid: blessed bee hee that commeth in the Name of the Lord, Hosanna thou whinh art in the f highest heauens.

10 * And when he was come into Ierusalem, all the citie was moued, saying, Who is this?

11 And the people said, This is Iesus the Prophet of Nazareth in Galile.

12 ¶ And Iesus went into the Temple of God, and cast out all them that solde and bought in the g Temple, and ouerthrew the tables of the money changers, and the seats of them that sold doues, 13 And said to them, It is written, * Mine house shalbe called the house of prayer: h but * ye haue made it a denne of theeues.

14 Then the blind and the halt came to him in the Temple, and he healed them.

15 But when the * chiefe Priestes and Scribes saw the marueiles that he did, and the children crying in the Temple, and saying, Hosanna the Sonne of Dauid, they disdained, 16 And said vnto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Iesus sayd vnto them, Yea: read yee neuer, * By the i mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast k made perfite the praise?

17 ¶ So he left them, and went out of the citie vnto Bethania, and lodged there.

18 And * in the morning as he returned into the citie, he was hungry.

19 And seeing a figge tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaues onely, and sayd to it, Neuer fruite grow on thee henceforwards. And anon the figge tree withered.

20 And when his disciples saw it, they marueiled, saying, How soone is the figge tree withered!

22 * And whatsoeuer ye shall aske in prayer, if ye beleeue, ye shall receiue it.

23 ¶ * And when he was come into the Temple, the chiefe Priests and the Elders of the people came vnto him, as hee was teaching, and sayde, By what authoritie doest thou these things? and who gaue thee this authoritie?

24 Then Iesus answered and sayd vnto them, I also will aske of you a certaine thing, which if you tell mee, I likewise will tell you by what authoritie I doe these things.

25 The Baptisme of Iohn, whence was it? ‖ from heauen, or of men? Then they reasoned among themselues, saying, If we shall say, From heauen, he will say vnto vs, Why did ye not then beleeue him?

26 And if we say, Of men, we [m] feare the people: * for all hold Iohn as a Prophet.

27 Then they answered Iesus, and sayd, Wee cannot tell. And hee sayd vnto them, Neither tell I you by what authoritie I doe these things.

28 ¶ But what thinke ye? A certaine man had two sonnes, and came to the elder, and sayd, Sonne, goe, and worke to day in my vineyard.

29 But he answered and sayd, I will not: yet afterward hee repented himselfe, and [a] went.

30 Then came he to the second, and sayd likewise. And he answered, and said, I will, sir: yet he went not.

31 Whether of them twaine did the will of the father? They sayd vnto him, The first. Iesus said vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, that the [n] Publicanes and the harlots shall goe before you into the kingdome of God.

32 For Iohn came vnto you in the [o] way of righteousnesse, and yee beleeued him not: but the Publicans, and the harlots beleeued him, and ye though ye saw it, were not moued with repentance afterward, that yee might beleeue him.

33 ¶ Heare another parable, There was a certaine housholder, * which planted a [p] vineyarde, and [q] hedged it round about, and ‖ made a winepresse therein, and built a towre, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a strange countrey.

34 And when the time of the fruit drewe neere, he sent his seruants to [r] the husbandmen to receiue the fruits thereof.

35 And the husbandmen tooke his [s] seruants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

36 Againe hee sent other seruants, moe then the first: and they did the like vnto them.

37 But last of all hee sent vnto them his owne [t] sonne, saying, They will reuerence my sonne.

38 But when the husbandmen sawe the sonne, they sayd among themselues, * This is the heire: come, let vs kill him, and let vs take his inheritance.

39 So they tooke him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him.

40 When therefore the Lord of the vineyard shall come, what will he do to those husbandmen?

41 They sayd vnto him, He will cruelly destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard vnto other husbandmen, which shall deliuer him the fruites in their seasons.

42 Iesus said vnto them, Read yee neuer in the Scriptures, * The stone which the builders [u] refused, the same is made the [x] head of the corner? This was the Lordes doing, and it is marueilous in our eyes.

43 Therefore I say vnto you, the kingdome of God shall be taken from you, and shall be giuen to a nation, which shall bring forth the fruites thereof.

44 * And whosoeuer shal fal on this stone, hee shall bee broken: but on whomsoeuer it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.

45 And when the chiefe Priestes and Pharises had heard his parables, they perceiued that he spake of them.

46 And they seeking to lay handes on him, feared the people, because they tooke him as a Prophet.

THen * Iesus answered, and spake vnto them againe in parables, saying,

2 The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a certaine King which maried his sonne,

3 And [a] sent forth his seruants to call them that were bidden to the wedding, but they would not come.

4 Againe he sent forth other seruants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I haue prepared my dinner: mine oxen and my fatlings are killed, and al things are ready: come vnto the mariage.

5 But they made light of it, and went their waies, one to his farme, and another about his merchandise.

6 And the remnant tooke his seruants, and intreated them sharply, and slew them.

7 But when the King heard it, hee was wroth, and sent forth his warriors, and [b] destroied those murtherers, and burnt vp their citie.

8 Then sayd he to his seruants, Truely the wedding is prepared: but they which were bidden, were not worthy.

9 Go ye therefore out into the hie waies, and as many as ye finde, bid them to the mariage.

10 So [c] those seruants went out into the hie wayes, and gathered together all that euer they found, both [d] good and bad: so the wedding was furnished with ghests.

THen the a kingdome of heauen shall bee likened vnto ten virgins, which tooke their lampes, and went to b meete the bridegrome.

2 And fiue of them were wise, and fiue foolish.

3 The foolish tooke their lampes, but tooke none oyle with them.

4 But the wise tooke oyle in their vessels with their lampes.

5 Now while the bridegrome taryed long, all slumbred and slept.

6 And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegrome commeth: goe out to meet him.

7 Then al those virgins arose, and trimmed their lampes.

8 And the foolish said to the wise, c Giue vs of your oyle, for our lampes are ‖ out.

9 But the wise answered, saying, Wee feare lest there will not be enough for vs and you: but d go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for your selues.

10 And while they went to buy, the bridegrome came: and they that were readie, went in with him to the wedding, and the gate was shut.

11 Afterwards came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to vs.

12 But he answered, and said, Verily I say vnto you, e I know you not.

13 *Watch therefore: for ye knew neither the day nor the houre, when the Sonne of man will come.

14 * f For the kingdome of heauen is as a man that going into a strange countrey, called his seruants, and deliuered to them his goods.

15 And vnto one he gaue fiue talents, and to another two, and to another one, to euery man after his own ability, & straightway went from home.

16 Then he that had receiued the fiue talents, went & occupied with them, and ‖ gained other fiue talents.

17 Likewise also, he that receiued two, he also gained other two.

18 But hee that receiued that one, went and digged it in the earth, and hid his masters money.

19 But after a long season, the master of those seruants came, and reckoned with them.

20 Then came he that had receiued fiue talents, and brought other fiue talents, saying, Master, thou deliueredst vnto me fiue talents: behold, I haue gained with them other fiue talents.

21 Then his master said vnto him, It is well done good seruant and faithfull, Thou hast been faithfull in little, I will make thee ruler ouer much: h enter in into thy masters ioy.

22 Also he that had receiued two talents, came and said, Master, thou deliueredst vnto mee two talents: behold, I haue gained two other talents with them.

23 His master said vnto him, It is well done good seruant, and faithfull, Thou hast been faithfull in little, I will make thee ruler ouer much: enter in into thy masters ioy.

24 Then he which had receiued the one talent, came and said, Master, I knew that thou wast an hard man, which reapest where thou sowedst not, & gatherest where thou strawedst not:

25 I was therefore afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: behold, thou hast thine owne.

26 And his master answered, and said vnto him, Thou euill seruant and ‖ slothfull, thou knewest that I reape, where I sowed not, and gather where I strawed not.

27 Thou oughtest therefore to haue put my money to the exchangers, & then at my comming should I haue receiued mine owne with vantage.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, & giue it vnto him which hath ten talents.

29 *For vnto euery man that hath, it shall be giuen, and he shall haue abundance, and ‖ from him that hath not, euen that he hath, shall be taken away.

30 Cast therefore that vnprofitable seruant into vtter * darkenes: there shall bee weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31 ¶ And when the Sonne of man commeth in his glorie, and all the Angels with him, then shall he sit vpon the throne of his glorie.

32 And before him shall be gathered all nations, and he shal separate them one from another, as a shepherd separateth the sheepe from the goats.

33 And he shal set the sheepe on his right hand, and the goats on the left.

34 Then shall the King say to them on his left hand, Come yee k blessed of my Father: inherite ye the kingdome prepared for you from the l foundations of the world.

35 *For m I was an hungred, & yee gaue me meat: I thirsted, and ye gaue me drinke: I was a stranger, and ye lodged me:

36 I was naked, and ye clothed me: I was * sicke, and yee visited me: I was in prison, and yee came vnto me.

37 Then shall the righteous answere him, saying, Lord, when saw wee thee an hungred, and fed thee? or a thirst, and gaue thee drinke?

38 And when saw we thee a stranger, and lodged thee? or naked, and clothed thee?

39 Or when saw we thee sicke, or in prison, and came vnto thee?

40 And the King shall answere and say vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, In as much as ye haue done it vnto one of the least of these my brethren, ye haue done it to me.

41 Then shall hee say vnto them on the left hand, *Depart from me ye cursed, into euerlasting fire, which is prepared for the deuill and his angels.

42 For I was an hungred, and yee gaue me no meat: I thirsted, and ye gaue mee no drinke:

43 I was a stranger, and ye lodged mee not: I was naked, and yee clothed mee not: sicke, and in prison, and ye visited me not.

44 Then shall they also answere him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, or a thirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sicke, or in prison, and did not minister vnto thee?

45 Then

b This was through Iudas motion to whom they gaue credit. Deut. 15.11.

9 For this oyntment might haue beene sold for much, and beene giuen to the poore.

10 And Iesus knowing it, said vnto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for shee hath wrought a good worke vpon me.

c This fact was extraordinary, neither was it left as an example to be followed: also Christ is not present with vs bodily or to be honoured with any outward pompe.

11 * For yee haue the poore alwayes with you, but mee shall ye not [c] haue alwayes.

16 And from that time he sought opportunitie to betray him.

17 ¶ * Now on the first day of the feast of vnleauened bread, the disciples came to Iesus, saying vnto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eate the Passeouer?

19 And the disciples did as Iesus had giuen them charge, and made readie the Passeouer.

20 * So when the euen was come, he sate downe with the twelue.

21 And as they did eat, hee said, Verily I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me.

22 And they were exceeding sorowfull, and began euery one of them to say vnto him, Is it I, Master?

23 And he answered, and said, * Hee that [g] dipperh his hand with mee in the dish, hee shall betray me.

h To the intent his disciples might know that all this was appointed by ỹ prouidence of God. 1. Cor. 11.24.

25 Then Iudas which betrayed him, answered, and says, Is it I, Master? He said vnto him, Thou hast said it.

26 ¶ * And as they did eate, Iesus tooke the bread: and when he had giuen thankes, he brake it, and gaue it to the disciples, and said, Take, eate: [i] this is my body.

i That is, a true signe and testimonie that my bodie is made yours, and by me your soules are nourished.

27 Also he tooke the cup, and when he had giuen thankes, hee gaue it them, saying, Drinke ye all of it.

28 For this is my [k] blood of the new testament, that is shed for many, for the remission of sinnes.

k The wine signifieth that our soules are refreshed and satisfied with the blood of Christ spiritually receiued, so that without him we haue no nourishment.

29 I say vnto you, that [l] I wil not drinke henceforth of this fruit of the vine vntil that day, when I shall drinke it new with you in my Fathers kingdome.

35 Peter said vnto him, Though I should die with thee, yet wil I not denie thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.

36 ¶ * Then went Iesus with them into a place which is called Gethsemane, and said vnto his disciples, Sit ye here, while I goe and pray ponder.

37 And he tooke Peter, & the two sonnes of Zebedeus, and began to waxe sorowfull, [o] and grieuously troubled.

o He feared not death of it selfe, but trembled for feare of Gods anger toward sinne, the burden wherof hee bare for our sakes.

38 Then said Iesus vnto them, [p] My soule is very heauy, euen vnto the death: tary ye here, and watch with me.

p For he saw Gods anger kindled towards vs.

39 So he went a little further, & fel on his face, & prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let this [q] cup [r] passe from me: neuertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt.

cup cannot passe away from mee, but that I must drinke it, thy will be done.

43 And he came, and found them asleepe againe: for their eyes were heauy.

44 So hee left them, and went away againe, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.

45 Then came hee to his disciples, and sayd vnto them, t Sleepe henceforth & take your rest: behold, the houre is at hand, and the Sonne of man is giuen into the handes of sinners.

46 u Rise, let vs goe, beholde, hee is at hand that betrayeth me.

47 * And while he yet spake, loe, Iudas, one of the twelue, came, & with him a great multitude with swords and staues, from the hie Priests and Elders of the people.

48 Now he that betrayed him, had giuen them a token, saying, Whomsoeuer I shall kisse, that is he, lay hold on him.

49 And forthwith he came to Iesus, and said, ‖God saue thee, Master, and kissed him.

50 Then Iesus sayd vnto him, x Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then* came they, and laid hands on Iesus, and tooke him.

51 And beholde, one of them which were with Iesus, stretched out his hand, and drew his sworde, and strooke a seruant of the hye Priest, and smote off his eare.

52 Then sayd Iesus vnto him, Put vp thy sword into his ‖place: * for all that y take the sword, shall perish with the sword.

53 Eyther thinkest thou, that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he will giue me more then twelue z legions of Angels?

54 How then should the * Scriptures be fulfilled, which say, that it must be so?

55 The same houre said Iesus to the multitude, Yee be come out as it were against a theefe with swords and staues, to take me: I sate dayly teaching in the Temple among you, and ye tooke me not.

56 But al this was done, that the * Scriptures of the Prophets might bee fulfilled. * Then all the disciples forsooke him, & fled.

57 ¶ * And they tooke Iesus, and led him to Caiaphas the hie Priest, where ỹ Scribes and the Elders were assembled.

58 And Peter followed him afarre off vnto the hie Priests hall, and went in, & sate with the seruants to see the end.

59 Nowe * the chiefe Priestes and the Elders, and all the whole Councill a sought false witnesse against Iesus, to put him to death.

60 But they found none, and though many false witnesses came, yet found they b none: but at the last came two false witnesses, 61 And sayd, This man sayd, * I can destroy the temple of God, and build it in three dayes.

62 Then the chiefe Priest arose, and said to him, Answerest thou nothing? c What is the matter that these men witnesse against thee?

63 But Iesus c held his peace. Then the chiefe Priest answered, and sayd to him, I d charge thee by the liuing God, that thou tel vs if thou be the Christ, the sonne of God.

64 * Iesus said to him, e Thou hast said it: neuertheless I say vnto you, hereafter shall ye see the Sonne of man sitting at the right hand of the power of God, and come in the clouds of the heauen.

65 Then the hie Priest rent his f clothes, saying, He s hath blasphemed: what haue we any more need of witnesses? behold, now ye haue heard his blasphemy.

66 What thinke ye? They answered, and sayd, He is worthy to die.

67 * Then spat they in his face, and buffetted him: and b other smote him with their rods, 68 Saying, i Prophesie to vs, O Christ, Who is he that smote thee?

69 ¶ * Peter sate without in the hall: and a maid came to him, saying, Thou also wast with Iesus of Galile.

70 But he denied before them all, saying, I wot not what thou sayest.

71 And when he went out into the porch, another mayd saw him, and sayd vnto them that were there, This man was also with Iesus of Nazaret.

72 And k againe he denied with an othe, saying, I know not the man.

73 So after a while, came vnto him they that stood by, and said vnto Peter, Surely, thou art also one of them: for euen thy speach bewrayeth thee.

74 Then began he to curse himselfe, and to sweare, saying, I know not the man. And immediatly the cock crew.

75 Then Peter remembred the words of Iesus, which had said vnto him, Before the cocke crow, thou shalt deny me thrise. So he went out, and l wept bitterly.

to put them into the ‖ treasure, because it is the price of blood.

7 And they tooke counsell, and bought with them a potters field, for the buryall of f strangers.

8 Wherefore that field is called, * The field of blood vntill this day.

9 (Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremias the Prophet, saying, * And they tooke thirty siluer pieces, the price of him that was valued, whome they of the children of Israel valued.

10 And they gaue them for the potters field, as the Lord appointed me.)

11 ¶ * And Jesus stood before the gouernour, and the Gouernour asked him, saying, Art thou the king of the Jewes? Jesus said vnto him, Thou sayest it.

12 And when he was accused of the chiefe Priests and Elders, he answered nothing.

13 Then said Pilate vnto him, Hearest thou not how many things they lay against thee?

14 But he answered him not to one word, insomuch that the Gouernour marueyled greatly.

15 Now at the feast the gouernour was wont to deliuer vnto the people a prisoner, whom they would.

16 And they had then a notable prisoner called Barabbas.

17 When they were then gathered together, Pilate said vnto them, Whether will yee that I let loose vnto you Barabbas, or Jesus which is called Christ?

18 (For he knew well, that for enuy they had deliuered him.

19 Also when he was set downe vpon the iudgement seat, his wife sent to him, saying, h Haue thou nothing to doe with that iust man: for I haue suffered many things this day in a dreame by reason of him.)

20 * But the chiefe Priests and the Elders had perswaded the people that they should aske Barabbas, and should destroy Jesus.

21 Then the gouernour answered, & said vnto them, Whether of the twayne will yee that I let loose vnto you? And they sayde, i Barabbas.

22 Pilate sayd vnto them, What shall I doe then with Jesus which is called Christ? They all said to him, Let him be crucified.

23 Then sayd the gouernour, But what euil hath he done? Then they cried the more, saying, Let him be crucified.

24 When Pilate saw that he auailed nothing, but that more tumult was made, hee tooke water & washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of ỹ blood of this iust k man: looke you to it.

25 Then answered all the people, & sayd, His l blood be on vs, and on our children.

26 Thus hee let Barabbas loose vnto them, and scourged Jesus, and deliuered him to be crucified.

27 ¶ * Then the souldiers of the gouernour tooke Jesus into the common hall, and gathered about him the whole band.

28 And they stripped him, and put vpon him a m scarlet robe,

29 And platted a crowne of thornes, and put it vpon his head, and a reed in his right hand, & bowed their knees before him, and mocked him, saying, God saue thee, King of the Iewes,

30 And spitted vpon him, & tooke a reed, and smote him on the head.

31 Thus when they had mocked him, they tooke the robe from him, and put his owne rayment on him, and led him away to crucifie him.

32 * And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, named Simon: him they compelled to beare his crosse.

33 * And when they came vnto the place called Golgotha, (that is to say, the place of dead mens skulles.)

34 They gaue him n vineger to drinke mingled with gall: And when he had tasted thereof, he would not drinke.

35 ¶ And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, and did cast lots, that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet, * They diuided my garments among them, and vpon my vesture did cast lots.

36 And they sate and watched him there.

37 ¶ They set vp also ouer his head his cause written, o THIS IS IESVS THE KING OF THE IEWES.

38 ¶ And there were two theeues crucified with him, one on the right hand, and another on the left.

39 And they that passed by, reuiled him, wagging their heads, 40 And saying, * Thou that destroyest the Temple, and buildest it in three dayes, saue thy selfe: if thou be the Sonne of God, come downe from the Cresse.

41 Likewise also the hie Priests mocking him, with the Scribes, & Elders, and Pharises, said, 42 Hee saued others, but hee cannot saue himselfe: if he be the King of Israel, let him now come downe from the crosse, & we will beleeue him.

43 * He p trusted in God, let him deliuer him now, if hee will haue him: for he said, I am the sonne of God.

44 The same also the q theeues which were crucified with him, cast in his teeth.

45 Now from the r first houre was there darknesse ouer all the s land, vnto the ninth houre.

46 And about the ninth houre Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, * Eli, Eli, lamma sabachthani? that is, t My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

47 And some of them that stood there, when they heard it, sayd, This man calleth u Elias.

48 And straightway one of them ranne, and tooke * a sponge, and filled it with vineger, and put it on a ‖ reede, and gaue him to * drinke.

49 Other said, Let be: let vs see, if Elias will come and saue him.

¶ The holy Gospel of Iesus Christ, according to Marke.

CHAP. I.

2 The office, doctrine and life of Iohn the Baptist. 9 Christ is baptized, 13 and tempted. 14 He preacheth, 17 calleth the fishers. 23 Christ healeth the man with the vnclean spirit. 27 New doctrine. 29 Hee healeth Peters mother in law. 34 The deuils know him. 41 Hee cleanseth the leper, and healeth diuers others.

THe [a] beginning of the Gospell of Iesus Christ, the Sonne of God:

2 As it is written in the Prophets, *Behold, I send my [b] messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

3 *The voyce of him that cryeth in the wildernes, is, [c] Prepare the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

4 *Iohn did baptize in the wilderneſſe, and [d] preach the baptisme of amendment of life, for remission of sinnes.

5 And all the countrey of Iudea, [e] they of Ieruſalem went out vnto him, and were all baptized of him in the riuer Iordan, confeſſing their sinnes.

6 *Now Iohn was clothed with camels haire, and with a girdle of a skinne about his loynes: and he did eate ‖ *Locusts and wilde honie, 7 *And preached, saying, A stronger then I commeth after me, whose shooes latchet I am not worthy to stoupe downe, and vnlooſe.

8 Trueth it is, I haue *baptized you with [e] water: but hee will baptize you with the holy Ghost.

9 ¶ *And it came to paſſe in those dayes, that Iesus came from Nazaret a citie of Galile, and was baptized of Iohn in Iordan.

10 And assoone as ‖ hee was come out of the water, Iohn [f] sawe the heauens cloue in twaine, and the [f] holy Ghost descending vpon him like a doue.

11 Then there was a voice from heauen, saying, Thou art my beloued [g] Sonne, in whom I am well pleased.

12 *And immediatly the ‖ Spirit driueth him into the wilderneſſe.

13 And hee was there in the wilderneſſe fourtie dayes, and was [h] tempted of Satan: hee was also with the wilde beastes, and the Angels ministred vnto him.

14 ¶ *Nowe after that Iohn was committed to prison, Iesus came into Galile, preaching [i] the Gospel of the kingdome of God, 15 And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent and beleeue the Gospel.

16 ¶ *And as he walked by the ‖ Sea of Galile, hee saw Simon, and Andrewe his brother, casting a net into the Sea, (for they were fishers.)

17 Then Iesus said vnto them, Followe me, [k] I will make you to be fishers of men.

18 And straightway they forsooke their nets, and followed him.

19 And when he had gone a little further thence, he saw Iames the sonne of Zebedeus, and Iohn his brother, as they were in the ship, mending their nets.

20 And anon hee called them: and they left their father Zebedeus in the shippe with his hired seruants, and went their way after him.

21 ¶ So *they entred into Capernaum, and straightway on the Sabbath day he entred into the Synagogue, and taught.

22 And they were astonied at his doctrine: *for he taught them as one that had authoritie, and [l] not as the Scribes.

23 ¶ And there was in their Synagogue a man which had an vncleane spirit, and hee cryed, 24 Saying, Ah, what haue wee to doe with thee, O Iesus of Nazaret? Art thou come to destroy vs? I know thee what thou art, euen that holy One of God.

25 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, [m] Hold thy peace, and come out of him.

26 And the vncleane spirit tare him, and cried with a loud voice, and came out of him.

27 And they were all amased, so that they demaunded one of another, saying, What thing is this? what [n] new doctrine is this? for hee commaundeth the foule spirits with authoritie, and they obey him.

28 And immediatly his fame spread abroad throughout all the region bordering on Galile.

29 ¶ *And assoone as they were come out of the Synagogue, they entred into the house of Simon and Andrew, with Iames and Iohn.

30 And Simons wiues mother lay sicke of a feuer, and anon they told him of her.

31 And he came & tooke her by the hand, and lift her vp, and the feuer forsooke her by and by, and she ministred vnto them.

32 And when euen was come, and the Sunne was downe, they brought to him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with deuils.

33 And the whole citie was gathered together at the doore.

34 And hee healed many that were sicke of diuers diseases: and he cast out many deuils, and [o] suffered not the deuils to say that they knew him.

35 And in the morning very early, ‖ before day, Iesus arose and went out into a solitarie place, and there prayed.

36 And Simon, and they that were with him, followed after him.

37 And when they had found him, they said vnto him, All men seeke for thee.

38 Then he said vnto them, Let vs goe into the next townes, that I may preach there also: for I came out for that purpose.

39 And hee preached in their Synagogues, throughout all Galilee, and cast the deuils out.

40 ¶ *And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeled downe vnto him, and said to him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

41 And Iesus had compassion, and put forth his hand, and touched him, and said to him, I will: be thou cleane.

42 And assoone as hee had spoken, immediately the leprosie departed from him, and he was made cleane.

43 And after hee had giuen him a strait pcommandement, he sent him away forthwith, 44 And said vnto him, See thou say nothing to any man, but get thee hence, and shew thy selfe to qthe *Priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things, which Moses commanded for a rtestimonall vnto them.

AFter *a few dayes, he entred into Capernaum againe, and it was noysed that he was in the bhouse.

2 And anon many gathered together, in so much that the places about the doore could not receiue any more: and he preached the word vnto them.

3 And there came vnto him, that brought one sicke of the palsie, borne of foure men.

4 And because they could not come neere vnto him for the multitude, they vncouered the roofe of the house where he was: and when they had broken it open, they let downe the bed wherein the sicke of the palsie lay.

5 Now when Iesus saw their faith, hee said to the sicke of the palsie, Sonne, thy csinnes are forgiuen thee.

6 And there were certain of the Scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts,

7 Why doeth this man speake such blasphemies? *who can forgiue sinnes, but God onely?

8 And immediatly when Iesus perceiued in his spirit, that thus they thought with themselues, hee said vnto them, dWhy reason ye these things in your hearts?

16 And when the Scribes and Pharises saw him eate with the Publicanes and sinners, they said vnto his disciples, How is it, that hee eateth and drinketh with Publicanes and sinners?

17 Now when Iesus heard it, hee said vnto them, The whole haue no neede of the Phylician, but the sicke. *I came not to call the erighteous, but ysinners to repentance.

CHAP. III.

1 He healeth the man with the dried hand. 14 He chuſeth his apoſtles. 21 Chriſt is thought of the worldlings to be beſides himſelfe. 22 He caſteth out the vncleane ſpirit, which the Phariſes aſcribe vnto the deuil. 29 Blaſphemie againſt the holy Ghoſt. 35 The brother, ſiſter, and mother of Chriſt.

Matth. 12.9,10, luke 6.6.

AND * he entred againe into the Synagogue, and there was a man which had a withered hand.

2 And they watched him whether hee would heale him on the Sabbath day, that they might accuſe him.

3 Then he ſaid vnto the man which had the withered hand, Ariſe; ſtand foorth in the mids.

4 And hee ſaid to them, Is it lawfull to doe a good deede on the Sabbath day, or to doe euill? to ſaue the life, or to kill? But they [a] held their peace.

a They held their tongues of malice: for they would neither confeſſe nor denie.

5 Then he looked round about on them [b] angerly, mourning alſo for the hardneſſe of their hearts, and ſaid to the man, Stretch foorth thine hand: And hee ſtretched it out: and his hand was reſtored as whole as the other.

b Chriſt is in ſuch ſort angrie with man, that he pitieth him and ſeeketh to winne him.

6 ¶ And the Phariſes departed, and ſtraightway gathered a Counſell with the [c] Herodians againſt him, that they might deſtroy him.

9 Then he said vnto them, He that hath b eares to heare, let him heare.

10 And when hee was alone, they that were about him with the twelue, asked him of the parable.

11 And he said vnto them, To c you it is giuen to know the mystery of the kingdome of God: but vnto them that are without, all things be done in parables, 12 * That they seeing, may see, and not discerne: and they hearing may heare, and not vnderstand, lest at any time they should turne, and their sinnes should bee forgiuen them.

13 Againe hee said vnto them, Perceiue ye not this parable? how then should ye vnderstand all other parables?

14 The sower soweth the word.

15 And these are they that receiue the seed by the wayes side, in whome the word is sowen: but when they haue heard it, Satan commeth immediatly, and taketh away the word that was sowen in their hearts.

16 And likewise they that receiue the seed in stony ground, are they, which when they haue heard the word, straightwayes receiue it with gladnesse.

17 Yet haue they no roote in themselues and endure but a time: for when trouble and persecution ariseth for the word, immediatly they be offended.

18 Also they that receiue the seede among the thornes, are such as heare the word:

19 But the cares of this world, and the * deceitfulnesse of riches, and the lustes of other things enter in, and choke the word, and it is vnfruitfull.

20 But they that haue receiued seede in good ground, are they that heare the word, and receiue it, and bring forth fruite, one corne thirtie, another sixty, and some an hundreth.

21 ¶ Also hee said vnto them, * Is e the candle ‖ lighted to be put vnder a bushell, or vnder the table, and not to be put on a candlesticke?

25 * For vnto him that hath, shall bee giuen, and from him that hath not, shall bee taken away, h euen that he hath.

26 ¶ Also hee said, So is the i kingdome of God, as if a man should cast k seede in the ground, 27 And should sleepe, and rise vp night and day, and the seede should spring and grow vp, he not knowing how.

28 For the earth bringeth forth fruit of her selfe, first the blade, then the eares, after that full corne in the eares.

c A Legion conteined aboue 6000. in number read Mat. 26.53.

10 And hee prayed him instantly, that he would not send them away out of the countrey.

11 Now there was there in the mountaines a great heard of swine, feeding.

12 And all the deuils besought him, saying, Send vs into the swine, that wee may enter into them.

13 And incontinently Iesus gaue them leaue. Then the vncleane spirits went out, and entred into the swine, and the herd ‖ ran headlong from the high banke into the sea, (and there were about two thousand swine) and they were drowned in the ‖ sea.

‖ Or, in the lake.

14 And the swineheards fledde, and told it in the citie, and in the countrey, and they came out to see what it was that was done.

15 And they came to Iesus, and saw him that had beene possessed with the deuill, and had the legion, sit both clothed, and in his right minde: and they were afraid.

16 And they that saw it, tolde them what was done to him that was possessed with the deuill, and concerning the swine.

17 Then d they began to pray him, that he would e depart from their coasts.

d Marke how loue of riches and worldly respects hinder men to receiue Christ.

18 And when hee was come into the ship, hee that had beene possessed with the deuill, prayed him that he might be with him.

e The worldlings more esteeme their swine, then they doe Iesus Christ.

19 Howbeit Iesus would not suffer him, but said vnto him, Goe thy way home to thy friends, and f shew them what great things the Lord hath done vnto thee, and how hee hath had compassion on thee.

f We must declare vnto others the benefites which God sheweth toward vs, that thereby they may giue him praise and glorie.

20 So hee departed, and began to publish in ‖ Decapolis, what great things Iesus had done vnto him: and all men did marueile.

26 And had suffered many things of many physitians, and had spent al that she had, and it auailed her nothing, but shee became much worse.

27 When shee had heard of Iesus, shee came in the preasse behind, and g touched his garment.

28 For shee said, If I may but touch his clothes, I shall be whole.

31 And his disciples said vnto him, Thou seest the multitude throng thee, and sayest thou, Who did touch me?

32 And he looked round about, to see her that had done that.

33 And the woman feared and trembled: for she knew what was done in her, and came and fell downe before him, and tolde him the whole trueth.

34 And he said to her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole: goe in peace, and bee whole of thy ‖ plague.)

‖ Or, scourge.

35 While hee yet spake, there came from the same ruler of the Synagogues house certaine which said, Thy daughter is dead: why diseasest thou the Maister any further?

36 Assoone as Iesus heard that word spoken, hee said vnto the ruler of the Synagogue, Be not afraid: onely beleeue.

37 And he suffered no man to follow him, saue Peter and Iames, and Iohn the brother of Iames.

38 So he came vnto the house of the ruler of the Synagogue, and saw the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.

39 And he went in, and said vnto them, Why make yee this trouble, and weepe? the child is not h dead, but sleepeth.

h He meant, shee was not dead to remaine so, because she should incontinently be restored againe to life.

40 And they i laughed him to scorne: but he put them al out, and tooke the father, and the mother of the child, & k them that were with him, and entred in where the child lay,

i For they had no hope to see her aliue againe.

41 And tooke the childe by the hand, and said vnto her, Talitha cumi, which is by interpretation, Maiden, I say vnto thee, Arise.

k That is, his three disciples.

is giuen vnto him, that euen such ‖ great workes are done by his hands!

3 Is not this the Carpenter, Maries sonne, the ‖ brother of Iames and Ioses, and of Iuda and Simon? and are not his sisters here with vs? And they were b offended in him.

4 Then Iesus sayd vnto them, A * Prophet is not without honour, but in his owne countrey, and among his owne kinred, and in his owne house.

5 And c hee could there d doe no great workes, saue that hee layd his hands vpon a few sicke folke, and healed them.

6 And hee marueiled at their vnbeliefe, * and went about by the townes on euery side, teaching.

7 ¶ * And he called the twelue, and began to send them two and two, and gaue them power ouer vncleane spirits,

8 And commaunded them, that they should take nothing for their iourney, saue a staffe onely: neither e scrip, neither bread, neither money in their ‖ girdles, 9 But that they should bee shodde with * f sandales, and that they should not put on two coates.

10 And he sayd vnto them, Wheresoeuer ye shall enter into an house, there abide till ye depart g thence.

11 * And whosoeuer shall not receiue you, nor heare you, when yee depart thence, h * shake off the dust that is vnder your feete, for a witnesse vnto them. Verily I say vnto you, It shall be easier for Sodom, or Gomorrha at the day of iudgement, then for that citie.

12 ¶ And they went out, and preached, that men should amend their liues.

13 And they cast out many deuils: and they * annointed many that were sicke, with i oyle, and healed them.

14 ¶ * Then king Herode heard of him (for his name was spread abroad) and sayd, Iohn Baptist is risen againe from the dead, and therefore great workes are wrought by him.

15 Other sayd, It is Elias: and some sayde, It is a Prophet, or as one k of the Prophets.

16 * So when Herod heard it, he sayd, It is Iohn whom I beheaded, he is l risen from the dead.

17 For Herod himselfe had sent forth, and had taken Iohn and bound him in prison for Herodias sake, which was his brother Philips wife, because he had maried her.

18 For Iohn sayd vnto Herode, * It is not m lawfull for thee to haue thy brothers wife.

19 Therefore Herodias had a quarell against him, and would haue killed him, but she could not.

20 For Herode feared Iohn, knowing that hee was a iust man and an holy, and reuerenced him, and when he heard him, hee did many things, and n heard him gladly.

n Such is the nature of Gods word, that it compelleth the very tyrants to reuerence it: as no doubt the king had some good motions, but the seed fell in stonie places, and so tooke no roote.

21 But the time being conuenient, when Herod on his birth day made a banket to his princes and captaines, and chiefe estates of Galile:

22 And the daughter of the same Herodias came in and o daunced, and pleased Herode and them that sate at table together, the king sayd vnto the mayd, Aske of me what thou wilt, and I will giue it thee.

23 And hee sware vnto her, Whatsoeuer thou shalt aske of me, I will giue it thee, euen vnto the halfe of my kingdome.

24 * So shee went forth, and sayd to her mother, What shall I aske? And she sayd, Iohn Baptists head.

25 Then she came in straightway with haste vnto the king, & asked, saying, I would that thou shouldest giue mee euen now in a charger the head of Iohn Baptist.

26 Then the king was very sory: yet for his othes sake, & for their sakes which sate at table with him, he would not refuse her.

27 And immediately the king sent the hangman, and gaue charge that his head should be brought. So hee went and beheaded him in the prison, 28 And brought his head in a charger, and gaue it to the p mayde, and the mayde gaue it to her mother.

q The Apostles render account of their message, which is to declare their fidelitie & obedience.

31 And he said vnto them, Come ye apart into the wildernesse, r and rest a while: for there were many commers and goers, that they had not leasure to eat.

r Christ beareth with the infirmity of his seruants, & bringeth them to quietnes, that he may instruct the, and make them strong against troubles. Matth 14.13. luke 9.10.

32 * So they went by ship out of the way into a desert place.

33 But the people sawe them when they departed, and many knew him, and ran afoote thither out of all cities, and came thither before them, and assembled vnto him.

34 * Then Iesus went out, and sawe a great multitude, & had compassion on them, because they were like s sheepe, which had no shepheard: * and he began to teach them many things.

s Matth. 9.36. and 14.14.

35 * And when the day was nowe farre spent, his disciples came vnto him, saying, This is a desert place, and now the day is farre passed.

36 Let them depart, that they may go into the villages & townes about, and buy them bread: for they haue nothing to eat.

37 But hee answered, and sayde vnto them, Giue ye them to eate. And they sayd vnto him, Shall we goe and buy t two hundreth penie worth of bread and giue them to eate?

t This declareth that there is an horrible disorder among that people, where the true preaching of Gods word wanteth. Luke 9.11. Matth. 14.15.

38 * Then he sayd vnto them, How many loaues haue yee? goe and looke. And when they knew it, they sayd, Fiue, and two fishes.

‖Or, by tables ful: for in euery rank were as many as a table could hold.

all sit downe by ‖ cõpanies vpon the greene grasse.

40 Then they sate downe by [u] rowes, by hundreths, and by fifties.

41 And hee tooke the fiue loaues, and the two fishes, and looked vp to heauen, and gaue thankes, and brake the loaues, and gaue them to his Disciples to set before them, and the two fishes he diuided among them all.

42 So they did all eate, & were satisfied,

43 And they tooke vp twelue baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes.

44 And they that had eaten, were about fiue thousand men.

45 ¶ And straightway he caused his disciples to goe into the ship, and to goe before vnto the other side vnto Bethsaida, while he sent away the people.

46 Then assoone as he had sent them away, he departed into a mountaine to pray.

Matth. 14.23. John 6,15.

47 * And when euen was come, the ship was in the middes of the sea, and he alone on the land.

48 And he saw them troubled in rowing, (for the winde was contrary vnto them) and about the fourth * watch of the night, he came vnto them, walking vpon the sea, and would haue passed by them.

x Which was about two or three houres before day.

49 And when they saw him walking vpon the sea, they supposed it had bene a spirit, and cryed out.

50 For they all saw him, and were sore afraid: but anon he talked with them, and sayd vnto them, [y] Be of good comfort: it is I, be not afraid.

y Christ assureth his and maketh them bold, both by his word, and mighty power.

51 Then he went vp vnto them into the ship, and the winde ceased, and they were sore amazed in themselues beyond measure, and marueiled.

z They had forgot the miracle which was wrought with the fiue loaues. Matth. 14.34.

52 [z] For they had not considered the matter of the loaues, because their hearts were hardened.

53 ¶ * And they came ouer, and went into the lande of Genesaret, and arriued.

54 So when they were come out of the ship, straightway they knew him, 55 And ranne about throughout all that region round about, and began to carie hither and thither in beds all that were sicke, where they heard that he was.

‖Or, markets.

56 And whithersoeuer hee entred into townes, or cities, or villages, they layd their sicke in the ‖ streetes, and prayed him that they might touch at the least the edge of his garment. And as many as touched him, were made whole.

a Not for any such vertue that was in his garment, but for the confidence which they had in him.

CHAP. VII.

2 The disciples eate with vnwashen hands. 8 The commandemẽt of God is transgressed by mans traditions. 20 What defileth man. 24 Of the woman of Syrophenissa. 32 The healing of the dumbe. 37 The people praise Christ.

Matth. 15.2. ‖Or. filthy.

THEN * gathered vnto him the Pharises, and certaine of the Scribes which came from Jerusalem.

a The Pharises would not eate with vnwashen hands, because they thought that the common handling of things defiled them, so that they made holinesse and religion to depend in hands washing.

2 And when they sawe some of his disciples eate meate with ‖ common [a] handes, (that is to say vnwashen) they complained,

3 (For the Pharises and all the Iewes, except they wash their hands [b] oft, eate not, holding the tradition of the Elders.

b Or, contentiously, striuing to wash best.

4 And when they come from the market, except they wash, they eate not: and many other things there bee, which they haue taken vpon them to obserue, as the washing of cups, and [c] pots, and of brasen vessels, and of tables.)

c Little pots, somewhat more in quantitie then a wine pinte.

5 Then asked him the Pharises and Scribes, Why walke not thy disciples according to the tradition of the Elders, but eate ‖ meate with vnwashen hands?

‖Or, bread.

6 Then hee answered & sayd vnto them, Surely * Esay hath prophesied well of you hypocrytes, as it is written, This people honoureth me with their [d] lips, but their heart is farre away from me. Isa. 29.13.

d With an outward shew.

7 But they worship mee in vaine, teaching for doctrines the [e] commaundements of men.

e Whosoeuer teacheth any doctrine but Gods word, is a false worshipper, and a seducer of the people, seeme his doctrine neuer so probable to the iudgement of man.

8 For ye lay the commandement of God apart, and obserue the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and of cups, and many other such like things yee doe.

9 And he said vnto them, Well, ye reiect the commaddement of God, that ye may obserue your owne tradition.

10 For Moses sayd, * Honour thy father and thy mother: and, * Whosoeuer shal curse father or mother, let him [f] die the death. Exod. 20.12. deut 5.16. ephes 6.2. Exod 21.17. leuit. 20.9.

11 But yee say, If a man say to father or mother, Corban, that is, By the gift that is offered by me, thou mayest haue profit, he shall be free.

12 So ye suffer him no more to doe any thing for his father, or his mother, prou 20.20.

f That is, without any hope of pardon.

13 Making the word of God of none authority, by your tradition which ye haue ordeined: and ye doe many such like things. Matth. 15.10.

14 * Then he called the whole multitude vnto him, and sayd vnto them, Hearken you all vnto me, and vnderstand.

15 There [g] is nothing without a man, that can defile him, when it entreth into him: but the things which proceede out of him, are they which defile the man.

g There is no outward or corporall thing, which entreth into man, that can defile him: meaning chiefly of meates, which if they be taken excessiuely, it commeth of the inordinate lust of the heart, and so the lust is euill.

16 ‖ If any haue eares to heare, let him heare.

17 And when he came into an house away from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable.

18 And hee sayd vnto them, What? are ye without vnderstanding also? Doe ye not knowe that whatsoeuer thing from without entreth into a man, cannot defile him, 19 Because it entreth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, which is the purging of all meates?

20 Then he sayd, That which commeth out of man, that defileth man.

21 * For from within, euen out of the heart of men, proceede euill thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, Gen. 6.5. and 8.21.

22 Thefts, couetousnesse, wickednesse, deceit, ‖ vncleannesse, ‖ a wicked eye, backbiting, pride, foolishnesse.

‖Or, wantonnesse. ‖Or, enuie.

23 All these euill things come from within, and defile a man.

24 ¶ * And from thence he rose, and went into Matth. 15.21.

into the borders of Tyrus and Sidon, and entred into an house, and would that no man should haue knowen: but hee could not be hid.

25 For a certaine woman, whose little daughter had an vncleane spirit, heard of him, and came, and fell at his feet.

26 (And the woman was a Greeke, a Syrophenitian by nation) and she besought him that hee would cast out the deuill out of her daughter.

27 But Iesus saide vnto her, Let the [k] children first be fed: for it is not good to take the childrens bread, and to cast it vnto [i] whelps.

28 Then she answered, and said vnto him, Trueth, Lord: yet indeed the whelps eate vnder the table of the childrens [k] crumbes.

29 Then he said vnto her, For this saying goe thy way: the deuill is gone out of thy daughter.

30 And when shee was come home to her house, she found the deuill departed, and her daughter lying on the bed.

31 ¶ And hee departed againe from the coasts of Tyrus and Sidon, and came vnto the sea of Galile, through the middes of the coasts of Decapolis.

32 And they brought vnto him one that was deafe, and stambred in his speech, and prayed him to put his hand vpon him.

33 Then he tooke him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers in his eares, and did spit, and touched his tongue.

34 And looking vp to heauen, he [l] sighed and said vnto him, Ephphata, that is, Be opened.

35 And straightway his eares were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plaine.

36 And hee commanded them that they should tell no man: but how much soeuer he forbade them, the more a great deale they published it, 37 And were beyond measure astonied, saying, [m] He hath done all things well: he maketh both the deafe to heare, & the dumbe to speake.

CHAP. VIII.

2 The miracle of the seuen loaues. 11 The Pharises aske a signe. 15 The leauen of the Pharises. 22 The blind receiueth his sight. 29 He was known of his disciples. 33 He reproueth Peter, 34 and sheweth how necessarie perfection is.

IN [*] those dayes, when there was a very great multitude, and had nothing to eate, Iesus called his disciples to him, and saide vnto them,

2 I [a] haue compassion on the multitude, because they haue now continued with mee three dayes, and haue nothing to eat.

3 And if I send them away fasting to their owne houses, they would faint by the way: for some of them came from farre.

4 Then his disciples answered him, ‖How can a man satisfie these [b] with bread here in the wildernesse?

5 And he asked them, How many loaues haue ye? And they sayd, Seuen

6 Then he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground: and he tooke the seuen loaues, and gaue thankes, brake them, and gaue to his disciples to set before them, and they did set them before the people.

7 They had also a few small fishes. and when he had giuen thankes, he commanded them also to be set before them.

8 So they did eat, and were sufficed, and they tooke vp of the broken meate that was left, seuen baskets full,

9 (And they that had eaten, were about foure thousand) so he sent them away.

10 ¶ [*] And anon hee entred into a ship with his disciples, and came into the parts of [c] Dalmanutha.

11 [*] And the Pharises came forth, and began to dispute with him, seeking of him a signe from heauen, and tempting him.

12 Then he [d] sighed deeply in his spirit, and sayd, Why doth this [e] generation seeke a signe? verily I say vnto you ‖[f] a signe shall not be giuen vnto this generation.

13 ¶ So he left them, and went into the ship againe, and departed to the other side.

14 ¶ [*] And they had forgotten to take bread, neither had they in the ship with them but one loafe.

15 And he charged them, saying, Take heed, and beware of the leauen of the Pharises, and of the leauen of Herod.

16 And they thought among themselues, saying, It is, because we haue no bread.

17 And when Iesus knew it, he sayd vnto them, Why reason you thus because yee haue no bread? perceiue yee not yet, neither vnderstand? haue yee your hearts yet hardened?

18 Haue yee eyes and see not? and haue yee eares and heare not? and doe yee not remember?

19 [*] When I brake the fiue loaues among fiue thousand, how many baskets full of broken meat tooke yee vp? they said vnto him, Twelue.

20 And when I brake seuen among foure thousand, how many baskets of the leauings of broken meat tooke yee vp? and they sayd, Seuen.

21 Then hee sayd vnto them, [h] How is it that ye vnderstand not?

22 ¶ And he came to Bethsaida, and they brought a blinde man vnto him, and desired him to touch him.

23 Then he tooke the blinde by the hand, and led him out of the towne, and spet in his eyes, and put his hands vpon him, and asked him, if he saw ought.

24 And he looked vp, and said, I see men: for I see them walking like trees.

25 After that, hee put his handes againe vpon his eyes, and made him looke againe. And hee was restored to his sight, and saw euery man afarre off clearely.

26 And hee sent him home to his house, saying, Neither goe into the towne, nor tell it to any in the towne.

27 ¶ [*] And Iesus went out, and his disciples, into the townes of Cesarea Philippi. And by the way hee asked his disciples, saying vnto them, Whom doe men say that I am?

28 And they answered, Some say, John Baptist: and some, Elias: and some, one of the Prophets.

29 And he sayd vnto them, But whom say yee that I am? Then Peter answered and said vnto him, Thou art the i Christ.

30 And hee sharply k charged them that concerning him they should tell no man.

31 Then he began to teach them that the Sonne of man must suffer many things, and should be reproued of the Elders, and of the high Priests, and of the Scribes, & be slain, and within three dayes rise againe.

32 And he spake that thing plainly. Then Peter tooke him aside, and began to rebuke him.

33 Then he turned backe, and looked on his disciples, and rebuked Peter, saying, Get thee behinde me, l Satan: for thou vnderstandest not the things that are of God, but the things that are of men.

34 ¶ And he called the people vnto him, with his Disciples, and sayde vnto them, *Whosoeuer will follow mee, let him forsake himselfe, and take vp his crosse, and follow me.

Matth. 17. 1. luke 9. 28.

2 * And sixe dayes after, Iesus tooke Peter, and James, and John, and brought them vp into an high mountaine out of the way alone, and he was transfigured before them.

3 And his raiment did b shine, and was very white as snow, so white as no fuller can make vpon the earth.

b Christ sheweth his maiestie so farre as their infirmitie was able to comprehend it.

4 And there appeared vnto them Elias with Moses, and they were talking with Iesus.

5 Then Peter answered, and said to Iesus, Master, it is good for vs to bee here: let vs make also three Tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

c Peter measured this vision according to his owne capacitie, not considering the end thereof, 6 c For hee knew not what hee sayd: for they were afraid.

7 And there was a cloude that shadowed them, and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, * This is my beloued Sonne, d heare him.

8 And suddenly they looked round about, and sawe no more any man saue Iesus onely with them.

9 * And as they came downe from the mountaine, he charged them that they should tell no man what they had seene, saue when the Sonne of man were risen from the dead againe.

10 So they kept that matter to themselues, & demanded one of another, what the rising from the dead againe should meane.

11 Also they asked him, saying, Why say the Scribes, That * Elias e must first come?

12 And he answered, and said vnto them, Elias verely shall first come, and restore all things: and * as it is written of the Sonne of man, he must suffer many things, and be set at nought.

13 But I say vnto you, that f Elias is come, (and they haue done vnto him whatsoeuer they would) as it is written of him.

14 ¶ * And when hee came to his g disciples, hee saw a great multitude about them, and the Scribes disputing with them.

15 And straightway all the people, when they beheld him, were amased, and ranne to him, and saluted him.

16 Then hee asked the Scribes, What dispute you ‖ among your selues?

17 And one of the companie answered, and said, Master, I haue brought my sonne vnto thee, which hath a dumbe spirit:

18 And whersoeuer hee taketh him, hee h teareth him, and bee foameth, and gnasheth his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples, that they should cast him out, and they could not.

19 Then he answered him, and sayd, i O faithlesse generation, how long now shall I bee with you? How long now shall I suffer you? Bring him vnto me.

n Meaning, the childe.

26 Then the spirit cryed, & rent him sore and came out, and n he was as one dead, in so much that many said, Hee is dead.

27 But Iesus tooke h is hand, and lift him vp, and he rose.

28 And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him secretly, Why could not we cast him out?

29 And he said vnto them, This kinde can by no other meanes come forth, but by o prayer and fasting.

o Meaning, that prayer which is surely grounded vpon faith and hath fasting ioyned vnto it as a profitable aide. Matth. 17. 22. Iuke 9. 22.

30 ¶ *And they departed thence, and went through Galile, and he would not that any should haue knowen it.

31 For he taught his disciples, and said vnto them, The sonne of man shall be deliuered into the hands of men, and they shall kill him, but after that he is killed, hee shall rise againe the third day.

32 But p they vnderstood not that saying, and were afraid to aske him.

p Because they imagined that Christ should reigne temporally, this matter of his death was so strange, that they could perceiue nothing. Matth. 18. 1. Iuke 9. 46.

33 *After hee came to Capernaum: and when he was in the house, hee asked them, What was it that yee disputed among you by the way?

34 And they held their peace: for by the way they reasoned among themselues, who should be the chiefest.

35 And hee sate downe, and called the twelue, and said to them, If any man desire to be first, the same shall be last of all, and seruant vnto all.

36 And he tooke a little child, and set him in the middes of them, and tooke him in his armes, and said vnto them, 37 Whosoeuer shall receiue one of such little children in my Name, receiueth mee: and whosoeuer receiueth mee, receiueth not q me, but him that sent me.

q To wit, onely as man, but as him in whome is all perfection and fulnes of all graces and benefits. Luke 9. 49. 1. Cor. 12. 3. ‖ Or, any great worke.

38 ¶ *Then Iohn answered him, saying, Master, wee saw one casting out deuils by thy Name, which followed not vs, and wee forbade him, because hee followeth vs not.

r Although he shew not himselfe to bee mine, yet in that he beareth reuerence to my name it is ynough for vs. Matth. 10. 42. Matth. 18. 6. Iuke 17. 1, 2. Matth. 5. 30. and 18. 8.

39 *But Iesus sayde, Forbid him not: for there is no man that can doe a ‖ miracle by my Name, that can lightly speake euill of me.

40 For whosoeuer is not r against vs, is on our part.

41 *And whosoeuer shall giue you a cup of water to drinke for my Names sake, because ye belong to Christ, verely I say vnto you, he shall not lose his reward.

42 *And whosoeuer shall offend one of these little ones, that beleeue in mee, it were better for him rather, that a millstone were hanged about his necke, and that hee were cast into the sea.

43 *Wherefore, if thine s hand cause thee to offend, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter into life maymed, then hauing two hands, to go into hell, into the fire that neuer shall be quenched, s It is a maner of speech, which signifieth, that we should cut off all things, which hinder vs to serue Christ. Isa. 66. 24.

44 *Where their t worme dieth not, and the fire neuer goeth out.

45 Likewise, if thy foot cause thee to offend, cut it off: it is better for thee to go halt into life, then hauing two feet to be cast into hell, into the fire that neuer shall be quenched, t These similitudes declare the paines, and eternall torments of the damned.

46 Where their worme dieth not, and the fire neuer goeth out.

47 And if thine eye cause thee to offend, plucke it out: it is better for thee to goe into the kingdome of God with one eye, then hauing two eyes, to be cast into hell fire,

48 Where their worme dieth not, and the fire neuer goeth out.

49 For euery man shall be n salted with fire: and * euery sacrifice shall be salted with salt.

n He teacheth that it is better to be sacrificed to God by salt and fire, that is, to be purged and sanctified, then to be sent into hell fire. Leuit. 2. 13. Math. 5. 13. Iuke 14. 34.

50 * Salt is good: but if the x salt be vnsauery, wherewith shall it be seasoned? Haue salt in your selues, and haue peace one with another.

x They which destroy the grace that they haue receiued of God, are as salt, which hath lost his sauour, and are worse then infidels:

Matth. 19. 16. Luke 18. 18.

way, there came one * running, and kneeling to him, and asked him, Good Master, what shall I doe, that I may possesse eternal life?

18 Jesus said to him, Why callest thou me good? there is none e good but one, euen God.

e Christ would shew that his goodnesse was farre otherwise then the goodnesse which is attributed to men, which is full of vanitie and hypocrisie.

19 Thou knowest the commandements, * Thou shalt not commit adulterie. Thou shalt not kill. Thou shalt not steale. Thou shalt not beare false witnesse. Thou shalt hurt no man. Honour thy father and mother.

Exod. 20. 13.

20 Then hee answered, and sayd to him, Master, all these thinges I haue obserued from my youth.

f That is, hee approued certaine good seed that was in him, which gaue him a little motion.

21 And Jesus beholde him, and f loued him, and sayd vnto him, One thing is lacking vnto thee, Goe and g sell all that thou hast, and giue to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come, follow me, and take vp the crosse.

g He toucheth his maladie and sore, which before he felt not.

22 But he was sad at that saying, and went away sorowfull: for he had great possessions.

23 And Jesus looked round about, and said vnto his disciples, How hardly doe they that haue riches, enter into the kingdome of God?

§ Or, cable rope.

24 And his disciples were astonied at his words. But Jesus answered againe, and said vnto them, Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches, to enter into the kingdome of God!

h Which putteth his trust in riches.

25 It is easier for a § camel to go thorow the eye of a needle, then for a h rich man to enter into the kingdome of God.

i For he can giue grace to the rich to cause him to enioy his riches as if he had them not.

Matth. 19. 27. Luke 18. 28.

26 And they were much more astonied, saying with themselues, Who then can be saued?

k We must not measure these promises by our owne couetous desires, but referre the accomplishment to Gods will, who euen in our persecutions and afflictions performeth the same so farre as they bee expedient. Let vs therefore learne to haue enough and to want, that being tried, wee may enioy our treasures in heauen.

27 But Jesus looked vpon them, and said, With men it is impossible, but not with God; for with God i all thinges are possible.

Matth. 19. 30. Luke 13. 30.

28 ¶ * Then Peter began to say vnto him, Loe, we haue forsaken all, and haue followed thee.

l He saith this because they that are first called, should goe still forward and not disdaine others.

29 Jesus answered, and sayd, Verily I say vnto you, there is no man that hath forsaken house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or landes for my sake and the Gospels,

Matth. 19. 29. Luke 18. 29.

30 But he shall receiue an hundreth fold now at this present: houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands with k persecutions, and in the world to come eternall life.

Matth. 20 17. Luke 18. 31.

31 But many that are l first, shall be last, and the last, first.

32 ¶ * And they were in the way going vp to Jerusalem, and Jesus went before them, and they were amazed, and as they followed, they were afraide, and Jesus tooke the twelue againe, and beganne to tell them what thinges should come vnto him, 33 Saying, Behold, wee goe vp to Jerusalem, and the Sonne of man shall be deliuered vnto the hie Priests, & to the Scribes, and they shall condemne him to death, and shall deliuer him to the Gentiles.

34 And they shal mocke him, and scourge him, and spit vpon him, and kil him: but the third day, he shall rise againe.

35 ¶ * Then James and John the sonnes of Zebedeus came vnto him, saying, Master, we would that thou shouldest do for vs that that we desire.

Matth. 20. 20.

36 And he said vnto them, What would ye I should doe for you?

37 And they said vnto him, Graunt vnto vs, that wee may sit one at thy right hand, and the other at thy left hand in thy glory.

38 But Jesus said vnto them, Yee know not what yee aske. Can yee m drinke of the cup that I shall drinke of, and be baptized with the baptisme that I shall bee baptized with?

m Can you be partakers of my crosse and afflictions?

39 And they sayd vnto him, We can. But Jesus said vnto them, Yee shall drinke in deed of the cup that I shall drinke of, and be baptized with the baptisme wherewith I shalbe baptized.

40 But to sit at my right hand, and at my left, is not n mine to giue, but it shalbe giuen to them for whom it is prepared.

n I haue not this commission for this time.

41 And when the ten heard that, they began to disdaine at James and John.

42 But Jesus called them vnto him, and sayd to them, * Yee know that they which delight to beare rule among the Gentiles, haue domination ouer them, and they that be great among them, exercise authority ouer them.

Luke 22. 25.

43 But it shall o not bee so among you: but whosoeuer will be great among you, shal be your seruant.

o Christ would not that his disciples and ministers should beare rule as worldly gouernours doe.

44 And whosoeuer will be chiefe of you, shalbe the seruant of all.

45 For euen the Sonne of man came not to be serued, but to serue, and to giue his life for the ransome of many.

46 ¶ * Then they came to Jericho: and as hee went out of Jericho with his disciples, and a great multitude, p Bartimeus the sonne of Timeus, a blinde man, sate by the way side begging.

Matth. 20. 29. Luke 18. 35.

p The other Euangelists mention two, but Marke nameth him that was most knowen.

47 And when hee heard that it was Jesus of Nazaret, hee began to cry and to say, Jesus the Sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on mee.

48 And many rebuked him, because hee should hold his peace: but hee q cryed much more, O Sonne of Dauid haue mercie on mee.

q The more that Satan resisteth vs, the more our faith ought to increase.

49 Then Jesus stood still, and commanded him to bee called: and they called the blinde, saying vnto him, Bee of good comfort: arise, he calleth thee.

50 So he threw away his cloke, and rose, and came to Jesus.

51 And Jesus answered, and sayd vnto him, What wilt thou that I doe vnto thee? And the blind sayd vnto him, Lord, that I may receiue light.

52 Then Jesus sayd vnto him, Goe thy way: thy faith hath saued thee. And by and by hee receiued his sight, and followed Jesus in the way.

of the Temple. 24 Hee declareth the vertue of faith, and how we should pray. 27 The Pharises question with Christ.

Matth.21.1. luke 19.29.

AND * when they came neere to Jerusalem, to Bethphage and Bethanie vnto the mount of Oliues, hee sent foorth two of his disciples,

2 Christ sheweth by this poore entry the estate of his kingdome, and it is not like to the great magnificence of this world.

2 And sayd vnto them, [a] Goe your wayes into that towne that is ouer against you, and assoone as yee shall enter into it, ye shall finde a colt bound, whereon neuer man sate: loose him, and bring him.

3 And if any man say vnto you, Why doe yee this? Say that the Lord hath neede of him, and straightway hee will send him hither.

4 And they went their way, and found a colt tyed by the doore without, in a place where two wayes mette, and they loosed him.

5 Then certaine of them that stood there, sayd vnto them, What doe yee loosing the colt?

6 And they said vnto them as Jesus had commanded them. So they let them goe.

John 12.14.

7 ¶ * And they brought the colt to Jesus, and cast their garments on him, and he sate vpon him.

b Euery one shewed some signe of honour and reuerence.

8 And [b] many spread their garments in the way: other cut downe branches off the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 And they that went before, and they that followed, cryed, saying, ‖ Hosanna, Blessed be he that commeth in the Name of the Lord.

‖ Or, saue I pray thee.

10 Blessed bee the kingdome that commeth in the [c] Name of the Lord of our father [d] Dauid: Hosanna, O thou which art in the highest heauens.

c Many came in their own name, but Christ came in the Name of the Lord.

d Because the promise was made to him. Matth.21.10. luke 19.45. Matth.21.19.

11 * So Jesus entred into Jerusalem, and into the Temple: and when hee had looked about on all things, and now it was euening, he went forth vnto Bethania with the twelue.

e Christ was subiect to our infirmities.

12 * And on the morrow when they were come out from Bethania, hee was [e] hungry, 13 And seeing a fig tree a farre off, that had leaues, he went to see if hee might finde any thing thereon: but when hee came vnto it, he found nothing but leaues: for the time of figs was not yet.

f This was to declare how much they displease God, which haue but an outward shew and appearance without fruit.

14 Then Jesus answered, and sayd to it, [f] Neuer man eate fruite of thee hereafter while the world standeth: and his disciples heard it.

Isa.56.7. Jerem.7 11.

15 ¶ And they came to Jerusalem, and Jesus went into the Temple, and began to cast out them that solde and bought in the Temple, and ouerthrew the Tables of the money changers, and the seats of them that sold doues.

g For neither could they suffer reprehension, nor that their profit should bee hindered.

16 Neither would he suffer that any man should carry a vessell thorow the Temple.

17 And hee taught, saying vnto them, Is it not written, * Mine house shall bee called the house of prayer vnto all nations? * but you haue made it a denne of theeues.

18 And the Scribes & hie Priests heard it, and sought how to [g] destroy him: for they feared him, because the whole multitude was astonied at his doctrine.

19 But when euen was come, Iesus went out of the city.

20 ¶ * And in the morning as they passed by, they saw the figge tree dryed vp from the rootes. Mat.21.19,20.

21 Then Peter remembred, and said vnto him, Master, behold, the figge tree which thou cursedst, is withered.

22 And Jesus answered, and sayd vnto them, Haue [h] faith in God.

h Christ taketh occasion to instruct them of the vertue of faith.

23 For verily I say vnto you, that whosoeuer shall say vnto this mountaine, Take thy selfe away, and cast thy selfe into the sea, and shall not waner in his heart, but shal beleeue that those things which he saith shall come to passe, whatsoeuer he saith, shall be done to him.

24 * Therefore I say vnto you, [i] whatsoeuer ye desire when ye pray, beleeue that yee shall haue it, and it shall be done vnto you. Matth.7 7. luke 11.9.

i He teacheth vs not hereby to aske whatsoeuer seemeth good in our fantasies: for our prayer must be grounded on faith, and our faith vpon the word of God. Matth.6.14. Matth.21.23, luke 20.1,2.

25 * But when yee shall stand, and pray, forgiue, if yee haue any thing against any man, that your Father also which is in heauen, may forgiue you your trespasses.

26 For if you will not forgiue, your Father which is in heauen will not pardon you your trespasses.

27 ¶ * Then they came againe to Jerusalem: & as he walked in the Temple, there came to him the hie Priests, & the Scribes, and the Elders, 28 And sayd vnto him, By what authoritie doest thou these things? and who gaue thee this authoritie, that thou shouldest doe these things?

29 Then Jesus answered, and sayd vnto them, I will also aske of you a certaine thing, and answere ye me, and I will tel you by what authoritie I doe these things.

30 The [k] baptisme of Iohn, was it from heauen, or of men? answere me.

k He comprehendeth his whole office and ministerie.

31 And they thought with themselues, saying, If wee shall say, From heauen, hee will say, Why then did ye not beleeue him?

32 But if wee say, Of men, wee feare the people: for all men counted Iohn, that hee had beene a very Prophet.

l They came of malice, and not to learne: therefore Christ thought them vnworthy to be taught.

33 Then they answered & sayd vnto Jesus, Wee cannot tell. And Jesus answered and sayd vnto them, [l] Neither will I tell you by what authority I doe these things.

3 But they tooke him, and beat him, and sent him away empty.

4 And againe, he sent vnto them another seruant, and at him they cast stones, and brake his head, and sent him away shamefully handled.

5 And againe, hee sent another, and him they slew, and many other, beating some, and killing some.

6 Yet had he one sonne, his deare beloued: him also he sent the last vnto them, saying, They will reuerence my sonne.

7 But the husbandmen sayde among themselues, This is the heire: come, let vs kill him, and the inheritance shalbe ours.

8 So they tooke him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.

9 What shall then the Lord of the vineyard doe? Hee [b] will come and destroy these husbandmen, and giue the vineyard to others.

10 Haue yee not read so much as this scripture? *The stone which the builders did refuse, is made the head of the corner:

11 This [c] was done of the Lord, and it is marueilous in our eyes.

12 Then they went about to take him, but they feared the people: for they perceiued that he spake that parable against them: therefore they left him, and went their way.

13 ¶ *And they sent vnto him certaine of the Pharises, and of the Herodians, that they might take him in his talke.

14 And when they came, they said vnto him, Master, wee know that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou considerest not the [d] person of men, but teachest the [e] way of God truely. Is it lawfull to giue tribute to Cesar, or not?

15 Should we giue it, or should wee not giue it? But hee knew their hypocrisie, and sayd vnto them, [f] Why tempt ye me? Bring me a peny, that I may see it.

16 So they brought it, and he said vnto them, Whose is this image and superscription? and they said vnto him, Cesars.

17 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto them, *Giue to Cesar the thinges that are Cesars, and to God, those that are Gods: and they marueiled at him.

18 ¶ *Then came the Sadduces vnto him, (which say there is no resurrection) [g] & they asked him, saying, 19 Master, *Moses wrote vnto vs, If any mans brother die, and leaue his wife, and leaue no children, that [g] his brother should take his wife, and raise vp seed vnto his brother.

20 There were seuen brethren, & the first tooke a wife, and when he died, left no issue.

21 Then the second tooke her, and hee died, neither did he yet leaue issue, and the third likewise.

22 So seuen had her, and left no issue: last of all the wife died also.

23 In the resurrection then, when they shall rise againe, whose wife shall she bee of them? for seuen had her to wife.

24 Then Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them, Are yee not therefore deceiued, because yee know not the Scriptures, neither the power of God?

25 For when they shall rise againe from the dead, neither men marry, nor wiues are married, but are * as the Angels which are in heauen.

26 And as touching the dead, that they shall rise againe, haue yee not read in the booke of Moses, how in the bush God spake vnto him, saying, I * am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob?

27 Ye is not the God of the dead, but the God of the [i] liuing. Ye are therefore greatly deceiued.

28 ¶ *Then came one of the Scribes, that had heard them disputing together, and perceiuing that he had answered them wel, he asked him, Which is the first commaundement of all?

29 Iesus answered him, The first of all the commandements is, *Heare, Israel, the Lord our God is the onely Lord.

30 Thou shalt therefore loue the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soule, & with all thy ‖ mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandement.

31 And the second [k] is like, that is, *Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe. There is none other commandement greater then these.

32 Then the Scribe said vnto him, Well Master, thou hast said the trueth, that there is one God, and that there is none but he,

33 And to loue him with al the heart, and with all the vnderstanding, and with al the soule, and with all the strength, and to loue his neighbour as himselfe, is more then all burnt [l] offerings and sacrifices.

CHAP. XIII.

2 The destruction of Ierusalem. 10 The Gospel shalbe preached to all. 9. 22 The persecution, and false prophets which shall be before the comming of Christ, whose houre is vncertaine. 33 He exhorteth euery one to watch.

Matth.24.1. luke 21.5.

AND *as he went out of the Temple, one of his disciples said vnto him, Master, see what stones, & what buildings are here.

Luke 19.43, 44.

2 *Then Iesus answered and said vnto him, Seest thou these great buildings? there shall not be left one stone vpon a stone, that shall not be throwen downe.

3 And as he sate on the mount of oliues, ouer against the Temple, Peter, & James, and John, and Andrew asked him secretly, 4 Tell vs, when shal these things be, and what shall be the signe when all these things shall be fulfilled?

5 And Iesus answered them, & began to say, *a Take heed lest any man deceiue you.

6 For many shal come in my Name, saying, I b am Christ, and shall deceiue many.

7 Furthermore, when yee shall heare of warres, and rumours of warres, bee ye not troubled: for such things must needs be: but the end shall not be yet.

8 For nation shal rise against nation, and kingdome against kingdome, and there shal be earthquakes in diuers quarters: & there shalbe famine and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorrowes.

9 But take yee heed to your selues: for they shal deliuer you vp to the Councils, and to the Synagogues: ye shall be beaten, and brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a c testimonial vnto them.

10 And the Gospel must first be published among all nations.

11 *But when they leade you, and deliuer you vp, take yee d no thought afore, neither premeditate e what yee shall say: but whatsoeuer is giuen you at the same time, that speake: for it is not yee that speake, but the holy Ghost.

12 Yea, and the brother shall deliuer the brother to death, and the father the sonne, and the children shall rise against their parents, and shall cause them to die.

13 And ye shall be hated of all men for my Names sake: but whosoeuer shall endure vnto the end, he shalbe saued.

14 *Moreouer, when ye shall see the abomination of desolation (spoken of by *Daniel the Prophet) f standing where it ought not, (let him that readeth, consider it) *then let them that bee in Iudea, flee into the g mountaines.

15 And let him that is vpon the house, not come downe into the house, neither enter therein, to fetch any thing out of his house.

16 And let him that is in the fielde, not turne backe againe vnto the things which he left behinde him, to take his clothes.

17 Then woe shalbe to them that are with h childe, and to them that giue sucke in those dayes.

18 i Pray therefore that your flight bee not in the winter.

19 For there shall bee in those dayes such tribulation, as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created vnto this time, neither shall be.

20 And except that the Lord had shortened those dayes, no flesh should bee saued: but for the elects sake, which he hath chosen, he hath shortened those dayes.

21 Then *if any man say to you, Loe, here is Christ, or, Loe, he is there, beleeue it not.

22 For false Christs shall arise, and false prophets, and shal shew signes and wonders to deceiue, if it were k possible, the very elect.

23 But take ye heed: behold, I haue shewed you all things l before.

24 Moreouer *in those daies, after that tribulation, the Sonne shal ware darke, and the Moone shall not giue her light, 25 And the m starres of heauen shal fall: & the powers which are in heauen, shall shake.

26 And then shall they see the Sonne of man comming in the cloudes, with great power and glory.

27 *And hee shall then send his Angels, and shall gather together his elect from the foure winds, and from the vtmost part of the earth, to the vtmost part of heauen.

28 Now learne a parable of the fig tree. When her bough is yet tender, and it bringeth foorth leaues, yee know that Sommer is neere.

29 So in like maner, when yee see these things come to passe, know that the kingdom of God is neere, euen at the doores.

30 Verily I say vnto you, that this n generation shall not passe, till all these things be done.

31 Heauen and earth shal passe away, but my words shall not passe away.

32 But of that o day & houre knoweth no man, no, not the Angels which are in heaue, neither the p Son himselfe, saue the Father.

33 *Take heede: watch, and pray: for ye know not when the time is.

34 For the Sonne of man is as a man going into a strange country, & leaueth his house, and giueth authoritie to his seruants, and to euery man his worke, and commandeth the porter to watch.

35 q Watch therefore, (for yee know not when the Master of the house will come, at euen, or at midnight, at the cocke crowing, or in the dawning)

36 Lest if he come suddenly, hee should finde you sleeping.

37 And those things that I say vnto you, I say vnto all men, Watch.

take him by craft, and put him to death.

2 But they said, Not in the feast day, lest there be any tumult among the people.

Matth.26.6. iohn 12.1.

3 *And when he was in Bethania in the house of Simon the leper, as he sate at table, there came a woman hauing a boxe of oyntment of ‖ spikenard very costly, & she brake the boxe, and powred it on his head.

‖ Or, of pure nard, and faithfully made.

4 Therefore a some disdained among themselues, and said, To what ende is this waste of oyntment?

a As Iudas who caused this murmuring.

5 For it might haue bene solde for more then b three hundreth pence, & bene giuen vnto the poore, and they grudged against her.

b Which are in value about sixe pound sterling.

6 But Iesus saide, Let her alone: why trouble yee her? shee hath wrought a good worke on me.

c To wit, Iudas: who was offended therewith, and therefore made a businesse.

7 For ye haue the poore with you alwaies, and when ye will ye may do them good, but me ye shall not haue alwayes.

8 She hath done that she could: she came afore hand to anoint my body to the burying.

9 Verily I say vnto you, Whersoeuer this Gospel shalbe preached throughout the whole world, this also that shee hath done, shall be spoken of in remembrance of her.

Matth.26.14. luke 22.4.

10 ¶ * Then Iudas Iscariot one of the twelue, d went away vnto the hie Priests to betray him vnto them.

d He tooke occasion by this oyntment as of a thing euil done.

11 And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised that they would giue him money: therefore he sought how he might conueniently betray him.

Matth.26.17. luke 22.7,8.

12 ¶ * Now the first day of vnleauened bread, when they sacrificed the Passeouer, his disciples said vnto him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare, that thou mayest eat the Passeouer?

13 Then he sent forth two of his disciples, and said vnto them, Go ye into the city, and there shall a man meet you, bearing a pitcher of water: follow him.

14 And whithersoeuer he goeth in, say ye to the goodman of the house, The Master saith, Where is the lodging where I shall eat the Passeouer with my disciples?

15 And he will shew you an vpper chamber which is large, trimmed and prepared: there make it ready for vs.

16 So his disciples went forth, and came to the city, and found as hee had said vnto them, and made ready the Passeouer.

Matth.26.20. luke 22.14. iohn 13.21.

e To dippe the hand, is as much to say, as he that is accustomed to eate with me. Psal.41.9. iohn 13.18. Matth.26.24. acts.1.16.

18 *And as they sate at table and did eat, Iesus said, Verily I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray mee, which eateth with mee.

19 Then they began to be sorowfull, and to say to him one by one, Is it I? and another, Is it I?

20 And he answered and said vnto them, It is one of the twelue that f * dippeth with me in the platter.

f This declareth that nothing can be done without Gods prouidēce. Matth 26.26. 1. cor.11.24.

g Reade Matth. chap. 26.26.

22 *And as they did eate, Iesus h tooke the bread, and when he had giuen thankes, he brake it and gaue to them, and said, Take, eate, this is my body.

23 Also he tooke the cup, and when he had h giuen thanks, gaue it to them: and they all dranke of it.

h The Greeke word is to blesse, which is here taken onely to giue thanks, as S. Luke and S. Paul interpret it, and Saint Marke also speaking of the cup.

24 And he sayd vnto them, This is my blood of the new Testament, which is shed for many.

25 Verily I say vnto you, I will drinke no more of the fruit of the vine, vntill that day that I drinke it new in the kingdome of God.

26 And when they had sung a Psalme, they went out to the mount of Olives.

27 ¶ * Then Iesus said vnto them, All ye shall be i offended by me this night: for it is written, * I will smite the Shepheard, and the sheepe shall be scattered.

Iohn 16.32.

i That is, turned from me, because of the persecution.

Zech.13.7. Chap.16.7.

29 And Peter sayd vnto him, Although all men should bee offended, yet would not I.

30 Then Iesus sayd vnto him, Verily I say vnto thee, this day, euen in this night, before the cocke crow twise, thou shalt deny me thrise.

31 But hee sayd more earnestly, If I should die with thee, I will not deny thee: likewise also sayd they all.

32 ¶ * After, they came into a place named Gethsemane: then he sayd to his disciples, Sit ye here, till I haue prayed.

Matth.26.36. luke 22.39.

k His diuinitie was as it were hid, and his humanitie shewed it selfe fully.

34 And sayd vnto them, My soule is very heauy, euen vnto the death: tary here and watch.

35 So hee went forward a little, and fell downe on the ground, and prayed, that if it were possible, that houre might passe from him.

36 And he said, l Abba Father, all things are possible vnto thee: take away this cup from me: Neuertheless, not that I will, but that thou m wilt, be done.

l Ab in Ebrew, and Abba in the Syrian tongue, signifieth father.

m He standeth not so to his own will, but that willingly he offereth himselfe to obey God.

37 Then he came & found them sleeping, and sayd to Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest not thou watch one houre?

38 ¶ Watch ye, and pray, that ye enter not into tentation: the spirit in deed is ready, but the flesh is weake.

39 And againe he went away, and prayed, and spake the same words.

40 And hee returned, and found them asleepe againe: for their eyes were heauy: neither knew they what they should answere him.

41 And he came the third time, and sayd vnto them, n Sleepe hencefoorth, and take your rest: it is ynough: the houre is come: behold, the Sonne of man is deliuered into the hands of sinners.

n He meaneth that the houre wil come when they shalbe kept from sleeping.

42 Rise vp: let vs goe: loe, he that betrayeth me, is at hand.

43 * And immediatly, while he yet spake, came Iudas that was one of the twelue, and with him a great multitude with swordes and staues from the hie Priestes & Scribes, and Elders.

25 And it was g the third houre when they crucified him.

26 And the title of his cause was written aboue, THE KING OF THE IEWES.

27 They crucified also with him two theeues, the one on the right hand, and the other on his left.

28 Thus the Scripture was fulfilled, which sayth, *And he was counted among the wicked.

29 And they that went by, railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying,* Vey thou that destroyest the Temple, and buildest it in three dayes, 30 Saue thy selfe, and come downe from the crosse.

31 Likewise also euen the high Priests mocking, sayd among themselues with the Scribes, Hee saued other men, himselfe hee cannot saue.

32 Let Christ the King of Israel nowe come downe from the crosse, that wee may see, and beleeue. h They also that were crucified with him, reuiled him.

33 ¶ Now when the sixt houre was come, darkenesse arose ouer i all the land vntill the ninth houre.

34 And at the k ninth houre Iesus cryed with a loude voyce, saying, *Eloi, Eloi, lamma-sabachthani? which is by interpretation, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

35 And some of them that stood by when they heard it, sayd, ! Beholde, hee calleth Elias.

36 And one ran, and filled * a sponge full of vineger, and put it on a reede, & gaue him to drinke, saying, Let him alone: let vs see if Elias will come and take him downe.

37 And Iesus cried with a loude voyce, and gaue vp the ghost.

38 ¶ And the vaile of the Temple was rent in twaine, from the top to the bottome.

39 Now when the m Centurion, which stood ouer against him, saw that he thus cryed, gaue vp the ghost, he sayd, Truely this man was the sonne of God.

40 ¶ There were also women, which beheld a farre off, among whom was Marie Magdalene, & Marie the mother of James the lesse, and of Ioses, and Salome, 41 Which also when hee was in Galile, *followed him, and ministred vnto him, and many other women which came vp with him vnto Ierusalem.

42 ¶ * And now when night was come, (because it was the day of the preparation, that is before the Sabbath)

43 Ioseph of Arimathea, an n honourable Counsellour, which also looked for the kingdome of God, came, and went in o boldly vnto Pilate, and asked the body of Iesus.

44 And Pilate marueiled if he were already dead, & called vnto him the Centurion, and asked of him whether hee had beene any while dead.

45 And when hee knew the trueth of the Centurion, he gaue the body to Ioseph, 46 Who bought a linnen cloth, and tooke him downe, and wrapped him in the linnen cloth, and layde him in a tombe that was hewen out of a rock, and rolled a stone vnto the doore of the sepulchre.

47 And Mary Magdalene, and Marie Ioses mother beheld where he should be laid.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The women come to the graue. 9 Christ being risen againe appeareth to Magdalene, 14 also to the eleuen, and reproueth their vnbeliefe. 16 He committeth the preaching of the Gospel & the ministration of baptisme vnto them.

AND * when the Sabbath day was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of Iames, and Salome, bought sweete ointments, that they might come, and embaulme him.

2 Therefore early in the morning, the first day of the weeke, they came vnto the sepulchre, when the Sun was yet ‖ rising,

3 And they sayde one to another, Who shall rolle vs away the stone from the doore of the sepulchre?

4 And when they looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away (for it was a very great one.)

5 * So they went into the sepulchre, and sawe a young man sitting at the right side, clothed in a long white robe: and they were afrayd.

6 But he said vnto them, Be not afrayd: yee seeke Iesus of Nazaret, which hath bene crucified: he is risen: he is not here: behold the place where they put him.

7 But goe your way, and tell his disciples, and b Peter, that he will goe before you into Galile: there shal ye see him, * as he said vnto you.

8 And they went out quickly, and fled from the sepulchre: for they trembled, & were amazed: neyther sayd they any thing to any man; for they were afraid.

CHAP. I.

5 Of Zacharias, and Elisabet. 11 The Angel sheweth him of the nativitie of Iohn Baptist. 20 His incredulitie is punished. 28 The talke of the Angel and Mary. 46 Her song. 57 The birth, circumcision, and graces of Iohn. 68 Zacharias giueth thankes to God, and prophesieth.

FOrasmuch as many haue taken in hand to set foorth the storie of those things whereof wee are fully perswaded,

2 a As they haue deliuered them vnto vs, which from the beginning sawe them their selues, and were ministers of the b word,

3 It seemed good also to me (most noble Theophilus) alsoone as I had searched out perfectly all things from the beginning, to write vnto thee thereof from point to point,

4 That thou mightest acknowledge the certaintie of those things, whereof thou hast beene instructed.

5 ¶ In the time of c Herode King of Iudea, there was a certaine priest named Zacharias, of the d course of Abia: and his wife was of the e daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabet.

6 Both were f iust before God, and walked in all the commaundements and g ordinances of the Lord, without reproofe.

7 And they had no childe, because that Elisabet was barren: and both were well stricken in age.

8 And it came to passe, as he executed the Priests office before God, as his course came in order, 9 According to the custome of ỹ Priests office, his lot was to h burne incense, when he went into the i Temple of the Lord.

10 And the whole multitude of the people were without in prayer, * while the incense was burning.

11 Then appeared vnto him an Angel of the Lord standing at the right side of the Altar of incense.

12 And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and feare fell vpon him.

13 But the Angel said vnto him, Feare not, Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard, and thy wife Elisabet shall beare thee a sonne, and thou shalt call his name k Iohn.

14 And thou shalt haue ioy and gladnes, and many shall reioyce at his birth.

15 For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, & shal neither drinke wine, nor l strong drinke: and hee shall bee filled with the holy Ghost, euen from his mothers wombe.

16 * And many of the children of Israel shall he turne to their Lord God.

17 * For hee shall goe m before him in the spirite and power of Elias, to turne the hearts of the n fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisedome of the iust men, to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.

18 Then Zacharias said vnto the Angel, Whereby shall I know this? For I am an old man, and my wife is of a great age.

19 And the Angel answered, and said vnto him, I am o Gabriel that stand in the presence of God, and am sent to speake vnto thee, and to shew thee these good tidings.

20 And behold, thou shalt be dumbe, and not bee able to speake, vntill the p day that these things bee done, because thou beleeuedst not my words, which shall bee fulfilled in their season.

a Meaning, the Apostles with whom hee was conuersant.

b Or of the thing: and it may bee referred either to Christ, or to the Gospel: and hereby is meant, that they were the ministers of Christ, who is called the word: or ministers of the word, that is to say, of the Gospel: and this commendeth the authoritie of his doctrine, seeing he receiued it of the Apostles.

21 Now the people waited for Zacharias, and marueiled that hee taried so long in the Temple.

22 And when hee came out, hee could not speake vnto them: then they perceiued that he had seene a vision in the Temple: for hee made signes vnto them, and remained dumme.

23 And it came to passe, when the dayes of his office were fulfilled, that hee departed q to his owne house.

24 And after those dayes, his wife Elisabet conceiued, and hid her selfe fiue monthes, saying, 25 Thus hath the Lord dealt with mee, in the dayes wherein hee looked on mee, to take from me r my rebuke among men.

26 ¶ And in the sixt moneth, the Angel Gabriel was sent from God vnto a citie of Galile, named Nazaret, 27 To a virgin affianced to a man whose name was Ioseph, of the house of Dauid, and the virgins name was Marie.

28 And the Angel went in vnto her, and said, ‖ Haile thou that art ‖ freely beloued: the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she saw him, shee was troubled at his saying, and thought what maner of salutation that should be.

30 Then the Angel said vnto her, Feare not, Marie: for thou s hast found fauour with God.

31 * For loe, thou shalt conceiue in thy wombe, and beare a sonne, and shalt call his name IESVS.

32 Hee shall be great, and shall bee called the Sonne t of the most High, and the Lord God shal giue vnto him the throne of his father Dauid.

33 * And he shall reigne ouer the house of Iacob for euer, and of his kingdome shall be none ende.

34 Then sayde Marie vnto the Angel, u How shall this bee, seeing I knowe not man?

35 And the Angel answered, and said vnto her. The holy Ghost shal come vpon thee, and the power of the most High shall x ouershadow thee: therefore also that y holy thing which shall be borne of thee, shall bee called the Sonne of God.

36 And behold, thy z cousin Elisabet, shee hath also conceiued a sonne in her olde age: and this is her sixt moneth, which was called barren.

37 For with God shall nothing be vnpossible.

38 Then Marie said, Behold the seruant of the Lord: be it vnto me according to thy word. So the Angel departed from her.

39 ¶ And Marie arose in those dayes and went into the hill countrey with haste to a a citie of Iuda.

40 And entred into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elisabet.

41 And it came to passe, as Elisabet heard the salutation of Marie, the babe b sprang in her belly, and Elisabet was filled with the holy Ghost.

42 And she cried with a lowde voice, and said, Blessed art thou among women, because c the fruite of thy wombe is blessed.

43 And whence commeth this to me, that the mother of my Lord shoulde come to mee?

44 For loe, assoone as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine eares, the babe sprang in my belly for ioy.

45 And blessed is shee that beleeued: for those things shall be performed, which were told her d from the Lord.

46 Then Marie said, My e soule magnifieth the Lord, 47 And my spirit reioyceth in God my Sauiour.

48 For hee hath looked on the ‖ poore degree of his seruant: for behold, from henceforth shall all ages call me blessed.

49 Because he that is mightie, hath done for me great things, and holy is his Name.

50 And his f mercy is from generation to generation on them that feare him.

51 * Hee hath shewed strength with his arme: * hee hath scattered the proude in the h imagination of their hearts.

52 Hee hath put downe the mightie from their seates, and exalted them of low degree.

53 * He hath filled the hungrie with good things, and sent away the rich emptie.

54 * He hath vpholden Israel his seruant, being mindfull of his mercy.

55 (* As hee hath spoken to our fathers, to wit, to Abraham, and his ‖ seed) for euer.

56 ¶ And Marie abode with her about three moneths: after, shee returned to her owne house.

57 ¶ Now Elisabets time was fulfilled, that she should be deliuered, and she brought forth a sonne.

58 And her neighbours, & coulins heard tell howe the Lord had shewed his great mercy vpon her, and they reioyced with her.

59 And it was so that on the eight day they came to circumcise the babe, and called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.

60 But his mother answered, and said, Not so, but he shall be called Iohn.

61 And they said vnto her, There is none of thy kinred, that is named with this name.

62 Then they made signes to his father, how he would haue him called.

63 So hee asked for writing tables, and wrote, saying, His name is Iohn: and they marueiled all.

64 And his mouth was opened immediatly, and his tongue loosed, and hee i spake and praised God.

65 Then feare came on all them that dwelt neere vnto them, and all these words were noysed abroad throughout all the hill countrey of Iudea.

66 And all they that heard them, layed them

A Nd it came to passe in those dayes, that there came a commandement from Augustus Cesar, that all the a world should bee ‖ taxed.

2 (This first b taxing was made when Cyrenius was gouernour of Syria.)

3 Then went all to be taxed, every man to his owne citie.

4 And c Ioseph also went vp from Galile out of a citie called Nazaret, into Iudea, vnto the citie of *Dauid, which is called Beth-lehem, (because hee was of the house and linage of Dauid,)

5 To be taxed with Mary that was giuen him to wife, which was with child.

6 ¶ And so it was, that while they were there, the dayes were accomplished that she should be deliuered.

7 And she brought forth her d first begotten Sonne, and wrapped him in swadling clothes, and layde him in a e cratch, because there was no roome for them in the Inne.

8 ¶ And there were in the same countrey shepheards abiding in the field, and keeping watch by night because of their flocke.

9 And loe, the Angel of the Lord came vpon them, and the glorie of the Lord shone about them, and they were sore afraide.

10 Then the Angel said vnto them, Bee not afraide: for behold, I bring you tidings of great ioy, that shall be to all the people:

11 That is, that vnto you is borne this day in the citie of f Dauid, a Sauiour, which is Christ the Lord.

12 And g this shalbe a signe to you, Ye shal find the child swadled, and layd in a cratch.

13 And straightway there was with the Angel a multitude of heauenly souldiers, praysing God, and saying, 14 Glorie bee to God in the high heauens, and peace in earth, and towards men h good will.

15 And it came to passe when the Angels were gone away from them into heauen, that the shepheards said one to another, Let vs goe then vnto Beth lehem, and see this thing that is come to passe, which the Lord hath shewed vnto vs.

16 So they came with haste, and found both Mary and Ioseph, and the babe layd in the cratch.

26 And a reuelation was giuen him of the holy Ghost, that hee should not see death, before he had seene the Lords ‖ Christ.

27 And hee came ‡ by the motion of the Spirit into the Temple, and when the parents brought in the childe Iesus, to doe for him after the custome of the Law,

28 Then hee tooke him in his armes, and praised God, and said,

29 Lord, l now lettest thou thy seruant depart in peace, according to thy word:

30 For mine eyes haue seene thy m saluation,

31 Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people:

32 A light ‖ to be reuciled to the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.

33 And Ioseph and his mother marueiled at those things, which were spoken touching him.

34 And Simeon n blessed them, and said vnto Mary his mother, Behold, this childe is appointed for the o* fall and rising againe of many in Israel, and for a signe which shal be spoken against,

35 (Yea and a p sword shall pearce thorow thy soule) that the q thoughts of many hearts may be opened.

36 And there was a Prophetesse, one Anna the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser, which was of a great age, and had r liued with an husband seuen yeeres from her virginitie.

37 And shee was widdow about fourescore and foure yeeres, and went s not out of the Temple, but serued God with fastings and prayers, night and day.

38 She then comming at the same instant vpon them, ‖ confessed likewise the Lord, and spake of him to all that looked for redemption in Ierusalem.

39 And when they had performed all things according to the Lawe of the Lord, they returned into Galile to their owne citie Nazaret.

40 And the child grew and waxed strong in spirit, and was filled with wisedome, and the grace of God was with him.

41 ¶ Now his parents went to Ierusalem euery yeere, * at the feast of the Passeouer.

42 And when hee was twelue yeere olde, and they were come vp to Ierusalem after the custome of the feast,

43 And had finished the dayes thereof, as they returned, the childe Iesus remained in Ierusalem, and Ioseph knewe not nor his mother, 44 But they supposing that he had beene in the company, went a dayes iourney and sought him among their kinsefolke, and acquaintance.

45 And when they found him not, they turned backe to Ierusalem, and sought him.

46 And it came to passe three dayes after that they found him in the Temple, sitting in the middes of the ‖doctours, both hearing them, and asking them questions.

47 And all that heard him were astonied at his vnderstanding, and answeres.

48 So when they saw him, they were amased, and his mother sayde vnto him, Sonne, why hast thou thus dealt with vs? beholde, thy father and I haue sought thee with heauie hearts.

49 Then said hee vnto them, How is it that ye sought me? t knew ye not that I must goe about my fathers businesse?

50 But they u understood not the word that he spake to them.

51 Then he went downe with them, and came to Nazaret, and was subiect to them: and his mother kept all these sayings in her heart.

52 And Iesus increased in wisdome, and stature, and in fauour with God and men.

CHAP. III.

3 The preaching, baptisme, and prisonment of Iohn. 15 He is thought to be Christ. 21 Christ is baptized. 23 His age, and genealogie.

NOw in the fifteenth yeere of the reigne of Tiberius Cesar, Pontius Pilate being gouernour of Iudea, and a Herode being Tetrarch of Galile, and his brother Philip Tetrarch of Iturea, and of the countrey of Trachonitis, and Lysanias the Tetrarch of Abilene,

2 (* When Annas and Caiaphas were the b hie Priests) the word of God came vnto Iohn, the sonne of Zacharias, in the wildernesse.

3 * And hee came into all the coastes about Iorden, preaching the baptisme of repentance for the remission of sinnes,

4 As it is written in the booke of the sayings of Esaias the Prophet, which saith, *The voice of him that crieth in the wildernes is, Prepare ye the way of the Lord: make his paths straight.

5 Euery c valley shall be filled, and euery mountaine, and hill shal be brought low, and crooked things shalbe made straight, and the rough wayes shall be made smooth.

6 And ‖ all flesh shall see the d saluation of God.

7 Then said hee to the people that were come out to be baptized of him, *O ‖ generations of vipers, who hath forewarned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring foorth therefore fruites worthy amendment of life, and beginne not to say with your selues, Wee haue Abraham to our father: for I say vnto you, that God is able of these stones to raise vp children vnto Abraham.

9 Nowe also is the e axe laide vnto the roote of the trees: therefore euery tree which bringeth not forth good fruite, shalbe hewen downe, and cast into the fire.

10 ¶ Then the people asked him, saying, What shall we doe then?

11 And he answered, and said vnto them, * He f that hath two coats, let him part with him that hath none: and he that hath meate, let him doe likewise.

12 Then came there g Publicanes also to bee baptized, and said vnto him, Master, what shall we doe?

him, saying, And what shall we doe? And he sayd vnto them, Doe violence to no man, neither accuse any falsly, and bee content with your wages.

15 As the people waited, and all men mused in their hearts of Iohn, if he were not the Christ, 16 Iohn answered, and sayd to them all, *Indeede I h baptize you with water, but one stronger then I commeth, whose shooes latchet I am not worthy to vnloose: he will baptize you with the holy Ghost, and i with fire.

17 *Whose fanne is in his hand, and he will make cleane his flooze, and will gather the wheate into his garner, but the chaffe will he burne vp with fire that neuer shal be quenched.

18 Thus then exhorting with many other things, he preached vnto the people.

19 *But when k Herode the Tetrarch was rebuked of him for Herodias his brother Philips wife, & for all the euils which Herode had done, 20 He added yet this aboue all, that hee shut vp Iohn in prison.

21 *Now it came to passe, as all the people were baptized, & that Iesus was baptized and did pray, that the heauen was opened:

22 And the holy Ghost came downe in a bodily shape like a doue vpon him, and there was a voice from heaue, saying, Thou art my beloued Sonne: in thee I am well pleased.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Iesus is led into the wildernesse to be tempted, 13 He ouercommeth the deuil. 14 He goeth into Galile, 16 Preacheth at Nazaret, and Capernaum. 22 The Iewes despise him. 38 He commeth into Peters house, and healeth his mother in lawe. 41 The deuils acknowledge Christ. 43 He preacheth thorow the cities.

AND Iesus full of the holy Ghost returned from Jordan, and was led by the spirit into the wildernesse,

2 *And was there fortie dayes tempted of the deuill, and in those dayes a he did eate nothing: but when they were ended, he afterward was hungry.

3 Then the deuill said vnto him, If thou be the Sonne of God, command this stone that it be made bread.

4 But Iesus answered him, saying, It is written, * That man shall not liue by bread onely, but by euery b word of God.

5 Then the deuill tooke him vp into an high mountaine, and shewed him all the kingdomes of the world, ‡ in the twinckling of an eye.

6 And the deuill sayd vnto him, All this power will I c giue thee, and the glory of those kingdomes: for that is deliuered to me: and to whomsoeuer I will, I giue it:

7 If thou therefore wilt ‖ worship mee, they shall be all thine.

8 But Iesus answered him, and sayd, ‡ Hence from me, Satan: for it is written, * Thou shalt worship the Lorde thy d God, and him onely shalt thou serue.

9 Then he brought him to e Jerusalem, and set him on a pinacle of the Temple, and said vnto him, If thou be the Sonne of God, cast thy selfe downe from hence,

10 For it is written, * That he will giue his Angels charge ouer thee to keepe thee, 15 For hee taught in their Synagogues and was honoured of all men.

16 * And he came to Nazaret, where hee had been brought vp, and (as his custome was) went into the Synagogue on the Sabbath day, and stood vp to reade.

17 And there was deliuered vnto him the booke of the Prophet Esaias: and when he opened the booke, he found the place, where it was written,

18 * The Spirit of the Lord is vpon me, because he hath g anointed me, that I should preach the Gospel to the poore: hee hath sent mee, that I should heale the broken hearted, that I should preach deliuerance to the captiues, and recouering of sight to the blind, that I should set at liberty them that are bruised, 19 And that I should preach the h acceptable yeere of the Lord.

20 And hee closed the booke, and gaue it againe to the minister, and sate downe: and the eyes of all that were in the Synagogue were fastened on him.

21 Then hee beganne to say vnto them, This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your eares.

22 And all i bare him witnesse, and wondered at the gracious wordes, which proceeded out of his mouth, and sayd, Is not this Iosephs sonne?

23 Then he said vnto them, Ye will surely say vnto mee this prouerbe, Physician, k heale thy selfe: Whatsoeuer we haue heard done in Capernaum, doe it here likewise in thine owne countrey.

24 And hee sayd, Verely I say vnto you, * no l Prophet is accepted in his owne countrey.

25 But I tell you of a trueth, many widowes were in Israel in the daies of * Elias, when heauen was shut three yeeres and sixe moneths, when great famine was throughout all the land.

26 But vnto none of them was Elias sent, saue into Sarepta, a citie of Sidon, vnto m a certaine widowe.

27 Also many lepers were in Israel, in the time of * Eliseus the Prophet: yet none of them was made cleane, sauing Naaman the Syrian.

28 Then all that were in the Synagogue, when they heard it, were filled n with wrath, 29 And rose vp, and thrust him out of the citie, and led him vnto the edge of the hill, whereon their citie was built, to cast him downe headlong.

30 But hee passed o through the mids of them, and went his way, 31 ¶ * And came downe into Capernaum a citie of Galile, and there taught them on the Sabbath dayes.

32 * And they were astonied at his doctrine: for his word was p with authoritie.

33 And in the Synagogue there was a man which had a q spirit of an vncleane deuill, which cryed with a loud voice, 34 Saying, Oh, what haue wee to doe with thee, thou Iesus of Nazaret? art thou come to destroy vs? I know who thou art, euen the holy One of God.

35 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. Then the deuill throwing him in the middes of them, came out of him, and hurt him not.

36 So feare came on them all, and they spake among themselues, saying, What thing is this? for with authority and power he commandeth the foule spirits, and they come out.

37 And the fame of him spread abroad throughout all the places of the countrey round about.

38 ¶ * And hee rose vp, and came out of the Synagogue, and entred into Simons house, and Simons wiues mother was taken with a great feuer, and they required him for her.

39 Then he stood ouer her, and rebuked the feuer, and it left her: and immediatly she rose, and ministred vnto them.

40 Now when the Sunne was downe, all they that had sicke folkes of diuers diseases, brought them vnto him, and he layd his handes on euery one of them, and healed them.

41 * And deuils also came out of many, crying, and saying, r Thou art the Christ, the Sonne of God: but hee rebuked them, and suffered them not to say that they knew him to be the Christ.

42 And when it was day, hee departed, and went forth into a desert place, and the people sought him, and came to him, and kept him, that hee should not depart from them.

43 But hee sayd vnto them, Surely I must also preach the kingdome of God to other cities: for therefore am I sent.

44 And he preached in the Synagogues of Galile.

they which were with him,

4 How hee went into the house of God, and tooke, and ate the shew bread, and gaue also to them that were with him, which was not lawfull to eate, but for the * Priests onely?

5 And he said vnto them, The Sonne of man is [b] Lord also of the Sabbath day.

6 ¶ * It came to passe also on another Sabbath, that hee entred into the Synagogue and taught, and there was a man whose right hand was dried vp.

7 And the Scribes and Pharises watched him, whether hee would heale on the Sabbath day, that they might finde an accusation against him.

8 But hee knew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Arise, and stand vp in the mids. And he arose and stood vp.

9 Then said Iesus vnto them, I will aske you a question, Whether it is lawful on the Sabbath dayes to do good, or to do euil? to saue ‖ life, or to destroy it?

10 And hee beheld them all in compasse, and said vnto the man, Stretch foorth thine hand. And he did so, and his hand was restored againe, as whole as the other.

11 Then they were filled ful of madnesse, and communed one with another, what they might do to Iesus.

12 ¶ And it came to passe in those dayes, that hee went into a mountaine to pray, and spent the night in prayer to God.

13 * And when it was day, hee called his disciples, and of them hee chose [c] twelue, which also he called [d] Apostles.

14 (Simon whom he named also Peter, and Andrew his brother, Iames and Iohn, Philip, and Bartlemew:

15 Matthewe, and Thomas: Iames the sonne of Alpheus, and Simon called Zelous:

16 Iudas Iames brother, and Iudas Iscariot, which also was the traitour.)

17 Then he came downe with them, and stood in ‖ a plaine place, with the company of his disciples, & a great multitude of people out of al Iudea and Ierusalem, and from the sea coast of Tyrus and Sidon, which came to heare him, and to be healed of their diseases:

18 And they that were vexed with foule spirits, and they were healed.

19 And the whole multitude sought to touch him: for there went vertue out of him, and healed them all.

20 ¶ * And he lifted vp his eyes vpon his disciples, and said, Blessed be ye [e] poore: for yours is the kingdome of God.

21 * Blessed are ye that hunger nowe: for ye shalbe satisfied. Blessed are ye that * weepe now: for ye shall laugh.

22 * Blessed are yee when men hate you, and when [f] they separate you, and reuile you, and put out your name as euil, for the Sonne of mans sake.

23 Reioyce ye in that day, and be [g] glad: for behold, your reward is great in heauen: for after this maner their fathers did to the Prophets.

24 * But woe be to you that are [h] rich: for ye haue receiued your consolation.

25 * Woe bee to you that are full: for yee shall hunger. Woe be to you that now laugh: for ye shall waile and weepe.

26 Woe be to you when all men [k] speake wel of you, for so did their fathers to the false prophets.

27 ¶ * But I say vnto you which heare, Loue your enemies: doe well to them which hate you.

28 Blesse them that curse you, and pray for them which hurt you.

29 * And vnto him that [l] smiteth thee on the one cheeke, offer also the other: * and him that taketh away thy cloake, forbid not to take thy coat also.

30 Giue to euery man that asketh of thee: and of him that taketh away thy goods, [m] aske them not againe.

31 * And as ye would that men should do to you, so do ye to them likewise.

32 * For if yee loue them which loue you, what thanke shall ye haue? for euen the [n] sinners loue those which loue them.

33 And if you do good for them which do good for you, what thanke shall yee haue? for euen the sinners doe the same.

34 * And if yee lend to them of whom yee hope to receiue, what thanke shall yee haue? for euen the sinners lend to sinners, to receiue the like.

35 Wherefore loue ye your enemies, & do good, & lend, [o] looking for nothing againe, and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be the children of * the most high: for he is kinde vnto the vnkinde, and to the euil.

36 Be ye therefore mercifull, as your Father also is mercifull.

37 ¶ * Iudge not, and ye shal not be iudged: condemne not, and yee shall not bee condemned: forgiue, and ye shalbe forgiuen.

38 Giue, and it shalbe giuen vnto you: * a good measure, pressed downe, shaken together, & running ouer shal men giue into your bosome: for with what measure ye mete, with the same shall men mete to you againe.

39 And hee spake a parable vnto them, * Can the blinde leade the blinde? shall they not both fall into the ditch?

40 * The disciple is not aboue his Master: but whosoeuer will bee a perfit disciple, shalbe as his master.

41 ¶ * And why seest thou a mote in thy brothers eye, and considerest not the beame that is in thine owne eye?

42 Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let mee pull out the mote that is in thine eye, whe thou seest not the beame that is in thine owne eye? Hypocrite, cast out the beame out of thine own eye first, and then shalt thou see perfectly, to pull out the mote that is in thy brothers eye.

CHAP. VII.

1 He healeth the captaines seruant. 11 Hee rayseth vp the widowes sonne from death to life. 19 He answereth the disciples whom Iohn Baptist sent vnto him 24 He commendeth Iohn, 31 And reprooueth the Iewes for their vnfaithfulnes. 36 Hee eateth with the Pharise. 37 The woman washeth his feet with her teares, and hee forgiueth her sinnes.

Matth.8.5.

VVHen hee had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, he entred into Capernaum.

2 And a certaine a Centurions seruant was sick and ready to die, which was deare vnto him.

3 And when he heard of Iesus, hee sent vnto him the Elders of the Iewes, beseeching him that hee would come and heale his seruant.

4 So they came to Iesus, and besought him instantly, saying that hee was worthy that he should doe this for him.

5 For he loueth, said they, our nation, and he hath built vs a b Synagogue.

6 Then Iesus went with them: but when he was now not farre from the house, the Centurion sent friends to him, c saying vnto him, Lord, trouble not thy selfe: for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter vnder my roofe.

7 Wherefore, I thought not my selfe worthy to come vnto thee: but say the word, and my seruant shall be whole.

8 For I am likewise a man set vnder authority, and haue vnder me souldiers, and I say vnto one, Goe, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he commeth: and to my seruant, Doe this, and he doeth it.

9 When Iesus heard these things, hee marueiled at him, and turned him, and said to the people that followed him, I say vnto you, I haue not found so e great faith, no not in Israel.

10 And when they that were sent, turned backe to the house, they found the seruant that was sicke, whole.

11 And it came to passe the day after, that he went into a city called f Nain, and many of his disciples went with him, and a great multitude.

12 Now when he came neere to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man caried out, who was the onely begotten sonne of his mother, which was a widow, and much people of the city was with her.

13 And when the Lord saw her, hee had compassion on her, and said vnto her, Weep not.

14 And he went and touched the ‖ coffin, (and they that bare him, stood still) and hee said, g Yong man, I say vnto thee, Arise.

15 And hee that was dead, sate vp, and began to speake, and he deliuered him to his mother.

16 Then there came a feare on them all, and they glorified God, saying, A great Prophet is raised vp among vs, and God hath h visited his people.

17 And this rumour of him went forth throughout all Iudea, and throughout all the region round about.

18 ¶ And the disciples of Iohn shewed him of all these things.

19 So Iohn called vnto him two certaine men of his disciples, and sent them to Iesus, saying, Art thou i he that should come, or shall we wait for another?

20 And when the men were come vnto him, they said, Iohn Baptist hath sent vs vnto thee, saying, Art thou hee that should come, or shall we waite for another?

21 And at that time he cured many of their sicknesses and plagues, and of euill spirits, and vnto many blind men hee gaue sight.

22 And Iesus answered and said vnto them, Goe your waies & shew Iohn k what things ye haue seene & heard: that the blind see, the halt goe, the Lepers are cleansed, the deafe heare, the dead rise againe, and l the ‖ poore receiue the Gospel.

23 And blessed is he, that shal not be m offended in me.

24 And when the messengers of Iohn were departed, hee began to speake vnto the people, of Iohn, What went yee out into the wildernesse to see? A n reed shaken with the winde?

25 But what went you out to see? A man clothed in soft rayment? Behold, they which are gorgeously apparrelled, and liue delicately, are in kings courts.

30 But the Pharises and the expounders of the Law despised the counsel of God q against themselues, and were not baptized of him.

31 *And the Lord said, Whereunto shall I liken the men of this generation? & what thing are they like vnto?

32 They are like vnto children sitting in the market place, and crying one to another, and saying, r We haue piped vnto you, and ye haue not danced: we haue mourned to you, and ye haue not wept.

33 For Iohn Baptist came, neither eating bread, nor drinking wine: and yee say, Hee hath the deuill.

34 The Sonne of man is come, and s eateth and drinketh: and ye say, Behold, a man which is a glutton, and a drinker of wine, a friend of Publicanes and sinners.

35 But wisedome is t iustified of all her children.

36 ¶ *And one of the Pharises desired him that hee would eat with him: and hee went into the Pharises house, & sate downe at table.

37 And beholde, a woman in the citie, which was a sinner, when shee knew that Iesus sate at table in the Pharises house, she brought a box of ointment.

38 *And she stood at his feete behind him weeping, and began to wash his feete with teares, and did wipe them with the haires of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment.

39 Now when the Pharise which bade him, saw it, hee spake within himselfe, saying, If this man were a Prophet, he would surely haue knowen who, and what maner of woman this is which toucheth him: for he is a sinner.

40 And Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Simon, I haue somewhat to say vnto thee. And he said, Master, say on.

41 There was a certaine lender which had two debters: the one ought fiue hundred pence, and the other fiftie.

42 When they had nothing to pay, hee forgaue them both. Which of them therefore, tell me, will loue him most?

43 Simon answered, and said, I suppose that hee to whome hee forgaue most. And hee said vnto him, Thou hast truely iudged.

44 Then hee turned to the woman, and said vnto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entred into thine house, and thou gauest me no water to my feet: but she hath washed my feet with teares, and wiped them with the haires of her head.

45 Thou gauest me no kisse: but she since the time I came in, hath not ceased to kisse my feet.

46 Mine head with oyle thou didst not anoint: but she hath anointed my feete with ointment.

47 Wherefore I say vnto thee, Many sinnes are forgiuen her: for she u loued much. To whom a little is forgiuen, he doeth loue a little.

48 And he said vnto her, Thy sinnes are forgiuen thee.

49 And they that sate at table with him, began to say with in themselues, Who is this that euen forgiueth sinnes?

22 ¶ *And it came to passe on a certaine day, that he went into a shippe with his disciples, and hee sayd vnto them, Let vs goe ouer vnto the other side of the lake. And they launched forth.

23 And as they sailed, he fell i asleepe, and there came downe a storme of winde on the lake, and they were filled with water, and were in ieopardy.

24 Then they went to him, and awoke him saying, Master, Master, wee perish. And he arose, and rebuked the winde, and the waues of water: and they ceased, and it was calme.

25 Then hee said vnto them, Where is your faith? and they feared, and wondred among themselues, saying, Who is this that commaundeth both the winds & water, and they obey him?

26 ¶ *So they sailed vnto the region of the Gadarenes, which is ouer against Galile.

27 And as hee went out to land, there mette him a certaine man out of the citie, which had a deuill long time, and hee ware no clothes, neither abode in house, but in the graues.

28 And when he saw Jesus, he cryed out, and fell downe before him, and with a loud voyce sayd, What haue I to doe with thee, Jesus the sonne of God, the most high? I beseech thee k torment mee not.

29 For he commanded the foule spirit to come out of the man: (for ‖ oft times he had caught him: therefore hee was bound with chaines, and kept in fetters: but he brake the bandes, and was l caried of the deuill into wildernesses.)

30 Then Jesus asked him, saying, What is thy name? And he said, m Legion, because many deuils were entred into him.

31 And they besought him, that he would not command thē to go out into the n deepe.

32 And there was thereby, an herde of many swine, feeding on an hill, and the deuils besought him, that he would suffer them to enter into them. So he suffered them.

33 Then went the deuils out of the man, and entred into the swine: and the herd was carried with violence from a steepe downe place into the lake, and was choked.

34 When the herdemen saw what was done, they fled: and when they were departed, they told it in the citie and in the country.

35 Then they came out to see what was done, and came to Jesus, and found the man, out of whome the deuils were departed, sitting at the feete of Jesus, clothed, and in his right minde, and they were afraid.

36 They also which saw it, told them by what meanes he that was possessed with the deuill was healed.

37 Then the whole multitude of the country about the Gadarenes, besought him, that hee would depart from them: for they were taken with a great feare: and he went into the ship, and returned.

38 Then the man out of whome the deuils were departed, besought him that hee might be with him: but Jesus sent him away, saying, 44 When she came behind him, she touched the r hemme of his garment, and immediatly her issue of blood stanched.

45 Then Jesus said, Who is it that hath touched mee? When euery man denyed, Peter sayd and they that were with him, Master, the multitude thrust thee, and tread on thee, and sayest thou, Who hath touched me?

46 And Jesus sayd, Some one hath touched me: for I perceiue that vertue is gone out of me.

47 When the woman saw that shee was not hidde, shee came trembling, and fell downe before him, and tolde him before all the people, for what cause shee had touched him, and how she was healed immediatly.

from the ruler of the Synagogues house, which sayd to him, Thy daughter is dead: disease not the master.

50 When Iesus heard it, hee answered e him, saying, Feare not: beleeue onely, and she shall be made whole.

e Meaning the ruler of the Synagogue.

51 And when he went into the house, hee suffered no man to go in with him, saue Peter, and James, and John, and the father and mother of the maid.

52 And all wept and lamented for her: but he said, Weepe not: for she is not u dead, but sleepeth.

u Although she was verily dead: yet to Christ it was more easie to restore her to life, then it is for one man to wake another out of his sleepe.

53 And they laught him to scorne, knowing that she was dead.

54 So he x thrust them al out, & tooke her by the hand, and cryed, saying, Maide, arise.

x He meaneth those which he found in the house.

55 And her spirit came againe, and shee rose straightway: and hee commaunded to giue her meat.

56 Then her parents were astonied: but he commaunded them that they should tell no man what was done.

9 Then Herod said, John haue I beheaded: who then is this of whom I heare such things? And he desired to see him.

Mat.14 15 mar. 6.35. iohn 6. 5.

10 ¶ * And when the Apostles returned, they told him what great thinges they had done. * Then he tooke them, and went aside into a solitary place, neere to the citie called Bethsaida.

11 But when the people knew it, they followed him: and he receiued them, and spake vnto them of the kingdome of God, and healed them that had need to be healed.

12 * And when the day began to weare away, the twelue came, and sayd vnto him, Send the people away, that they may go into the townes & villages round about, and lodge, and get meat: for we are here in a desert place.

13 But hee sayd vnto them, d Giue yee them to eate. And they sayd, Wee haue no moe but fiue loaues and two fishes, except wee should goe and buy meate for all this people.

d Christ forsaketh not them that follow him, but sendeth them sufficient reliefe.

14 For they were about fiue thousand men. Then he sayd to his Disciples, Cause them to sit downe by fifties in a companie.

15 And they did so, and caused all to sit downe.

him, were heavie with sleepe, and when they awoke, they saw his glory, and the two men standing with him.

33 And it came to passe as they departed from him, Peter said vnto Iesus, Master, it is good for vs to bee here: let vs therefore make three Tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias, and wist not what he said.

34 While hee thus spake, there came a cloud, and [k] ouershadowed them, & they feared when they were entring into the cloud.

35 * And there came a voyce out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloued Sonne, heare him.

36 And when the voyce was past, Iesus was found alone: and they kept it close, and tolde no man in those [l] dayes any of those things which they had seene.

37 ¶ And it came to passe on the next day, as they came downe from the mountaine, much people met him.

38 * And beholde, a man of the company cried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee, behold my sonne: for he is all that I haue.

39 And loe, a spirit taketh him, & suddenly he crieth, and he teareth him, that he foometh, and with much paine departeth from him, when he hath bruised him.

40 Now I haue besought thy disciples to cast him out, but they could not.

41 Then Iesus answered, and said, [m] O generation faithlesse and crooked, how long now shal I be with you, and suffer you? bring thy sonne hither.

42 And whiles he was yet comming, the deuil rent him, and tare him: and Iesus rebuked the vncleane spirit, and healed the childe, and deliuered him to his father.

43 ¶ And they were all amased at the mighty power of God: and while they all wondered at all things, which Iesus did, he sayd vnto his disciples, 44 ‡ Marke these wordes diligently: for it shall come to passe, that the Sonne of man shall be deliuered into the hands of men.

45 But they vnderstood not [n] that word: for it was hid from them, so that they could not perceiue it: and they feared to aske him of that word.

46 ¶ * Then there arose a disputation among them, which of them should bee the greatest.

47 When Iesus saw the thoughts of their hearts, he tooke a little child, and set him by him, 48 And said vnto them, Whosoeuer receiueth this little childe in my Name, receiueth me: and whosoeuer shall receiue me, receiueth him that sent me: for he that is least among you, he shalbe great.

49 ¶ * And Iohn answered, and sayd, Master, we saw one casting out deuils in thy Name, and we forbad him, because hee followeth thee not with vs.

50 Then Iesus sayd vnto him, Forbid ye him not: for he that is not against vs, [o] is with vs.

51 ¶ And it came to passe, when the [p] dayes were accomplished, that hee should be receiued vp, he stedfastly set his face to goe to Ierusalem, 52 And sent messengers before him: and they went and entered into a towne of the Samaritanes, to prepare him lodging.

53 But they would not receiue him, because his [q] behaviour was, as though hee would goe to Ierusalem.

54 And when his disciples, Iames and Iohn, saw it, they said, Lord, wilt thou that wee command that fire come downe from heauen, and consume them, euen as * Elias did?

55 But Iesus turned about, and rebuked them, and said, Ye know not of what [r] spirit ye are.

56 For the Sonne of man is not come to destroy mens liues, but to saue them. Then they went to another towne.

57 ¶ And it came to passe that as they went in the way, * a certaine man sayd vnto him, I will follow thee, Lord, whithersoeuer thou goest.

58 And Iesus said vnto him, The [s] foxes haue holes, and the birds of the heauen haue nests, but the Sonne of man hath not whereon to lay his head.

59 But he said vnto another, Follow me. And the same said, Lord, suffer me first to go and [t] bury my father.

60 And Iesus sayd vnto him, [u] Let the dead bury their dead: but goe thou & preach the kingdome of God.

61 Then another said, I will follow thee, Lord: but let me first go bid them farewell, which are at mine house.

17 ¶ And the seuenty turned againe with ioy, saying, Lord, euen the deuils are subdued to vs through thy name.

18 And he sayd vnto them, I saw m Satan like lightning, fall downe from heauen.

19 Beholde, I giue vnto you power to tread on serpents, and scorpions, and ouer all the power of the enemy, and nothing shal hurt you.

20 Neuertheless, in this reioyce not, that the spirits are subdued vnto you: but rather reioyce, because your names are written in heauen.

21 ¶ That same houre reioyced Iesus ‖ in the spirit, and said, I confesse vnto thee, Father, Lord of heauen and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the n wise and learned, and hast reueyled them to babes: euen so, Father, because it so pleased thee.

22 Then hee turned to his disciples, and sayd, All things are o giuen mee of my Father: and p no man knoweth who the Sonne is, but the Father: neither who the Father is, saue the q Sonne, and hee to whom the Sonne will reueyle him.

23 ¶ And he returned to his disciples, and sayd secretly, * Blessed are the eyes which see that yee see.

24 For I tell you that many Prophets and Kings haue desired to see those things which ye see, and haue not seene them: and to heare those things, which ye heare, and haue not heard them.

25 ¶ * Then behold, a certaine expounder of the Lawe stood vp, and tempted him, saying, Master, what shall I doe to inherit eternall life? Matth. 22. 35. marke 12. 28.

28 Then hee sayd vnto him, Thou hast answered right: this doe, and thou shalt liue.

29 But hee willing to ‖ iustifie himselfe, sayde vnto Iesus, Who s is then my neighbour? ‖ Or, to approue himselfe as iust.

30 And Iesus answered, and sayd, A certaine man went downe from Ierusalem to Iericho, and fell among theeues, and they robbed him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leauing him halfe dead. r For they counted no man their neighbour, but their friend.

31 And by t chance there came downe a certaine t Priest that same way, and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side. s For so it seemed to mans iudgement, although this was so appointed by Gods counsell and prouidence.

32 And likewise also a Leuite, when hee was come neere to the place, went and looked on him, and passed by on the other side. t He priuily noteth the great cruelty, which was among this people, & chiefly the gouernours.

33 Then a certaine u Samaritane, as he iourneyed, came neere vnto him, and when he saw him, he had compassion on him, u This nation was odious to the Iewes.

34 And went to him, and bound vp his wounds, and powred in oyle and wine, and put him on his owne beast, and brought him to an inne, and made prouision for him.

35 And on the morow when he departed, hee tooke out x two pence, and gaue them to the host, and sayd vnto him, Take care of him, and whatsoeuer thou spendest more, when I come againe, I will recompense thee. x Which was about nine pence of sterling money.

36 Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour vnto him that fell among the theeues?

37 And he sayd, he that shewed mercy on him. Then sayd Iesus vnto him, Go, y and doe thou likewise.

38 ¶ Now it came to passe as they went, that he entred into a certaine towne, and a certaine woman named Martha, receiued him into her house. y Helpe him that hath neede of thee, although thou know him not.

39 And shee had a sister called Marie, which also sate at Iesus feete, and heard his preaching. z For she forgat the principall, which was to heare Gods word.

40 But Martha was combred about much seruing, and came to him, and sayd, Master, doest thou not care that my sister hath left mee to serue alone? bid her therefore that she helpe me. a It was not meet that she should haue bene drawen from so profitable a thing, whereunto she could not alwayes haue opportunitie.

41 And Iesus answered, and sayd vnto her, Martha, Martha, thou carest and art z troubled about many things:

42 But one thing is needfull. Mary hath chosen the good part, a which shall not be taken away from her.

CHAP. XI.

2 He teacheth his disciples to pray. 14 He driueth out a deuill, 15 And rebuketh the blasphemous Pharises. 28 Hee preferreth the spirituall cousinage. 29 They require signes and tokens. 37 He eateth with the Pharise, and reproueth the hypocrisie of the Pharises, Scribes and hypocrites.

AND so it was, that as hee was praying in a certaine place, when he ceased, one of his disciples sayd vnto him, Master, teach vs to pray, as Iohn also taught his disciples.

Matth. 6. 9.

2 *And he said vnto them, When ye pray, say, Our Father, which art in heauen, hallowed be thy Name: Thy kingdome come: Let thy will bee done euen in earth as it is in heauen:

3 Our daily bread giue vs [a] for the day:

4 And ‖ forgiue vs our sinnes: for euen we forgiue euery man that is indebted to vs: And leade vs not into temptation: but deliuer vs from euill.

a Or, euery day, or as much as is sufficient for this day.

‖ Or, pardon.

5 ¶ Moreouer he said vnto them, [b] Which of you shall haue a friend, and shal go to him at midnight, and say vnto him, Friend, lend me three loaues?

b By this similitude he teacheth vs that we ought not to be discouraged, if wee obtaine not incontinently that which wee demaund.

6 For a friend of mine is come ‖ out of the way to me, and I haue nothing to set before him:

‖ Or, in passing by the way.

7 And he within should answere and say, Trouble me not: the doore is now shut, and my children are with mee in bed: I cannot rise and giue them to thee.

8 I say vnto you, Though he would not arise, and giue him, because he is his friend, yet doubtlesse because of his ‖ importunitie, he would rise, and giue him as many as he needed.

‖ Or, impudencie.

9 *And I say vnto you, Aske, and it shall be giuen you: seeke, and ye shal find: knocke, and it shall be opened vnto you.

Matth. 7. 7 and 21. 22. marke 11. 24. Ioh. 14. 13. & 16. 23. iames 1. 5.

10 For euery one that asketh, receiueth: and he that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shalbe opened.

Matth. 7. 9.

11 *If a sonne shall aske bread of any of you that is a father, will he giue him a stone? or if he aske a fish, will he for a fish giue him a serpent?

12 Or if he aske an egge, will he giue him a scorpion?

13 If yee then which are euill, can giue good gifts vnto your children, how much more shall your heauenly Father giue [c] the holy Ghost to them, that desire him?

c The chiefest thing that we can desire of God, is his holy Spirit.

14 ¶ Then he cast out a deuil which was dumbe: and when the deuill was gone out, the dumbe spake, and the people wondered.

15 But some of them sayde, Hee casteth out deuils through Beelzebub the chiefe of the deuils.

16 And others tempted him, seeking of him a signe from heauen.

17 But he knew their thoughts, and said vnto them, *Euery kingdome diuided against it selfe, shall be desolate, and an house diuided against an house, falleth.

Matth. 12. 25. mar. 3. 24, 25.

18 So if Satan also be diuided against himselfe, how shall his kingdome stand, because yee say that I cast out deuils through Beelzebub?

19 If I through Beelzebub cast out deuils, by whome doe your [d] children cast them out? therefore shall they bee your iudges.

d That is to say, your coniurers.

20 But if I by the [e] finger of God cast out deuils, doubtlesse the kingdome of God is come vnto you.

e The finger of God is taken for the vertue and power of God. And the vertue of the Father and the Sonne is the holy Ghost: for so Matthew doth interpret this place.

21 When a strong man armed keepeth his [f] palace, the things that he possesseth are in ‖ peace.

f The word signifieth an entrie or porch before an house.

‖ Or, safetie.

22 But when a stronger then he commeth vpon him, and ouercommeth him, hee taketh from him all his armour wherein hee trusted, and diuideth his spoyles.

23 Hee that is not [g] with mee, is against mee: and hee that gathereth not with mee, scattereth.

g They that doe not wholy applie themselues to destroy the kingdome of Satan, cannot be counted to bee on Christs side, but are his aduersaries: how much more is hee against him, that maketh open warre with him as Satan doth?

37 ¶ And as he spake, a certaine Pharise besought him to dine with him: and he went in, and sate downe at table.

38 And when the Pharise sawe it, hee marueiled that hee had not first washed before dinner.

39 * And the Lord said to him, Indeede ye Pharises make cleane the outside of the cup and of the platter: but the inward part is full of rauening and wickednesse.

40 Yee fooles, did not he that made that which is without, make that which is within also?

41 Therefore p giue almes of ‖those things which are within, and behold, all things shal be cleane to you.

20 But God said vnto him, O foole, this night will they fetch away thy soule from thee: then whose shall those things be which thou hast prouided?

21 So is he that gathereth riches to himselfe, and is not rich in [f] God.

22 And he spake vnto his disciples, Therefore I say vnto you, * Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eate: neither for your body, what ye shall put on.

23 The life is more then meate: and the body more then the raiment.

24 [g] Consider the rauens: for they neither sowe nor reape: which neither haue storehouse nor barne, and yet God feedeth them: how much more are yee better then fowles?

25 And which of you [h] taking thought, can adde to his stature one cubite?

26 If yee then be not able to doe the least thing, why take yee thought for the remnant?

27 [h] Consider the lilies how they growe: they labour not, neither spinne they: yet I say vnto you, that Salomon himselfe in all his royaltie was not clothed like one of these.

28 If then God so clothe the grasse which is to day in the fielde, and to morrow is cast into the ouen, how much more will hee clothe you, O ye of little faith?

29 Therefore aske not what ye shal eate, or what yee shall drinke, neither ‖ stand in doubt.

30 For all such things the people of the world seeke for: and your Father knoweth that ye haue neede of these things.

31 But rather seeke yee after the kingdome of God, [i] and all these things shall bee ministred vnto you.

32 Feare not, little flocke: for it is your fathers pleasure, to giue you the [k] kingdome.

33 ¶ * Sell that ye haue, and giue almes: make you bags, which waxe not old, a treasure that can neuer faile in heauen, where no theefe commeth, neither mothe corrupteth.

34 For where your treasure is, there will your hearts be also.

35 ¶ * Let your loynes be [l] girded about, and your lights burning, 36 And ye your selues like vnto men that waite for their master, when he will returne from the wedding, that when hee commeth and knocketh, they may open vnto him immediatly.

37 Blessed are those seruants, whom the Lord when he commeth, shall finde waking: verely I say vnto you, hee will [m] girde himselfe about, and make them to sit downe at table, and will come forth, and serue them.

38 And if hee come in the second watch, or come in the third watch, and shall finde them so, blessed are those seruants.

39 * Now vnderstand this, that if the good man of the house had knowen at what houre the theefe would come, he would haue watched, and would not haue suffered his house to be digged through.

40 Be ye also prepared therefore: for the Sonne of man will come at an houre when yee thinke not.

41 Then Peter said vnto him, Master, tellest thou this parable vnto vs, or euen to all?

42 And the Lord said, Who is a faithfull steward, and wise, whom the master shall make ruler ouer his household, to giue them their [n] portion of meate in season?

43 Blessed is that seruant, whom his master when he commeth, shall finde so doing.

44 Of a trueth I say vnto you, that hee will make him ruler ouer all that he hath.

45 But if that seruant say in his heart, My Master doeth defer his comming, and shall begin to smite the seruants, and maydens, and to eat & drinke, and to be drunken, 46 The master of that seruant will come in a day when hee thinketh not, and at an houre when hee is not ware of, and will cut him off, and giue him his portion with the vnbeleeuers.

47 ¶ And that seruant that knewe his masters will, and prepared not himselfe neither did according to his will, shalbe beaten with many stripes.

48 But hee that knew it not, and yet did commit things [o] worthy of stripes, shall bee beaten with few stripes: for vnto whomsoeuer much is giuen, of him shall be much required, and to whom men much commit, the more of him will they aske.

49 ¶ I am come to put [q] fire on the earth, and what is my desire, if it bee [r] already kindled?

50 Notwithstanding I must be [r] baptized with a baptisme, and how am I grieued, till it be ended?

51 * Thinke yee that I am come to giue peace on earth? I tell you, nay, but rather debate.

52 For from henceforth there shall be fiue in one house diuided, three against two, and two against three.

53 The father shall bee diuided against the sonne, and the sonne against the father: the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother: the mother in lawe against her daughter in lawe, and the daughter in lawe against her mother in lawe.

54 ¶ * Then said he to the people, When you see a cloud rise out of the west, straightway yee say, A showre commeth: and so it is.

55 And when yee see the South winde blow, ye say, that it will be hote: and it commeth to passe.

56 Hypocrites, yee can discerne the face of the earth, and of the skie: but why discerne ye not this time?

57 Yea, and why iudge you not of your selues what is right?

58 ¶ * While thou goest with thine aduersarie to the ruler, as thou art in the way, giue diligence in the way, that thou mayest bee [t] deliuered from him, least hee bring thee to the iudge, and the iudge deliuer thee to the iayler, and the iayler cast thee into prison.

59 I tel thee, thou shalt not depart thence, till thou hast payed the vtmost mite.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The crueltie of Pilate. 2 Wee ought not to condemne all to bee wicked men which ſuffer. 3 Chriſt exhorteth to repentance. 11 Hee healeth the crooked woman, 15 anſwereth to the maſter of the Synagogue. 18 By diuers ſimilitudes he declareth what the kingdome of God is, 23 alſo that the number of them which ſhalbe ſaued, is ſmall. 33 Finally hee ſheweth that no worldly policie or force can let the worke and counſell of God.

THere were certaine men preſent at the ſame ſeaſon, that ſhewed him of the Galileans, whoſe blood Pilate had [a] mingled with their owne ſacrifices.

2 And Ieſus anſwered, and ſayde vnto them, Suppoſe yee, that theſe Galileans were [b] greater ſinners then all the other Galileans, becauſe they haue ſuffered ſuch things?

3 I tell you, nay: but except [c] yee amend your liues, ye ſhall all likewiſe periſh.

4 Or thinke you that thoſe eighteene, vpon whom the towre in [d] Siloam fell, and ſlew them, were ‖ ſinners aboue all men that dwell in Ieruſalem?

5 I tell you, nay: but except yee amend your liues, yee all ſhall likewiſe periſh.

6 ¶ Hee ſpake alſo this parable, A certaine man had a figge tree planted in his vineyard: and hee came and ſought fruite thereon, and found none.

7 Then ſaid he to the dreſſer of the vineyard, Behold, [e] this three yeeres haue I come and ſought fruite of this fig tree, and finde none: [f] cut it downe: why keepeth it it alſo the ground barren?

8 And he anſwered, and ſaid vnto him, Lord, let it alone this yeere alſo, till I digge round about it, and doung it.

9 And if it beare fruite, well: if not, then after thou ſhalt cut it downe.

10 ¶ And he taught in one of the Synagogues on the Sabbath day.

11 And behold, there was a woman which had a [h] ſpirit of infirmitie eighteene yeeres, and was [i] bowed together, and could not lift vp her ſelfe in any wiſe.

12 When Ieſus ſaw her, he called her to him, and ſaid to her, Woman, thou art ‖ looſed from thy diſeaſe.

13 And he laide his hands on her, and immediatly ſhe was made ſtraight againe, and glorified God.

14 And the ruler of the Synagogue anſwered with indignation, becauſe that Ieſus had healed on the Sabbath day, and ſaid vnto the people, There are ſixe dayes in which men ought to worke: in them therefore come and bee healed, and not on the Sabbath day.

15 Then anſwered him the Lord, and ſaid, Hypocrite, doeth not each one of you on the Sabbath day looſe his oxe or his aſſe from the ſtall, and leade him away to the water?

16 And ought not this daughter of Abraham whom Satan had bound, loe, eighteene yeeres, be looſed from this bond on the Sabbath day?

17 And when he ſaid theſe things, all his aduerſaries were aſhamed: but all the people retoyced at all the excellent things that were done by him.

18 ¶ *Then ſaid he, What is the [k] kingdome of God like? or whereto ſhall I compare it?

19 It is like a graine of muſtard ſeede which a man tooke and ſowed in his garden, and it grew, and waxed a great tree, and the foules of the heauen made neſtes in the branches thereof.

20 ¶ And againe hee ſaid, Whereunto ſhall I liken the kingdome of God?

21 It is like leauen, which a woman tooke and hid in three peckes of floure, till all was leauened.

22 ¶ *And hee went through all cities and townes, teaching, and iourneying towards Ieruſalem.

23 Then ſaid one vnto him, Lord, are there few that ſhall bee ſaued? And hee ſaid vnto them, 24 *[l] Striue to enter in at the ſtraite gate: for many, I ſay vnto you, will ſeeke to enter in, and ſhall not be able.

25 When the good man of the houſe is riſen vp, and hath ſhut to the doore, and yee begin to ſtand without, and to knocke at the doore, ſaying, Lord, Lord, open to vs, and he ſhall anſwere and ſay vnto you, I know you not whence ye are,

26 [m] Then ſhall ye begin to ſay, We haue eaten and dronken in thy preſence, and thou haſt taught in our ſtreetes.

27 But hee ſhall ſay, I tell you, I know you not whence yee are: *depart from mee, all yee workers of iniquitie.

28 There ſhall be weeping and gnaſhing of teeth, when ye ſhal ſee Abraham and Iſaac and Iacob, and al the Prophets in the kingdome of God, and your ſelues thruſt out at doores.

29 Then ſhal come many from the [n] Eaſt, and from the Weſt, and from the North, and from the South, and ſhall ſit at table in kingdome of God.

30 *And behold, [o] there are laſt, which ſhall be firſt: and there are firſt which ſhall be laſt.

31 The ſame day there came certaine Phariſes, and ſaid vnto him, Depart and goe hence: for Herode will kill thee.

32 Then ſaid he vnto them, Goe yee and tell that fox, Behold, I [p] caſt out deuils, and will heale ſtill to day, and to morrow, and the third day [q] I ſhalbe ‖ perfected.

33 Neuertheleſſe I muſt walke to day, and to morrow, and the day following: for it can not be, that a Prophet [r] ſhould periſh out of Ieruſalem.

34 *O Ieruſalem, Ieruſalem, which killeſt the Prophets, and ſtonest them that are ſent to thee, howe often would I haue gathered thy children together, as the hen gathereth her broode vnder her wings, and yee would not!

1 Iesus eateth with the Pharise, 4 Healeth the dropsie vpon the Sabbath, 8 Teacheth to bee lowly, and to bid the poore to our table. 15 Hee telleth of the great Supper. 28 He warneth them that will follow him, to lay their accounts before, what it will cost them. 34 The salt of the earth.

3 Then Iesus answering, spake vnto the expounders of the Law, and Pharises, saying, Is it lawfull to heale on the Sabbath day?

4 And they held their peace. Then hee tooke him, and healed him, and let him goe,

5 And answered them, saying, Which of you shall haue an asse, or an ore fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the Sabbath day?

6 And they could not answere him againe to those things.

7 ¶ He spake also a parable to the ghests, when hee marked how they chose out the chiefe roomes, and said vnto them, a He reproueth their ambition, which desire to sit in the highest places.

8 a When thou shalt bee bidden of any man to a wedding, set not thy selfe downe in the chiefest place, lest a more honourable man then thou, be bidden of him, 11 * For whosoeuer exalteth himselfe, shal be brought low, and hee that humbleth himselfe, shall be exalted.

Prou. 3.9. tob 4.7. Matth. 22.2. reuel. 19.9.

12 ¶ Then b said he also to him that had bidden him, * When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsemen, nor thy rich neighbours, lest they also bid thee againe, and a recompense be made thee.

c He casteth the Iewes in the teeth with their ingratitude, which would not eate of those holy meates of Gods word which was presented vnto them and whereunto they were bid a long time before,

13 But when thou makest a feast, call the poore, the maimed, the lame, and the blind, 14 And thou shalt bee blessed, because they cannot recompense thee: for thou shalt bee recompensed at the resurrection of the iust.

15 ¶ Now when one of them that sate at table, heard these things, hee said vnto him, Blessed is hee that eateth bread in the kingdome of God.

16 Then said hee to him, * c A certaine man made a great supper, and bade many,

17 And sent his seruant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come: for all things are now ready.

18 But they all with one minde began to make excuse: The first said vnto him, I haue bought a farme, and I must needes goe out and see it: I pray thee haue me excused.

19 And an other said, I haue bought fiue yoke of oxen, and I goe to proue them: I pray thee haue me excused.

20 And an other said, I haue married a wife, and therefore I cannot come.

21 So that seruant returned, and shewed his master these things. Then was the good man of the house angrie, and said to his seruant, d Goe out quickly into the places and streetes of the citie and bring in hither the poore, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blinde.

22 And the seruant said, Lord, it is done as thou hast commaunded, and yet there is roome.

23 Then the master said to the seruaunt, Goe out into the e hie wayes, and hedges, and f compell them to come in, that mine house may be filled.

24 For I say vnto you, that none of those men which were bidden, shall taste of my supper.

25 Now there went great multitudes with him, and hee turned and sayde vnto them, 26 * If any man come to mee, and g hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren and sisters, yea, and his owne life also, he cannot be my disciple.

27 * And whosoeuer beareth not his crosse, and commeth after me, cannot bee my disciple.

28 For which of you minding to build a tower, sitteth not downe before, and h counteth the cost, whether hee haue sufficient to perfourne it,

29 Lest that after he hath layed the foundation, and is not able to perfourne it, all that behold it, begin to mocke him, 30 Saying, This man began to build, and was not able to make an end?

31 Or what king going to make warre against another king, sitteth not downe first and taketh counsell, whether he be able with tenne thousand, to meete him that commeth against him with twentie thousand?

32 Or els while he is yet a great way off, he sendeth an ambassage, and desireth conditions of peace.

33 So likewise, whosoeuer hee bee of you that i forsaketh not all that he hath, hee can not be my disciple.

34 * Salt is good: k but if salt haue lost his sauour, wherewith shall it be ‖salted?

35 It is neither meete for the land, nor yet for the dunghill, but men cast it out. He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

d Here is signified the calling of the Gentiles.

e God wil rather receiue al the rascall people of the world to his banquet, then them which are vnthankfull.

f This compulsion commeth of the feeling of the power of Gods word, after that his word hath bene preached. Matth. 10.37. and 16.24.

g That is, he that casteth not off all affections and desires which draw vs from Christ. Chap. 9.23. matt. 16.24. mar. 8.34.

h He that will professe the Gospel, must diligently consider what his profession requireth, and not rashly take in hand so great an enterprise, neither yet when he hath taken it in hand, in any case forsake it.

i He that is not perswaded to leaue all at euery houre to bestowe himselfe frankly in Gods seruice. Matth. 5.13. marke 9.50.

k If they that should season others, haue lost it themselues, where should a man recouer it?

‖Or, seasoned.

CHAP. XV.

1 The Pharises murmure because Christ receiueth sinners. 4 The louing mercie of God is openly set forth in the parable of the hundreth sheepe. 7 Ioy in heauen for one sinner. 12 Of the prodigall sonne.

THen resorted vnto him all the Publicanes and sinners, to heare him.

2 Therefore the Pharises and Scribes murmured, saying, He receiueth sinners, and eateth with them.

3 Then spake hee this parable to them, saying,

Matth. 18.12. 4 * What man of you hauing an hundreth sheepe, if he lose one of them, doeth not leaue ninetie and nine in the wildernesse, and goe after that which is lost, vntill hee finde it?

5 And when hee hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders with ioy.

6 And when he commeth home, hee calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying vnto them, Reioyce with mee: for I haue found my sheepe which was lost.

7 I say vnto you, that likewise ioy shall be in heauen for one sinner that conuerteth, more then for ninetie and nine [a] iust men, which neede none amendment of life.

a Which iustifie themselues, and know not their owne faults.

8 Either what woman hauing ten [b] pieces of siluer, if shee loose one piece, doeth not light a candle, and sweepe the house, & seeke diligently till shee finde it?

b The word is, drachma, which is somewhat more in value then fiue pence of old sterling money, and was equall with a Romane penie.

9 And when shee hath found it, shee calleth her friendes, and neighbours, saying, Reioyce with me: for I haue found the piece which I had lost.

10 Likewise I say vnto you, there is ioy in the presence of the Angels of God, for one sinner that conuerteth.

11 ¶ Hee said moreouer, A certaine man had two sonnes.

12 And the yonger of them said to his father, Father, giue mee the [c] portion of the goods that falleth to me. So he diuided vnto them his substance.

c This declareth that we ought not to desire to haue our portion separate from God, except we will lose all.

13 So not long after, when the younger sonne had gathered all together, hee tooke his iourney into a farre country, and there hee wasted his goods with [d] riotous liuing.

d The Greeke word signifieth so to waste all, that a man reserueth nothing to himselfe.

14 Now when hee had spent all, there arose a great dearth throughout that land, and he began to be in necessitie.

15 Then hee went and claue to a citizen of that country, and hee sent him to his farme, to feede swine.

16 And hee would faine haue filled his belly with the huskes, that the swine ate: [e] but no man gaue them him.

e For no man had pitie vpon him.

17 Then hee came to himselfe, and said, Howe many hyred seruaunts at my fathers haue bread enough, and I die for hunger?

18 I will rise and goe to my father, and say vnto him. Father, I haue sinned against [f] heauen, and before thee, f That is, against God.

19 And am no more worthy to bee called thy sonne: make me as one of thy hyred seruants.

20 So hee arose, and came to his father, and when he was yet [g] a great way off, his father sawe him, and had compassion, and ranne and fell on his necke, and kissed him.

g God preuenteth vs and heareth our groninges before we cry to him.

21 And the sonne said vnto him, [h] Father, I haue sinned against heauen, and before thee, and am no more worthy to bee called thy sonne.

h He was touched with the feeling of his sinne, and therefore was ashamed thereof, and heauie in heart.

22 Then the father said to his seruants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and shooes on his feete, 23 And bring the fat calfe, and kill him, and let vs eate and be merrie.

24 For this my sonne was dead, and is aliue againe: and hee was lost, but hee is found. And they began to be merrie.

25 Now the [i] elder brother was in the field, and when hee came and drewe neere to the house, hee heard melodie, and daunsing, i God reproueth the enuie of such as grudge when God receiueth sinners to mercy.

26 And called one of his seruaunts, and asked what those things meant.

27 And hee said vnto him, Thy brother is come, and thy father hath killed the fatted calfe, because hee hath receiued him safe and sound.

28 Then he was angrie, and would not goe in: therefore came his father out and intreated him.

29 But hee answered and said to his father, Loe, these many yeeres haue I done thee seruice, neither brake I at any time thy commandement, and yet thou neuer gauest me a kid, that I might make merry with my friends.

30 But when this thy sonne was come, which hath deuoured thy goods with harlots, thou hast for his sake killed the fatte calfe.

31 And hee said vnto him, [k] Sonne, thou art euer with mee, and all that I haue, is thine. It was meete that wee should make merry, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is aliue againe: and hee was lost, but he is found.

k Thy part which art a Iew, is nothing diminished by that, that Christ was also killed for the Gentiles: for he accepteth not the person, but feedeth indifferently all them that beleeue in him, with his body and blood to life euerlasting.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Christ exhorteth his to wisedome and liberalitie by the example of the steward 13 None can serue two masters. 14 He reproueth the couetousnes and hypocrisie of the Pharises. 16 Of the end and force of the Law. 18 The holy state of marriage. 19 Of the rich man, and Lazarus.

AND hee said also vnto his disciples, There was a certaine rich man, which had a steward, and hee was accused vnto him, that he wasted his goods.

a Christ teacheth hereby, that likewise as he which is in authoritie, and hath riches, if he get friends in his prosperitie, may be relieued in his aduersitie: so our liberalitie towards our neighbour shall stand vs in such stead at the day of Iudgement, that God will accept it as done vnto him.

2 And he called him, and said vnto him, How is it that I heare this of thee? Giue an accounts of thy stewardship: for thou maiest be no longer steward.

3 Then the steward said within himselfe, What shall I doe? for my master will take away from mee the stewardship. I can not dig, and to beg I am ashamed.

4 I know what I will doe, that when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receiue me into their houses.

5 Then called hee euery one of his masters detters, and said vnto the first, How much owest thou vnto my master?

6 And hee said, An hundreth measures of oyle. And hee said to him, Take thy writing, and sit downe quickly, and write fiftie.

7 Then said he to another, How much owest thou? And hee sayde, An hundreth measures measures of wheate. Then he sayd to him, Take thy writting, and write fourescore.

8 And the Lord commended [b] the vniust steward, because hee had done wisely. (Whereas the children of this world are in their generation wiser then the children of light.

9 And I say vnto you, Make you friends [c] with the riches of iniquitie, that when yee shall want, they may receiue you into euerlasting habitations.

10 Hee that is faithfull in the least, he is also faithfull in much: and he that is vniust in the least, is vniust also in much.

11 If then yee haue not been faithfull in [d] the wicked riches, who will trust you in the true treasure?

12 And if yee haue not been faithfull in [e] another mans goods, who shall giue you that which is [f] yours?

13 * No seruant can serue two masters: for either he shall hate the one, and loue the other: or else hee shall leane to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serue God and riches.

14 All these things heard the Pharises also which were couetous, and they [g] mocked him.

15 Then he sayd vnto them, Ye are they which [h] iustifie your selues before men: but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly esteemed among men, is abomination in the sight of God.

16 * The Law of the Prophets endured vntill Iohn: and since that time the kingdome of God is preached, and euery man [i] preaseth into it.

17 * Now it is more easie that heauen and earth should passe away, then that one title of the law should fall.

18 ¶ * Whosoeuer putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth aduiterie: and whosoeuer marieth her that [k] is put away from her husband, committeth aduiterie.

19 ¶ There was a [l] certaine rich man, which was clothed in purple, and fine linnen, and fared well and delicately euery day.

20 Also there was a certaine begger named Lazarus, which was layd at his gate full of sores, 21 And desired to bee refreshed with the crummes that fell from the rich mans table: yea, and the dogs came and licked his sores.

22 And it was so that the begger died, and was caried by the Angels into [m] Abrahams bosome. The rich man also died and was buried.

23 And being in hell in torments, he lift vp his eyes, and saw Abraham afarre off, and Lazarus in his bosome.

24 Then he cried and said, Father Abraham, haue mercie on me, and send Lazarus that he may dip the tip of his [o] finger in water, and coole my tongue: for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham sayd, [p] Sonne, remember that thou in thy life time receiuedst thy ‖ pleasures, and likewise Lazarus ‖ paines: now therefore is he comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 Besides all this betweene you and vs there is a great ‖ gulfe set, so that they which would go from hence to you, cannot, neither can they come from thence to vs.

27 Then he sayd, I pray thee therefore father, that thou wouldest send him to my fathers house, 28 (For I haue fiue brethren) that he may testifie vnto them, least they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham sayd vnto him, They haue Moses and the [q] Prophets: let them [r] heare them.

30 And hee sayd, Nay, father Abraham: but if one come vnto them from the dead, they will amend their liues.

31 Then he sayd vnto him, If they heare not Moses and the Prophets, neither will they be perswaded, though one rise from the dead againe.

b God who doth here represent the master of the house doeth rather cõmend the prodigall waste of his goods, and the liberall giuing of the same to the poore, then the straight keeping and hourding of them.

c That is, either wickedly gotten, or wickedly kept, or wickedly spent: and hereby we be warned to suspect riches, which for the most part are an occasion to their possessors of great wickednesse.

d They which cannot well bestowe worldly goods, will bestow ill spirituall treasures: and therefore they ought not to be committed vnto them.

e As are riches and such like things, which God hath giuen not for your selues onely, but to bestow vpon others.

f Christ calleth the gifts which he giueth vnto vs, ours.

Matth.6.24.

g Because they iudged no man happy, but those that were rich.

h Which loue outward appearance and vaine-glory.

Matth.11.12.

i Their zeale is so inflamed, that they follow the Gospel without respect of worldly things. Mat.5.18. Mat.5.32 and 19.9. 1.cor.7.11.

k That is, which is not lawfully diuorced.

l By this storie is declared, what punishment they shall haue, which liue deliciously and neglect the poore.

m As the fathers in the old lawe, were sayd to be gathered into the bosom of Abraham, because they receiued ỹ fruit of the same faith with him: so in the New Testament we say that the members of Christ are ioyned to their head, or gathered vnto him.

n Whereby is signified that most blessed life, which they that die in the faith that Abraham did, shall enioy after this world.

o Christ describeth spirituall things by such maner of speech, as is most proper to our vnderstanding: for our soules haue neither fingers nor eyes, neither are they thirstie, or speake: but the Lord as it were in a table, painteth forth the state of the life to come, as our capacitie is able to comprehend it.

p In calling him sonne, he taunteth his vaine boasting, who in his life vanted himselfe to be the sonne of Abraham: warning vs also hereby how little glorious titles auaile. ‖ Or, good things. ‖ Or, euill things. ‖ Or, swallowing vp.

q Which declareth that it is too late to bee instructed by the dead, if in their life time they cannot profit by the liuely word of God.

r As faith commeth by Gods word, so it is maintained by the same. So that wee neither ought to looke for Angels from heauen, or the dead to confirme vs therein, but onely the word of God is sufficient to life euerlasting.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Christ teacheth his disciples to auoide occasions of offence. 3 one to forgiue another. 5 We ought to pray for the increase of faith. 6 He magnifieth the vertue of faith, 11 and sheweth the vnability of man, 11 healeth tenne lepers, 20 speaketh of the latter dayes, and of the ende of the world.

THen sayd he to the disciples, * It cannot be auoided, but that offences will come, but woe be to him by whom they come.

2 It were better for him that a great millstone were hanged about his necke, and that hee were cast into the sea, then that hee should [a] offend one of these little ones.

3 ¶ Take heede to your selues: if thy brother trespasse against thee, rebuke him: and if he repent, forgiue him.

4 * And though hee sinne against thee [b] seuen times in a day, and seuen times in a day turne againe to thee, saying, It repenteth me, thou shalt forgiue him.

5 ¶ And the Apostles said vnto the Lord, Increase our faith.

6 And the Lord sayd, * If yee had faith, as much as is [c] a graine of mustard seed, and should say vnto this mulbery tree, [d] Plucke thy selfe vp by the rootes, and plant thy selfe in the sea, it should euen obey you.

Matth.18.7. mar.9.42.

a That is, to turne him backe from the knowledge of God, and his saluation.

Matth.18.21.

b That is, many times: for by a certaine number he meaneth an vncertaine.

Matth.17.20.

c That is, if they had neuer so little of pure and perfite faith.

d Meaning, they should doe wonderfull, and incredible things.

7 ¶ Who is it also of you, that hauing a seruant plowing or feeding cattell, would say vnto him by and by, when he were come from the field, Goe, and sit downe at table?

8 And would not rather say to him, e Dresse wherewith I may sup, and gird thy selfe, and serue mee, till I haue eaten and dronken, and afterward eate thou, and drinke thou?

9 Doeth he thanke that seruant, because hee did that which was commanded vnto him? I trow not.

10 So likewise ye, when ye haue done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are f vnprofitable seruants: wee haue done that which was our duety to doe.

11 ¶ And so it was when he went to Ierusalem, that hee passed thorow the mids of Samaria and Galile.

12 And as he entred into a certain town, there met him tenne men that were lepers, which stood afarre off.

13 And they lift vp their voyces and said, Iesus, Master, haue mercie on vs.

14 And when he saw them, he said vnto them, *Goe, shewe your selues vnto the g Priests. And it came to passe, that as they went, they were cleansed.

15 Then one of them, when hee saw that hee was healed, turned backe, and with a loude voice praysed God, 16 And fell downe on his face at his feet, and gaue him thankes: and he was a Samaritane.

17 And Iesus answered, & said, Are there not ten clensed: but where are the h nine?

18 There are none found that returned to giue god praise, saue this stranger.

19 And he said vnto him, Arise, Goe thy way, thy faith hath made thee whole.

20 ¶ And when hee was demaunded of the Pharises, when the kingdome of God should come, hee answered them, and said, The kingdome of God commeth not i with obseruation, 21 Neither shall men say, Loe here, or loe there: for behold, the kingdome of God is ‖ k within you.

22 And hee said vnto the disciples, The dayes will come, when ye shall desire to see l one of the dayes of the Sonne of man, and ye shall not see it.

23 *Then they shall say to you, Behold here, or behold there: but go not thither neither follow them.

24 For as the lightning that lighteneth out of the one part vnder heauen, shineth vnto the other part vnder heauen, so shall the Sonne of man be in his m day.

25 But first must he suffer many things, and be reproued of this generation.

26 *And as it was in the n dayes of Noe, so shall it be in the dayes of the Sonne of man.

27 They ate, they dranke, they married wiues, & gaue in mariage vnto the day that Noe went into the Arke, and the flood came, and destroyed them all.

28 *Likewise also as it was in the dayes of Lot: they ate, they dranke, they bought, they sold, they planted, they built, 29 But in the day that Lot went out of Sodome, it rained fire and brimstone from heauen, and destroyed them all.

30 After these ensamples shall it be in the day whe the Sonne of man shalbe reuealed.

31 At that day, he that is vpon the o house and his stuffe in the house, let him not come downe to take it out: and he that is in the field likewise, let him not turne backe to that he left behinde.

32 *Remember Lots wife.

33 *Whosoeuer will seeke to saue his soule, shall lose it: and whosoeuer shal lose it, p shall get it life.

34 *I tell you, in that night there shall be two in one q bed: the one shall bee receiued and the other shalbe left.

35 Two women shall be grinding together: the one shalbe taken and the other shal be left.

36 Two shalbe in the field: one shall bee receiued, and another shalbe left.

37 And they answered, and said to him, Where, Lord? And hee said vnto them, *r Where soeuer the body is, thither will also the Eagles resort.

CHAP. XVIII.

2 By the example of the widowe, and the Publicane, Christ teacheth how to pray. 15 By the example of children, he exhorteth to humilitie. 18 Of the way to be saued, and what things let. 29 The reward promised to his, 31 and of the crosse. 35 A blinde man receiueth sight.

AND *he spake also a parable vnto them, to this ende, that they ought alwayes to pray and not to a waxe faint,

2 Saying, There was a iudge in a certaine citie, which feared not God, neither reuerenced man.

3 And there was a widowe in that citie, which came vnto him, saying, ‖ Doe me iustice against mine b aduersarie.

4 And he would not for a time: but afterward hee said with himselfe, Though I feare not God, nor reuerence man,

5 Yet because this widow troubleth me, I will do her right, least at the last she come and make me wearie.

6 And the Lord said, Heare what the vnrighteous iudge saith.

7 Now shall not God auenge his elect, which crie day and night vnto him, yea, though c he suffer long for them?

8 I tell you he wil auenge them quickly: but when the Sonne of man commeth, shall he find faith on the earth?

9 ¶ He spake also this parable vnto certaine which trusted in themselues that they were iust, and despised other.

10 Two men went vp into the Temple to pray: the one a Pharise, and the other a Publicane.

11 The Pharise d stood and prayed thus with himselfe, O God, I thanke thee that I am not as other men, extortioners, vniust, adulterers, or euen as this Publicane.

12 I fast twise in the weeke: I giue tithe of all that euer I possesse.

13 But the Publicane standing a far off, would not lift vp so much as his eyes to heauen, but smote his breast, saying, O God bee mercifull to me a sinner.

14 I tell you this man departed to his house iustified, ‖ rather then the other: * For euery man that exalteth himselfe, shall bee brought low, and he that humbleth himselfe, shall be exalted.

15 ¶ * They brought vnto him also f babes, that he should touch them. And when his disciples saw it, they rebuked them.

16 But Iesus called e them vnto him, and said, Suffer the babes to come vnto me, and forbid them not: for g of h such is the kingdome of God.

17 Verely I say vnto you, Whosoeuer receiueth not the kingdome of God, as a i babe, he shall not enter therein.

18 * Then a certaine ruler asked him, saying, Good master, what ought I to do, to inherit eternall life?

19 And Iesus said vnto him, Why callest thou me k good? none is good, saue one, euen God.

20 Thou knowest the commandements, * Thou shalt not commit adultery: Thou shalt not kill: Thou shalt not steale: Thou shalt not beare false witnesse: Honour thy father and thy mother.

21 And hee said, All these haue I kept from my youth.

22 Now when Iesus heard that, he said vnto him, Yet lackest thou one thing, Sell all that euer thou hast, and distribute vnto the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come, followe me.

23 But when he heard those things, hee was very heauy: for hee was marueilous rich.

24 And when Iesus saw him sorrowfull, hee said, With what difficultie shall they that haue riches enter into the kingdome of God?

25 Surely it is easier for a ‖ camell to goe through a needles eye, then for a rich man to enter into the kingdome of God.

26 Then said they that heard it, And who then can be saued?

27 And hee said, The things which are vnpossible with men, are l possible with God.

28 ¶ * Then Peter said, Loe, wee haue left all, and haue followed thee.

29 And he said vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, there is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children for the kingdome of Gods sake, 30 Which shall not receiue m much more in this worlde, and in the world to come life euerlasting.

31 ¶ * Then Iesus tooke vnto him the twelue, and said vnto them, Behold, we go vp to Ierusalem, and all things shall be fulfilled to the Sonne of man, that are written by the Prophets.

32 For he shalbe delinered vnto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and shall be spitefully intreated, and shall be spitted on.

33 And when they haue scourged him, they will put him to death: but the third day hee shall rise againe.

34 But they vnderstoode none of these things, and this saying was hid from them, neither perceiued they the things, which were spoken.

35 ¶ * And it came to passe, that as hee was come neere vnto Iericho, a certain blind man sate by the way side begging. Matth. 20. 29. marke 10. 46.

36 And when hee heard the people passe by, he asked what it meant.

37 And they said vnto him, that Iesus of Nazareth passed by.

38 Then he cryed, saying, Iesus the sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on mee.

39 And they which went before, rebuked him, that hee should hold his peace, but hee cryed much more, O n Sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on mee.

40 And Iesus stood still, and commanded him to be brought vnto him. And when he was come neere, he asked him, 41 Saying, What wilt thou that I doe vnto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receiue my sight.

42 And Iesus said vnto him, Receiue thy sight: thy faith hath saued thee.

43 Then immediatly hee receiued his sight, and followed him, o praysing God: and all the people when they saw this, gaue praise to God.

4 Wherefore hee ran before, and climed vp into a wilde figge tree, that hee might see him, for he should come that way.

5 And when Iesus came to the place, hee looked vp and saw him, and said vnto him, Zaccheus, come downe at once: for to day I must abide at thine house.

6 Then he came downe hastily, and receiued him ioyfully.

7 And when all they saw it, they murmured, saying, that he was gone in to lodge with a ‖ sinfull man.

8 And Zaccheus stood forth, and said vnto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the halfe of my goods I giue to the poore: and if I haue taken from any man by ‖ forged cauillation, I restore him foure fold.

11 And while they heard these things, he continued and spake a parable, because hee was neere to Ierusalem, and because also they thought that the kingdome of GOD should shortly appeare.

12 He sayd therefore, * A certaine noble man went into [c] a farre countrey, to receiue for himselfe a kingdome, and so to come again.

13 And he called his ten seruants, and deliuered them ten [d] pieces of money, and sayd vnto them, * Occupie till I come.

14 Now his citizens hated him, and sent an ambassage after him, saying, We will not haue this man to reigne ouer vs.

15 And it came to passe when hee was come [e] againe, and had receiued his kingdome, that he commanded the seruants to be called to him, to whome he gaue his money, that he might know what euery man had gained.

16 Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy piece had increased ten pieces.

17 And he sayd vnto him, Well good seruant: because thou hast bene faithfull in a very little thing, take thou authoritie ouer ten cities.

18 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy piece hath increased fiue pieces.

19 And to the same he said, Be thou also ruler ouer fiue cities.

20 So the other came and sayd, Lord, beholde thy piece, which I haue layd vp in a napkin.

21 For I feared thee, because thou art a straite man, thou takest vp that thou layedst not downe, and reapest that thou didst not sowe.

22 Then he said vnto him, Of thine owne [g] mouth will I iudge thee, O euill seruant. Thou knewest that I am a straite man, taking vp that I layd not downe, and reaping that I did not sowe.

23 Wherefore then gauest not thou my money into the banke, that at my comming I might haue required it with vantage?

24 And hee sayd to them that stoode by, Take from him that piece, and giue it him that hath ten pieces.

25 (And they said vnto him, Lord, hee hath ten pieces.)

26 * For I say vnto you, that vnto all them that haue, it shall be [h] giuen: and from him that hath not, euen that he hath, shall be taken from him.

27 Moreouer, those mine enemies, which would not that I should reigne ouer them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

28 ¶ And when he had thus spoken, hee went forth [i] before, ascending vp to Ierusalem.

29 * And it came to passe, when he was come neere to Bethphage, and Bethania, besides the mount which is called the mount of Olives, hee sent two of his disciples, 30 Saying, Goe yee to the towne which is before you, wherein assoone as yee are come, yee shall finde a colt tyed, whereon neuer man sate: loose him, and bring him hither.

31 [k] And if any man aske you, why yee loose him, thus shall ye say vnto him, Because the Lord hath need of him.

32 So they that were sent, went their way, and found it as he had layd vnto them.

33 And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof sayd vnto them, Why loose ye the colt?

34 And they sayd, The Lord hath neede of him.

35 ¶ * So they brought him to Iesus, and they cast their garments on the colt, and set Iesus thereon.

36 And as hee went, they spred their clothes in the way.

37 And when hee was nowe come neere to the going downe of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to reioyce, and to praise God with a loude voyce, for all the great workes that they had seene, 38 Saying, Blessed be the King that commeth in the Name of the Lorde: [l] peace in heauen, and glory in the highest places.

39 Then some of the Pharises of the company sayd vnto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.

40 But he answered and sayd vnto them, I tell you, that if these should hold their peace, the stones would cry.

41 ¶ * And when he was come neere, he beheld the city, and wept for it, 42 Saying, [m] O if thou haddest euen knowen at the least in this thy day [n] those things, which belong vnto thy peace! but now are they [o] hid from thine eyes.

43 For the dayes shall come vpon thee, that thine enemies shall cast a trench vpon thee, and compasse thee round, and keepe thee in on euery side, 44 And shall make thee euen with the ground, and thy children which are in thee, and they shall not leaue in thee a stone vpon a stone, because thou knewest not the time of thy [p] visitation.

45 ¶ * He went also into the Temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought, 46 Saying vnto them, It is written, * Mine house is the house of prayer, * but ye haue made it a denne of theeues.

47 And he taught [q] dayly in the Temple. And the hie Priests & the Scribes, and the chiefe of the people sought to destroy him.

what authoritie thou doest these things, or who is he that hath giuen thee this authoritie?

3 And he answered, and sayd vnto them, I also will aske you one thing: tell me therefore:

a By Baptisme he comprehendeth all Iohns ministerie, who bare witnes to Christ.

4 The a baptisme of Iohn, was it from heauen, or of men?

5 And they reasoned within themselues, saying, If we shall say, From heauen, hee will say, Why then beleeued ye him not?

6 But if we shall say, Of men, al the people will stone vs: for they be perswaded that Iohn was a Prophet.

7 Therefore they answered, that they could not tell whence it was.

b By this meanes he made them ashamed and astonished. *Matt.*21.33. *mar.*12.1. *isa.*5. *ier.*2.21.

8 Then Iesus sayd vnto them, b Neither tell I you by what authoritie I doe these things.

c The Iewes were as Gods plants, and his owne grafting-d God committed his people to the gouernours and priests.

9 ¶ Then began he to speake to the people this parable, c A certaine man planted a d vineyard, and e let it foorth to husbandmen: and went into a strange countrey, for a great season.

e He sayed vp prophets.

10 And at a time he sent a f seruant to the husbandmen, that they should giue him of the fruit of the vineyard, but the husbandmen did beat him, and sent him away emptie.

11 Againe hee sent yet another seruant: and they did beat him, and foule intreated him, and sent him away emptie, 12 Moreouer, he sent the third, and him they wounded, and cast out.

13 Then said the Lord of the vineyard, What shall I doe? I will send my beloued Sonne: it may bee that they will doe reuerence, when they see him.

14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned with themselues, saying, This is the heire: come, let vs kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

*Psal.*118.22. *isa.*28.16. *act.*4.11. *rom.*9.33. 1. *pet.*2.7.

15 So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What shall the Lord of the vineyard therefore doe vnto them?

f For by it the building is ioined together, and made strong.

16 Hee will come and destroy these husbandmen, and will giue out his vineyard to others: But when they heard it, they said, God forbid.

17 ¶ And he beheld them, & said, What meaneth this then that is written, * The stone that the builders refused, that is made the head of the corner?

g They that stumble & fall on Christ, thinking to oppresse him, shalbe ouerthrowen themselues and destroyed. *Matt.*22.16. *mar.*12.13.

18 g Whosoeuer shal fall vpon that stone, shall be broken: and on whomsoeuer it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.

19 Then the high Priests & the Scribes the same houre went about to lay hands on him: (but they feared the people) for they perceiued that hee had spoken this parable against them.

h They waited for a conuenient time and place.

20 * And they h watched him, and sent foorth spies, which should faine themselues iust men, to take him in his talke, and to deliuer him vnto the power and authoritie of the gouernour.

i They thought it vnlawfull to pay to a prince being an infidel, that which they were wont to pay to God in his Temple, 21 And they asked him, saying, Master, wee know that thou sayest, & teachest right, neither doest thou accept any mans person, but teachest the way of God truely.

22 Is it i lawfull for vs to giue Cesar tribute, or no?

23 But he perceiued their craftinesse, and sayd vnto them, Why tempt ye me?

24 Shew me a peny. Whose image and superscription hath it? They answered and sayd, Cesars.

25 Then hee sayd vnto them, * k Giue then vnto Cesar the things which are Cesars, and to God those which are Gods.

*Rom.*13.17.

k The duety which we owe to to Princes, letteth nothing that which is due vnto God. *Matth.*22.23. *mar.*12.18. *Deut.*25.5.

26 And they could not reproue his saying before the people: but they maruelled at his answere, and held their peace.

27 * Then came to him certaine of the Sadduces, (which deny that there is any resurrection) and they asked him, 28 Saying, Master, * Moses wrote vnto vs, If any mans brother die hauing a wife, and he die without children, that his brother should take his wife, and rayse vp seede vnto his brother.

29 Now there were seuen brethren, and the first tooke a wife, and he died without children.

30 And the second tooke the wife, and he died childlesse.

31 Then the third tooke her: and so likewise the seuen dyed, and left no children.

32 And last of all, the woman died also.

33 Therefore at the resurrection, whose wife of them shal she be? for seuen had her to wife, l In this place he calleth all them children of this world which remaine in y same: or els matrimony should not seeme to appertaine to the children of God, as that wicked mōster Pope Cyricius taught, against the manifest Scriptures.

34 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto them, The l children of this world marrie wiues and are maried.

m Since mariage is ordained to maintaine and increase mankind, when we shall bee immortal, it shall not be in any vse.

35 But they which shall be counted worthy to enioy that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry wiues, neither are married.

36 m For they can die no more, forasmuch as they are equall vnto the Angels, and are the sonnes of God, n since they are the children of the resurrection.

n For although the wicked arise againe, yet that life is but death and an eternall destruction.

37 And that the dead shall rise againe, euen * Moses shewed it besides the bush, when he said, The Lord is the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob.

*Exod.*3.6.

38 For hee is not the God of the o dead, but of them which liue: p for all liue vnto him.

o Of them which are not, but of them which are.

p The immortalitie of the soule cannot be separated from the resurrection of the body, whereof here Christ properly speaketh.

39 Then certaine of the Pharises answered, and sayd, Master, thou hast well sayd.

40 And after that, durst not they aske him any thing at all.

*Matth.*22.44. *mar.*12.35. *Psal.*110.1.

41 ¶ Then said he vnto them, How say they that Christ is Dauids sonne?

q For the sonne is not Lord of his father, and therefore it followeth that Christ is God. *Chap.*11.43. *matth.*23.6. *mar.*12.38.

42 And Dauid himselfe saith in the book of the Psalmes, * The Lord sayd vnto my Lord, sit at my right hand, 43 Till I shall make thine enemies thy foote stoole.

44 Seeing Dauid called him Lord, how is he then his q sonne?

45 ¶ Then in the audience of all the people, he sayd vnto his disciples,

46 * Beware of the Scribes, which desire to goe in long robes, and loue salutations in the markets, and the highest seats in the Synagogues, and the chiefe roomes at feasts:

47 Which deuoure widowes houses, euen vnder a colour of long praying: these shall receiue greater damnation.

CHAP. XXI.

3 Christ commendeth the poore widow. 6 Hee forewarneth of the destruction of Ierusalem. 8 Of false teachers. 9 Of the tokens and troubles to come. 27 Of the end of the world, 37 and of his dayly exercise.

Mar.12.41.

AND * as he beheld, hee saw the rich men, which cast their gifts into the treasurie,

2 And hee saw also a certaine poore widow, which cast in thither two mites,

3 And hee sayd, Of a trueth I say vnto you, that this poore widow hath cast in more then they all.

a God esteemeth not the gift or almes by the quantity or value, but by the heart and affection.

4 a For they all haue of their superfluity, cast into the offerings of God: but shee of her penury hath cast in all the liuing that she had.

Chap.19.43,44. matt.24.1. mar.13.1.

5 *Now as some spake of the Temple, how it was garnished with goodly stones, and with ‖ consecrate things, he sayd,

‖ Or, gifts.

6 Are these the things that ye looke vpon? the dayes will come, wherein a stone shal not be left vpon a stone, that shall not bee throwen downe.

7 Then they asked him, saying, Master, but when shall these things bee? and what signe shall there be when these things shall come to passe?

Ephes. 5.6. 2.thes. 2.3.

b Christ then maketh answere of that which was more necessary for them and not to the question they demaunded.

8 *And hee sayd, b Take heed that yee be not deceiued: for many will come in my Name, saying, I am Christ, and the time draweth neere: follow yee not them therefore.

Matth. 24.7. mar.13.8.

9 And when ye heare of warres and seditions, be not afraid: for these things must first come, but the end followeth not by and by.

10 Then said he vnto them, Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdome against kingdome.

c This their sufferance shal both be a greater confirmation to the Gospel, & also by their constancie the tyranny of their enemies shall at length be manifest before God and man.

11 *And great earthquakes shalbe in diuers places, and hunger, and pestilence, and fearefull things, and great signes shal there be from heauen.

Chap.12.12. matt.10.19. mar.13.11.

12 But before all these, they shal lay their hands on you, and persecute you, deliuering you vp to the Synagogues, and into prisons, and bring you before kings and rulers for my Names sake.

13 And this shall turne to you, for a c testimonie.

d For though they were so impudent to resist, yet trueth euer gaineth the victorie.

14 * Lay it vp therefore in your hearts, that yee premeditate not what yee shall answere.

Matth. 10.30.

15 For I will giue you a mouth, and wisdome, where against all your aduersaries shall not be able to speake, nor d resist.

16 Yea, yee shall be betrayed also of your parents, and of your brethren, and kinsmen, and friends, and some of you shall they put to death.

17 And yee shall be hated of all men for my Names sake.

18 *Yet there shall not one haire of your heads perish.

20 ¶ *And when ye see Ierusalem besieged with souldiers, then vnderstand that the desolation thereof is neere.

21 Then let them which are in Iudea, flee to the mountaines: and let them which are in the middes thereof, depart out: and let not them that are in the countrey, enter therein.

22 For these be the dayes of vengeance, to fulfill all things that are written.

23 But wo be to them that be with child, and to them that giue sucke in those dayes: for there shall be great distresse in this land, and f wrath ouer this people.

f Gods wrath against his people shall appeare by the calamities & plagues wherewith he will punish them.

24 And they shall fall on the edge of the sword, and shall be led captiue into all nations, and Ierusalem shall bee troden vnder foote of the Gentiles, vntill the g time of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

g He meaneth their iniquities to receiue likewise their punishment afterward.

Isa.13.10. ezek. 32.7. mat. 24.29. mar.13.24.

25 * Then there shall bee signes in the Sunne, & in the Moone, and in the Starres, and vpon the earth trouble among the nations, with perplexitie: the sea and the waters shall roare.

26 And mens hearts shall faile them for feare, & for looking after those things which shall come on the world: for the powers of heauen shall be shaken,

27 And then shall they see the Sonne of man come in a cloud, with power and great glory.

28 And when these things begin to come to passe, then looke vp, & lift vp your heads: * for your h redemption draweth neere.

Rom.8.23.

h The effect of that redemption which Iesus Christ hath purchased shall then fully appeare.

29 And he spake to them a parable, Behold the fig tree, and all trees, 30 When they now shoot forth, ye seeing them, know of your owne selues, that Sommer is then neere.

31 So likewise yee, when yee see these things come to passe, know ye that the kingdome of God is neere.

32 Verely I say vnto you, This age shal not i passe, till all these things be done.

i For all these things came within fiftie yeres after.

33 Heauen and earth shall passe away, but my wordes shall not passe away.

34 Take heede to your selues, lest at any time your hearts bee oppressed with surfetting and drunkennes, and cares of this life, and lest that day come on you at vnwares.

35 For as a k snare shall it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth.

k To catch and intangle them, wheresoeuer they be in the world.

36 Watch therefore, and pray continually, ‖ that ye may be counted worthy to escape all these thinges that shall come to passe, and that yee may stand before the Sonne of man.

‖ Or, that ye may be made worthy.

37 ¶ Now in the day time hee taught in the Temple, and at night he went out, and abode in the mount that is called the mount of Olines.

38 And all the people came in the morning to him, to heare him in the Temple.

a The feast was so called, because they could eat no leauened bread for the space of seuen dayes: for so long the feast of the Passeouer continued.

NOwe * the a feast of vnleauened bread drew neere, which is called the Passeouer.

2 And the hie Priests & Scribes sought how they might kill him: for they feared the people.

3 Then entred Satan into Iudas, who was called Iscariot, and was of the number of the twelue.

4 And he went his way and communed with the hie Priestes and b captaines, how he might betray him to them.

5 So they were c glad, and agreed to giue him money.

6 And hee consented and sought opportunitie to betray him vnto them, when the people were away.

7 ¶ * Then came the day of vnleauened bread when the Passeouer d must be sacrificed.

8 And he sent Peter and Iohn, saying, Goe, and prepare vs the Passeouer, that wee may eat it.

9 And they said to him, Where wilt thou that we prepare it?

10 Then hee sayd vnto them, Beholde, when yee bee entred into the citie, there shal a man meet you, bearing a pitcher of water: follow him into the house that hee entreth in,

11 And say vnto the goodman of the house, The master sayth vnto thee, Where is the lodging where I shall eate my Passeouer with my disciples?

12 Then hee shall shew you a great high chamber trimmed, there make it ready.

13 So they went and found as hee had sayd vnto them, and made ready the Passeouer.

14 * And when the e houre was come, hee sate downe, and the twelue Apostles with him.

15 Then he sayd vnto them, I haue earnestly desired to eate this Passeouer with you before I suffer.

16 For I say vnto you, f Hencefoorth I will not eat of it any more, vntill it be fulfilled in the kingdome of God.

17 And he tooke the cup, & gaue thanks, and sayd, Take this, and diuide it among you.

18 For I say vnto you, I will not drinke of the fruit of the vine, vntill the kingdome of God be come.

19 * And hee tooke bread, and when hee had giuen thanks, hee brake it, and gaue to them, saying, g This is my bodie, which is giuen for you: doe this in the remembrance of me.

20 Likewise also after Supper he tooke the cup, saying, This cup is the new h Testament in my blood, which is shed for you.

21 * Yet behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me, is with me at the table.

22 And truely the Sonne of man goeth as it is i appointed: but woe be to that man, by whom he is betrayed.

23 Then they began to enquire among themselues, which of them it should be, that should doe that.

24 ¶ * And there arose also a strife among them, which of them should seeme to be the greatest.

25 But he sayd vnto them, The kings of the Gentiles reigne ouer them, & they that beare rule ouer them, are called k Gracious lords.

26 But ye shall not be so: but let the greatest among you be as the ‖ least: & the chiefest as he that serueth.

27 For who is greater, hee that sitteth at table, or he that serueth? is not hee that sitteth at table? And I am among you as hee that serueth.

28 And ye are they which haue continued with me in my tentations.

29 Therefore I ‖ appoint vnto you a kingdome, as my Father hath appointed to me, 30 * That ye may l eat and drinke at my table in my kingdome, and sit on seats, and iudge the twelue tribes of Israel.

31 ¶ And the Lord sayd, Simon, Simon, behold, * Satan hath desired you, m to winnow you as wheate.

32 But I haue prayed for thee, that thy faith n faile not: therefore when thou art conuerted, strengthen thy brethren.

33 * And he sayd vnto him, Lord, I am ready to goe with thee into prison, and to death.

34 But hee sayd, I tell thee Peter, the cocke shall not crow this day, before thou hast thrise denied that thou knewest me.

35 ¶ And he sayd vnto them, * When I sent you without bag, and scrip, and shoes, lacked yee any thing? And they sayd, Nothing.

36 Then he sayd to them, But now hee that hath a bag, let him take it, and likewise a scrip: and he that hath none, let him sel his coat, and o buy a sword.

37 For I say vnto you, that yet the same which is written must be performed in mee, * Euen with the wicked was hee numbred: for doubtlesse those things which are written of me, haue an end.

38 And they sayd, Lord, behold, here are p two swords. And he sayd vnto them, It is enough.

39 ¶ * And he came out, and went (as he was wont) to the mount of Olines: and his disciples also followed him.

40 * And when he came to the place, hee sayd to them, Pray, least ye enter into tentation.

41 And hee gate himselfe from them about a stones cast, and kneeled downe, and prayed, 42 Saying, Father, if thou wilt, take away this q cup from mee: neuertheless, not my will, but thine be done.

43 And there appeared an Angel vnto him from heauen, comforting him.

44 But being in an r agony, hee prayed more earnestly: and his sweate was like droppes of blood, trickling downe to the ground.

45 And he rose vp from prayer, and came to his disciples, and found them sleeping for heauinesse.

46 And he sayd vnto them, Why sleepe ye? rise and pray, lest ye enter into tentation.

Matth. 26 47. marke 14.43. iohn 18. 3.

47 ¶ And while he yet spake, behold, a company, and he that was called Judas one of the twelue, went before them, and came neere vnto Jesus to kisse him.

48 And Jesus sayd vnto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Sonne of man with a kisse?

49 Now when they which were about him, saw what would follow, they sayd vnto him, Lord, shall we smite with sword?

50 And one of them smote a seruant of the hie Priest, and stroke off his right eare.

51 Then Jesus answered and said, Suffer them thus farre: and he touched his eare, and healed him.

52 Then Jesus sayd to the hie Priestes, and captaines of the Temple, & the Elders which were come to him, Bee yee come out as vnto a theefe, with swords and staues?

53 When I was daily with you in the Temple, yee stretched not forth the handes against me: but this is your very houre, and the f power of darkenesse.

f For now God gaue libertie to Satan, whose ministers they were, to execute his rage against him: which thing wee see is gouerned by the prouidence of God.

54 Then tooke they him, and led him and brought him to the hie Priestes house. And Peter followed a farre off.

55 * And when they had kindled a fire in the mids of the hall, & were set downe together, Peter also sate downe among them.

Matth. 26.69. marke 14.66. iohn 18.25.

56 And a certaine maid beheld him as he sate by the fire, and hauing well looked on him, said, This man was also with him.

57 But he denyed him, saying, Woman, I know him not.

58 And after a little while, another man saw him, and said, Thou art also of them, But Peter sayd, Man, I am not.

59 And about the space of an houre after, a certaine other affirmed, saying, Verely euen this man was with him: for he is also a Galilean.

60 And Peter sayd, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediatly while he yet spake, the cocke crew.

61 Then the Lord turned backe, and looked vpon Peter: and Peter remembred the word of the Lord, how he had said vnto him, *Before the cocke crow, thou shalt deny me thrise.

Matth. 26. 34. iohn 13. 38.

62 And Peter went out and wept bitterly.

65 And many other things blasphemously spake they against him.

u They asked not to the end that the truth might be knowen (for the thing was too manifest) but for malice they bare towards Christ.

66 * And assoone as it was day, the Elders of the people, and the hie Priestes and the Scribes came together and led him into their Councel, 67 Saying, u Art thou the Christ? tell vs. And he sayd vnto them, If I tell you, yee will not beleeue it.

6 He is not here, but is risen: remember chap.9.22.matt. 17.23.*mar.*9.31. * how he spake vnto you, when he was yet in Galile,

7 Saying, that the Sonne of man must bee deliuered into the hands of sinfull men, and be crucified, & the third day rise againe.

8 And they remembred his words,

9 And returned from the sepulchre, and tolde all these things vnto the eleuen, and to all the remnant.

10 Now it was Mary Magdalen, and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James, and other women with them, which tolde these things vnto the Apostles.

11 But their words seemed vnto them, as a fained thing, neither beleeued they them.

12 Then arose Peter, and ranne vnto the sepulchre, and looked in, and saw the linnen clothes layed by themselues, and departed wondering in himselfe, at that which was come to passe.

Marke 16.12. 13 ¶* And beholde, two of them went that same day to a towne which was from Jerusalem about [c] threescore furlongs, called Emmaus.

Which is about seuen miles and an halfe.

14 And they [d] talked together of all these things that were done.

Hereby appeareth that they had faith, although it was weake.

15 And it came to passe, as they communed together, and reasoned, that Jesus himselfe drew neere, and went with them.

16 But their eyes [e] were holden, that they could not know him.

This declareth that we can neither see, nor vnderstand till God open our eyes.

17 And he said vnto them, What maner of communications are these that yee haue one to another as ye walke, and are sad?

18 And the one (named Cleopas) answered, and saide vnto him, Art thou onely a [f] stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not known the things which are come to passe therein, in these dayes?

For the thing was so notorious, all men might haue knowen it.

19 And hee sayde vnto them, What things? And they sayd vnto him, Of Jesus of Nazaret, which was a Prophet mighty in deed and in word before God, and all the people, 20 And how the hie Priests and our rulers deliuered him to bee condemned to death, and haue crucified him.

They vnderstood not yet that was the deliuerance that Jesus Christ purchased for vs, but looked for some worldly prosperity.

21 But we trusted that it had bene hee that should haue deliuered Israel, and as touching all these things, to day is the third day that they were done.

22 Yea, and certaine women among vs made vs astonied, which came earely vnto the sepulchre, 23 And when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also seene a vision of Angels, which sayd, that hee was aliue.

24 Therefore certaine of them which were with vs, went to the sepulchre, and found it euen so as the women had sayd, but him they saw not.

Infidelity is proued.

25 Then he sayd vnto them, [b] O fooles, and slow of heart to beleeue all that the Prophets haue spoken, 26 Ought not Christ to haue suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?

27 And he began at [i] Moses, and at all the Prophets, and interpreted vnto them in all the Scriptures the things which were written of him.

28 And they drew neere vnto the towne which they went to, but he [k] made as though he would haue gone further.

29 But they constrained him, saying, Abide with vs: for it is towards night, and the day is farre spent. So he went in to tary with them.

30 And it came to passe, as he sate at table with them, hee tooke the bread, [l] and gaue thanks, and brake it, and gaue it to them.

31 Then their eyes were opened, and they knew him: but hee was taken out of their sight.

32 And they sayde betweene themselues, Did not our hearts burne within vs, while he talked with vs by the way, and when hee opened to vs the Scriptures?

33 And they rose vp the same houre, and returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleuen gathered together, and them that were with them, 34 Which sayd, The Lorde is risen in deed, and hath appeared to Simon.

35 Then they tolde what things were done in the way, and how hee was knowen of them in [m] breaking of bread.

36 ¶* And as they spake these things, Jesus himselfe stood in the middes of them, and said vnto them, Peace be to you.

37 But they were abashed and afrayd, supposing that they had seene a spirit.

38 Then he said vnto them, Why are yee troubled? and wherefore do doubts arise in your hearts?

39 Beholde mine handes and my feete: for it is I my selfe: handle mee, and see: for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as yee see me haue.

40 And when hee had thus spoken, hee shewed them his hands and feet.

41 And while they yet beleeued not for ioy, and wondred, hee sayd vnto them, Haue yee here any meat?

42 And they gaue him a piece of a broiled fish, and of an hony combe.

43 And hee tooke, and did eate before them.

44 And he sayd vnto them, These are the words, which I spake vnto you while I was yet with you, That all must bee fulfilled which are written of mee in the Lawe of Moses, and in the Prophets, and in the Psalmes.

45 Then opened he their vnderstanding, that they might vnderstand the scriptures,

46 And said vnto them, Thus is it written, and thus it behoued Christ to suffer, and to rise againe from the dead the third day, 47 And that repentance and remission of sinnes should be preached in his Name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem.

IN ‖ the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with a God, and that Worde was God.
2 The ſame was b in the beginning with God.
3 All things were made by it, and c without it was made nothing that was made.
4 In it was d life, and the life was the e light of men.
5 And the light ſhineth f in the darkneſs, and the darkenes comprehended it not.
6 ¶ *There was a man ſent from God, whoſe name was Iohn.
7 The ſame came for a witneſſe, to beare witneſſe of the light, that all men through him might beleeue.
8 He was not that light, but was ſent to beare witneſſe of the light.
9 That was ŷ true light, which lighteth euery man that ‖ commeth into the world.
10 Hee was in the world, and the world was *made by him: and the world g knew him not.
11 He came vnto his h owne, and his own receiued him not.
12 But as many as receiued him, to them hee gaue i power to bee the ſonnes of God, euen to them that beleeue in his Name,
13 Which are borne not of blood, nor of the will of the fleſh, nor of the will of man, but of God,
14 *And the Word was made k fleſh, and dwelt among vs, (& we *ſaw the glory thereof, as the glory of the only begotten Sonne ‖ of the Father) * full of grace and trueth.
15 ¶ Iohn bare witneſſe of him, & cryed, ſaying, This was hee of whom I ſayd, Hee that commeth after mee, is preferred before me: for he was ‖ before me.
16 And of his fulneſſe haue all we receiued, and l grace for grace.
17 For the Law was giuen by Moſes, but grace and trueth came by Ieſus Chriſt.
18 *No man hath ſeene God at any time: the only begotten Son, which is in the m boſome of the Father, he hath n declared him.
19 ¶ Then this is the record of Iohn, when the Iewes ſent Prieſtes and Leuites from Ieruſalem, to aſke him, Who art thou?
20 And he confeſſed and denied not, and ſayd plainely, I * am not the Chriſt.
21 And they aſked him, What then? Art thou Elias? and he ſaid, I am not. Art thou the o Prophet? And he anſwered, No.
22 Then ſayd they vnto him, Who art thou, that wee may giue an anſwere to them that ſent vs? what ſayeſt thou of thy ſelfe?
23 He ſayd, I * am the voice of him that crieth in the wilderneſſe, Make ſtraight the way of ŷ Lord, as ſayd the Prophet Eſaias.
24 Now they which were ſent, were of the Phariſes.
25 And they aſked him, & ſaid vnto him, Why baptizeſt thou then, if thou be not the Chriſt, neither Elias, nor the Prophet?
26 Iohn anſwered them, ſaying, I baptize with water: but there is one among you, whom ye know not.
27 *He it is that cometh after me, which is preferred before me, whoſe ſhooe latchet I am not worthy to vnloose.
28 Theſe things were done in Bethabara beyond Iordan, where Iohn did baptize.
29 The next day Iohn ſeeth Ieſus coming vnto him, & ſaith, Behold the Lambe of God, which taketh away the p ſinne of the world.
30 This is he of whom I ſayd, After me commeth a man, which is preferred before me: for he was before me. q
31 And I knew q him not: but because he ſhould be declared to Iſrael, therefore am I come, baptizing with water.
32 So Iohn bare record, ſaying, I ſawe * the Spirit come downe from heauen, like a doue, and it abode vpon him.
33 And I knew him not: but he that ſent me to baptize with water, he ſaid vnto mee, Vpon whom thou ſhalt ſee the Spirit come down, and tary ſtill on him, that is he which baptizeth with the r holy Ghoſt.
34 And I ſaw, and bare record, that this is the Sonne of God.
35 ¶ The nert day, Iohn ſtood againe, and two of his diſciples:
36 And he beheld Ieſus walking by, and ſaid, Behold the s Lambe of God.
37 And ŷ two diſciples heard him ſpeake, and followed Ieſus.
38 Then Ieſus turned about, and ſawe them follow, and ſayd vnto them, What ſeeke yee? And they ſayd vnto him, Rabbi, (which is to ſay by interpretation, Maſter) t where dwelleſt thou?
39 He ſaid vnto them, Come & ſee. They came and ſaw where hee dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the u tenth houre.
40 Andrewe, Simon Peters brother, was one of the two which had heard * it of Iohn, and that followed him.

45 Philip found Nathanael, and sayd vnto him, We haue found him, of whome *Moses did write in the Lawe, and the *Prophets, Iesus of Nazaret the sonne of Ioseph.

46 Then Nathanael said vnto him, Can there any ʏ good thing come out of Nazaret? Philip said to him, Come and see.

47 Iesus sawe Nathanael comming to him, & said of him, Behold indeed an Israelite, in whom is no guile.

48 Nathanael said vnto him, Whence knewest thou me? Iesus answered, and sayd vnto him, Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast vnder the figge tree, I sawe thee.

49 Nathanael answered, and said vnto him, Rabbi, thou art the Sonne of God: thou art the King of Israel.

50 Iesus answered, and sayd vnto him, Because I sayd vnto thee, I sawe thee vnder the fig tree, ‖beleuest thou? thou shalt see greater things then these.

51 And he sayd vnto him, Verely, verely I say vnto you, hereafter shal you see heauen ᶻ open, and the Angels of God *ascending and descending vpon the Sonne of man.

CHAP. II.

Christ turneth the water into wine. 14 He driueth the buyers and sellers out of the Temple. 19 He forewarneth his death and resurrection. 23 He conuerteth many, and distrusteth man.

AND the third day was there a mariage in Cana a towne of Galile, and the mother of Iesus was there.

2 And Iesus was called also, and his disciples vnto the mariage.

3 Now when the wine failed, the mother of Iesus sayd vnto him, They haue no wine.

4 Iesus sayd vnto her, Woman, what haue I to doe with thee? mine houre is not yet come.

5 His mother sayde vnto the seruants, Whatsoeuer he sayth vnto you, doe it.

6 And there were set there like water pots of stone after the maner of the ᵃ purifying of the Iewes, containing two or three ‖ ᵇ firkins a piece.

7 And Iesus sayd vnto them, Fill the water pots with water, Then they filled them vp to the brimme.

8 Then he sayd vnto them, Drawe out now, and beare vnto the ‖ gouernour of the feast. So they bare it.

9 Now when the gouernour of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, (for hee knew not whence it was: but the seruants which drewe the water, knewe) the gouernour of the feast called the bridegroome.

10 And sayd vnto him, All men at the beginning set foorth good wine, and when men haue well dronke, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept backe the good wine vntill now.

11 This beginning of ‖ miracles did Iesus in Cana a towne of Galile, and shewed foorth his glory: and his disciples beleeued on him.

12 After that hee went downe into Capernaum, he and his mother, and his ‖ brethren, and his disciples: but they continued not many dayes there.

13 For the Iewes Passeouer was at hand. Therefore Iesus went vp to Ierusalem.

14 *And hee found in the Temple those that sold oxen, and sheepe, and doues, & changers of money, sitting there.

15 Then he made a scourge of small cords, and draue them all out of the Temple with the sheepe & oxen, and powred out the changers money, and ouerthrew the tables,

16 And sayd vnto them that solde doues, Take these things hence: make not my Fathers house an house of merchandise.

17 And his disciples remembred, that it was written, *The ᶜ zeale of thine house hath eaten me vp.

18 Then answered the Iewes, and sayd vnto him, What ‖ signe shewest thou vnto vs, that thou doest these things?

19 Iesus answered and said vnto them, *Destroy this Temple, and in three dayes I will raise it vp againe.

20 Then sayd the Iewes, Fourty and sixe yeres was this Temple a building, and wilt thou reare it vp in three dayes?

21 But hee spake of the Temple of his ᵈ body.

22 Assoone therefore as he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembred that hee thus sayd vnto them: and they beleeued the Scripture, and the word which Iesus had sayd.

23 Now when hee was at Ierusalem at the Passeouer in the feast, many beleeued in his Name, when they saw his miracles which he did.

24 But Iesus ᵉ did not commit himselfe vnto them, because he knew them all,

25 And had no need that any should testifie of man: for he knew what was in man.

3 Iesus answered, and sayde vnto him, Verily, verily I say vnto thee, except a man be borne againe, hee cannot [a] see the [b] kingdome of God.

4 Nicodemus said vnto him, How can a man bee borne which is olde? can hee enter into his mothers wombe againe, and be borne?

5 Iesus answered, Verily, verily I say vnto thee, except that a man bee borne of [c] water and of the Spirit, hee cannot enter into the kingdome of God.

6 That which is borne of the flesh, is flesh: and that that is borne of the spirit, is spirit.

7 Marualle not that I said to thee, Yee must be borne againe.

8 The [d] winde bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it commeth, and whither it goeth: so is euery man that is borne of the Spirit.

9 Nicodemus answered, and said vnto him, How can these things be?

10 Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Art thou a teacher of Israel, and [e] knowest not these things?

11 Verily, verily I say vnto thee, wee speake that we [f] know, and testifie that wee haue seene: but ye receiue not our witnesse.

12 If when I tell you [b] earthly things, ye beleeue not, how should yee beleeue, if I shall tell you of heauenly things?

13 For no man ascendeth vp to heauen, but he that hath descended from heauen, the Sonne of man which is in [i] heauen.

14 * And as Moses lift vp the serpent in the wildernesse, so must the Sonne of man be [k] lift vp, 15 That whosoeuer beleeueth in him, should not perish, but haue eternall life.

16 * For God so loued the world, that he hath giuen his onely begotten Sonne, that whosoeuer beleeueth in him, should not perish, but haue euerlasting life.

17 * For God sent not his Sonne into the world, that he should [l] condemne the world, but that the [m] world through him might be saued.

18 Hee that beleeueth in him, shall not be condemned: but hee that beleeueth not, is condemned already, because he beleeueth not in the Name of the onely begotten Sonne of God.

19 * And this is the [n] condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loued darkenesse rather then light, because their deedes were euill.

20 For euery man that euil doeth, hateth the light, neither commeth to light, least his deedes should be reproued.

21 But hee that doeth [o] trueth, commeth to the light, that his deedes might be made manifest, that they are wrought [p] according to God.

22 ¶ After these things came Iesus and his disciples into the ‖ land of Iudea, and there tarried with them, and * baptized.

23 And Iohn also baptized in Enon, beside Salim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptized.

24 For Iohn was not yet cast into prison.

25 Then there arose a question betweene Iohns disciples and the Iewes, about [q] purifying.

26 And they came vnto Iohn, and said vnto him, Rabbi, [r] hee that was with thee beyond Iordan, to whom * thou barest witnesse, behold, he baptizeth, and all men come to him.

27 Iohn answered, and said, A man can receiue nothing, except it be giuen him from heauen.

28 Ye your selues are my witnesses, that * I said, [s] I am not the Christ, but that I am sent before him.

29 Hee that hath the bride, is the bridegrome: but the friend of the bridegrome which standeth and heareth him, reioyceth greatly, because of the bridegromes voyce. This my ioy therefore is fulfilled.

30 Hee must [t] increase, but I must decrease.

31 He that is come from on high, is aboue all: hee that is of the [u] earth, is of the earth, and speaketh of the earth: hee that is come from heauen is aboue all,

32 And what hee hath seene and heard, that hee testifieth: but no man receiueth his testimonie.

33 Hee that hath receiued his testimonie, hath sealed that * God is true.

34 For he whom God hath sent, speaketh the words of God: for God giueth him not the Spirit by [x] measure.

35 The Father loueth the Sonne, and hath * giuen all things into his hand.

36 * He that beleeueth in the Sonne, hath euerlasting life, and hee that obeyeth not the Sonne, shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him.

17 The woman answered, and said, I haue no husband. Iesus said vnto her, Thou hast well said, I haue no husband.

seruants met him, saying, Thy sonne liueth.
52 Then enquired hee of them the houre when he began to amend. And they said vnto him, Yesterday the seuenth houre the feuer left him.
53 Then the father knew, that it was the same houre in the which Iesus had said vnto him, Thy sonne liueth. And he beleeued, and all his houshold.
54 This second miracle did Iesus againe, after hee was come out of Iudea into Galile.

CHAP. V.

8 He healeth the man that was sicke eight and thirtie yeeres. 10 The Iewes accuse him. 19 Christ answereth for himselfe, and reproueth them, 32 Shewing by the testimonie of his Father, 33 Of Iohn, 36 Of his works, 39 And of the Scriptures, who hee is.

Leuit. 23. 3. deut. 16. 1.

AFter *that, there was a feast of the Iewes, and Iesus went vp to Ierusalem.
2 And there is at Ierusalem ‖ by the place of the sheepe, [a] a poole called in Ebrew [b] Bethesda, hauing fiue porches:
3 In the which lay a great multitude of sicke folke, of blind, halt, and withered, waiting for the mouing of the water.
4 For an Angel went downe at a certaine season into the poole, and troubled the water: whosoeuer then first, after the stirring of the water, stepped in, was made whole of whatsoeuer disease he had.
5 And a certaine man was there, which had beene diseased eight and thirtie yeeres:
6 When Iesus saw him lie, and knewe that he now long time had beene diseased, he said vnto him, Wilt thou be made whole?
7 The sicke man answered him, Sir, I haue no man, when the water is troubled, to put mee into the poole: but while I am comming, another steppeth downe before mee.
8 Iesus said vnto him, Rise: [c] take vp thy bed, and walke.
9 And immediatly, the man was made whole, and tooke vp his bed, and walked: and the same day was the Sabbath.
10 The Iewes therefore said to him that was made whole, It is the Sabbath day: *it is not lawfull for thee to carie thy bed.
11 He answered them, He that made me whole, hee said vnto mee, Take vp thy bed, and walke.
12 Then asked they him, What man is that which said vnto thee, Take vp thy bed, and walke?
13 And hee that was healed, knewe not who it was: for Iesus had conueyed himselfe away from the multitude that was in that place.
14 And after that, Iesus found him in the Temple, and said vnto him, Behold, thou art made whole: [d] sinne no more, lest a worse thing come vnto thee.
15 ¶ The man departed, and told the Iewes that it was Iesus, which had made him whole.
16 And therefore the Iewes did persecute Iesus, and sought to slay him, because hee had done these things on the Sabbath day.
17 But Iesus answered them, My Father worketh hitherto, and I worke.
18 Therefore the Iewes sought the more to kill him: not onely because he had broken the Sabbath, but said also that God was [e] his [f] Father, and made himselfe equall with God.
19 Then answered Iesus, and said vnto them, Verily, verily I say vnto you, The sonne can doe nothing of himselfe, saue that hee seeth the Father doe: for whatsoeuer things hee doeth, the same things doeth the Sonne also.
20 For the Father loueth the Sonne, and sheweth him all things, whatsoeuer hee himselfe doeth, and hee will shew him greater workes then these, that yee should marueile.
21 For likewise as the Father raiseth vp the dead, and quickneth them, so the Sonne quickneth whom he will.
22 For the Father iudgeth no man, but hath committed all [h] iudgement vnto the Sonne, 23 Because that all men should honour the Sonne, as they honour the Father: hee that honoureth not the Sonne, the same honoureth not the Father which hath sent him.
24 Verily, verily I say vnto you, He that heareth my word, and beleeueth in him that sent mee, hath euerlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation, but hath passed from death vnto life.
25 Verily, verily I say vnto you, The houre shall come, and now is, when the dead shall heare the voyce of the Sonne of God: and they that [i] heare it, shall liue.
26 For as the Father hath life in [k] himselfe, so likewise hath he giuen to the Sonne to haue life in himselfe, 27 And hath giuen him power also to execute [l] iudgement, in that he is the sonne of man.
28 Marueile not at this: for the houre shall come in the which all that are in the graues, shall heare his voice.
29 And they shall come forth, *that haue done good, vnto the resurrection of life: but they that haue done euill, vnto the resurrection of condemnation.
30 I can doe nothing of mine owne selfe: as I heare, I iudge: and my iudgement is iust, because I seeke not mine owne will, but the will of the Father who hath sent mee.
31 If I *should beare witnesse of my selfe, my witnesse were not [m] true.
32 There is an other that beareth witnes of mee, and I know that the witnesse, which he beareth of me, is true.
33 *Ye sent vnto Iohn, and hee bare witnesse vnto the trueth.
34 But I receiue not the record of man: neuerthelesse, these things I say, that yee might be saued.
35 He was a burning, and a shining [n] candle: and yee would for a season haue reioyced in his light.

d The afflictions that we endure, are chastisements for our sinnes.

f It was lawfull for all Israel to call God their Father, Exod. 4. 22. but because Christ did attribute to himselfe that he had power ouer all things, and wrought as his Father did, they gathered that Christ did not onely make himselfe the Sonne of God, but also equall with him.

Matth.3.17. and 17.5.
o In the law and Prophets. Deut.4.12. Acts 17.11.
p The people are more ready to receiue falie prophets then Iesus Christ.
q Vaine glory is a great let for a man to come to God. Chap 12.43.
r As Moses shall accuse them that trust in him: so they shall haue no greater enemies at the day of iudgement, then the virgine Mary, and the Saints, vpon whom now they call: but whosoeuer doth accuse the godly, Christ and their owne conscience shall condemne them. Genc.3.15.& 22.17.and 49.10. deut.18.15.

36 But I haue greater witnesse then the witnesse of Iohn: for the workes which the Father hath giuen mee to finish, the same workes that I do, beare witnesse of me, that the Father sent me.
37 And the *Father himselfe, which hath sent me, o beareth witnes of me. Ye haue not heard his voyce at any time, *neither haue yee seene his shape.
38 And his word haue yee not abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him yee beleeue not.
39 *Search the Scriptures: for in them yee thinke to haue eternall life, and they are they which testifie of me.
40 But yee will not come to mee, that yee might haue life.
41 I receiue not praise of men.
42 But I know you, that yee haue not the loue of God in you.
43 I am come in my Fathers name, and yee receiue me not: p if another shall come in his owne name, him will ye receiue.
44 How can yee beleeue, which q receiue *honour one of another, and seeke not the honour that commeth of God alone?
45 Doe not thinke that I will accuse you to my Father: there is one that r accuseth you, euen Moses, in whom ye trust.
46 For had ye beleeued Moses, ye would haue beleeued me: *for he wrote of me.
47 But if yee beleeue not his writings, how shall ye beleeue my words?

CHAP. VI.

10 Iesus feedeth fiue thousand men with fiue loaues and two fishes. 15 He departeth away, that they should not make him King. 26 Hee reproueth the fleshly hearers of his word. 51 The carnall are offended at him. 63 The flesh profiteth not.

a Called the lake of Gennezareth.
b Tiberias, Bethsaida, and Capernaum were on this side the lake in respect of Galile: but it is here said that he went ouer, because there were diuers creekes and turnings, ouer the which men ferried. Leuit.23.5. deut.16.1. Mat.14.16.mar. 6.37.luke 9.13.
c The summe amounteth to about fiue pound sterling.
d Prayer and thanksgiuing doe sanctifie our meates, wherewith we are nourished.

AFter these things, Iesus went his way ouer the a sea of Galile, or of b Tiberias.
2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles, which he did on them that were diseased.
3 Then Iesus went vp into a mountaine, and there he sate with his disciples.
4 Now the Passeouer, a *feast of the Iewes, was neere.
5 *Then Iesus lift vp his eyes, and seeing that a great multitude came vnto him, hee said vnto Philip, Whence shall wee buy bread, that these might eate?
6 (And this he said to proue him: for hee himselfe knew what he would doe)
7 Philip answered him, c Two hundreth p. in worth of bread is not sufficient for them, that euery one of them may take a little.
8 Then said vnto him one of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peters brother, 9 There is a little boy here, which hath fiue barley loaues, and two fishes: but what are they among so many?
10 And Iesus said, Make the people sit down. (Now there was much grasse in that place.) Then the men sate downe in number about fiue thousand.
11 And Iesus tooke the bread and d gaue thankes, and gaue to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set downe: and likewise of the fishes as much as they would 12 And when they were satisfied, he said vnto his disciples, Gather vp the broken meate which remaineth, that e nothing bee lost.
13 Then they gathered it together, and filled twelue baskets with the broken meate of the fiue barley loaues, which remained vnto them that had eaten.
14 Then the men when they had seene the miracle that Iesus did, said, This is of a truth, the Prophet that should come into the world.
15 ¶When Iesus therefore perceiued that they would come, and take him to make him a f King, hee departed againe into a mountaine himselfe alone.
16 ¶When euen was now come, his disciples went downe vnto the sea,
17 *And entred into a shippe, and went g ouer the sea towards Capernaum: and now it was darke, and Iesus was not come to them.
18 And the sea arose with a great winde that blew.
19 And when they had rowed about fiue and twentie, or thirtie h furlongs, they saw Iesus walking on the sea, and drawing nere vnto the ship: so they were afraid.
20 But he said vnto them, It is I: be not afraid.
21 Then willingly they receiued him into the ship: and the ship was by and by at the land, whither they went.
22 ¶The day following, the people which stoode on the other side of the sea, saw that there was none other shippe there, saue that one, wherein his disciples were entred, and that Iesus went not with his disciples in the ship, but that his disciples were gone i alone,
23 And that there came other ships from Tiberias nere vnto the place where they ate the bread, after the Lord had giuen thankes.
24 Now when the people saw that Iesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also tooke shipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Iesus.
25 And when they had found him on the k other side of the sea, they said vnto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?
26 Iesus answered them, and said, Verily, verily I say vnto you, yee seeke me not, because ye saw the miracles, but because yee ate of the loaues, and were filled.
27 Labour not for the meate which perisheth, but for the meate that l endureth vnto euerlasting life, which the Sonne of man shall giue vnto you: for him hath *God the Father m sealed.
28 Then said they vnto him, What shall we doe, that wee might worke the n workes of God?
29 Iesus answered, and said vnto them, *This is the worke of God, that yee beleeue in him, whom he hath sent.
30 They said therefore vnto him, What signe shewest thou then, that wee may see it, and beleeue thee? what doest thou worke?
31 *Our Fathers did eate Manna in the desert, desert, as it is *written, He gaue them bread from heauen to eate.

Psal 78.24.25. *wisd.*16.20.

32 Then Iesus sayd vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, ° Moses gaue you not bread from heauen, but my Father giueth you the true bread from heauen.

o He compareth Moses with the Father, & Manna with Christ, who feedeth vs into euer lasting life, 1.Cor.10 3.

33 For the bread of God is he which commeth downe from heauen, and giueth life vnto the world.

34 Then they said vnto him, Lord, euermore giue vs this bread.

35 And Iesus sayd vnto them, I am the bread of life: he that commeth to mee, shall not hunger, and *he that beleeueth in mee, shall p neuer thirst.

*Ecclus.*24.24. *chap.*4.14.

p He shall neuer want spirituall nourishment.

36 But I said vnto you, that ye also haue seene me, and beleeue not.

37 All q that the Father giueth me, shall come to mee: and him that commeth to me, I cast not away.

q God doeth regenerate his elect, and causeth them to obey the Gospel.

38 For I came downe from heauen, not to doe mine owne will, but his will which hath sent me.

39 And this is the Fathers will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath giuen me, I should lose nothing, but should raise it vp againe at the last day.

40 And this is the will of him that sent me, that euery man which seeth the Sonne, and beleeueth in him, should haue euerlasting life: and I will raise him vp at the last day.

41 The Iewes then murmured at him, because he sayd, I am the bread, which is come downe from heauen.

*Matth.*13.55.

42 And they said, *Is not this Iesus the sonne of Ioseph, whose father and mother we know? how then saith he, I came downe from heauen?

43 Iesus then answered, and sayd vnto them, Murmure not among your selues.

r That is, or beleeue in me.

44 No man can r come to me, except the Father which hath sent me, s draw him, and I will raise him vp at the last day.

s By lightning his heart with his holy Spirit.

45 It is written in the *Prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. Euery man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, commeth vnto me, Isa 54 13. iere. 31.33. *Matth.*11,27.

46 *Not that any man hath seene the Father, saue hee which is of God, hee hath seene the Father.

47 Verely, verely I say vnto you, he that beleeueth in me hath euerlasting life.

48 I am the bread of life.

49 *Your fathers did eate Manna in the wilderneſſe, t and are dead.

*Exod.*16 15.

t Then there is no food that can nourish our soules but Iesus Christ.

50 This is the bread, which commeth downe from heauen, that he which eateth of it should not die.

51 I am the u liuing bread which came downe from heauen: if any man eate of this bread, hee shall liue for euer: and the bread that I will giue, is my flesh, which I will giue for the life of the world.

u Which giue life to the world.

52 Then the Iewes strone among themselues, saying, How can this man giue vs his flesh to eate?

53 Then Iesus sayd vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, Except yee eate the flesh of the Sonne of man, and drinke his blood, ye haue x no life in you.

x Where Christ is not, there death reigneth,

54 Whosoeuer *eateth my flesh, & drinketh my blood, hath eternall life, and I will raise him vp at the last day.

*1.Cor.*11.27.

55 For my flesh is meate in deed, and my blood is drinke in deede.

56 Hee y that eateth my flesh, & drinketh my blood, z dwelleth in me, and I in him.

y As our bodies are sustained with meate and drinke: so are our soules nourished with the body & blood of Iesus Christ.

57 As the liuing Father hath sent me, so liue I by the Father, and he that eateth mee, euen he shall liue by me.

z To eat the flesh of Christ, & drink his blood, is to dwell in Christ & to haue Christ dwelling in vs.

58 This is the bread which came downe from heauen: not as your fathers haue eaten Manna, and are dead. He that eateth of this bread, shall liue for euer.

59 These things spake he in the Synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

60 Many therefore of his disciples (when they heard this) sayd, This is an hard saying: who can *heare it?

a That is, vnderstand it.

61 But Iesus knowing in himselfe, that his disciples murmured at this, sayd vnto them, Doeth this offend you?

b He meaneth not that his humanitie descended from heauen: but he speaketh touching the vnion of both natures, attributing to the one, that which appertaineth to the other.

62 What then if yee should see the Sonne of man b ascend vp *where he was before?

*Chap.*3.13.

63 It is the Spirit that quickeneth: the flesh c profiteth nothing: the words that I speake vnto you are spirit and life.

c To wit, if it be separated from the Spirit, whereof it hath y forces: for it commeth of the power of the Spirit, that the flesh of Christ giueth vs life.

64 But there are some of you that beleeue not: for Iesus knewe from the beginning, which they were that beleeued not, and who should betray him.

65 And hee sayd, Therefore sayd I vnto you, that no man can come vnto mee, except it be giuen vnto him of my Father.

66 From that time, many of his disciples went backe, and walked no more with him.

67 Then sayd Iesus to the twelue, d Will ye also goe away?

d Then without Christ there is but death: for his word onely leadeth vs to life.

68 Then Simon Peter answered him, Master, to whom shall wee goe? Thou hast the words of e eternall life?

*Matth.*16.16. *Matth.*26.14.

69 And we beleeue, and know that thou art *the Christ, the sonne of the liuing God.

70 Iesus answered them, Haue not I *chosen you twelue, and one e of you is a deuill?

e Although your number be small, yet shall yebee diminished.

71 Now hee spake it of Iudas Iscariot the sonne of Simon: for hee it was that should betray him, though he was one of the twelue.

CHAP. VII.

6 Iesus reproueth the ambition of his cousins. 12 There are diuers opinions of him among the people. 17 He sheweth how to know the trueth. 20 The iniurie they doe vnto him. 47 The Pharises rebuke tht officers because they haue not taken him, 52 and chide with Nicodemus for taking his part.

AFter these things, Iesus walked in Galile, and would not walke in Iudea: for the Iewes sought to kill him.

*Leuit.*23.34.

2 Now the Iewes *feast of the Tabernacles was at hand.

a At this feast they dwelled seuen dayes in the tents, which put them in remembrance, that they had no city here permanent, but they must seeke one to come.

3 His brethren therefore sayd vnto him, Depart hence, and goe into Iudea, that thy disciples may see thy workes that thou doest.

4 For there is no man that doeth any thing secretly, and hee himselfe seeketh to be ||famous. If thou doest these things, shew thy selfe to the world.

5 For as yet his brethren beleeued not in him.

6 Then Iesus sayd vnto them, My time is not yet come: but your time is alway ready.

7 The world cannot hate you: but mee it hateth, [b] because I testifie of it, that the workes thereof are euill.

b Why the world hateth Christ.

8 Goe ye vp vnto this feast: I will [c] not goe vp yet vnto this feast: for my time is not yet fulfilled.

c Christ doeth not vtterly deny that he would go to the feast, but signifieth that as yet hee was not fully determined.

9 ¶ These things hee sayd vnto them, and abode still in Galile.

10 But assoone as his brethren were gone vp, then went hee also vp vnto the feast, not openly, but as it were priuily.

11 Then the Iewes sought him at the feast, and sayd, Where is he?

12 And much murmuring was there of him among the people. Some sayd, He is a good man: other said, Nay, but he deceiueth the people.

13 Howbeit no man spake openly of him for feare of the [d] Iewes.

d These were the heads of the people, who did enuie Christ.

14 Now when halfe the feast was done, Iesus went vp into the Temple & taught.

15 And the Iewes marueiled, saying, How knoweth this man the ||Scriptures, seeing that he neuer learned?

||Or, letters.

16 Iesus answered them, and sayd, My doctrine is not [e] mine, but his that sent me.

e In that, that he is man onely.

17 If any man will doe his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speake of my selfe.

18 He [f] that speaketh of himselfe, seeketh his owne glory: but he that seeketh his glorie that sent him, the same is true, and no [g] vnrighteousnesse is in him.

f By this marke we may knowe whether the doctrine be of God or of man.

g Nothing counterfeit or vntrue. Exod. 24 3. Chap. 5. 18.

19 [h] Did not Moses giue you a Law, and yet none of you keepeth the Law? [i] Why go ye about to kill me?

h Who did not know the fetch of the Scribes.

i Because I did it on the Sabbath day. Leuit. 12. 3. Gen. 17. 10.

20 The [k] people answered, and sayde, Thou hast a deuill: who goeth about to kill thee?

21 Iesus answered, and sayde to them, I haue done one worke, and yee all [l] marueile.

Deut. 1. 16, 17.

22 *Moses therefore gaue vnto you circumcision, (not because it is of Moses, but of the *fathers) and ye on the Sabbath day circumcise a man.

23 If a man on the Sabbath receiue circumcision, that the Law of Moses should not be broken, be ye angry with mee, because I haue made a man euery whit whole on the Sabbath day?

24 *Iudge not according to the appearance, but iudge righteous iudgement.

25 ¶ Then said some of them of Ierusalem, Is not this he, whom they goe about to kill?

26 And beholde, hee speaketh ||openly, and they say nothing to him: doe the rulers knowe in deede that this is the very Christ?

||Or, freely.

27 Howbeit wee know this man whence he is: but when the Christ commeth, no man shall know whence he is.

28 ¶ Then cryed Iesus in the Temple as he taught, saying, Yee [k] both know mee, and know whence I am: yet am I not come of my selfe, but he that sent me, is true, whom ye know not.

k He speaketh this, as it were scornefully.

29 But I knowe him: for I am of him, and he hath sent me.

30 Then they sought to take him, but no man layd hands on him, because his houre was not yet come.

31 Now many of the people [l] beleeued in him, and sayd, When the Christ commeth, will he do moe miracles then this man hath done?

l They were well minded to heare him, which preparation is here called (although improperly) faith.

32 The Pharises heard that the people murmured these things of him, & the Pharises and high Priests sent officers to take him.

33 Then sayd Iesus vnto them, Yet am I [m] a little while with you, and then goe I vnto him that sent me.

m He sheweth vnto them that they haue no power ouer him till the time come that his Father hath ordeined. Chap. 13. 33.

34 *Ye shall seeke me, and shall not finde me, and where ||I am, can ye not come.

||Or, shall be.

35 Then sayd the Iewes among themselues, Whither will he go, that we shall not find him? [‡] will he go vnto them that are dispersed among the [n] Grecians, and teach the Grecians?

36 What saying is this that he sayd, Yee shall seeke me, and shall not find me? & where I am, can ye not come?

n Among the Iewes which were scattered here and there among the Gentiles. Leuit. 23. 36.

37 Now in the last and *great day of the feast, Iesus stood and cryed, saying, If any man thirst, let him come vnto mee, and drinke.

38 He that [o] beleeueth in mee, *as sayth the Scripture, out of his belly shall flow riuers of water [p] of life.

o The true way to come to Christ, is by faith. Deut. 18. 15.

52 They answered and said vnto him, Art thou also of Galile? search and looke: for out of Galile ariseth no Prophet.

53 And euery man went vnto his owne house.

CHAP. VIII.

11 Christ deliuereth her that was taken in adultery. 12 He is the light of the world. 14 He sheweth from whence he is come, wherefore, and whither he goeth 32 Who are free and who are bond. 34 Of freemen and slaues, and their reward. 46 Hee defieth his enemies, 59 And being persecuted, withdraweth himselfe.

AND Iesus went vnto the mount of Oliues,

2 And early in the morning came againe into the Temple, & all the people came vnto him, and he sate downe, and taught them.

3 Then the Scribes and the Pharises brought vnto him a woman, taken in adulterie, and set her in the mids,

4 And saide vnto him, Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act.

5 *Nowe Moses in the Law commanded vs, that such should be stoned: what sayest thou therefore?

6 And this they sayd to tempt him, that they might haue whereof to [a] accuse him. But Iesus stouped downe, and with his finger wrote on the ground.

7 And while they continued asking him, he lift himselfe vp, and said vnto them, *Let him that is among you without sinne, cast the first stone at her.

8 And againe hee stouped downe, and wrote on the ground.

9 And when they heard it, being accused by their owne conscience, they went out one by one, beginning at the eldest euen to the last: so Iesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the mids.

10 When Iesus had lift vp himselfe againe, & saw no man, but the woman, he said vnto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?

11 She said, No man, Lord. And Iesus sayd, [b] Neither do I condemne thee: go and sinne no more.

12 Then spake Iesus againe vnto them, saying, I *am the light of the world: he that followeth me, shall not walke in darkenesse, but shall haue the ‖light of life.

13 The Pharises therefore said vnto him, Thou beareſt record of thy selfe: thy record is not ‖true.

14 *Iesus answered, and said vnto them, [c] Though I beare record of my selfe, yet my record is true: for I knowe whence I came, & whither I go: but ye cannot tell [d] whence I come, and whither I go.

15 Ye iudge after the flesh: [e] I iudge no man.

16 And if I also iudge, my iudgement is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father, that sent me.

17 And it is also written in your Lawe, *that the testimony of two men is true.

18 I am [f] one that beare witnesse of my selfe, and the Father that sent me, beareth witnesse of me.

19 Then sayd they vnto him, Where is thy Father? Iesus answered, Ye neither knowe mee, nor my Father. If yee had knowen me, ye should haue knowen my Father also.

20 These words spake Iesus in [g] the treasurie, as he taught in the Temple, and no man layd hands on him: for his houre was not yet come.

21 Then sayde Iesus againe vnto them, I goe my way, and ye shall seeke mee, and shall die in your [h] sinnes. Whither I goe, can ye not come.

22 Then sayd the Iewes, Will hee kill himselfe, because hee saith, Whither I goe, can ye not come?

23 And he said vnto them, [i] Ye are from beneath: I am from aboue: yee are of this world, I am not of this world.

24 I sayd therefore vnto you, That yee shall die in your sinnes: for except yee beleeue, that I am hee, yee shall die in your sinnes.

25 Then sayd they vnto him, Who art thou? And Iesus said vnto them, ‖ Euen the same thing that I sayd vnto you [k] from the beginning.

26 I haue many things to say, and to iudge of you: but he that sent me, is true, and the things that I haue heard of him, those speake I to the world.

27 They vnderstood not that he spake to them of the Father.

28 Then said Iesus vnto them, When ye haue [l] lift vp the Sonne of man, then shall ye [m] know that I am [n] he, and that I do nothing of my selfe, but as my Father hath taught me, so I speake these things.

29 For he that sent mee, is with mee: the Father hath not left me alone, because I do alwayes those things that pleale him.

30 ¶ As he spake these things, many beleeued in him.

31 Then said Iesus to the Iewes which beleeued in him, If ye continue in my word, ye are verely my disciples, 32 And shall know the trueth, and the trueth [o] shall make you free.

33 They answered him, [p] Wee bee Abrahams seed, and were neuer bond to any man: why sayest thou then, Yee shall bee made free?

34 Iesus answered them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, that whosoeuer committeth sinne, is the *seruant of sinne.

35 And the seruaunt abideth not in the house for euer: but the Sonne abideth for euer.

36 If the Sonne therefore shal make you free, ye shalbe free indeed.

37 I [q] know that ye are Abrahams seed, but ye seeke to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.

38 I speake that which I haue seene with my Father: and ye doe that which yee haue seene with your father.

39 They answered and sayde vnto him, Abraham is our father. Iesus sayde vnto them, them, If yee were Abrahams children, yee would do the [c] works of Abraham.

40 But now go ye about to kil me, a man that haue tolde you the trueth, which I haue heard of God: this did not Abraham.

41 Yee doe the workes of your father. Then sayd they to him, [d] Wee are not borne of fornication: wee haue one father, which is God.

42 Therefore Iesus sayd vnto them, If God were your Father, then would ye loue me: for I proceeded forth, and came from God, neither came I of my selfe, but he sent me.

43 Why do ye not vnderstand my talke? because ye cannot [f] heare my word.

44 * Ye are of your father the deuill, and the lusts of your father ye will doe: hee hath beene a murtherer [t] from the beginning, and [u] abode not in the trueth, because there is no trueth in him. [d] When he speaketh a lie, then speaketh he of his [x] own: for he is a liar, and the father thereof.

45 And because I tell you the trueth, yee beleeue me not.

46 Which of you can rebuke me of sinne? and if I say the trueth, why doe yee not beleeue mee?

47 * Hee that is of God, heareth Gods words: ye therefore heare them not, because ye are not of God.

48 Then answered the Iewes, and sayd vnto him, Say we not well, that thou art a Samaritane, and hast a deuill?

49 Iesus answered, I haue not a deuill, but I honour my Father, and ye haue dishonoured me.

50 And I seeke not mine own praise: but there is one that seeketh it, and [y] iudgeth.

51 Verely, verely I say vnto you, If a man keepe my word, he shall neuer [z] see death.

52 Then sayd the Iewes to him, Nowe know we that thou hast a deuil. Abraham is dead, and the Prophets, and thou sayest, If a man keepe my word, he shall neuer taste of death.

53 Art thou greater then our father Abraham which is dead? And the Prophets are dead: whom makest thou thy selfe?

54 Iesus answered, If I honour my selfe, mine honour is nothing worth: it is my Father that honoureth me, whom ye say, that he is your God.

55 Yet yee haue not knowen him: but I know him, and if I should say I know him not, I should be a liar like vnto you: but I know him, and keepe his word.

56 Your father Abraham reioyced to see my [a] day, and he saw it, and was glad.

57 Then said the Iewes vnto him, Thou art not yet fifty yere old, and hast thou seene Abraham?

58 Iesus said vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, before Abraham was, [b] I am.

59 * Then tooke they vp stones to cast at him, but Iesus hid himselfe, and went out of the Temple.

CHAP. IX.

1 Of him that was borne blind. 11 The confession of him that was borne blind. 39 To what blind men Christ giueth sight.

AND as Iesus passed by, hee saw a man [1] which was blind from his birth.

2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sinne, this man or his parents, that he was borne blinde?

3 Iesus answered, [a] Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents, but that the workes of God should be shewed on him.

4 I must worke the workes of him that sent mee, while it is [b] day: the night commeth, when no man can worke.

5 As long as I am in the world, * I am the light of the world.

6 Assoone as he had thus spoken, he [c] spat on the ground, and made clay of the spettle, and anointed the eyes of the blinde with the clay.

7 And sayd vnto him, Goe wash in the poole of Siloam (which is by interpretation, [d] Sent) He went his way therefore and washed, and came againe seeing.

8 Nowe the neighbours and they that had seene him before, when hee was blinde, said, Is not this he that sate and begged?

9 Some sayde, this is hee: and others sayd, He is like him: but he himselfe sayd, I am he.

10 Therefore they sayd vnto him, How were thine eyes opened?

11 He answered, and said, The man that is called Iesus, made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and sayd vnto me, Go to the poole of Siloam, and wash. So I went and washed, and receiued sight.

12 Then they sayd vnto him, Where is he, He sayd, I cannot tell.

13 ¶ They brought to the Pharises him that was once blinde.

14 And it was the Sabbath day, when Iesus made the claye, and opened his eyes.

15 Then againe the Pharises also asked him, how he had receiued sight. And he said vnto them, He layd clay vpon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see.

16 Then said some of the Pharises, This man is not of God, because hee keepeth not the Sabbath day. Others sayde, How can a man that is a sinner, doe such miracles? and there was a dissention among them.

17 Then spake they vnto the blinde againe, What sayest thou of him, because hee hath opened thine eyes? And he sayd, He is a Prophet.

18 Then the Iewes did not beleeue him (that hee had bene blinde, and receiued his sight) vntill they had called the parents of him that had receiued sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your sonne, whom ye say was borne blinde? How doeth he now see then?

20 His parents answered them, and said, We know that this is our sonne, and that he was borne blind:

21 But by what meanes hee now seeth, wee knowe not: or who hath opened his eyes, [e] can wee not tell: hee is old enough: aske him: hee shall answere for himselfe.

cause they feared the Iewes: for the Iewes had ordeined alreadie, that if any man did confesse that he was the Christ, he should be excommunicated out of the Synagogue.

23 Therefore said his parents, He is old ynough: aske him.

24 Then againe called they the man that had beene blind, and said vnto him, [f] Giue glory vnto God: we know that this man is a sinner.

25 Then hee answered, and sayd, Whether hee be a sinner or no, [g] I cannot tell: one thing I know, that I was blinde, and now I see.

26 [h] Then saide they to him againe, What did he to thee? how opened hee thine eyes?

27 He answered them, I haue tolde you already, and yee haue not heard it: wherefore would ye heare it againe? [i] will yee also be his disciples?

28 Then cheeked they him, and said, Be thou his disciple: We be Moses disciples.

29 We know that God spake with Moses: but this man we know not from whence he is.

30 The man answered, and sayd vnto them, Doubtles, this is a marueilous thing, that ye [k] know not whence he is, and yet hee hath opened mine eyes.

31 Now we know that God heareth not [l] sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him heareth he.

32 Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was borne blind.

33 If this man were not of God, he could haue done nothing.

34 They answered, and said vnto him, Thou art altogether borne in sinnes, and doest thou teach vs? so they cast him out.

35 Iesus heard that they had ‖ cast him out: and when hee had found him, hee said vnto him, Doest thou beleeue in the Sonne of God?

36 He answered, and said, Who is hee, Lord, that I might beleeue in him?

37 And Iesus said vnto him, Both thou hast seene him, and he it is that talketh with thee.

38 Then he said, Lord, I beleeue, and [m] worshipped him.

39 And Iesus saide, I am come vnto [n] iudgement into this worlde, that they which see not, might see: and that they *which see, might be made blind.

40 And some of the Pharises which were with him heard these things, and said vnto him, Are we blind also?

41 Iesus said vnto them, If yee were blind, [o] ye should not haue sin: but now yee say, We see: therefore your sinne remaineth.

CHAP. X.

11 Christ is the true shepheard, and the doore. 19 Diuers opinions of Christ. 24 Hee is asked if he be Christ. 32 His works declare that he is God. 34 The Princes called gods.

VErely, verely I say vnto you, Hee that entreth not in by the doore into the sheepefold, but climeth vp another way, hee is a theefe and a robber.

2 But hee that goeth in by the doore, is the sheepeheard of the sheepe.

3 To him the porter openeth, and the sheepe heare his voyce, and hee [a] calleth his owne sheepe by name, and leadeth them out.

4 And when he hath sent forth his owne sheepe, he goeth before them, and the sheepe follow him: for they know his voice.

5 And they will not follow a stranger, but they flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers.

6 This parable spake Iesus vnto them: but they vnderstood not what thinges they were which he spake vnto them.

7 Then said Iesus vnto them againe, Verely, verely I say vnto you, I am the doore of the sheepe.

8 All, [b] that euer came before mee, are theeues and robbers: but the sheepe did not heare them.

9 I am the doore: by mee if any man enter in, he shall be saued, and shall [c] go in and go out, and find pasture.

10 The theefe commeth not, but for to steale, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might haue life, and haue it in abundance.

12 But an hireling, and hee which is not the shepheard, neither the sheepe are his owne, seeth the wolfe comming, and hee leaueth the sheepe, and fleeth, and the wolfe catcheth them, and scattereth the sheepe.

13 So the hireling fleeth, because hee is an hireling, and careth not for the sheepe.

14 I am the good shepheard, and [d] know mine, and am knowen of mine.

15 [e] As the father [f] knoweth me, so know I the Father: and I lay downe my life for my sheepe.

16 [g] Other sheepe I haue also, which are not of this fold: them also must I bring, and they shall heare my voyce: and * there shall be one sheepefold, and one sheepheard.

q He that walketh in his vocation, and hath the light of God for his guid, needeth to feare no dangers. The day also both sommer and winter was with the Iewes deuided into xii. houres.

10 But if a man walke in the night, hee stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

11 These things spake hee, and after hee said vnto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepeth: but I goe to wake him vp.

12 Then said his disciples, Lord, if hee sleepe, he r shall be safe.

r They laboured to stay Christ from going into Iudea, as though there had beene no need.

13 Howbeit, Iesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of the ‖ naturall sleepe.

‖ Or, slumbering sleepe.

14 Then said Iesus vnto them plainely, Lazarus is dead.

15 And I am glad for your sakes, that I was not there: that ye may beleeue: but let vs goe vnto him.

16 Then said Thomas (which is called s Didymus) vnto his fellow disciples, Let vs also goe, that wee may die with him.

s Which signifieth in our tongue, a twin in birth.

17 ¶ Then came Iesus and found that he had lien in the graue foure dayes alreadie.

18 (Now Bethania was neere vnto Ierusalem, about t fiftene furlongs off.)

t Which were almost two miles

19 And many of the Iewes were come to Martha & Marie to comfort them for their brother.

20 Then Martha, when she heard that Iesus was comming, went to meet him: but Mary sate still in the house.

21 Then said Martha vnto Iesus, Lord, if thou haddest beene here, my brother had not beene dead.

22 But now u I know also, that whatsoeuer thou askest of God, God will giue it thee.

u She sheweth some faith, which notwithstanding was almost ouercome by her affections.

23 Iesus said vnto her, Thy brother shall rise againe.

24 Martha said vnto him, I know that he shall rise againe in the resurrection at the last day.

25 Iesus said vnto her, x I am the resurrection and the life: he that beleeueth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he liue.

x Christ restoreth vs from death to giue vs euerlasting life.

26 And whosoeuer liueth and beleeueth in me, shall neuer die. Beleeuest thou this?

27 She said vnto him, Yea, Lord, I beleeue that thou art the Christ the sonne of God, which should come into the world.

28 ¶ And when she had so said, she went her way, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying, The Master is come, and calleth for thee.

29 And when shee heard it, shee arose quickly and came vnto him.

30 For Iesus was not yet come into the towne, but was in the place where Martha met him.

h Wherein ſhe declared her affection and reuerence that ſhee bare to Chriſt.

ſaw Marie, that ſhe roſe vp [h] haſtily, and went out, followed her, ſaying, Shee goeth vnto the graue, to weepe there.

32 Then when Mary was come where Jeſus was, and ſaw him, ſhee fell downe at his feete, ſaying vnto him, Lord, if thou haddeſt bene here, my brother had not bene dead.

i For compaſſion: for he felt our miſeries as though he ſuffered the like.

33 When Jeſus therefore ſaw her weepe, and the Iewes alſo weepe which came with her, hee [i] groned in the ſpirit, and was troubled in himſelfe, 34 And ſaid, Where haue yee laid him? They ſayd vnto him, Lord, come and ſee.

k We read not that his affections were ſo exceſſiue that he kept no meaſure, as we doe in our ſorowes, ioyes, and other affections.

35 And Jeſus [k] wept.

36 Then ſayd the Iewes, Behold, how he loued him.

37 And ſome of them ſaid, Could not he, which opened the eyes of the blinde, haue made alſo that this man ſhould not haue died?

38 Jeſus therefore againe groned in himſelfe, and came to the graue. And it was a cane, and a ſtone was layd vpon it.

39 Jeſus ſayd, Take yee away the ſtone. Martha the ſiſter of him that was dead, ſayd vnto him, Lord, he ſtinketh already: for he hath beene dead foure dayes.

l That is, a miracle whereby Gods Name ſhould be glorified.

40 Jeſus ſayd vnto her, Sayd I not vnto thee, that if thou diddeſt beleeue, thou ſhouldeſt ſee the [l] glorie of God?

41 Then they tooke away the ſtone from the place where the dead was laid. And Jeſus lift vp his eyes, and ſayd, Father, I thanke thee, becauſe thou haſt heard me.

42 I knowe that thou heareſt mee alwayes, but becauſe of the people that ſtand by, I ſayd it, that they may beleeue, that thou haſt ſent me.

43 As hee had ſpoken theſe thinges, hee cryed with a loud voyce, Lazarus, come forth.

44 Then hee that was dead, came forth, bound hand and foote with bandes, and his face was bound with a napkin. Jeſus ſayd vnto them, Looſe him, and let him goe.

45 ¶ Then many of the Iewes which came to Mary, and had ſeene the things, which Jeſus did, beleeued in him.

46 But ſome of them went their way to the Phariſees, and told them what thinges Jeſus had done.

m They reſiſt God, thinking to hinder his worke by their owne policies.

47 Then gathered the hie Prieſts, and the Phariſes a councill, and ſayd, What ſhall wee doe? For this man doeth many miracles.

n Or, for that preſent time.

48 If [m] wee let him thus alone, all men will beleeue in him, and the Romanes will come and take away both our place, and the nation.

o God made him to ſpeake, neither could his impietie let Gods purpoſe, who cauſed this wicked man euen as hee did Balaam, to be an inſtrument of the holy Ghoſt.

49 Then one of them named Caiaphas, which was the high Prieſt [n] that ſame yere, ſayd vnto them, Ye perceiue nothing at all,

50 Nor yet doe you conſider that it is expedient for vs, that one man die for the people, and that the whole nation periſh not.

51 This ſpake he not of himſelfe: but being hie Prieſt that ſame yeere, he [o] prophecied that Jeſus ſhould die for the nation:

52 And not for the nation only, but that hee ſhould gather together in one the children of God, which were ſcattered.

53 Then from that day forth they conſulted together to put him to death.

54 Jeſus therefore walked no more openly among the Iewes, but went thence vnto a countrey neere to the wildernesse, into a citie called Ephraim, and there continued with his diſciples.

55 ¶ And the Iewes Paſſeouer was at hand, and many went out of the countrey vp to Jeruſalem before the Paſſeouer, to [p] purifie themſelues.

p Becauſe they thought hereby to make themſelues more holy againſt they ſhould eate the Paſſeouer: but they were not commaunded by God to vſe this ceremonie.

56 Then ſought they for Jeſus, & ſpake among themſelues, as they ſtoode in the Temple. What thinke ye, that he commeth not to the feaſt?

57 Now both the high Prieſtes and the Phariſes had giuen a commandement, that if any man knew where he were, hee ſhould ſhew it, that they might take him.

7 Then ſaid Jeſus, Let her alone: againſt the day of my burying ſhe kept it.

9 Then much people of the Iewes knew that hee was there: and they came, not for Jeſus ſake only, but that they might ſee Lazarus alſo, whom hee had raiſed from the dead.

10 The hie Prieſts therefore conſulted, that they might put Lazarus to death alſo, c That is, saue I beseech thee.

d This doeth well declare that his kingdome stood not in outward things. Zech.9.9.

13 Tooke branches of palme trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried, c Hosanna, Blessed is the King of Israel that commeth in the Name of the Lord.

14 And Iesus found a d young asse, and sate thereon, as it is written, 15 *Feare not, daughter of Sion: behold, thy King commeth sitting on an asses colt.

16 But his disciples vnderstood not these things at the first: but when Iesus was glorified, then remembred they, that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things vnto him.

17 The people therefore that was with him, bare witnesse that hee called Lazarus out of the graue, and rayled him from the dead.

18 Therefore mette him the people also, because they heard that hee had done this miracle.

19 And the Pharises sayd among themselues, Perceiue ye how ye preuaile nothing? Behold, ‖ the world goeth after him.

20 ¶ Now there were certaine e Greekes among them that came vp to worship at the feast.

21 And they came to Philip, which was of Bethsaida in Galile, & desired him, saying, Sir, we would see Iesus.

22 Philip came and tolde Andrew: and againe Andrew and Philip told Iesus.

23 And Iesus answered them, saying, The houre is come, that the sonne of man must be f glorified.

24 Verely, verely I say vnto you, except the wheate corne fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit.

25 *He that g loueth his life, shall lose it, and hee that h hateth his life in this world, shall keepe it vnto life eternall.

26 *If any man serue me, let him follow me: for where I am, there shall also my seruant be: and if any man serue me, him will my Father honour.

27 Now is my soule troubled, and what shall I say? Father, saue mee from this houre: but therefore came I vnto this houre.

28 Father, glorifie thy Name. Then came there a voyce from heauen, saying, I both haue glorified it, and will glorifie it againe.

29 Then sayd the people that stood by and heard, that it was a thunder: others sayd, An Angel spake to him.

30 Iesus answered, and sayd, This voyce came not because of mee, but for your sakes.

31 Now is the i iudgement of this world: now shall the prince of this world bee cast out.

32 *And k I, if I were lift vp from the earth, will draw l all men vnto me.

33 Now this sayd hee, signifying what death he should die.

34 The people answered him, We haue heard out of the * Law, that the Christ bideth for euer: and how sayest thou, that the Sonne of man must be lift vp? who is that Sonne of man?

35 Then Iesus said vnto them, Yet a little while is * the light with you: walk while ye haue light, lest the darkenesse come vpon you: for he that walketh in the darke, knoweth not whither he goeth. Chap. 1.9.

36 While yee haue light, beleeue in the light, that yee may bee the children of the light. These things spake Iesus, and departed, and hid himselfe from them.

37 ¶ And though hee had done so many miracles before them, yet beleeued they not on him:

38 That the saying of Esaias the Prophet might be fulfilled, that he sayd, * Lord, who beleeued our report? and to whome is the m arme of the Lord reuealed? Isa.53.1.rom. 10.16.

39 Therefore could they not beleeue, because that Esaias saith againe, 40 *He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart, that they should not see with their eyes, nor vnderstand with their heart, and should be conuerted, and I should n heale them. Isa.6.9. mat. 13. 14. mar. 4.12. luk 8.10. acts 28. 26. rom. 11.8.

41 These things sayd Esaias when hee saw his glory, and spake of him.

42 Neuertheless euen among the chiefe rulers many beleeued in him: but because of the Pharises, they did not confesse him, lest they should be ‖ cast out of ỳ Synagogue.

43 *For they loued the o prayse of men, more then the prayse of God.

44 And Iesus cryed, and sayd, He that beleeueth in me, beleeueth not in mee, but in him that sent me.

45 And he that seeth mee, seeth him that sent me.

46 I * am come a light into the world, that whosoeuer beleeueth in me, should not abide in darkenesse.

47 *And if any man heare my wordes, and beleeue not, I ‖ iudge him not: for I came not to ‖ iudge the world, but to saue the world.

48 He that refuseth me, and receiueth not my words, hath one that ‖ iudgeth him: *the word that I haue spoken, it shall iudge him in the p last day.

49 For I haue not spoken of my selfe: but the father, which sent me, he gaue me a commaundement what I should say, and what I should speake.

50 And I know that his commaundement is life euerlasting: the thinges therefore that I speake, I speake them so as the Father sayd vnto me.

2 And when [b] supper was done, (the deuil had now put in the heart of Iudas Iscariot, Simons sonne to betray him,)

3 Iesus knowing that the Father had giuen all things vnto his hands, and that he was come from God, and went to God,

4 Hee riseth from supper, and layeth aside his vpper garments, and tooke a towell, and girded himselfe.

5 After that, he powred water into a basen and began to wash the disciples feet, and to wipe them with the towell wherewith he was girded.

6 Then came he to Simon Peter, who said to him, Lord, doest thou wash my feet?

7 Iesus answered and sayd vnto him, What I doe, thou knowest not now: but thou shalt know it hereafter.

8 Peter sayd vnto him, Thou shalt neuer wash my feete. Iesus answered him, If I [c] wash thee not, thou shalt haue no part with me.

9 Simon Peter sayd vnto him, Lorde, not my feete onely, but also the handes, and the head.

10 Iesus said to him, Hee that is washen, needeth not, saue to [d] wash his feete, but is cleane euery whit: and ye are * cleane, but not all.

11 For hee knew who should betray him: therefore sayd he, Ye are not all cleane.

12 ¶ So after he had washed their feete, and had taken his garments, and was set downe againe, he sayd vnto them, Know ye what I haue done to you?

13 Ye call me Master, and Lord, and ye say well: for so am I.

14 If I then your Lord, and Master, haue washed your feete, ye also ought to wash [e] one anothers feet.

15 For I haue giuen you an example, that ye should doe, euen as I haue done to you.

16 Verely, verely I say vnto you, * The seruant is not greater then his master, neither the ambassadour greater then hee that sent him.

17 If yee know these things, blessed are ye, if ye do them.

18 ¶ I speake not of you all: I knowe whom I haue chosen: but it is that the scripture might bee fulfilled, * Hee that eateth bread with mee, hath [f] lift vp his heele against me.

19 From henceforth tell I you before it come, that when it is come to passe, ye might beleeue that I am [g] he.

20 * Verely, verely I say vnto you, If I send any, hee that receiueth him, receiueth me, and he that receiueth me, receiueth him that sent mee.

21 When Iesus had sayd these things, he was [h] troubled in the spirit, and [i] testified, and sayde, Verely, verely I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me.

22 * Then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake.

23 Now there was one of his disciples, which leaned on Iesus [k] bosome, whom Iesus loued.

24 To him beckened therefore Simon Peter, that hee should aske who it was of whom he spake.

25 He then, as hee leaned on Iesus breast, sayd vnto him, Lord, who is it?

26 Iesus answered, Hee it is, to whom I shall giue a sop, when I haue dipped it: and he wet a sop, and gaue it to Iudas Iscariot, Simons sonne.

27 And after the sop, [l] Satan entred into him. Then said Iesus vnto him, That thou doest, doe quickly.

28 But none of them that were at table, knew for what cause he spake it vnto him.

29 For some of them thought because Iudas had the bagge, that Iesus had said vnto him, Buy those things that we haue need of against the feast: or that hee should giue some thing to the poore.

30 Assoone then as hee had receiued the soppe, he went immediatly out, and it was night.

31 ¶ When he was gone out, Iesus said, [m] Now is the sonne of man glorified, and God is glorified in him.

32 If God be glorified in him, God shall also glorifie him in himselfe, & shal straightway glorifie him.

33 Little children, yet a little while am I with you: yee shall seeke mee, but as I sayd vnto the * Iewes, Whither I goe, can yee not come: also to you say I now, 34 * [n] A new commandement giue I vnto you, that ye loue one another: as I haue loued you, that ye also loue one another.

35 By this shal all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye haue loue one to another.

36 Simon Peter said vnto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Iesus answered him, Whither I goe, thou canst not follow mee now: but thou [o] shalt follow me afterwards.

37 Peter sayd vnto him, Lord, why can I not follow thee now? * I will lay downe my life for thy sake.

38 Iesus answered him, Wilt thou lay downe thy life for my sake? Verely, verely I say vnto thee, The cocke shall not crow, till thou haue denyed me thrise.

8 Philip saide vnto him, Lord, shew vs thy Father, and it sufficeth vs.

9 Iesus saide vnto him, I haue bene so long time with you, & hast thou not knowen me, Philip? he that hath seene me, hath seene my Father: how then sayest thou, Shew vs thy Father?

10 Beleuest thou not, that I am in the Father, & the Father is in mee? the words that I speake vnto you, I speake not of my selfe: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he [h] doeth the workes.

11 Beleeue mee, that I am in the Father, and the Father in mee: at the least, beleeue me for the very workes sake.

*12 Verely, verely I say vnto you, hee that beleeueth in me, the works that I do, [i] he shal do also, and greater then these shal he do: for I goe vnto my Father.

21 He that hath my Commandements, and keepeth them, is he that loueth me: and he that loueth mee, [n] shall be loued of my Father: and I will loue him, and will shewe mine owne selfe to him.

22 Iudas saith vnto him (not Iscariot) Lord, what is the cause that thou wilt shew thy selfe vnto vs, and not vnto the world?

23 Iesus answered, and sayd vnto him, If any man loue mee, hee will [p] keepe my word, and my Father will loue him, and we will come vnto him, and will dwell with him.

24 Hee that loueth mee not, keepeth not my wordes, and the word which yee heare, is not [q] mine, but the Fathers which sent mee.

25 These things haue I spoken vnto you, being present with you.

26 But the Comforter, which is the holy Ghost, whom the Father will sende in my Name, hee shall teach you all things, and bring al things to your remembrance, which I haue told you.

27 [r] Peace I leaue with you: my peace I giue vnto you: not as the world giueth, giue I vnto you. Let not your heart be troubled, nor feare.

28 Ye haue heard how I said vnto you, I goe away, and will come vnto you. If ye loued me, yee would verely reioyce, because I said, I goe vnto the Father: for my Father is [s] greater then I.

29 And now I haue spoken vnto you, before it come, that when it is come to passe, ye might beleeue.

30 Hereafter will I not speake many things vnto you: for the [t] prince of this world commeth, and hath [u] nought in me.

4 Abide in mee, and I in you: as the branch cannot beare fruit of it selfe, except it abide in the Vine, no more can yee, [a] except ye abide in me.

5 I am the Vine, ye are the branches: he that abideth in mee, and I in him, the same bringeth foorth much fruit: for without mee can ye do nothing.

6 If a man abide not in mee, hee is cast foorth as a branch, and withereth: and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they burne.

7 If ye abide in me, and my [b] wordes abide in you, aske [c] what yee will, and it shall be done to you.

8 Herein is my Father glorified, that ye beare much fruit, and be made my disciples.

9 As the Father hath loued mee, so haue I loued you: continue in [d] my loue.

10 If ye shal keep my Commandements, yee shall abide in my loue, as I haue kept my Fathers Commaundements, and abide in his loue.

11 These things haue I spoken vnto you, that my ioy might remaine in you, and that your ioy might be [e] full.

12 *This is my Commandement, that ye loue one another, as I haue loued you.

13 Greater loue then this hath no man, when any man bestoweth his life for his friends.

14 Ye are my friends, if ye doe whatsoeuer I command you.

15 Henceforth call I you not seruants: for the seruant knoweth not what his Master doeth: but I haue called you friends: for [f] all things that I haue heard of my Father, haue I made knowen to you.

Matth. 28. 19. chosen you and ordeined you, * that yee goe and bring foorth fruite, and that your fruite remaine, that whatsoeuer yee shall aske of the Father in my Name, hee may giue it you.

17 These things command I you, that ye loue one another.

18 If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before you.

19 If ye were of the world, the worlde would loue his owne: but because yee are not of the world, but I haue chosen you out of the worlde, therefore the worlde hateth you.

Chap. 13. 16. matth. 10. 24. Matth. 24 9.

20 Remember the word that I said vnto you, * The seruant is not greater then his master. * If they haue persecuted mee, they will persecute you also: if they haue [g] kept my worde, they will also keepe [h] yours.

g The word also signifieth to bee diligent to espie faults to trip one in.

h Which is the selfe same word, but called theirs because they preach it.

21 But all these things will they do vnto you for my Names sake, because they haue not knowen him that sent me.

22 If I had not come and spoken vnto them, they [i] should not haue had sinne: but now haue they no [k] cloke for their sinne.

i But should haue seemed to be innocent, if I had not discouered their malice.

k In that they refused Christ, it taketh from them all excuse wherewith they would haue iustified themselues, as if they had beene very holy, and without all sinne.

23 He that hateth me, hateth my Father also.

24 If I had not done workes among them which none other man did, they had not had sinne: but now haue they both seene, and haue hated both mee and my Father.

25 But it is that the worde might bee fulfilled, that it is written in their [l] Law, * They hated me without a cause.

l That is, in the holy Scriptures. Psal. 35. 19. Chap. 14 26. Luke 24. 49.

26 But when the Comforter shall come, * whom I will send vnto you from the Father, euen the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth of the Father, he shall testifie of me.

27 And ye shall witnesse also, because yee haue bene with me from the beginning.

CHAP. XVI.

2 Hee putteth them in remembrance of the crosse, and of their owne infirmitie to come, 7 And therefore doth comfort them with the promise of the holy Ghost. 16 Of the comming againe of Christ. 17 Of his ascension. 23 To aske in the Name of Christ. 33 Peace in Christ, and in the world affliction.

THese things haue I said vnto you, that ye should not be [a] offended.

a And so shrinke from me.

2 They shal [‡] excommunicate you: yea, the time shall come, that whosoeuer killeth you, will thinke that he doeth God seruice.

‡ Greeke. put you out of the Synagogues.

3 And these things will they doe vnto you, because they haue not knowen the Father, nor me.

4 But these things haue I told you, that when the houre shall come, ye might remember that I told you them. And these things [b] I said not vnto you from the beginning, because I was with you.

b He bare with them because they were but weakelings.

5 But nowe I goe my way to him that sent me, and none of you asketh mee, [c] Whither goest thou?

c For if you did consider, yee would reioyce.

6 But because I haue said these things vnto you, your hearts are full of sorow.

7 Yet I tell you the trueth, it is expedient for you that I goe away: for if I goe not away, the Comforter will not come vnto you: but if I depart, I will send him vnto you.

8 And when he is come, he wil [d] reproue the world of sinne, and of righteousnesse, and of iudgement:

d Or, convince. This is to be vnderstood of the comming of the holy Ghost when his vertue and strength shall shine in the Church.

9 Of sinne, because they beleeue not in me:

10 Of [e] righteousnesse, because I goe to my Father, and ye shall see me no more.

e His enemies which contemned him, and put him to death, shall be conuict by their owne conscience, for that they did not beleeue in him, Acts 2. 37. and shall know that without Iesus Christ there is nothing but sinne.

11 Of iudgement, because the prince of this world is iudged.

12 I haue yet [h] many things to say vnto you, but ye cannot beare them now.

f Wherefore the wicked must needes confesse that he was iust, and beloued of his Father, and not condemned by him as a blasphemer or transgressor.

13 Howbeit, when hee is come which is the Spirit of trueth, hee will lead you into all trueth: for hee shall not speake of himselfe, but whatsoeuer hee shall heare, shall hee speake, and hee will shew you the things [i] to come.

g When they shall know that I (whom they called the carpenters sonne, and willed to come downe from the crosse) am the very Sonne of God which haue ouercome all the powers of hell, and reigne ouer all, Ephes. 1. 19, 20.

14 He shal glorifie me: for he shall receiue of mine, and shall shew it vnto you.

15 All things that the Father hath, are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shew it vnto you.

h These things are conteined in the doctrine of the Apostles which onely is sufficient.

16 [k] A little while, and ye shall not see me: and againe a little while, and ye shall see me: for I [l] goe to my Father.

i As touching the spirituall kingdome of God: for the Apostles knew not that, till after the resurrection.

17 Then said some of his disciples among themselues, What is this that he saith vnto vs, A little while, and ye shall not see me, and againe, A little while, and ye shal see me, and, For I goe to my Father?

k Mine absence shall not bee long: for I will send you the holy Ghost, who shall remaine with you for euer. l From death I passe to glory, and so I will endue you with mine heauenly vertue.

18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? wee know not what he saith.

19 Now Iesus knewe that they would aske him, and said vnto them, Do ye enquire among your selues of that I said, A little while, and yee shall not see me: and againe a little while, and ye shall see me?

m By the power and vertue of the holy Ghost. n For it shall be grounded vpon my resurrection and the grace of the holy Ghost. o For yee shall haue perfect knowledge, and shall no more doubt as yee were wont. Chap 14 13. matth. 7. 7. and 21. 22 mar. 11 24. luke 11. 9. iames 1. 5. p In respect of that, that you shall obtaine, if you aske in faith.

20 Verely, verely I say vnto you, that ye shall weepe and lament, and the world shall reioyce: and ye shall sorow, but your sorow shall be turned to ioy.

21 A woman when shee trauaileth, hath sorow, because her houre is come: but assoone as she is deliuered of the childe, she remembreth no more the anguish, for ioy that a man is borne into the world.

22 And ye now therefore are in sorow: but I will see you [m] againe, and your hearts shal reioyce, and your ioy shal [n] no man take from you.

23 And in that day shall ye aske me [o] nothing. * Verely, verely I say vnto you, whatsoeuer ye shall aske the Father in my Name, he will giue it you.

24 Hitherto haue yee asked [p] nothing in my Name: aske, [‡] ye shall receiue, that your ioy may be full.

25 These

25 These things haue I spoken vnto you in parables: but the time will come, when I shall no more speake to you in parables: but I shall shew you plainely of the Father.

26 At that day shall ye aske in my Name, and I say not vnto you, that I will q pray vnto the Father for you.

q Christ denieth not that he is the Mediatour, but sheweth that they shall obtaine their request without difficultie or any paine. Chap. 17.8.

27 For the Father himselfe loueth you, because ye haue loued mee, * and haue beleeued that I came out from God.

28 I am come out from the Father, and came into the world: againe I leaue the world, and goe to the Father.

29 His disciples sayd vnto him, Loe, now speakest thou plainely, and thou speakest no parable.

30 Now know we that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should aske thee. By this we beleeue that thou art come out from God.

31 Iesus answered them, Do you beleeue now?

Matth. 26.31. marke 14.27.

32 * Behold, the houre commeth, and is already come, that ye shall be scattered euery man into his owne, and shal leaue me alone: but I am not r alone: for the Father is with me.

r Although men forsake Christ, yet is he no whit diminished: for he and his father are one.

33 These things haue I spoken vnto you, that s in mee yee might haue peace, in the world ye shall haue affliction, but be of good comfort: I haue ouercome the world.

s We haue rest & comfort when we are truely grafted in Christ.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The prayer of Christ vnto his Father, both for himselfe and his Apostles, and also for all such as receiue the trueth.

THese things spake Iesus, and lift vp his eyes to heauen, and sayd, Father, the houre is come: glorifie thy Sonne, that thy Sonne also may glorifie thee,

Matth. 28.18.

2 * As thou hast giuen him a power ouer all flesh, that hee should giue eternall life to all b them that thou hast giuen him.

a Christ hath all rule and dominion ouer men.

b Which are the elect.

3 And this is life eternal, that they know thee to be the onely very God, & whom thou hast sent, Iesus c Christ.

c That is, that they acknowledge both the Father and the Sunne to be very God.

4 I haue d glorified thee on the earth: I haue finished the worke which thou gauest me to doe.

d As well by doctrine as miracles.

5 And nowe glorifie mee, thou Father, with thine owne selfe, with the glory which I had with thee before the world was.

6 I haue declared thy Name vnto the men which thou gauest me out of the world: e thine they were, and thou gauest them me, and they haue kept thy word.

e Our election standeth in the good pleasure of God, which is ỹ only foundation, and cause of our saluation, and is declared to vs in Christ, through whom we are iustified by faith, and sanctified. Rom 8.29, 30. Ephes. 1.4, 5. Chap. 16.27.

7 Now they know that all things whatsoeuer thou hast giuen me, are of thee.

8 For I haue giuen vnto them the words which thou gauest mee, and they haue receiued them, * and haue knowen surely that I came out from thee, and haue beleeued that thou hast sent me.

9 I pray for them: I pray not for f the world, but for them which thou hast giuen me: for they are thine.

f That is, the reprobate.

10 And all mine are thine, and thine are mine, and I am glorified in them.

11 And now am I no more in the world, but these are in the world, & I come to thee. Holy Father, keepe them in thy Name, euen them whom thou hast giuen mee, that they may be g one, as we are.

g That they may be ioyned in vnitie of faith and spirit.

12 While I was with them in the world, I kept them in thy name: those that thou gauest me, haue I kept, and none of them is lost, but the h childe of perdition, that the * Scripture might be fulfilled.

h He was so called, not only for that he perished, but because God had appointed & ordained him to this end, Acts 1.16, 18. and 4.27, 28. Psal. 109.7.

13 And nowe come I to thee, and these things speake I in ỹ world, that they might haue my ioy fulfilled in themselues.

14 I haue giuen them thy word, and the worlde hath hated them, because they are i not of the world, as I am not of the world.

i But are separated by the spirit of regeneration.

15 I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou keepe them from euill.

16 They are not of the world, as I am not of the world.

17 ‖ k Sanctifie them with thy trueth: thy word is trueth.

‖ Or, consecrate them to thy selfe.

k Renew them with thine heauenly grace, that they only may seeke thy will.

18 As thou didst send me into the world, so haue I sent them into the world.

19 And for their sakes sanctifie I my selfe, that they also may be l sanctified through the trueth.

l Which thing declareth that Christs holinesse is ours.

20 I pray not for these alone, but for them also which shall beleeue in me through their word, 21 That they all may bee one, as thou, O Father, art in mee, and I in thee: euen that they may be also one in vs, that the m world may beleeue that thou hast sent me.

m That the infidels may by experience bee conuicted to confesse my glory.

22 And the glory that thou gauest mee, I n haue giuen them, that they may be one, as we are one, n I haue shewed them the example and paterne of perfect felicitie.

23 I in them, and thou in mee, that they may be made perfect in one, & that the world may know that thou hast sent mee, and hast loued them as thou hast loued me.

Chap. 12.26.

24 * Father, I will that they which thou hast giuen me, bee o with me euen where I am, that they may behold my glory, which thou hast giuen mee: for thou louedst me before the foundation of the world.

o That they may profit and grow vp in such sort, that is the end they may enioy the eternall glory with me.

25 O righteous Father, the worlde also hath not knowen thee, but I haue knowen thee, and these haue knowen that thou hast sent me.

26 And I haue declared vnto them thy Name, and will declare it, that the loue wherewith thou hast loued mee, may bee in them, and I in p them.

p For without him we cannot comprehend the loue wherewith God loueth vs.

CHAP. XVIII.

3 Christ is betrayed. 6 The words of his mouth smite the officers to the ground. 10 Peter smiteth off Malchus eare. 13 Iesus is brought before Annas and Caiaphas, 25 Where Peter denieth him. 36 He telleth Pilate what his kingdome is.

WHen Iesus had spoken these things, hee went foorth with his disciples ouer the a brooke * Cedron, where was a garden, into the which hee entred, and his disciples.

3 * Judas then after hee had receiued a [b] band of men & officers of the high Priests, and of the Pharisees, came thither with lanterns, and torches, and weapons.

b The which he had obteined of the gouernour of the Temple.

4 Then Jesus knowing all things that should come vnto him, went forth and said vnto them, Whom seeke ye?

5 They answered him, Jesus of Nazaret. Jesus said vnto them, I am hee. Now Judas also which betrayed him, stood with them.

6 Assoone then as he had said vnto them, I am hee, they went backwards, and fell to the ground.

7 Then hee asked them againe, Whom seeke ye? And they said, Jesus of Nazaret.

8 Jesus answered, I said vnto you, that I am he: therefore if ye seeke me, let these goe their way.

9 This was that the word might be fulfilled which hee spake, * [c] Of them which thou gauest me, haue I lost none.

*Chap.*17.12.

c He both spareth their bodies and also sauoeth their soules.

10 Then Simon Peter hauing a sword, drew it, and smote the high Priests seruant, and cut off his right eare. Now the seruants name was Malchus.

11 Then said Jesus vnto Peter, Put vp thy sword into the sheath: shall I not drinke of the cup which my Father hath giuen me?

12 Then the band and the captaine, and the officers of the Iewes tooke Jesus, and bound him,

13 And ledde him away to * [d] Annas first (for hee was father in law to Caiaphas, which was the hie Priest [e] the same yeere)

Luke 3.2.

d Who sent Christ vnto Caiaphas the high Priest bound.

e Although this office was for terme of life by Gods ordinance, yet the ambition and dissention of the Iewes caused the Romans from time to time to change it, either for briberie or fauour. *Chap.*11.50. *Matth.*26.58. *mar.*14.54. luke 22.54.

14 * And Caiaphas was hee that gaue counsell to the Iewes, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

15 ¶ * Now Simon Peter followed Jesus, and an other disciple, and that disciple was knowen of the hie Priest: therefore hee went in with Jesus into the hall of the high Priest.

16 But Peter stoode at the doore without. Then went out the other disciple, which was knowen vnto the hie Priest, and spake to her that kept the doore, and brought in Peter.

17 Then said the maide that kept the doore vnto Peter, Art not thou also one of this mans disciples? he said, I am not.

18 And the seruants and officers stoode there, which had made a fire of coales: for it was colde, and they warmed themselues. And Peter also stoode among them, and warmed himselfe.

19 ¶ The high Priest then asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.

20 Jesus answered him, I spake [f] openly to the world: I euer taught in the Synagogue and in the Temple, whither the Iewes resort continually, and in secret haue I said nothing.

f That is, frankly and plainely.

21 Why askest thou me? aske them which heard mee what I said vnto them: behold, they know what I said.

22 When he had spoken these things, one of the officers which stoode by, smote Jesus with his rod, saying, Answerest thou the hie Priest so?

23 Jesus answered him, If I haue euill spoken, beare witnesse of the euill: but if I haue well spoken, why smitest thou me?

24 ¶ * Now Annas had sent him bound vnto Caiaphas the hie Priest.)

*Matth.*26.57. marke 14.53. luke 22.54.

25 * And Simon Peter stoode and warmed himselfe, and they said vnto him, Art not thou also of his disciples? Hee denied it and said, I am not.

26 One of the seruants of the hie Priest, his cousin, whose eare Peter smote off, said, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?

27 Peter then denied againe, and immediatly the cocke crew.

28 ¶ * Then led they Jesus from Caiaphas into the common hall. Now it was morning, and they themselues went not into the common hall, lest they should bee * defiled, but that they might eate the Passeouer.

29 Pilate then went out vnto them, and said, What accusation bring yee against this man?

30 They answered and said vnto him, If he were not an euill doer, we would not haue deliuered him vnto thee.

31 Then said Pilate vnto them, Take [h] yee him, and iudge him after your owne Law. Then the Iewes said vnto him, It is not [i] lawfull for vs to put any man to death.

h He spake this disdainefully, because they were so bent against all right and equitie.

i As if they should say, Thou wilt not suffer vs to doe it: for he knew that it was not permitted to them by the Romanes to punish with death.

32 It was that the word of Jesus * might be fulfilled which he spake, signifying what death he should die.

*Matth.*20.19. *Matth.*27.11. marke 15.2. luke 23.3.

33 * So Pilate entred into the common hall againe, and called Jesus, and said vnto him, Art thou the king of the Iewes?

34 Jesus answered him, Sayest thou that of thy selfe, or did other tell it thee of me?

35 Pilate answered, Am I a Iewe? Thine owne nation, and the high Priestes haue deliuered thee vnto mee. What hast thou done?

36 Jesus answered, My kingdome is not of this [k] world: if my kingdome were of this world, my seruants would surely fight, that I should not bee deliuered to the Iewes: but now is my kingdome not from hence.

k Ie standeth not in strength of men nor in worldly defence.

37 Pilate then said vnto him, Art thou a King then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a King: for this cause am I borne, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should beare witnesse vnto the truth: euery one that is of the trueth, heareth my voice.

l This was a mocking and disdainefull question. *Matth.*27.15. marke 15.6. luke 23.17

38 Pilate said vnto him, [l] What is truth? and when hee had said that, hee went out againe vnto the Iewes, and said vnto them, I finde in him no cause at all.

39 * But you haue a [m] custome, that I should deliuer you one loose at the Passeouer: will you then that I loose vnto you the King of the Iewes?

m This was one of their blinde abuses: for the Lawe of God gaue no libertie to quit a wicked trespasser. Acts 3.14.

40 * Then cried they all againe, saying, Not him, but Barabbas: now this Barabbas was a murtherer.

THen *Pilate tooke Iesus and [a] scourged him.

a He thought to haue pacified the fury of the Iewes by some indifferent correction.

2 And the souldiers platted a crowne of thornes, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple garment,

3 And said, Haile, King of the Iewes. And they smote him with their rods.

4 Then Pilate went foorth againe, and said vnto them, Behold, I bring him foorth to you, that yee may knowe, that I finde no fault in him at all.

5 Then came Iesus foorth wearing a crowne of thornes, and a purple garment. And Pilate said vnto them, [b] Behold the man.

b He spake in mockerie, because Christ called himselfe King.

6 Then when the high Priests and officers saw him, they cried, saying, Crucifie, crucifie him, Pilate said vnto them, Take ye him, and crucifie him: for I finde no fault in him.

7 The Iewes answered him, Wee haue a lawe, and by our lawe hee ought to die, because hee made himselfe the [c] Sonne of God.

c Christ was in deede the Sonne of God, & therefore might iustly call himselfe so without breach of the Lawe: wherefore their coloured accusation was fallly applied.

8 ¶ When Pilate then heard that word, he was the more afraide,

9 And went againe into the common hall, and said vnto Iesus, Whence art thou? But Iesus gaue him none answere.

10 Then said Pilate vnto him, Speakest thou not vnto mee? knowest thou not that I haue power to crucifie thee, and haue power to loose thee?

11 Iesus answered, Thou couldest haue no [d] power at all against mee, except it were giuen thee from aboue: therefore hee that deliuered mee vnto thee, hath the greater sinne.

d Hereby hee sheweth him, that he ought not to abuse his office and authoritie.

12 From thencefoorth Pilate sought to loose him, but the Iewes cried, saying, If thou deliuer him, thou art not Cesars friend: for whosoeuer maketh himselfe a King, speaketh against Cesar.

13 ¶ When Pilate heard that word, hee brought Iesus foorth, and sate downe in the iudgement seate in a place called the [e] Pauement, and in Hebrewe, Gabbatha.

e A place somewhat high and raised vp.

14 And it was the preparation of the Passeouer, and about the [f] sixt houre: and hee sayde vnto the Iewes, Behold your King.

f Which was mid day.

15 But they cried, Away with him, away with him, crucifie him. Pilate sayde vnto them, Shal I crucifie your King? The high Priests answered, Wee haue no King but Cesar.

16 Then deliuered hee him vnto them to be crucified. * And they tooke Iesus and led him away.

*Matth.*27.32. marke 15.21. luke 23.26.

17 And he bare his crosse, and came into a place named of dead mens skulles, which is called in Hebrewe, [g] Golgotha:

g Which was the place of execution.

18 Where they crucified him, and two other with him, on either side one, and Iesus in the mids.

19 ¶ And Pilate wrote also a title, and put it on the crosse, and it was written, IESVS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE IEWES.

20 This title then read many of the Iewes: for the place where Iesus was crucified was nere to the citie: and it was written in [h] Hebrew, Greeke, and Latine.

h Because all nations might vnderstand it.

21 Then said the high Priestes of the Iewes to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Iewes, but that hee said, I am King of the Iewes.

22 Pilate answered, What I haue written, I haue written.

23 ¶ Then the * souldiers, when they had crucified Iesus, tooke his garments, and made foure parts, to euery souldier a part, and his coate, and the coate was without seame, wouen from the toppe throughout.

*Matth.*27.35. marke 15.24. luke 23.34.

24 Therefore they said one to another, Let vs not deuide it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be. This was that the [i] scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, * They parted my garments among them, and on my coat did cast lots. So the souldiers did these things indeed.

i That which was prefigured in Dauid, was accomplished in Iesus Christ.

*Psal.*22.18.

25 ¶ Then stoode by the crosse of Iesus his mother, and his mothers sister, Marie the wife of ‖ Cleophas, and Marie Magdalene.

‖ Or, Clopas.

26 And when Iesus saw his mother, and the disciple standing by, whom hee loued, hee said vnto his mother, Woman, behold thy sonne.

*Psal.*69.22.

27 Then said hee to the disciple, Behold thy mother: and from that houre the disciple tooke her home vnto him.

28 ¶ After, when Iesus knewe that all things were performed, that the * Scripture might be fulfilled, he said, I thirst.

29 And there was set a vessell full of vineger: and they filled a spunge with vineger, and [k] put it about [l] an hyssope stalke, and put it to his mouth.

k Or, fastened it vpon an hyssope stalke.

l It may appeare that the crosse was not hie, seeing a man might reach Christes mouth with an hyssope stalke, which as appeareth, 1. Kings 4.33. was the lowest among herbs, as the cedar was highest among trees.

30 Now when Iesus had receiued of the vineger, he said, [m] It is finished, and bowed his head, and gaue vp the ghost.

m Mans saluation is perfected by the onely sacrifice of Christ, and all the ceremonies of the Law are ended.

31 The Iewes then (because it was the Preparation, that the bodies should not remaine vpon the crosse on the Sabbath day: for that Sabbath was an [n] high day) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken downe.

n Because the day of the Passeouer fell on the Sabbath day.

32 Then came the souldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other, which was crucified with Iesus.

33 But when they came to Iesus, and saw that hee was dead already, they brake not his legs.

34 But one of the souldiers with a speare [o] pierced his side, and foorthwith came there out blood and water.

o Which declareth that he was dead indeed as he rose againe from death to life.

35 And hee that saw it, bare record, and his record is true: and hee knoweth that hee saith true, that yee might beleeue it.

36 For these things were done, that the * Scripture should bee fulfilled, Not a bone of him shall be broken.

*Exod.*12.46. num 9.12.

37 And againe an other Scripture saith, * They shall see him whome they haue thrust 38 *And after these things Ioseph of Arimathea, (who was a Disciple of Iesus, but p secretly for feare of the Iewes) besought Pilate that hee might take downe the body of Iesus. And Pilate gaue him licence. Hee came then and tooke Iesus body.

p That is to say, before Christes death, but now he declareth him selfe manifestly. Chap.3.2.

39 And there came * also Nicodemus (which first came to Iesus by night) and brought of myrrhe and aloes mingled together about an hundreth pound.

q This honourable buriall was as a preparation and entrie vnto the resurrection.

40 q Then tooke they the body of Iesus, and wrapped it in linnen clothes with the odours, as the maner of the Iewes is to burie.

41 And in that place where Iesus was crucified, was a garden, and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was neuer man yet laide.

42 There then laide they Iesus, because of the Iewes Preparation day, for the sepulchre was neere.

2 Then shee ranne, and came to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple, whom Iesus loued, and said vnto them, They haue taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and wee knowe not where they haue laide him.

3 Peter therefore went foorth, and the other Disciple, and they came vnto the sepulchre.

4 So they ran both together, but the other Disciple did outrun Peter, and came first to the sepulchre.

5 And hee stouped downe, and sawe the linnen clothes lying: yet went he not in.

14 When shee had thus said, shee turned her selfe backe, and saw Iesus standing, and knew not that it was Iesus.

15 Iesus saith vnto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She supposing that hee had beene the gardiner, said vnto him, Sir, if thou hast borne him hence, tell me where thou hast layd him, and I will take him away.

d Because shee was too much addicted to the corporall presence, Christ teacheth her to lift vp her mind by faith into heauen, where onely after his Ascension he remaineth, and where we sit with him at the right hand of the Father.

16 Iesus saith vnto her, Marie. She turned her selfe, and said vnto him, Rabboni, which is to say, Master.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Christ appeareth to his disciples againe. 15 He commandeth Peter earnestly to feede his sheep. 18 He forewarneth him of his death. 25 Of Christs manifold miracles.

AFter these things, Iesus shewed himselfe againe to his disciples at the ‖sea of Tiberias: and thus shewed he himselfe.

‖Or, lake of Genesareth.

2 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas which is called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galile, and the sonnes of Zebedeus, and two other of his disciples.

3 Simon Peter said vnto them, I goe a fishing. They said vnto him, We also will go with thee. They went their way, and entred into a ship straightway, and that night caught they nothing.

4 But when the morning was nowe come, Iesus stood on the shore: neuertheless the disciples knew not that it was Iesus.

‖Or, children.

5 Iesus then said vnto them, ‖Sirs, haue yee any meate? They answered him, No.

6 Then he said vnto them, Cast out the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall finde. So they [a] cast out, and they were not able at all to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

[a] Albeit they knew him not yet they followed his counsell, because they had all night taken paines in vaine.

7 Therefore said the disciple whom Iesus loued vnto Peter, It is the Lord. When Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girded his [b] coate to him (for he was naked) and cast himselfe into the sea.

[b] It was some linnen garment, which fishers vsed to weare, which being trussed vnto him, couered his neither parts, and also letted not his swimming.

8 But the other disciples came by ship (for they were not far from land, but about two hundreth cubits) and they drew the net with fishes.

9 As soone then as they were come to land, they saw hot coales, and fish laid thereon, and bread.

10 Iesus said vnto them, Bring of the fishes, which yee haue now caught.

11 Simon Peter stepped forth and drew the net to land full of great fishes, an hundreth fiftie and three: and albeit there were so many, yet was not the net broken.

12 Iesus said vnto them, Come, and dine. And none of the disciples durst aske him, Who art thou, seeing they knew that he was the Lord.

13 Iesus then came, and tooke bread, and gaue them, and fish likewise.

14 This is now the third time that Iesus shewed himselfe to his disciples, after that he was risen againe from the dead.

15 ¶ So when they had dined, Iesus said to Simon Peter, Simon the sonne of Iona, [c] louest thou me more then these? He said vnto him, Yea Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. Hee sayde vnto him, Feede my lambes.

[c] The Minister cannot wel teach his congregation, except hee loue Christ effectually, which loue is not in them that feede not the flocke.

16 He said to him againe the second time, Simon the sonne of Iona, louest thou mee? Hee said vnto him, Yea Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. He said vnto him, Feede my sheepe.

17 He said vnto him the [d] third time, Simon the sonne of Iona, louest thou mee? Peter was sorie because he said to him the third time, Louest thou mee? and said vnto him, Lord, thou knowest all things: thou knowest that I loue thee. Iesus sayde vnto him, Feede my sheepe.

[d] Because Peter should be established in his office of an Apostle, Christ causeth him by these three times confessing, to wipe away the shame of his three times denying.

18 Verily, verily I say vnto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdedst thy selfe and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt bee olde, thou shalt stretch foorth thine hands, and another shall [e] gird thee, and leade thee whither thou wouldest not.

[e] In stead of a girdle, thou shalt be tied with bands and cordes: and whereas now thou goest at libertie, then thou shalt be drawen to punishment, when thy flesh shall after a sort resist.

19 And thus spake he, signifying by what death he should glorifie God. And when hee had said this, he said to him, Follow mee.

20 Then Peter turned about, and sawe the disciple whom Iesus loued, following, which had also * leaned on his breast at supper, and had said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee?

Chap. 13. 23.

21 When Peter therefore saw him, hee sayde to Iesus, Lord, what shall this man doe?

22 Iesus said vnto him, If I will that he tarie till I come, what is it to thee? followe thou me.

23 Then went this word abroad among the brethren, that this Disciple should not die. Yet Iesus said not to him, He shall not die: but, If I will that hee tarie till I come, what is it to thee?

Chap 20. 30.

24 This is that disciple which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things, and we know that his testimonie is true.

25 * Nowe there are also many other things which Iesus did, the which if they should bee written euery one, [f] I suppose the world could not containe the bookes that should be written, Amen.

[f] But God would not charge vs with so great an heape: seeing therefore that we haue so much as is necessarie, we ought to content our selues and praise his mercie.

The Actes of the holy Apostles, written by Luke the Euangelist.

THE ARGVMENT.

CHrist after his ascension performed his promise to his Apostles, and sent them the holy Ghost, declaring thereby that hee was not onely minde full of his Church, but would bee the head and maintainer thereof for euer. Wherein also his mightie power appeareth, who notwithstanding that Satan and the world resisted neuer so much against this noble worke, yet by a few simple men of no reputation, replenished all the world with the sound of his Gospel. And here in the beginning of the Church, and in the increase thereof, we may plainly perceiue the practise & malice which Satan continually vseth to suppresse & ouerthrow the Gospel: he raiseth conspiracies, tumults, commotions, persecutions, slaunders, & all kind of cruelty. Againe we shal here behold the prouidence of God, who ouerthroweth his enemies enterprises, deliuereth his Church from the rage of tyrants, strengtheneth & encourageth his most most valiantly & constantly to folow their captaine Christ, leauing as it were by this historie a perpetual memorie to the Church that the crosse is so joyned with the Gospel, that they are fellowes inseparable, and that the end of one affliction is but ỹ beginning of another: Yet neuertheles God turneth the troubles, persecutions, imprisonings and tentations of his to a good issue, giuing them as it were, in sorrow, ioy: in bonds, libertie: in prison, deliuerance: in trouble, quietnesse: in death, life. Finally, this booke conteineth many excellent Sermons of the Apostles and disciples, as touching the death, resurrection, and ascension of Christ. The mercie of God. Of the grace and remission of sinne through Iesus Christ. Of the blessed immortalitie. An exhortation to the ministers of Christ flocke. Of repentance, and feare of God, with other principall points of our faith: so that this onely history in a maner may bee sufficient to instruct a man in all true doctrine and Religion.

CHAP. I.

1 The wordes of Christ and his Angels to the Apostles. 9 His ascension. 14 Whereon the Apostles are occupied till the holy Ghost be sent. 26 And of the election of Matthias.

I Haue made the former treatise, O Theophilus, of all that Iesus began to a doe, and teach,

2 Until the day, that he was taken vp, after that he through the holy Ghost, had giuen b commandements vnto the c Apostles, whom he had chosen:

3 To whom also hee presented himselfe aliue after that he had suffered, by many infallible tokens, being seene of them by the space of fourtie dayes, and speaking of those things which appertaine to the c kingdome of God.

4 And when he had e gathered them together, he commanded them that they should not depart from Ierusalem, but to waite for the promise of the father, * which, said he, yee haue heard of me.

5 * For Iohn in deed baptized with water, but yee shall bee baptized with the f holy Ghost within these few dayes.

6 When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, Lord, wilt thou g at this time restore the kingdome to Israel?

7 And he said vnto them, It is not for you to know the h times, or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his owne power,

8 But ye shall receiue power of the holy Ghost, when he shall come on you: and ye shall bee i witnesses vnto mee both in Ierusalem, and in all Iudea, and in Samaria, and vnto the k vttermost part of the earth.

9 And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, hee was l taken vp: for a cloud tooke him vp out of their sight.

10 And while they looked stedfastly toward heauen, as hee went, behold, m two men stood by them in white apparell, 11 Which also sayde, Yee men of Galile, why stand ye n gazing into heauen? This Iesus, which is taken vp from you into heauen, shall o so come, as yee haue seene him goe into heauen.

12 ¶ Then returned they vnto Ierusalem from the mount that is called the mount of Oliues, which is neere to Ierusalem, containing a p Sabbath dayes iourney.

13 And when they were come in, they went vp into an vpper chamber, where abode both Peter, and Iames, and Iohn, and Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartlemew and Matthew, Iames the sonne of Alphe-us, and Simon Zelotes, and Iudas Iames brother.

14 These all continued with one q accord in r prayer and supplication with the ‖ women, and Mary the mother of Iesus, and with his brethren.

15 ¶ And in those dayes Peter stoode vp in the middes of the disciples, and sayd, (now the number of ‖ names that were in one place, were about an hundreth and twentie)

16 Ye men and brethren, this s Scripture must needes haue beene fulfilled, which the * holy Ghost by the mouth of Dauid spake before of Iudas, which was * guide to them that tooke Iesus.

17 For hee was numbred with vs, and had obtained ‖ fellowship in this ministration.

18 Hee therefore hath purchased a fielde with the t reward of iniquitie: and when he * had throwen downe himselfe headlong, he brast asunder in the mids, and all his bowels gushed out.

19 And it is knowen vnto all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, insomuch that that fielde is called in their owne language, Aceldama, that is, The fielde of blood.

20 For it is written in the booke of Psalmes, * Let his habitation be voide, and let no man dwell therein: also * let another take his ‖ charge.

21 ¶ Wherefore, of these men which haue companied with vs, all the time that the Lord Iesus was ǂ conuersant among vs, 22 Beginning from the Baptisme of Iohn, vnto the day that hee was taken vp from vs, must one of them be made a witnes with vs of his u resurrection.

23 And they presented two, Ioseph called Barsabas, whose surname was Iustus, and Matthias.

24 And they prayed, saying, Thou Lord which knowest the hearts of all men, shewe whether of these two x thou hast chosen, that hee that should take in hand that excellent office of an Apostle, might be chosen by the authority of God.

CHAP. II.

3 The Apostles hauing receiued the holy Ghost, make their hearers astonished. 14 When Peter had stopped the mouthes of the mockers, he sheweth by the visible graces of the holy Spirit, that Christ is come. 41 He baptizeth a great number that were conuerted. 42 The godly exercise, charity, and diuers vertues of the faithfull.

a The holy Ghost was sent when much people was assembled in Ierusalem, at the feast, Exo. 23.16. Leuit. 23.16. Deut. 16.9. because the thing might not onely be knowen there but also through the world.

AND when the a day of Pentecost was come, they were b all with one accord in one place.
2 And * suddenly there came a sounde from heauen, and of a rushing and mighty c wind, and it filled all the house where they sate.
3 And there appeared vnto them clouen d tongues, like e fire, and it sate vpon each of them.
4 And they were all filled with the holy Ghost, and beganne to speake with other tongues, as the spirit gaue them ‖ vtterance.
5 And there were dwelling at Hierusalem Iewes, men that feared God, of euery nation vnder heauen.
6 Now when this was f noised, the multitude came together, and were astonied, because that euery man heard them speake his owne language.
7 And they wondered all, and marueiled, saying among themselues, Beholde, are not all these which speake, of Galile?
8 How then heare wee euery man our owne g language, wherein we were borne?
9 Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and the inhabitants of Mesopotamia, and of Iudea, and of Cappadocia, of Pontus, and Asia,
10 And of Phrygia, and Pamphylia, of Egypt, and of the parts of Libya. which is beside Cyrene, and ‖ strangers of Rome, and h Iewes, and i Proselytes, 11 Cretes, and Arabians: we heard them speake in their owne tongues the wonderful workes of God.
12 They were all then amazed, and doubted, saying one to another, What may this bee?
13 And others k mocked, and sayd, They are full of ‖ newe wine.
14 ¶ But Peter standing with the eleuen, lift vp his voyce, & sayd vnto them, Yee men of Iudea, and ye all that inhabite Ierusalem, be this knowen vnto you, and hearken vnto my words.
15 For these are not drunken, as yee suppose, since it is but the third houre of the day.
16 But this is that, which was spoken by the l Prophet * Ioel, 17 And it shall be in the last dayes, sayth God, I will powre out of my Spirit vpon all m flesh, and your sonnes, and your daughters shall prophesie, and your yong men shall see visions, and your * olde men shall dreame dreames.
18 And on my seruants, and on mine handmaydes I will * powre out of my Spirite in those dayes, and they shall prophesie.
19 And I will shew wonders in heauen aboue, and tokens in the earth beneath, blood, and fire, and the vapour of smoke.

21 And it shall bee * that whosoeuer shall call on the q Name of the Lord shall bee saued.
22 Ye men of Israel, heare these words: Iesus of Nazaret, a man approoued of God among you with great workes, and wonders, and signes, which God did by him in the middes of you, as yee your selues also know:
23 Him, I say, haue ye taken by the hands of r the wicked, being deliuered by the s determinate counsell, and ‖ foreknowledge of God, and haue crucified and slaine:
24 Whom God hath raised vp, and loosed the t sorowes of death, because it was vnpossible that he should be holden of it.
25 For Dauid sayth concerning him, * I beheld the Lord alwayes before me: for hee is at my u right hand, that I should not bee shaken.

33 Since then that he by the b right hand of God hath bene exalted, and hath c receiued of his father the promise of the holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this which ye now see and heare.

34 For Dauid is not ascended into heauen, but hee sayeth, * The Lord sayd to my Lord, d Sit at my right hand, 35 Untill I e make thine enemies thy footestoole.

36 Therefore, let all the house of Israel know for a surety, that God hath f made him both Lord & Christ, this Iesus, I say, whom ye haue crucified.

37 Nowe when they heard it, they were pricked in their hearts, and said vnto Peter and the other Apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we doe?

38 Then Peter sayd vnto them, Amend your liues, and bee baptized euery one of you in the name of Iesus Christ for the remission of sinnes: and ye shall receiue the h gift of the holy Ghost.

39 For the promise i is made vnto you, and to your children, and to all that are a farre off, euen as many as the Lord our God shall call.

40 And with many other words he ‖ besought, & exhorted them, saying, Saue your selues from this froward generation.

41 Then they that gladly receiued his word, were baptized: & the same day, there were added to the Church about three thousand ‖ soules.

42 And they continued in the Apostles doctrine and k fellowship, and l breaking of bread, and prayers.

43 ¶ And feare came vpon euery soule: and many wonders and signes were done by the Apostles.

44 And all that beleeued were in one place, and had all things * common.

46 And they continued daily with one accord in the Temple, * and o breaking bread ‖ at home, did eate their meat together with gladnesse and singlenesse of heart,

CHAP. III.

7 The lame is restored to his feete. 12 Peter preacheth Christ vnto the people.

NOw Peter and John went vp together into the Temple, at the a ninth houre of prayer.

a Which is with vs three a clocke after noone, which was their euening sacrifice, at which the Apostles were present to teach that the shadowes of the Law were abolished by that Lambe that tooke away the sinnes of the world.

2 And a certaine man which was a creeple from his mothers wombe was caried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple called Beautifull, to aske b almes of them that entred into the Temple.

3 Who seeing Peter and John, that they would enter into the Temple, desired to receiue an almes

4 And Peter earnestly beholding him with John, sayd, Looke on vs.

5 And he gaue heed vnto them, trusting to receiue some thing of them.

6 Then sayd Peter, Siluer and gold haue I none, but such as I c haue, that giue I thee: In the d Name of Iesus Christ of Nazaret, rise vp, and walke.

7 And hee tooke him by the right hand, and lift him vp, and immediatly his feet and ankle bones receiued strength.

8 And he leaped vp, stood, and walked, and entred with them into the Temple, walking and leaping, and praising God.

9 And all the people saw him walke, and praising God,

10 And they knew him that it was hee which sate for the almes at the Beautifull gate of the Temple, and they were amased, and sore astonied at that which was come vnto him.

11 ¶ And as the creeple which was healed, held Peter and John, all the people ran amased vnto them in the porch which is called Salomons.

12 So when Peter saw it, hee answered vnto the people, Yee men of Israel, why marueile yee at this? or why looke yee so stedfastly on vs, as though by our owne e power or godlinesse, we had made this man goe?

13 The God of Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, * the God of our Fathers hath glorified his Sonne Iesus, whom yee betrayed, and denied in the presence of Pilate, when hee had iudged him to bee deliuered.

14 * But yee denied the Holy one and the Iust, and desired a f murtherer to be giuen you,

16 And his g Name hath made this man sound, whom yee see, and knowe, through faith in * his ‖ Name: and the faith which is by him, hath giuen to him this disposition of his whole body in the presence of you all.

17 And now, brethren, I know ϸ through h ignorance yee did it, as did also your i gouernours.

18 But those things which God before had shewed by the mouth of all his Prophets, that Christ should suffer, he hath thus fulfilled.

19 Amend your liues therefore, and turne, that your sinnes may be put away, when the time of refreshing k shall come from the presence of the Lord.

20 And he shall send Iesus Christ, which before was preached vnto you.

24 Also all the Prophets from Samuel, and thencefoorth as many as haue spoken, haue likewise foretold of these dayes.

25 Ye are the o children of the Prophets, and of the couenant which God hath made vnto our fathers, saying to Abraham, * Euen in thy seed shall all the p kinreds of the earth be q blessed.

CHAP. IIII.

3 Peter and Iohn deliuered out of prison preach the Gospel boldly. 10 They confesse plainly the Name of Christ. 16 They are cõmanded to preach no more in that Name. 24 They pray for the good successe of the Gospel. 32 The increase, vnity, and charity of the Church.

AND as they spake vnto the people, the Priests and the a captaine of the Temple, and the Sadducees came vpon them,

2 Taking it grieuously that they taught the people, and preached in Iesus Name the b resurrection from the dead.

3 And they laid hands on them, and put them in hold vntill the next day: for it was now euentide.

4 Howbeit, many of them which heard the word, beleeued, & the number of the men was about c fiue thousand.

5 ¶ And it came to passe on the morow, that their rulers and Elders, and Scribes, were gathered together at Ierusalem,

6 And Annas the chiefe Priest, & Caiaphas, and Iohn, & Alexander, and as many as were of the kinred of the hie Priests.

7 And when they had set them before them, they asked, By what power, or d in what Name haue ye done this?

8 Then Peter full of the e holy Ghost, sayd vnto them, Ye rulers of the people, and Elders of Israel,

9 Forasmuch as wee this day are examined of the f good deede done to the impotent man, to wit, by what meanes he is made whole,

10 Be it knowen vnto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the Name of Iesus Christ of Nazaret, whom ye haue crucified, whom God raised againe from the dead, euen by him doeth this man stand here before you whole.

11 * This is the stone cast aside of you g builders, which is become the head of the h corner.

12 Neither is there saluation in any other: for among men there is giuen none other name i vnder heauen, whereby we must be saued.

13 Now when they saw the boldnesse of Peter and Iohn, and vnderstood that they were vnlearned men, & without knowledge, they marueiled, and knew them, that they had bene with Iesus:

14 And beholding also the man which was healed standing with them, they had nothing to say against it.

15 Then they commanded them to go aside out of the Councell, and k conferred among themselues, 16 Saying, What shall wee doe to these men? For surely a manifest signe is done by them, and it is openly knowen to all them that dwell in Ierusalem: and we cannot denie it.

17 But that it bee noysed no further among the people, let vs threaten and charge them, that they speake hencefoorth to no man in this l Name.

18 So they called them, and commanded them, that in m no wise they should speake or teach in the name of Iesus.

19 But Peter and Iohn answered vnto them, and sayd, Whether it be right in the sight of God, to obey you rather then God, iudge yee.

20 For we cannot but speake the things which we haue n seene and heard.

21 So they o threatned them, & let them goe, and found nothing how to punish them, because of the people: for all men praised God for that which was done.

22 For the man was aboue fourtie yeere olde, on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.

23 Then alsoone as they were let goe, they came to their p fellowes, and shewed all that the hie Priests and Elders had said vnto them.

24 And when they heard it, they lift vp their voices to God with one accord, & said, O Lord, thou art the God which hast made the heauen and the earth, the sea & all things that are in them.

25 Which q by the mouth of thy seruant Dauid hast sayde, * Why did the Gentiles rage, and the people imagine vaine things?

26 The kings of the earth assembled, and the rulers came together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

27 For r doubtles against thine holy sonne Iesus, whom thou hast anointed, both Herode and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and the people of Israel gathered themselues together, 28 To doe whatsoeuer thine s hand and thy t counsell had determined before to bee done.

29 And now, O Lord, behold their u threatnings, and v grant vnto thy seruaunts with all boldnesse to speake thy word, assembled together, and they were all z filled with the holy Ghost, & they spake the word of God a boldly.

32 And the multitude of them that beleeued, were of one heart, & of one b soule: neither any of them said, that any thing of that which he possessed, was his c owne, but they had all things * common.

33 And with great power gaue the Apostles witnesse of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and great grace was vpon them all.

34 Neither was there any among them that d lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands or houses, sold them, & brought the price of the things that were sold,

35 And laid it down at the Apostles feet, and it was distributed vnto euery man, e according as hee had need.

36 Also Joses, which was called of the Apostles, Barnabas (that is by interpretation, the son of Consolation) being a Leuite, and of the country of Cyprus,

CHAP. V.

5 The hypocrisie of Ananias & Sapphira is punished. 12 Miracles are done by the Apostles. 17 They are taken, but the Angel of God bringeth them out of prison. 29 Their bold confession before the Councill. 34 The counsel of Gamaliel. 40 The Apostles are beat, and reioyce in trouble.

BUt a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession,

2 And a kept away part of the price, his wife also being of counsell, and brought a certaine part, and laid it downe at the Apostles feet.

3 Then said Peter, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thine heart, that thou shouldest lie vnto the holy b Ghost, and keepe away part of the price of the possession?

4 Whiles it remained, c apperteined it not vnto thee? and after it was sold, was it not in thine owne d power? how is it that thou hast conceiued this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied vnto men, but vnto God.

5 Now when Ananias heard these words, he fell downe, and gaue vp the Ghost. Then great feare came on all them that heard these things.

6 And the yong men rose vp, and tooke him vp, and carried him out, and buried him.

7 And it e came to passe about the space of three houres after, that his wife came in, ignorant of that which was done.

8 And Peter said vnto her, Tell mee, sold ye the land for so much? And she sayd, Yea, for so much.

9 Then Peter said vnto her, Why haue yee agreed together, to f tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which haue buried thine husband, are at the doore, and shall carry thee out.

10 Then shee fell downe straightway at his feet, & yeelded vp the Ghost: & the yong men came in, and found her dead, & carried her out, and buried her by her husband.

11 And great feare came on all ỹ Church, and on as many as heard these things.

12 Thus by the handes of the Apostles, were many signes and wonders shewed among the people (and they were all with one accord in Solomons porch.

13 And of the other g durst no man ioyne himselfe to them: neuertheless the people h magnified them.

14 Also the number of them that beleeued in the Lord, both of men and women, grew more and more.)

15 Insomuch that they brought the sicke into the streets, and laid them on beds, and couches, that at the least way the shadow of Peter, when hee came by, might shadow some of them.

16 There came also a multitude out of the cities round about vnto Jerusalem, bringing sicke folkes, and them which were vexed with vncleane spirits, who were all healed.

17 ¶ Then the chiefe Priest rose vp, and all they that were with him (which was the sect of the i Sadducees) and were full of k indignation, 18 And layd handes on the Apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19 But the Angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doores, and brought them forth, and said, 20 Goe your way and stand in the Temple, and speake to the people all the wordes l of this life.

21 So when they heard it, they entred into the Temple early in the morning, and taught. And the chiefe Priest came, and they that were with him, and called the Councill together, and all the Elders of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison, to cause them to be brought.

22 But when the officers came, & found them not in the prison, they returned and told it,

23 Saying, Certainely wee found the prison shut as sure as was possible, and the keepers m standing without before ỹ doores: but when we had opened, we found no man within.

24 Then when the chiefe Priest, and the captaine of the Temple, and the hie Priests heard these things, they doubted of them, whereunto this would grow.

25 Then came one & shewed them, saying, Behold, the men that ye put in prison, are standing in the Temple, and teach the people.

26 Then went the captaine with the officers, and brought them without violence (for they feared the people, least they should haue beene stoned.)

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the Councill, and the chiefe Priest asked them, a Which signified their sacriledge, distrust, and hypocrisie.

28 Say-

b Who mooued thy heart to sell thy possession? wheras thou turnest part to another vse, as if God did not see thy dissimulation.
c His sinne therefore was so much greater in that he committed it willingly.
d Then no man was compelled to sell his possessions, nor to put his money to the common vse.
e Because ỹ God so disposed it.
f And to mocke him as if hee should not haue knowen your crafty fetch? which declareth that when men do any thing of an euill cõscience, they do not only pronounce the sentence of damnation vpon themselues, but also prouoke the wrath of God, because they doe proue, as it were purposely, whether God be righteous and Almightie.

g Because of their own euill consciences, which made them to tremble: for they that were not assured of Gods mercies in Christ, were astonished at these his strange iudgements.
h That is, they gaue them great praise.
i Which then were the chiefe among them.
k They were full of blind zeale, emulation and iealousie, in defence of their superstition.
l That is, of the liuely doctrine, wherby the way to life is declared.
m So that there was no fraud nor deceit, nor negligence: but it liuely setteth foorth the power of God and his prouidence for his.

28 Saying, Did not we straightly command you, that yee should not teach in this Name? and behold, yee haue filled [n] Ierusalem with your doctrine, and ye would bring this mans [o] blood vpon vs.

29 Then Peter and the Apostles answered, and sayd, We ought rather to obey God then [p] men.

30 The * God of our fathers hath raysed vp Iesus, whom ye slew, and hanged on a tree.

31 Him hath God lift vp with his right hand, to be a prince and a [q] Sauiour, to giue repentance to Israel, and forgiuenesse of sinnes.

32 And we are his witnesses concerning these things which we say: yea, and the holy Ghost, whom God hath giuen to them that obey [r] him.

33 Now when they heard it, they brast for anger, and consulted to slay them.

34 Then stood there vp in the Council a certaine Pharise named Gamaliel, a doctor of the law, honoured of all the people, and commanded to put the Apostles forth a litle space, 35 And said vnto them, Men of Israel, take heed to your selues, what ye intend to do touching these men.

36 For before these times, rose vp [s] Theudas boasting himselfe, to whom resorted a number of men, about a foure hundreth, who was slaine: and they all which obeyed him, were scattered and brought to nought.

37 After this man, rose vp [t] Iudas of Galile, in the dayes of the tribute, and drew away much people after him: hee also perished, and all that obeyed him, were scattered abroad.

38 And now I say vnto you, Refraine your selues from these men, & let them alone: for if this counsell, or this worke be of men, it will come to nought:

39 But if it be of [u] God, yee cannot destroy it, lest yee be found euen fighters against God.

40 And to him they agreed, and called the Apostles: and when they had beaten them, they commaunded that they should not speake in the name of Iesus, and let them goe.

41 So they departed from the Councel, reioycing that they were counted worthy to suffer rebuke for his Name.

42 And dayly in the Temple, and from house to house they ceased not to teach and preach Iesus Christ.

n He accuseth them of rebellion and sedition.

CHAP. VI.

3 Seuen Deacons are ordeined in the Church. 8 The graces and miracles of Steuen whom they accused falsely.

AND in those dayes, as the number of the disciples grew, there arose a murmuring of the [a] Grecians towards ỹ Hebrewes, because their widowes were [b] neglected in the dayly ministring.

2 Then the twelue called the multitude of the Disciples together, and sayd, It is not meet that wee should leaue the word of God to serue the [c] tables.

3 Wherefore brethren, looke ye out among you seuen men of honest report, and full of the holy Ghost, and of wisedome, which wee may appoint to this businesse.

4 And we will giue our selues continually to prayer, and to the ministration of the word.

5 And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Steuen a man full of [d] faith and of the holy Ghost, and * Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a [e] Proselyte of Antiochia,

7 And the word of God increased, & the number of the disciples was multiplied in Ierusalem greatly, and a great company of the Priests were obedient to the [g] faith.

8 ¶ Now Steuen full of faith and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people.

9 Then there arose certaine of the [h] Synagogue, which are called Libertines, and Cyrenians, and of Alexandria, and of them of Cilicia, and of Asia, and disputed with Steuen.

10 But they were not able to resist the wisedome, and the Spirit by the which hee spake.

11 Then they [i] suborned men, which sayd, Wee haue heard him speake blasphemous words against Moses, and God.

12 Thus they mooued the people and the Elders, and the Scribes: and running vpon him, caught him, and brought him to the Councill, 13 And set foorth false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speake blasphemous words against this holy place, and the Law.

14 For we haue heard him say, that [k] this Iesus of Nazaret shall destroy this place, and shal change the ordinances, which Moses gaue vs.

15 And as all that sate in the Councill, looked stedfastly on him, they saw his face as it had beene the [l] face of an Angel.

Gene.12.1.

3 *And said vnto him, Come out of thy countrey, and from thy kinred, and come into the land which I shall shew thee.

4 Then came hee out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charran. And after that his father was dead, God brought him from thence into this land, wherein yee now dwell, Gene.15.13. d Beginning to recken the yeeres from the time that Isaac was borne.

6 But God spake thus, that his *seed should be a sojourner in a strange land, and that they should keep it in bondage, and entreat it euill d foure hundreth yeeres.

20 *The same time was Moses borne, and was acceptable vnto God, which was nourished vp in his fathers house three moneths.

21 And when hee was cast out, Pharaos daughter tooke him vp, and nourished him for her owne sonne.

22 And Moses was learned in all the wisedome of the Egyptians, and was mighty in words and in deedes.

23 Now when he was full forty yeere old, it came into his heart to visite his brethren the children of Israel.

Exod.2.11. 24 *And when he saw one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and auenged his quarel that had the harme done to him, and smote the Egyptian.

Exod.2.13. 26 *And the next day hee shewed himselfe vnto them as they stroue, and would haue set them at one againe, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren: why do yee wrong one to another?

27 But he that did his neighbour wrong, thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a prince, and a Iudge ouer vs?

28 Wilt thou kill me, as thou didst the Egyptian yesterday?

Exod.3.2. k This fire represented the fornace of affliction, wherein the people of God were.

29 Then fled Moses at that saying, and was a stranger in ỳ land of Madian, where he begate two sonnes.

30 And when forty yeeres were expired, there appeared to him in the *wildernes of mount Sina, an Angel of the Lord in a flame k of fire, in a bush.

l Seeing this Angel called himselfe God, it declareth that he was Christ the Mediatour, who is the eternall God.

34 I haue seene, I haue seene the affliction of my people, which is in Egypt, and I haue heard their groning, & am come down to deliuer them: and now come, and I will send thee into Egypt.

Exod.19.2. o Moses was the Angels or Christs minister, and a guide to the fathers.

35 This Moses whom they forsooke, saying, Who made thee a prince, and a Iudge? the same God sent for a prince, and a deliuerer by the hand of the Angel, which appeared to him in the bush.

brought vs out of the land of Egypt.

41 And they made a calfe in those dayes, and offered sacrifice vnto the idole, and reioyced in the workes of their owne hands.

44 Our fathers had the Tabernacle of [x] witnesse in the wildernesse, as hee had appoynted, speaking vnto *Moses, that hee should make it according to the fashion that he had seene.

45 Which Tabernacle also our fathers receiued, and brought in with *Iesus into the possession of the Gentiles, which God draue out before our fathers, vnto the dayes of Dauid:

57 Then they gaue a shoute with a loude voice and stopped their eares, and [e] ran vpon him all at once, 58 And cast him out of the city, and stoned him: and the *witnesses layde downe their clothes at a young mans feete, named Saul.

59 And they stoned Steuen, who called on God, and sayd, Lord Iesus receiue my spirit.

60 And hee kneeled downe, and cryed with a loud voyce, *Lord, lay not this sinne to their charge. And when he had thus spoken, he slept.

AND Saul consented to his death, and at that time there was a great persecution against the Church which was at Ierusalem, and they were al scattered abroad through the regions of Iudea, and of Samaria, except the Apostles.

2 Then certaine men fearing God, [a] caried Steuen among them, to be buried, and made great [b] lamentation for him.

3 But Saul made hauock of the Church, and entred into euery house, and drew out both men and women, and put them into prison.

4 Therefore they that were scattered abroad, went to and fro preaching the word.

5 ¶ Then came Philip into the city [c] of Samaria, and preached Christ vnto them.

6 And the people gaue heede vnto those things which Philip spake, with one accord, hearing, and seeing the miracles which he did.

7 For vncleane spirits crying with a loud voyce, came out of many that were possessed of them: and many taken with palsies, and that halted, were healed.

8 And there was great ioy in that city.

9 And there was before in the city a certaine man called Simon, which vsed witchcraft, and bewitched the people of Samaria, saying, That hee himselfe was some great man.

10 To whome they [d] gaue heed from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great [e] power of God.

11 And they gaue heed vnto him, because that of long time hee had bewitched them with sorceries.

12 But assoone as they beleeued Philip, which preached the things that concerned the kingdome of God, and the Name of Iesus Christ, they were baptized both men and women.

13 Then Simon himselfe [f] beleeued also and was baptized, & continued with Philip, and wondred, when hee saw the signes and great miracles which were done.

14 ¶ Now when the Apostles which were at Ierusalem, heard say, that Samaria had receiued the word of God, they sent vnto them Peter and John.

15 Which when they were come downe, prayed for them, that they might receiue the [g] holy Ghost.

16 (For as yet he was come downe on none of them, but they were baptized [h] onely in the Name of the Lord Iesus.)

17 Then layd they their hands on them, and they receiued the holy Ghost.

18 And when Simon saw that through laying on of the Apostles handes, the holy ghost was giuen, he offred them money, 19 Saying, Giue me also this power, that on whomsoeuer I lay the handes, he may receiue the holy Ghost.

20 Then said Peter vnto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou thinkest that the gift of God may bee obtained with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor [i] fellowship in this busines: for thine heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 [k] Repent therefore of this thy wickednesse, and pray God, that if it bee [l] possible, the thought of thine heart may be forgiuen thee.

23 For I see that thou art [m] in the gall of * bitternesse, and in the bond of iniquity.

24 Then answered Simon, & said, Pray yee to the Lord for mee, that none of these things which ye haue spoken, come vpon me.

25 ¶ So they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Ierusalem, and preached the Gospel in many townes of the Samaritanes.

26 Then the Angel of the Lord spake vnto Philip, saying, Arise, and goe toward the South vnto the way that goeth down from Ierusalem vnto Gaza, which is [n] waste.

27 And he arose, & went on: and behold, a certaine [o] Eunuch of Ethiopia, Candaces the Queene of the Ethiopians chiefe gouernour, who had the rule of al her treasure, and came to Ierusalem to worship:

28 And as he returned sitting in his charet, he read Esaias the Prophet.

29 Then the Spirit said vnto Philip, Go neere, and ioyne thy selfe to yonder charet.

30 And Philip ran thither, & heard him read the Prophet Esaias, and said, But vnderstandest thou what thou readest?

31 And he sayd, How can I, except I had a guide? and hee desired Philip that hee would come vp and sit with him.

32 Nowe the place of the Scripture which he read, was this, * He was led as a sheepe to the slaughter: and like a lambe dumbe before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth.

33 [p] In his humilitie his [q] iudgement hath beene exalted: but who shall declare [r] his generation? for his life is taken from the [s] earth.

34 Then the Eunuch answered Philip, and sayd, I pray thee of whom speaketh the Prophet this? of himselfe, or of some other man?

35 Then Philip [t] opened his mouth, and began at the same Scripture, and preached vnto him Iesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came vnto a certain water, and the Eunuch said, See, here is water: what doeth let mee to be baptized?

37 And Philip sayde vnto him, If thou beleeuest with [u] all thine heart, thou mayest. Then he answered and said, I beleeue that Iesus Christ is the Sonne of God.

38 Then he commaunded the charet to stand still: and they went downe both into the water, both Philip, and the Eunuch, and he baptized him.

39 And assoone as they were come vp out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the Eunuch [x] saw him no more: so he went on his way reioycing.

40 But Philip [y] was found at [z] Azotus, and hee walked to and fro preaching in all the cities, till he came to Cesarea.

2 And desired of him letters to Damascus to the Synagogues, that if he found any that were of that [b] way (eyther men or women) hee might bring them bound vnto Ierusalem.

3 Now as he iourneied, it came to passe, that as hee was come neere to Damascus, * suddenly there shined round about him a light from heauen.

4 And hee fell to the earth, and heard a voyce, saying to him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord sayd, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest: it is hard for thee to kicke against [c] prickes.

6 He then both trembling and astonied, said, Lord, what wilt thou that I doe? And the Lord sayd vnto him, Arise, and goe into the citie, and it shall be told thee what thou shalt doe.

7 The men also which iourneyed with him, stood amazed, hearing [d] his voyce, but [e] seeing no man.

8 And Saul arose from the ground, and opened his eyes, but [f] saw no man. Then led they him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus, 9 Where hee was three dayes without sight, and neither [g] ate nor dranke.

10 And there was a certaine disciple at Damascus named Ananias, and to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And hee said, Behold, I am here, Lord.

11 Then the Lord sayd vnto him, Arise, and goe into the streete which is called Streight, and seeke in the house of Iudas after one called Saul of Tarsus: for behold, hold, he prayeth.

12 (And he saw in a vision a man named Ananias comming in to him, and putting his hands on him, that he might receiue his sight.)

13 Then Ananias answered, Lorde, I haue heard by many of this man, how much euill he hath done to thy Saints at Ierusalem.

14 Moreouer here hee hath authority of the high Priests, to binde all that call on thy Name.

15 Then the Lord said vnto him, Go thy way: for he is a [b] chosen vessell vnto mee, to [i] beare my Name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel.

16 For I wil shew him how many things he must suffer for my Names sake.

17 Then Ananias went his way, and entred into the house, and put his handes on him, and said, Brother Saul, the Lord hath sent me (euen Iesus that appeared vnto thee in the way as thou camest) that thou mightest receiue thy sight and bee filled with the holy Ghost.

18 And immediatly there fell from his eyes as it had bene scales, and suddenly he receiued sight, and arose, and was baptized, 19 And receiued meate, and was strengthened. So was Saul certaine daies with the disciples which were at Damascus.

20 And straightway he preached Christ in the Synagogues, that he was the Sonne of God.

21 So that all that heard him, were amazed, and sayd, Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this Name in Ierusalem, and came hither for that intent, that hee should bring them bound vnto the high Priests?

22 But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Iewes which dwelt at Damascus, [k] confirming that this was the Christ.

23 And after [l] that many dayes were fulfilled, the Iewes tooke counsell together to kill him.

24 But their laying awayt was knowen of Saul: now they * [m] watched the gates day and night, that they might kill him.

25 Then the disciples tooke him by night, and put him through the wall, and let him downe in a basket.

26 And when Saul was come to Ierusalem, hee assayed to ioyne himselfe with the disciples: but they were all afrayd of him, and beleeued not that he was a disciple.

27 But Barnabas tooke him, & brought him to the Apostles, and declared to them, how hee had seene the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken vnto him, & how hee had spoken boldely at Damascus in the Name of Iesus.

28 And he ‡ was conuersant with [n] them at Ierusalem, 29 And spake boldely [o] in the Name of the Lord Iesus, and spake and disputed with the [p] Grecians: but they went about to slay him.

30 But when the brethren knew it, they brought him to Cesarea, and sent him forth to [q] Tarsus.

31 Then had the Churches rest throughout all Iudea, and Galile, and Samaria, & were edified, and walked in the feare of the Lord, and were multiplied by the comfort of the holy Ghost.

32 And it came to passe, as Peter walked throughout all quarters, hee came also to the Saints which dwelt at Lydda, 33 And there he found a certaine man named Aeneas, which had kept his bed eight yeeres, and was sicke of the palsie.

34 Then sayd Peter vnto him, Aeneas, Iesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise and ‖ make vp thy bed. And hee arose immediately.

35 And [r] all that dwelt at Lydda, [s] and [t] Saron saw him, and turned to the Lord.

36 There was also at Ioppa, a certayne woman a disciple named Tabitha (which by interpretation is called [u] Dorcas) shee was ‖ full of good works and almes which shee did.

37 And it came to passe in those dayes, that she was sicke and died: and when they had [v] washed her, they layd her in an vpper chamber.

38 Now forasmuch as Lydda was neere to Ioppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent vnto him two men, desiring that hee would not delay to come vnto them.

39 Then Peter arose & came with them: and when hee was come, they brought him into the vpper chamber, where all the widowes stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats & garments which Dorcas made, while she was with them.

40 But Peter put them all forth, and kneeled downe, and prayed, and turned him to the body, and sayd, Tabitha, Arise. And shee opened her eyes, and when she saw Peter, sate vp.

41 Then hee gaue her the hand and lift her vp, and called the [x] Saints & widowes, and restored her aliue.

42 And it was knowen throughout all Ioppa, and many beleeued in the Lord.

43 And it came to passe that hee tarried many dayes in Ioppa with one Simon a ‖ tanner.

feaid, and sayd, What is it, Lord? And hee said vnto him, Thy prayers & thine almes are come [b] vp into remembrance before God.

5 Nowe therefore send men to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter.

6 He lodgeth with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side: [†] he shall tell thee what thou oughtest to doe.

7 And when the Angel which spake vnto Cornelius, was departed, hee called two of his seruants, and a souldier that feared God, one of them that waited on him,

8 And tolde them all things, and sent them to Ioppa.

9 On the morrow as they went on their iourney, and drew nere vnto the citie, Peter went vp vpon the house to pray, about the [c] sixt houre.

10 Then waxed he an hungred, & would haue eaten: but while they made some thing ready, he fell into a trance.

11 And he saw heauen opened, and a certaine vessell come downe vnto him, as it had been a great sheete, knit at the foure corners, and was let downe to the earth.

12 Wherein were [d] all manner of foure footed beasts of the earth, and wilde beasts, and creeping things, & foules of the heauen.

13 And there came a voyce to him, Arise, Peter: kill, and eate.

14 But Peter sayd, Not so, Lord: for I haue neuer eaten any thing that is ‖ polluted or vncleane.

15 And the voice spake vnto him againe the second time, The things that God hath [e] purified, [f] pollute thou not.

16 This was so done thrise: and the vessell was drawen vp againe into heauen.

17 ¶ Now while Peter doubted in himselfe what this vision which hee had seene, meant, beholde, the men which were sent from Cornelius, had enquired for Simons house, and stood at the gate, 18 And called, and asked whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 And while Peter thought on the vision, the spirit said vnto him, Behold, three men seeke thee.

20 Arise therefore, and get thee downe, and goe with them, and [g] doubt nothing: for I haue sent them.

21 ¶ Then Peter went down to the men which were sent vnto him from Cornelius, and sayd, Behold, I am hee whom ye seeke: what is the cause wherefore ye are come?

22 And they said, Cornelius the captain, a iust man, and one that feareth God, and of good report among all the nation of the Iewes, was warned from heauen by an holy Angel, to send for thee into his house, and to heare thy words.

23 Then called ‖ he them in, and lodged them, and the next day Peter went forth with them, and certaine brethren from Ioppa accompanied him.

24 ¶ And the day after, they entred into Cesarea. Now Cornelius waited for them, and had called together his kinsemen, and speciall friends.

25 And it came to passe, as Peter came in, that Cornelius met him, and fell downe at his feete, and [h] worshipped him.

26 But Peter tooke him vp, saying, Stand vp: for euen I my selfe am a man.

27 And as he talked with him, hee came in, and found many that were come together.

28 And he sayd vnto them, Ye know that it is an vnlawfull thing for a man that is a Iewe, to company or come vnto one of an other nation: but God hath shewed me, that I should not call any man ‖ polluted, or vncleane.

29 Therefore came I vnto you without saying nay, when I was sent for. I aske therefore, for what intent haue yee sent for mee?

30 Then Cornelius sayd, Foure dayes agoe, about this houre, I fasted, and at the ninth houre I prayed in mine house, and behold, a man stood before me in bright clothing, 31 And sayde, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine almes are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

32 Send therefore to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter (hee is lodged in the house of Simon a tanner by the sea side) who when hee commeth, shall speake vnto thee.

33 Then sent I for thee immediatly, and thou hast well done to come. Now therefore are wee all here present before God, to heare all things that are commanded thee of God.

34 Then Peter opened his mouth, and sayd, Of a trueth I perceiue, that * God is no accepter of persons.

NOw the Apostles and the brethren that were in Iudea, heard that the Gentiles had also receiued the word of God.

2 And when Peter was come vp to Ierusalem, they of the circumcision [a] contended against him,

3 Saying, Thou wentest in to men vncircumcised, and hast eaten with them.

4 Then Peter began, and expounded the thing in order to [b] them, saying,

5 I was in the citie of Ioppa, praying, and in a trance I saw this vision, A certaine vessel comming downe as it had been a great sheete, let downe from heauen by the foure corners, and it came to me.

6 Toward the which, when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and sawe foure footed beasts of the earth, and wilde beasts, and creeping things, and foules of the heauen.

7 Also I heard a voyce saying vnto me, Arise, Peter: slay and eate.

8 And I sayd, God forbid, Lord: for nothing polluted or vncleane hath at any time entred into my mouth.

9 But the voyce answered me the second time from heauen, The things that God hath purified, pollute thou not.

10 And this was done three times, and all were taken vp againe into heauen.

11 Then behold, immediatly there were three men alreadie come vnto the house where I was, sent from Cesarea vnto me.

12 And the Spirit sayd vnto mee, that I should goe with them without doubting: moreouer these fiue brethren came with me, and we entred into the mans house.

13 And he shewed vs how he had seene an Angel in his house, which stood and said to him, Send men to Ioppa, and call for Simon whose surname is Peter.

14 Hee shall speake wordes vnto thee, whereby both thou and al thine house shalbe saued.

18 When they heard these things, [d] they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then hath God also to the Gentiles graunted [e] repentance vnto life.

19 ¶ And they which were [*] scattered abroad because of the ‖ affliction that rose about Steuen, walked throughout till they came vnto Phenice, and Cyprus, and Antiochia, preaching the word to no man, but vnto the Iewes onely.

20 Now some of them were men of Cyprus and of Cyrene, which when they were come into Antiochia, spake vnto the [f] Grecians, and preached the Lord Iesus.

21 And the [g] hand of the Lord was with them, so that a great number beleeued and turned vnto the Lord.

22 Then tidings of these things came vnto the eares of the Church, which was in Ierusalem, and they sent forth Barnabas that he should goe vnto [h] Antiochia.

23 Who when he was come, and had seen the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted all, that with purpose of heart they would ‖ cleaue vnto the Lord.

27 In those dayes also came Prophets from Ierusalem vnto Antiochia.

28 And there stood vp one of them named Agabus, and signified by the [k] spirite, that there should bee great famine throughout all the world, which also came to passe vnder Claudius Cesar.

2 And hee killed James the [b] brother of John with the sword.

3 And when hee saw that it [c] pleased the Iewes, hee proceeded further to take Peter also (then were the dayes of vnleauened bread.)

4 And when he had caught him, he put him in prison, and deliuered him to [d] foure quaternions of souldiers to bee kept, intending after the Passouer to bring him forth to the people.

5 So Peter was kept in prison, but earnest prayer was made of the Church vnto God for him.

6 And when Herod would haue brought him out vnto the people, the same night slept Peter betweene two souldiers, bound with two chaines, & the keepers before the doore, kept the prison.

7 *And behold, the Angel of the Lord came vpon them, and a light shined in the house, and hee smote Peter on the side, and raised him vp, saying, Arise quickly. And his chaines fell off from his hands.

8 And the Angel said vnto him, Gird thy selfe, and binde on thy [e] sandales. And so hee did. Then hee said vnto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me.

9 So Peter came out and followed him, and knew not that it was true, which was done by the Angel, but thought he had seene a vision.

10 Now when they were past the first and the second watch, they came vnto the yron gate that leadeth vnto the citie, which opened to them by it owne accord, and they went out, and passed through one streete, and by and by the Angel departed from him.

11 ¶ And when Peter was come to himselfe, hee said, Now I know for a trueth that the Lord hath sent his Angel, and hath deliuered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the [f] waiting for of the people of the Iewes.

12 And as he considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of John, whose surname was Marke, where many were gathered together, and prayed.

13 And when Peter knocked at the entry doore, a maide came forth to hearken, named Rhode.

14 But when she knew Peters voice, she opened not the entrie doore for gladnesse, but ran in, and told how Peter stood before the entrie.

15 But they sayde vnto her, Thou art madde. Yet shee affirmed it constantly, that it was so. Then said they, It is his [g] Angel.

16 But Peter continued knocking, and when they had opened it, and saw him, they were astonied.

17 And hee beckened vnto them with the hand to hold their peace, and told them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And hee said, Goe shewe these things vnto James and to the brethren: and he departed and went into [h] another place.

18 ¶ Now assoone as it was day, there was no small trouble among the souldiers, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the keepers and commanded them to be led to bee punished. And hee went downe from Iudea to Cesarea, and there abode.

20 Then Herod intended to make warre against them of Tyrus and Sidon, but they came all with one accord vnto him, and perswaded Blastus the kings chamberlain, and they desired peace, because their countrey was nourished by the kings land.

21 And vpon a day appointed, Herod arayed himselfe in royall apparell, and sate on the iudgement seate, and made an oration vnto them.

22 And the people gaue a shoute, saying, The voice of God, and not of man.

23 But immediatly the Angel of the Lord smote him, because he [k] gaue not glorie vnto God, so that he was eaten [l] of wormes, and gaue vp the Ghost.

24 And the word of God [m] grewe, and multiplied.

12 Then the Deputie when he saw what was done, beleeued, and was astonied at the doctrine of the Lord.

13 Now when Paul and they that were with him, were departed by ship from Paphus, they came to Perga, a citie of Pamphylia: then Iohn departed from them, and returned to Ierusalem.

14 But when they departed from Perga, they came to [d] Antiochia a citie of Pisidia, and went into the Synagogue on the Sabbath day, and sate downe.

15 And after the lecture of the Law and Prophets, the rulers of the Synagogue sent vnto them, saying, Yee men and brethren, if yee haue any word of [e] exhortation for the people, say on.

16 Then Paul stoode vp and beckened with the hand, and said, Men of Israel, and yee that feare God, hearken.

28 And though they found no cause of death in him, * yet desired they Pilate to kill him.

29 And when they had [m] fulfilled all things that were written of him, they tooke him downe from the tree, and put him in a sepulchre.

30 But God * raised him vp from the dead.

31 And hee was seene many dayes of them, which came vp with him from Galile to Ierusalem, which are his witnesses vnto the people.

32 And wee declare vnto you that touching the promise made vnto the fathers, 33 God hath fulfilled it vnto vs their children, in that hee [n] raised vp Iesus, euen as it is written in the second Psalme, * Thou art my Sonne: this day haue I begotten thee.

34 Now as concerning that hee raised him vp from the dead, no more to returne to the graue, he hath said thus, * I will giue you the [o] holy things of Dauid which are faithfull.

35 Wherefore hee saith also in another place, * Thou wilt not suffer thine holy one to see corruption.

44 And the next Sabbath day came almost the whole citie together, to heare the word of God.

45 But when the Iewes saw the people, they were full of r enuie, and spake against those things, which were spoken of Paul, contrarying them, and railing on them.

46 Then Paul and Barnabas spake boldly, and said, * It was necessarie that the word of God should first haue beene spoken vnto you: but seeing ye put it from you, and iudge your selues vnworthy of t euerlasting life, loe, we turne to the Gentiles.

47 For so hath the Lord commanded vs, saying, * I haue made thee a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldest bee the saluation vnto the end of the world.

48 And when the Gentiles heard it, they were glad, & glorified the word of the Lord: and as many as were t ordeined vnto eternall life, beleeued.

49 Thus the word of the Lord was published throughout the whole countrey.

50 But the Iewes stirred certaine u deuout and honourable women, and the chiefe men of the citie, and raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coastes.

51 But they * shooke off the dust of their feete against them, and came vnto Iconium.

52 And the disciples were filled with ioy, and with the holy Ghost.

CHAP. XIIII.

3 God giueth successe to his word. 6 Paul and Barnabas preach at Iconium and are persecuted. 13 At Lystra they would doe sacrifice to Barnabas and Paul, which refuse it, and exhort the people to worship the true God. 19 Paul is stoned. 22 They confirme the disciples in faith and patience, 23 Appoint ministers, 26 And passing through many places, make report of their diligence at Antiochia.

AND it came to passe in Iconium, that they went both together into the Synagogue of the Iewes, and so spake, that a great multitude both of the Iewes and of the Grecians beleeued.

2 But the * vnbeleeuing Iewes stirred vp, and corrupted the mindes of the Gentiles against the brethren.

3 So therefore they abode there a long time, and spake boldly in the Lord, which gaue testimonie vnto the word of his grace, and caused signes and wonders to bee done by their hands.

4 But the people of the citie were diuided: and some were with the Iewes, and some with the Apostles.

5 And when there was an assault made both of the Gentiles, and of the Iewes with their rulers, to doe them violence, and to stone them,

6 They were ware of it, and fled vnto Lystra, and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and vnto the region round about,

7 And there were preaching the Gospel.

8 ¶ Now there sate a certaine man at Lystra, impotent in his feete, which was a creeple from his mothers wombe, who had neuer walked.

9 He heard Paul speake: who beholding him, and perceiuing that he had faith to bee healed, 10 Said with a lowde voyce, † Stand vpright on thy feete. And he leaped vp, and walked.

11 Then when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted vp their voyces, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, Gods are come downe to vs in the likenesse of men.

12 And they called Barnabas, Iupiter, and Paul, Mercurius, because hee was the chiefe speaker.

13 Then Iupiters Priest, which was before their citie, brought buls with b garlands vnto the c gates, and would haue sacrificed with the people.

14 But when the Apostles Barnabas and Paul heard it, they d rent their clothes, and ranne in among the people, crying, 15 And saying, O men, why doe yee these things? Wee are euen men e subiect to the like passions that ye be, and preach vnto you, that yee should turne from these vaine idoles vnto the liuing God, * which made heauen and earth, and the sea, and all things that in them are.

16 Who in times past * suffered all the Gentiles to walke in their owne f wayes.

17 Neuerthelesse, hee left not himselfe without g witnesse, in that hee did good, and gaue vs raine from heauen, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and h gladnesse.

18 And speaking these things, scarse refrained they the people, that they had not sacrificed vnto them †.

19 Then there came certaine Iewes from Antiochia and Iconium, which when they had perswaded the people, ‖ * stoned Paul, and drew him out of the citie, supposing hee has beene dead.

20 Howbeit, as the disciples stood round about him, he arose vp, and came into the citie, and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

21 And after they had preached to that citie, and had taught many, they returned to Lystra, and to Iconium, and to Antiochia, 22 Confirming the disciples hearts, and exhorting them to continue in the faith, affirming that wee must through many afflictions enter into the kingdome of God.

23 And when they had ordeined them Elders by i election in euery Church, and prayed, and fasted, they commended them to the Lord in whom they beleeued.

24 Thus they went throughout Pisidia, and came to Pamphylia.

25 And when they had preached the word in Perga, they came downe to Attalia, 26 And thence sailed to Antiochia, * from whence they had bene commended vnto the grace of God, to the worke which they had fulfilled.

27 And when they were come, and had gathered the Church together, they rehearsed all the things that God had done k by them, and how hee had opened the doore of faith vnto the Gentiles.

a Which would not obey the doctrine, neither suffer themselues to be perswaded to beleeue the trueth and to imbrace Christ.

† In so much that all the people were mooued at the doctrine. So both Paul and Barnabas remained at Lystra.

† I say to thee in the Name of the Lord Iesus Christ.

b That is, trimmed with flowres and garlands.

c He meaneth, before the gates of the house where the Apostles lodged: for the Temple was without ye towne, and therefore the Priest brought the sacrifice (as he thought) to the gods themselues.

† But that they should goe euery man home. And whiles they taried and taught, there came, &c.

† And disputing boldly, perswaded the people to forsake them: for, said they, they say nothing true, but lie in all things. 2 Cor. 11.25.

i The word signifieth to elect by putting vp the hands, which declareth that ministers were not made without the consent of the people. Chap. 13.1, 4.

23 So there they abode a long time with the disciples.

CHAP. XV.

1 Variance about circumcision. 22 The Apostles send their determination to the Churches. 35 Paul and Barnabas preach at Antiochia, 39 And separate companie because of Iohn Marke.

a As Cerinthus and others: so writeth Epiphanius against the Cerinthians: also the fame of the place whence they came, did much preuaile to perswade abroad. Gal 5.1,2.

THen came downe a certaine from Iudea, and taught the brethren, saying, * Except ye be circumcised after the maner of Moles, ye cannot be saued.

2 And when there was great dissention and disputation by Paul and Barnabas against them, they ordeined that Paul and Barnabas, & certaine other of them should goe vp to Ierusalem vnto the Apostles and Elders about this question.

3 Thus being sent forth by the Church, they passed through Phenice, and Samaria, declaring the conuersion of the Gentiles: and they brought great ioy vnto all the brethren.

4 And when they were come to Ierusalem, they were received of the Church, and of the Apostles and Elders, and they declared what things God had done by them.

b Which were factious and giuen to dissention.

5 But said they, certaine of the sect of the b Pharisees, which did beleeue, rose vp, saying, that it was needfull to circumcise them, and to commaund them to keepe the Law of Moles.

6 Then the Apostles and Elders came together to looke to this matter.

Chap. 10.20. and 11.13.

7 And when there had beene great disputation, Peter rose vp, and sayde vnto them, * Yee men and brethren, yee knowe that a good while agoe, among vs God chose out me, that the Gentiles by my mouth should heare the word of the Gospel, and beleeue.

8 And God which knoweth the hearts, bare them witnesse, in giuing vnto them the holy Ghost, euen as he did vnto vs.

c As touching adoption and eternall life.

d By faith God purifieth the heart.

9 And hee put no c difference betweene vs and them, after that by faith hee d had * purified their hearts.

10 Now therefore, why e tempt ye God, to * lay a yoke on the disciples neckes, which neither our fathers, nor wee were able to beare?

1. Cor. 1.2. chap. 10.43.

e They purposely tempt God, which lay greater charges on mens consciences, then they are able to beare. Matth. 23.4.

11 But we beleeue, through the f grace of the Lord Iesus Christ to bee saued, euen as they doe.

f And not by the Law: for it is a clog to the conscience, and we cannot be deliuered thereby. 2. Pet. 1.1.

12 Then all the multitude kept silence, and heard Barnabas and Paul, which told what signes and wonders God had done among the Gentiles by them.

13 And when they held their peace, Iames answered, saying, Men and brethren, hearken vnto me.

14 * Simon hath declared how God first did visite the Gentiles, to take of them a people vnto his Name.

15 And to this agree the words of the Prophets, as it is written,

Amos 9.11.

16 * After this I will returne, and will build againe the g Tabernacle of Dauid, which is fallen downe, and the ruines thereof will I build againe, and I will set it vp, g That is, the Church, whereof the Temple was a figure.

17 That the residue of men might seeke after the Lord, and all the h Gentiles vpon whom my Name is called, saith the Lord which doeth all these things.

h Which are gathered into one family with the Iewes, to the intent they should acknowledge all one God, and one Saviour Christ Iesus.

18 From the beginning of the world God knoweth all his workes.

19 Wherefore my sentence is, that wee trouble not them of the Gentiles that are turned to God, 20 But that wee write vnto them, that they abstaine themselues from i filthinesse of idoles, and k fornication, and that that is strangled, and from blood †.

i For some thought it none offence to be present in the idoles temples, and there to banket: which Saint Paul saith, is to drinke the cup of the deuils, 1. Cor. 10.21.

21 For l Moles of old time hath in euery citie them that preach him, seeing he is read in the Synagogues euery Sabbath day.

k The heathen thought this no vice, but made it a common custome. As touching a strangled thing and blood, they were not vnlawfull of themselues, and therefore were obserued but for a time.

22 Then it seemed good to the Apostles and Elders with the whole Church to send chosen men of their owne companie to Antiochia with Paul and Barnabas: to wit, Iudas whose surname was Barsabas, and Silas, which were chiefe men among the brethren, 23 And wrote letters by them after this maner, THE APOSTLES, and the Elders, and the brethren, vnto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antiochia, and in Syria, and in Cilicia, send greeting.

24 For as much as wee haue heard, that certaine which departed from vs, haue troubled you with words, and cumbred your mindes, saying, Ye must be circumcised and keepe the Lawe, to whom wee gaue no such commandement:

25 It seemed therefore good to vs, when wee were come together with one accord, to send chosen men vnto you, with our beloued Barnabas and Paul,

26 Men that haue giuen vp their liues for the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ.

27 Wee haue therefore sent Iudas and Silas, which shall also tell you the same things by mouth.

28 For it seemed good to the holy Ghost, and m to vs, to lay no more burthen vpon you, then these necessarie things,

† And whatsoeuer they would not should be done to themselues, that they should not doe it to others.

l Therefore the ceremonies commanded by God, could not so soone be abolished, till the liberty of the Gospel were better knowen.

29 That is, that yee abstaine from things offred to idoles, and blood, and that that is strangled, and from fornication: † from which if yee keepe your selues, yee shall doe well. Fare ye well.

m Whom the holy Ghost hath mooued and directed to ordeine, and write these things, not as the authors of this doctrine, but as the ministers of Gods ordinance, Exod. 14. 31 Iudge. 7. 20. Hag. 1.12.

30 Now when they were departed, they came to Antiochia, and after that they had assembled the multitude, they deliuered the Epistle.

31 And when they had read it, they reioyced for the consolation.

32 And Iudas and Silas being Prophets || exhorted the brethren with many words and strengthened them.

33 And after they had tarried there a space, they were let goe in n peace of the brethren vnto the Apostles.

34 Notwithstanding • Silas thought good to abide there still †.

† And whatsoeuer ye would not that men should doe vnto you doe not to others. || Or, comforted. n Hauing desired leaue of the Church, the brethren praied God to prosper their iourney. o Who for iust causes, changed his mind. † And onely Iudas went.

35 Paul also and Barnabas continued in Antiochia, teaching and preaching with many other the word of the Lord.

36 ¶ But after certaine dayes, Paul said vnto Barnabas, Let vs returne, and visite our brethren in euery citie, where we haue preached the word of the Lord, and see how they doe.

37 And Barnabas † counselled to take with them Iohn called Marke.

† Would take Iohn, &c.

38 But Paul thought it not meet to take him vnto their company, which departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the worke.

39 Then were they so stirred, that they p departed asunder one from another, so that Barnabas tooke Marke, and sayled vnto Cyprus.

p God suffereth the most perfit to fall, and yet turneth their infirmities to the setting forth of his glory, as this breach of company caused the word to be preached in moe places.

40 And Paul chose Silas and departed, being commended of the brethren vnto the grace of God.

41 And he went thorow Syria and Cilicia, stablishing the Churches.

CHAP XVI.

1 When Paul had circumcised Timothie, hee tooke him with him. 7 The Spirit calleth them from one countrey to another. 14 Lydia is conuerted. 28 Paul and Silas imprisoned, conuert the Gaoler, 37 and are deliuered as Romanes.

THen came hee to Derbe and to Lystra: and beholde, a certaine disciple was there, named * Timotheus, a womans sonne, which was a Iewesse and beleeued, but his father was a Grecian.

Rom. 16. 21. phil. 2. 19. 1. thes. 3. 2.

2 Of whom the brethren which were at Lystra and Iconium, reported well.

3 Therefore Paul would that he should go forth with him, and tooke and a circumcised him, because of the Iewes which were in those quarters: for they knew all that his father was a Grecian.

a Lest the Iewes should disdaine him as one that were prophane & without God.

4 And as they went thorow the cities, they deliuered them the decrees to keepe, ordeined of the Apostles and Elders, which were at Ierusalem.

5 And so were the Churches stablished in the faith, and increased in number dayly.

6 ¶ Now when they had gone thorow out Phrygia, and the region of Galatia, they were forbidden b of the holy Ghost, to preach the word in c Asia.

b God chuseth not only men, but also appointeth countreys where his word shalbe preached, and onely as he will.

c Meaning, Asia the lesse.

7 Then came they to Mysia, and sought to goe into Bithinia: but the Spirit † suffered them not.

† Of Iesus.

8 Therefore they passed thorow Mysia, and came downe to d Troas, d Called also Antigonia, and Alexandria.

9 Where a vision appeared to Paul in the night. There stoode a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come into Macedonia, and helpe vs.

e We ought not to credit visions, except we be assured thereof by the spirit of God.

10 And after he had seene the vision, immediatly we prepared to goe into Macedonia, being e assured that the Lord had called vs to preach the Gospel vnto them.

11 Then went we forth from Troas, and with a streight course came to Samothracia, and the next day to f Neapolis, f Which is in the borders of Thracia and Macedonia.

12 ¶ And from thence to Philippi, which is the chiefe citie in the parts of Macedonia, and g whose inhabitants came from Rome to dwell there, and we were in that citie abiding certaine dayes.

g In Greeke and Latine the word is called Colonia, which cannot otherwise be well expressed, but by such circumstance of words.

13 And on the Sabbath day, wee went out of the citie, beside a riuer where they were wont to h pray: and we sate downe, and spake vnto the women, which were come together.

h Where the Christians accustomed to assemble their Church, when the infidels persecuted them.

14 And a certaine woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the citie of the Thyatirians, which worshipped God, heard vs: whose heart the Lord opened, that she attended vnto the things which Paul spake.

15 And when shee was baptized and her houshold, shee besought vs, saying, If yee haue iudged me to bee faithfull to the Lord, come into mine house and abide there: and she constrained vs.

16 And it came to passe, that as we went to prayer, a certaine maide hauing * a spirit i of diuination, met vs, which gate her masters much vantage with diuining.

Leuit. 20. 27. deut. 18. 10, 11. 1. sam. 28. 7.

i Which could gesse, and foredeeme of things past, present, and to come: which knowledge in many things God permitteth to the deuil.

17 She folowed Paul and vs, and cried, saying, These men are the seruants of the most high God, which shewe vnto vs the k way of saluation.

k Satan, although he spake the trueth, yet was his malicious purpose to cause the Apostles to be troubled as seditious persons, and teachers of strange religion.

18 And this did she many dates: but Paul being grieued, l turned about, and said to the spirit, I command thee in the name of Iesus Christ, that thou come out of her. And hee came out the same houre.

l For Satans subtiltie increased, and also it might seeme that Satan and the Spirit of God taught both one doctrine, Reade Mar. 1. 34

19 Now when her masters saw that the hope of their gaine was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and drew them into the market place vnto the Magistrates,

20 And brought them to the Gouernors, saying, These men which are Iewes, trouble our citie, 21 And preach ordinances, which are not lawfull for vs to receiue, neither to obserue, seeing we are Romanes.

22 The people also rose vp together against them, and the Gouernors rent m their clothes, and * commanded them to be beaten with rods.

m To wit, the clothes of Paul and Silas.

2. Cor. 11. 25. 1. thess. 2. 2.

23 And when they had beaten them sore, they cast them into prison, commanding the Gaoler to keepe them surely.

24 Who hauing receiued such commandement, cast them into the vtter prison, and made their feete fast in the stocks.

Or, in the bottome of the prison, or, in a dungeon.

25 Now at midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and sung a Psalme vnto God: and the prisoners heard them.

26 And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundation of the prison was shaken: and by and by all the doores opened, and euery mans bands were loosed.

27 Then the keeper of the prison waked out of his sleepe, and when hee saw the prison doores open, he drew out his sword, and would haue killed himselfe, supposing the prisoners had been fled.

28 But Paul cried with a loude voyce, saying, Doe thy selfe no harme: for wee are all here.

29 Then he called for a light, and leaped in, and came trembling, and fell downe before Paul and Silas, 30 And brought them out, and said, Sirs, what must I doe to be saued?

31 And they said, Beleeue in the Lord Iesus

36 Then the keeper of the prison tolde these words vnto Paul, saying, The Gouernours haue sent to loose you: now therefore get you hence and goe in peace.

37 Then said Paul vnto them, After that they haue beaten vs openly vncondemned, which are [n] Romanes, they haue cast vs into prison, and now would they put vs out priuily? nay verely: but let them come & bring vs out.

38 And the serieants told these words vnto the Gouernours, who [o] feared when they heard that they were Romanes.

39 Then came they and prayed them, and brought them out, and desired them to depart out of the citie.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Paul commeth to Thessalonica, 4 Where some receiue him, and others persecute him. 11 To search the Scriptures. 17 He disputeth at Athens, and the fruit of his doctrine.

NOw as they passed thorow Amphipolis, and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a Synagogue of the Iewes.

2 And Paul, as his maner was, went in vnto them, and three Sabbath daies disputed with them by the Scriptures,

3 Opening & alledging that Christ must haue suffred, and risen again from the dead: and this is Iesus Christ, whom, sayd hee, I preach to you.

4 And some of them beleeued, and ioyned in company with Paul and Silas: also of the Grecians that feared God, a great multitude, and of the chiefe women not a fewe.

5 But the Iewes which beleeued not, moued with enuie, tooke vnto them certaine vagabonds and wicked fellowes, and when they had assembled the multitude, they made a tumult in the citie, & made assault against the house of Iason, and sought to bring them out to the people.

6 But when they found them not, they drew Iason and certaine brethren vnto the heads of the citie, crying, These are they which haue subuerted the state of the world, and here they are,

7 Whom Iason hath receiued, and these all doe against the decrees of Cesar, saying, That there is another [a] King, one Iesus.

8 Then they troubled the people, and the heads of the citie, when they heard these things.

9 Notwithstanding when they had receiued ‖ sufficient assurance of Iason and of the other, they let them goe.

10 And the brethren immediatly sent away Paul and Silas by night vnto Berea, which when they were come thither, entred into the Synagogue of the Iewes.

11 These were also [b] more noble men then they which were at Thessalonica, which receiued the word with all readinesse, & [c] searched the Scriptures daply, [d] whether those things were so.

12 Therefore many of them beleeued, and of honest women, which were Grecians, and men not a few.

13 ¶ But when the Iewes of Thessalonica knewe, that the word of God was also preached of Paul at Berea, they came thither also and moued the people.

14 But by and by the brethren sent away Paul to go as it were to the Sea: but Silas and Timotheus abode there still.

15 And they that ‖ did conduct Paul, brought him vnto Athens: and when they had receiued a commandement vnto Silas and Timotheus that they should come to him at once, they departed.

16 ¶ Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was stirred in him, when he saw the citie [e] subiect to idolatry.

17 Therefore hee disputed in the Synagogue with the Iewes, and with them that were religious, and in the market daply, [f] with whomsoeuer he met.

18 Then certaine Philosophers of the [g] Epicures, and of the ‖ Stoikes, disputed with him, and some sayd, What will this ‖ babbler say? Others sayd, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods (because hee preached vnto them Iesus, and the resurrection)

19 And they tooke him, and brought him vnto [h] Mars streete, saying, May wee not know, what this new doctrine whereof thou speakest, is?

20 For thou bringest certaine strange things vnto our eares: wee would knowe therefore, what these things meane.

3 Paul laboureth with his hands, and preacheth at Corinthus. 6 He is detested of the Iewes, 8 Yet receiued of many. 9 And comforted of the Lord. 14 Gallio refuseth to meddle with religion. 18 Pauls vowe. 21 His faith in the prouidence of God, 22 And care for the brethren. 24 The praise of Apollos.

AFter these things, Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinthus.

2 And found a certaine Iew named * Aquila, borne in Pontus, lately come from Italy, and his wife Priscilla (because that a Claudius had commaunded all Iewes to depart from Rome) and he came vnto them.

3 And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them and b wrought (for their craft was to make c tents.)

4 And he disputed in the Synagogue euery Sabbath day, and exhorted the Iewes and the Grecians.

5 Nowe when Silas and Timothens were come from Macedonia, Paul d burned in spirit, testifying to the Iewes that Iesus was the Christ.

6 And when they resisted and blasphemed, he * shooke his raiment, and sayd vnto them, e Your blood be vpon your owne head: I am cleane: from henceforth will I goe vnto the Gentiles.

7 So he departed thence, and entred into a certaine mans house, named Iustus, a worshipper of God, whose house ioyned hard to the Synagogue.

8 And * Crispus the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, beleeued in the Lord with all his household: and many of the Corinthians hearing it, beleeued and were baptized.

9 Then sayd the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Feare not, but speake, and hold not thy peace.

10 For f I am with thee, and no man shal lay hands on thee to hurt thee: for I haue much people in this citie.

11 So he continued there a yeere and sixe moneths, & taught the word of God among them.

12 ¶ Nowe when Gallio was deputie of ‖ Achaia, the Iewes arose with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the iudgement seat, 13 Saying, This fellow perswadeth men to worship God contrary to the g Law.

14 And as Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio sayde vnto the Iewes, If it were a matter of wrong, or an euill deed, O yee Iewes, I would according to reason maintaine you.

15 But if it be a question of words, and names, and of your Lawe, looke yee to it your selues: for I will bee no iudge of those things.

16 And he draue them from the iudgement seat.

17 Then tooke all the Grecians h Sosthenes, the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, and beat him before the iudgement seat: but Gallio cared nothing for those things.

18 But when Paul had taried there yet a good while, he tooke leaue of the brethren, and sayled into Syria (and with him Priscilla and Aquila) after that he had i shorne his head in Cenchrea: for he had a * vow.

19 Then hee came to Ephesus, and left them there: but hee entred into the Synagogue and disputed with the Iewes, 21 But bade them farewell, saying, I must needs keepe this feast that commeth, in Ierusalem: but I will returne againe vnto you, * if God will. So he sayled from Ephesus.

22 ¶ And when he came downe to k Cesarea, he went vp to Ierusalem: and when he had saluted the Church, he went downe vnto Antiochia.

23 Now when he had taried there a while, he departed, and went thorow the countrey of Galatia and Phrygia by order, strengthening all the disciples.

an eloquent man, and ‖mighty in the Scriptures.

25 The same was [l] instructed in the way of the Lord, and hee spake fervently in the spirite, and taught diligently the things of the Lord, and knew but the [m] baptisme of Iohn onely.

26 And hee began to speake boldly in the Synagogue. Whom when Aquila & Priscilla had heard, they tooke him vnto them, and [n] expounded vnto him the [o] way of God more perfectly.

27 And when he was minded to goe into Achaia, the brethren exhorting him, wrote to the disciples to receiue him: and after he was come thither, hee holpe them much which had beleeued through grace.

28 For mightily hee confuted publikely the Iewes with great vehemencie, shewing by the Scriptures, that Iesus was the Christ.

CHAP. XIX.

6 The holy Ghost is giuen by Pauls hands. 9 The Iewes blaspheme his doctrine, which was confirmed by miracles. 13 The rashnes, and punishment of the Conjurers, and the fruit that came thereof. 24 Demetrius rayseth sedition vnder pretence of Diana. 41 Yet God deliuereth him, and appeaseth it by the Towne clerke.

AND it came to passe, while Apollos was at Corinthus, that Paul when he passed thorow the vpper coastes, came to Ephesus, and found certaine disciples,

2 And sayd vnto them, Haue ye receiued the [a] holy Ghost since ye beleeued? And they sayd vnto him, Wee haue not so much as heard whether there be an holy Ghost.

3 And he sayd vnto them, [b] Vnto what were ye then baptized? And they sayd, Vnto Iohns baptisme.

4 Then said Paul, * Iohn verily baptized with the Baptisme of repentance, saying vnto the people, that they should beleeue in him, which should come after him, that is, in Christ Iesus.

5 So when they heard it, they were baptized in the Name of the Lord Iesus.

6 And Paul layd his hands vpon them, and the holy Ghost came on them, and they spake the tongues and prophesied.

7 And all the men were about twelue.

8 ¶ Moreouer, he went into the Synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three moneths, disputing and exhorting to the things that appertaine to the kingdom of God.

9 But when certaine were hardened, and disobeyed, speaking euill of the way of God before the multitude, hee departed from them, and separated the disciples, and disputed daily in the schoole of one [d] Tyrannus †

10 And this was done by the space of two yeeres, so that all they which dwelt in Asia, heard the Word of the Lorde Iesus, both Iewes and Grecians.

11 And God wrought no small miracles by the hands of Paul,

12 So that from his body were brought vnto the sicke, ‖kerchiefs or handkerchiefs, and the diseases departed from them, and the euill spirits went out of them.

13 Then certaine of ỹ vagabond Iewes ‖exorcists, tooke in hand to name ouer them which had euill spirits, the Name of the Lord Iesus, saying, [e] We [f] adiure you by Iesus whom Paul preacheth.

14 (And there were certaine sonnes of Sceua a Iew, the Priest, about seuen which did this)

15 And the euill spirit answered, and said, Iesus I acknowledge, and Paul I knowe: but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the euill spirit was, ranne on them, and ouercame them, and preuailed against them, so that they fledde out of that house, naked and wounded.

17 And this was knowen to all the Iewes and Grecians also, which dwelt at Ephesus, and feare came on them all, and the Name of the Lorde Iesus was magnified.

18 And many that beleeued, came and confessed, and [g] shewed their workes.

19 Many also of them which vsed curious arts, brought their bookes, and burned them before all men, and they counted the price of them, and found it [h] fiftie thousand pieces of siluer.

20 So the Word of God grew mightily and preuailed.

21 ¶ Now when these things were accomplished, Paul purposed [i] by the Spirit to passe thorow Macedonia and Achaia, and to go to Ierusalem, saying, After I haue bene there, I must also see Rome.

22 So sent hee into Macedonia two of them that ministred vnto him, Timotheus and Erastus, but hee remained in Asia for a season.

23 And the same time there arose no small trouble about that [k] way.

24 For a certaine man named Demetrius, a siluersmith, which made siluer ‖ temples of Diana, [l] brought great gaines vnto the craftsmen:

25 Whom hee called together, with the workemen of like things, and sayde, Sirs, ye know that by this craft [m] wee haue our goods.

26 Moreouer, yee see and heare, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia this Paul hath perswaded, and turned away much people, saying, That they bee not gods which are made with hands:

27 So that not onely this thing is dangerous vnto vs, [n] that the state shoulde bee reprooued, but also that the * temple of the great goddesse Diana should bee nothing esteemed, and that it woulde come to passe, that her magnificence, which all Asia, and the p world worshippeth, should be destroyed.

28 Now when they heard it, they were full of wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

29 And the whole citie was ful of confusion, and they rushed into the common place with one assent, & caught *Gaius, and *Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, & Pauls companions of his iourney.

*Rom. 16. 23. 1. Cor. 1. 14. Col. 4. 10.

30 And when Paul would haue entred in vnto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 Certain also of the chiefe of Asia which were his friends, sent vnto him, desiring him that hee would not present himselfe in the common place.

32 Some therefore cryed one thing, and some another: for the assembly was out of order, and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together.

q And set him in an hie place where the people could not come neere him, but whence they might well heare his voyce.

33 And some of the company q drewe foorth Alexander, the Iewes thrusting him forwards. Alexander then beckened with the hand, and would haue excused the matter to the people.

34 But when they knew that he was a Iew, there arose a shout almost for the space of two houres, of all men, crying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

35 Then the towne Clerke, when he had stated the people, said, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is it that knoweth not, how that the citie of the Ephesians is a worshipper of the great goddesse Diana, and of the image which came downe from r Jupiter?

r Antiquitie and the couetousnesse of the Priests brought in this superstition: for it is written that the temple being repaired seuen times, this idole was neuer changed, Plin. lib. 16. 40. by such delusions the world is most easily abused.

36 Seeing then that no man can s speake against these things, yee ought to be appeased, and to doe nothing rashly.

s He pacified the people by worldly wisedome, and hath no respect to religion.

37 For ye haue brought hither these men, which haue neither committed sacrilege, neither doe blaspheme your goddesse.

38 Wherefore, if Demetrius & the craftsmen which are with him, haue a matter against any man, the law is open, and there are Deputies: let them accuse one another.

39 But if yee enquire any thing concerning other matters, it may bee determined in a lawfull assembly.

40 For we are euen in ieopardie to be accused of this dayes sedition, forasmuch as there is no cause, whereby wee may giue a reason of this concourse of people.

41 And when he had thus spoken, he let the assembly depart.

CHAP. XX.

1 Paul goeth into Macedonia and into Grecia. 7 He celebrateth the Lords Supper, and preacheth. 9 At Troas hee rayseth vp Eutychus. 17 At Ephesus hee calleth the Elders of the Church together, committeth the keeping of Gods flocke vnto them, warneth them of false teachers, maketh his prayer with them, and departeth by shippe toward Jerusalem.

NOw after the tumult was ceased, Paul called the Disciples vnto him, and embraced them, and departed to goe into Macedonia.

2 And when he had gone through those partes, and had exhorted them with many wordes, he came into Grecia.

3 And hauing tarried there three moneths because the Iewes layd waite for him, as he was about to saile into Syria, hee purposed to returne through Macedonia.

4 And there accompanied him into Asia, Supater of Berea, and of them of Thessalonica, Aristarchus, and Secundus, and Gaius of Derbe, and Timotheus, and of them of Asia, Tychicus, and Trophimus.

5 These went before, and tarried vs at Troas.

6 And we sailed foorth from a Philippi after the dayes of vnleauened bread, and came vnto them to Troas in fiue dayes, where we abode seuen dayes.

a He remained there these daies, because he had better opportunity to teach: also the abolishing of the Law was not yet knowen.

7 And the b first day of the weeke, the disciples being come together to c breake bread, Paul preached vnto them, readie to depart on the morrow, and continued the preaching vnto midnight.

b Which we call Sunday. Of this place, and also of the 1. Cor. 16. 2. we gather that the Christians vsed to haue their solemne assemblies this day, laying aside the ceremonie of the Iewish Sabbath.

c To celebrate the Lords Supper, Chap. 2. 46.

8 And there were many lights in an vpper chamber, where ‖ they were gathered together.

‖ Or, we.

9 And there sate in a window a certaine yoong ‖ man named Eutychus, fallen into a deepe sleepe: and as Paul was long preaching, hee ouercome with sleepe, fell downe from the third loft, and was taken vp dead.

‖ Or, boy.

10 But Paul went downe, and layed himselfe vpon him, and imbraced him, saying, Trouble not your selues: for his life is in him.

11 So when Paul was come vp againe, and had broken bread, and eaten, hee communed a long while till the dawning of the day, and so he departed.

12 And they brought the boy aliue, and they were not a little comforted.

13 ¶ Then we went foorth to ship, and sailed vnto the citie d Assos, that wee might receiue Paul there: for so had he appointed, and would himselfe goe afoot.

d Which was a citie of Mysia, called otherwise Apollonia, Plin. lib. 5. cap. 30.

14 Now when he was come vnto vs to Assos, and we had receiued him, we came to Mitylenes.

15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day ouer against Chios, and the next day we arriued at Samos, and tarried at Trogyllium: the next day we came to Miletum.

16 For Paul had determined to saile by Ephesus, because hee would not spend the time in Asia: for he hasted to be, if he could possibly, at Jerusalem, at the day of ‖ Pentecost.

euery house,

21 Witnessing both to the Iewes, and to the Grecians the [b] repentance toward God, and [i] faith toward our Lord Iesus Christ.

22 And now behold, I go [k] bound in the spirit vnto Ierusalem, and know not what things shall come vnto me there, 23 Saue that the holy Ghost [l] witnesseth in euery city, saying, that bandes and afflictions abide me †.

24 But I passe not at all, neither is my life deere vnto my selfe, so that I may fulfill my course with ioy, and the ministration which I haue receiued of the Lord Iesus, to testifie the Gospel of the grace of God.

25 And now, beholde, I know that henceforth ye al, through whom I haue gone preaching the kingdome of God, shal see my face no more.

26 Wherefore I take you to recorde this day, that I am pure from the [m] blood of all men.

27 For I haue kept nothing backe, but haue shewed you [n] all the counsell of God.

28 Take heed therefore vnto your selues, and to all the flocke, wherein the holy Ghost hath made you ouerseers, to feed the Church of God, which hee hath purchased with his [o] owne blood.

29 For I know this, that after my departing shall grieuous wolues enter in among you, not sparing the flocke.

30 Moreouer of your owne selues shall men arise, speaking [p] peruerse thinges, to draw disciples after them.

31 Therefore watch, and remember, that by the space of three yeeres I ceased not to warne euery one, both night and day with teares.

32 And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which [q] is able to build further, and to giue you an [r] inheritance, among all them which are sanctified.

33 I haue coueted no mans siluer, nor gold, nor apparell.

34 Yea, ye know, that these handes haue ministred vnto my * necessities, and to them that were with me.

35 I haue shewed you al things, how that so labouring, ye ought to support the weake, and to remember the words of the Lord Iesus, how that he said, [s] It is a blessed thing to giue, rather then to receiue.

36 And when hee had thus spoken, hee kneeled downe, and prayed with them all.

37 Then they wept all abundantly, and fell on Pauls necke, and kissed him, 38 Being chiefly sory for the words which he spake, That they should see his face no more. And they accompanied him vnto the ship.

5 The common prayers of the faithful. 9 Philips foure daughters propheteſſes. 13 Pauls constancy to beare the crosse, as Agabus & other forspake, although he were otherwise counselled by the brethren 28 The great danger that he was in, and how he escaped.

AND as we launched forth, and were departed from them, wee came with a straight course vnto Coos, and the day following vnto the Rhodes, and from thence vnto Patara.

2 And wee found a ship that went ouer vnto Phenice, & went aboard, and set forth.

3 And when we had discouered Cyprus, we left it on the left hand, and sailed toward Syria, and arriued at Tyrus: for there the ship vnladed the burden.

4 And when we had found disciples, we taried there seue daies. And they told Paul [a] through the [b] Spirit, that he should not go vp to Ierusalem.

5 But when the dayes were ended, wee departed and went our way, and they all accompanied vs with their wiues & children, euen out of the citie: and we kneeling downe on the shore, prayed.

6 Then when wee had imbraced one another, we tooke shippe, and they returned home.

7 And when wee had ended the course from Tyrus, we arriued at Ptolemais, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8 And the next day Paul and they that were with him, departed, & came vnto Cesarea: and we entred into the house of *Philip the Euangelist, which was one of the seuen [c] Deacons, and abode with him.

9 Now he had foure daughters, virgins, which did prophesie.

10 And as we tarried there many dayes, there came a certaine Prophet from Iudea, named Agabus.

11 And when hee was come vnto vs, hee tooke Pauls girdle, and bound his owne hands and feet, and said, [d] Thus saith the holy Ghost, So shall the Iewes at Ierusalem [e] bind the man that oweth this girdle, and shall deliuer him into the handes of the Gentiles.

12 And when wee had heard these things, both wee & other of the same place besought him that he would not go vp to Ierusalem.

13 Then Paul answered, and said, What doe ye weeping and breaking mine heart? For I am ready not to be bound onely, but also to die at Ierusalem for the name of the Lord Iesus.

14 So when he would not be perswaded, we ceased, saying, The will of the Lord bee done.

15 And after those dayes wee trussed vp our fardels, and went vp to Ierusalem.

16 There went with vs also certaine of the disciples of Cesarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an olde disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when wee were come to Ierusalem, the brethren receiued vs gladly.

fied the Lord, and said vnto him, Thou seest brother, how many thousand Iewes there are which beleeue, and they are all zealous of the law.

21 Now they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Iewes which are among the Gentiles, to forsake Moses, and sayest, that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to liue after the g customes.

22 What is then to bee done? the multitude must needes come together: for they shall heare that thou art come.

23 Doe therefore this that wee say to thee. Wee haue h foure men, which haue made a vow.

24 Them take, and i purifie thy selfe with them, and contribute with them, that they may * shaue their heads: and all shall know, that those things, whereof they haue bin informed concerning thee, are nothing, but that thou thy selfe also walkest and keepest the Law.

25 For as touching the Gentiles, which beleeue, wee haue written, and determined * that they obserue no such thing, but that they keepe themselues from things offered to idoles, and from blood, & from that that is strangled, and from fornication.

26 Then Paul tooke the men, and the next day was purified with them, and entred into the Temple, * declaring the accomplishment of the dayes of the purification, vntill that an offering should be offered for euery one of them.

27 And when the seuen dayes were almost ended, the Iewes which were of Asia (when they saw him in the Temple) mooued all the people, and k layde handes on him, 28 Crying, Men of Israel, helpe: this is the man that teacheth all men euery where against the people, and the law, and this place: moreouer he hath brought Grecians into the Temple, and hath l polluted this holy place.

29 For they had seene before Trophimus an Ephesian with him in the citie, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the Temple.

30 Then all the citie was mooued, & the people ran together: and they tooke Paul, and drew him out of the Temple, and forthwith the doores were shut.

31 But as they went about to kill him, tidings came vnto the chiefe Captaine of the band, that all Ierusalem was on an vproze.

32 Who immediatly tooke souldiers, and m Centurions, and ranne n downe vnto them: and when they saw the chiefe Captaine and the souldiers, they left beating of Paul.

33 Then the chiefe Captaine came neere and tooke him, and commaunded him to be bound with two chaines, and demaunded who he was, and what he had done.

34 And one cryed this, another that, among the people. So when hee could not know the certainety for the tumult, he commanded him to be led into the castle.

35 And when hee came vnto the grieces, it was so that he was borne of the souldiers, for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, Away with him.

37 And as Paul should haue bene led into the castle, he said vnto the chiefe captaine, May I speake vnto thee? Who said, Canst thou speake Greeke?

38 Art not thou the * o Egyptian, who before these dayes raised a sedition, & led out into the wildernes foure thousand men that were murderers?

39 Then Paul sayd, Doubtlesse I am a man which am a Iew, and citizen of * Tarsus a famous citie in Cilicia, and I beseech thee, suffer me to speake vnto the people.

40 And when hee had giuen him licence, Paul stood on the grieces, & beckened with the hand vnto the people: and when there was made great silence, he spake vnto them in the Hebrew tongue, saying.

4 *And I persecuted this ‖way vnto the death, binding & deliuering into prison both men and women,

5 As also the chiefe Priest doth beare me witnesse, and all the state of the Elders: of * who also I receiued letters vnto the b brethren, and went to Damascus to bring them which were there, bound vnto Ierusalem, that they might be punished.

6 ¶ And so it was, as I iourneyed and was come neere vnto Damascus about noone, that suddenly there shone from heauen a great light round about me.

7 So I fell vnto the earth, and heard a voice, saying vnto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 Then I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And hee sayd to mee, I am Iesus of Nazaret, whom thou persecutest.

9 Moreouer, they that were with mee, saw indeed a light, and were afraid, but they heard not the voyce of him that spake vnto me.

10 Then I sayd, What shal I doe, Lord? And the Lord sayd vnto mee, Arise, and goe into Damascus: and there it shall bee told thee of all things, which are appointed for thee to doe.

11 So when I could not see for the glory of that light, I was led by the hand of them that were with me, and came into Damascus.

12 And one Ananias, a godly man, as pertaining to the Law, hauing good report of all the Iewes which dwelt there, 13 Came vnto me, and stood, and said vnto me, Brother Saul, receiue thy sight: and that same houre I looked vpon him.

14 And he said, The God of our fathers hath [c] appointed thee, that thou shouldest know his will, and shouldest see that [d] Iust one, and shouldest heare the voyce of his mouth.

15 For thou shalt be his witnesse vnto al men, of the things which thou hast seen and heard.

16 Now therefore why tarriest thou? Arise, & be baptized, & wash away thy sinnes, in calling on the [e] Name of the Lord.

17 ¶ And it came to passe, that when I was come againe to Ierusalem, and prayed in the Temple, I was in a trance, 18 And saw him saying vnto mee, Make haste, & get thee quickly out of Ierusalem: for they will not receiue thy witnesse concerning me.

19 Then I said, Lord, they know that I * prisoned, and beat in euery Synagogue them that beleeued in thee.

20 And when the blood of thy martyr Steuen was shed, I also *stood by, and consented vnto his death, and kept the clothes of them that slew him.

21 Then he said vnto me, Depart: for I will send thee farre hence vnto the Gentiles.

22 ¶ And they heard him vnto this word, but then they lift vp their voyces, and said, Away with such a fellow from the earth: for it is not meet that he should liue.

23 And as they cryed and cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the ayre, 24 The chiefe Captaine commaunded him to be led into the Castle, and bade that he should be scourged and examined, that hee might know wherefore they cryed so on him.

25 And as they bound him with thongs, Paul said vnto the Centurion that stoode by, Is it lawfull for you to scourge one that is [f] a Romane, and not condemned?

26 Now when the Centurion heard it, hee went and told the chiefe Captaine, saying, Take heed what thou doest: for this man is a Romane.

27 Then the chiefe captaine came, & said to him, Tell me: Art thou a Romane? And he said, Yea.

28 And the chiefe Captaine answered, With a great summe obtained I this ‖ burgesship. Then Paul said, But I was also borne.

29 Then straightway they departed from him which should haue examined him: and the chiefe captaine also was afraid, after he knew that he was a Romane, and that hee had bound him.

30 On the nexte day, because hee would haue knowen the certaintie wherefore hee was accused of the Iewes, hee loosed him from his bondes, and commanded the hie Priests and all their Council to come together: and hee brought Paul, and set him before them.

CHAP. XXIII.

3 The answere of Paul being smitten, and the ouerthrow of his enemies. 11 The Lord encourageth him. 23 And because the Iewes laid wait for him, he is sent to Cesarea.

AND Paul beheld earnestly the Councel, and said, Men and brethren, I haue in all good conscience serued God vntil this day.

2 Then the high Priest Ananias commanded them that stood by, to smite him on the mouth.

3 Then said Paul to him, God [a] will smite thee thou whited wall: for thou sittest to iudge me according to the Law, and commaundest thou mee to be smitten contrarie to the Law?

4 And they that stood by, said, Reuilest thou Gods hie Priest?

5 Then said Paul, I [b] knew not, brethren, that he was the hie Priest: for it is written, * Thou shalt not speake euill of the ruler of thy people.

6 But when Paul perceiued that the one part were of the Sadducees, and the other of the Pharises, he cried in the Councel, Men and brethren, * I am a Pharise, the sonne of a Pharise: I am accused of the hope and [c] resurrection of the dead.

7 And when he had said this, there was a dissention betweene the Pharises and the Sadducees, so that the multitude was diuided.

8 * For the Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, neither Angel nor spirit: but the Pharises confesse [d] both.

9 Then there was a great cry: and the Scribes of the Pharises part rose vp, and stroue, saying, Wee finde none euill in this man: but if a spirit or an Angel hath spoken to him, let vs not fight against God.

10 And when there was a great dissention, the chiefe captaine, fearing lest Paul should haue beene pulled in pieces of them, commanded the souldiers to go downe, and to take him from among them, and to bring him into the castle.

11 ¶ Now the night following the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good courage, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Ierusalem, so must thou beare witnesse also at Rome.

12 And when the day was come, certaine of the Iewes made an assembly, and bound themselues with an [e] othe, saying, that they would neither eate nor drinke, till they had killed Paul.

13 And they were moe then fortie, which had made this conspiracie.

14 And they came to the chiefe Priestes and Elders, and said, We haue bound our selues with a solemne othe, that we will eate nothing vntill we haue slaine Paul.

15 Now therefore, yee and the Councell, signifie to the chiefe captaine, that he bring him forth vnto you to morrow, as though ye would know some thing more perfectly of him, and we, or euer hee come neere, will be ready to kill him.

of their laying awayt, he went, and entred into the castle, and told Paul.

17 And Paul called one of the Centurions vnto him, and sayd, Bring this young man vnto the chiefe captaine: for he hath a certayne thing to shew him.

18 So he tooke him, and brought him to the chiefe captaine, and said, Paul the prisoner called me vnto him, and prayed mee to bring this yong man vnto thee, which hath some thing to say vnto thee.

19 Then the chiefe captaine tooke him by the hand, and went apart with him alone, & asked him, What hast thou to shewe me?

20 And he said, The Iewes haue conspired to desire thee, that thou wouldest bring foorth Paul to morrow into the Councel, as though they would inquire somewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But let them not perswade thee: for there lie in wayt for him of them more then forty men, which haue bound themselues with an oth, that they will neither eat nor drinke, till they haue killed him: and now are they ready, and wait for thy promise.

22 The chiefe captaine then let the yong man depart, and charged him to speake it to no man, that hee had ‡ shewed him these things.

‡ Greeke, that thou hast shewed these things to me.

23 And he called vnto him two certayne Centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred souldiers, that they may go to Cesarea, and horsemen threescore and ten, and two hundreth with darts, at the third houre of the night, 24 And let them make ready an horse, that Paul being set on, may be brought safe vnto Felix the Gouernour.

g This letter was written partly in the fauour of Paul, that his aduersaries might not oppresse him.

25 And he wrote an g Epistle in this maner:

26 Claudius Lysias vnto the most noble Gouernour Felix, sendeth greeting.

27 As this man was taken of the Iewes, and should haue bene killed of them, I came vpon them with the garison, & rescued him, h perceiuing that he was a Romane.

h The Captayne dissembleth to commend his own diligence: for he did not know that Paul was a Romane, before hee had rescued him, and giuen him to be straightly examined.

28 And when I would haue knowen the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him forth into their Councel.

29 There I perceiued that he was accused of questions of their Law, but had no crime worthy of death, or of bonds.

30 And when it was shewed me, how that the Iewes layd wait for the man, I sent him straightway to thee, & commanded his accusers to speak before thee the things that they had against him. Farewell.

31 Then the souldiers, as it was commanded them, tooke Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris.

32 And the next day they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned vnto the castle.

i By this name the Romans called euery countrey which they had subdued.

33 Nowe when they came to Cesarea, they deliuered the Epistle to the gouernour, and presented Paul also vnto him.

34 So when the gouernour had read it, hee asked of what i prouince hee was: and when he vnderstood that he was of Cilicia, 35 I will heare thee, sayd hee, when thine accusers also are come, and commanded him to be kept in Herods iudgement hall.

CHAP. XXIIII.

10 Paul being accused, answereth for his life and doctrine against his accusers. 25 Felix gropeth him, thinking to haue a bribe, 28 And after leaueth him in prison.

NOw after fiue dayes, Ananias the hye Priest came down with the Elders, and with Tertullus a certaine Oratour, which appeared before the Gouernour against Paul.

2 And when he was called foorth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that wee haue obtained great quietnesse through thee, and that many worthy things are done vnto this nation through thy prouidence,

3 Wee acknowledge it wholly, and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thanks.

4 But that I bee not tedious vnto thee, I pray thee, that thou wouldest heare vs of thy courtesie a few words.

5 Certaynely we haue found this man a pestilent fellow, and a mouer of sedition among all the Iewes throughout the world, and a chiefe maintainer of the b sect of the c Nazarites:

6 And hath gone about to pollute the Temple: therfore we tooke him, and would haue iudged him according to our law:

7 But the ‖ chiefe captaine Lysias came vpon vs, and with great violence tooke him out of our hands,

8 Commanding his accusers to come to thee: of whom thou mayest (if thou wilt inquire) know all these things whereof we accuse him.

9 And the Iewes likewise affirmed, saying, that it was so.

10 Then Paul, after that the gouernour had beckned vnto him that he should speake, answered, I doe the more gladly answere for my selfe, forasmuch as I know that thou hast bene of many yeres a d iudge vnto this e nation,

11 Seeing thou mayest know, that there are but twelue dayes since I came vp f to worship in Ierusalem, 12 And they neither found mee in the Temple disputing with any man, neyther making vprores among the people, neither in the Synagogues, nor in the city.

13 Neither can they prooue the things whereof they now accuse me.

14 But this I confesse vnto thee, that after the way which they call s heresie, so worship I the God of my fathers, beleeuing all things which are written in the Lawes and the Prophets,

15 And haue hope towards God, that the resurrection of the dead which they themselues looke for also, shall be both of iust and vniust.

16 And herein I endeuor my selfe to haue a For Felix by his diligence had taken Eleazarus the captaine of the murtherers, and put the Egyptian to flight which raised vp tumults in Iudea: for these the orator praiseth him: otherwise he was both cruell and couetous, reade Iosephus lib. 20. Antiq. cap. 11. & 12. & lib. 2. de bello Iudaico cap. 12.

b Or, heresie: for so the wicked termed the true Christian Religion.

c Which taught the people to maintaine their liberty against the Romans: and though the accusers approued both this sect, & their doctrine, yet to get Paul punished, they seeme to condemne it.

‖ Or, captaine of a thousand.

d Or, gouernour: for before this, he ruled Trachonitis, Batenea, and Gaulanites.

e So that thou art not ignorant of their fashions.

f Not that his purpose was to worship there, but the Iewes so found him by the counsell of others: for he thought to haue wonne the simple brethren, and to stop the enemies mouthes.

g As the Scribes and Pharises learned the Christians doctrine.

26 And as he disputed of righteousnesse, and temperance, and of the iudgement to come, Felix [l] trembled, and answered, Goe thy way for this time, and when I haue conuenient time, I will call for thee.

27 He hoped also that money should haue bene giuen him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore hee sent for him the oftner, and communed with him.

WHen Festus was then come into the prouince, after three daies he went vp from Cesarea vnto Ierusalem.

2 Then the high Priest, and the chiefe of ỳ Iewes appeared before him against Paul: and they besought him,

3 And [a] desired fauour against him, that hee would send for him to Ierusalem: and they laid wait to kill him by the way.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul should bee kept at Cesarea, and that hee himselfe would shortly depart thither.

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are [b] able, come downe with vs: and if there bee any wickednesse in the man, let them accuse him.

6 ¶ Now when hee had tarried among them no more then ten dayes, hee went downe to Cesarea, and the next day sate in the iudgement seate, and commanded Paul to be brought.

7 And when hee was come, the Iewes which were come from Ierusalem stoode about him, and laid many and grieuous complaints against Paul, which they could not proue,

8 Forasmuch as he answered [c] that hee had neither offended any thing against the law of the Iewes, neither against the Temple, nor against Cesar.

9 Yet Festus willing to ‖ get fauour of the Iewes, answered Paul, and sayd, Wilt thou go vp to Ierusalem, & there be iudged of these things before me?

10 Then said Paul, I stand at [d] Cesars iudgement seate, where I ought to be [e] iudged: to the Iewes I haue done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

11 For if I haue done wrong, or committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to dye: but if there be none of these things whereof they accuse me, no man can deliuer me to them: I appeale vnto Cesar.

12 Then when Festus had spoken with [f] the Councell, he answered, Hast thou appeared vnto Cesar? vnto Cesar shalt thou goe.

13 ¶ And after certaine dayes, King Agrippa and [g] Bernice came downe to Cesarea to salute Festus.

14 And when they had remayned there many dayes, Felix proposed Pauls cause vnto the King, saying, There is a certayne man left in prison by Felix.

15 Of whom when I came to Ierusalem, the hie Priestes and Elders of the Iewes informed me, and desired to haue iudgment against him.

16 To whom I answered, that it is not the maner of the Romanes for fauour to deliuer any man to death, before that he which is accused, haue the accusers before him, and haue place to defend himselfe concerning the crime.

17 Therefore when they were come hither, without delay, the day following, I sate on the iudgement seat, and commanded the man to be brought forth.

18 Against whom when the accusers stood vp, they brought no crime of such things as I suppoled:

19 But had certayne questions against him of their owne [h] superstition, and of one Iesus which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be aliue.

20 And because I doubted of such maner of question, I asked him, whether he would goe to Ierusalem, and there bee iudged of these things.

21 But because he appealed to be reserued to the examinatiõ of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept, till I might send him to Cesar.

22 Then Agrippa sayd vnto Festus, I would also heare the man my selfe. To morrow, sayd he, thou shalt heare him.

27 For mee thinketh it vnreasonable to send a prisoner, and not to shew the causes which are layd against him.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 The innocencie of Paul is approued by rehearsing his conuersation. 25 His modest answere against the iniurie of Festus.

THen Agrippa said vnto Paul, Thou art permitted to speake for thy selfe. So Paul stretched foorth the hand, and answered for himselfe,

2 I thinke my selfe happie, King Agrippa, because I shall answere this day before thee of all the things whereof I am accused of the Iewes:

3 Chiefly, because thou hast knowledge of all customes, and questions which are among the Iewes: wherefore, I beseech thee a to heare me patiently.

a Forasmuch as he best vnderstood the religion, he ought to be more attentiue.

4 As touching my life from my childehood, and what it was from the beginning among mine owne nation at Ierusalem, know all the Iewes,

5 Which knew mee heretofore (if they would testifie) that after the most straite b sect of our religion, I liued a Pharisee.

b Paul speaketh of this sect according to the peoples estimacion, who preferred it as most holy aboue all others: for their doctrine was least corrupt.

6 And now I stand and am accused for the hope of the promise made of God vnto our fathers.

7 Whereunto our twelue tribes instantly seruing God day and night, hope to come: for the which hopes sake, O king Agrippa, I am accused of the Iewes.

8 Why should it bee thought a thing incredible vnto you, that God should raise againe the dead?

9 I also verely thought in my selfe, that I ought to do many contrary things against the Name of Iesus of Nazaret.

Chap.8.3.

10 *Which thing I also did in Ierusalem: for many of the Saints I shut vp in prison, hauing receiued authoritie of the hie Priests, and when they were put to death I c gaue my sentence.

c That is, I approued their crueltie which they vsed against them.

11 And I punished them throughout all the Synagogues, and compelled them to blaspheme, and being more mad against them, I persecuted them, euen vnto strange cities.

Chap.9.2,3.

12 At which time, euen as I went to *Damascus with authoritie, and commission from the hie Priests, 13 At midday, O king, I saw in the way a light from heauen, passing the brightnesse of the sunne, shine round about me, and them which went with me.

14 So when wee were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking vnto mee, and saying in the Hebrew tongue, *Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? It is hard for thee to kicke against pricks.

Chap 9.4. and 22.7.

15 Then I sayd, Who art thou, Lord? And he sayd, I am Iesus, whom thou persecutest.

16 But rise and stand vp on thy feete: for I haue appeared vnto thee for this purpose, to appoint thee a minister and a witnesse, both of the things which thou hast seene, and of the things in the which I will appeare vnto thee,

17 Deliuering thee from the d people, and from the Gentiles, vnto whom now I send thee, d Of the Iewes.

18 To e open their eyes, that they may turne from darkenesse to light, and from the power of Satan vnto God, that they may receiue forgiuenesse of sinnes, and inheritance among them, which are sanctified by faith in me.

e Although this properly appertaineth vnto God, yet he applieth this vnto his ministers vnto whom he giueth his holy Spirit.

19 Wherefore King Agrippa, I was not disobedient vnto the heauenly vision, 20 *But shewed first vnto them of Damascus, and at Ierusalem, and throughout all the coasts of Iudea, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent, and turne to God, and doe workes worthy amendment of life.

Chap.9.22,26. and 13,14,16.

21 For this cause the Iewes caught mee in the *Temple, and went about to kill me.

Chap.21.30.

22 Neuertheleisse, I obtained helpe of God, and continue vnto this day, witnessing both to small and to great, saying none other things, then those which the Prophets and Moses did say should come,

23 To wit, that Christ should suffer, and that hee should bee the first that should rise from the dead, and should shew light vnto the people, and to the Gentiles.

24 And as he thus answered for himselfe, Festus sayd with a loud voyce, Paul, thou art beside thy selfe: much learning doeth make thee mad.

25 But he sayd, I am not mad, O noble Festus, but I speake the words of truth and soberneisse.

26 For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speake boldly: for I am perswaded that f none of these things are hid from him: for this thing was not done in a corner.

f He knew that the Law and the Prophets were of God, but he did not vnderstand the true applying of the same.

27 O King Agrippa, beleeuest thou the Prophets? I know that thou beleeuest.

28 Then Agrippa sayde vnto Paul, Almost thou perswadest me to become a Christian.

29 Then Paul sayde, I would to God, that not onely thou, but also all that heare me to day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.

30 And when hee had thus spoken, the King rose vp, and the gouernour, and Bernice, and they that sate with them.

31 And when they were gone apart, they talked betweene themselues, saying, This man doeth nothing worthy of death, nor no: of bondes.

32 Then said Agrippa vnto Festus, This man might haue been loosed, if hee had not appealed vnto Cesar.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Pauls dangerous voyage, and his companie toward Rome. 44 How, and where they arriue.

NOwe when it was concluded, that we should sayle into Italie, they deliuered both Paul, and certaine other prisoners vnto a Centurion named Julius, of the band of Augustus.

2. Cor. 11. 25.

2 And * wee entred into a ship of Adramittium, purposing to sayle by the coastes of Asia, and launched forth, and had Aristarchus of Macedonia, a Thessalonian, with vs.

3 And the next day we arriued at Sidon: and Julius curteously intreated Paul, and gaue him liberty to goe vnto his frendes, that they might refresh him.

a From Sidon to Myra they should haue sayled North, and by West: but the winds caused them to saile to Cyprus plaine North: thence to Cilicia North & by East, and so to Pamphylia and Myra plaine West.

4 And from thence we launched, & sayled hard by a Cyprus, because the winds were contrary.

5 Then sailed we ouer the sea by Cilicia, and Pamphylia, and came to Myra, a city in Lycia.

6 And there the Centurion found a ship of Alexandria sayling into Italy, and put vs therein.

‖ Or, Creta.

7 And when we had sailed slowly, many dayes, and scarce were come against Gnidum, because the winde suffered vs not, we sayled hard by ‖ Candie, neere to b Salmone, b Which was an high hill of Candie bowing to the seaward.

8 And with much adoe sayled beyond it, and came vnto a certaine place called the Faire hauens, nere vnto the which was the citie Lasea.

c This fast the Iewes obserued about the moneth of October in the feast of their expiation, Leuit. 23. 37. So that Paul thought it better to winter there, then to saile in the deepe of winter which was at hand.

9 So when much time was spent, and sailing was now ieopardous, because also the c Fast was now passed, Paul exhorted them,

10 And sayd vnto them, Sirs, I see that this voyage will be with hurt and much damage, not of the lading and ship onely, but also of our liues.

11 Neuertheless the Centurion beleeued rather the gouernour and the master of the ship, then those things which were spoken of Paul.

12 And because the hauen was not commodious to winter in, many tooke counsell to departe thence, if by any meanes they might attaine to Phenice, there to winter, which is an hauen of Candie, and lyeth toward the Southwest and by West, and Northwest and by West.

d That is, the Northeast wind or euery East wind that is furious and stormie.

13 And when the Southerne wind blew softly, they supposing to obtaine their purpose, loosed neerer, and sayled by Candy.

e This Isle was West and by South from Candie streight toward the gulfe Syrtes, which were certaine boyling sandes that swallowed vp all that they caught.

14 But anon after, there arose by it a stormie winde called d Euroclydon.

15 And when the ship was caught, and could not resist the wind, we let her goe, and were carried away.

16 And wee ranne vnder a little Ile named e Clauda, and had much adoe to get the boate.

17 Which they tooke vp and vsed all helpe, vndergirding the shippe, fearing lest they should haue fallen into Syrtes, and they let downe the ‖ vessell, and so were carried.

‖ Or, boate.

18 The next day when wee were tossed with an exceeding tempest, they ‖ lightened the ship.

‖ Or, cast out the wares.

19 And the third day wee cast out with our owne hands the tackling of the ship.

20 And when neither sunne nor starres in many dayes appeared, and no smal tempest lay vpon vs, all hope that we should be saued, was then taken away.

21 But after long abstinence, Paul stood forth in the middes of them, and said, Sirs, yee should haue hearkened to mee, and not haue loosed from Candie: so should ye haue f gained this hurt and losse.

f That is, yee should haue saued the losse by auoiding the danger.

22 But now I exhort you to bee of good courage: for there shall bee no losse of any mans life among you, saue of the shippe onely.

g They could not then reproue him of rashnesse, seeing that this was the ordinance of God.

23 For there stood by mee this night the Angel of s God, whose I am, and whom I serue, h The graces and blessings which God giueth to his children, profite many times the enemies, which are vnworthy to receiue the fruit thereof.

24 Saying, Feare not, Paul: for thou must be brought before Cesar: and loe, God hath giuen vnto h thee all that sayle with thee.

i Faith is grounded vpon the word of God.

25 Wherefore, sirs, bee of good courage: for I i beleeue God, that it shall bee so as it hath been told me.

26 Howbeit, wee must be cast into a certaine Iland.

k This sea in Strabos time was taken for all that part, which was about the mountaines called Ceraunij, and so diuideth Italy from Dalmatia, and goeth vp to Venice.

27 And when the fourteenth night was come, as wee were caried to and fro in the k Adriaticall sea about midnight, the shipmen deemed that some countrey approched vnto them, 28 And sounded, and found it twenty fathoms: and when they had gone a little further, they sounded againe, and found fifteene fathoms.

29 Then fearing lest they should haue fallen into some rough places, they cast foure ancres out of the sterne, and wished that the day were come.

l Paul would vse such meanes as God had ordeined, lest he should seeme to haue tempted him.

30 Nowe as the mariners were about to flee out of the ship, and had let downe the boate into the sea vnder a colour as though they would haue cast ancres out of the foreship, 31 Paul said vnto the Centurion and the souldiers, Except these abide in the ship, l ye cannot be safe.

32 Then the souldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let it fall away.

m He meaneth an extraordinary abstinence, which came of the feare of death, and so tooke away their appetite.

33 And when it began to bee day, Paul exhorted them all to take meate, saying, This is the fourteenth day that yee haue tarryed, and continued m fasting, receiuing nothing.

34 Wherefore I exhort you to take meat: for this is for your safegard: for there shall not * an haire fall from the head of any of you.

n By this Hebrew phrase is meant that they should be in all points safe and sound, 1. Sam. 14. 45. 1. King. 1. 52. Matth. 10. 30.

35 And when hee had thus spoken, hee tooke bread, and gaue thankes to God, in presence of them all, and brake it, and began to eate.

36 Then

36 Then were they all of good courage, and they also tooke meate.

37 Now wee were in the ship in all two hundreth threescore and fifteene soules.

38 And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheate into the sea.

39 And when it was day, they knew not the countrey, but they spied a certaine creeke with a banke, into the which they were minded (if it were possible) to thrust in the ship.

40 So when they had taken up the anchres, they committed the shippe vnto the sea, and loosed the rudder bonds, and hoysed vp the maine saile to the wind, and drew to the shore.

41 And when they fell into a place where two seas met, they thrust in the shippe: and the fore-part stucke fast, and could not bee mooued, but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the waues.

• This declareth the great and barbarous ingratitude of the wicked, which cannot be wonne by any benefits, 42 Then the souldiers counsell was • to kill the prisoners: lest any of them, when hee had swomme out, should flee away.

43 But the Centurion willing to saue Paul, stayed them from this counsell, and commaunded that they that could swimme, should cast themselues first into the sea, and goe out to land:

44 And the other, some on boards, and some on certaine pieces of the shippe: and so it came to passe, that they came all safe to land.

CHAP. XXVIII.

2 Paul with his companie are gently intreated of the barbarous people. 5 The viper hurteth him not. 8 Hee healeth Publius father and others, and being furnished by them of things necessarie, he fared toward Rome, 15 Where being receiued of the brethren, he declareth his businesse, 30 And there preacheth two yeeres.

AND when they were come safe, then they knew that the yle was called a Melita.

a Now called Malta.

2 And the Barbarians shewed vs no little kindnesse: for they kindled a fire, and receiued vs every one, because of the present showre, and because of the cold.

3 And when Paul had gathered a number of stickes, and layed them on the ‖ fire, there came a viper out of the heate, and lept on his hand.

‖ Or, heape.

4 Now when the Barbarians sawe the worme hang on his hand, they said among themselues, This man surely is a b murtherer, whome, though hee hath escaped the sea, yet c Vengeance hath not suffered to liue.

b Such is the peruerse iudgement of men that they condemne such as they see in any affliction.

c Whom they made a goddesse and called her Dike, or Nemesis.

5 But hee shooke off the worme into the fire, and felt no harme.

6 Howbeit they waited when he should haue swollen, or fallen downe dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw no inconuenience come to him, they changed their minds, and said, That he was a d God.

d Behold the extremitie of these infidels, and how much they are bent to superstition: for after one rage and errour they fell into another,

7 In the same quarters, the chiefe man of the Ile (whose name was Publius) had possessions: the same receiued vs, and lodged vs three dayes courteously.

8 And so it was, that the father of Publius lay sicke of the feuer, and of a bloody flixe: to whom Paul entred in, and when hee prayed, hee laide his hands on him, and healed him.

9 When this then was done, other also in the Ile, which had diseases, came to him and were healed,

10 Which also did vs great honour: and when wee departed, they laded vs with things necessarie.

11 ¶ Now after three moneths wee departed in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintred in the Ile, whose badge was e Castor and Pollux.

e These the Painims fained to be Iupiters children and gods of the sea, 12 And when wee arriued at Syracuse, we taried there three dayes.

13 And from thence wee fet a compasse, and came to Rhegium: and after one day, the South wind blew, and we came the second day to Puteoli, 14 Where wee found brethren, and were desired to tarie with them seuen dayes, and so we went toward Rome.

15 ¶ And from thence, when the brethren heard of vs, they came to meete vs at the Market of Appius, and at the f three ‖ Tauernes, whom when Paul saw, he thanked God, and waxed bold.

f These places were distant from Rome a dayes iourney, or there about.

‖ Or, shoppes.

16 So when he came to Rome, the Centurion deliuered the prisoners to the generall captaine: but Paul was g suffered to dwell by himselfe with a souldier that kept him.

g No doubt the captaine vnderstood both by Festus letters, and also by the report of the vnder captaine, that Paul had committed no fault.

17 And the third day after, Paul called the chiefe of the Iewes together: and when they were come, he said vnto them, Men and brethren, though I haue committed nothing against the people or Lawes of the fathers, yet was I deliuered prisoner from Ierusalem into the hands of the Romanes.

18 Who when they had examined mee, would haue let me goe, because there was no cause of death in me.

19 But when the Iewes spake contrary, I was constrained to appeale vnto Cesar, not because I had ought to accuse my nation of.

20 For this cause therefore haue I called for you, to see you, and to speake with you: for the hope of h Israels sake, I am bound with this chaine.

h That is, for Iesus Christs cause whom they had long looked for as he that should be the redeemer of the world.

21 Then they said vnto him, We neither receiued letters out of Iudea concerning thee, neither came any of the brethren that shewed or spake any euill of thee.

22 But wee will heare of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this sect, wee knowe that euery where it is spoken against.

23 And when they had appointed him a day, there came many vnto him into his lodging, to whom hee expounded and testified the i kingdome of God, and preached vnto them concerning Iesus, both out of the Law of Moses, and out of the Prophets from morning to night.

i That this kingdome, which was spoken of by the Prophets was offred vnto them by the comming of Christ, 24 And some were perswaded with the things which were spoken, and some beleeued not.

25 Therefore when they agreed not among themthemselues, they departed after that Paul had spoken one word, to wit, Well spake the holy Ghost by Esaias the Prophet vnto our fathers, Isa.6.9.mat.13.14.mar.4.12. luke 8.10.ioh.12.40 rom 11.8.

26 Saying, * k Goe vnto this people, and say, By hearing ye shall heare, and shall not vnderstand, and seeing yee shall see, and not perceiue.

k Hereby the hearts of the infidels ought to be mollified, and the weakelings confirmed, that they be not offended by the bubburnnesse of the wicked.

27 For the heart of this people is waxed fatte, and their eares are dul of hearing, and with their eyes haue they winked, lest they should see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and vnderstande with their heartes, and should returne that I might heale them.

28 Be it knowen therefore vnto you, that this saluation of God is sent to the Gentiles, and they shall heare it.

l The word of God healeth when the vertue of the Spirit is ioyned with it: and it is preached generally, that all men might be inexcusable.

29 And when hee had said these things, the Iewes departed, and had great reasoning among themselues.

30 And Paul remained two yeeres ful in an house hired for himselfe, and receiued all that came in vnto him, 31 Preaching the kingdome of God, and teaching those things, which concerne the Lord Iesus Christ, with all boldnesse of speech, without let.

The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Romanes.

THE ARGVMENT.

THe great mercie of God is declared toward man in Christ Iesus, whose righteousnesse is made ours through faith. For when man by reason of his owne corruption could not fulfill the law, yea, committed most abhominably, both against the law of God, and nature, the infinite bountie of God, mindfull of his promise made to his seruant Abraham, the father of all beleeuers, ordeined that mans saluation should onely stand in the perfit obedience of his Sonne Iesus Christ: so that not onely the circumcised Iewes, but also the vncircumcised Gentiles should be saued by faith in him: euen as Abraham before he was circumcised, was counted iust onely through faith, and yet afterward receiued circumcision, as a seale or badge of the same righteousnesse by faith. And to the intent that none should thinke that the couenant which God made to him and his posteritie, was not performed: either because the Iewes receiued not Christ, (which was the blessed seede) or else beleeued not that he was the true redeemer, because he did not onely, or at least more notably preserue the Iewes: the examples of Ismael and Esau declare, that all are not Abrahams posteritie, which come of Abraham according to the flesh: but also the very strangers and Gentiles grafted in by faith, are made heires of the promise. The cause whereof is the onely will of God: forasmuch as of his free mercy he electeth some to be saued, and of his iust iudgement reiecteth others to be damned, as appeareth by the testimonies of the Scriptures. Yet to the intent that the Iewes should not be too much beaten downe, nor the Gentiles too much puffed vp, the example of Elias proueth, that God hath yet his elect euen of the naturall posteritie of Abraham, though it appeareth not so to mans eye: and for that preferment that the Gentiles haue, it proceedeth of the liberall mercie of God, which he at length will stretch toward the Iewes againe, and so gather the whole Israel (which is his Church) of them both. This ground-worke of faith and doctrine laied, instructions of Christian maners follow: teaching euery man to walke in roundnesse of conscience in his vocation, with all patience and humblenesse, reuerencing and obeying the magistrate, exercising charitie, putting off the old man, and putting on Christ, bearing with the weake, and louing one another according to Christs example. Finally, Saint Paul after his commendations to the brethren, exhorteth them to vnwearied prayer, and to flee false preachers and flatterers, and so concludeth with a prayer.

10 Always in my prayers, beseeching that by some meanes one time or other I might haue a prosperous iourney by the will of God to come vnto you.

11 * For I long to see you, that I might bestowe among you some spirituall gift, to strengthen you, 12 That is, that I might bee comforted together with you, through our mutual faith, both yours and mine.

13 Now my brethren, I would that yee should not bee ignorant, how that I haue oftentimes purposed to come vnto you (but haue bene [m] let hitherto) that I might haue some [n] fruit also among you, as I haue among the other Gentiles.

14 I am debter both to the Grecians, and to the Barbarians, both to the wise men, and to the vnwise.

15 Therefore as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the Gospel to you also that are at Rome.

16 For I am not [o] ashamed of the Gospel of Christ: for it is the * [p] power of God vnto saluation to euery one that beleeueth, to the Iew first, and also to the ‖ Grecian.

17 For by it the [q] righteousnesse of [r] God is reuealed, from faith to faith: as it is written, * The iust shall liue by faith.

18 For the wrath of God is reuealed from heauen against all [s] vngodlinesse, and vnrighteousnesse of men, which withholde the trueth [t] in vnrighteousnesse.

19 For as much as that, which may bee knowen of God, is manifest in them: for God hath shewed it vnto them.

20 For the inuisible things of him, that is, his eternall power and Godhead, are seene by the creation of the world, being considered in his workes, to the intent that they should be without excuse.

21 * Because that when they knew God, they [u] glorified him not as God, neither were thankefull, but became vaine in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was full of darknesse.

22 When they professed themselues to be wise, they became fooles.

23 For they turned the glory of the incorruptible GOD to the similitude of the image of a corruptible man, and of birdes, and foure footed beastes, and of creeping things.

24 Wherefore also God [x] [y] gaue them vp to their hearts lustes, vnto vncleannesse, to defile their owne bodies betweene themselues:

25 Which turned the trueth of God vnto a lie, and worshipped and serued the creature, ‖ forsaking the Creator, which is blessed for euer. Amen.

26 For this cause God gaue them vp vnto vile affections: for euen their women did change the naturall vse into that which is against nature.

27 And likewise also the men left the naturall vse of the woman, and burned in their ‖ lust one toward another, and man with man wrought filthinesse, and receiued in themselues such recompence of their errour, as was meete.

28 For as they regarded not to knowe God, euen so God deliuered them vp vnto a [z] reprobate minde, to do those things which are not conuenient,

29 Being ful of all vnrighteousnesse, fornication, wickednesse, couetousnesse, maliciousnesse, full of enuie, of murther, of debate, of deceite, taking all things in the euill part, whisperers,

30 Backbiters, haters of God, doers of wrong, proud, boasters, inuenters of euill things, disobedient to parents, without vnderstanding, couenant breakers, without naturall affection, such as can neuer bee appeased, mercilesse.

31 Which men, though they knewe * the ‖ Lawe of God, how that they which commit such things, are worthy of death, yet not onely doe the same, but also [b] fauour them that doe them.

CHAP. II.

1 He feareth the hypocrites with Gods iudgement, 7 And comforteth the faithfull. 12 To beat downe all vaine pretence of ignorance, holinesse, and of alliance with God, he proueth all men to be sinners, 15 The Gentiles by their conscience, 17 The Iewes by the Law written.

THerefore thou art inexcusable, O man, whosoeuer thou art that ‖ [a] iudgest: * for in that that thou iudgest another, thou condemnest [b] thy selfe: for thou that iudgest, doest the same things.

2 But wee know that the iudgement of God is according to [c] trueth, against them which commit such things.

3 And thinkest thou this, O thou man, that iudgest them which doe such things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the iudgement of God?

4 Or despisest thou the riches of his bountifulnes, and * patience, and long sufferance, not knowing that the bountifulnesse of God leadeth thee to repentance?

5 But thou after thine hardnesse, and heart that cannot repent, * heapest vnto thy selfe wrath against the day of [d] wrath, and of the declaration of the iust iudgement of God,

6 * Who will reward euery man according to his [e] workes:

7 That is, to them which by continuance in well doing seeke glorie, and honour, and immortalitie, eternall life:

8 But vnto them that are contentious and disobey the trueth, and obey vnrighteousnesse, shalbe indignation and wrath.

o In the inward man and heart.

9 Tribulation and anguish shal bee vpon the soule of euery man that doth euill: of the Iew first, and also of the f Grecian,

10 But to euery man that doth good, shal be glory, and honour, and peace, to the Iewe first, and also to the Grecian.

11 For there is no * respect of persons with God.

12 For as many as haue sinned without the Law, shal perish also h without the Law: and as many as haue sinned in the Law, shal be iudged by the Law, 13 (* For the hearers of the Law are not righteous before God: but the doers of the Law shalbe iustified.

14 For when the Gentiles which haue not the Law, doe by nature the things conteined in the Law, they hauing not the Law, are a Law vnto themselues, 15 Which shewe the effect of the Lawe written in their i hearts, their conscience also bearing witnes, and their thoughts accusing one another, or excusing.)

16 At the day when God shall iudge the secrets of men by Iesus Christ, according to my Gospel.

17 ¶ k Beholde, thou art called a Iewe, and restest in the Law, and * gloriest in God,

18 And knowest his will, and ‖ allowest the things that are excellent, in that thou art instructed by the Law:

19 And perswadest thy selfe that thou art a guide of the blinde, a light of them which are in darknesse, 20 An instructer of them which lacke discretion, a teacher of the vnlearned, which hast the l forme of knowledge, and of the trueth in the law.

21 Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thy selfe? thou that preachest, A man should not steale, dost thou steale?

22 Thou that sayest, A man should not commit adultery, doest thou commit adulterie? thou that abhorrest idoles, committest thou sacrilege?

23 Thou that glorifiest in the Lawe, through breaking of the Lawe, dishonourest thou God?

24 For the Name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles through you, * as it is written.

25 For circumcision verely is profitable, if thou doe the Law: but if thou be a transgressour of the Lawe, thy m circumcision is made vncircumcision.

26 Therefore if the vncircumcision keepe the ordinances of the Lawe, shall not his vncircumcision bee counted for circumcision?

27 And shall not vncircumcision which is by nature (if it keepe the Lawe) ‖ iudge thee, which by the n letter and circumcision art a transgressour of the Law?

28 For he is not a Iew which is one outward: neither is that circumcision which is outward in the flesh:

29 But he is a Iew which is one within, and the * circumcision is of the heart, in the o spirit, not in the letter, whose prayse is not of men, but of God.

CHAP. III.

2 Hauing graunted some prerogatiue to the Iewes, because of Gods free and stable promise, 10 he proueth by the Scriptures, both Iewes and Gentiles to bee sinners, 21.24 and to be iustified by grace through faith, and not by worke, 31 and so the Law to be established.

WHat is then the preferment of the Iewe? or what is the profit of circumcision?

2 Much euery maner of way: for chiefly, because vnto them were committed the ‖ oracles of God.

3 For what though some did not beleeue? shall their * vnbeliefe make the ‖ faith of God without effect?

4 God forbid: yea, let God be * true, and * euery man a lyar, as it is written, * That thou mightest bee a iustified in thy wordes, and ouercome when thou art iudged.

5 Now if b our vnrighteousnesse commend the righteousnesse of God, what shall we say? Is God vnrighteous which punisheth? (I speake c as a man)

6 God forbid: else how shall God iudge the world?

7 For if the veritie of God hath more abounded, through my lie, vnto his glory, why and I yet condemned as a sinner?

8 And (as wee are blamed, and as some affirme that wee say) why doe wee not euill, that good may come thereof? whose damnation is iust.

9 ¶ What then? d are we more excellent? No, in no wise: for we haue already proued, that all, both Iewes and Gentiles are * vnder sinne, 10 As it is written, * There is none righteous, no not one.

11 There is none, that vnderstandeth: there is none that seeketh God.

12 They haue all gone out of the way: they haue beene made altogether vnprofitable: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

13 * Their throate is an open sepulchre: they haue vsed their tongues to deceit: * the poyson of aspes is vnder their lips.

17 And the e way of peace they haue not known.

18 * The feare of God is not before their eyes.

19 Now wee know that whatsoeuer the f Law saith, it saith it to them which are vnder the Law, that euery mouth may be stopped, and all the world bee g culpable before God.

20 * Therefore by the workes of the h Law shall no flesh bee iustified in his sight: for by the Lawe commeth the knowledge of sinne.

*Chap.*1.17.
i The word signifieth them which are left behind in the race, and are not able to runne to the marke, that is to euerlasting life, which here is called the glory of God.
k Or fidelitie in performing his promise.
l The law of faith is the Gospel which offereth salvation with condition (if thou beleeuest) which condition also Christ freely giueth to vs. So the condition of the Law is (if thou doest all these things) the which only Christ hath fulfilled for vs.
m Meaning, that they are all iustified by one meanes, and if they will haue any difference, it onely standeth in wordes: for in effect there is none.

21 But now is the * righteousnes of God made manifest without the Law, hauing witnesse of the Law and of the Prophets, 22 To wit, the righteousnesse of God by the faith of Iesus Christ, vnto all, and vpon all that beleeue.
23 For there is no difference: for all haue sinned, and are i depriued of the glory of God,
24 And are iustified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Iesus,
25 Whom God hath set forth to bee a reconciliation through faith in his blood, to declare his k righteousnesse, by the forgiuenesse of the sinnes that are passed, through the patience of God,
26 To shewe at this time his righteousnesse, that he might be iust, and a iustifier of him which is of the faith of Iesus.
27 Where is then the reioycing? It is excluded. By what Law? of workes? Nay: but by the l Law of faith.
28 Therefore we conclude, that a man is iustified by faith without the workes of the Law.
29 God, is he the God of the Iewes only, and not of the Gentiles also? Yes, euen of the Gentiles also.
30 For it is one God who shall iustifie circumcision m of faith and vncircumcision through faith.
31 Doe wee then make the Law of none effect through faith? God forbid: yea, * wee establish the Law.

n The doctrine of faith is the ornament of the Lawe: for it imbraceth Christ, who by his death hath satisfied the Law: so that the Law which could not bring vs to saluation by reason of our owne corruption, is now made effectuall to vs by Christ Iesus.

CHAP. IIII.

1. 17 Hee declareth that iustification is a free gift, euen by themselues of whom the Iewes most boasted, as of Abraham and of Dauid, 15 And also by the office of the Law and faith.

WHat shall we say then, that Abraham our father hath found a concerning the flesh?
2 For if Abraham were iustified by workes, he hath wherein to b reioyce, but not with God.
3 For what saith the Scripture? * Abraham beleeued God, and it was counted to him for righteousnesse.
4 Now to him that c worketh, the wages is not counted by fauour, but by debt:
5 But to him that d worketh not, but beleeueth in him that e iustifieth the vngodly, his faith is counted for righteousnesse.
6 Euen as Dauid declareth the blessednesse of the man, vnto whom God imputeth righteousnesse without workes, saying,
7 * Blessed are they, whose iniquities are forgiuen, and whose sinnes are couered.
8 Blessed is the man, to whom the Lord imputeth not sinne.
9 Came this blessednesse then vpon the f circumcision onely, or vpon the vncircumcision also? For we say, that faith was imputed vnto Abraham for righteousnesse.
10 How was it then imputed? when hee was circumcised, or vncircumcised? not whe he was circumcised, but when he was vncircumcised.
11 * After he receiued the signe of circumcision, as the seale of the righteousnesse of the faith which he had, when he was vncircumcised, that he should be the father of all them that beleeue, not being circumcised, y righteousnesse might be imputed to them also,
12 And the father of circumcision, not vnto them onely which are of the circumcision, but vnto them also that walke in the z steps of the faith of our father Abraham, which he had when he was vncircumcised.
13 For the promise that he should bee the heire of the worlde, was not giuen to Abraham, or to his seed, through the h Lawe, but through the righteousnesse of faith.
14 For if they which i are of the Law, be k heires, faith is made voyd, and the promise is made of none effect.
15 For the Lawe causeth l wrath: for where no Law is, there is no m transgression.
16 Therefore it is by faith, that it might come by grace, and the promise might bee sure to n all the seede, not to that onely which is of the Lawe: but also to that which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of vs all,
17 (As it is written, * I haue made thee a father of many nations) euen o before God whom hee beleeued, who quickeneth the p dead, and calleth those things which bee not, as though they were.
18 Which Abraham aboue hope beleeued vnder hope, that he should bee the father of many nations, according to that which was spoken to him, * So shall thy seed be.
19 And he q not weake in the faith, considered not his owne body, which was nowe dead, being almost an hundred yere old, neither r the deadnesse of Saras wombe,
20 Neither did hee doubt of the promise of God through vnbeliefe, but was strengthened in the faith, and gaue s glory to God,
21 Being fully assured that he which had promised, was also able to doe it.
22 And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousnesse.
23 Now it is not written for him onely, that it was imputed vnto him for righteousnesse, 24 But also t for vs, to whom it shall bee imputed for righteousnesse, which beleeue in him that raised vp Iesus our Lord from the dead.
25 Who was deliuered to death for our sinnes, and u is risen againe for our iustification.

a That is, by works.
b He might pretend some merite or worke worthy to be recompensed. *Gen.*15.6. *gal*3.6. *iam.*2.23.
c Meriteth by his workes.
d That dependeth not on his works, neither thinketh to merite by them. e Which maketh him that is wicked in himselfe, iust in Christ. Psal 32.1.
f Vnder this excellent sacrament he comprehendeth the whole Law.

*Gen.*17.11.

g This may not be vnderstood of the fruits of faith (for thereof the Apostle doeth hereafter expressly intreat) but of the faith it selfe.
h In fulfilling the works thereof.
i And thinke to performe the same by workes.
k If it be requisite to fulfill the law for him that shalbe of Abrahams inheritance, then it is in vaine to beleeue the promise: for it serueth to no vse.
l Through our default, and not of it selfe.
m That is, no breach of commandement.
n Which beleeue. *Gen.*17.4.
o By a spirituall kindred, which God chiefly accepeth.
p Abraham begate the circumcised, euen by the vertue of faith, and not be the power of nature, which was extinguished: so the Gentiles which were nothing are called by the power of God to be of the number of the faithfull. Gen 15.5.
q But most strong and constant.
r In that she was past child bearing.
s For his mercie and trueth.
t For our instruction: for we shall be iustified by the same meanes.
u To accomplish, and make perfect our iustification.

CHAP. V.

1 He declareth the fruite of faith. 7 And by comparison setteth forth the loue of God and obedience of Christ, which is the foundation & ground of the same.

THen being iustified by faith, wee haue a peace toward God through our Lorde Iesus Christ.

2 By whome also wee haue accesse through faith vnto this grace, wherein wee stand, and reioice vnder the hope of the glory of God.

3 Neither doe we so only, but also we reioyce in tribulations, knowing that tribulation bringeth forth patience.

4 And patience experience, and experience hope.

5 And hope maketh not b ashamed, because the c loue of God is shed abroade in our hearts by the holy Ghost, which is giuen vnto vs.

6 For Christ, when wee were yet of no strength, at his time died for the * vngodly.

7 Doubtlesse one will scarce die for a d righteous man: but yet for a e good man it may be that one dare die.

8 But God setteth out his loue towarde vs, seeing that while wee were yet sinners, Christ died for vs.

9 Much more then, being now iustified by his blood, we shall be saued from wrath through him.

10 For if when wee were f enemies wee were reconciled to God by the death of his Sonne, much more being reconciled, wee shall be saued by his life.

11 And not onely so, but wee also reioyce in God through our Lord Iesus Christ, by whom wee haue nowe receiued the attonement.

12 Wherefore, as by one man sinne entred into the world, and death by sinne, and so death went ouer all men: forasmuch as all men haue sinned.

13 For vnto the g time of the Law was sinne in the world, but sinne is not imputed while there is no Law.

14 But death reigned from Adam to Moses, euen ouer them also that sinned not h after the like maner of the transgression of i Adam, which was the figure of k him that was to come.

15 But yet the gift is not so, as is the offence: for if through the offence of one, many be dead, much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man Iesus Christ, hath abounded vnto many.

16 Neither is the gift so, as that which entred in by one that sinned: for the fault came of one offence vnto condemnation: but the gift is l of many offences to iustification.

17 For if by the offence of one death reigned through one, much more shal they which receiue the abundance of grace, and of the gift of m righteousnes, raigne in life through one, that is, Iesus Christ.

18 Likewise then, as by the offence of one the fault came on all men to condemnation, so by the iustifying of one, the benefit abounded toward n all men to the iustification of life.

19 For as by one mans disobedience, many were made sinners: so by the obedience of one, shall many also bee made righteous.

20 Moreouer the o Law entred thereupon, that the offence should p abound: neuertheless, where sinne abounded, there grace abounded much more:

21 That as sinne had reigned vnto death, so might grace also reigne by righteousnesse vnto eternall life, through Iesus Christ our Lord.

CHAP. VI.

Because no man should glory in the flesh, but rather seeke to subdue it to the Spirit, 3 He sheweth by the vertue and end of Baptisme, 5 That regeneration is ioyned with iustification, and therefore exhorteth to godly life, 21 Setting before ment eyes the reward of sinne and righteousnesse.

WHat shall we say then? Shall we continue still in sinne, that grace may abound? God forbid.

2 How shall we that are a dead to sinne, liue yet therein?

3 Know ye not, that * all we which haue bene baptized into b Iesus Christ, haue been baptized into his death?

4 * Wee are buried then with him by baptisme into his death, that like as Christ was raised vp from the dead by the glory of the Father, so we also should * walke in newnesse of life.

5 * For if wee be c grafted with him d to the similitude of his death, euen so shall wee be to the similitude of his resurrection,

6 Knowing this, that our olde man is crucified with him, that the e body of sinne might bee destroyed, that henceforth wee should not serue sinne.

7 For hee that is dead is f freed from sinne.

8 Wherefore, if we be dead with Christ, we beleeue that we shall liue also with him, 9 Knowing that Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more: death hath no more dominion ouer him.

10 For in that he died, he died once g to sinne: but in that hee liueth, hee liueth to h God.

11 Likewise thinke yee also, that yee are i dead to sinne, but are alliue k to God in Iesus Christ our Lord.

12 Let not sinne reigne therefore in your mortall body, that yee should obey it in the l lusts thereof.

13 Neither giue yee your members as ‖ weapons of vnrighteousnesse vnto sinne: but giue your selues vnto God, as they that are aliue from the dead, and giue your members as weapons of righteousnesse vnto God.

a By peace here is meant that incredible & most constant ioy of minde when we are deliuered frō all terror of conscience and fully perswaded of the fauour of God: and this peace is the fruit of faith. Ephes.2.18. Iames 1.3.

b For it hath euer good successe.

i Wee may gather that we are dead to sinne, when sinne beginneth to die in vs, which is by the participation of Christs death, by whome also being quickened, we liue to God, that is, to righteousnesse.

k In that yee are led with the Spirit of God.

1.7.12 The vse of the Law, 6. 24. And how Christ hath deliuered vs from it. 16 The infirmitie of the faithfull. 23 The dangerous fight betweene the flesh and the spirit.

KNow ye not, brethren, (for I speake to them that knowe the Lawe) that the [a] Law hath dominion ouer a man as long as he liueth?

2 *For [b] the woman which is in subiection to a man, is bound by the Lawe to the man, while hee liueth: but if the man bee dead, shee is deliuered from the lawe of the man.

3 So then, if while the man liueth, shee take another man, she shall be called an*adulteresse: but if the man be dead, shee is free from the Lawe, so that she is not an adulteresse, though she take another man.

4 So ye, my brethren, are dead also to the Lawe by the body of Christ, that yee should be vnto another, euen vnto [c] him that is raysed vp from the dead, that we should bring forth fruit vnto God.

5 For when we were [d] in the flesh, the ‖ motions of sinnes, which were by the Lawe, had force in our members, to bring forth fruit vnto death.

8 But sinne tooke an occasion by the commandement, and wrought in mee all maner of concupiscence: for without the law sinne is dead.

9 For I once [h] was aliue, without the law: but when the commandement came, sinne reuiued, 10 But I died: and the same commaundement which was ordeined vnto life, was found to be vnto me vnto death.

11 For sinne tooke occasion by the commandement, and deceiued mee, and thereby slew me.

12 Wherefore the Law is *holy, and the commaundement is holy, and iust, and good.

13 Was that then which is good, made death vnto me? God forbid: but sinne, that it might [i] appeare sinne, wrought death in me by that which is good, that sinne might bee out of measure sinfull by the commandement.

14 For we know that the Law [k] is spirituall, but I am carnall, sold vnder sinne.

15 For I allow not that which I doe: for what I [l] would, that doe I not: but what I hate, that doe I.

16 If I do then that which I would not, I consent to the Law, that it is good.

17 Now then, it is no more I, that doe [m] it: but the sinne that dwelleth in me.

18 For I knowe that in me, that is, in my ‖ flesh dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with mee: but I finde no meanes to performe that which is good.

19 For I doe not the good thing, which I would, [n] but the euill, which I would not, that doe I.

20 Now if I doe that I would not, it is no more I that doe it, but the sinne that dwelleth in me.

21 I finde then by the Law, that when I would doe good, euill is present with me.

22 For I delight in the Law of God, concerning the [o] inner man:

23 But I see another ‖ Lawe in my [p] members, rebelling against the Lawe of my minde, and leading mee captiue vnto the law of sinne, which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am, who shall deliuer mee from the [q] bodie of this death?

25 I thanke God through Iesus Christ our Lord. Then I my selfe in my [r] minde serue the Lawe of God, but in my [s] flesh the law of sinne.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The assurance of the faithfull, and of the fruit of the holy Ghost in them. 3 The weakenes of the lawe, and who accomplished it, 4 And wherefore. 5 Of what sort the faithfull ought to be. 6 The fruit of the Spirit in them. 17 Of hope. 18 Of patience vnder the crosse. 28 Of the mutuall loue betwixt God and his children. 29 Of his foreknowledge.

NOwe then there is no [a] condemnation to them that are in Christ Iesus, which walke not [b] after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

2 For the [c] Lawe of the Spirit of life, which is in [d] Christ Iesus, hath freed me from the Law of sinne and of death.

3 For (that that was impossible to the Lawe, in as much as it was ‖ weake because of the flesh) God sending his owne Sonne, in the [e] similitude of sinfull flesh, and ‖ for sinne, condemned sinne in the flesh,

4 That the [f] righteousnesse of the Law might be fulfilled in vs, which walke not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

5 For they that are after the flesh, sauour the [g] things of the flesh: but they that are after the Spirit, the things of the Spirit.

6 For the wisedome of the flesh is death: but the wisedome of the Spirit is life and peace,

7 Because the wisedome of the flesh is enmity against God: for it is not subiect to the Law of God, neither in deed can be.

8 So then they that are in the flesh, cannot please God.

9 Now ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, ‖ because the Spirit of God dwelleth in you: but if any man hath not the Spirit of Christ, the same is not his.

10 And if Christ be in you, the ‖ body is dead because of sinne: but the [h] Spirit is life for righteousnesse sake.

11 But if the Spirit of him that raysed vp Iesus from the dead, dwell in you, he that raised vp Christ from the dead, shall also quicken your mortal bodies, because that his Spirit dwelleth in you.

12 Therefore brethren, wee are debters not to the flesh, to liue after the [i] flesh:

13 For if ye liue after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye mortifie the deeds of the body by the Spirit, ye shall liue.

14 For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sonnes of God.

15 For yee haue not receiued the spirit of bondage to feare againe: but ye haue receiued the spirit of [k] adoption, whereby wee cry * Aba, Father.

16 The same spirit [l] beareth witnesse with our spirit, that wee are the children of God.

17 If we be children, we are also [m] heires, euen the heires of God, and heires annexed with Christ, if so be that wee suffer with him, that wee may also bee glorified with him.

18 For I count that the afflictions of this present time, are not ‖ worthy of the glory, which shall be shewed vnto vs.

19 For the feruent desire of the creature waiteth when the sonnes of God shall be reuelled,

20 Because the [n] creature is subiect to [o] vanity, not of it owne will, but by reason of him which hath subdued it vnder hope,

21 Because the creature also shall bee deliuered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious libertie of the sonnes of God.

22 For wee know that euery [p] creature groneth with vs also, and trauaileth in paine together vnto this present, 23 And not onely the creature, but we also which haue the [q] first fruits of the Spirit, euen we doe sigh in our selues, waiting for the adoption, euen the * redemption of our [r] body.

24 For we are saued by hope: but [s] hope that is seene, is not hope: for how can a man hope for that which he seeth?

25 But if we hope for that we see not, we do with patience abide for it.

26 Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for we know not what to pray as we ought: but the Spirit it selfe maketh request for vs with sighes, which cannot be expressed.

27 But hee that searcheth the hearts, knoweth what is the meaning of the Spirit: for hee [t] maketh request for the Saints, according to the will of God.

28 Also we know that all things worke together for the best vnto them that loue God, euen to them that are called of his purpose.

29 For those which he [u] knew before, he also predestinated to bee made like to the image of his Sonne, that he might be the first borne among many brethren.

30 Moreouer, whom he predestinated, them also he called, and whom hee called, them also he iustified, and whom he iustified, them he also glorified.

31 What shal we then say to these things? If God be on our side, who can bee against vs?

32 Who spared not his owne sonne, but gaue him for vs all to death, how shall he not with him giue vs all things also?

33 Who shall lay any thing to the charge of Gods chosen? It is God that * [x] iustifieth.

34 Who shall condemne? It is Christ, which is dead, yea or rather, which is risen againe, who is also at the right hand of God, and maketh request also for vs.

35 Who shall separate vs from the loue of [y] Christ? shall tribulation, or anguish, or persecution, or famine, or nakednesse, or perill, or sword?

36 As it is written, * For thy sake are we [z] killed a Though sinne be in vs, yet it is not imputed vnto vs through Christ Iesus.

k So hee nameth the holy Ghost of the effect, which he causeth in vs, when hee proposeth vs saluation by the Law with an impossible condition, who also doth seale our saluation in our hearts by Christs free adoption, that we consider not God now as a rigorous Lord, but as a most mercifull Father. Galat. 4. 5, 6.

i As the only wil & purpose of God is the chiefe cause of election, & reprobation: so his free mercy in Christ is an inferiour cause of saluation, and the hardening of the heart an inferiour cause of damnation.

I Say the truth a in Christ, I lie not, my conscience bearing me witnesse in the holy Ghost.
2 That I haue great heauinesse, and continuall sorrow in mine heart.
3 For I would wish my selfe to bee b separated from Christ, for my brethren that are my kinsemen according to the flesh.
4 Which are the Israelites, to whome pertaineth the adoption, and the c glory, & the d * Couenants, and the giuing of the Law, and the seruice of God, and the promises.
5 Of whom are the fathers, and of whom concerning the flesh, Christ came, who is e God ouer all, blessed for euer Amen.
6 * Not withstanding it cannot bee that the word of God should take none effect: for all they are not f Israel, which are of Israel:
7 Neither are they all children, because they are the seede of Abraham: * but, In g Isaac shall thy seede be called:
8 That is, they which are the children of the h flesh, are not the children of God: but the * children of the promise are counted for the seede.
9 For this is a word of promise, * In this same time will I come, and Sara shall haue a sonne.
10 Neither he onely felt this but also Rebecca when she had conceiued by one, euen by our father Isaac.
11 For, yer the children were borne, and when they had neither done good nor euill, (that the purpose of God might remaine according to election, not by workes, but by him that calleth.)
12 It was said vnto her, * The elder shall serue the yonger:
13 As it is written, * I haue loued Iacob and haue hated Esau.
14 What shall we say then? Is there vnrighteousnesse with God? God forbid.
15 For he saith to Moses, * I will haue mercy on him to whom I will shew mercie: and will haue compassion on him, on whom I will haue compassion.
16 So then it is not in him that willeth, nor in him that runneth, but in God that sheweth mercy.
17 For the k Scripture saith vnto Pharao, * For this same purpose haue I stirred thee vp, that I might shew my power in thee, and that my Name might bee declared throughout all the earth.
18 Therefore he hath mercy on whom he will, and whom he will, he hardeneth.
19 Thou wilt say then vnto mee, Why doeth he yet complaine? for who hath resisted his will?

24 Euen vs, whom he hath called, not of the Iewes onely, but also of the Gentiles.
25 As he saith also in Osee, * I will call them, My people, which were not my people: and her, Beloued, which was not beloued.
26 And it shalbe, in the place where it was said vnto them, * Ye are not my people, that there they shall be called, The children of the liuing God.
27 Also Esaias crieth concerning Israel, * Though the number of the children of Israel were as the sand of the sea, yet shall but a remnant be saued.
28 l For he will make his account, and gather it vnto a short summe with righteousnesse: for the Lord will make a short count in the earth.
29 * And as Esaias said before, Except the Lord of hosts had left vs a seed, we had beene made as m Sodome, and had bene like to Gomorrha.
30 What shall we say then? That the Gentiles which followed not righteousnesse, haue attained vnto righteousnesse, euen the righteousnesse which is of faith.
31 But Israel which followed the Law of righteousnesse, could not attaine vnto the Law of righteousnesse.
32 Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the workes of the Law: for they haue stumbled at the stumbling stone.
33 As it is written, * Behold, I lay in Sion a n stumbling stone, and a rocke to make men fall: and euery one that beleeueth in him, shall not be ashamed.

Brethren, mine hearts desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saued.

2 For I beare them record, that they haue [a] the zeale of God, but not according to knowledge.

3 For they being ignorant of the righteousnesse of God, and going about to stablish their owne righteousnesse, haue not submitted themselues to the righteousnesse of God.

4 * For Christ is the [b] end of the Lawe for righteousnesse vnto euery one that beleeueth.

5 For Moses thus describeth the righteousnesse which is of the Law, * That the man which doeth these things, shall liue thereby.

6 But the righteousnesse which is of faith, speaketh on this wise, [c] * Say not in thine heart, who shall ascend into heauen? (that is, to bring Christ from aboue.)

7 Or, Who shall descend into the deepe? (that is to bring Christ againe from the dead)

8 But what saith it? * The word is neere thee, euen in thy mouth, and in thine heart. This is the [d] word of faith which we preach.

9 For if thou shalt confesse with thy mouth the Lord Iesus, and shalt beleeue in thine heart, that God raised him vp from the dead, thou shalt be saued.

10 For with the heart man beleeueth vnto righteousnesse, and with the [e] mouth man confesseth to saluation.

11 For the Scripture saith, * Whosoeuer beleeueth in him shall not be ashamed.

12 For there is no difference betweene the Iewe and the Grecian: for hee that is Lord ouer all, is rich vnto all, that call on him.

13 * For whosoeuer shall call vpon the Name of the Lord, shall be saued.

14 But how shall they call on him, in whom they haue not beleeued: and how shall they beleeue in him, of whom they haue not heard? and how shall they heare without a preacher?

15 And how shall they preach, except they be sent? as it is written, * How beautifull are the ‖ feete of them which bring glad tidings of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things!

16 But they haue not all obeyed the Gospel: for Esaias saith, * Lord, who hath beleeued our [f] report.

17 Then faith is by hearing, and hearing [g] by the word of God.

18 But I demaund, Haue [h] they not heard? * No doubt their [i] sound went out through all the earth, and their words into the ends of the [k] world.

19 But I demand, did not Israel know God? First Moses saith, * I will prouoke you to enuy by a nation that is not my nation, and by a foolish nation I will anger you.

20 * And Esaias is bold, and saith, Was I found of them that sought me not, and haue bene made manifest to them that asked not after me.

21 And vnto Israel he saith, * All the day long haue I stretched forth mine hand vnto a ‖ disobedient and gainsaying people.

CHAP. XI.

4 God hath his Church, although it be not seene to mans eye. 5 The grace shewed to the elect. 7 The iudgment of the reprobate 8 God hath blinded the Iewes for a time and reuealed himselfe to the Gentiles. 18 Whom he warneth to humble themselues. 29 The gifts of God without repentance. 33 The depth of Gods iudgements.

I Demaund then, Hath God cast away his people? God forbid. For I also am an Israelite, of the seede of Abraham, of the tribe of Beniamin.

2 God hath not cast away his people which hee [a] knew before. Know yee not what the Scripture saith of Elias, how hee maketh request vnto God [b] against Israel, saying,

3 * Lord, they haue killed thy Prophets, and digged downe thine altars: and I am left alone, and they seeke my life?

4 But what saith the answere of God to him? * I haue reserued vnto my selfe [c] seuen thousand men, which haue not bowed the knee to Baal.

5 Euen so then at this present time is there a remnant through the ‖ election of grace.

6 And if it bee of grace, it is no more of works: or else grace, were no more grace: but if it be of workes, it is no more grace: or else were worke no more worke.

7 What then? Israel hath not obteined that he sought: but the election hath obteined it, and the rest haue bene hardened.

8 According as it is written, * God hath giuen them the spirit of ‖ slumber: eyes that they should not see, & eares that they should not heare vnto this day.

9 And Dauid saith, * Let their [b] table be made a snare, and a net, and a stumbling blocke euen for a recompence vnto them.

10 Let their eyes bee darkened that they see not, & * bow downe their backe alwayes.

11 I demaund then, Haue they stumbled, that they [f] should fall? God forbid: but through their fall saluation commeth vnto the Gentiles, to [g] prouoke them to follow them.

12 Wherefore if the fall of them bee the riches of the world: and the diminishing of them the [h] riches of the Gentiles, how much more shall their abundance be?

13 For in that I speake to you Gentiles, in as much as I am the Apostle of the Gentiles I magnifie mine office.

a That is, a certaine affection, but not a true knowledge. Gal. 3.24.

b The end of the Law is to iustifie them which obserue it: therefore Christ hauing fulfilled it for vs, is made our iustice, sanctification, &c. Leuit. 18.5. ezek. 20.11. gal. 3.12.

c Because wee cannot performe the Law, it maketh vs to doubt, who shall goe to heauen, and to say, Who shall go downe to the deepe to deliuer vs thence? but faith teacheth vs that Christ is ascended vp to take vs with him, and hath descended into the depth of death to destroy death, and deliuer vs. Deut. 30.12. Deut. 30.14.

d That is, the promise and the Gospel which agreeth with the Law.

e That is, the way to be saued, is to beleeue with heart, that wee are saued only by Christ, and to confesse the same before the world. Isai. 28.16. Ioel 2.32. actes 2.21. Isai. 52.7. nahum. 1.15. ‖ Or, the comming.

It may bee also taken for the very preaching it selfe. h Both the Iewes and Gentiles Psal. 19.4. i The Ebrew word signifieth the line or proportion of the heauens, whose most excellent frame, besides the rest of Gods creatures, preacheth vnto the whole world, and setteth forth the worthinesse of the Creator.

k Then seeing all the world knew God by his creatures, the Iewes could not be ignorant, and so sinned of malice. Deut. 32.21. Isai 65.1, Isai 65.2. ‖ Or, vnbeleeuing.

a And elected before all beginning.

b He talked with God, not that he should punish Israel, but yet lamented their falshood, and so his words made against them. 1 King. 19.10. 1 King. 19.18.

d Christ by the mouth of the Prophet wisheth that which came vpon the Iewes, that is, that as birds are taken whereas they thinke to finde food, so the Law which the Iewes of a blind zeale preferred to the Gospel, thinking to haue saluation by it, should turne to their destruction.

e Take from them thy grace and strength.

f Without hope to be restored g The Iewes to follow the Gentiles. h In that the Gentiles haue the knowledge of the Gospel.

15 For if the casting away of them be the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiuing be but k life from the dead?

16 For if l the first fruits be holy, so is the whole lumpe: and if the m roote be holy, so are the branches.

17 And though some of the branches bee broken off, and thou being a wilde Oliue tree, wast graft in ‖ for them, and made partaker of the roote, and fatnesse of the n Oliue tree, 18 Boast not thy selfe against the branches: and if thou boast thy selfe, thou bearest not the roote, but the roote thee.

19 Thou wilt say then, The branches are broken off, that I might be graft in.

20 Well: through vnbeliefe they are broken off, and thou standest by faith: bee not high minded, but o feare.

21 For if God spared not the naturall branches, take heed, lest he also spare not thee.

22 p Behold therefore the bountifulnesse, and seueritie of God: toward them which haue fallen, seueritie: but toward thee, bountifulnesse, if thou continue in his bountifulnesse: or else thou shalt also be cut off.

23 And they also, if they abide not still in vnbeliefe, shall be grafted in: for God is able to graffe them in againe.

24 For if thou wast cut out of the Oliue tree, which was wilde by nature, and wast grafted contrarie to nature in a right Oliue tree, how much more shall they that are by nature, be grafted in their owne Oliue tree?

25 For I would not, brethren, that yee should bee ignorant of this secret, (lest yee should be arrogant in your selues) that partly q obstinacie is come to Israel, vntill the fulnesse of the Gentiles be come in.

26 And so r all Israel shall be saued, as it is written, * The deliuerer shall come out of Sion, and shall turne away the vngodlinesse from Iacob.

27 And this is my couenant to them, * When I shall take away their sinnes.

28 As concerning the Gospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are beloued for the fathers sakes.

29 For the t gifts and calling of God are without repentance.

30 For euen as yee in time past haue not beleeued God, yet haue now obtained mercy through their vnbeliefe, 31 Euen so now haue they not beleeued ‖ by the mercy shewed vnto you, that they also may obtaine mercy.

32 For God hath shut vp u all in vnbeliefe, that he might haue mercy on all.

33 O the depenesse of the riches, both of the wisedome and knowledge of God! how vnsearchable are his iudgements, and his wayes past finding out!

34 * For u who hath knowen the minde of the Lord? or who was his counseller?

35 Or who hath x giuen vnto him first, and he shall be recompensed?

36 For of y him, and through him, and for him are all things: to him be glory for euer. Amen.

x That is, preuoked him by his good workes?

y All things are created & preserued of God to set forth his glory.

CHAP. XII.

The conuersation, loue and workes of such as beleeue in Christ. 19 Not to seeke reuengeance.

1 BEseech you therefore brethren, by the mercies of God, that yee giue vp your bodies a a liuing sacrifice, holy, acceptable vnto God, which is your b reasonable seruing of God.

2 And fashion not your selues like vnto this world, but be ye changed by the renewing of your minde, that ye may * proue what is the c good will of God, and acceptable, and perfect.

3 For I say through the grace that is giuen vnto mee, to euery one that is among you, that no man presume to vnderstand, aboue that which is meete to vnderstand, but that he d vnderstand according to e sobriety, as God hath dealt to euery man the * measure of faith.

4 For as wee haue many members in one body, and all members haue not one office,

5 So wee being many are one body in Christ, and euery one, one anothers members.

6 * Seeing then that we haue gifts that are diuers, according to the grace that is giuen vnto vs, whether we haue f prophecie, let vs prophesie according to the proportion of our faith:

7 Or an office, let vs waite on the office: or he that teacheth, on teaching:

8 Or he that exhorteth, on exhortation: hee that h distributeth, let him doe it * with simplicitie: hee that ruleth, with diligence: hee that i sheweth mercie, with * cheerefulnesse.

9 Let loue be without dissimulation. * Abhorre that which is euill, and cleaue vnto that which is good.

10 * Bee affectioned to loue one another with brotherly loue. In giuing honour, goe one before another.

11 Not slothfull to doe seruice: feruent in spirit: seruing ‖ the Lord,

12 Reioycing in hope, patient in tribulation, * continuing in prayer, 13 * Distributing vnto the necessities of the Saints: * giuing your selues to hospitalitie.

14 * Bless them which persecute you: bless, I say, and curse not.

15 Reioyce with them that reioyce, and weepe with them that weepe.

a In stead of dead beasts, liuely sacrifice: in stead of the blood of beasts, which was but a shadow, & pleased not God of it selfe, the acceptable sacrifice of the spirituall man, framed by faith to godlinesse and charitie.

b That is, true, lawfull, and spirituall, 1 Pet 2 5. Ephes. 5.17.

c 1. thes 4.1, 3.

c Whatsoeuer is not agreeable to Gods wil, is euil, displeasant, and vnperfect.

d Two things are required if wee will iudge soberly of Gods gifts in vs: the one, that we doe not arrogate to our selues that which we haue not: next, that wee boast not of the gifts, but reuerently vse them to Gods honour.

e That is, soberly, not neglecting Gods gifts, but vsing them to his glory.

f By prophesying here, he meaneth preaching and teaching, and by office and ministerie, all such offices, as pertaine to the Church, as Elders, Deacons, &c.

g By faith he meaneth the knowledge of God in Christ, with the gifts of the holy Ghost.

2 Whosoeuer therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist, shal receiue to themselues a iudgement.

a Not onely the punishment of the iudges, but also the vengeance of God.

3 For princes are not to bee feared for good workes, but for euill. Wilt thou then be without feare of the power? doe well: so shalt thou haue praise of the same.

4 For hee is the minister of God for thy wealth: but if thou doe euill, feare: for hee beareth not the sword for nought: for hee is the minister of God ‡ to take vengeance on him that doeth euill.

5 Wherefore yee must be subiect, not because of wrath onely, but also for b conscience sake.

6 For, for this cause ye pay also tribute: for they are Gods ministers, applying themselues for the same c thing.

1 The weake ought not to be despised. 10 No man should offend anothers conscience. 15 But one to support another in charitie and faith.

HIm that is weake in the a faith, receiue vnto you, but not b for controuersies of disputations.

a That is, the doctrine of the Gospel.
b Lest he should depart either more ignorant then he came, or else with a greater scruple of conscience.

2 One beleeueth that he may eate of all things: and another, which is weake, eateth herbes.

3 Let not him that eateth, despise him that eateth not: and let not him which eateth not, iudge him that eateth: for God hath receiued him.

4 * Who art thou that condemnest another mans seruant? hee standeth or falleth to his owne c master: yea, he shall bee established: for God is able to make him stand.

Iam 4.12. c It is the Lords matter, and not thine.

5 This man esteemeth one day aboue another day, and another man counteth euery day alike: let euery man be d fully perswaded in his minde.

d We must be assured in our conscience by Gods word in all things that we doe: that if we be strong, we may know what is our libertie, and if we be weake, we may learne to profit dayly.

6 He that e obserueth the day, obserueth it to the f Lord: and hee that obserueth not the day, obserueth it not to the Lord. Hee that eateth, eateth to the Lord: for hee giueth God thankes: and he that g eateth not, h eateth not to the Lord, and giueth God thankes.

e That counteth one day more holy then another.
f Who iudgeth whether he doe well or no.
g Because hee thinketh the meates vncleane by the Law.
h Here we must note three things: first, that he speaketh of things which of themselues are 7 For none of vs liueth i to himselfe, neither doth any die to himselfe.

8 For whether we liue, we liue vnto the Lord: or whether wee die, wee die vnto the Lord: whether we liue therefore, or die, wee are the Lords.

9 For Christ therefore died, and rose againe, and reuiued, that hee might be Lord both of the dead and the quicke.

10 But why doest thou iudge thy brother? or why doest thou despise thy brother? * for wee shall all appeare before the iudgement seat of Christ.

11 For it is written, * I k liue, saith the Lord, and euery knee shall bow to mee, and all tongues shall l confesse vnto God.

indifferent, albeit in the law they were not: next, that he reproueth not the condemning of the acte, but of the persons: thirdly, that he meaneth not the stubburne & malicious, whom he cal leth dogs and concision, but the weake and infirme, to whom God as yet had not reuealed the perfect liberty. i Both our life & death ought to profit our brother. 2.Cor.5.10. Isa 45 23 phil.2.10. k This oath particularly appertaineth to God, who is the true life of himselfe, and giueth it to all others. l And acknowledge me for their God.

12 So then euery one of vs shall giue accounts of himselfe to God.

13 Let vs not therefore iudge one another any more: but vse your iudgement rather in this, that no man put an occasion to fall, or a stumbling blocke before his brother.

m He preuenteth the obiection which the Christians might vse. 1 Cor. 8. 11.

14 m I know, and am perswaded through the Lord Iesus, that there is nothing vncleane of it selfe: but vnto him that iudgeth any thing to be vncleane, to him it is vncleane.

n Which is the benefit of Christian liberty, by abusing whereof yee cause the weakelings to blaspheme the Gospel, which might seeme to them contrary to Gods will, and the doctrine of the law.

15 But if thy brother bee grieued for the meate, nowe walkest thou not charitably: * destroy not him with thy meate, for whom Christ died.

16 Cause not your n commodity to be euill spoken of.

o God will not reigne ouer his by such obseruations.

17 For the o kingdome of God is not meat nor drinke, but righteousnes, and peace, and ioy in the holy Ghost.

p In peace and righteousnesse. Titus 1. 15.

18 For whosoeuer p in these things serueth Christ, is acceptable vnto God, and is approued of men.

19 Let vs then follow those things which concerne peace, and wherewith one may edifie another.

1 Cor. 8. 13.

20 Destroy not the worke of God for meates sake: * all things indeede are pure: but it is euill for the man which eateth with offence.

q Faith here is taken for a full perswasion of the Christian liberty in things indifferent, as the Apostle interpreteth it in the 14. verse.

21 * It is good neither to eate flesh, nor to drinke wine, nor any thing, whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or made weake.

r Which hath none euil remorse of conscience in his doing.

22 Hast thou q faith? haue it with thy selfe before God: blessed is he that r condemneth not himselfe in that thing which he alloweth.

s Meaning of a right conscience

23 For he that doubteth, is condemned if he eate, because hee eateth not of faith: and whatsoeuer is not of s faith, is sinne.

CHAP. XV.

1 Paul exhorteth them to support and loue one another by the example of Christ, 9 & by the only mercy of God, which is the cause of saluation both of the one and the other. 14 He sheweth his zeale toward them and the Church, 30 and requireth the same of them.

WEe which are strong, ought to beare the infirmities of the weake, and not to please our selues.

a To edifie, signifieth to do all maner duties to our neighbour, either to bring him to Christ, or if he bee wonne, that he may grow from faith to faith: for the faithfull are called the Temple of God wherein he is resident by his holy Spirit: & these faithfull are the stones of the newe Ierusalem: that is, the vniuersall Church, Isa 54. Reuel. 21. of the which building Christ is the chiefe corner stone, Ephe. 2. 20. Psal. 69 9. b I did so beare them as if they had bene done to me, and not to my father. c Which is the authour of patience.

2 Therefore let euery man please his neighbour in that that is good to a edification.

3 For Christ also would not please himselfe, but as it is written, * The rebukes of them which rebuke thee, fell b on me.

4 For whatsoeuer things are written afore time, are written for our learning, that wee through patience, and comfort of the Scriptures, might haue hope.

5 Now the God of c patience and consolation giue you that ye be * like minded one towards another, according to Christ Iesus,

1. Cor. 1. 10. Phil. 3. 16. & 4. 3

6 That ye with one minde, and with one mouth may praise God, euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ.

7 Wherefore, receiue yee one another, as Christ also receiued vs to the d glory of God.

d To make vs partakers of Gods glorie.

8 Now I say, that Iesus Christ was a e minister of the circumcision, for the f truth of God, to confirme the promises made vnto the fathers.

e First to gather the Iewes, and then the Gentiles, that both might be made one flocke.

f that God might be knowen true.

9 And let the Gentiles praise God for his mercy, as it is written, * For this cause I will confesse thee among the Gentiles, and sing vnto thy Name.

Psal. 18. 49. 2. sam. 22. 50 Deut. 32. 43.

10 And againe he sayth, * Reioyce, yee Gentiles, with his people.

Psal. 117. 1.

11 And againe, * Praise the Lord all yee Gentiles, and laud yee him all people together.

Isa. 11. 11.

g Which is Christ, who did spring as a young bud out of the drie and dead roote.

12 And againe Esaias saith, * There shal be a roote of Iesse, and g he that shall rise to reigne ouer the h Gentiles, in him shall the Gentiles trust.

h Then seeing he tooke both the Iewes and Gentiles to his Fathers glory, they ought by his example loue together.

13 Now the God of hope fill you with all ioy, and peace in beleeuing, that yee may abound in hope, through the power of the holy Ghost.

14 And I my selfe also am perswaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are ful of goodnesse, and filled with all knowledge, and are able to admonish one another.

15 Nenertheles brethren, I haue somewhat boldly after a sort written vnto you, as one that putteth you in remembrance, through the grace that is giuen mee of God,

16 That I should be the minister of Iesus Christ toward the Gentiles, ministring the Gospel of God, that the offering vp of the Gentiles might bee acceptable i being sanctified by the holy Ghost.

i The minister offereth vp the people to God by the Gospel.

17 I haue therefore whereof I may reioyce in Christ Iesus in those things which pertaine to God.

18 For I dare not k speake of any thing which Christ hath not wrought by mee, to make the Gentiles obedient in word and deede, k God gaue him such ample occasions to set forth his excellent workes that he had done by him, that the Apostle need not to seeke any other thing to boast vpon.

19 With the power of signes and wonders, by the power of the spirit of God: so that from Ierusalem, and round about vnto Illyricum, I haue caused to abound the Gospel of Christ.

20 Yea, so I inforced my selfe to preach the Gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should haue built on another mans foundation.

21 But as it is written, * To whom hee was not spoken of, they shal see him, and they that heard not, shall vnderstand him.

Isa. 52. 15.

22 Therefore also I haue bene * oft let to come vnto you.

The first Epistle of Paul to the Corinthians.

THE ARGVMENT.

After that Saint Paul had preached at Corinthus a yeere and an halfe, he was compelled by the wickednesse of the Iewes to saile into Syria. In whose absence false apostles entred into the Church, who being puffed vp with vaine glory, and affectate eloquence, sought to bring into contempt the simplicitie which Paul vsed in preaching the Gospel. By whose ambition such factions and schismes sprang vp in the Church, that from opinions in policies & ceremonies, they fell to false doctrine and heresies, calling into doubt the resurrection from the dead, one of the chiefest points of Christian Religion. Against these euils the Apostle proceedeth, preparing the Corinthians hearts, and eares with gentle salutations: but soone after he reproueth their contentions and debates, their arrogancie and pride, and exhorteth them to concord and humilitie, setting before their eyes the spirituall vertue, and heauenly wisedome of the Gospel, which cannot be perswaded by worldly wit and eloquent reasons, but is reueiled by Gods Spirit, and so sealed in mens hearts. Therefore this saluation may not be attributed to the ministers, but onely to God, whose seruants they are, and haue receiued charge to edifie his Church: wherein Saint Paul behaued himselfe skilfully, building according to the foundation (which is Christ) and exhorteth others to make the end proportionable to the beginning, taking diligent heede that they be not polluted with vaine doctrine, seeing they are the Temple of God. And as for those that doubted of his Apostleship, he sheweth them that he dependeth not on mans iudgment, albeit he had declared by manifest signes, that he neuer sought his own glory, neither yet how he might liue, but only the glory of Christ: which thing at his comming he would declare more amply, to the shame of those vaineglorious braggers, who sought themselues onely, and therefore suffered most horrible vices vnreproued and vnpunished, as incest, contentions, pleadings before infidels, fornication, and such like, to the great slander of the Gospel. This done, he answereth to certaine points of the Corinthians letter, as touching single life, duetie of mariage, of discord and dissention among the married, of virginitie, and second mariage. And because some thought it nothing to be present at idole seruice, seeing in their heart they worshipped the true God, he warneth them to haue respect to their weake brethren, whose faith by that dissembling was hindered, and their consciences wounded, which thing rather then he would doe, hee would neuer vse that libertie, which God had giuen him. But forasmuch as pride, and selfe will was the cause of those great euils, he admonisheth them by the example of the Iewes not to glory in these outward gifts, whose horrible punishment for the abuse of Gods creatures, ought to be a warning to all men to follow Christ vprightly, without all pollution and offence of others. Then he correcteth diuers abuses in their Church, as touching the behauiour of men, and women in the assemblies: of the Lords Supper, the abuse of the Spirituall gifts, which God hath giuen to maintaine loue, and edifie the Church: as concerning the resurrection from the dead, without the which the Gospel seruеth to no vse. Last of all, he exhorteth the Corinthians to relieue the poore brethren at Ierusalem, to persеuere in the loue of Christ, and well doing, sending his commendations, and wishing them peace.

CHAP. I.

1 He praiseth the great graces of God shewed toward them, 10 Exhorting them to concord and humilitie. 19 Hee beateth downe all pride, and wisdom which is not grounded on God, 26 Shewing whom God hath chosen to confound the wisedome of the world.

PAVL called to bee an Apostle of IESVS CHRIST, through the will of God, and our brother Sosthenes,

2 Vnto the Church of God, which is at Corinthus, to them that are [a] sanctified in Christ Iesus, [b] Saints by calling, * with all that [c] call on the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ in euery place, both their Lord and ours:

knit together in one mind, and in one iudgement.

11 For it hath been declared vnto mee, my brethren, of you, by them that are of the house of [i] Cloe, that there are contentions among you.

12 Nowe this I say, that euery one of you sayeth, I am Paules, and I am *Apollos, and I am Cephas, and I am Christs.

13 Is Christ diuided? was Paul crucified for you? either were yee baptized [k] into the name of Paul?

14 I thanke God, that I baptized none of you, but *Crispus, and [l] Gaius, 15 Lest any should say, that I had baptized into mine owne name.

16 I baptized also the houshold of Stephanas: furthermore know I not whether I baptized any other.

17 For Christ sent mee not to [m] baptize, but to preach the Gospel, not with *[n] wisedome of wordes, [o] lest the crosse of Christ should be made of none effect.

18 For the preaching of the crosse is to them that perish, foolishnesse: but vnto vs which are saued, it is the *power of God.

19 For it is written, *I will destroy the wisedome of the wise, and will cast away the vnderstanding of the prudent.

20 Where is the wise? where is the [p] Scribe? where is the [q] disputer of the worlde? hath not God made the wisedome of this world foolishnesse?

21 For seeing the world by wisdom knew not God in the wisedome of God, it pleased God by the foolishnesse of preaching to saue them that beleeue:

22 Seeing also that the Iewes require a* signe, and the Grecians seeke after wisedome.

23 But we preach Christ crucified: vnto the Iewes, euen a stumbling blocke, and vnto the Grecians, foolishnesse:

24 But vnto them which are called, both of the Iewes and Grecians, wee preach Christ, the power of God, and the wisedome of God.

25 For the [r] foolishnesse of God is wiser then men, & the weakenesse of God is stronger then men.

26 For brethren, you see your calling, how that not many wise men [s] after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble are called.

27 But God hath chosen ỹ foolish things of the world, to confound the wise, and God hath chosen the weake things of the worlde, to confound the mighty things.

28 And vile things of the world, & things which are despised, hath God chosen, and things [t] which are not, to bring to nought things [u] that are,

29 That no [x] flesh should reioyce in his presence.

30 But yee are of him in Christ Iesus, who of God is made vnto vs *wisedome and righteousnesse, and sanctification, and redemption, 31 That according as it is written, *He that reioyceth, [y] let him reioyce in the Lord.

*Ier.23.5,6. *Iere.9.24. 2.cor.10.17.

y That is, attribute all things to God with thankesgiuing.

CHAP. II.

1 Hee putteth for example his maner of preaching, which was according to the tenour of the Gospel, 8 Which Gospel was contemptible and hid to the carnall, 10 And againe honourable and manifest to the spirituall.

AND I brethren, when I came to you, came not with *excellency of wordes, or of wisedome, shewing vnto you the ‖ [z] testimony of God.

*Chap.1.17. ‖Or, mysterie.

2 For I esteemed not to ‖ knowe any thing among you, saue Iesus Christ, & him crucified.

3 *And I was among you in [b] weaknes, and in feare, and in much trembling.

4 Neither stood my worde, and my preaching in the *inticing speach of mans wisedome, but in playne euidence of ‖ the Spirit and of power,

5 That your fayth should not bee in the wisedome of men, but in the power of God.

6 And we speake wisedome among them that are [c] perfite: not the wisedome of this world, neither of the [d] princes of this world, which come to nought.

7 But wee speake the wisedome of God in a mystery, euen the hid wisedome, which God hath appointed before the world, vnto our glory.

8 Which [e] none of the Princes of this world hath knowen: for had they knowen it, they would not haue crucified the [f] Lorde of glory.

9 But as it is written, *The things which eye hath not seene, neither eare hath heard, neither [g] came into mans heart, are, which GOD hath prepared for them that loue him.

10 But God hath reuealed them vnto vs by his Spirit: for the Spirit [h] searcheth all things, yea, the deepe things of God.

11 For what man knoweth the things of a man, saue the spirit [i] of a man, which is in him? euen so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God.

12 Nowe wee haue [k] receyued not the Spirite of the worlde, but the Spirite, which is of GOD, that wee might knowe the [l] things that are giuen to vs of God.

*Chap.1.17. 2.pet.1.16. ‖Or, heauenly, or, diuine.

CHAP. III.

3 Paul rebuketh the sects and authors thereof. 7 No man ought to attribute his saluation to the ministers, but to God. 10 That they beware erroneous doctrine. 11 Christ is the foundation of his Church. 16 The dignitie and office both of the ministers, and also of all the faithfull.

AND I could not speake vnto you, brethren, as vnto spirituall men, but as vnto carnall, euen as vnto [a] babes in Christ.

2 I gaue you milke to drinke, and not meate: for yee were not yet able to beare it, neither yet now are yee able.

3 For yee are yet carnall: for whereas there is among you enuying, and strife, and diuisions, are yee not carnall, and walke as men?

4 For when one saith, I am Pauls, and another, I am Apollos, are yee not carnall?

5 Who is Paul then? and who is Apollos, but the ministers by whom yee beleeued, and as the Lord gaue to euery man?

6 I haue planted, Apollos watered, but God gaue the increase.

7 So then, neither is hee that planteth any thing, neither hee that watereth, but God that giueth the increase.

8 And he that planteth, and he that watereth are [b] one, * and euery man shall receiue his wages, according to his labour.

9 For wee together are Gods [c] labourers: yee are Gods husbandrie, and Gods building.

10 According to the grace of God giuen to mee, as a skilfull master builder, I haue laide the foundation, and another buildeth thereon: but let euery man [d] take heed how he buildeth vpon it.

11 For other foundation can no man lay, then that which is laide, which is Iesus Christ.

12 And if any man build on this foundation, gold, siluer, precious stones, timber, hay, or stubble, 13 Euery mans worke shall be made manifest: for the [e] day shall declare it, because it shall bee reuealed by the [f] fire: and the fire shall trie euery mans worke of what sort it is.

14 If any mans worke, that he hath built vpon, abide, he shall receiue wages.

15 If any mans worke burne, hee shall [g] lose, but he [h] shall bee [i] safe himselfe: neuertheless yet as it were by the fire.

16 * Know ye not that ye are the Temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?

17 If any man destroy the Temple of God, him shall God destroy: for the Temple of God is holy, which ye are.

18 Let no man deceiue himselfe. If any man among you seeme to bee wise in this world, let him bee a foole, that hee may bee wise.

19 For the wisedome of this world is foolishnesse with God: for it is written, * hee catcheth the wise [k] in their owne craftinesse.

20 * And againe, The Lord knoweth that the thoughts of the wise be vaine.

21 Therefore let no man [l] reioyce in men: for all things are yours.

22 Whether it bee Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death: whether they bee things present, or things to come, euen all are yours, 23 And yee Christs, and Christ Gods.

a Being ingraffed in Christ by faith wee begin to moue by his Spirit, and as we profit in faith, wee grow vp to a ripe age. And here let him take heede that teacheth, lest for milke he giue poison: for milke and strong meate in effect are one, but onely differ in maner and forme.

1 After that he had described the office of a true Apostle, 3 Seeing they did not acknowledge him such one, 4 He appealeth to Gods iudgement. 7 Beating downe their glory which hindred them to praise that, which they dispraysed in him, 19 He sheweth what he requireth on their part, and what they ought to looke for of him at his returne.

LEt a man so thinke of vs, as of the [a] ministers of Christ, and disposers of the secrets of God.

2 And as for the rest, it is required of the disposers, that euery man be found faithfull.

3 * As touching me, I passe very little to bee iudged of you, or of [t] mans iudgement: nay, I iudge not [b] mine owne selfe.

4 For I [c] know nothing by [d] my selfe, yet am I not thereby iustified: but hee that iudgeth me, is the Lord.

5 Therefore * iudge nothing before the time, vntill the Lord come, who will lighten things that are hid in darkenesse, and make the counsels of the heart manifest: and then shall euery man haue praise of God.

6 Now these things, brethren, I haue figuratiuely applied vnto mine owne selfe and Apollos for your sakes, that yee might learne [e] by vs, that no man presume aboue that which is written, that one swell not against another for any mans cause.

7 For who [f] separateth thee? and what hast thou, that thou hast not receiued? if thou hast receiued it, why reioycest thou, as though thou hadst not receiued it?

among you, because yee goe to law one with another: * why rather suffer yee not wrong? why rather susteine ye not harme?

9 * Nay, ye your selues c doe wrong, and doe harme, and that to your brethren.

9 Know yee not that the vnrighteous shall not inherite the kingdome of God? Be not deceiued: *neither fornicatours, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor wantons, nor buggerers, 10 Nor theeues, nor couetous, nor drunkards, nor railers, nor extortioners shall inherite the kingdome of God.

11 And such were * some of you: but yee are washed, but ye are sanctified, but yee are iustified in the Name of the Lord Iesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

12 ¶ * All f things are lawfull vnto me: but all things are not profitable. I may doe all things, but I will not be brought vnder s the power of any thing.

13 Meates are ordeined for the belly, and the belly for the meates: but God shall destroy both it, and them. Now the body is not for h fornication, but for the i Lord, and the Lord for the body.

14 And God hath also raised vp the Lord, * and shall raise vs vp by his power.

15 Know ye not that your bodies are the members of Christ? shall I then take the members of Christ, & make them the members of an k harlot? God forbid.

16 Doe yee not know, that he which coupleth himselfe with an harlot, is one body? * for two, saith he, shall be one flesh.

17 But he that is ioyned vnto the Lord, is one spirit.

18 Flee fornication: euery sinne that a man doeth, is without the body: but he that committeth fornication, sinneth against his l owne body.

19 Know yee not, that * your body is the temple of the holy Ghost, which is in you, whom ye haue of God? and yee are not your owne.

20 * For ye are bought for a price: therefore glorifie God in your body, and in your spirit: for they are Gods.

c Hee doeth not reproue the godly, which with a good conscience vseth the magistrate to defend his right, but condemneth hatred, grudges, & desires of reuengeance.

CHAP. VII.

1 The Apostle answereth to certaine questions, which the Corinthians desire to know, 2 As of single life, 3 Of the duetie of mariage, 11 Of discords and dissention in mariage, 13 Of mariage betweene the faithfull and vnfaithfull, 18 Of vncircumcising the circumcised. 21 Of seruitude, 25 Of virginitie, 39 And second mariage.

NOw concerning the things whereof yee wrote vnto me, It were * good for a man not to touch a woman.

2 Neuertheless, to auoyde fornication, let b euery man haue his wife, and let euery woman haue her owne husband.

a Or, expedient: because mariage, through mans corruption, and not by Gods institution, bringeth cares and troubles. b Speaking to all men in generall.

3 * Let the husband giue vnto the wife c due benenolence, and likewise also the wife vnto the husband.

4 The wife hath not the power of her owne body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not the power of his owne body, but the wife.

5 Defraud not one another, except it be with consent for a time, that yee may giue your selues to fasting and prayer, and againe come together, that Satan tempt you not for your incontinencie.

6 But I speake this by permission, d not by commandement.

7 For I would that all men were euen as I my selfe am: but euery man hath his proper gift of God, one after this maner, and another after that.

8 Therefore I say vnto the vnmarried, and vnto the widowes, It is good for them if they abide euen as I doe.

9 But if they cannot abstaine, let them marrie: for it is better to marrie then to e burne.

10 And vnto the married I commaund, not I, but the Lord, Let not the wife * depart from her husband.

11 But and if she f depart, let her remaine vnmarried, or bee reconciled vnto her husband, and let not the husband put away his wife.

12 But to the remnant I speake, and not h the Lord, If any brother haue a wife, that beleeueth not, if she be content to dwell with him, let him not forsake her.

13 And the woman which hath an husband that beleeueth not, if he bee content to dwell with her, let her not forsake him.

14 For the vnbeleeuing husbande is i sanctified by the wife, and the vnbeleeuing wife is sanctified by the husband, else were your children vncleane: but now are they k holy.

15 But if the vnbeleeuing depart, let him depart: a brother or a sister is not in subiection in l such things: but God hath called vs in peace.

16 For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt saue thine husband? Or what knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt saue thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to euery man, as the Lord hath m called euery one, so let him walke: and so ordeine I in all Churches.

18 Is any man called being circumcised? let him not n gather his vncircumcision: is any called vncircumcised? let him not bee circumcised.

19 o Circumcision is nothing, and vncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commandements of God.

cation wherein he was called.

21 Art thou called being a seruant? p care not for it: but if yet thou mayest be free, vse it rather.

22 For he that is called in the q Lord being a seruant, is the Lords free man: likewise also hee that is called being free, is Christs seruant.

23 *Yee are bought ‖ with a price: be not the seruants of men.

24 Brethren, let euery man, wherein hee was called, therein abide r with God.

25 Now concerning ‖ virgins, I haue no s commaundement of the Lord: but I giue mine aduise, as one that hath obtained mercie of the Lord to be ‖ faithfull.

26 I suppose then t this to be good for the present u necessitie: I meane, that it is good for a man so to be.

27 Art thou bound vnto a wife? seeke not to bee looſed: art thou looſed from a wife? seeke not a wife.

28 But if thou takest a wife, thou sinnest not: and if a virgine marrie, she sinneth not: neuertheleſſe, such shall haue x y trouble in the flesh: but I z spare you.

29 And this I say, brethren, because the time is short, ‖ hereafter that both they which haue wiues, bee as though they had none:

30 And they that a weepe, as though they wept not: and they that b reioyce, as though they reioyced not: and they that buy, as though they possessed not:

31 And they that vse this world as though they vsed it not: for the c fashion of this world goeth away.

32 And I would haue you without care. The vnmarried careth for the things of the Lord, how he may please the Lord.

33 But he that is married, careth for the things of the d world, how he may please his wife ‖.

34 There is difference also betweene a virgine and a wife: the vnmarried woman careth for the things of the Lord, that shee may bee e holy, both in body and in spirit: but shee that is married, careth for the things of the world, how shee may please her husband.

35 And this I speake for your owne commoditie, not to f tangle you in a snare, but that ye follow that, which is honest, and that yee may cleaue fast vnto the Lord without separation.

36 But if any man thinketh that it is vncomely for his virgine, if shee passe the flowre of h r age, and s needs so require, let him do what he will, he sinneth not: let them be married.

37 Neuertheleſſe, he h that standeth firme in his heart, that he hath no needs, but hath ‖ power ouer his owne will, and hath so decreed in his heart, that he will keepe his virgine, he doth well.

38 So then he hath giueth her to marriage, doeth well, but he that giueth her not to marriage, doeth a better.

39 The wife is bound by the i Law, as long as her husband * liueth: but if her husband be dead, she is at liberty to marry with whom shee will, only in the Lord.

40 But shee is more blessed, if shee so abide, in my iudgement: * and I thinke that I haue also the spirit of God.

p Although God hath called thee to serue in this life, yet thinke not thy condition vnworthy for a Christian: but reioyce that thou art deliuered by Christ, from the miserable slauerie of sinne & death.

q Being seruant by condition is made partaker of Christ. Chap.6 20. 1.pet.1.19.

r Sincerely as in the presence of God.

‖ Or, beleeued.

t To be single.

u In these afflictions and persecutions.

x As worldly cares of their children and familie.

a Which bee in aduersitie.

b Which bee in prosperitie.

c In this world there is nothing but meere vanitie.

d Which onely appertaine to this present life.

‖ And he is deuided, meaning into diuers cares.

e Shee may attaine vnto it sooner then the other, because shee is without cares.

f Seeing Saint Paul could binde no mans conscience to single life, what presumption is it, that any other should doe it?

g That is, that shee should marrie to auoide fornication.

h Meaning, be that is fully perswaded that hee hath no needs.

i For the fathers will dependeth on his childrens in this point: in so much as he is bound to haue respect to their infirmitie, neither can he iustly require of them singlenesse, if they haue not that gift of God so to liue.

k And more commodious for his children in preseruing them from cares.

l Of matrimonie. Rom.7.2. 1.Tim.5.8.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Hee rebuketh them that vse their libertie to the slander of other, in going to the idolatrous sacrifices, 9 And sheweth how men ought to behaue them toward such as be weake.

AND as touching things sacrificed vnto idoles, we know that we al haue a knowledge: knowledge puffeth vp, but loue edifieth.

2 Now, if any man thinke that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.

3 But if any man loue God, the same is ‖ knowen of him.

4 Concerning therefore meate sacrificed vnto idoles, wee know that an idole is b nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one.

5 For though there bee that are called gods, whether in heauen, or in earth, (as there be many gods, and many c lords)

6 Yet vnto vs there is but one God, which is the Father, of whom are all things, and wee in him: and * one Lord Iesus Christ, by whom are all things, and wee by him.

7 But euery man hath not knowledge: for some hauing d conscience of the idole, vntill this houre, eate as a thing sacrificed vnto the idole, and so their conscience being weake, is defiled.

8 But meate maketh vs not acceptable to God: for neither if we eate, haue wee the e more: neither if we eate not, haue wee the lesse.

9 But take heede lest by any meanes this ‖ power of yours be an occasion of falling to them that are weake.

10 For if any man see thee which hast knowledge, sit at table in the idoles temple, shall not the conscience of him which is weake, bee ‡ f boldened to eate those things which are sacrificed to idoles?

11 And through thy knowledge shall the * g weake brother perish, for whom Christ died.

12 Now when ye sinne so against the brethren, and wound their weake conscience, ye sinne against Christ.

13 * Wherefore if meate offend my brother, I wil eat no flesh while the world standeth, that I may not offend my brother.

a Of the libertie that God hath giuen vs touching outward things.

‖ Or, taught.

b This he speaketh in their person, which bragged so much of their libertie, saying that an image among all things that are made, is of no force.

c Which being idoles, yet are esteemed of men as Lords and Seigniours. John 13.13. chap. 12 3.

d In that they thought the meate offered vp to the image, not to be pure, and therefore could not eate it with a good conscience.

e This abundance and want is referred to spirituall things, Rom. 14.17.

‖ Or, libertie in things indifferent.

f By thine example without any ground of doctrine. Rom. 14.15.

g Which eateth against his conscience, or in doubt. Rom. 14 21.

CHAP. IX.

He exhorteth them by his example to vse their liberty to the edification of others. 24 To runne on forth in the course that they haue begun.

i For that part that was burnt, was deuoured of the altar, and the other was due vnto the priests by the law.
k For now you haue no iust cause against me, seeing that I preached the Gospel freely vnto you.
l Seeing he is charged to preach he must willingly and earnestly follow it: for if he doe it by constraint, he doeth not his dutie.
m That I be not chargeable to them to whom I preach, seeing that they thinke that I preach for gaines.

AM I not an Apostle? am I not free? haue I not seene Iesus Christ our Lord? are ye not my worke in the Lord?
2 If I be not an Apostle vnto other, yet doubtlesse I am vnto you: for yee are the * seale of mine Apostleship in the Lord.
3 My defence to them [b] that examine me is this,
4 Haue wee not power to eate, [c] and to drinke?
5 Haue we not power [d] to leade about a wife being a [e] sister, as well as the rest of the Apostles, and as the ‖ brethren of the Lord, and Cephas?
6 Or I onely and Barnabas, haue not we power [f] not to worke?
7 Who goeth a warfare any time at his owne cost? who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof? or who feedeth a flocke, and eateth not of the milke of the flocke?
8 Say I these things according to man? sayth not the Law the same also?
9 For it is written in the Law of Moses, * Thou shalt not muzzel the mouth of the oxe that treadeth out the corne: doeth God take care for oxen?
10 Either sayth hee it not altogether for our sakes? for our sakes no doubt it is written, that hee which eareth, should eare in hope: and that hee that threshеth in hope, should be partaker of his hope.
11 *If we haue sowen vnto you spirituall things, is it a great thing if wee reape your carnal things?
12 If others with you bee partakers of this [h] power, are not we rather? neuertheless, we haue not vsed this power: but ‖ suffer all things, that we should not hinder the Gospel of Christ.
13 Do ye not know, that they which minister about the * holy things, eat of the things of the Temple? and they which wait at the altar, are partakers with the [i] altar?
14 So also hath the Lord ordained, that they which preach the Gospel, should liue of the Gospel.
15 But I haue vsed none of these things: neither wrote I these things, that it should be so done vnto me: for it were better for me to die, then that any man should make my [k] reioycing vaine.
16 For though I preach the Gospel, I haue nothing to reioyce of: for necessitie is layed vpon mee, and woe is vnto mee, if I preach not the Gospel.
17 For if I doe it willingly, I haue a reward: but if I doe it against my will, [l] notwithstanding the dispensation is committed vnto me.
18 What is my reward then? verely that when I preach the Gospel, I make the Gospel of Christ [m] free, that I abuse not mine authoritie in the Gospel.
19 For though I bee free from all men, yet haue I made my selfe seruant vnto all men, that I might winne the moe.
20 * And vnto the Iewes I become as a Iew, that I may winne the Iewes: to them that are vnder the Lawe, as though I were vnder the [n] Lawe, that I may winne them that are vnder the Law:
21 To them that are without Lawe, as though I were without Law (when I am not without Law as pertaining to God, but am in the Lawe through Christ) that I may winne them that are without Law.
22 To the weake I become as weake, that I may winne the weake: I am made [o] all things to all men, that I might by all meanes saue some.
23 And this I doe for the Gospels sake, that I might be partaker thereof with you.
24 Know ye not, that they which runne in a race, runne all, yet one receiueth the prize? so runne that ye may obtaine.
25 And euery man that proueth masteries, [p] abstaineth from all things: and they doe it to obtaine a corruptible crowne: but we for an vncorruptible.
26 I therefore so runne, not as vncertainely: so fight I, not as one that beateth the ayre.
27 But I beate downe my [q] body, and bring it into subiection, lest by any meanes after that I haue preached to other, I my selfe should be [r] reprooued.

CHAP. X.

He feareth them with the examples of the Iewes, that they put not their trust carnally in the graces of God, 14 Exherting them to flee all idolatry, 23 and offence of their neighbour.

5 But with many of them God was not pleased: for they were * ouerthrowen in the wildernesse.
6 Now these are ensamples to vs, to the intent that wee should not lust after euill things * as they also lusted.
7 Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them, as it is written, * The people sate downe [e] to eate and drinke, and rose vp to play.

‖ Or, thanksgiuing.

m Or prepare to this holy vse with praise and thanksgiuing.

n The effectuall badge of our coniunction and incorporation with Christ?

o If we that are many in number, are but one body in effect ioyned with our head Christ, as many cornes make but one loafe, let vs renounce idolatrie which doeth separate our vnitie.

p Which is gouerned according to the ceremonies of the Law.

q Which is to assemble in that companie where idoles are called vpon. Chap 6.12. ecclus 37.27.

r For in those dayes they were accustomed to sell certaine of the flesh of beasts sacrificed in the shambles, & turned the money to the Priests profit.

9 Neither let vs tempt [a] Christ, as some of them also tempted him, and were [b] destroyed of serpents.

10 Neither murmure ye as some of them [*] also murmured, and were destroyed of the [h] destroyer.

11 Now all these things came vnto them for ensamples, and were written to admonish [i] vs, vpon whom the [k] ends of the world are come.

12 Wherefore let him that thinketh hee standeth, take heede lest he fall.

13 There hath no tentation taken you, but such as appertaineth to man, and God is faithfull, which will not suffer you to be tempted aboue that you be able, but [l] will euen giue the issue with the tentation, that ye may bee able to beare it.

14 Wherefore my beloued, flee from idolatrie.

15 I speake as vnto them which haue vnderstanding: iudge ye what I say.

16 The cuppe of ‖ blessing which wee [m] blesse, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which wee breake, is it not the [n] communion of the bodie of Christ?

17 For we that are many are [o] one bread and one body, because wee all are partakers of one bread.

18 Behold Israel which is after the [p] flesh: are not they which eate of the sacrifices partakers of the altar?

19 What say I then? that the idole is any thing? or that that which is sacrificed to idoles, is any thing?

20 Nay, but that these things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to deuils, and not vnto God: and I would not that ye should [q] haue fellowship with the deuils.

21 Ye cannot drinke the cup of the Lord, and the cup of the deuils: Ye cannot be partakers of the Lords table, and of the table of deuils.

22 Doe wee prouoke the Lord to anger? are we stronger then he?

23 * All things are lawfull for me, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawfull for me, but all things edifie not.

24 Let no man seeke his owne, but euery man anothers wealth.

25 Whatsoeuer is sold in the [r] shambles, eate ye, and [s] aske no question for conscience sake.

26 * For the earth is the Lords, and all that therein is.

27 If any of them which beleeue not call you to a feast, and if ye will goe, whatsoeuer is set before you, eat, asking no question for conscience sake.

28 But if any man say vnto you, This is sacrificed vnto idoles, eate it not, because of him that shewed it, and for the conscience (for the earth is the Lords, and all that therein is)

29 And the conscience I say, not thine, but of that other: for why would my [t] libertie be condemned of another mans conscience?

30 For [u] if I through Gods benefite bee partaker, why am I euill spoken of, for that wherefore I giue thankes?

31 * Whether therefore ye eate or drinke, or whatsoeuer you doe, doe all to the glory of God.

32 Giue none offence, neither to the Iewes, nor to the Grecians, nor to the Church of God:

33 Euen as I please [x] all men [y] in all things, not seeking mine owne profite, but the profite of many, that they might bee saued.

t We must take heede that thorow our abuse, our libertie be not condemned.

u If by the benefit of God I may eate any kind of meat, why should I by my default cause this benefit to be euill spoken of? Col. 3.17.

x That is, the infirme.

y Which are indifferent.

CHAP. XI.

He rebuketh the abuses which were crept into their Church, 4 As touching prayer, prophesying, 18 And ministring the Lords Supper, 23 Bringing them again to the first institution thereof.

BE * ye the followers of me, euen as I am of Christ.

2 Now, brethren, I commend you, that ye remember ‖ all my things, and keepe the ordinances, as I deliuered them to you.

3 But I will that ye know, that Christ is the * head of euery man: and the man is the womans head: and God is Christs head.

4 Euery man [a] praying, or ‖ prophesying hauing any thing on his head, [b] dishonoureth his head.

5 But euery woman that prayeth or [c] prophesieth bare headed, dishonoureth her head: for it is euen one very thing, as though she were shauen.

6 Therefore if the woman be not couered, let her also be shorne: and if it be shame for a woman to be ‖ shorne or shauen, let her be couered.

7 For a man ought not to couer his head: forasmuch as hee is the [*d] image and glory of God: but the woman is the [e] glory of the man.

8 For the man is not of the woman, but the woman of the man.

10 Therefore ought the woman to haue [f] power on her head, because of the [g] Angels.

11 Neuertheless, neither is the man without the woman, neither the woman without the man in the [h i] Lord.

12 For as the woman is of the man, so is the man also by the woman: but all things are of God.

13 Iudge in your selues, Is it comely that a woman pray vnto God vncouered?

l For God hath giuen to woman longer haire then vnto man, to the ende she should trusse it vp about her head, whereby she declareth that she must couer her head.

m Not that all were so, but the most part.
n Gods Church is not onely subiect to dissention as touching orders and maners, but also to heresies as touching doctrine.
o Who ought onely to beare authoritie in the Church. Matth.26.26. marke 14.22. luke 22.19.
p Signifying the maner of his death, when his body should, as it were, be torne and broken with most grieuous torments (albeit not as the thighs of the theeues were) which thing the breaking of the bread, as a figure, doth most liuely represent.
q By peruerting the true and pure vse of the same. 2 Cor.13.5.
r But as though these holy mysteries of the Lords body and blood were common meate, so without reuerence he cōmeth vnto them.
s Or, die. Let them looke to themselues, which either adde or take away from the Lords institution.

a praise vnto her: for her haire is l giuen her for a couering.

16 But if any man list to be contentious, wee haue no such custom, neither the Churches of God.

17 ¶ Now in this that I declare, I praise you not, that ye come together, not with profit, but with hurt.

18 For first of all, when ye come together in the Church, I heare that there are dissentions among you: and I beleeue it to be true m in some part.

19 For there must bee n heresies euen among you, that they which are approoued among you, might be knowen.

20 When ye come together therefore into one place, this is not to eate the Lords supper.

21 For euery man when they should eate, taketh his owne supper afore, and one is hungrie, and another is drunken.

22 Haue yee not houses to eate and to drinke in? despise ye the Church of God, and shame them that haue not? what shall I say to you? shall I praise you in this? I praise you not.

23 For I haue receiued of the o Lord that which I also haue deliuered vnto you, to wit, that the Lorde Iesus in the night that hee was betrayed, tooke bread:

24 * And when he had giuen thankes, he brake it, and sayd, Take, eat: this is my body, which is p broken for you: this doe ye in remembrance of me.

25 After the same manner also he tooke the cup when hee had supped, saying, This cup is the newe Testament in my bloode: this doe as oft as yee drinke it, in remembrance of mee.

26 For as often as ye shall eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye shew the Lords death til he come.

27 Wherefore, whosoeuer shall eate this bread, and drinke the cup of the Lord q vnworthily, shall be guiltie of the body & blood of the Lord.

28 * Let a man therefore examine himselfe, and so let him eat of this bread, and drinke of this cup.

29 For hee that eateth and drinketh vnworthily, eateth and drinketh his own damnation, because he discerneth not r the Lords body.

30 For this cause many are weake, and sicke among you, and many s sleepe.

31 For if we would iudge our selues, we should not be iudged.

32 But when we are iudged, we are chastened of the Lord, because we should not be condemned with the world.

33 Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eate, tary one for another 34 And if any man be hungry, let him eat at home, that ye come not together vnto condemnation. Other things will I set in order when I come.

CHAP. XII.

1 The diuersitie of the gifts of the holy Ghost ought to be vsed to the edifying of Christs Church, 12 As the members of mans body serue to the vse one of another.

NOw concerning spirituall gifts, brethren, I would not haue you a ignorant.

2 Ye know that ye were Gentiles, and were caried away vnto the b dumbe idoles, as ye were c led.

3 Wherefore I declare vnto you, that no man * speaking by the d Spirit of God, calleth * Iesus execrable: also no man can say that Iesus is the Lord, but by the holy Ghost.

4 Now there are diuersities of gifts, but the same Spirit.

5 And there are diuersities of administrations, but the same Lord.

6 And there are diuersities of operations, but God is the same, which worketh all in all.

7 But the manifestation of the Spirit is giuen to euery man, to e profit withall.

8 For to one is giuen by the Spirit the word of wisedome, and to another the word of f knowledge by the same Spirit:

9 And to another is giuen g faith, by the same Spirit: and to another the giftes of healing, by the same Spirit:

10 And to another h the operations of great workes: and to another, i prophecie: and to another, k the discerning of spirits: and to another, diuersities of tongues: and to another, the interpretation of tongues.

11 * And all these things worketh euen the selfe same Spirit, distributing to euery man seuerally as he will.

12 For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of the body, which is one, though they bee many, yet are but one body: euen so is Christ.

13 For by one Spirit art wee all baptized into l one body, whether wee be Iewes or Grecians, whether wee bee bond, or free, and haue beene all made to drinke into one Spirit.

14 For the body also is not one member, but many.

15 If the foote would say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body, is it therefore not of the body?

16 And if the eare would say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body, is it therefore not of the body?

17 If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling?

18 But now hath God disposed the members euery one of them in the body at his owne pleasure.

19 For if they were all one member, where were the body?

20 But nowe are there many members, yet but m one body?

21 And the eye cannot say vnto the hand, I haue no need of thee: nor the head againe to the feet, I haue no need of you.

22 Yea, much rather those members of the body, which seeme to bee n more feeble, a The Corinthians hauing g notable gifts, seemed to haue forgotten, of whom, and for what end they had receyued them.

b Which could not heare your prayers.
c By Satans suggestion. Marke 9.39.
d As no man that hath the spirit of God, can blaspheme Christ, and worship idoles: so none can acknowledge Christ for Lord and God without the same spirit. Iohn 13.13. chap.8.6. phil.2.11.
e To wit, the Church, which is the whole body.
f That is, the vnderstanding of the Scriptures.
g To do onely miracles by.
h To worke by miracles against Satan and hypocrites, as was done against Ananias, Elymas, &c.
i Meaning, the declaration of Gods mysteries.
k To try both the doctrine and the persons. Rom.12.3. ephe 4.7.
l That we might be one body with Christ, and the whole Church one Christ: of the which coniunction, Baptisme and the Lords Supper are effectuall signes: for by Baptisme we are regenerate into one spirit, and by the Lords Supper, we are incorporate into Christs body, to be gouerned by the same spirit.
m And therefore whatsoeuer the diuersity is, yet the profite ought to bee common, and serue to the edification of the Church.
n Whose vse seemeth to be more vile.

are necessarie.

23 And vpon those members of the body, which we think most vnhoneſt, put we more o honeſtie on: and our vncomely parts haue more comelineſſe on.

o We are more careſull to couer them.

24 For our comely parts need it not: but God hath tempered the body together, and hath giuen the more honor to that part which lacked,

25 Leaſt there ſhould bee any diuiſion in the body: but that the members ſhould p haue the ſame care one for another.

p Euery one in his office for the preſeruation of the body.

26 Therefore if one member ſuffer, all ſuffer with it: if one member bee had in honour, all the members reioyce with it.

27 Now yee are the body of Chriſt, and members q ‖ for your part.

q For all Churches diſperſed throughout the world are diuers members of one body.

‖ Or, euery one for his part. Ephes. 4. 11.

28 * And God hath ordeined ſome in the Church: as firſt Apoſtles, ſecondly Prophets, thirdly teachers, then them that doe miracles: after that, the gifts of healing, r helpers, ſ gouernors, diuerſitie of tongues.

r As Deacons.

s As Elders.

29 Are all Apoſtles? Are all Prophets? are all teachers?

30 Are all doers of miracles? haue all the gifts of healing? do all ſpeake with tongues? do all interpret?

‖ Or, do you then deſire the beſt gifts.

CHAP. XIII.

Becauſe loue is the fountaine and rule of edifying the Church, he ſetteth forth the nature, office, and praiſe thereof.

THough I ſpeake with the tongues of men, and a Angels, and haue not loue, I am as ſounding braſſe, or a tinckling cymball.

a If the Angels had tongues, and I had the vſe thereof, and did not beſtow them to profit my neighbour, it were nothing but vaine babling.

2 And though I had the gift of prophecie, and knew all ſecrets, and all knowledge, yea, if I had b all faith, ſo that I could remoue * mountaines, and had not loue, I were nothing.

b Faith is here taken for the gift of doing miracles, which the wicked may haue, as Mat. 7. 22. and alſo for that faith (called hiſtorical) which beleeueth the mighty power of Chriſt, but cannot apprehend Gods mercie through him: and this diuels haue, Iam 2. 19. and therefore is ſeparated from charitie, but the faith that iuſtifieth in effect cannot, as 1. Iohn 2. 9. Matth. 17 20. Luke. 17. 6.

3 And though I feede the poore with all my goods, and though I giue my body, that I be burned, and haue not loue, it profiteth me nothing.

4 Loue ſuffereth long: it is bountifull: loue enuieth not: loue doth not boaſt it ſelfe: it is not puffed vp:

5 It diſdaineth not: it ſeeketh not her owne things: it is not prouoked to anger: it thinketh not euill:

6 It reioyceth not in iniquitie, but reioyceth in the truth:

7 It ſuffereth all things: it beleeueth c all things: it hopeth all things: it endureth d all things.

c Not that it ſuffereth it ſelfe to be abuſed, but iudgeth others by all loue and humanitie.

d Which may be without offence of Gods word.

8 Loue doeth neuer fall away, though that prophecyings bee abolished, or the tongues ceaſe, or knowledge vaniſh away.

9 For e we know in f part, and we ‖ prophecie it part.

e Knowledge is it ſelfe ſhall be perfected in the world to come, and not abolished: but the maner of knowing and teaching ſhall ceaſe, when we ſhall bee before Gods preſence, where we ſhall neither need ſchooles nor teachers.

f That is, imperfectly. ‖ Or, teach.

10 But when that which is perfect, is come, then that which is in part, ſhall be abolished.

11 When I was a childe, I ſpake as a childe, I vnderſtood as a child, I thought as a childe: but when I became a man I put away childiſh things.

12 For nowe wee ſee g through a glaſſe darkly, but then ſhall we ſee face to face. Now I know in part: but then ſhall I know euen as I am ‖ knowen.

g The myſteries of God.

‖ Or, taught of God.

13 And now abideth faith, hope and loue, euen theſe three: but the h chiefeſt of theſe is loue.

h Becauſe it ſerueth both here and in the life to come: but faith and hope appertaine onely to this life.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 He exhorteth to loue, commendeth the gift of tongues, and other ſpirituall gifts, 5 But chiefly prophecying. 34 He commandeth women to keepe ſilence in the Church, 40 And ſheweth what good order ought to be obſerued in the Church.

FOlow after loue, and couet ſpirituall gifts, and rather that ye may a prophecie.

a That is, to expound the word of God to the edification of the Church.

2 For he that ſpeaketh a ſtrange tongue, ſpeaketh not vnto men, but vnto God: for no man b heareth him: howbeit in the c ſpirit he ſpeaketh ſecret things.

b Vnderſtandeth him.

c By the ſpirituall gift, which he hath receiued.

3 But he that prophecieth, ſpeaketh vnto men to edifying, and to exhortation, and to comfort.

4 He that ſpeaketh ſtrange language, edifieth d himſelfe: but he that prophecieth, edifieth the Church.

d For he profiteth none ſaue himſelfe.

5 I would that yee all ſpake ſtrange languages, but rather that yee prophecied: for greater is hee that prophecieth, then hee that ſpeaketh diuers tongues, except hee expound it, that the Church may receiue edification.

e The prophecie expoundeth that which God hath reuealed: and the doctrine teacheth that which he hath giuen vs to vnderſtand.

6 And now, brethren, if I come vnto you ſpeaking diuers tongues, what ſhall I profite you, except I ſpeake to you, either by e reuelation, or by knowledge, or by prophecying, or by doctrine?

‖ Or, flute.

7 Moreouer, things without life, which giue a ſound, whether it bee a ‖ pipe, or an harpe, except they make a diſtinction in the ſounds, how ſhall it be knowen what is piped or harped?

f Your words ſhall be loſt: for ye ſhall neyther glorifie God thereby, nor profit man.

8 And alſo if the trumpet giue an vncertaine ſound, who ſhall prepare himſelfe to battell?

‖ Or, as the thing requireth.

9 So likewiſe you, by the tongue, except ye vtter words that haue ſignification, how ſhall it be vnderſtood what is ſpoken? for ye ſhall ſpeake in the f aire.

g That is, they may be able to be vnderſtood.

10 There are ſo many kindes of voyces (‖ as it commeth to paſſe) in the world, and none of them is g dumbe.

h He condemneth the Corinthians of barbarouſneſſe in that thing whereby they thought to haue attayned to the greateſt praiſe of eloquence.

11 Except I know then the power of the voyce, I ſhall be vnto him that ſpeaketh, h a Barbarian, and he that ſpeaketh, ſhall be a Barbarian vnto me.

12 Euen ſo, foraſmuch as yee couet ſpirituall gifts, ſeeke that yee may excell vnto the edifying of the Church.

i And doeth his part.

13 Wherefore, let him that ſpeaketh a ſtrange tongue, pray that he may interpret.

14 For if I pray in a ſtrange tongue, my ſpirit i prayeth: but mine vnderſtanding is without k fruit.

k Not in reſpect of him that prayeth, but in reſpect of the Church, which is nothing edified thereby.

15 What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, but I will pray with the vnderstanding also: I will [l] sing with the spirit, but I will sing with the vnderstanding also.

16 Els, when thou blessest with the spirit, how shall he that occupieth the roome of the vnlearned, say, [m] Amen, at thy giuing of thanks, seeing hee knoweth not what thou sayest?

17 For thou verily giuest thankes well, but the other is not edified.

18 I thanke my God, I speake languages more then yee all.

19 Yet had I rather in the Church to speake [n] fiue wordes with mine vnderstanding that I might also instruct others, then tenne thousande wordes in a strange tongue.

20 Brethren, be not * children in vnderstanding, but as concerning malitiousnesse bee children, but in vnderstanding bee of a ripe age.

21 In the Law it is written, * [o] By men of other tongues, & by other languages will I speake vnto this people: yet so shall they not heare me, saith the Lord.

22 Wherefore strange tongues are for a [p] signe, not to them that beleeue, but to them that beleeue not: but prophesying serueth not for them that beleeue not, but for them which beleeue.

23 If therefore when the whole Church is come together in one, and all speak strange tongues, there come in they that are vnlearned, or they which beleeue not, will they not say, that ye are out of your wits?

24 But if all prophesie, and there come in one that beleeueth not, or one vnlearned, [q] hee is rebuked of [r] all men, and is iudged of all.

25 And so are the secretes of his heart made manifest, and so he will fall downe on his face and worship God, and say plainely, that God is in you indeed.

26 What is to bee done then, brethren? when yee come together, according as euerie one of you hath a Psalme, or hath doctrine, or hath a tongue, or hath reuelation, or hath interpretation, let all things bee done vnto edifying.

27 If any man speake a strange tongue, let it be by two, or at the [s] most by three, and that by course, and let one interpret.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keepe silence in the Church, which speaketh languages, and let him speake to himselfe, and to God.

29 Let the Prophets speake, two or three, and let the other iudge.

30 And if any thing bee reuealed to another that sitteth by, let the first holde his peace.

31 For ye may all prophesie one by one, that all may learne, and all may haue comfort.

32 And the [t] spirits of the Prophets are * subiect to the Prophets.

33 For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as we see in all the Churches of the Saints.

34 * Let your women keepe [x] silence in the Churches: for it is not permitted vnto them to speake: but they ought to be subiect, as also the * Law sayeth.

35 And if they will learne any thing, let them aske their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speake in the Church.

36 [y] Came the word of God out from you? either came it vnto you onely?

37 If any man thinke himselfe to bee a Prophet, or [z] spiritual, let him acknowledge, that the things that I write vnto you, are the commandements of the Lord.

38 [a] And if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39 Wherefore brethren, couet to prophesie, and forbid not to speake languages.

40 Let all things bee done honestly and by order.

l Or, giue thanks by singing.

m One onely made the praiers, and the rest of the people followed in heart his words, and when he had prayed, they all sayd, Amen, signifying that they beleeued assuredly that God would graunt their requests.

n That is, most fewe. Matth. 18.3. Isa. 28.11. deut. 28.49. ierem. 5.15. ezek. 3.6.

o He threatneth them most sharply, that God will punish the contempt of his word, and their counterfeit ignorance, for as much as to speake vnknowen tongues is a signe of Gods curse toward the wicked.

p Of Gods curse when they are not vnderstood.

q By hearing his secret faults ript vp, and his sinnes reproued by Gods word, he is compelled by his owne conscience to prayse God.

r Which expound the word of God.

s Paul beareth as yet with their weakenesse, because also these were the gifts of God: but yet hee sheweth that they should not passe this measure, that first one, after another, and at the vtmost the third should reade in a strange language, which was to declare Gods miracle in the gift of tongues: but chiefly hee commandeth that nothing bee done without interpretation.

t Or, learning, which Gods spirit moueth them to vtter.

u To the intent that others may iudge of him that hath spoken, if he haue passed the cõpasse of Gods word: wherefore Saint Iohn commandeth to try the spirits whether they be of God. 1. Tim. 2.11.

x Because this disorder was in the Church that women vsurped that which was peculiar to men, the Apostle here sheweth what is meet to be done, and what is not: and albeit hee mentioned this abuse before, yet he referred it to this place to be reprooued, because there he brought it in for another purpose. Gen. 3.16.

y Are ye the first or the last Christians, that yee neither submit your selues to the Churches of whom ye haue receiued the Gospel? nor haue respect to the others, to whom the Gospel doth likewise appertaine?

z To haue vnderstanding of spirituall things.

a If any man haue iudgement, let him acknowledge that I speake of the Spirit of God, and so let him obey: and if he haue no iudgement, let him acknowledge his ignorance, & trouble not the Church, but credit them that are learned.

CHAP. XV.

He preacheth the resurrection of the dead, 3 And first that Christ is risen: 22 Then that wee shall rise, 52 And the maner how.

7 After that, hee was seene of Iames: then of all the Apostles.

8 * And last of all, hee was seene also of me, as of one borne out of due time.

I am: and his grace which is in mee, was not in vaine: but I laboured more abowndantly then they all: yet not I, but the grace of God which is with me.

11 Wherefore whether it were I, or they, so we preach, and so haue ye beleeued.

12 Now if it be preached, that Christ is risen from the dead, how say some among you, that there is no resurrection of the dead?

13 For if there bee no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen.

14 And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching [e] vaine, and your [i] faith is also vaine.

15 And wee are found also false witnesses of God: for wee haue testified of God, that he hath raised vp Christ: whom he hath not raised vp, if so be the dead be not raised.

16 For if the dead be not raysed, then is Christ not raised.

17 And if Christ be not raised, your faith is [g] vaine: ye are yet in your [h] sinnes.

18 And so they which are asleep in Christ, are perished.

19 If in this life [only] wee haue hope in Christ, we are of all men the most miserable.

20 But now is Christ risen from the dead, & was made the * first [i] fruits of them that slept.

21 For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead.

22 For as in Adam all die, euen so in [k] Christ shall [l] all be made alive, 23 But euery man in his * owne order: the first fruits is Christ, afterward, they that are of Christ, at his comming shal rise againe.

24 Then shall be the end, when hee hath [m] deliuered vp the kingdome to God, euen the Father, when he hath put downe all rule and all authoritie and power.

25 For hee must reigne * till he hath put all his enemies vnder his feet.

26 The last enemy that shall be destroyed, is death.

27 * For hee hath put downe all thinges vnder his feet. (And when he saith that all things are subdued to him, it is manifest that hee is excepted, which did put downe all things vnder him.)

28 And when all things shall be subdued vnto him, then shall the Sonne also himselfe bee subiect vnto him, that did subdue all things vnder him, that God may bee [n] all in all.

29 Els, what shall they doe which are baptized [o] [p] for dead? if the dead rise not at all, why are they then baptized for dead?

30 Why are wee also in iopardie euery houre?

31 [q] By our reioycing which I haue in Christ Iesus our Lord, I die dayly.

32 If I haue fought with beasts at Ephelus after the [r] manner of men, what aduantageth it me, if the dead be not raised vp? * let vs eate and drinke: for to morrow wee shall die.

33 Bee not deceiued: * euill speakings corrupt good maners.

34 Awake to liue righteously, and sinne not: for some haue not the knowledge of God: I speake this to your shame.

35 But some men will say, How are the dead raysed vp? and with what body come they forth?

36 O foole, that which thou sowest, is not quickened, except it die.

37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall bee, but bare corne, as it falleth, of wheate, or of some other.

38 But God giueth it a body at his pleasure, euen to euery seed his owne body.

39 All flesh is not the same flesh, but there is one [s] flesh of men, and another flesh of beastes, and another of fishes, and another of birds.

40 There are also heauenly bodies, and earthly bodies: but the glory of the heauenly is one, and the glory of the earthly is another, 41 There is another glory of the [t] sunne, and another glory of the moone, and another glory of the starres: for one starre differeth from another starre in glory.

42 So also is the resurrection of the dead. The body is sowen in corruption, & is raised in incorruption.

43 It is sowen in [u] dishonour, and is raysed in glory: it is sowen in weakenesse, and is raised in power.

44 It is sowen a naturall body, and is raised a [x] spirituall body: there is a naturall body, and there is a spirituall body.

45 As it is also written, The first man * Adam was made a liuing soule: and the last Adam was made a [y] quickening Spirit.

46 Howbeit that was not first made which is spirituall: but that which is naturall, and afterward that which is spirituall.

47 The first man is of the earth, earthly: the second man is the Lord [z] from heauen.

48 As is the earthly, such are they that are earthly: and as is the heauenly, such are they also that are heauenly.

49 And as wee haue borne the * image of the earthly: so shall wee beare the image of the heauenly.

50 This say I, brethren, that [b] flesh and blood cannot inherite the kingdome of God, neither doeth corruption inherite incorruption.

51 Beholde, I shew you a secret thing, We shall not all sleepe, but wee shall all bee [c] changed, e Christs death is not effectuall, except he rise from death.

f For if Christ be swallowed vp of death, there remaineth no hope of life any more.

g As mortification and remission of sinnes depend on Christs death: so our quickening and restoring to life stand in his resurrection.

h You are not forgiuen nor sanctified.

[Or, only for this life sake. Col. 1. 18. reu. 1. 5.

i As by the offering of the first fruit the whole fruit is sanctified, so by Christ which is the first that is rayfed, all haue assurance of the resurrection.

k Who rose first from the dead to take possession in our flesh for vs his members.

l To wit, the faithfull. 1. Thes. 4. 15.

m Christ as hee is man and head of the Church, is said to be subiect to God: but in respect of the world, is king of heauen & earth. This kingdome standeth in gouerning the faithfull, & ouercomming the aduersaries, euen death the chiefest: which done, Christ being perfected with all his members, shall as he is man, and head of the Church, with his fellow heires deliuer his kingdome, & be subiect to God, with whom & the holy Ghost in Godhead he is equall. Psal. 110. 1. acts 2. 34, 35. heb. 1. 13. & 10. 13. Psal. 8. 6. heb. 2 8.

n We shalbe perfectly fulfilled with his glory and felicitie.

o That is, as dead, and becausethey were but newly come to Christ, would be baptized before they died.

p Except these things be true of Christs kingdome, & his subiection, what shall become of them whom the Church daily baptizeth, for to destroy death in them, which is ỹ end of Baptisme, and so they to rise againe?

q I take to witnesse all my sorowes wherein I may iustly reioice in the Lord, that I haue sustained them among you r That is, hauing regard to this present life, and not to Gods glory, and life euerlasting. Isa. 22. 13. wisd. 2. 6. *Menander in Thaide.

s There is one substance as touching the flesh both of man and beast, but the difference is as touching the qualitie.

t Euen as the Sunne and the Moone, being of one substance, differ in dignitie: so in the resurrection our bodies shall haue more excellent qualities then they haue now.

u For what is more vile to looke vnto, then the dead carkeis?

x Not changing the substance, but made partaker of the diuine nature. Gene. 2 7.

y Christ bringeth vs from heauen the Spirit of life.

z This is attributed to Christ as concerning his diuinitie, not in respect of his humanitie, whose flesh hath this glory by ỹ power of God who dwelleth in it.

a Both in substance and forme we are earthly.

b This naturall body as it is now, til it be made new by the Spirit of Christ.

c When the Lord commeth to iudgement, some of the Saints shall be aliue, whom hee will change euen as if they were dead, so that this change is in stead of death to them.

The second Epistle of Paul to the Corinthians.

THE ARGVMENT.

AS nothing can be written either so perfectly, or with so great affection & zeale, which is not vnprofitable to many, and resisted by some: So the first Epistle written by S. Paul to the Corinthians, besides the purity and perfection of the doctrine, sheweth a loue toward them far passing all naturall affections: which did not onely not profite all, but hardened the hearts of many to remaine in their stubburnesse, and contemne the Apostles authoritie. By reason whereof Saint Paul, being let with iust occasions to come vnto them, wrote this Epistle from Macedonia, minding to accomplish the worke which he had begun among them. First therefore hee wisheth them well in the Lord, declaring that that albeit certaine wicked persons abused his afflictions to condemne thereby his authoritie, yet they were necessary schoolings, and sent to him by God for their bettering. And whereas they blame his long absence, it came of no inconstancy, but to beare with their inability and imperfection, lest contrary to his fatherly affection, he should haue beene compelled to vse rigour and seuerity. And as touching his sharpe writing in the former Epistle, it came through their fault, as is now euident both in that, that he pardoneth the trespasser, seeing hee doeth repent: and also in that hee was vnquiet in his minde, till he was certified by Titus of their estate. But forasmuch as the false apostles went about to vndermine his authority, hee confuteth their arrogant bragges, and commendeth his office, and the diligent executing of the same: so that Satan must haue greatly blinded their eyes, which see not the brightnesse of the Gospel in his preaching: the effect whereof is newnesse of life, forsaking of our selues, cleauing to God, fleeing from idolatry, embracing the true doctrine, and that sorrow which engendreth true repentance: to the which is ioyned mercy and compassion toward our brethren: also wisedome to put difference betwixt the simplicity of the Gospel, and the arrogancie of the false preachers, who vnder pretence of preaching the trueth, sought only to fill their bellies, whereas he contrariwise sought them, and not their goods, as those ambitious persons slandered him: wherefore at his comming he meaneth such as rebell against his authority, that he will declare by liuely example that he is the faithfull ambassadour of Iesus Christ.

CHAP. I.

4 He declareth the great profite that commeth to the faithfull by their afflictions. 15. 17. And because they should not impute to lightnesse, that he deferred his comming contrary to his promise, he proueth his constancie, both by the sincerity of his preaching, and also by the immutable trueth of the Gospel. 21 Which trueth is grounded on Christ, and sealed in our hearts by the holy Ghost.

PAVL an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by ỹ wil of God, & our brother Timotheus, to the Church of God, which is at Corinthus w̃ all the Saints which are in all [a] Achaia:

2 Grace bee with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

3 *[b] Blessed be God, euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort, 4 Which comforteth vs in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any affliction by the comfort wherewith wee our selues are comforted of God.

5 For as the [c] sufferings of Christ abound in vs, so our consolation aboundeth through Christ.

6 And whether wee be afflicted, it is for your consolation, and [d] saluation, which [e] is wrought in the enduring of the same sufferings, which we also suffer: or whether wee be comforted, it is for your consolation and saluation.

7 And our hope is stedfast concerning you, in as much as we know that as yee are partakers of the sufferings, so shall yee be also of the consolation.

8 For brethren, wee would not haue you ignorant of our affliction, which came vnto vs in Asia, how we were pressed [f] out of measure passing strength, so that we altogether doubted, euen of life.

9 Yea, we [g] receiued the sentence of death in our selues, because wee should not trust in our selues, but in God which raiseth the dead.

10 Who deliuered vs from so [h] great a death, and doeth deliuer vs: in whom wee trust, that yet hereafter he will deliuer vs, 11 *So that ye labour together in praier for vs, that for the gift bestowed vpon vs for many, thankes may bee giuen by many persons for vs.

12 [i] For our reioycing is this, the testimonie of our conscience, that in simplicitie and godly pureneſſe, and not in fleshly wisedome, [k] but by the grace of God wee haue had our conuersation in the world, and most of all to youwards.

13 For we [l] write none other things vnto you, then that ye read, or els that ye acknowledge, and I trust ye shall acknowledge vnto the end.

14 Euen as yee haue acknowledged vs partly, that wee are your [m] reioycing, euen as ye are [n] ours, in the [o] day of our Lord Iesus.

15 And in this confidence was I minded first to come vnto you, that yee might haue had a double grace, 16 And to passe by you into Macedonia, and to come againe out of Macedonia vnto you, and to bee led forth toward Iudea of you.

17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I vse lightnesse? or mind I those things which I mind, [p] according to the flesh, that with mee should bee [q] Yea, yea, and Nay, nay?

18 Yea, [r] God is faithfull, that our word toward you, was not Yea, and Nay.

19 For the Sonne of God Iesus Christ who was preached among you by vs, that is, by mee, and Siluanus, and Timotheus, was not Yea, and Nay: but in him it was [s] Yea.

20 For all the promises of God in him are [t] Yea, and are in him Amen, vnto the glory of God through vs.

21 And it is God which establisheth vs with you in Christ, and hath anointed vs.

22 Who hath also *sealed vs, and hath giuen the * earnest of the spirit in our hearts.

23 Now I call God for a record vnto my soule, that to spare you, I came not as yet vnto Corinthus.

24 Not that wee [u] haue dominion ouer your fayth, but wee are helpers of your ioy: for by [x] faith ye stand.

u In that I say I came not because I would spare you, I meane not that I haue authority to alter true religiō, or to bind your consciences, but that I am Gods minister to confirme and comfort you. x And faith is not in subiection to man.

CHAP. II.

He sheweth his loue towards them, 7 requiring likewise that they would be fauourable to the incestuous adulterer, seeing he did repent. 14 He also reioyceth in God for the efficacy of his doctrine, 17 confuting thereby such quarrel pickers, as vnder pretence of speaking against his person, sought nothing but the ouerthrow of his doctrine.

BVt I determined thus in my selfe, that I would not come againe to you in heauinesse.

2 For if I make you sory, who is hee then that should make me glad, but y same which is made [a] sory by me?

3 And I wrote [b] this same thing vnto you, lest when I came, I should take heauinesse of them, of whom I ought to reioyce: this confidence haue I in you all, that my ioy is the ioy of you all.

4 For in great affliction, and anguish of heart I wrote vnto you with many teares: not that ye should be made sory, but that yee might perceiue the loue which I haue, specially vnto you.

5 And if any haue caused sorow, the same hath not [c] made mee sory, but partly (lest I should [d] more charge him) you all.

6 It is sufficient vnto the same man, that he was rebuked of many.

7 So that now contrariwise yee ought rather to forgiue him, and comfort him, lest the same [e] should bee swallowed vp with ouermuch heauinesse.

8 Wherefore, I pray you, that you would [f] confirme your loue towards him.

9 For this cause also did I write, that I might know the proofe of you, whether yee would be obedient in all things.

10 To whom ye forgiue any thing, I forgiue also: for verely if I forgaue any thing, to whom I forgaue it, for your sakes forgaue I it in the [g] sight of Christ, 11 Lest Satan should [h] circumuent vs: for we are not ignorant of his enterprises.

12 Furthermore, when I came to Troas to preach Christs Gospel, and a doore was opened vnto me of the Lord, 13 I had no rest ‖ in my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother, but tooke my leaue of them, and went away into Macedonia.

14 [i] Now thanks be vnto God, which alwaies maketh vs [k] to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the sauour of his knowledge by vs in euery place.

15 For we are vnto God the sweet sauour of Christ, in them that are saued, & in them which perish.

16 To the one we are the [l] sauour of death vnto death, * and to the other the sauour of life vnto life, and who is sufficient for these things?

17 * For wee are not as many, [m] which make merchandise of the word of God: but as of sincerity, but as of God in the sight of God speake we ‖ in Christ.

a Which was giuen to Satan, but now doth repent.
b Which made you and him sory in my former epistle.

CHAP. III.

1 He taketh for example the faith of the Corinthians for a probation of the trueth which he preached. 6 And to exalt his Apostleship against the brags of the false apostles, 7. 13 he maketh comparison betwixt the Law and the Gospel.

DO [a] we begin to praise our selues again? or need we as some other, Epistles of recommendation vnto you, or letters of recommendation from you?

2 Ye are our epistle, writtē in our hearts, which is vnderstood and read of all men,

3 In that ye are manifest to be the epistle of Christ [b] ministred by vs, and written, not with inke, but with the Spirit of the liuing God, not in tables of stone, but in fleshly tables of the heart.

4 And such trust haue we through Christ to God:

5 Not that we are sufficient of our selues, to thinke any thing as of our selues: but our sufficiencie is of God,

6 Who also hath made vs able ministers of the new Testament, not of the [d] letter but of the [e] Spirit: for the letter killeth, but the [f] Spirit giueth life.

7 If then the ministration [g] of death written with letters, and ingrauen in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not beholde the face of Moses for the [h] glory of his countenance (which glory is done away)

8 How shall not the ministration of the Spirit be more glorious?

9 For if the ministery of [i] condemnation was glorious, much more doeth the ministration of [k] righteousnes exceed in glory.

10 For euen that which was glorified, was not glorified in this point, that is, as touching the exceeding glory.

11 For if that which should be abolished, was glorious, much more shall that which remaineth, be glorious.

12 Seeing then that we haue such trust, we vse [l] great boldnesse of speech.

13 * And wee are not as Moses, which [m] put a vayle vpon his face, that the children of Israel shoulde not looke vnto the ende of Christ.

a Meaning himselfe, Timotheus, and Siluanus.
b Who were Gods pen.

of that which should be abolished.

14 Therefore their minds are hardened: for vntill this day remaineth the same couering vntaken away in the reading of the old Testament, which vayle in Christ is put away.

15 But euen vnto this day, when Moses is read, the vaile is layd ouer their hearts.

16 Neuertheless, when their heart shalbe turned to the Lorde, the vayle shall be taken away.

17 Now the [a] Lord is the * Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lorde is, there is liberty.

18 But wee all behold as in a [o] myrrour the glory of the Lord with open face, and are changed into the same image, from glory to glory, as by the Spirit of the Lord.

CHAP. IIII.

1 He declareth his diligence and roundnesse in his office. 8 And that which his enemies tooke for his disaduantage, to wit, the crosse and afflictions which he endured, he turneth to his great aduantage, 11. 17 shewing what profit cometh thereby.

THerefore, seeing that we haue this ministery, as wee haue receiued mercy, [a] wee faint not:

2 But haue cast from vs the [b] cloakes of shame, and * walke not in craftinesse, neither handle we the word of God deceitfully: but in declaration of the truth we approoue our selues to euery mans conscience in the sight of God.

3 If our Gospel be then hid, it is hid to them that are lost.

4 In whom the [c] god of this world hath blinded the minds, that is, of the infidels, that the light of the glorious Gospel of Christ, which is the [d] image of God, should not shine vnto them.

5 For wee preach not our [e] selues, but Christ Iesus the Lord, and our selues your seruants for Iesus sake.

6 For God that * commaunded the light to shine out of darkenesse, is hee which hath shined in [f] our hearts, to giue the [g] light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Iesus Christ.

7 But we haue this [h] treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellencie of that power might be of God, and not of vs.

8 Wee are afflicted on euery side, yet are we not in distresse: in powerty, but not ouercome of powerty.

9 We are persecuted, but not forsaken: cast downe, but we perish not.

10 Euery where wee beare about in our body the [i] dying of the Lord Iesus, that the life of Iesus might also be made manifest in our bodies.

11 For we which liue, are alwayes deliuered vnto death for Iesus sake, that the life also of Iesus might be made manifest in our mortall flesh.

12 So then [k] death worketh in vs, and life in you.

13 And because we haue the same [l] spirit of faith, according as it is written, * I beleeued, and therefore haue I spoken, we also beleeue, and therefore speake, 14 Knowing that hee which hath raised vp the Lord Iesus, shall [m] raise vs vp also by Iesus, and set vs with you.

15 For all things are for your sakes, that most plenteous grace by the thankesgiuing of [n] many, may redounde to the prayse of God.

16 Therefore wee faynt not, but though our outward man ‖ perish, yet the inward man is [o] renewed daily.

17 For our [p] light affliction which is but for a moment, causeth vnto vs a farre most excellent and eternall weight of glory:

18 While wee looke not on the things which are seene, but on the things which are not seene: for the things which are seene are temporal: but the things which are not seene are eternall.

CHAP. V.

1 Paul proceedeth to declare the vtility that commeth by the crosse. 4 How we ought to prepare our selues vnto it, 5 by whom, 9 and for what end. 14. 19 He setteth forth the grace of Christ, 20 and the office of ministers, and all the faithful.

FOr wee know that if [a] our earthly house of this tabernacle be destroyed, we haue a building giuen of God, that is, an house not made with handes, but eternall in the heauens.

2 For therefore we sigh, desiring to be clothed with our house, which is from heauen.

3 ‖ Because that if we be clothed, we shal not bee found * naked.

4 For in deed wee that are in this tabernacle, sigh and are burdened, ‖ because wee would not bee vnclothed, but would bee clothed vpon, that mortality might be swallowed vp of life.

5 And hee that hath created vs for this thing, is God, who hath also giuen vnto vs the * earnest of the spirit.

6 Therefore we are alway [b] bold, though we know that whiles we are at ‖ home in the body, we are absent from the Lord.

7 (For we [c] walke by fayth, and not by sight)

8 Neuertheless, we are bold, and loue rather to remoue out of the body, and to dwell with the Lord.

9 Wherefore also wee couet, that both dwelling [d] at home, and remouing [e] from home, we may be acceptable to him.

10 * For we must all appeare before the iudgement seate of Christ, that euery man may receiue the things which are done in his body, according to that hee hath done, whether it be [f] good or euill.

h He proueth the dignitie of his ministery by the fruit and effect thereof, which is to bring men to Christ.
i By imbracing the same faith which we teach to others.
k As they, which more esteemed the outward shew of wisedom and eloquence, then true godlinesse.
l As the aduersaries sayd, which could not abide to heare them praised.
m Our sollie serueth to Gods glory.
n Therefore whosoeuer giueth place to ambition or vaine glory, is yet dead, and liueth not in Christ.
o As the onely faithfull doe in Christ.
p According to the estimation of the world: but as he is guided by the Spirit of God.
q We doe not esteeme, nor commend Christ himselfe nowe, as he was an excellent man: but as hee was the Sonne of God partaker of his glory, and in whom God dwelled corporally: and do you thinke that I will flatter my selfe or any man in setting forth his gifts? Yea, when I prayse my ministery, I commend the power of God: when I commend our worthy factes, I prayse the mighty power of God set foorth by vs wormes and wretches.
r Let him be regenerate, and renounce himselfe, els all the rest is nothing. Isa. 43. 19. reuel. 21. 5.
s Therefore without Christ wee cannot enioy the life euerlasting, nor come to God.
t That is, a sacrifice for sinne.
u By imputation, when wee shall be clad with Christs iustice.

the Lord, we [h] perswade men, and wee [i] are made manifest vnto God, and I trust also that wee are made manifest in your consciences.

12 For wee praise not our selues againe vnto you, but giue you an occasion to reioice of vs, that ye may haue to answere against them, which reioyce in the [k] face, and not in the heart.

13 For whether we be [l] out of our wit, we are it [m] to God: or whether we be in our right mind, we are it vnto you.

14 For the loue of Christ constraineth vs: because we thus iudge, that if one bee dead for all, then were [n] all dead.

15 And he died for all, that they [o] which liue, should not henceforth liue vnto themselues, but vnto him which died for them, and rose againe.

16 Wherefore, henceforth know wee no man [p] after the flesh, yea, though wee had known Christ after the flesh, yet now henceforth [q] know we him no more.

17 Therefore if any man be in Christ, let him be a [r] new creature. * Olde things are passed away: behold, all things are become new.

18 And all things are of God, which hath reconciled vs vnto himselfe by Iesus Christ, and hath giuen vnto vs the ministery of reconciliation.

19 For God was [s] in Christ, and reconciled the world to himselfe, not imputing their sinnes vnto them, and hath committed to vs the word of reconciliation.

20 Nowe then are wee ambassadors for Christ: as though God did beseech you through vs, wee pray you in Christs stead, that ye be reconciled to God.

21 For hee hath made him to bee [t] sinne for vs, which knewe no sinne, that wee should bee [u] made the righteousnesse of God in him.

thing, that our ministery should not be [b] reprehended.

4 But in all things wee approoue our selues as * the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses,

5 In stripes, in prisons, in tumults, in labours,

6 By [c] watchings, by fastings, by purity, by knowledge, by long suffering, by kindnesse, by the [d] holy Ghost, by [e] loue vnfained,

7 [f] By the word of trueth, by the power of God, by the armour of righteousnesse on the right hand and on the left,

8 By honour and dishonour, by euill report, and good report, as deceiuers, and yet true:

9 As vnknowen, and yet knowen: as dying, and behold, we liue: as chastened, and yet not killed:

10 As sorowing, and yet alway reioycing: as poore, and yet make many rich: as hauing nothing, and yet possessing all things.

11 O Corinthians, our [g] mouth is open vnto you: our heart is made large.

12 Ye are not kept strait in vs, but ye are kept strait in your owne [h] bowels.

13 Nowe for the same recompense, I speake as to my children, [i] Bee you also enlarged.

14 [k] Be not vnequally yoked with the infidels: for * what fellowship hath righteousnesse with vnrighteousnesse? and what communion hath light with darkenesse?

15 And what concord hath Christ with ‖Belial? or what part hath the beleeuer with the infidel?

16 And what agreement hath the Temple of God with idoles? * for ye are the Temple of the [l] liuing God: as God hath sayde, * I wil dwel among them, and walke there: and I will be their God, and they shalbe my people.

17 * Wherefore, come out from among them, and separate your selues, sayth the Lord: and touch none vncleane thing, and I will receiue you.

18 * And I wil be a Father vnto you, and ye shall be my sonnes and daughters, sayth the Lord Almighty.

b By the infidels if they saw no fruit come thereof. 1. Cor. 4. 1.
c He declareth with what weapons he resisted his afflictions.

i Shew like affection towards me.
k He seemeth to allude to that which is written, Deut. 22, 10. where the Lord commaundeth that an oxe and an asse be not yoked together, because the match is vnequall: so if the faithfull marrie with the infidels, or els haue to doe with them in any thing vnlawfull, it is here reproued. Ecclus. 13 18. ‖ Or, the deuil. 1. Cor. 3. 16 & 6. 19.

WE wee therefore as workers together beseech you, that yee receiue not the grace of God in vaine.

c That we may teach you.
d By greedy couetousnesse.

e He had neither rest in body nor spirit: and it seemeth that he alludeth to that which is written, Deut. 32. 25. For the crosse to mans eye is common both to the godly and to the wicked, although to contrary ends.
f This ioy ouercame all my sorowes.
1. Pet. 2. 19.
g Whose heart Gods spirit doeth touch, he is sory for his sinnes committed against so mercifull a Father, and these are the fruites of his repentance, as witnesse Dauids and Peters teares: others which are sory for their sinnes onely for feare of punishment and Gods vengeance, fall into desperation, as Cain, Saul, Achitophel, and Iudas.
h In asking God forgiuenesse.
i For in iudging and chastising your selues, you preuented Gods anger.
‖ Or, heart.
k The Greeke word signifieth his bowels, whereby is meant most great loue & tender affections.
l Both in thinking and reporting well of you.

2 c Receiue vs: we haue done wrong to no man: wee haue consumed no man: wee haue d defrauded no man.

3 I speake it not to your condemnation: for I haue sayd before, that yee are in our hearts to die and liue together.

4 I vse great boldnesse of speach toward you: I reioyce greatly in you: I am filled with comfort, and am exceeding ioyous in all our tribulation.

5 For when wee were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but wee were troubled on euery side, fightings e without, and terrors within.

6 But God that comforteth the abiect, comforted vs at the comming of Titus:

7 And not by his comming onely, but also by the consolation wherewith hee was comforted of you, when hee told vs your great desire, your mourning, your feruent minde to me ward, so that I reioyced f much more.

8 For though I made you sory with a letter, I repent not, though I did repent: for I perceiue that the same Epistle made you sory, though it were but for a season.

9 I now reioyce, not that yee were sory, but that ye sorowed to repentance: for ye sorowed godly, so that in nothing ye were hurt by vs.

10 * For godly sorow causeth repentance vnto saluation, not to be repented of: but the worldly sorow causeth death.

11 For beholde, this thing that yee haue been g godly sory, what great care it hath wrought in you: yea, what h clearing of your selues: yea, what indignation: yea, what feare: yea, how great desire: yea, what a zeale: yea, what i punishment: in all things ye haue shewed your selues that yee are pure in this matter.

12 Wherefore, though I wrote vnto you, I did it not for his cause that had done the wrong, neither for his cause that had the iniurie, but that our care toward you in the sight of God might appeare vnto you.

13 Therefore wee were comforted, because yee were comforted: but rather wee reioyced much more for the ioy of Titus, because his ‖ spirit was refreshed by you all.

14 For if that I haue boasted any thing to him of you, I haue not been ashamed: but as I haue spoken vnto you all things in truth, euen so our boasting vnto Titus was true.

15 And his k inward affection is more abundant toward you, when he remembreth the obedience of you all, and how with feare and trembling ye receiued him.

16 I reioyce therefore that I may l put my confidence in you in all things.

CHAP. VIII.

1 By the example of the Macedonians, 9 and Christ, he exhorteth them to continue in releeuing the poore Saints, commending their good beginning. 23 After hee commendeth Titus, and his fellowes vnto them.

WE doe you also to wit, brethren, of the a grace of God bestowed vpon the Churches of Macedonia,

2 Because in great triall of affliction their ioy abounded, and their most extreme pouertie b abounded vnto their rich liberalitie.

3 For to their power (I beare recorde) yea, and beyond their power, they were willing,

4 And prayed vs with great instance that we would receiue the c grace and fellowship * of the ministring which is toward the Saints.

5 And this they did, not as we looked for: but gaue their owne selues, first to the Lord, and after vnto vs by the will of God,

6 That we should exhort Titus, that as he had begun, so hee would also accomplish the same grace among you also.

7 Therefore, as yee abound in euery thing, in faith, and word, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your loue towards vs, euen so see that yee abound in this grace also.

8 This say I not by commaundement, but because of the diligence of others: therefore proue I the naturalnesse of your loue.

9 For ye know the grace of our Lord Iesus Christ, that he being rich, for your sakes became poore, that ye through his pouerty might be made rich.

10 And I shewe my minde herein: for this is expedient for you which haue begun not to doe onely, but also d will, a yeere agoe.

11 Now therefore perfourme to doe it also, that as there was a readinesse to will, euen so yee may perfourme it of that which yee haue.

12 For if there be first a willing minde, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.

13 Neither is it that other men should bee eased and you grieued.

14 But vpon like condition at this time your e abundance supplieth their lacke, that also their abundance may bee for your lacke, that there may be f equalitie:

15 As it is written, * Hee that gathered much, had nothing ouer, and he that gathered little, had not the lesse.

16 And thankes bee vnto God, which hath put in the heart of Titus the same care for you, 17 Because he accepted the exhortation, yea, he was so carefull, that of his owne accord he went vnto you.

18 And wee haue sent also with him the brother, whose praise is g in the Gospel throughout all the Churches,

19 (And not so onely, but is also chosen of the Churches to bee a fellow in our iourney concerning this grace that is ministred by vs vnto the glory of the same Lord, and declaration of your prompt mind)

20 Auoiding this, that no man should blame vs in this abundance that is ministred by vs,

21 * Prouiding for i honest things, not onely before the Lord, but also before men a This benefit of God appeared in two things, first, that the Macedonians being in so great afflictions were so prompt to helpe others: and next, that being in great pouerty were very liberall towards others.

22 And

b So that a most abundant riuer of riches flowed out of their pouertie.
c So he calleth their liberalitie, either because they were the bestowers of Gods graces, or because they receiued them of God freely, and so they desired Paul to see to the distribution thereof.
Chap. 9. 12.
d Euery man may doe good that hath abilitie thereunto: but to will, and haue a minde to doe good, commeth of perfect charitie.
e That as you helpe others in their neede so others shal relieue your want.
f That both you and others, as occasion shal serue, may relieue the godly according to their necessities.
Exod. 16. 18.
g And willingly offered himselfe to gather your almes.
h In preaching the Gospel. Some vnderstand this to be spoken of Luke, others of Barnabas.
Rom. 12. 17.
i His well doing is approued before God and man.

22 And we haue sent with them our brother whom wee haue oft times proued to be diligent in many things, but now much more diligent, for the great confidence, which I haue in you.

23 Whether any doe enquire of Titus, hee is my fellow and helper to youward: or of our brethren, they are messengers of the Churches, and the [k] glorie of Christ.

24 Wherefore shew toward them, and before the Churches the proofe of your loue, and of the reioycing that we haue of you.

k That is, by whom Christs glory is greatly aduanced.

CHAP. IX.

3 The cause of Titus and his companions comming to them. 6 He exhorteth to giue almes cheerefully, 7 Shewing what fruit will come thereof.

FOR as touching the ministring to the Saints, it is superfluous for me to write vnto you.

2 For I know your readinesse of minde, whereof I boast my selfe of you vnto them of Macedonia, and say, that Achaia was prepared a yeere agoe, and your zeale hath prouoked many.

3 Now haue I sent the brethren, lest our reioycing ouer you should bee in vaine in this behalfe, that yee (as I haue said) bee ready:

4 Lest if they of Macedonia come with me, and find you vnprepared, wee (I meede not to say, you) should be ashamed in this my constant boasting.

5 Wherefore, I thought it necessarie to exhort the brethren to come before vnto you, and to finish your benevolence appointed afore, that it might bee ready, and come as of benevolence, and not as of sparing.

6 This yet remember, that he which soweth sparingly, shall reape also sparingly, and hee that soweth liberally, shall reape also liberally.

7 As euery man wilfeth in his heart, so let him giue, not * grudgingly, or of necessitie: * For God loueth a cheerefull giuer.

8 And God is able to make all grace to abound toward you, that ye alwayes hauing [a] all sufficiencie in all things, may abound in euery [b] good worke, 9 *As it is written, [c] He hath sparsed abroad, and hath giuen to the poore: his benevolence remaineth for euer.

10 Also he that findeth seede to the sower, will minister likewise bread for foode, and multiplie your seede, and increase the fruits of your benevolence,

11 That on all parts ye may be made rich vnto all liberalitie, which causeth through vs thanksgiuing vnto God:

12 For the ministration of this seruice not only supplieth the necessities of the Saints, but also is abundant by the thanksgiuing of many vnto God:

13 (Which by the experiment of this ministration praise God for your voluntarie submission to the Gospel of Christ, and for your liberall distribution to them, and to all men)

14 And by [d] their prayer for you, desiring after you greatly for the abundant grace of God in you.

15 Thankes therefore bee vnto God for his vnspeakeable gift.

Prou. 11. 25. rom 12. 8. Eccles. 35. 10.

a Lest they should giue but little, distrusting to impouerish themselues thereby, he sheweth that God will so blesse their liberall hearts, that both they shall haue enough for themselues, and also to helpe others withall.

b That ye may doe good and helpe others at all times.

Psal. 112. 9.

c Dauid speaketh of that man which feareth God, and loueth his neighbour.

d Besides that by their liberalitie God shall be praised, they also shalbe commended to God by their prayers whom they haue holpen, yea and all men shal reuerence them, as being endued with an excellent gift of God.

[d] Or, greatly affectioned toward you.

CHAP. X.

He toucheth the false apostles and defendeth his authoritie, exhorting them to obedience, 11 And sheweth what his power is, 13 And how hee vseth it.

NOw I Paul my selfe beseech you by the meekenesse, and gentlenesse of Christ, which when I am present among you, am [a] base, but am bold toward you being absent.

2 And this I require you, that I neede not to bee bolde when I am present, with that same confidence, wherewith I thinke to bee bolde against some, which esteeme vs as though wee walked [b] according to the flesh.

3 Neuerthelesse, though we walke in the flesh, yet we doe not warre after the flesh,

4 (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mightie through God to cast downe holds)

5 Casting downe the imaginations, and euery high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captiuitie euery thought to the obedience of Christ,

6 And hauing ready the vengeance against al disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled.

7 Looke yee on things after the appearance? If any man trust in himselfe that hee is Christes, let him consider this againe of himselfe, that as he is Christs, euen so are wee Christs.

8 For though I should boast somewhat more of our authoritie, which the Lord hath giuen vs for edification, and not for your destruction, I should haue no shame.

9 This I say, that I may not seeme as it were to feare you with letters.

10 For the letters, [c] saith hee, are sore and strong, but his bodily presence is weake, and his speech is of no value.

11 Let such one thinke this, that such as we are in word by letters when wee are absent, such will we be also indeed, when we are present.

12 For we dare not make our selues of the number, or to compare our selues to them, which praise themselues: but they vnderstand not that they [d] measure themselues with themselues, and compare themselues with themselues.

13 But wee will not reioyce of things, which are not within our measure, * but according to the [e] measure of the line, whereof God hath distributed vnto vs a measure to attaine euen vnto you.

14 For wee stretch not our selues beyond our measure, as though wee had not attained vnto you: for euen to you also haue wee come in preaching the Gospel of Christ.

15 Not boasting of things which are without our measure: that is, of other mens labours: and we hope, when your faith shall increase, to bee magnified by you, according to our line abundantly, a These words his backbiters vsed, thinking thereby to diminish his authoritie, as verse 10.

16 And

b As though wee boasted of our selues by a carnall affection.

c Meaning a certaine man among them, which thus spake of Paul.

d He that measureth any thing must haue some line or measure to mete by, and not to measure a thing by it selfe: so these boasters must measure themselues by their worthy acts: and if they will compare with others, let them shew what countries, what cities, and people they haue wonne to the Lord: for who will praise that souldier, which onely at the table can finely talke of the warres, and when he commeth to the brunt, is neither valiant nor expert? Ephes. 4. 7.

e That is, the gifts and vocation, which God had giuen him to winne others by.

f God gaue the whole world to the Apostles to preach in, so that Paul here meaneth by the line, his portion of the countreys where he preached. Iere.9.24. 1.Cor.1.31.

16 And to preach the Gospel in those regions which are beyond you: not to reioyce in f another mans line, that is, in the things that are prepared already.

17 *But let him that reioyceth, reioyce in the Lord.

18 For hee that praiseth himselfe, is not allowed, but he whom the Lord praiseth.

CHAP. XI.

2 Hee declareth his affection toward them. 5 The excellencie of his ministerie, 9 And his diligence in the same. 13 The fetches of the false Apostles. 16 The peruerse iudgement of the Corinthians, 22 And his owne praises.

a He calleth the praysing of himselfe dotage, to the which thing the arrogancie of the false Apostles compelled him, who sought nothing else but to ouerthrow the Church by diminishing the authoritie of his ministerie.

WOuld to God yee could suffer a little a my foolishnesse, and indeed b ye suffer mee.

b To speake in mine owne commendation.

2 For I am ielous ouer you, with godly ielousie: for I c haue prepared you for one husband, to present you as a pure virgine to Christ:

c The minister marrieth Christ and his Church as husband and wife by the preaching of the Gospel. Gene.3.4.

3 But I feare lest as the * serpent beguiled Eue through his subtiltie, so your minds should be corrupt from the simplicitie that is in Christ.

d That is, more perfect doctrine concerning Christ Iesus.

4 For if hee that commeth preacheth an other d Iesus then him whom we haue preached: or if yee receiue another e spirite then that which ye haue receiued, either another Gospel, then that ye haue receiued, ye might well haue suffered him.

e More excellent gifts of the spirit by other mens preaching.

5 Verely I f suppose that I was not inferiour to the very chiefe Apostles.

f They did not preach Christ more purely then I did: for in this behalfe I was nothing inferiour to the chiefest Apostles.

6 And though I bee g rude in speaking, yet I am not so in knowledge, but among you we haue bene made manifest to the vttmost, in all things.

g That is, vse no worldly eloquence.

7 Haue I committed an offence, because I abased my selfe, that ye might be exalted, and because I preached to you the Gospel of God freely?

8 I h robbed other Churches, and tooke wages of them to doe you seruice.

h Other Churches relieued me.

9 And when I was present with you and had neede, I was i not slouthfull to the hinderance of any man: for that which was lacking vnto mee, the brethren which came from Macedonia supplyed, and in all things I kept and will keepe my selfe, that I should not * bee grieuous to you.

i Hee did not onely labour with his hands for his liuing, but in his extreame pouertie preached diligently without burdening any man, or else waxing slouthfull to doe his dutie to euery man. Chap.12.13. Acts 20.34.

10 k The trueth of Christ is in mee, that this reioycing shal not be shut vp against me in the regions of Achaia.

k Let not the trueth of Christ be thought to be in me, if I suffer my ioy to bee shut vp, which I haue conceiued of Grecia.

11 Wherefore? because I loue you not? God knoweth.

l To slander my ministerie, if I should receiue wages.

12 But what I doe, that will I doe: that I may cut away occasion from them which desire l occasion, that they might bee found like vnto vs in that wherein they reioyce.

13 For such false m Apostles are deceitfull workers, and transforme themselues into the Apostles of Christ.

m By false apostles here is not meant such as teach false doctrine (which doubtlesse, they would haue growen vnto) but such as were vaine glorious, and did not their ductie sincerely.

14 And no marueile: for Satan himselfe is transformed into an Angel of light.

15 Therefore it is no great thing, though his ministers transforme themselues, as though they were the ministers of righteousnesse, whose ende shall bee according to their workes.

16 I say againe, let no man thinke, that I am foolish: or else take me euen as a foole, that I also may boast my selfe a little.

17 That I speake, I speake it not after the n Lord: but as it were foolishly, in this my great boasting.

n In his heart hee had respect to the Lord: but this fashion of boasting seemed according to man, whereunto they compelled him.

18 Seeing that many reioyce * after the flesh, I will reioyce also.

his boasting vpon the Corinthians. 14 Hee sheweth what good will he beareth them, 20 And protesteth to come vnto them.

IT is not expedient for me to doubt, to reioyce: for I will come to visions and reuelations of the Lord.

2 *I knowe a man [a] in Christ aboue foureteene yeeres agone, (whether hee were in the body, I cannot tell, or out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth) which was taken vp into the [b] third heauen.

3 And I know such a man (whether in the body or out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth)

4 How that he was taken vp into Paradise, & heard [c] words which cannot bee spoken, which are not possible for man to vtter.

5 Of such a man will I reioyce: of my selfe will I not reioyce, except it bee of mine infirmities.

6 For though I would reioyce, I should not bee a foole: for I will say the trueth, but I refraine lest any man should thinke of mee aboue that he seeth in me, or that hee heareth of me.

7 And lest I should bee exalted out of measure, through the abundance of reuelations, there was giuen vnto mee [d] a pricke in the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet me, because I should not be exalted out of measure.

8 For this thing I besought the Lord [e] thrise, that it might depart from me.

9 And he said vnto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my power is made [f] perfect through weakenesse. Very gladly therefore will I reioyce rather in mine infirmities that the power of Christ may dwell in mee.

10 Therefore [g] I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproches, in necessities, in persecutions, in anguish for Christes sake: for when I am weake, then am I strong.

11 I was a foole to boast my selfe, ye haue compelled me: for I ought to haue bene commended of you, for in nothing was I inferiour vnto the very chiefe Apostles, though I be nothing.

12 The signes of an Apostle were wrought among you with all patience, with signes, and wonders, and great workes.

13 For what is it wherein yee were inferiours vnto other Churches, * except that I haue not bene ‖ slouthful to your hinderance? forgiue me this wrong.

14 Behold, the [h] third time I am readie to come vnto you, and yet will I not bee slouthful to your hinderance: for I seeke not yours, but [i] you: for the children ought not to lay vp for the fathers, but the fathers for the children.

15 And I will most gladly bestowe, and will bee bestowed for your ‖ soules: though the more I loue you, the lesse I am beloued.

16 But bee it that I charged you not: [k] yet forasmuch as I was craftie, I tooke you with guile.

17 Did I pill you by any of them whom I sent vnto you?

18 I haue desired [l] Titus, and with him I haue sent a brother: did Titus pill you of any thing? walked wee not in the selfe same spirit? walked we not in the same steps?

19 Againe, thinke yee that we excuse our selues vnto you? wee speake before God in Christ. But wee doe all things, dearely beloued, for your edifying.

20 For I feare, lest when I come, I shall not find you such as I would: and that I shall bee found vnto you [m] such as yee would not, and lest there be strife, enuying, wrath, contentions, backbiting, whisperings, swellings, and discord.

21 I feare lest when I come againe, my God [n] abase mee among you, and I shall bewaile many of them which haue sinned already, and haue not repented of the vncleannesse, and fornication, and wantonnes, which they haue committed.

The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Galatians.

THE ARGVMENT.

THe Galatians, after they had beene instructed by Saint Paul in the trueth of the Gospel, gaue place to false Apostles, who entring in, in his absence corrupted the pure doctrine of Christ, and taught that the ceremonies of the Law must bee necessarily obserued, which thing the Apostle so earnestly reasoneth against, that he proueth that the graunting thereof, is the ouerthrow of mans saluation purchased by Christ: for therby the light of the Gospel is obscured: the conscience burdened: the testaments confounded: mans iustice established. And because the false preachers did pretend, as though they had beene sent of the chiefe Apostles, and that Paul had no authoritie, but spake of himselfe, hee prooueth both that he is an Apostle ordeined by God, and also that he is not inferiour to the rest of the Apostles. Which thing established, hee proceedeth to his purpose, proouing that we are freely iustified before God without any workes or ceremonies: which notwithstanding in their time had their vse and commoditie: but now they are not onely vnprofitable figures, but also pernicious, because Christ the trueth and the end thereof is come: Wherefore men ought now to imbrace that libertie, which Christ hath purchased by his blood, and not to haue their consciences snared in the grennes of mans traditions: finally he sheweth wherein this libertie standeth: and what exercises appertaine thereunto.

CHAP. I.

6 Paul rebuketh their inconstancie which suffered themselues to bee seduced by the false Apostles, who preached that the obseruation of the ceremonies of the law were necessarie to saluation, 8 And detesteth them that preach any otherwise then Christ purely. 13 He sheweth his owne conuersation, magnifieth his office and Apostleship, and declareth himselfe to be equal with the chiefe Apostles.

PAul * an Apostle (not of men neither by b man, but by Iesus Christ, and God the Father, which hath raised him from the dead)

2 And all the brethren which are with mee, vnto the Churches of Galatia:

3 Grace bee with you, and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Iesus Christ,

4 Which gaue himselfe for our sinnes, that hee might deliuer vs * from this c present euil world, according to the will of God, euen our Father,

5 To whom bee glorie for euer and euer, Amen.

6 I maruaile that yee are so soone remooued away vnto another ‖ Gospel from him that hath called you in the d grace of Christ,

7 Which is not another Gospel, saue that there be some which trouble you, and intend to e peruert the Gospel of Christ.

8 But though that wee, or an f Angel from heauen preach vnto you otherwise then that which wee haue preached vnto you, let him be ‖ accursed.

9 As wee sayde before, so say I now againe, if any man preach vnto you otherwise then that yee haue receiued, let him be accursed.

10 For g now preach I mans doctrine, or Gods? or goe I about to please men? for if I should yet please men, I were not the seruant of Christ.

11 * Now I certifie you, brethren, that the Gospel which was preached of me, was not after h man.

12 For neither receiued I it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the i reuelation of Iesus Christ.

13 For ye haue heard of my conuersation in time past, in the Iewish religion, how that * I persecuted the Church of God extremely, and wasted it, 14 And profited in the Iewish religion aboue many of myne companions of mine owne nation, and was much more zealous of the k traditions of my fathers.

15 But when it l pleased God (which had separated me from my mothers wombe, and called me by his grace)

17 Neither came I againe to Ierusalem, to them which were Apostles before mee, but I went into Arabia, and turned againe vnto Damascus.

18 Then after three yeres I came againe to Ierusalem to visite Peter, & abode with him fifteene dayes.

19 And none of the other Apostles saw I, saue Iames the Lords brother.

20 Now the things which I write vnto you, behold, I witnesse before God, that I lie not.

21 After that, I went into the coasts of Syria and Cilicia: for I was vnknowen by face vnto the Churches of Iudea, which were in Christ.

22 But they had heard onely some say, He which persecuted vs in time past, now preacheth the [n] faith which before he destroyed.

23 And they glorified God for me.

n That is, the Gospel which is the doctrine of faith,

CHAP. II.

Confirming his Apostleship to be of God, 3 He sheweth why Titus was not circumcised, 6 and that he is nothing inferiour to other Apostles: 11 Yea, and that he hath reproued Peter the Apostle of the Iewes. 16 After he commeth to the principall scope, which is to proue that iustification only commeth of the grace of God by faith in Iesus Christ, and not by the workes of the Law.

THen fourteene yeeres after I went vp againe to Ierusalem with Barnabas, and tooke with me Titus also.

2 And I went vp by reuelation, and [a] communicated with them of the Gospell which I preach among the Gentiles, * but particularly with them that were the chiefe, least by any meanes I should runne, or had runne ‡ in vaine:

3 But neither yet Titus which was with me, though he were a Grecian, was [b] compelled to be circumcised,

4 For all the false brethren that crept in: who came in priuily to spie out our libertie, which wee haue in Christ Iesus, that they might bring vs into bondage,

5 To whom we [c] gaue not place by subiection for an houre, that the trueth of the Gospel might continue with you.

6 And of them which seemed to be great, I was not taught (what they [d] were in time passed, it maketh no matter to mee: * God accepteth no mans person) neuertheless, they that are the chiefe, [e] did communicate nothing with me.

7 But contrariwise when they saw that the Gospel ouer the vncircumcision, was committed vnto me, as the Gospel ouer the circumcision was vnto Peter:

8 (For hee that was mighty by Peter in the Apostleship ouer the Circumcision, was also mighty by mee toward the Gentiles)

9 And when Iames, and Cephas, and Iohn knew of the grace that was giuen vnto me, which are counted to be pillars, they gaue to mee and to Barnabas the [f] right hands of fellowship, that wee should preach vnto the Gentiles, and they vnto the Circumcision,

10 * Warning only that we should remember the poore: which thing also I was diligent to doe.

11 ¶ And when Peter was come to Antiochia, I withstood him ‖ to his face: for he was to be blamed.

12 For before that certaine came from Iames, he ate with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew and separated himselfe, fearing them which were of the circumcision.

13 And the other Iewes dissembled likewise with him, in so much that Barnabas was brought into their dissimulation also.

14 But when I saw that they went not the ‡ right way to the trueth of the Gospel, I said vnto Peter before all men, If thou being a Iew, liuest as the Gentiles, and not like the Iewes, why [h] constrainest thou the Gentiles to doe like the Iewes?

15 Wee which are Iewes by nature, and not [i] sinners of the Gentiles, 16 Knowe that a man is not iustified by the workes of the Lawe, but by the faith of Iesus Christ: euen wee I say, haue beleeued in Iesus Christ, that wee might be iustified by the faith of Christ, and not by the workes of the Lawe, because that by the workes of the Lawe, no ‖ flesh shall be iustified.

17 * If then while wee seeke to be made righteous by Christ, we our selues are found [k] sinners, is Christ therefore the minister of sinne? God ‖ forbid.

18 For if I build againe the things that I haue destroyed, [m] I make my selfe a trespasser.

19 For I through the Lawe am dead to the Lawe, and that I might liue vnto God, I am [n] crucified with Christ.

20 Thus I liue, yet [o] not I nowe, but Christ liueth in me: and in that that I now liue in the [p] flesh, I liue by the faith in the Sonne of God, who hath loued me, and giuen himselfe for me.

21 I doe not abrogate the [q] grace of God: for if righteousnesse bee by the Lawe, then Christ died ‖ without a cause.

c That is, the doctrine of saluation through faith in Iesus Christ, as Chap. 1.22.

h Which is the Gospel.

i I will vse a common example, that you may be ashamed to attribute lesse vnto God, then to such couenants, which one man maketh to another. *Hebr.*9.17.

k No more is the promise or couenant of God abrogated by the Law, nor yet is the Law added to the promise to take any thing away that was superfluous, or to supply any thing that wanted.

l Which declareth that the Iewes and Gentiles are both partakers of the promise, because they are ioyned in Christ, which is this blessed seede. m That sinne might appeare and be made more abundant, and so all to be shut vp vnder sinne.

of the Law, or by the hearing of c faith preached?

3 Are ye so foolish, that after ye haue begun in the spirit, yee would now d bee made perfect by the e flesh?

4 Haue yee suffered so many things in vaine? if so be it be euen in vaine.

5 He therefore that ministreth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doeth hee it through the workes of the Law, or by the hearing of faith preached?

6 Yea rather as Abraham beleeued God, and it was * imputed to him for righteousnesse.

7 Know ye therefore, that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

8 For the Scripture foreseeing, that God would iustifie the Gentiles through faith, preached before the Gospel vnto Abraham, saying, * In thee shall all the Gentiles bee blessed.

9 So then they which bee of faith, are blessed with faithfull Abraham.

10 For as many as are of the f workes of the Lawe, are vnder the curse: for it is written, * Cursed is euery man that continueth not in all things, which are written in the booke of the Lawe, to doe them.

11 And that no man is iustified by the Law in the sight of God, it is euident: * for the iust shall liue by faith.

12 And the g Law is not of faith: but * the man that shall doe those things, shall liue in them.

13 Christ hath redeemed vs frō the curse of the Lawe, when he was made a curse for vs (for it is written, * Cursed is euery one that hangeth on tree)

14 That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Christ Iesus, that wee might receiue the h promise of the Spirit through faith.

15 Brethren, I i speake as men doe, * Though it be but a mans couenant, when it is confirmed, yet no man doeth abrogate it, or k addeth any thing thereto.

16 Now to Abraham and his seede were the promises made. Hee sayth not, And to the seedes, as speaking of many: but, And to thy seede, as of one, which l is Christ.

17 And this I say, that the Lawe which was foure hundreth and thirtie yeeres after, cannot disanull the couenant that was confirmed afore of God in respect of Christ, that it should make the promise of none effect.

18 For if the inheritance be of the Law, it is no more by the promise, but God gaue it vnto Abraham by promise.

19 Wherefore then serueth the Lawe? It was added because of the m transgressions, till the seede came vnto the which the promise was made: and it was ordained by n Angels in the hande of a Mediatour.

20 Now a Mediatour is not a Mediatour of o one: but God is p one.

21 Is the Law then against the promise of God? God forbid: for if there had beene a Lawe giuen which could haue giuen life, surely righteousnesse should haue been by the Law.

22 But the Scripture hath * concluded q al vnder sinne, that the promise by the faith of Iesus Christ should be giuen to them that beleeue.

23 But before r faith came, we were kept vnder the Lawe, and shut vp vnto the faith which should afterward be reuealed.

23 Wherefore the * Law was our schoolemaster to bring vs to Christ, that wee might be made righteous by faith.

25 But after that faith is come, wee are no longer vnder f a schoolemaster.

26 For ye are all the sonnes of God by faith, in Christ Iesus.

27 * For all yee that are t baptized into Christ, haue put on Christ.

28 There is neither Iewe nor Grecian: there is neither bond nor free: there is neither male nor female: for yee are all u one in Christ Iesus.

29 And if ye be Christes, then are yee Abrahams seede, and heires by promise.

n Who as ministers gaue it to Moses by the authoritie of Christ.

o But serueth both for the Iewes and Gentiles to ioyne them to God.

CHAP. IIII.

2 He sheweth wherefore the ceremonies were ordained. 3 Which being shadowes, must ende when Christ the trueth commeth. 9 He moueth them by certaine exhortations, 22 And confirmeth his argument with a strong example, or allegorie.

THen I say, that the a heire as long as hee is a childe, differeth nothing from a seruant, though he be lord of all,

2 But is vnder b tutors and gouernors, vntill the time appointed of the father.

3 Euen so, wee when wee were children were in bondage vnder the c rudiments of the world.

4 But when the fulnesse of time was come, God sent foorth his Sonne made of a woman, and made d vnder the Law,

5 That hee might redeeme them which were vnder the Law, that we * might receiue the adoption of the sonnes.

6 And because ye are sonnes, God hath sent foorth the e Spirit of his Sonne into your hearts, which crieth, f Abba, Father.

7 Wherefore, thou art no more g a seruant, but a sonne: nowe if thou bee a sonne, thou art also the heire of God through Christ.

a The Church of Israel was vnder the Law as the pupil subiect to his tutor, euen vnto the time of Christ, when she waxed strong, and then her tutelship ended.

b That is, the Law, which before he called a schoolemaster, Chap.3.25.

c That is, vnder the Law, which was but an a.b.c. in respect of the Gospel.

h When ye receiued the Gospel, ye were idolaters: therefore it is shame for you to refuse libertie, and become seruants, yea, and seeing the Iewes desire to be out of their tutelship.
i Not in deede, but in opinion.
k The Galatians of Panims beganne to be Christians, but by false apostles were turned backward to beginne anew the Iewish ceremonies, and so in stead of going forward toward Christ, they ran backward from him.
l Ye obserue dayes, as Sabbathes, new moones, &c. ye obserue moneths as the first and seuenth moneth: ye obserue times, as Easter, Whitsuntide, the feast of Tabernacles: ye obserue yeres, as the Iubile, or yeere of forgiuenesse, which beggerly ceremonies are most pernitious to them which haue receiued the sweet libertie of the Gospel, and thrust them backe into superstitious slauerie.
m So friendfull to me, as I am affectioned toward you.
n For I pardon you, if you repent.
o Being in great dangers and afflictions, or without pompe and ostentation.

8 But euen then when yee [h] knew not God, ye did seruice vnto them, which by [i] nature are not gods.

9 But now seeing ye know God, yea, rather are knowen of God, how turne [k] yee againe vnto impotent & beggerly rudiments, whereunto as from the beginning ye will be in bondage againe?

10 Ye obserue [l] dayes, and moneths, and times and yeeres.

11 I am in feare of you, lest I haue bestowed on you labour in vaine.

12 Bee yee as [m] I: for I am euen as you: brethren, I beseech you: yee haue not hurt [n] me at all.

13 And ye know, how through [o] infirmitie of the flesh, I preached the Gospel vnto you at the first.

14 [p] And the triall of mee which was in my flesh, yee despised not, neither abhorred: but yee receiued mee as an [q] Angel of God, yea, as Christ Iesus.

15 What was then your felicitie? for I beare you record, that if it had bene possible, ye would haue plucked out your owne eyes, and haue giuen them to me.

16 Am I therefore become your enemie, because I tell you the trueth?

17 They are zelous ouer you [r] amisse: yea, they would exclude [s] you, that ye should altogether loue them.

18 But it is a good thing to loue earnestly alwayes in a good thing, and not onely when I am present with you, 19 My little children, of whom I trauaile in birth againe, vntill Christ be [t] formed in you.

20 And I would I were with you now, that I might change my voice: for I am in doubt of you.

21 Tell mee, ye that will bee vnder the Law, do ye not heare the Law?

22 For it is written, that Abraham had two sonnes, * one by a seruant, * and one by a free woman.

23 But he which was of the seruant, was borne after the flesh: and hee which was of the free woman, was borne by promise.

24 By the which things another thing is meant: for these mothers [u] are the two Testaments, the one which is [x] Agar of mount Sina, which gendreth vnto bondage, 25 (For Agar or Sina is a mountaine in [y] Arabia, and it answereth to Ierusalem which now is) and shee is in bondage with her children.

26 But Ierusalem, which is [||] aboue, is free: which is the mother of vs all.

27 For it is written, * Reioyce thou [z] barren that bearest no children: breake foorth, and crie thou that trauailest not: for the desolate hath many mo children then she which hath an husband.

28 * Therefore, brethren, we are after the maner of Isaac, children of the promise.

29 But as then hee that was borne after the flesh, persecuted him that was borne after the spirit, euen so it is now.

30 But what saith the Scripture? * Put out the seruant and her sonne: for the sonne of the seruant shall not be heire with the sonne of the free woman.

31 Then brethren, we are not children of the seruant, but of the [a] free woman. †

CHAP. V.

2 Hee laboureth to draw them away from circumcision, 17 And sheweth them the battell betwixt the spirite and the flesh, and the fruits of them both.

STand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made vs free, and bee not intangled againe with the yoke of bondage.

2 * Beholde, I Paul say vnto you, that if ye be [a] circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing.

3 For I testifie again to euery man, which is circumcised, that he is bound to keepe the whole Law.

4 Ye are * abolished from Christ, whosoeuer are iustified by the Law, yee are fallen from grace.

5 For we through the Spirit [b] wait for the hope of righteousnesse through faith.

6 For in Iesus Christ neither circumcision auaileth any thing, neither vncircumcision, but faith which worketh by loue.

7 Yee did runne well: who did let you, that ye did not obey the [c] trueth?

8 It is not the perswasion of him that [d] calleth you.

9 * A little [e] leauen doeth leauen the whole lumpe.

10 I haue trust in you through the Lord, that ye will be none otherwise [f] minded: but he that troubleth you, shal beare his condemnation, whosoeuer he be.

11 And brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why doe I yet suffer persecution? Then is the [g] slaunder of the Crosse abolished.

12 Would to God they were euen cut off, which doe disquiet you.

13 For brethren, yee haue bene called vnto libertie: onely vse not your libertie as an occasion vnto the flesh, but by loue serue one another.

14 For [h] all the Lawe is fulfilled in one word, which is this, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

15 If yee bite and deuoure one another, take heed least yee be consumed one of another.

16 Then I say, * Walke in the [i] Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lusts of the flesh.

rit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary one to the other, so that ye cannot doe the same things that ye would.

18 And if ye be led by the l Spirit, ye are not under the Law.

19 Moreover the workes of the flesh are manifest, which are adulterie, fornication, uncleannesse, wantonnesse,

20 Idolatrie, witchcraft, hatred, debate, emulations, wrath, contentions, seditions, heresies, 21 Envie, murthers, drunkennesse, gluttonie, and such like, whereof I tell you before, as I have also told you before, that they which doe such things, shall not inherit the kingdome of God.

22 But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentlenesse, goodnesse, faith, 23 Meekenesse, temperancie: against such there is m no law.

24 For they that are Christs, n have crucified the flesh with the affections and the lusts.

25 If wee live in the Spirit, let us also walke in the o Spirit.

26 Let us not be desirous of vaine glory, provoking one another, envying one another.

l If you be guided by the Spirit of adoption, that which ye doe, is agreeable to God although it be not perfect.

m For they are under the Spirit of grace.

n Christ hath not onely remitted their sinnes, but sanctified them into newnesse of life.

o That being dead to sinne, and living to God, we may declare the same in [illegible]esse and innocencie of life.

CHAP VI.

1 He exhorteth them to use gentlenesse toward the weake, 2 And to shewe their brotherly love and modestie: 6 Also to provide for their ministers, 9 To persevere, 14 To reioyce in the crosse of Christ, 15 To newnesse of life, 16 And last of all, wisheth to them with the rest of the faithfull all prosperitie.

BRethren, if a man be a fallen by occasion unto any fault, yee which are spirituall, restore such one with the spirit of meekenesse, considering thy selfe, lest thou also bee tempted.

2 Beare ye one an others burden, and so b fulfill the Law of Christ.

3 For if any man seeme to himselfe, that he is somewhat, when hee is c nothing, hee deceiveth himselfe in his imagination.

4 But let every man prooue his owne worke, and then shall he have d reioycing in himselfe only and not in another.

5 * For every man shall beare his owne burden. 1.Cor.3.8.

6 Let him that is taught in the word, make him that hath taught him partaker of all his e *goods.

7 Be not deceived: God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall hee also reape.

8 For he that f soweth to his flesh, shall of the flesh reape corruption: but hee that soweth to the Spirit, shall of the Spirit reape life everlasting.

9 * Let us not therefore be weary of well doing: for in season wee shall g reape, if we faint not.

10 While we have therefore time, let us doe good unto all men, but specially unto them which are of the houshold of faith.

11 ¶ Yee see how large a letter I have written unto you with mine owne hand.

12 As many as desire to make a faire shewe h in the flesh, they constraine you to be circumcised, onely because they would not suffer persecution for the i crosse of Christ.

13 For they themselves which are circumcised, keepe not the Lawe, but desire to have you circumcised, that they might reioyce k in your flesh.

14 But God forbid that I should reioyce, but in the crosse of our Lord Jesus Christ, whereby the l world is crucified unto mee, and I unto the world.

15 For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but a new m creature.

16 And as many as walke according to this rule, peace shall be upon them, and mercie, and n upon the Israel of God.

17 From henceforth let no man o put me to businesse: for I beare in my body the p markes of the Lord Jesus.

18 Brethren, the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit, Amen.

The Epistle of Paul to the Ephesians.

THE ARGVMENT.

WHile Paul was prisoner at Rome, there entred in among the Ephesians false teachers, who corrupted the true doctrine which hee had taught them, by reason whereof hee wrote this Epistle to confirme them in that thing, which they had learned of him. And first after his salutation, hee assureth them of salvation, because they were thereunto predestinate by the free election of God, before they were borne, and sealed up to his eternall life by the holy Ghost, given unto them by the Gospel, the knowledge of the which mysterie hee prayeth God to confirme toward them. And to the intent they should not glory in themselves, hee sheweth them their extreme miserie, misery wherein they were plunged before they knew Christ, as people without God, Gentiles to whom the promises were not made, and yet, by the free mercy of God in Christ Iesus, they were saued, & hee appointed to be their Apostle, as of all other Gentiles: therefore he desireth God to lighten the Ephesians hearts with the perfect vnderstanding of his Sonne, and exhorteth him likewise to bee mindfull of so great benefits, neither to be moued with the false apostles, which seeke to ouerthrow their faith and tread vnder foote the Gospel, which was not preached to them, as by chance or fortune, but according to the eternall counsell of God: who by this meanes onely preserueth his Church. Therefore the Apostle commendeth his ministery, forasmuch as God thereby reigneth among men, and causeth it to bring foorth most plentifull fruites, as innocency, holinesse, with all such offices, appertaining to godlinesse. Last of all he declareth not only in generall, what ought to be the life of the Christians, but also sheweth particularly, what things concerne euery mans vocation.

CHAP. I.

After his salutation, 4 Hee sheweth that the chiefe cause of their saluatiō standeth in the free election of God through Christ. 16 He declareth his good will toward them giuing thanks & praying God for their faith 21 The maiesty of Christ.

d We that are the members, are raised vp from death, and reigne with our head Christ in heauen by faith.

6 And hath[d] raised vs vp together, and made vs sit together in the heauenly places in Christ Iesus,

7 That hee might shew in the ages to come, the exceeding riches of his grace, through his kindnesse toward vs in Christ Iesus.

8 For by grace are yee saued through faith, and that not of your selues: it is the gift of God, 9 Not of workes, lest any man should boast himselfe.

i That is, the cause of the diuision that was between the Iewes and the Gentiles.

15 In abrogating through his[k] flesh the hatred, that is, the Law of commandements which standeth in ordinances, for to make of twaine one new man in himselfe, so making peace, k For in Christ all things were accomplished, which were prefigured in the Law.

8 Wherefore he ſaith, *When hee aſcended vp on high, hee led captiuitie captiue, and gaue gifts vnto men. Pſal.68.18.

9 (Now in that hee aſcended, what is it but that he had alſo deſcended firſt into the loweſt parts of the earth?

g The Meſſias came down from heauen into the earth to triumph ouer Satan, death and ſinne, and led them as priſoners and ſlaues, which before were conquerers and kept all in ſubiection: which victory he gat, and alſo gaue it as a moſt precious gift to his Church.

12 For the [i] gathering together of the Saints, for the worke of the miniſtery, [k] and for the edification of the body of Chriſt, k That the body of Chriſt might be perfect.

13 Till we all meet together (in the vnitie of faith and knowledge of the Sonne of God) vnto a [l] perfect man, & vnto the meaſure of the age of the fulneſſe of Chriſt, l That we may be of a ripe Chriſtian age, and come to the full meaſure of that knowledge which we ſhall haue of Chriſt.

14 That we henceforth bee no more children, wauering and caried about with euery winde of doctrine, by the deceit of men, and with craftineſſe, whereby they lay in waite to deceiue.

m Chriſt being head of his Church, nouriſheth his members, and ioyneth them together by ioynts, ſo that euery part hath his iuſt proportion of foode, that at length the body may grow vp to perfection. Rom.1.21.

15 But let vs follow the trueth in loue, and in all things grow vp into him, which is the [m] head, that is, Chriſt,

17 This I ſay therefore and teſtifie in the Lord, that yee henceforth walke not as * other Gentiles walke, in vanitie of their [n] minde, n Man not regenerate, hath his minde, vnderſtanding, and heart corrupt.

9 (For the fruit of the Spirit is in all goodnesse, and righteousnesse, and trueth)
10 Approouing that which is pleasing to the Lord.
11 And haue no fellowshippe with the vnfruitfull workes of darknes, but euen reproue them rather.
12 For it is shame euen to speake of the things which are done of them in secret.
13 But all things when they are reproued of the g light, are manifest: for it is light that maketh all things manifest.
14 Wherefore he saith, h Awake thou that sleepest, and stande vp from the dead, and Christ shall giue thee light.
15 Take heed therfore that ye walke circumspectly, not as fooles, but as * wise, 16 i Redeeming the time: for the k dayes are euill.
17 * Wherefore, be ye not vnwise, but vnderstand what the will of the Lord is.
18 And be not dronke with wine, wherein is excesse: but be fulfilled with the Spirit,
19 Speaking vnto your selues in psalmes, and ‖hymnes, and spirituall songs, singing, and making melodie to the Lorde in your l hearts,
20 Giuing thanks alwaies for all things vnto God euen the Father, in the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ, 21 Submitting your selues one to another in the m feare of God.
22 ¶ * Wiues, submit your selues vnto your husbands, as vnto the Lord.
23 * For the husband is the wines head, euen as Christ is the head of the Church, and the same is the sauiour of his n body.
24 Therefore, as the Church is in subiection to Christ, euen so let the wiues bee to their husbands in euery thing.
25 ¶ * Husbands, loue your wiues, euen as Christ loued the Church, and gaue himselfe for it,
26 That he might sanctifie it, & cleanse it by the o washing of water through the word,
27 That he might make it vnto himselfe a glorious Church, not hauing p spotte or wrinkle, or any such thing: but that it should be holy, and without blame.
28 So ought men to loue their wiues, as their owne bodies: he that loueth his wife, loueth himselfe.
29 For no man euer yet hated his owne flesh, but nourisheth and cherisheth it, euen as the Lord doeth the Church.
30 For we are members of his body, q of his flesh, and of his bones.
31 * For this cause shall a man leaue father & mother, and shall cleaue to his wife, and they twayne shalbe one flesh.
32 This is a great secret, but I speake concerning Christ, & concerning the Church.
33 Therefore euery one of you, do ye so: let euery one loue his wife, euen as himselfe, and let the wife see that she feare her husband.

12 For we wrestle not against f flesh and blood, but against * principalities, against powers, and against the worldly gouernors, the princes of the darkenesse of this world, against spirituall wickednesses, which are in the hie places.
13 For this cause take vnto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to resist in the euil day, & hauing finished all things, stand fast.

The Epiſtle of Paul to the Philippians.

THE ARGVMENT.

PAul being warned by the holy Ghoſt to goe to Macedonia, planted firſt a Church at Philippi a citie of the ſame countrey: but becauſe his charge was to preach the Goſpel vniuerſally to all the Gentiles, hee trauailed from place to place, till at the length he was taken priſoner at Rome, whereof the Philippians being aduertiſed, ſent their miniſter Epaphroditus with reliefe vnto him: who declaring him the ſtate of the Church, cauſed him to write this Epiſtle, wherein hee commendeth them that they ſtood manfully againſt the falſe apoſtles, putting them in mind of his good wil toward them, and exhorteth them that his impriſonment make them not to ſhrinke: for the Goſpel thereby was confirmed and not diminiſhed: eſpecially he deſireth them to flee ambition, & to imbrace modeſty, promiſing to ſend Timotheus vnto them, who ſhould inſtruct them in matters more amply: yea, and that hee himſelfe would alſo come vnto them, adding likewiſe the cauſe of their miniſters ſo long abode. And becauſe there were no greater enemies to the croſſe then the falſe apoſtles, hee confuteth their falſe doctrine, by proouing only Chriſt to be the end of all true religion, with whom we haue all things, and without whom wee haue nothing, ſo that his death is our life, and his reſurrection our iuſtification. After this follow certaine admonitions both particular and generall, with teſtification of his affection toward them, and thankfull accepting of their beneuolence.

PAul and Timotheus the ſeruants of Jeſus Chriſt, to all the Saints in Chriſt Jeſus which are at Philippi, with the a Biſhops, and Deacons:

2 Grace be with you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

6 And I am perſwaded of this ſame thing, that hee that hath begunne this good worke in you, will perfourme it vntill the d day of Jeſus Chriſt,

7 As it becommeth me ſo to iudge of you all, becauſe I haue you in remembrance, e that both in my bands, and in my defence and confirmation of the Goſpel, you all were partakers of my f grace.

8 For God is my record, how I long after you all from the very heart roote in Jeſus Chriſt.

9 And this I pray, that your loue may abound, yet more and more in knowledge, and in all iudgement,

10 That yee may diſcerne things that ‖ differ one from another, that ye may be pure, and g without offence, vntill the day of Chriſt, 11 Filled with the fruits of h righteouſneſſe, which are by Jeſus Chriſt vnto the glory and praiſe of God.

12 ¶ I would ye vnderſtoode, brethren, that the things which haue come vnto mee, are turned rather to the furthering of the Goſpel,

13 So that my bands in i Chriſt are famous throughout all the k iudgement hall, and in all other places, 14 In ſo much that many of the brethren in the Lorde are boldened through my bandes, and dare more frankely ſpeake the l word.

IF there be therefore any * consolation in Christ, if any comfort of loue, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any compassion and mercy,

2 Fulfill my ioy, that ye be like minded, hauing the same loue, being of one accord, and of b one iudgement,

3 That nothing be done through contention or vayne glory, but that in meekenesse of mind * euery man esteeme other better then himselfe.

4 Looke not euery man on his owne things, but euery man also on the things of other men.

5 Let the same minde be in you that was euen in Christ Iesus,

6 Who c being in the forme of GOD, thought it no d robbery to be equall ẅ God:

7 * But he made himselfe of no reputation, & tooke on him the e forme of a seruant, and was made like vnto men, & was found in f shape as a man.

8 * He humbled himselfe, and became obedient vnto the death, euen the death of the crosse.

9 Wherefore God hath also highly exalted him, and giuen him a Name aboue euery Name,

10 * That at the Name of Iesus should euery knee s bow, both of things in heauen, and things in earth, and things vnder the earth, 11 * And that euery tongue should confesse that Iesus Christ is the Lord, vnto the glory of God the Father.

12 Wherefore my beloued, as ye haue alwayes obeyed me, not as in my presence only, but nowe much more in mine absence, so h make an end of your owne saluation with i feare and trembling.

13 For it is God which worketh in you, both the will and the deed, euen of his k good pleasure.

14 Doe all things without * murmuring and reasonings,

15 That ye may be blamelesse, and pure, and the sonnes of God without rebuke in the middes of a naughty and crooked nation, among whome yee shine, as * lights in the world,

16 l Holding forth the m word of life, that I may reioyce in the day of Christ, that I haue not runne in vaine, neither haue laboured in vaine.

17 Yea, and though I be n offered vp vpon the sacrifice, and seruice o of your faith, I am glad, and reioyce with you all.

18 For the same cause also be ye glad, and reioyce with me.

19 And I trust in the Lord Iesus to send * Timotheus shortly vnto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state.

20 For I haue no man like minded, who will faithfully care for your matters.

21 * For all p seeke their owne, and not that which is Iesus Christs.

22 But ye know the proofe of him, that as a sonne with the father, hee hath serued with me in the Gospel.

23 Him therefore I hope to send assoone as I know how it will go with me, 24 And trust in the Lord, that I also my selfe shall come shortly.

25 But I supposed it necessarie to send my brother Epaphroditus vnto you, my copanion in labour, and fellowe souldier, euen your messenger, and he that ministred vnto me such things as I wanted.

26 For he longed after all you, and was full of heauinesse, because ye had heard, that he had bene sicke.

27 And no doubt he was sicke, very neere vnto death: but God had mercy on him, and not on him only, but on me also, lest I should haue sorowe vpon sorow.

28 I sent him therefore the more diligently, that when ye should see him againe, ye might reioyce, and I might be the lesse sorowfull.

29 Receiue him therefore in the Lord with all gladnesse, and make much of such:

30 Because that for the ẅorke of Christ he was neere vnto death, and regarded not his life, to fulfill that seruice which was lacking on your part toward me.

CHAP. III.

2 He warneth them to beware of false teachers, 3 against whome hee setteth Christ, 4 likewise himselfe, 9 and his doctrine, 12 and reproueth mans owne righteousnesse.

a Which ye haue often heard of me.

MOreouer, my brethren, reioyce in the Lord. It grieueth me not to write a the same things to you, and for you it is a sure thing.

b Which barke against the true doctrine to fill their bellies.

2 Beware of b dogs: beware of euil workers: beware of the c concision.

c The false apostles gloried in their circumcision, whereunto S. Paul here alludeth, calling them concision, which is cutting off, and tearing asunder of the Church.

3 For wee are the circumcision, which worship God in the spirit, and reioyce in Christ Iesus, and haue no confidence d in the flesh:

d In outward things. 2.*Cor.*11.22. *Act.*23.6.

4 Though I might also haue confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, much more I:

5 Circumcised the eight day, of the kinred of Israel, of the tribe of Beniamin, * an Ebrewe of the Ebrewes, * by the ‖ lawe a Pharise.

‖ Or, profession.

6 Concerning zeale, I persecuted the Church: touching the righteousnesse which is in the Law, I was vnrebukeable.

7 But the things that were vantage vnto mee, the same I counted losse for Christs sake.

8 Yea, doubtlesse I thinke all things but losse for the excellent knowledge sake of Christ Iesus my Lorde, for whom I haue counted all things losse, and doe iudge them to be dongue, that I might winne Christ, e As one grafted in by faith.

9 And might bee e found in him, that is, not hauing mine owne righteousnesse, which is of the Law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, euen the righteousnesse which is of God through faith, f That is, to life euerlasting.

10 That I may know him, and the vertue of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his afflictions, and bee made conformable vnto his death, g Or haue now taken full possession thereof, not that he doubted to attaine vnto it, but because he would declare the excellencie thereof.

11 If by any meanes I might attaine vnto the f resurrection of the dead:

h We can run no farther then God giueth vs strength and sheweth vs the way.

12 g Not as though I had already attained to it, either were already perfect: but I follow, if that I may comprehend that for whose sake also I am h comprehended of Christ Iesus.

i That is, to obtaine the crowne of glory in the heauens.

13 Brethren, I count not my selfe, that I haue attained to it, but one thing I do: I forget that which is behind, and indeuour my selfe vnto that which is before,

14 And follow hard toward the i marke, for the price of the high calling of God in Christ Iesus.

k Or, haue more profited then others.

15 Let vs therefore as many as k be l perfect, be thus minded: and if ye be otherwise minded, God shall reueale euen the m same vnto you.

l This perfection standeth in forsaking sinne, and to be renewed through faith by him which is only perfect.

m That is, that this is the true wisedome, and streight rule of liuing. *Rom.*15.5. 1.*cor.*1.10.

16 Neuertheless in that whereunto wee are come, let vs proceede by one rule, * that we may minde one thing.

17 Brethren, be followers of mee, ‖ & looke on them, which walke so, as yee haue vs for an ensample.

‖ Or, reward.

18 * For many walke, of whom I haue told you often, and now tel you weeping, that they are the enemies of the n crosse of Christ, n That is, of the Gospel, which is the preaching of the crosse.

19 Whose ‖ end is damnation, whose God is their belly, & whose o glory is to their shame, which mind earthly things.

o The vaine glory which they seeke after in this world, shall turne to their confusion and shame.

20 But our p conuersation is in heauen, from whence also wee looke for the * Sauiour, euen the Lord Iesus Christ, p In mind and affection. 1.*Cor.*1.7. *tit.*2.11,13.

21 Who shall change our vile body, that it may bee fashioned like vnto his glorious body, according to the working, whereby hee is able euen to subdue all things vnto himselfe.

CHAP. IIII.

1 He exhorteth them to be of honest conuersation, 15 and thanketh them, because of the prouision that they made for him being in prison, 21 and so concludeth with salutations.

THerefore, my brethren, beloued and longed for, my ioy, and my crowne, so continue in the Lord, ye beloued.

2 I pray Euodias, and beseech Syntyche, that they be of one accord in the Lord.

3 Yea, and I beseech thee, faithfull yokefellow, helpe those women, which laboured with me in the Gospel, with Clement also, and with other my fellow labourers, whose names are in the * q booke of life.

q This booke Ezekiel calleth the writing of the house of Israel, and the secret of the Lord, chap.13.9.

4 Reioyce in the Lord alway, againe I say, reioyce.

5 Let your patient mind be knowen vnto all men. The Lord is r at hand.

b To succour you. *Matth.*6.25.

6 * Be nothing careful, but in all things let your requests bee shewed vnto God in prayer, and supplication, with giuing of thankes.

7 And the peace of God which passeth al vnderstanding, shall s preserue your hearts and minds in Christ Iesus.

c From Satan, who seeketh to take from vs this peace of conscience.

8 Furthermore, brethren, whatsoeuer things are true, whatsoeuer things are honest, whatsoeuer things are iust, whatsoeuer things are pure, whatsoeuer things pertaine to loue, whatsoeuer things are of good report, if there bee any vertue, or if there bee any praise, thinke on these things,

9 Which ye haue both learned and receiued, and heard, and seene in me: those things doe, and the God of peace shall be with you.

10 Now I reioyce also in the Lord greatly, that now at the last yee are t reuiued againe to care for me, wherein notwithstanding ye were careful, but ye lacked opportunitie.

d That is, begin anew to help me.

11 I speake not because of u want: for I haue learned in whatsoeuer state I am, therewith to be content.

e That I was not able to endure my pouerty.

12 And I can bee abased, and I can abound: euery where in all things I am instructed both to be full, & to be hungry, and to abound, and to haue want.

f Not of his own vertue or free will.

13 I am able to doe all things through the helpe of x Christ, which strengtheneth me.

g When I first preached the Gospel vnto you.

14 Notwithstanding ye haue well done, that ye did communicate to mine affliction.

h He had giuen of his part in communicating with them spirituall: hing, but he receiued nothing of them, which ought at least to haue relieued him in his necessity.

15 And ye Philippians know also that in the ‖ beginning of the Gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no Church communicated with me concerning the y matter of giuing and receiuing, but ye onely.

23 The grace of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt be with you all, Amen.

Written to the Philippians from Rome, and ſent by Epaphroditus.

¶ The Epiſtle of Paul to the Coloſsians.

THE ARGVMENT.

IN this Epiſtle S Paul putteth difference betweene the liuely, effectuall and true Chriſt, and the fained, counterfeite, and imagined Chriſt, whom the falſe apoſtles taught. And firſt, he confirmeth the doctrine which Epaphras had preached, wiſhing them the increaſe of faith, to eſteeme the excellency of Gods benefit toward them, reaching them alſo that ſalvation, and whatſoeuer good thing can be deſired, ſtandeth onely in Chriſt, whom onely wee imbrace by the Goſpel. But forasmuch as the falſe brethren would haue mixed the Law with the Goſpel, hee toucheth thoſe flatterers vehemently, and exhorteth the Coloſſians to ſtay onely on Chriſt, without whom all things are but meere vanitie. And as for circumciſion, abſtinence from meates, externall holineſſe, worſhipping of Angels as meanes whereby to come to Chriſt, hee vtterly condemneth, ſhewing what was the office and nature of ceremonies, which by Chriſt are abrogate: ſo that now the exerciſes of the Chriſtians ſtand in mortification of the fleſh, newneſſe of life, with other like offices appertaining both generally and particularly to all the faithfull.

CHAP. I.

3 He giueth thankes vnto God for their faith, 7 Confirmeth the doctrine of Epaphras, 9 Prayeth for the increaſe of their faith. 13 He ſheweth vnto them the true Chriſt, and diſcouereth the counterfeit Chriſt of the falſe apoſtles. 25 He approoueth his authoritie and charge, 28 and of his faithfull executing of the ſame.

PAul an Apoſtle of IESVS Chriſt, by the will of God, and Timotheus our brother,

2 To all them which are a Coloſſe, Saints & faithfull brethren in Chriſt: Grace bee with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

a Which was a city of Phrygia.

3 We giue thankes to God euen the Father of our Lorde Jeſus Chriſt, alwayes praying for you:

4 Since we heard of our faith b in Chriſt Jeſus, and of your loue toward all Saints,

5 For the hopes ſake which is laid vp for you in heauen, whereof ye haue heard before by the word of trueth, which is the Goſpel,

6 Which is come vnto you, euen as it is vnto all the world, and is fruitfull, as it is alſo among you, from the day that ye heard and truely knew the grace of God,

7 As yee alſo learned of Epaphras our deare fellowe ſeruant, which is for you a faithfull miniſter of Chriſt:

8 Who hath alſo declared vnto vs your loue, which ye haue c by the ſpirit.

b For without Chriſt there is no faith to bee ſaued by, but only a vaine opinion.

c Which commeth of the holy Ghoſt.

21 Fathers, k prouoke not your children to anger, lest they be discouraged.

22 ¶ *Seruants, be obedient vnto them that are your masters according to the flesh in all things, not with eye seruice as men pleasers, but in singlenesse of heart, fearing God.

23 And whatsoeuer ye do, doe it heartily, as to the Lord, and not vnto men, 24 Knowing that of the Lord ye shall receiue the reward of the inheritance: for yee serue the Lord Christ.

24 But hee l that doeth wrong, shall receiue for the wrong that hee hath done, and there is no *m respect of persons.

The first Epistle of Paul to the Thessalonians.

THE ARGVMENT.

After that the Thessalonians had beene well instructed in the faith, persecution (which perpetually followeth the preaching of the Gospel) arose, against the which although they did constantly stand, yet Saint Paul (as most carefull for them) sent Timothie to strengthen them, who soone after admonishing him of their estate, gaue occasion to the Apostle to confirme them by diuers arguments to be constant in faith, and to suffer whatsoeuer God calleth them vnto for the testimonie of the Gospel, exhorting them to declare by their godly liuing the puritie of their religion. And as the Church can neuer bee so purged, that some cockle remaine not among the wheate, so there were among them wicked men, which by mouing vaine and curious questions to ouerthrow their faith, taught falsely, as touching the point of the resurrection from the dead: whereof he briefely instructeth them what to thinke, earnestly forbidding them to seeke curiously to know the times, willing them rather to watch, lest the sudden comming of Christ come vpon them at vnawares: and so after certaine exhortations, and his commendations to the brethren, hee endeth.

CHAP. I.

1 Hee thanketh God for them, that they are so stedfast in faith and good workes, 6 And receiue the Gospel with such earnestnes, 7 That they are an example to all others.

a For there is no Church which is not ioyned together in God. 2. Thess. 1. 3. Philip. 1. 3, 4.

b Which declareth it selfe by most liuely fruites.

c Whereby you declared your selues most ready and painefull to helpe the poore.

d The effectuall preaching of the Gospel is an euident token of our election.

e To beleeue and to be fully perswaded to haue the gifts of the holy Ghost, and ioyfully to suffer for Christs sake, are most certaine signes of our election.

‖ Or, paternes.

f To wit, all the faithfull.

g For idoles are dead things and onely fained fantasies.

h Which he shall execute vpon the wicked.

PAul, and Siluanus, and Timotheus, vnto the Church of the Thessalonians, which is in a God the Father, and in the Lord Iesus Christ: Grace be with you, & peace from God our father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

2 * Wee giue God thankes alwayes for you all, making * mention of you in our prayers

3 Without ceasing, remembring your b effectuall faith, and c diligent loue, and the patience of your hope in our Lord Iesus Christ, in the sight of God euen our Father,

4 Knowing, beloued brethren, that yee are elect of God.

5 For our d Gospel was not vnto you in word onely, but also in power, and in the holy Ghost, and in much assurance, as ye know after what maner wee were among you for your sakes.

6 And yee became followers of vs, and of the Lord, and receiued the word in much affliction, with e ioy of the holy Ghost,

7 So that ye were as ‖ ensamples to all that beleeue in Macedonia and Achaia.

8 For from you sounded out the word of the Lord, not in Macedonia and in Achaia onely: but your faith also which is toward God, spread abroad in all quarters, that we neede not to speake any thing.

9 For f they themselues shew of you what maner of entring in wee had vnto you, and how yee turned to God from idoles, to serue the g liuing and true God,

10 And to looke for his Sonne from heauen, whom he raised from the dead, euen Iesus which deliuereth vs from the h wrath to come.

CHAP. II.

1 To the intent they should not faint vnder the crosse, 2 Hee commendeth his diligence in preaching, 13 And theirs in obeying. 18 Hee excuseth his absence, that hee could not come and open his heart to them.

FOr yee your selues know brethren, that our entrance in vnto you was not in a vaine, a Not in outward shew and in pompe, but in trauell and in the feare of God. Act. 16. 12, 23.

2 But euen after that wee had suffered before, and were shamefully intreated at * Philippi (as yee know) wee were bold b in our God, to speake vnto you the Gospel of God with much striuing.

b By his helpe and grace.

3 For our exhortation was not by deceit, nor by vncleannesse, nor by guile.

4 But as we were allowed of God, that the Gospel should bee committed vnto vs, so we speake, not as they that c please men, but God, which trieth our hearts.

c Which declareth a naughtie conscience.

5 Neither yet did we euer vse flattering words, as yee know, nor coloured couetousnesse, God is record.

6 Neither sought wee praise of men, neither of you, nor of others,

7 When we might haue beene ‖ chargeable, as the Apostles of Christ: but we were gentle among you, euen as a d nource cherisheth her children.

‖ Or, in authoritie.

d He humbled himselfe to support all things without all respect of lucre: euen as the tender mother which nourceth her children, and thinketh no office too vile for her childrens sake.

8 Thus being affectioned toward you, our good will was to haue dealt vnto you, not the Gospel of God onely, but also our owne soules, because yee were deare vnto vs.

9 For yee remember, brethren, * our labour and trauaile: for we laboured day and night, because we would not bee chargeable vnto any of you, and preached vnto you the Gospel of God.

Act. 20. 34. 1. cor. 4. 12. 2. thes 3. 8.

10 Yee are witnesses, and God also, how holily, and iustly, and vnblameably we behaued our selues among e you that beleeue.

e For it is not possible to auoyd the reproches of the wicked, which euer hate good doings.

11 As yee know how that wee exhorted you, and comforted, and besought euery one of you (as a father his children)

12 That yee * would walke worthy of God, who hath called you vnto his kingdome and glory.

Ephe. 4. 1. phil 1. 27. colos. 1. 10.

13 For this cause also thanke wee God without ceasing, that when ye receiued of vs the word of the preaching of God, yee receiued it not as the word of men, but as it is in deede the word of God, which also worketh in you that beleeue.

14 For brethren, yee are become followers of the Churches of God, which in Iudea are in f Christ Iesus, because yee haue also suffered the same things of your owne countrey f In his Name and vnder his protection.

country men, euen as they haue of the Iewes, 15 Who both killed the Lord Iesus and their owne Prophets, and haue persecuted vs, and God they please not, and are contrarie to all men, g And would hinder all men from their saluation.
16 And forbid vs to preach vnto the Gentiles, that they might bee saued, to h fulfill their sinnes alwayes: for the wrath of God is i come on them, to the vttmost.
h And heape vp the measure, Mat. 23. 32.
17 Forasmuch, brethren, as we were kept from you for a season, concerning sight, but not in the heart, we enforced the more to see your face with great desire.
18 Therefore we would haue come vnto you (I Paul, at least once or twise) but Satan hindred vs.
i He meaneth not this of all the Iewes in generall: but of certaine of them particularly, which ceased not after they had put Christ to death, to persecute his word and his ministers. Rom. 1. 11.
19 For what is our hope or ioy, or crowne of reioycing? are k not euen you it in the presence of our Lord Iesus Christ at his comming?
20 Yes, yee are our glorie and ioy.
k Therefore I could not forget you, except I would forget my selfe.

CHAP. III.

2 He sheweth how greatly hee was affectioned toward them, both in that hee sent Timotheus to them, 10 And also prayed for them.

WHerefore since wee could no longer forbeare, wee thought it good to remaine at Athens a alone, a Rather seeking your commoditie then mine owne, in sending of Timotheus to you. Acts 16. 1.
2 * And haue sent Timotheus our brother and minister of God, and our labour fellow in the Gospel of Christ, to stablish you, and to comfort you touching your faith,
3 That no man should bee mooued with these afflictions: for yee your selues know, that we are appointed thereunto.
4 For verily when wee were with you, we told you before that wee should suffer tribulations, euen as it came to passe, and yee know it.
b His great affection toward the small flocke.
5 Euen for this cause, when b I could no longer forbeare, I sent him that I might know of your faith, least the c tempter had tempted you in any sort, and that our labour had beene in vaine.
c Meaning Satan.
6 But nowe lately when Timotheus came from you vnto vs, and brought vs good tidings of your faith and loue, and that yee haue good remembrance of vs alwayes, desiring to see vs, as we also doe you,
7 Therefore, brethren, we had consolation in you, in all our affliction, and necessitie through your faith.
8 For now are wee d aliue, if yee e stand fast in the Lord.
d If ye remaine constant in faith and true doctrin, I shal thinke that all mine afflictions be so many pleasures, and shal be restored from death to life.
e If you persevere in faith. Rom. 1. 10. and 15. 23.
9 For what thankes can we recompense to GOD againe for you, for all the ioy wherewith wee reioyce for your sakes before our God, 10 Night and day * praying exceedingly that wee might see your face, and might f accomplish that which is lacking in your faith?
f We must dayly grow from faith to faith.
11 Now God himselfe, euen our Father, and our Lord Iesus Christ, guide our iourney vnto you,
12 And the Lord increase you, and make you abound in loue one toward an other, and toward all men, euen as wee doe toward you:
13 * To make your hearts stable, and vnblameable in holinesse before God euen our Father, at the comming of our Lord Iesus Christ with all his Saints. Chap 5. 23. 1. cor. 1. 8.

CHAP. IIII.

1 He exhorteth them to holinesse, 6 Innocencie, 9 Loue, 11 Labour, 13 And moderation in lamenting for the dead, 17 Describing the end of the resurrection.

AND furthermore wee beseech you, brethren, and exhort you in the Lord Iesus, that a yee increase more and more, as ye haue receiued of vs, how yee ought to walke, and to please God.
a And as it were, ouercome your selues.
2 For yee knowe what b commaundements we gaue you by the Lord Iesus.
b The Greeke word signifieth such commandements as one receiueth from some man to giue them in his name to others. Rom 12. 2. ephes 5. 17.
3 * For this is the will of God euen your sanctification, c and that yee should abstaine from fornication, c That is, that you should dedicate your selues wholly vnto God 4 That euery one of you should knowe, how to possesse his d vessell in holinesse and honour, d That is, his body which is prophaned by such filthinesse. 1. Cor. 6. 8.
5 And not in the lust of concupiscence, euen as the Gentiles which know not God:
6 * That no man oppresse or defraude his brother in any matter: for the Lord is auenger of all such things, as wee also haue tolde you before time, and testified.
1. Cor. 1. 2.
7 * For God hath not called vs vnto vncleannesse, but vnto holinesse.
8 He therefore that despiseth e these things, despiseth not man, but God who hath euen giuen * you his holy Spirit.
e By these precepts of godly life it appeareth what were the commandements which Paul gaue vnto them. 1. Cor. 7. 40. John 13. 34. and 15. 12. 1. ioh. 2. 8 and 4. 21. 2. Thes 3. 7.
9 But as touching brotherly loue, yee neede not that I write vnto you: * for yee are taught of God to loue one another.
10 Yea, and that thing verily yee doe vnto all the brethren, which are throughout all Macedonia: but wee beseech you brethren that yee increase more and more,
f And not be idle.
11 * And that yee studie to bee quiet, and to meddle with your owne businesse, and to worke with your f owne hands, as we commanded you, 12 That yee may behaue your selues honestly toward them that g are without, and that nothing be h lacking vnto you.
g As strangers and Infidels.
h But that yee may be able by your diligence to supply your want and necessitie.
13 ¶ I would not brethren, haue you ignorant concerning them which are asleepe, that yee i sorrow not, euen as other which haue no hope.
i He doeth not condemne all kinde of sorrow, but that which proceedeth of infidelitie.
14 For if we beleeue that Iesus is dead, and is risen, euen so them which sleepe in k Iesus, will God i bring with him.
k Or, haue continued constantly in the faith of Christ.
15 For this say we vnto you by the l word of the Lord, * that we which liue, and are remaining in the comming of the Lord, shall not preuent them which sleepe.
l By raysing their bodies out of the graue, in name of the Lord, and as he should speake himselfe. Mat. 24. 31. 1. cor. 15. 52.
16 For the Lord himselfe shall descend from heauen with a shoute, and with the voice of the Archangell, * and with the trumpet of God: and the dead in Christ shal rise first.

cloudes, to meete the Lord in the ayre: and so shall we euer be with the Lord.

18 Wherefore, comfort your selues one another with these words.

CHAP. V.

1 Hee enformeth them of the day of iudgement and comming of the Lord, 6 Exhorting them to watch, 12 And to regard such as preach Gods word among them.

BVt of the [a] times and seasons, brethren, ye haue no neede that I write vnto you.

2 For yee your selues knowe perfectly, that the [*] day of the Lord shall come, euen as a theefe in the night.

3 For when they shall say, Peace, & safetie, then shall come vpon them sudden destruction, as the [b] trauaile vpon a woman with child, and they shall not escape.

4 But yee, brethren, are not in darkenes, that that day should come on you, as it were a theefe.

5 Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, neither of darkenesse.

6 Therefore let vs not [c] sleepe as doe other, but let vs [d] watch and be sober.

7 For they that sleepe, sleepe in the night, and they that be drunken, are drunken in the night.

8 But let vs which are of the [e] day, be sober, * putting on the brestplate of faith and loue, † the hope of saluation for an helmet.

9 For God hath not appointed vs vnto wrath, but to obtaine saluation by the meanes of our Lord Iesus Christ, 10 Which died for vs, that whether we wake or [f] sleepe, wee should liue together with him.

11 Wherefore exhort one another, and edifie one another, euen as ye doe.

12 Now we beseech you, brethren, that yee know them, which labour among you, and are ouer you in the Lorde, and [g] admonish you, 13 That yee haue them in singular loue for [h] their workes sake. Be at peace among your selues.

14 Wee desire you brethren, admonish them that are vnruly: comfort the feeble minded: beare with the weake: be patient toward all men.

15 * See that none recompense euill for euill vnto any man: but euer follow that which is good, both toward your selues, and toward all men.

16 [i] Reioyce euermore.

17 * Pray continually.

18 In all things giue thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Iesus toward you.

19 Quench not the [k] Spirit.

20 Despise not [l] prophecying.

21 Trie all things, and keepe that which is good.

22 Abstaine from all appearance of euill.

23 Now the very God * of peace sanctifie you throughout: and I pray God that your [m] whole spirit and soule and body, may bee kept blameles vnto the comming of our Lord Iesus Christ.

24 * Faithfull is hee which calleth you, which will also doe it.

25 Brethren pray for vs.

26 Greete all the brethren with an holy kisse.

27 I charge you in the Lord, that this Epistle bee read vnto all the brethren the Saints.

28 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with you. Amen.

a So much she more we ought to beware of all dreames & fantasies of men, which weary themselues and others in searching out curiously the time that the Lord shall appeare, alleadging for themselues a vaine prophesie, and most faisly ascribed to Elias, that 2000. yeere before the Law, 2000 vnder the Law, and 2000. after the Law, the world shall endure. Matth 24.44. 2.pet.3.10 reue. 3 3 and 16.15.

b That is, suddenly and vnlooked for.

c Here sleepe is taken for contempt of saluation, when men continue in sinnes, and will not awake to godlinesse.

d And not be ouercome with the cares of the world.

e That is, lightned by the Gospel. Isa 59.17. ephes 6.17.

f Here it is taken onely to die, and is meant of the faithfull.

g As the flocke is bound to loue the shepheard, so is it his duety to teach them and exhort them in true religion.

h Where this cause ceaseth, that they worke not, the honour also ceaseth, and they must be expelled as wolues out of the flocke. Pro.17.13 & 20 22 mat.5 39.rom. 12.17. 1 pet.3.9.

i Haue a quiet minde and conscience in Christ, which shall make you reioice in the mids of sorowes, Rom.5 3. 2.cor. 6.10. Luke 18.1. ecclus 18.22 col.4 2.

k God that hath giuen his Spirit to his elect, will neuer suffer it to be quenched, but hath reuealed by what meanes it may bee maintained, that is by such exhortations as these, and by continuall increase in godlinesse. 1 The preaching of the worde of God. Chap.3.12,13.

m Then is a man fully sanctified and perfect, when his minde thinketh nothing, his soule, that is, his vnderstanding, and will couet nothing, neither his body doeth execute any thing contrary to the will of God. 1.Cor.1.9.

The first Epistle vnto the Thessalonians written from Athens.

¶ The second Epistle of Paul to the Thessalonians.

THE ARGVMENT.

LEast the Thessalonians should thinke that Paul neglected them, because hee went to other places rather then came to them, he writeth vnto them, and exhorteth them to patience and other fruits of faith, neither to be moued with that vaine opinion of such as taught that the comming of Christ was at hand, forasmuch as before that day there should bee a falling away from true religion, euen by a great part of the world, and that Antichrist should reigne in the Temple of God: finally commending himselfe to their prayers, and encouraging them to constancie, he willeth them to correct such sharply, as liue idlely of other mens labours, whom, if they doe not obey his admonitions, he commaundeth to excommunicate.

CHAP. I.

3 He thanketh God for their faith, loue & patience. 11 He prayeth for the increase of the same, 12 And sheweth what fruit shall come thereof.

PAul and Silvanus, and Timotheus vnto the Church of the Thessalonians, which is in God our Father, and in the Lord Iesus Christ.

2 Grace bee with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

3 * Wee ought to thanke God alwayes for you brethren, as it is meete, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the loue of euery one of you toward another aboundeth. 1.Thes.1,2.

a Which proceedeth of your faith as a most notable fruit.
b The faithful by their afflictions see as in a cleere glasse, the end of Gods iust iudgement, when as they shal reigne with Christ which haue suffered with him, and the wicked shall see his extreme wrath and vengeance.

d As God is enerlasting, so shal their punishment be euerlasting: & as hee is most mighty of power, so shall their punishment be most sore.
e The free beneuolence of Gods goodnes, comprehendeth his purpose, his predestination and vocation: the worke of faith containeth our iustification, to the which God addeth glorification: and all these he worketh of his meere grace through Christ.
f Faith is Gods wonderfull worke in vs, g As the head with the body.

4 So that wee our selues reioyce of you in the Churches of God, because of your a patience, and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye suffer.

5 Which is a b token of the righteous * iudgement of God, that yee may be counted worthy of the kingdome of God, for the which ye also suffer.

6 For it is a righteous thing with God, to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you,

7 And to you which are troubled, rest with vs * when the Lord Iesus shall shewe himselfe from heauen with his c mighty Angels,

8 In flaming fire, rendring vengeance vnto them that doe not know God, & which obey not vnto the Gospell of our Lorde Iesus Christ,

9 Which shalbe punished with d euerlasting perdition, from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power,

10 When he shall come to be glorified in his Saints, and to be made marueilous in all them that beleeue (because our testimonie toward you was beleeued) in that day.

11 Wherefore, we also pray alwayes for you, that our God may make you worthy of his calling, and fulfill e all the good pleasure of his goodnesse, and the f worke of faith with power, 12 That the Name of our Lorde Iesus Christ may g bee glorified in you, and yee in him, according to the grace of our God, and of the Lord Iesus Christ.

CHAP. II.

3 He sheweth them that the day of the Lord shall not come, till the departing from the faith come first, 9 And the kingdome of Antichrist, 15 And therefore hee exhorteth them not to bee deceiued, but to stand stedfast in the things that he hath taught them.

e Who as he destroyeth others, so shall he be destroyed himselfe.

NOw, wee beseech you brethren, by the comming of our Lord Iesus Christ, and by our assembling vnto him,

2 That ye be not suddenly moued from your minde, nor troubled, neither by a spirite, nor by b worde, nor by letter, as it were from vs, as though the day of Christ were at hand.

3 * Let no man deceiue you by any meanes: for that day shall not come, except there come a c departing first, and that that d man of sinne be disclosed, euen the sonne of e perdition,

4 Which is an aduersary, and exalteth himselfe against all that is called God, or that is worshipped: so that hee doeth sit as God in the Temple of God, shewing himselfe that he is God.

5 Remember ye not, that when I was yet with you, I told you these things?

6 And now ye know what f withholdeth that he might be reuealed in his time.

7 For the mystery of iniquitie doeth already g worke: onely hee which h now withholdeth, shall let, till hee be taken out of the way.

8 And then shall the wicked man bee reuealed, * whome the Lorde shall consume with the i Spirit of his mouth, and shall abolish with the brightnesse of his comming,

9 Euen him whose k comming is by the working of Satan, with all power and lignes, and lying wonders,

10 And in all deceiuablenes of vnrighteousnes, among them that l perish, because they receiued not the loue of the trueth, that they might be saued.

11 And therefore God shall send them strong delusion, that they should beleeue lies, 12 That al they might be damned, which beleeued not the trueth, but had m pleasure in vnrighteousnesse.

13 But we ought to giue thankes alway to God for you, brethren n beloued of the Lord, because that God hath o from the beginning chosen you to saluation, through sanctification of the Spirit, and the faith of p trueth, 14 Whereunto hee called you by q our Gospell, to obteine the glory of our Lorde Iesus Christ.

15 Therefore, brethren, stand fast and keepe the r instructions, which yee haue been taught, either f by word, or by our Epistle.

16 Now the same Iesus Christ our Lord, and our God, euen the Father which hath loued vs, and hath giuen vs euerlasting consolation and good hope through grace, 17 Comfort your hearts, and stablish you in euery word and good worke.

f Because the false apostles had persuaded after a sort the Thessalonians, that the day of the Lord was neere, and so the redemption of the Church, Paul teacheth them to looke for this horrible dissipatiō before: and therefore rather to prepare themselues to patience then to rest & quietnesse: for as yet there was a let, that is, that the Gospel should be preached throughout all, Matt. 24. 14.
g To wit, priuily, and is therefore called a mystery, because it is secret.

CHAP. III.

1 Hee desireth them to pray for him, that the Gospel may prosper, 6 And giueth them warning to reproue the idle, 16 And so wisheth them all wealth.

FUrthermore, brethren, * pray for vs, that the worde of the Lorde may haue free passage, and bee glorified, euen as it is with you.

2 And that wee may bee deliuered from vnreasonable and euill men: for all men haue not a faith.

3 But the Lord is faithfull, which will stablish you, and keepe you from b euill.

4 And we are perswaded of you through the Lord, that yee both doe, and will doe the things which we c command you.

5 And the Lorde guide your hearts to the loue of God, and the waiting for of Christ.

6 Wee commaund you, brethren, in the Name of our Lorde Jesus Christ, that yee withdrawe your selues from euery brother that walketh inordinately, and not after the d *instruction, which he receiued of vs.

d Which is, to trauaile, if he will eate, as vers. 10. Chap. 2. 15. 1. Cor. 4 12. 1. Thess. 4. 11. Acts. 20. 34. 1. cor. 4. 12. 1. Thess. 2. 9. 1. Cor. 11. 1.

7 For yee your selues knowe * how yee ought to follow vs: * for we behaued not our selues inordinately among you,

8 Neither tooke wee bread of any man for nought: but wee wrought with * labour and trauaile night and day, because wee would not be chargeable to any of you.

9 Not but that we had authoritie, * but that we might make our selues an ensample vnto you to follow vs.

10 For euen when wee were with you, this we warned you of, that if there were any, which would not e worke, that he should not eate.

e Then by the word of God none ought to liue idlely, but ought to giue himselfe to some vocation, to get his liuing by, and to doe good to others.

11 For wee heard, that there were some which walke among you inordinately, and worke not at all, but are bulie bodies.

12 Therefore them that are such, wee commaund and exhort by our Lorde Jesus Christ, that they worke with quietnesse, and eate their owne bread.

13 * And ye brethren, be not wearie in well doing. Galat. 6. 9.

14 If any man obey not our sayings, note him by a letter, * and haue no company with him, that he may be ashamed. Mat. 18. 17. 1. cor. 5. 9.

15 Yet count him not as an f enemie, but admonish him as a brother.

f The end of excommunication, is not to driue from the Church such as haue fallen, but to winne them to the Church by amendment.

16 Now the Lord of peace giue you peace alwayes by all meanes. The Lord be with you all.

17 The salutation of mee Paul, with mine owne hand, which is the g token in euery Epistle: so I write, g Whether they be mine Epistles or other mens.

18 The grace of our Lorde Jesus Christ be with you all, Amen.

¶ The second Epistle to the Thessalonians, written from Athens.

¶ The first Epistle of Paul to Timotheus.

THE ARGVMENT.

IN writing this Epistle, Paul seemed not onely to haue respect to teach Timotheus, but chiefly to keepe other in awe, which would haue rebelled against him, because of his youth. And therefore he doth arme him against those ambitious questionists, which vnder pretence of zeale to the Law, disquieted the godly with foolish and vnprofitable questions, whereby they declared, that professing the Law, they knew not what was the chiefe end of the Law. And as for himselfe, hee so confesseth his vnworthinesse, that he sheweth to what worthinesse the grace of God hath preferred him: and therefore he willeth prayers to be made for all degrees and sorts of men, because that God by offring his Gospel and Christ his sonne to them all, is indifferent to euery sort of men, as his Apostleship, which is peculiar to the Gentiles, witnesseth. And forasmuch as God hath left ministers as ordinary meanes in his Church to bring men to saluation, he describeth what maner of men they ought to be, to whom the mystery of the Sonne of God manifested in flesh is commited to be preached. After this he sheweth him what troubles the Church at all times shall sustaine, but specially in the latter dayes, when as vnder pretence of religion, men shal teach things contrary to the word of God. This done, he teacheth what widowes should be receiued or refused to minister to the sicke: also what Elders ought to be chosen into office, exhorting him neither to be hastie in admitting nor in iudging any: also what is the dutie of seruants, the nature of false teachers, of vaine speculations, of couetousnesse, of rich men, and aboue all things he chargeth him to beware of false doctrine.

CHAP. I.

3 Hee exhorteth Timotheus to waite vpon his office, namely to see that nothing be taught but Gods word, &c. 5 Declaring that faith, with a good conscience, charitie, and edification are the end thereof, 20 And admonisheth of Hymeneus and Alexander.

PAVL an Apostle of Jesus Christ, by the ‖ commaundement of God our Sauiour, and of our Lord Jesus Christ * our hope,

‖ Or, ordinance.

2 * Vnto Timotheus my a naturall sonne in the faith: Grace, mercie, and peace from God our Father, and from Christ Jesus our Lord. Coloss. 1. 27. Acts. 16. 1.

a So called, because he folowed the simplicitie of the Gospel.

3 As I besought thee to abide still in Ephesus, when I departed into Macedonia, so doe, that thou mayest commaund some that they teach none other doctrine,

4 Neither that they giue heede to * fables and genealogies, * which are endlesse, which breede questions rather then godly edifying which is by faith. Chap. 4. 7. Titus 1. 14. Chap. 6. 4.

5 For * the b ende of the ‖ commaundement is loue out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith vnfained. Rom. 13. 10.

b Because these questionists preferred their curiousfables to al other knowledge, and beautified them with the Law, as if they had bene the very Law of God, S. Paul sheweth that the end of Gods Law is loue, which cannot be without a good conscience, 6 From the which things some haue erred, and haue turned vnto vaine iangling.

7 They would be Doctors of the Law, and yet vnderstand not what they speake, neither whereof they affirme.

8 * And we know that the Law is good, if a man vse it lawfully.

9 Knowing this, that the Lawe is not giuen vnto a c righteous man, but vnto the lawlesse and disobedient, to the vngodly, and to d sinners, to the vnholy, and to the prophane, to murtherers of fathers and mothers, to manslayers, neither a good conscience without faith, nor faith without the word of God: so their doctrine which is an occasion of contention is worth nothing. ‖ Or, of the Law. Rom. 7. 12. c Whose hearts Gods spirit doth direct to do that willingly which the Law requireth: so that their godly affection is to them as a Lawe without further constraint.

d Such as onely delight in sinning.

12 Therefore f I thanke him which hath made mee strong, that is, Christ Jesus our Lord: for he counted me faithfull, and put me in his service:

13 When before I was a blasphemer, and a persecuter, and an oppressour: but I was received to mercie: for I did it g ignorantly through vnbeliefe.

14 But the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant with h faith and i love, which is in Christ Jesus.

15 This is a ‖ true saying, & by all means worthy to bee received, that * Christ Jesus came into the world to saue sinners, of whom I am chiefe.

l Of the Bishops and Deacons.
m The good report of all men.
n To serue God with greater assurance, because they haue alway a good conscience.
o This is spoken in respect of men, forasmuch as in this world the trueth onely remaineth in the Church, by reason of Gods word: for otherwise Christ is the foundation and the corner stone, which both beareth and maintaineth his Church. p Approued iust, in that hee was not onely a man, but God also. q So that the Angels marueiled at his excellency. r To the right hand of God the Father.

double tongued, not giuen vnto much wine, neither to filthie lucre, 9 * k Hauing the mysterie of the faith in pure conscience.
10 And let them first be prooued: then let them minister, if they be found blamelesse.
11 Likewise their l wiues must be honest, not euill speakers, but sober, and faithfull in all things.
12 Let the Deacons bee the husbands of one wife, and such as can rule their children well, and their owne households.
13 For they that haue ministred wel, get themselues a m good degree, and great n libertie in the faith, which is in Christ Iesus.
14 These things write I vnto thee, trusting to come very shortly vnto thee.
15 But if I tary long, that thou mayest yet know how thou oughtest to behaue thy selfe in the house of God, which is the Church of the liuing God, the o pillar and ground of trueth.
16 And without controuersie, great is the mystery of godlinesse, which is, God is manifested in the flesh, p iustified in the spirit, q seene of Angels, preached vnto the Gentiles, beleeued on in the world, and receiued vp in r glorie.

4 For euery creature of God is good, and nothing ought to be refused, if it bee receiued with thanksgiuing.

6 If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt bee a good minister of Iesus Christ, which hast beene nourished vp in the wordes of faith, and of good doctrine, which thou hast continually followed.
7 *But cast away prophane, & old wiues fables, and exercise thy selfe vnto godlines.
8 For d bodily exercise profiteth little: but e godlinesse is profitable vnto all things, which hath the promise of the life present, and of that that is to come.
9 This is a true saying, & by all meanes worthy to be receiued.
10 For therefore wee labour and are rebuked, because wee trust in the liuing God, which is the f Sauiour of al men, specially of those that beleeue.
11 These things command and teach.
12 Let no man despise thy youth, but bee vnto them that beleeue, an ensample, in word, in conuersation, in loue, in s spirit, in faith, and in pureneſſe.

LEt as many * seruants as are vnder the yoke, count their masters worthy of all honour, that the Name of God, and his doctrine be not euill spoken of.

2 And they which haue beleeuing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren, but rather doe seruice, because they are faithfull, & beloued, & partakers of the [a] benefit. These things teach & exhort.

3 If any man teach otherwise, and consenteth not to the wholesome words of our Lord Iesus Christ, & to the doctrine, which is according to godlinesse,

5 Vaine disputations of men of corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth, which thinke that gaine is godlinesse: from such separate thy selfe.

6 [b] But godlinesse is great gaine, if a man be content with that he hath.

7 * For wee brought nothing into the world, and it is certaine, that wee can carie nothing out.

8 Therefore when wee haue foode and raiment, let vs therewith be content.

9 For they that will bee [c] rich, fall into tentation and snares, and into many foolish and noysome lusts, which drowne men in perdition and destruction.

in the constant and sincere confession of the same: willing him not to shrinke for feare of afflictions, but patiently to attend the issue as doe husband men, which at length receiue the fruits of their labours, and to cast off all feare and care, as souldiers doe which seeke onely to please their captaine: shewing him briefly the summe of the Gospell, which hee preached, commanding him to preach the same to others, diligently taking heede of contentions, curious disputations, and vaine questions, to the intent that his doctrine may altogether edifie. Considering that the examples of Hymeneus and Philetus, which subuerted the true doctrine of the resurrection, were so horrible: and yet to the intent that no man should bee offended at their fall, being men of authoritie and in estimation, hee sheweth that all that professe Christ are not his, and that the Church is subiect to this calamitie, that the euill must dwell among the good till Gods triall come: yet hee reserueth them whom hee hath elected, euen to the end. And that Timotheus should not be discouraged by the wicked, he declareth what abominable men, and dangerous times shall follow, willing him to arme himselfe with the hope of the good issue that God will giue vnto his, and to exercise himselfe diligently in the Scriptures both against the aduersaries, and for the vtilitie of the Church, desiring him to come to him for certaine necessarie affaires, and so with his and others salutations endeth.

CHAP. I.

6 Paul exhorteth Timotheus to stedfastnes and patience in persecution and to continue in the doctrine that he had taught him, 12 Whereof his bondes and afflictions were a gage. 16 A commendation of Onesiphorus.

PAul an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by ᵇ wil of God, a according to the promise of life which is in Christ Iesus,

2 To Timotheus my beloued sonne: Grace, mercie and peace from God the Father, and from Iesus Christ our Lord.

3 I thanke God, * whome I serue from mine ᵇ elders with pure conscience, that without ceasing I haue remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day,

4 Desiring to see thee, mindfull of thy teares, that I may be filled with ioy:

5 When I call to remembrance the vnfained faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice, and am assured that it dwelleth in thee also.

6 Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou ᶜ stirre vp the gift of God which is in thee, by the putting on of ᵈ mine hands.

7 For God hath not giuen to vs the Spirit of ᵉ feare, but of power, and of loue, and of a sound mind.

8 Be not therefore ashamed of the testimonie of our Lord, neither of mee his prisoner: but be partaker of the afflictions of the Gospel, according to the power of God,

9 Who hath saued vs and called vs with an * holy calling, not according to our * workes, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was giuen to vs through Christ Iesus before the * worlde was,

10 But is now made manifest by the ᶠ appearing of our Sauiour Iesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortalitie vnto light through the Gospel.

11 *Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and Apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.

12 For the which cause I also suffer these things, but I am not ashamed: for I know whom I haue beleeued, and I am perswaded that hee is able to keepe that which I haue ᵍ committed to him against that day.

13 Keepe the true paterne of the wholesome words, which thou hast heard of me in faith and loue which is in Christ Iesus.

14 That ʰ worthy thing, which was committed to thee, keep through the holy Ghost, which dwelleth in vs.

15 This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia, be turned from mee: of which sort are Phygellus and Hermogenes.

16 The Lord giue mercy vnto the house of Onesiphorus: for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chaine.

17 But when he was at Rome, he sought me out very diligently, and found me.

18 The Lord grant vnto him that he may finde mercy with the Lord at that day, and in how many things hee hath ministred vnto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

CHAP. II.

2 He exhorteth him to be constant in trouble, to suffer manly, and to abide fast in the wholesome doctrine of our Lord Iesus Christ, 11 shewing him the fidelitie of Gods counsell touching the saluation of his, 19 and the marke thereof.

THou therefore my sonne, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Iesus.

2 And what things thou hast heard of mee, ‖ by many witnesses, the same deliuer to faithfull men, which shalbe able to ᵃ teach other also.

3 Thou therefore suffer affliction as a good souldier of Iesus Christ.

4 No man that warreth entangleth himselfe with the ᵇ affaires of this life, because he would please him that hath chosen him to be a souldier.

5 And if any man also striue for a masterie, he is not crowned, except he striue as he ought to doe.

6 The husbandman ᶜ must labor before he receiue the fruits.

7 Consider what I say: and the Lord giue thee vnderstanding in all things.

8 Remember that Iesus Christ, made of the seed of Dauid, was raised againe from the dead according to my Gospel:

9 Wherein I suffer trouble as an euill doer, euen vnto bonds; but the word of God is not ᵈ bound.

10 Therefore

10 Therefore I suffer all things, for the * e elects sake, that they might also obtaine the salvation which is in Christ Iesus, with eternall glorie.

11 It is a true saying, For if we be * dead with him, we also shall live with him.

12 If we suffer, we shall also reigne with him: * if we denie him, he also will denie vs.

13 If * wee beleeve not, yet abideth hee faithfull: he cannot denie himselfe.

14 Of these thinges put them in remembrance, and protest before the Lord, that they strive not about wordes, which is to no profit, but to the perverting of the hearers.

15 Studie to shewe thy selfe approoved vnto God, a workeman that needeth not to bee ashamed, f dviding the worde of trueth aright.

16 * Stay prophane and vaine babblings: for they shall encrease vnto more vngodlinesse.

17 And their word shall eret as a canker: of which sort is Hymeneus and Philetus, 18 Which as concerning the trueth have erred, saying, that ỳ resurrection is past already, and doe destroy the faith of certaine.

19 But the foundation of God remaineth sure, and hath this seale, g The Lord knoweth who are his, and, Let every one that calleth on the Name of Christ, depart from iniquitie.

20 Notwithstanding in a h great house are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth, and some for honour, and some vnto dishonour.

21 If any man therefore purge himselfe from i these, he shalbe a vessell vnto honour, sanctified and meet for the Lord, and prepared vnto every good worke.

22 Flee also from the lusts of youth, and follow after righteousnesse, faith, love, and peace, with them that * call on the Lord with pure heart.

23 * And put away foolish, and k vnlearned questions, knowing that they ingender strife.

24 But the servant of the Lord must not strive, but must be gentle toward al men, apt to teach, l suffering the evill men patiently,

25 Instructing them with meekenesse that are contrary m minded, proving if God at any time will give them repentance, that they may know the trueth,

4 Traitours, headie, high minded, lovers of pleasures more then lovers of God,

5 Having a shew of godlinesse, but have denied the power thereof: turne away therefore from such.

6 For of this sort are they which b creepe into houses, and lead captive simple women laden with sinnes, and led de with diuers lustes,

7 Which women are ever learning, and are never able to come to the knowledge of the trueth.

8 * And as Iannes and Iambres withstood Moses, so doe these also resist the trueth, men of c corrupt mindes, reprobate concerning the faith.

9 But they shall prevaile no longer: for their madnesse shalbe evident vnto all men, as theirs also was.

10 ¶ But thou hast fully known my doctrine, maner of living, d purpose, faith, long suffering, love, patience, 11 Persecutions, and afflictions which came vnto mee at * Antiochia, at Iconium and at Lystri, which persecutions I suffered: but from them all the Lord delivered mee.

12 Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Iesus, shall suffer persecution.

13 But the evil men and c deceivers shall wax worse and worse, deceiving and being deceived.

14 But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned, and art perswaded thereof, knowing of who thou hast learned them:

15 And that thou hast known the holy Scriptures of a childe, which are able to make thee wise vnto salvation through the faith which is in Christ Iesus.

Chap. 1.16.

The second Epistle written from Rome vnto Timotheus the first Bishop elected of the Church of Ephesus, when Paul was presented the second time before the Emperour Nero.

The Epistle of Paul to Titus.

THE ARGVMENT.

WHen Titus was left in Creta to finish that doctrine which Paul had there begun, Sathan stirred vp certaine which went about not only to ouerthrow the gouernment of the Church, but also to corrupt the doctrine: for some by ambition would haue thrust in themselues to be pastors: others, vnder pretext of Moses Law brought in many trifles. Against these two sorts of men Paul armeth Titus: first teaching him what maner of ministers hee ought to chuse, chiefly requiring that they bee men of sound doctrine, to the intent they might resist the aduersaries, and among other things hee noteth the Iewes which put a certaine holinesse in meats and such outward ceremonies, teaching them which are the true exercises of a Christian life, and what things appertaine to euery mans vocation. Against the which if any man rebell or else doeth not obey, he willeth him to be auoyded.

CHAP. I.

5 He aduertiseth Titus touching the gouernment of the Church. 7 The ordinance & office of ministers. 12 The nature of the Cretians and of them which sowe abroad Iewish fables and inuentions of men.

‖ Or, minister.

PAul a ‖seruant of God, and an Apostle of Iesus Christ, according to the faith of Gods elect, and the knowledge of the truth, which is according to godlinesse, a That is, to preach the fayth, to increase their knowledge, to teach them to liue godly, that at length they may obtayne eternall life.

2 Vnder the hope of eternall life, which God that cannot lie, hath b promised before the * world began:

b Hath willingly and of his meere liberality promised without foreseing our faith or workes as a cause to moue him to this free mercy. Rom. 16. 25. ephes. 3.9. col. 1.26. 2. tim 1.9, 10. 1 per. 1.20. Gal 1.1.

3 But hath made his word manifest in due time through the preaching, which is * committed vnto me, according to the commandement of God our c Sauiour:

c Who both giueth life, and preserueth life.

4 To Titus my naturall d sonne according to the common faith, grace, mercy and peace from God the Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ our Sauiour.

d In respect of faith, which was common to them both, so that hereby they are brethren: but in respect of the ministery, Paul begate him as his sonne in faith.

5 For this cause left I thee in Creta, that thou shouldest continue to redresse the things that remaine, and shouldest ordayne Elders in euery citie, as I appointed thee.

6 * If any e bee vnreproueable, the husband of one wife, hauing faithfull children, which are not slandered of riot, neither are disobedient.

12 One of themſelues, euen one of their owne k prophets ſayd, The Cretians are alwayes liars, euill beaſts, ſlowe bellies.

13 This witneſſe is true: wherefore rebuke them ſharply, that they may bee ſound in the faith, 14 And not taking heed to *Iewiſh fables and commandements of men, that turn from the trueth.

15 Vnto the pure * are al things pure, but vnto them that are defiled, and vnbeleeuing is nothing pure, but euen their mindes and conſciences are defiled.

16 They profeſſe that they know God, but by l workes they deny him, and are abominable and diſobedient, and vnto euery good worke reprobate.

k He calleth Epimenides the Philoſopher or Poet, whoſe verſe he here reciteth, a Prophet, becauſe the Cretians ſo eſteemed him: and as Laertius writeth, they ſacrificed vnto him, as to a God, foraſmuch as he had a marueilous gift to vnderſtād things to come: which thing Satan by the permiſſion of God hath opened to the infidels from time to time, but it turneth to their greater condemnation. 1 Tim. 1.4. Rom. 14 20.

¶ The Epistle of Paul to Philemon.

THE ARGVMENT.

ALbeit the excellencie of Pauls spirit wonderfully appeareth in other his Epistles, yet this Epistle is a great witnesse and a declaration of the same. For farre passing the baseneſſe of his matter he flieth as it were vp to heauen, and speaketh with a diuine grace and maiestie. Onesimus seruant to Philemon both robbed his master, and fled away, whom Paul hauing wonne to Christ, sent againe to his master, earnestly begging his pardon, with most weighty arguments prouing the dutie of one Christian to another, and so with salutations endeth.

4 He reioyceth to heare of the faith and loue of Philemon, 9 whom he desireth to forgiue his seruant Onesimus, & louingly to receiue him againe.

PAVL a prisoner of Iesus Christ, & our brother Timotheus, vnto Philemon our deare friend & fellow helper,

2 And to our deare sister Apphia, and to Archippus our fellow souldier, and to the Church that is in thine house:

3 Grace bee with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

1.*Thes.*1.2. 2.*thes.*1 3.

4 I * giue thankes to my God, making mention alwayes of thee in my prayers,

5 (When I heare of thy loue and faith, which thou hast toward the Lord Iesus, and toward all Saints)

6 That the a fellowship of thy faith may be made fruitfull, and that whatsoeuer good thing is in you b through Christ Iesus, may be knowen.

7 For wee haue great ioy and consolation in thy loue, because by thee, brother, the Saints c hearts are comforted.

8 Wherefore, though I be very bold in Christ to command thee that which is conuenient, 9 Yet for loues sake I rather beseech thee, though I be as I am, euen Paul aged, and euen now a prisoner for Iesus Christ.

10 I beseech thee for my sonne * Onesimus, whom I haue begotten in my bonds,

11 Which in time past was to thee vnprofitable, but now profitable both to thee and to me,

12 Whom I haue sent again: thou therefore receiue him, that is, mine owne bowels,

13 Whom I would haue retained with me, that in thy stead he might haue ministred vnto me in the bonds of the Gospel.

14 But without thy minde would I doe nothing, that thy benefit should not be as it were of necessitie, but willingly.

15 It may be that he therefore d departed for a season, that thou shouldest receiue him for euer, 16 e Not nowe as a seruant, but aboue a seruant, euen as a brother beloued, specially to me: how much more then vnto thee, both in the flesh, and in the Lord?

17 If therefore thou count our things f common, receiue him as my selfe.

18 If hee hath hurt thee, or oweth thee ought, that put on mine accounts.

19 I Paul haue written this with mine owne hand: I will recompense it, albeit I doe not say to thee, that thou owest vnto me euen thine owne selfe.

20 Yea, brother, let me obtaine this pleasure of thee in the Lord: comfort my s bowels in the Lord.

21 Trusting in thine obedience, I wrote vnto thee, knowing that thou wilt doe euen more then I say.

22 Moreouer also prepare mee lodging: for I trust through your prayers I shall bee giuen vnto you.

23 There salute thee Epaphras my fellow prisoner h in Christ Iesus, 24 Marcus, Aristarchus, Demas, and Luke my fellow helpers.

25 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with your spirit, Amen.

Written from Rome to Philemon, and sent by Onesimus a seruant.

a Thy beneuolence toward the Saints, which proceedeth of a liuely and effectuall faith.

b That experience may declare that you are the members of Iesus Christ.

c Meaning, their inward parts and affections were through his charitie comforted, *Colos.*4.9.

d He fled away from thee.

e For he is thy seruant by condition, and also now the Lords: so that both for thine owne sake and for the Lords, thou oughtest to loue him.

f That all thine is mine, and all mine is thine.

g Grant me this benefite, which shall be most acceptable vnto me of all others.

h That is, for Christs cause.

¶ The Epistle to the Hebrewes.

THE ARGVMENT.

FOrasmuch as diuers, both of the Greeke writers and Latines witnesse, that the writer of this Epistle for iust causes would not haue his name knowen, it were curiositie of our part to labour much therein. For seeing the Spirit of God is the author thereof, it diminisheth nothing the authoritie although wee know not with what pen hee wrote it. Whether it were Paul (as it is not like) or Luke, or Barnabas, or Clement, or some other, his chiefe purpose is to perswade vnto the Hebrewes (whereby he principally meaneth them that abode at Ierusalem, and vnder them all the rest of the Iewes) that Christ Iesus was not onely the redeemer, but also that at his comming all ceremonies must haue an ende: forasmuch as his doctrine was the conclusion of all the Prophesies, and therefore not onely Moses was inferiour to him, but also the Angels: for they all were seruants, and he the Lord, but so Lord, that he hath also taken our flesh, and is made our brother to assure vs of our saluation through himselfe, for he is that eternall Priest, whereof all the Leuiticall Priests were but shadowes, and therefore at his comming they ought to cease, and all sacrifices for sinne to be abolished, as he proueth from the 7. Chap. vers. 11. vnto the 12. Chap. vers. 18. Also he was that Prophet of whom all the Prophets in time past witnessed, as is declared from the 12. Chap. vers. 18. to the twentie and fiue verse of the same Chapter: yea, and is the king to whom all things are subiect, as appeareth from that vers. 25. to the beginning of the last Chapter. Wherefore according to the examples of the old fathers, we must constantly stantly beleeue in him, that being sanctified by his iustice, taught by his wisedom, and gouerned by his power, we may stedfastly and couragiously persiuere euen to the end, in hope of that ioy that is set before our eyes, occupying our selues in Christian exercises, that we may both be thankefull to God, and dueifull to our neighbour.

CHAP. I.

1 He sheweth the excellencie of Christ 4 aboue the Angels, 7 and of their office.

a God, who is euer constant, and mercifull to his Church, declared his will in time past, not all at once, or after one sort, but from time to time and in sundry sorts: but now last of all he hath fully declared all truth to vs by his Sonne.

b So that now we may not credite any new reuelations after him.

c He intreateth here of Christ, both as touching his person, which is very God and very man, by whom all things are made, and also as touching his office, whereby he is King, Prophet, and Priest. Wisd.7.26. coloss.1.15.

d The liuely image & paterne, so that hee that seeth him, seeth the Father, Iohn 14.9. for else the person of the Father is not seene, but apprehended by faith.

e So that our sinnes can bee purged by none other meanes.

f Much more then, then all other things created.

Psal.2.7.chap.5.5.act.13.33. g Because he was at the time appointed, declared to the world. 2.Sam.7.14. 1.chron.22.10. Psal.97.7. Psal.104.4. h He compareth the Angels to the windes, which are here beneath as Gods messengers. Psal.45.6,7. i The administration of thy kingdom is iust. k This is meant in that that the word is made flesh, and that the holy Ghost was powred on him without measure, that we may all receiue of him euery one according to his measure. Psa 102.25. Psal.110.1. mat.22.44. 1.cor.15.25. chap.10.12.

CHAP. II.

1 He exhorteth vs to be obedient vnto the new Law which Christ hath giuen vs, 9 And not to bee offended at the infirmitie and lowe degree of Christ, 10 Because it was necessary that for our sakes hee should take such an humble state vpon him, that he might be like vnto his brethren.

a We must diligently keepe in memorie the doctrine, which we haue learned, lest like vessels full of chaps wee leake, and run out on euery part.

b Which was the law giuen to Moses by the hands of the Angels, Gal.3.19. Acts 7.53.

c As the Gospel is, which onely offereth saluation.

d That is, the Apostles. Marke 16.20.

e Which Esai calleth the new heauens, and the newe earth, Chap 65.17. Whereof Christ is the Father, Isa. 9.6. that is, the head of vs his members. Psal.8.4.

f He speaketh here chiefly of the faithfull, which are made through Christ, citizens of the world to come, where they shall enioy with their prince all these things which now they haue onely but in part.

g In making him fellow heire with Christ. Matth.28.18. 1.cor.15.27. philip.2.9,10,11. h To them which obiect that they see not these things accomplished in man, the Apostle answereth that they are fulfilled in Christ our captaine, who leadeth his to the same glory with him. i To man, as he is of Christ. k By his vertue which most manifestly appeareth in the Church. l Iesus Christ by humbling himselfe, and taking vpon him the forme of a seruant, which was our flesh, and mortalitie, giueth vs assurance of our saluation. m Therefore wee by afflictions are made like to the Sonne of God. n The head and the members are of one nature: so Christ which sanctifieth vs, and wee that are sanctified, are all one by the vnion of our flesh. Psal.22,22. o This prooueth Christs humanitie.

WHerefore we ought diligently to giue heede to the things which wee haue heard, lest at any a time we should let them slippe.

2 For if the b worde spoken by Angels was stedfast, and euery transgression, and disobedience receiued a iust recompence of reward,

3 How shall wee escape, if we neglect so c great saluation, which at the first beganne to be preached by the Lorde, and afterward was confirmed vnto vs by d them that heard him,

4 *God bearing witnesse thereto, both with signes and wonders, and with diuers miracles and gifts of the holy Ghost, according to his owne will?

5 For he hath not put in subiection vnto the Angels the e world to come, whereof we speake.

6 But *one in a certaine place witnessed, saying, What is man, that thou shouldest be mindfull of him? or the sonne of man that thou wouldest consider him?

7 Thou madest him a little inferiour to the Angels: thou crownedst him with glorie and honour, and hast set him aboue the workes of thine hands.

8 *Thou hast put all things in subiection vnder his feete. And in that he hath put all things in subiection vnder him, hee left nothing that should not be subiect vnto him. h But we yet see not all things subdued vnto i him.

9 But we see Iesus k crowned with glorie and honour, which was made a little inferiour to the Angels, through the suffering of death, that by Gods grace he might taste death for all men.

10 For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all thinggs, seeing that hee brought many children vnto glory, that hee should consecrate the l Prince of their saluation through m afflictions.

11 For hee that sanctifieth, and they which are sanctified, are all * of one: wherefore hee is not ashamed to call them brethren, 12 Saying, *I will declare thy Name vnto my o brethren: in the middes of the Church will I sing prayses to thee.

13 And

13 And againe, *I will put my p trust in him. And againe, *q Behold, heere am I, and the children, which God hath giuen mee.

14 Forasmuch then as the children were partakers of flesh and blood, hee also himselfe likewise tooke part with them, that hee might destroy * through death, him that had the power of death, that is the deuill,

15 And that hee might deliuer all them, which for feare of r death were all their life time subiect to bondage.

16 For hee in no sort tooke the s Angels, but he tooke the seede of Abraham.

17 Wherefore t in all things it became him to be made like vnto his brethren, that hee might be mercifull, and a faithfull high Priest in things concerning God, that hee might make reconciliation for the sinnes of the people.

18 For in that hee u suffered, and was tempted, hee is able to succour them that are tempted.

CHAP. III.

1 Hee requireth them to bee obedient vnto the word of Christ, 3 Who is more worthie then Moses. 12 The punishment of such as will harden their hearts, and not beleeue, that they might haue eternall life.

THerefore, holy brethren, partakers of the heauenly vocation, a consider the Apostle and high Priest of our b profession, Christ Iesus:

2 Who was faithfull to him that hath appointed c him, euen as * Moses was in all his house.

3 For this man is counted worthie of more glorie then Moses, in as much as hee which hath builded the house, d hath more honour then the house.

4 For euery house is builded of some man, and he that hath built all things, is e God.

5 Now Moses verily was faithfull in all his house, as a seruant, for a witnesse of the things which should be spoken after.

6 But Christ is as the Sonne, ouer his owne house, whose f house we are, if we hold fast the confidence, and the reioycing of the hope vnto the end.

7 Wherefore, as the holy Ghost saith, * To day if yee shall heare his voice,

8 Harden not your hearts, as in the prouocation, according to the day of the tentation in the wildernesse,

9 Where your fathers tempted me, proued mee, and saw my workes fourtie yeeres long.

10 Wherefore I was grieued with that generation, and sayde, They erre euer in their heart, neither haue they knowen my wayes.

11 Therefore I sware in my wrath, h If they shall enter into my rest.

12 Take heede, brethren, lest at any time there bee in any of you an euill heart, and vnfaithfull, to depart away from the liuing God.

13 But exhort one another dayly, while it is called k To day, least any of you bee hardened through the deceitfulnesse of sinne.

14 For we are made partakers of Christ, if we keepe sure vnto the l ende the ‖ beginning, wherewith we are vpholden, 15 So long as it is said, To day if yee heare his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the prouocation.

16 For some when they heard, prouoked m him to anger: howbeit, not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17 But with whom was hee displeased fourtie yeeres? was hee not displeased with them that sinned, * whose ‖ karkeises fell in the wildernesse?

18 And to whome sware hee that they should not enter into his rest, but vnto them that obeyed not?

19 So wee see that they could not enter in, because of vnbeliefe.

LEt vs feare therefore, lest at any time by forsaking the promise of entring into his rest, any of you should seeme to bee depriued.

2 For vnto vs was the Gospel preached as also vnto them: but the word that they heard, profited not them, because it was not a mixed with faith in those that heard it.

3 For we which haue beleeued, doe enter into rest, as hee said to the other, * As I haue sworne in my wrath, If b they shall enter into my rest: although c the workes were finished from the foundation of the world.

4 For hee spake in a certaine place of the seuenth day on this wise, * And God did rest the seuenth day from all his workes.

5 And in this place againe, If they shall enter into my rest.

6 Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter therinto, and they to whom it was first preached, entred not therein for vnbeliefes sake:

7 Againe hee appointed in d Dauid a certaine day by To day, after so long a time, saying, as it is said, * This day if yee heare his voice, harden not your hearts.

8 For if e Iesus had giuen them rest, then would hee not after this day haue spoken of another.

9 There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God.

10 For hee that is entred into his rest, f hath also ceased from his owne workes, as God did from his.

a He compareth the preaching of the Gospel, as it were, to wine, whereof if we will taste, that is, heare and vnderstand with profite, we must temper or mixe it with faith.
Psal. 95.11.

as God did from his.

11 Let vs studie therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same ensample of disobedience.

12 For the word of God is liuely, and mightie in operation, and sharper then any two edged sword, and g entreth through, euen vnto the dividing asunder of the b soule and the i spirit, and of the ioyntes, and the marowe, and is a discerner of the thoughts, and the intents of the heart.

13 Neither is there any creature, which is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and k open vnto his eyes, ‖ with whom we haue l to doe.

14 Seeing then that wee haue a great hie Priest, which is entred into heauen, euen Iesus the Sonne of God, let vs hold fast our profession.

15 For we haue not an hie Priest, which cannot bee touched with the feeling of our infirmities, but was in all things tempted in like sort, yet without sinne.

16 Let vs therefore goe boldly vnto the throne of grace, that we may receiue mercy, and finde grace to helpe in time of neede.

g For it mortally woundeth the rebellious, and in the elect it killeth the old man that they should liue vnto God.

l Therefore when we heare his worde, wee must tremble, knowing thereby that God soundeth our hearts.

CHAP. V.

1 Hee compareth Iesus Christ with the Leuiticall Priestes shewing wherein they either agree, or dissent. 11 Afterward hee reproueth the negligence of the Iewes.

a Hee sheweth that man can haue none accesse to God without an hie Priest, because that of himselfe hee is prophane and sinfull.

b Which were of things without life.

c As of beasts, which are killed.

e Who was both Priest and King.

f When he liued in this world.

g He meaneth that most earnest prayer which Christ prayed in the garden, wher hee sweat drops of blood.

h Being in perplexitie, and fearing the horrors of death.

i He digresseth till hee come to the beginning of the 7. Chapter.

FOr euery high Priest is taken from among men, and is a ordeined for men, in things pertaining to God, that hee may offer both b giftes, and c sacrifices for sinnes,

2 Which is able sufficiently to haue compassion on them d that are ignorant, and that are out of the way, because that hee also is compassed with infirmitie,

3 And for the same sake he is bound to offer for sinnes, as well for his owne part, as for the peoples.

4 * And no man taketh this honour vnto himselfe, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron.

5 So likewise Christ tooke not to himselfe this honour, to be made the hie Priest, but hee that said vnto him, * Thou art my Sonne, this day begate I thee, gaue it him.

6 As hee also in another place speaketh, * Thou art a Priest for euer after e the order of Melchi-sedec.

7 Which in the f dayes of his flesh did offer vp prayers and supplications, with s strong crying and teares vnto him, that was able to saue him from death, and was also heard h in that which he feared.

8 And though hee were the Sonne, yet learned hee obedience, by the things which he suffered,

9 And being consecrate, was made the author of eternall saluation vnto all them that obey him:

10 And is called of God an hie Priest after the order of Melchi-sedec.

11 i Of whome wee haue many things to say, which are hard to bee vttered, because yee are dull of hearing.

12 For when as concerning the time yee ought to bee teachers, yet haue yee neede againe that wee teach you the first ‖ principles of the word of God: and are become such as haue neede of k milke, and not of strong meate.

13 For euery one that vseth milke, is inexpert in the l word of righteousnesse: for hee is a babe.

14 But strong meate belongeth to them that are of age, which through long custome haue their wittes exercised, to discerne both good and euill.

‖ Or, rudiments.

k Reade 1. Cor. 3. 2.

l That is, the Gospel, which is the true knowledge that teacheth vs where we haue our iustice.

CHAP. VI.

1 He proceedeth in reproouing them, & exhorteth them not to faint, 12 But to be stedfast & patient, 18 For asmuch as God is sure in his promise.

THerefore leauing the doctrine of the a beginning of Christ, let vs bee led forward vnto perfection, not laying againe the foundation b of repentance from dead workes, and of faith toward God,

2 Of the doctrine of c baptismes, and laying on of hands, and of the resurrection from the dead, and of eternall iudgement.

3 And this will we doe d if God permit.

4 * For it is impossible that they, which were once lightened, and haue tasted of the heauenly gift, and were made partakers of the holy Ghost,

5 And haue tasted of the good word of God, and of the powers of the world to come

6 If they fall away, should bee renewed againe by repentance: seeing they e crucifie againe to themselues the Sonne of God, and make a mocke of him.

7 For the earth which drinketh in the rame that commeth oft vpon it, and bringeth forth herbes meete for them by whom it is dressed, receiueth blessing of God.

8 But that which beareth thornes and briers, is reprooued, and is neere vnto cursing, whose end is to be burned.

9 But beloued, wee haue perswaded our selues better things of you, and such as accompanie saluation, though we thus speake.

10 For God is not vnrighteous, that hee should forget your worke, and labour of loue, which yee shewed toward his Name, in that ye haue ministred vnto the Saints, and yet minister.

11 And wee desire that euery one of you shew the same diligence, to the f full assurance of hope vnto the end, 12 That yee be not slouthfull, but followers of s them, which through faith and patience, inherite the promises.

13 For when God made the promise to Abraham, because hee had no greater to sweare by, hee sware by himselfe, 14 Saying, * Surely I will abundantly blesse thee and multiply thee marueilously.

15 And so after that hee had taried patiently, he enioyed the promise.

16 For men verely sweare by him that is greater then themselues, and an oath for a That is, the first rudiments of our Christian religion.

b Hee mentioneth fiue points of the catechisme which was then in vse: the confession of amendment of life: the summe of the faith: a briefe explication of baptisme, and laying on of hands: the article of the resurrection, and the last iudgement.

c Then the vse of baptisme was declared, when on the solemne dayes appointed to baptize, the Church came together.

d It is Gods singular gift to increase the knowledge, and to goe forward in the vnderstanding of Gods word, Mat. 12. 31, 32. 2. pet. 2. 20. chap. 10. 26.

e They which are apostates and sinne against the holy Ghost, hate Christ, crucifie and mocke him, but to their own destruction and therefore fall into desperation and cannot repent.

f Whereby it may appeare, that you are fully perswaded of life euerlasting.

confirmation is among them an ende of all strife.

17 So God willing more h abundantly to shewe vnto the heires of promise the stablenes of his counsel, bound him selfe by an oth, 18 That by i two immutable things, wherein it is impossible that God should lie, wee might haue strong consolation, which haue our refuge to hold fast the hope that is set before vs.

19 Which wee haue, as an ancre of the soule, both sure and stedfast, and it k entreth into that which is within the l vaile, 20 Whither the forerunner is for vs entred in, euen Iesus that is made an high Priest for euer after the order of Melchisedec.

h Because of mans wickednes, which will not beleeue God, except he sweare.
i Gods word and oath are two things in him vnchangeable.
k He returneth to the comparison betweene Christes Priesthood and the Leuiticall, which he had begun in the fift Chapter.
l Which is heauen, whither Christ is gone before to prepare vs place.

CHAP. VII.

1 He compareth the Priesthood of Christ vnto Melchi-sedec, 11 Also Christs Priesthood with the Leuites.

Gene.14.18.

FOr this Melchi-sedec * was King of Salem, the Priest of the most high God, who met Abraham, as hee returned from the slaughter of the Kings, and blessed him:

2 To whome also Abraham gaue the tithe of all things, who first is by interpretation King of righteousnesse: after that, hee is also King of Salem, that is, King of peace,

3 Without a father, without mother, without kinred, and hath neither beginning of his dayes, neither ende of life: but is likened vnto the Sonne of God, and continueth a Priest for euer.

4 Now consider howe great this man was vnto whom euen the b Patriarch Abraham gaue the tithe of the spoyles.

5 For verily they which are the children of Leui, which receiue the office of the Priesthood, haue a c commandement to take according to the law, tithes of the people (that is, of their brethren) though they d came out of the loynes of Abraham.

6 But hee whose kinred is not counted among them, e receiued tithes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.

7 And without all contradiction, the lesse is blessed of the greater.

8 And here men that die, receiue tithes: but there he receiueth them, of whom it is witnessed, that he f liueth.

9 And to say as the thing is, Leui also which receiueth tithes, payed tithes in Abraham.

10 For hee was yet in the loynes of his father Abraham, when Melchi-sedec met him.

11 If therefore perfection had bene by the Priesthoode of the Leuites (for vnder it the Lawe was established to the people) what needed it furthermore, that another Priest should rise after the order of Melchi-sedec, and not to bee called after the order of Aaron?

12 For if the Priesthood bee changed, then of necessitie must there bee a change of the g Law.

13 For hee of whom these things are spoken, pertaineth vnto another tribe, whereof no man serued at the altar.

14 For it is euident, that our Lord sprung out of Iuda, concerning the which tribe Moses spake nothing, touching the Priesthood.

15 And it is yet a more euident thing, because that after the similitude of Melchi-sedec, there is risen vp another Priest, 16 Which is not made Priest after the Law h of the carnall commaundement, but after the power of the endlesse life.

17 For hee testifieth thus, * Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchi-sedec.

18 For the commandement that went afore, is disanulled, because i of the weaknesse thereof, and vnprofitablenesse.

19 For the Law made nothing perfit, but ‖ the bringing in of a better hope made perfit, whereby we draw neere vnto God.

20 And forasmuch as it is not without an oath (for these are made Priests without an oath:

21 But this, hee is made with an oath by him that said vnto him, * The Lord hath sworne, and will not repent, Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchi-sedec.)

22 By so much is Iesus made a suretie of a better ‖ Testament.

23 And among them many were made Priests, because they were not suffered to endure, by the reason of death, 24 But this man, because he endureth euer, hath an k euerlasting Priesthood.

25 Wherefore, hee is able also l perfectly to saue them that come vnto God by him, seeing hee euer liueth, to make intercession for them.

26 For such an hie Priest it became vs to haue, which is holy, harmelesse, vndefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher then the heauens:

27 Which needed not dayly as those hie Priests to offer vp sacrifice, * first for his owne sinnes, & then for the peoples: for that did hee m once, when he offered vp himselfe.

28 For the Lawe maketh men high Priests, which haue infirmitie: but the word of the oath that was n since the Law, maketh the Sonne, who is consecrated for euermore.

g The Law and the Priesthood are both of one condition: so that both Aarons and Moses office pertaine to Christ, which is Priest and Lawmaker.
h Which stoode in outward and corporall ceremonies.
Psal.110.4.
chap.5.6.
i For the Law hath no vertue nor profit, till a man be come to Christ.
‖ Or, it was an introduction of a better hope.
Psal.110.4.
‖ Or, couenant.
k Therefore all others are blasphemous, that either make themselues his successors, or pretend any other sacrifice.
l The fruit of his Priesthood is to saue, and that fully and perfectly, not by supplying that that wanteth, but by taking away the Law, which is vnperfect by reason of our infirmities.
Leui.16.6.
m And cannot without blasphemie be said to be offered againe, or else by any creature: for none could offer him, but himselfe.
n Not that it was first made after the Lawe was giuen: but because the declaration of that eternall oath was then reueiled vnto the world.

CHAP. VIII.

6 He proueth the abolishing as well of the Leuiticall Priesthood, as of the olde Couenant by the spirituall and euerlasting Priesthood of Christ, 8 And by the New couenant.

NOw of the things which wee haue spoken, this is the summe, that wee haue such an hie Priest, that sitteth at the right hand of the throne of the Maiestie in heauens,

2 And is a minister of the a Sanctuarie, and a That is, heauen.

and of the true b Tabernacle, which the Lord pight, and not c man.

3 For d euery high Priest is ordeined to offer both gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it was of necessitie, that this man should haue somewhat also to offer.

4 For he were not a Priest, if he were on the earth, seeing there are Priests that according to the Law offer gifts,

5 Who serue vnto the paterne and shadow of heauenly things, as Moses was warned by God, when he was about to finish the Tabernacle. * See, said he, that thou make all things according to the e paterne thewed to thee in the mount.

6 But now our hie Priest hath obtained a more excellent office, in as much as he is the Mediator of a better ‖ Testament, which is established vpon better promises.

7 For if that first Testament had beene faultlesse, no place should haue beene sought for the second.

8 For in rebuking them he saith, * Behold, the dayes will f come, saith the Lord, when I shall make with the house of Israel, and with the house s of Iuda, a new Testament:

9 Not like the Testament that I made with their fathers, in the day that I tooke them by the hand, to leade them out of the land of Egypt: for they h continued not in my Testament, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

10 For this is the Testament that I will make with the house of Israel, After those dayes, saith the Lord, I will put my lawes in their minde, and in their heart I will write them, and I will bee their God, and they shall be my people:

11 And they shall not i teach euery man his neighbour, and euery man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know mee, from the least of them to the greatest of them.

12 For I will bee mercifull to their vnrighteousnesse, and I will remember their sinnes and their iniquities no more.

13 In that hee saith, A new Testament, he hath abrogate the olde: now that which is disanulled and waxed olde, is ready to vanish away.

CHAP. IX.

1 How that the ceremonies and sacrifices of the Law are abolished. 11 by the eternitie and perfection of Christs sacrifice.

‖ Or, Tabernacle. ‖ Or, ceremonies.
a Not heauenly and spirituall. Exod. 26.1. and 36.1. b That is, on the inward side of the vaile, which was hid from the people.

THen the first ‖ Testament had also ‖ ordinances of religion, and a a worldly Sanctuarie.

2 For the first * Tabernacle was made, wherein was the candlesticke, and the table, and the shewbread, which Tabernacle is called the holy places.

3 And after the b second vaile was the Tabernacle, which is called the Holiest of all,

4 Which had the golden censer, and the Arke of the Testament ouerlaide round about with golde, wherein the golden potte which had Manna was, and * Aarons rod that had budded, and the * Tables of the Testament.

5 * And ouer the Arke were the glorious Cherubims, shadowing the ‖ Mercie seate: of which things we will not now speake particularly.

6 Nowe when these things were thus ordeined, the Priestes went alwayes into the first Tabernacle, and accomplished the seruice.

7 But into the second went the * high Priest alone, once euery yeere, not without blood which hee offered for himselfe, and for the ‖ ignorances of the people,

8 Whereby the holy Ghost this signified, that the c way into the Holiest of all was not yet opened, while as yet the first Tabernacle was standing,

9 Which was a figure for the time present, wherein were offered gifts and sacrifices that could not make ‖ holy, concerning the conscience, d him that did the seruice,

10 Which only stood in meats & drinkes, and diuers washings, and e carnall rites, vntill the time of f reformation.

11 But Christ being come an hie Priest of good things to come, by a greater and a more perfect s Tabernacle, not made with hands, that is, not of this building, 12 Neither by the blood of goates and calues: but by his owne blood entred hee in once vnto the h holy place, i and obteined eternall redemption for vs.

13 * For if the k blood of buls & of goates, and the ashes of an heifer, sprinkling them that are vncleane, sanctifieth as touching the purifying of the l flesh,

14 How much more shall the * blood of Christ, which through the eternall spirit offered himselfe without spot to God, purge your conscience from m dead works, * to serue the liuing God?

15 And for this cause is he the Mediator of the new Testament, that through * death which was for the redemption of the transgressions that were in the n former Testament, they which were called might receiue the promise of eternall inheritance.

16 For where a Testament is, there must bee the death of him that made the Testament.

19 For when Moses had spoken euery precept to the people, according to the Law, hee tooke the blood of calues and of goates, with water and purple wooll and hyssope, and sprinkled both the booke, and all the people, 20 *Saying, This is the blood of the Testament, which God hath appointed vnto you.

21 Moreouer hee sprinkled likewise the Tabernacle with blood also, and all the ministring vessels.

22 And almost all things are by the Law purged with blood, and without shedding of blood is no remission.

23 It was then necessary, that the similitudes of heauenly things should bee purified with such things: but the heauenly things themselues are purified with better q sacrifices then are these.

24 For Christ is not entred into the holy places which are made with hands, which are ‖ similitudes of the true Sanctuary: but is entred into very heauen, to appeare now in the sight of God for vs,

25 Not that he should offer himselfe r often as the hie Priest entred into the holy place euery yeere with other blood, 26 (For then must he haue often suffered since the foundation of the world) but nowe in the s end of the worlde hath hee appeared once to put away sinne, by the sacrifice of himselfe.

27 And as it is appointed vnto men that they shall once die, and after that commeth the iudgement, 28 So *Christ was once offered to take away the sinnes of t many, & vnto them that looke for him, shall hee appeare the second time u without sinne vnto saluation.

CHAP. X.

1 The old Law had no power to cleanse away sinne, 10 but Christ did it with offring of his body once for all. 22 An exhortation to receiue the goodnesse of God thankefully, with patience and stedfast faith.

For the *Law hauing the a shadow of good things to b come, and not the very ‖ image of the things, can neuer with those sacrifices which they offer yeere by yeere continually, ‖ sanctifie the commers thereunto.

2 For would they not then haue ceased to haue been offred, because that the offerers once purged, should haue had no more conscience of sinnes?

3 But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance againe of sinnes euery yeere.

4 For it is vnpossible that the blood of buls and goats should *take away sinnes.

5 Wherefore when hee c commeth into the world, he sayth, *Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not: but a d body hast thou ordained me.

6 In burnt offerings, and sinne offerings thou hast had no pleasure.

7 Then I sayd, Lo, I come, (In the beginning of the e booke it is written of mee) that I should do thy will, O God.

8 Aboue when he said, Sacrifice and offering, and burnt offerings, and sinne offerings thou wouldest not haue, neither hadst pleasure therein (which are offered by the Law.)

9 Then sayd hee, Loe, I come to doe thy will, O God, hee taketh away f the first, that he may establish the g second.

10 By the which will wee are sanctified, euen by the offering of the body of Iesus Christ once made.

11 And euery Priest appeareth daily ministring, and oft times offereth one manner of offering, which can neuer take away sinnes:

12 But this man after he had offered one sacrifice for sinnes, * sitteth for euer at the right hand of God, 13 And from henceforth tarieth * till his enemies be made his footestoole.

14 For with one offering hath h he consecrated for euer them that are sanctified.

15 For the holy Ghost also beareth vs record: for after that he had said before,

16 *This is the Testament that I will make vnto them, After those daies, saith the Lord, I wil put my lawes in their heart, and in their mindes I will write them, 17 And their sinnes and iniquities will I remember no more.

18 Now where i remission of these things is, there is no more k offering for sinne.

19 Seeing therfore, brethren, that by the blood of Iesus we l may be bold to enter into the holy place,

20 By the new, and m liuing way, which he hath prepared for vs, through the vayle, that is, his flesh:

21 And seeing we haue an high Priest, which is ouer the house of God, 22 Let vs draw neere with a true heart in assurance of faith, n sprinkled in our hearts from an euill conscience, and washed in our bodies with pure water.

23 Let vs keepe the profession of our hope without wauering (for hee is faithfull that promised.)

24 And let vs consider one another, to prouoke vnto loue, and to good workes, 25 Not forsaking the fellowship that wee haue among our selues as the maner of some is: but let vs exhort one another, and that so much the more, because ye see that the o day draweth neere.

26 *For if we sinne p willingly after that wee haue receiued the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sinnes, 27 But a fearefull looking for of iudgement, and violent fire, which shall deuoure the aduersaries.

p The entisings of the world, which draw vs from God, and which we can not vse without prouoking of Gods anger.

p pleasures of sinnes for a season,

26 Esteeming the rebuke of Christ greater riches then the treasures of Egypt: for he had respect vnto the recompence of the reward.

27 By faith he forsooke Egypt, & feared not the fiercenesse of the king: for hee endured as he that saw him which is inuisible.

28 Through faith he ordeined the *Passeouer and the effusion of blood, lest hee that destroyed the first borne, shoulde touch them.

Exod. 12.21,22.

Exod. 14.22,23

29 By faith they * passed thorow the red sea as by drie land, which when the Egyptians had assayed to doe, they were drowned.

Iosh. 6.20.

30 By faith the * walles of Jericho fell downe after they were compassed about seuen dayes.

Iosh 6.23. Iosh. 2.1.

31 By faith the harlot * Rahab perished not with them which obeyed not, when * she had receiued the spies peaceably.

32 And what shal I more say? for the time would be too short for me to tel of * Gedeon, of * Barac, and of * Samson, and of * Jephte, also of * Dauid, and Samuel, and of the Prophets:

q Or fruit thereof.

33 Which thorow faith subdued kingdomes, wrought righteousnesse, obtained the q promises, stopped the mouthes of Lyons, 34 Quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the swoorde, of weake were made strong, waxed valiant in battell, turned to flight the armies of the aliants.

r As Elias raised vp the widow of Sareptas sonne, and Eliseus the Sunamites sonne.

35 Ther women receiued their dead raised to life, other also were racked, and would not bee deliuered, that they might receiue a better resurrection.

36 And others haue bene tryed by mockings & scourgings, yea, moreouer by bondes and prisonment.

s They had not such cleare light of Christ as we: for they looked for that which we haue: therefore it were shame for vs, if at least we haue not as great constancie as they.

37 They were stoned, they were hewen asunder, they were tempted, they were slaine with the swoorde, they wandred vp & downe in sheepes skins, and in goates skinnes, being destitute, afflicted, and tormented:

t For we are all one bodie together.

38 Whom the world was not worthy of: they wandred in wildernesses, and mountaines, and dennes, and caues of the earth.

39 And these all thorough faith obteined good report, and receiued t not the promise, 40 God prouiding a better thing for vs, that they c without vs should not bee made perfit.

CHAP. XII.

1 An exhortation to be patient and stedfast in trouble and aduersity, vpon hope of euerlasting reward. 25 A commendation of the new Testament aboue the olde.

Rom. 6.4 ephe. 4. 23, 24 gal. 3.8. 1 pet. 2.1.

WHerefore * let vs also, seeing that wee are compassed with so great a ‖ cloud of witnesses, cast away euery thing that a presseth downe, and the sinne that ‖ hangeth so fast on: let vs runne with patience the race that is set before vs,

‖ Or, multitude.

a As riches, cares, and such like, and so to become Christes disciples by denying our selues, and taking our crosse to follow him.

2 b Looking vnto Jesus the authour and finisher of our faith, who for the ioy that was set before him, endured the crosse, & despised the shame, and is set at the right hand of the throne of God.

‖ Or, so easily compasseth vs about.

b As being our marke.

3 Consider therefore him that endured such speaking against of sinners, lest yee should be wearied, and faint in your minds.

4 Yee haue not yet resisted vnto blood, striuing against sinne.

c Which by reason of our concupiscence assaileth vs on all sides. Prou. 3.11. reuel. 3.19.

5 And ye haue forgotten the consolation, which speaketh vnto you as vnto children, * My sonne, despise not the chastening of the Lord, neither faint when thou art rebuked of him.

6 For whome the Lord loueth, he chasteneth: and he scourgeth euery sonne that hee receiueth.

7 If ye endure chastening, God offereth himselfe vnto you as vnto sonnes: for what sonne is it whom the father chasteneth not?

d He concludeth that they which refuse the crosse, deny to be of the number of Gods children, but are bastards.

8 If therefore ye be without correction, whereof all are partakers, then are yee bastards, and not d sonnes.

e Which haue naturally begotten vs.

9 Moreouer we haue had the fathers of our e bodies which corrected vs, & wee gaue them reuerence: should we not much rather be in subiection vnto the Father of f spirits, that we might liue?

f As he doeth create our spirits without any worldly meane, so he doth instruct and maintaine them by the wonderful vertue of his Spirit.

10 For they verely for a few daies chastened vs after their owne pleasure: but he chasteneth vs for our profit, that wee might bee partakers of his holinesse.

g Their halting partly declared their slowenesse, and partly their inconstancie in doctrine: therefore they were in danger to be punished.

11 Now no chastising for the present seemeth to be ioyous, but grieuous: but afterward, it bringeth the quiet fruit of righteousnesse, vnto them which are thereby exercised.

12 Wherefore lift vp your hands which hang downe, and your weake knees, 13 And make straight steps vnto your feet, lest g that which is halting, bee turned out of the way, but let it rather be healed.

Rom. 12.18.

h As heresies or apostasie. Gen. 25.33. Gen. 27.38.

14 * Follow peace with all men, and holinesse, without the which no man shall see the Lord.

15 Take heede, that no man fall away from the grace of God: let no h roote of bitternesse spring vp and trouble you, lest thereby many be defiled.

i He was full of despite, and disdaine, but was not touched with true repentance to be displeased for his sinnes and to seeke amendment.

16 Let there be no fornicator, or prophane person as * Esau, which for a portion of meate sold his birthright.

Exod. 19.16. and 20,21.

17 * For yee know how that afterward also when he would haue inherited the blessing, he was reiected: for he found no place to i repentance, though hee sought the blessing with teares.

k Which might be touched and seene, forasmuch as it was materiall, but God had commaunded that none should touch it.

18 For ye are not come vnto the * mount that k might bee touched, nor vnto burning fire, nor to blackenesse and darkenesse, and tempest,

Exod. 19.13.

19 Neither vnto the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of wordes, which they that heard it, excused themselues, that the word should not be spoken to them any more.

20 For they were not able to abide that which was commaunded, * Yea, though a beast touch the mountaine, it shall be stoned, or thrust thorow with a dart:

appeared, that Moses said, I feare & quake)

22 But ye are come vnto the mount l Sion, and to the citie of the liuing God, the m celestiall Ierusalem, and to the company of innumerable n Angels,

23 And to the congregation of the first borne, which are written in heauen, and to God the iudge of all, and to the spirits of iust and perfect men, 24 And to Iesus the mediatour of the new Testament, and to the blood of sprinckling that speaketh better things then that of *Abel.

25 See that ye despise not him that speaketh: for if they escaped not which refused him that spake on o earth: much more shall wee not escape, if we turne away from him, that speaketh from heauen.

26 Whose voice then shooke the earth, and now hath declared, saying, * Yet once more will I shake, not the earth onely, but also heauen.

27 And this word, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things which are shaken, as of things which are made with handes, that the things which are not shaken, may remaine.

28 Wherefore seeing wee receiue a kingdome, which cannot be shaken, let vs haue grace, whereby wee may so serue God, that we may please him with reuerence & feare.

29 For * euen our God is a p consuming fire.

CHAP. XIII.

1 He exhorteth vs to loue, 2 To hospitalitie, 3 To thinke vpon such as be in aduersitie, 4 To maintaine wedlocke, 5 To auoyd couetousnes, 7 To make much of them that preach Gods word, 9 To beware of strange learning, 13 To be content to suffer rebuke with Christ, 15 To be thankefull vnto God, 17 And obedient vnto our gouernors.

LEt *brotherly loue continue.

2 Be not forgetful to lodge strangers: for thereby some haue * receiued Angels into their houses vnwares.

3 Remember them that are in bonds, as though yee were bound with them: and them that are in affliction, as if ye were also afflicted in the body.

4 a Marriage is honourable among all, and the bed vndefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God will iudge.

5 Let your conuersation be without couetousnes, and be content with those things that yee haue: for b he hath sayd, * I will not faile thee, neither forsake thee:

6 So that we may boldly say, * The Lord is mine helper, neither will I feare what man can doe vnto me.

7 Remember them which haue the ouersight of you, which haue declared vnto you the word of God: whose faith follow, considering what hath bene the ende of their conuersation.

8 Iesus Christ c yesterday, and to day, the same also is for euer.

9 Bee not caried about with diuers and strange d doctrines: for it is a good thing that the heart be stablished with grace, and not with e meates, which haue not profited them that haue bene occupied therein.

10 Wee haue an altar, whereof they haue no authoritie to f eate, which serue in the tabernacle.

11 * For the bodies of those beasts whose blood is brought into the Holy place by the hie Priest for sinne, are g burnt without the campe.

12 Therefore euen Iesus, that he might sanctifie the people with his owne blood, suffered without the gate.

13 Let vs goe forth therefore out of the campe, bearing his reproch.

14 * For here haue wee no continuing citie: but we seeke one to come.

15 Let vs therefore by him offer the sacrifice of praise alwayes to God, that is, the * fruite of the lippes, which confesse his Name.

16 h To do good, and to distribute, forget not: for with such sacrifices God is pleased.

17 Obey them that haue the ouersight of you, and submit your selues: for they watch for your soules, as they that must giue accounts, that they may doe it with ioy, and not with grieue: for that is vnprofitable for you.

18 Pray for vs: for wee are assured that we haue a good conscience in all things, desiring to liue honestly.

19 And I desire you somewhat the more earnestly, that yee so doe, that I may be restored to you more quickly.

20 The God of peace that brought againe from the dead our Lorde Iesus, the great i Shepheard of the sheepe, through the blood of the euerlasting Couenant, 21 Make you perfect in all good workes, to doe his will, working in you that which is pleasant in his sight, through Iesus Christ, to whome be praise for euer and euer, Amen.

22 I beseech you also, brethren, suffer the wordes of exhortation: for I haue written vnto you in few words.

23 Know that our brother Timothues is deliuered, with whome (if he come shortly) I will see you.

24 Salute all them that haue the ouersight of you, and all the Saints. They of Italie salute you.

25 Grace be with you all Amen.

IAmes the Apostle and sonne of Alpheus wrote this Epistle to the Iewes which were conuerted to Christ, but dispersed through diuers countreyes, and therefore hee exhorteth them to patience and prayer, to embrace the true word of God, and not to be partiall, neither to boast of an idle faith, faith, but to declare a true faith by liuely fruits, to auoide ambition, to bridle the tongue, to rule the affections, to be humble and loue their neighbours, to beware of swearing, to vtter their faults when they haue offended, to pray one for another, and to bring him which is out of the way, to the knowledge of Christ.

CHAP. I.

2 He exhorteth to reioyce in trouble, 6 To be feruent in prayer with stedfast beliefe, 17 To look for all good things from aboue, 21 To forsake all vice, & thankfully to receiue the word of God, 22 Not onely hearing it, and speaking of it, but to do thereafter indeed. 27 What true religion is.

IAmes a seruant of God, and of the Lord Iesus Christ, to the twelue tribes which are scattered abroad, salutation.

2 My brethren, count it exceeding ioy, when ye fall into diuers ‖ tentations,

3 *Knowing that the [a] trying of your faith bringeth foorth patience.

4 And let patience haue her [b] perfect worke, that yee may be perfect and entire, lacking nothing.

5 If any of you lacke [c] wisedome, let him aske of God, which giueth to all men liberally, and reprocheth no man, and it shall be giuen him.

6 *But let him aske in faith, and wauer not: for he that wauereth, is like a waue of the sea, tost of the wind and carried away.

7 Neither let that man thinke that hee shall receiue any thing of the Lord.

8 A [d] ‖ wauering minded man is vnstable in all his wayes.

9 Let the brother of low degree reioyce in that he is [e] exalted:

10 Againe hee that is rich, in that hee is made low: for as the floure of the grasse shall he *vanish away.

11 For as when the sunne riseth with heat, then the grasse withereth, and his flower falleth away, and the beauty of the fashion of it perisheth: euen so shall the rich man fade away in all his ‖ wayes.

12 *Blessed is the man that endureth tentation: for when he is tried, he shall receiue the crowne of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that loue him.

13 Let no man say when he is ‖ s tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot bee tempted with euill, neither tempteth he any man.

14 But euery man is tempted, when hee is drawen away by his owne concupiscence and is entised.

15 Then when lust hath conceiued, it bringeth foorth sinne, and sinne when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

16 Erre not, my deare brethren.

17 Euery good [h] giuing, & euery perfect gift is from aboue, & commeth downe from the Father of lights, with whom is no variablenesse [i] neither shadowing by turning.

18 Of his owne will begate hee vs with the word of truth, that we should be as the first fruits of his creatures.

19 Wherefore my deare brethren, *let euery man be [k] swift to heare, slow to speak, and [l] slow to wrath.

20 For the wrath of man doeth not accomplish [m] the righteousnesse of God.

21 Wherefore lay apart all filthinesse, and superfluity of maliciousnes, and receiue with meekenes the word that is [n] grafted in you, which is able to saue your soules.

22 *And be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiuing your owne selues.

23 For if any heare the word, and doe it not, he is like vnto a man, that beholdeth his naturall face in a [o] glasse.

24 For when hee hath considered himselfe, he goeth his way, and forgetteth immediatly what maner of one he was.

25 But who so looketh in the perfect Law of liberty, and continueth therein, he not being a forgetfull hearer, but a doer of the worke, shalbe blessed [p] in his deed.

26 If any man among you seemeth religious, and refraineth not his tongue, but deceiueth his own heart, this mans religion is vaine.

27 ‖ Pure religion & vndefiled before God, euen the Father, is this, to visite the fatherlesse and widowes in their aduersitie, and to keepe himselfe vnspotted of the world.

CHAP. II.

1 He forbiddeth to haue any respect of persons, 5 But to regarde the poore as well as the rich. 8 To be louing and mercifull, 14 And not to boast of faith, where no deeds are: 17 For it is but a dead faith, where good workes follow not.

MY brethren, haue not the faith of our glorious Lord Iesus Christ [a] in ‖ respect of persons.

2 For if there come into your company a man with a gold ring, and in goodly apparell, and there come in also a poore man in vile rayment,

3 And ye haue a respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say vnto him, Sit thou here in a good place, and say vnto the poore, Stand thou there, or sit here vnder my footestoole,

4 Are ye not partiall in your selues, and are become iudges of euill [b] thoughts?

5 Hearken my beloued brethren, hath not [c] God chosen the poore of this world, that they should be rich in faith, and heires of the kingdome which hee promised to them that loue him?

6 But ye haue despised the poore. Do not the rich oppresse you by tyranny, and doe not they draw you before the iudgement seats?

7 Doe not they blaspheme the [d] worthie Name after which ye be named?

8 But if ye fulfil the [e] royal law according to the Scripture, which layth, *Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe, yee doe well.

9 *But if ye regard the persons, yee commit sinne, and are rebuked of the Law, as transgressours.

Law, and yet faileth in one point, he is guiltie of all.

11 For he that said, *Thou shalt not commit adultery, sayd also, Thou shalt not kill. Now though thou doest none adultery, yet if thou killest, thou art a transgressor of the Law.

12 So speake ye, and so doe, as they that shalbe iudged by the f Law of libertie.

13 For there shalbe iudgement merciles to him that sheweth no mercie, and mercie reioyceth against iudgement.

14 What auaileth it, my brethren, though a man saith he hath b faith, when he hath no workes? can the faith saue him?

15 For if a brother or a sister bee * naked and destitute of dayly foode, 16 And one of you say vnto them, Depart in peace: warme your selues, and fill your bellies, notwithstanding yee giue them not those things which are needfull to the body, what helpeth it?

17 Euen so the faith, if it haue no workes, is dead in it selfe.

18 But some man might say, Thou hast i the faith, and I haue workes: shew mee thy faith out of thy ‖k workes, and I will shew thee my faith by my workes.

19 Thou beleeuest that there is one God: thou doest well: the deuils also beleeue it, and tremble.

20 But wilt thou vnderstand, O thou vaine man, that the faith which is without workes, is dead?

21 Was not Abraham our father iustified through workes, when he offered Isaac his sonne vpon the altar?

22 Seest thou not that the faith l wrought with his workes? and through the workes was the faith made m perfite.

23 And the Scripture was fulfilled which saith, *Abraham beleeued God, and it was imputed vnto him for righteousnesse: and he was called the friend of God.

24 Ye see then how that of workes a man is n iustified, and not o of faith onely.

25 Likewise also was not *p Rahab the harlot iustified through workes, when she had receiued the messengers, and sent them out another way?

26 For as the body without the spirit is dead, euen q so the faith without workes is dead.

k Here deedes are considered as ioyned with true faith. l So that faith was not idle. m The more his faith was declared by his obedience and good workes, the more was it knowen to men to be perfect, as the goodnesse of a tree is knowen by her good fruite, otherwise no man can haue perfection in this world: for euery man must pray for remission of his sinnes, and increase of faith. Gen. 15.6. rom. 4.3. gal. 3.6. n Is so knowen and declared to man. o Of that barren and dead faith whereof yee boast. Iosh 2.1. p Meaning hereby all them that were not Iewes, and were receiued to grace. q Wherefore we are iustified only by that liuely faith, which doeth apprehend the mercie of God toward vs in Iesus Christ.

CHAP. III.

1 He forbiddeth al ambitiō to seeke honor aboue our brethren. 3 He describeth the property of the tōgue. 15.16. And what differēce there is betwixt the wisedom of God, & the wisedom of the world.

MY brethren, bee not a many masters, knowing that we shal receiue the greater condemnation.

2 For in many things we ‖b sinne all. *If any man sinne not in c word, he is a perfite man, and able to bridle all the body.

3 Behold, wee put bits into the horses mouthes, that they should obey vs, and wee turne about all their body.

4 Behold also the ships, which though they bee so great, and are driuen of fierce windes, yet are they turned about with a very small rudder, whithersoeuer the gouernour listeth.

5 Euen so the tongue is a litle member, and boasteth of great things: behold, how great a ‖ thing a little fire kindleth.

6 And the tongue is fire, yea, a d world of wickednesse: so is the tongue set among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and e setteth on fire the course of nature, and it is set on fire of hell.

7 For the whole nature of beasts, and of birds, and of creeping things, and things of the sea is tamed, and hath beene tamed of the nature of man.

8 But the tongue can no man tame. It is an vnruly euill, full of deadly poyson.

9 Therewith blesse wee God euen the father, and therewith curse wee men, which are made after the similitude of God.

10 Out of one mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing: my brethren, these things ought not so to be.

11 Doeth a fountaine send foorth at one place sweet water and bitter?

12 Can the figtree, my brethren, bring foorth olives, either a vine figs? so can no fountaine make both salt water and sweet.

13 Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? let him shew by good conuersation his workes in meekenesse of wisedome.

14 But if yee haue bitter enuying, and strife in your hearts, reioyce not, neither bee lyars against the trueth.

15 This wisedome descendeth not from aboue, but is earthly, sensuall, and deuilish.

16 For where enuying and strife is, there is sedition, and all maner of euill workes.

and warre, and get nothing, because ye aske not.

3 Ye aske and receiue not, because ye aske amisse, that yee might consume it on your lusts.

4 Ye adulterers and [b] adulteresses, know ye not that the amity of the world is the enmitie of God? * Whosoeuer therefore will be a friend of the world, maketh himselfe the enemie of God.

5 Doe ye thinke that the Scripture saith in vaine, The [c] spirit that dwelleth in vs, lusteth after enuy?

6 But the Scripture offereth more grace, and therefore saith, *God resisteth the proud, and giueth grace to the humble.

10 * Cast downe your selues before the Lord, and he will lift you vp.

11 Speake not euill one of another, brethren. He that speaketh euill of his brother, or hee that condemneth his brother, speaketh euill of the Law, and [e] condemneth the Law: and if thou condemnest the Law, thou art not an obseruer of the Law, but a iudge.

12 There is one [f] Lawgiuer, which is able to saue, and to destroy. * Who art thou that iudgest another man?

13 Goe to now yee that say, [g] To day or to morow we will goe into such a citie, and continue there a yeere, and buy and sell, and get gaine,

THE

The first Epistle generall of Peter.

THE ARGVMENT.

HE exhorteth the faithfull to denie themselues, and to contemne the world, that being deliuered from all carnall affections and impediments, they may more speedily attaine to the heauenly kingdome of Christ, whereunto wee are called by the grace of God reueiled to vs in his Sonne, and haue already receiued it by faith, possessed it by hope, and are therein confirmed by holinesse of life. And to the intent that this faith should not faint, seeing Christ contemned and reiected almost of the whole world, he declareth that this is nothing els but the accomplishing of the Scriptures which testifie that hee should be the stumbling stone to the reprobate, and the sure foundation of saluation to the faithfull: therefore he exhorteth them courageously to go forward, considering what they were, and to what dignitie God hath called them. After, he entreateth particular points, teaching subiects how to obey their gouernours, and seruants their masters, and how married folkes ought to behaue themselues. And because it is appointed for all that are godly to suffer persecutions, hee sheweth them what good issue their afflictions shall haue, and contrariwise what punishment God reserueth for the wicked. Last of all hee teacheth how the ministers ought to behaue themselues, forbidding them to vsurpe authoritie ouer the Church: also that yong men ought to bee modest, and apt to learne, and so endeth with an exhortation.

CHAP. I.

2 He sheweth that through the abundant mercy of God wee are elect and regenerate to a liuely hope, 7 and how faith must be tryed, 10 that the saluation in Christ is no newes, but a thing propheſied of old. 13 Hee exhorteth them to a godly conuersation, forasmuch as they are now borne anew by the word of God.

PETER an Apostle of Iesus Christ, to [a] the strangers that dwell here & there throwout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia,

2 Elect according to the [b] foreknowledge of God the Father vnto sanctification of the spirit, ‖ through [c] obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Iesus Christ: Grace & peace be multiplied vnto you.

3 * Blessed bee God euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten vs againe vnto a [d] liuely hope by the resurrection of Iesus Christ from the dead,

4 To an inheritance immortall and vndefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserued in [e] heauen for you,

5 Which are kept by the power of God, through faith vnto saluation, which is prepared to be shewed in the [f] last time:

6 Wherein ye reioyce, though now for a season (if need require) ye are in heauinesse, through manifold temptations,

7 That the triall of your faith, being much more precious then gold that perisheth (though it be tried with fire) might be found vnto your praise, and honour, and glory, at the [g] appearing of Iesus Christ:

8 Whom ye haue not seene, and yet loue him, in whom now, though yee see him not, yet doe you beleeue, and reioyce with ioy vnspeakable and glorious,

9 Receiuing the [h] end of your faith, euen the saluation of your soules.

14 *If ye bee rayled vpon for the Name of Christ, blessed are yee: for the spirit of glorie, and of God, resteth vpon you: which on their [d] part, is euill spoken of: but on your part is glorified.

15 But let none of you suffer as a murtherer, or as a thiefe, or an euill doer, or as a busie body in other mens matters.

16 But if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed: but let him glorifie God in this behalfe.

2 The duety of Pastors is to feede the flocke of Christ, and what reward they shall haue if they be diligent. 5 He exhorteth yong persons to submit themselues to the Elders, 8 To bee sober, and to watch that they may resist the enemie.

a By Elders he vnderstandeth all them which preach, teach, or minister in the Church.

THe a Elders which are among you, I beseech which am also an Elder, and a witnesse of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall bee reuealed.

The second Epistle generall of Peter.

THE ARGVMENT.

THe effect of the Apostle here, is to exhort them which haue once professed the true faith of Christ, to stand to the same euen to the last breath: also that God by his effectuall grace towards men moueth them to holinesse of life, in punishing the hypocrites which abuse his Name, and encreasing his gifts in the godly: wherefore by godly life, hee being now almost at deaths doore, exhorteth them to approoue their vocation, not setting their affections on worldly things (as he had oft written vnto them) but lifting their eyes toward heauen, as they be taught by the Gospel, whereof he is a cleare witnesse, chiefly in that hee heard with his owne eares that Christ was proclaimed from heauen to bee the Sonne of God, as likewise the Prophets testified. And lest they should promise to themselues quietnesse by professing the Gospel, hee warneth them both of troubles which they should sustaine by the false teachers, and also by the mockers and contemners of religion, whose maners and trade hee liuely setteth forth as in a table, aduertising the faithfull not onely to waite diligently for Christ, but also to behold presently the day of his comming, and to preserue themselues vnspotted against the same.

CHAP. I.

4 Forasmuch as the power of God hath giuen them all things pertaining vnto life, he exhorteth them to flee the corruption of worldly lusts, 10 To make their calling sure with good works, & fruits of faith. 14 He maketh mention of his own death, 17 Declaring the Lord Iesus to be the true Sonne of God as himselfe had seene vpon the mount.

SImon Peter a seruant, and an Apostle of Iesus Christ, to you which haue obtained like precious faith with vs by the a righteousnesse of our God and Sauiour Iesus Christ:

a In that he declared himselfe iust and faithfull in accomplishing his promise by Christ.

2 Grace and peace be multiplied to you, by the knowledge of God and of Iesus our Lord,

3 According as his b godly power hath giuen vnto vs all things that pertaine vnto c life and godlines, d through the knowledge of him that hath called vs ‖ vnto glory and vertue.

b He speaketh of Christ as hee is God and Sauiour.

c That is, saluation.

d The summe of our saluation and religion is to bee led by Christ to the Father, who calleth vs in the Sonne.

‖Or, through his glory.

4 Whereby most great, and precious promises are giuen vnto vs, that by them ye should be partakers of the * godly nature, in that yee flee the corruption, which is in the world through lust.

e Wee are made partakers of the diuine nature, in that wee flee the corruption of the world, or as Paul writeth, are dead to sinne and are not in the flesh.

5 Therefore giue euen all diligence thereunto: ioyne moreouer f vertue with your faith: and with vertue, knowledge:

6 And with knowledge, temperance: and with temperance patience: and with patience, godlinesse:

7 And with godlinesse, brotherly kindnesse: and with brotherly kindnesse, loue.

8 For if these things be among you, and abound, they will make you that yee neither shall be idle nor vnfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Iesus Christ.

9 For he that hath not these things, is blind, and g cannot see farre off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his olde sinnes.

10 Wherefore, brethren, giue rather diligence to make your calling & election h sure: for if yee doe these things, yee shall neuer i fall.

11 For by this meanes an entring shal be ministred vnto you abundantly into the euerlasting kingdome of our Lord and Sauiour Iesus Christ.

12 Wherefore, I will not be negligent to put you alwayes in remembrance of these things, though that ye haue knowledge, and be established in the present trueth.

13 For I thinke it meete as long as I am in this k tabernacle, to stirre you vp by putting you in remembrance, 14 Seeing I knowe that the time is at hand that I must lay downe this my tabernacle, euen as our Lord Iesus Christ hath *shewed me.

15 I will endeuour therfore alwaies, that ye also may be able to haue remembrance of these things after my departing.

16 For wee followed not * ‖ deceiueable fables, when wee opened vnto you the power, and comming of our Lorde Iesus Christ, but with our eyes wee sawe his maiestie:

17 For hee receiued of God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, * This is my beloued Sonne, in whom I am well pleased.

18 And this voyce wee heard when it came from heauen, being with him in the l holy mount.

19 Wee haue also a more sure m worde of the Prophets, to the which ye do wel that ye take heede, as vnto a light that shineth in a darke place, vntill the n day dawne, and the o day starre arise in your hearts.

20 * So that yee first know this, that no prophesie in the Scripture is of any priuate ‖ motion.

21 For the prophesie came not in olde time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moued by the holy Ghost.

CHAP. II.

Hee propheseth of false teachers, and sheweth their punishment.

BUt * there were false prophets also among the people, euen as there shall be false teachers among you: which priuily shall bring in damnable heresies, euen denying the Lord that hath bought them, & bring vpon themselues swift damnation.

2 And many shall follow their ‖ damnable wayes, by whom the way of trueth shall be euill spoken of,

3 And through couetousnesse shall they with fained wordes make * merchandise of you, whose iudgement long agone is not farre off, and their damnation sleepeth not.

4 For if God spared not the * Angels that had sinned, but cast them downe into hel, and deliuered them into chains of darknesse, to be kept vnto damnation:

5 Neither hath spared the old world, but saued * Noe the eight person a preacher of righteousnesse, and brought in the flood vpon the world of the vngodly,

6 And * turned the cities of Sodom and Gomorrhe into ashes, condemned them and ouerthrewe them, and made them an ensample vnto them that after should liue vngodly,

7 * And deliuered iust Loth vexed with the vncleanly conuersation of the wicked,

8 (For he being righteous, and dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soule from day to day with their vnlawfull deedes.)

9 The Lord knoweth to deliuer the godly out of tentation, and to reserue the vniust vnto the day of iudgement to bee punished:

10 And chiefly them that walke after the flesh, in the lust of vncleannesse, and despise the gouernement, which are presumptuous, and stand in their owne conceit, and feare not to speake euill of them that are in dignitie.

11 Whereas the Angels which are greater both in power and might, * giue not b railing iudgement against them before the Lord.

12 But these, as c brute beastes, led with sensuality, & made to be taken, and destroyed, speake euill of those things which they know not, and shal perish through their own corruption,

13 And shall receiue the wages of vnrighteousnesse, as they which count it pleasure to liue deliciously for a season. Spots they are and blots, d delighting themselues in their deceiuings, in feasting with you,

14 Hauing eyes full of adultery, and that cannot cease to sinne, beguiling vnstable soules: they haue hearts exercised with couetousnesse, cursed children,

15 Which forsaking the right way, haue gone astray, following the way of * Balaam, the sonne of Bosor, which loued the wages of vnrighteousnesse, 16 But hee was rebuked for his iniquitie: for the dumbe asse speaking with mans voyce, forbade the foolishnesse of the prophet.

17 * These are welles without water, and e cloudes carried about with a tempest, to whom the blacke darknesse is reserued for euer.

18 For in speaking swelling wordes of vanitie, they beguile with wantonnesse through the lustes of the flesh them that were

3 * This first vnderstand, that there shall come in the last dayes, mockers, which will walke after their lusts,

4 And say, Where is the promise of his comming? for since the fathers died, all things continue alike from the beginning of the creation.

5 For this they b willingly knowe not, that the heauens were of olde, and the earth that was of the water, and by the water, by the woord of God.

6 Wherefore the c woorld that then was perished, ouerflowed with the water.

7 But the heauens and earth, which are now, are kept by the same woord in store, and reserued vnto fire against the day of iudgement, & of the destruction of vngodly men.

The first Epistle generall of Iohn.

THE ARGVMENT.

AFter that Saint Iohn had sufficiently declared, how that our whole saluation doeth consist onely in Christ, lest that any man should thereby take a boldnesse to sinne, he sheweth that no man can beleeue in Christ, vnlesse he doeth endeuour himselfe to keepe his commaundements, which thing being done, hee exhorteth them to beware of false prophets, whom he calleth Antichrists, and to trie the spirits. Last of all, he doeth earnestly exhort them vnto brotherly loue, and to beware of deceiuers.

6 If we say that we haue fellowship with him, and walke in [g] darkenesse, wee lie, and doe not truely:

7 But if we walke in the light, as he is in the light, wee haue fellowship [h] one with another, and the * blood of Iesus Christ his Sonne cleanseth vs from all sinne.

8 * If we say that we haue no sinne, wee deceiue our selues, and trueth is not in vs.

CHAP. II.

1 Christ is our aduocate. 10 Of true loue, and how it is tried. 18 To beware of Antichrist.

MY babes, these things write I vnto you, that ye sinne not: and if any man sinne, we haue an [a] Aduocate with the Father, Iesus Christ the Iust,

2 And hee is the reconciliation for our sinnes: and not for ours onely, but also for the sinnes of [o] the whole world.

3 And hereby we are sure that we [c] know him, if we keepe his commandements.

4 Hee that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandements, is a liar, and the trueth is not in him.

5 But hee that keepeth his word, in him is [d] the loue of God perfect in deede: hereby we know that we are in him.

6 Hee that saith hee remaineth in him, ought euen so to walke, as hee hath walked.

7 Brethren, I write no new ‖ commandement vnto you: but an olde commaundement which yee haue had from the [e] beginning: the [i] olde commaundement is the word, which ye haue heard from the beginning.

8 Againe, a newe commaundement I write vnto you, that which is true in him, and also in you: for the darkenesse is past, and the true light now shineth.

9 He that saith that he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkenesse vntill this time.

10 * Hee that loueth his brother, abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of euill in him.

11 But hee that hateth his brother, is in darkenesse, and walketh in darkenesse, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkenesse hath blinded his eyes.

12 [s] Little children, I write vnto you, because your sinnes are forgiuen you for [b] his Names sake.

13 I write vnto you, fathers, because yee haue knowen him that is from the beginning. I write vnto you yong men, because ye haue ouercome the ‖ wicked.

14 I write vnto you, babes, because yee haue known the Father. I haue written vnto you, fathers, because ye haue knowen him, that is from the beginning. I haue written vnto you, young men, because yee are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye haue ouercome the ‖ wicked.

15 Loue not the [l] world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man loue the * world, the loue of the Father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the world (as the lust of the [k] flesh, the [l] lust of the eyes, and the [m] pride of life) is not of the Father, but is of the world.

17 And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but hee that fulfilleth the will of God abideth euer.

18 Babes, it is the last time, and as yee haue heard that Antichrist shall come, euen now are there many Antichrists, whereby we know that it is the last time.

19 [n] They went out from vs, but they were not of vs: for if they had beene of vs, they would haue continued with vs. But this commeth to passe, that it might appeare, that they are not all of vs.

20 But ye haue an [p] ointment from him, that is [q] holy, & yee haue knowen all things.

21 I [q] haue not written vnto you, because ye know not the truth: but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth.

22 Who is a lyar, but hee that denieth that Iesus is [r] Christ? he same is the Antichrist that denieth the Father and the Sonne.

23 Whosoeuer denieth the Sonne, the same [t] hath not the Father.

24 Let therefore abide in you that same which yee haue heard from the beginning. If that which ye haue heard from the beginning, shall remaine in you, yee also shall continue in the Sonne, and in the Father.

25 And this is the promise that hee hath promised vs, euen [t] eternall life.

26 These things haue I written vnto you, concerning them that deceiue you.

27 But the anointing which ye receiued of him, dwelleth in you: and ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same [t] anointing teacheth you of al things, and it is true, and is not lying, and as it taught you, ye shal abide ‖ in him.

28 And now, [u] little children, abide in him, that when he shall appeare, we may bee bold, and not bee ashamed before him at his comming.

29 If yee knowe that hee is righteous, know ye that hee which doth righteously, is borne of him.

CHAP. III.

1 The singular loue of God toward vs, 7 And how we againe ought to loue one another.

BEhold, what loue the father hath shewed on vs, that wee [a] should bee called the sonnes of God: for this cause the world knoweth you not, because it knoweth not him.

2 Dearely beloued, nowe are wee the sonnes of God, but yet it doeth not appeare what we shall be: and wee know that when [b] he shall appeare, we shall be [c] like him: for we shall see him as he is.

3 And euery man that hath this hope in him, purgeth himselfe, euen as he is pure.

4 Whosoeuer [d] committeth sinne, transgresseth also the law: for sinne is the transgression of the Law.

5 And ye know that he appeared that he might * take away our sinnes, and in him is no sinne.

6 Whosoeuer abideth in him sinneth not: whosoeuer sinneth hath not seene him, neither hath knowen him.

7 Little children, let no man deceiue you: he that doeth righteousnesse, is righteous, as he is righteous.

8 Hee that * committeth sinne, is of the deuill: for the deuil sinneth from the [e] beginning: for this purpose appeared the Sonne of God, that hee might loose the workes of the deuill.

9 Whosoeuer is borne of God, sinneth not: for [f] his seede remaineth in him, neither can hee [g] sinne, because hee is borne of God.

10 In this are the children of God knowen, and the children of the deuill: whosoeuer doeth not righteousnesse, is not of God, neither he that [h] loueth not his brother.

11 For this is the message that yee heard from the beginning, that * wee should loue one another.

12 Not as * Cain which was of the wicked, and slewe his brother: and wherefore slew he him? because his owne workes were euill, and his brothers good.

13 Marueile not, my brethren, though the world hate you.

14 We know that we are translated from death vnto life, because wee [i] loue the brethren: * hee that loueth not his brother, abideth in death.

15 Whosoeuer hateth his brother, is a manslayer: and ye know that no manslayer hath eternall life abiding in him.

16 * Hereby haue we perceiued loue, that hee layde downe his life for vs: therefore we ought also to lay downe our liues for the brethren.

17 * And whosoeuer hath this worldes good, and seeth his brother haue neede, and shutteth vp his compassion from him, how dwelleth the loue of God in him?

18 My little children, let vs not loue in word, neither in tongue onely, but in [k] deede and in trueth.

19 For thereby wee knowe that wee are of the trueth, and shall before him assure our hearts.

20 For if our [l] heart condemne vs, God is greater then our heart, and knoweth all things.

21 Beloued, if our heart condemne vs not, then haue we boldnesse toward God.

22 * And whatsoeuer wee aske, wee receiue of him, because we keepe his commandements, and doe those things which are pleasing in his sight.

23 * This is then his commaundement, That wee beleeue in the Name of his sonne Jesus Christ, and loue one another, as hee gaue commandement.

24 * For hee that keepeth his commaundements, dwelleth in him, and hee in him: and hereby we knowe that he abideth in vs, euen by the spirit which he hath giuen vs.

a Being made the sonnes of God in Christ, he sheweth what qualities we must haue to be discerned from bastards.
b That is, Christ.
c As the members and head are, which make one perfect body
d That is, in whom sinne doth reigne, so that hee seeketh not to be sanctified. Isa 53.4,9. 1.pet.2.22. Iohn 8.44.
e As appeared by Adam.
f Which is the holy Ghost.
g He cannot be vnder the power of sinne, because the spirit of God correcteth his euill and corrupt affections.
h He descendeth from the first table of the commandements, to the second. Iohn 13.34. and 15.12. Gene.4.8.
i This loue is the speciall fruit of our faith, and a certaine signe of our regeneration. Chap.2.10. Ieust.19.17,18. Iohn 15.13. ephes.5.2. Luke 3.11.
k Which is not the cause wherefore we are the sonnes of God, but a most certaine signe.
l If our conscience being guiltie of any thing, be able to condemne vs, much more the iudgement of God, which knoweth our hearts better then we our selues, is able to condemne vs.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Difference of spirits. 2 How the spirit of God may bee knowen from the spirit of errour. 7 Of the loue of God, and of our neighbours.

DEarely beloued, beleeue not euery spirit, but trie the [a] spirits whether they are of God: for many false prophets are gone out into the world.

2 Hereby shal ye know the spirit of God, Euery spirite that confesseth that Jesus [b] Christ is come in the flesh, is of God.

3 And euery spirit which confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God: but this is the spirit of Antichrist, of whome yee haue heard, howe that hee should come, and [c] now already hee is in the world.

4 Little children, ye are of God, and haue ouercome them: for greater is hee that is in you, then [d] he that is in the world.

5 They are of the world, therfore speake they of the world, and the world heareth them.

6 Wee are of God, * hee that knoweth God, [e] heareth vs: hee that is not of God, heareth vs not. Hereby know wee the spirit of trueth, and the spirit of errour.

7 Beloued, let vs loue one another: for loue commeth of God, and euery one that loueth is borne of God, and knoweth God.

8 He that loueth not, knoweth not God: For God is loue.

9 * In this [f] appeared the loue of God toward vs, because God sent his only begotten Sonne into the world, that wee might liue through him.

10 Herein is loue, not that we loued God, but that he loued vs, and sent his Sonne to be a [g] reconciliation for our sinnes.

11 Beloued, if God so loued vs, we ought also to loue one another.

12 * No man hath seene God at any time. If we loue one another, God dwelleth in vs, and his loue is perfect in vs.

13 Hereby knowe wee that wee [h] dwell in him, and he in vs: because hee hath giuen vs of his Spirit.

14 And wee haue seene and doe testifie, that the Father sent the Sonne to bee the Sauiour of the world.

15 Whosoeuer [i] confesseth that Jesus is the Sonne of God, in him dwelleth God, and he in God.

the loue that God hath ‖ i in vs. God is loue, and hee that dwelleth in loue, dwelleth in God, and God in him.

‖ Or, toward vs.
i By inspiring it into vs.

17 Herein is the loue perfect in vs, that we should haue boldnes in the day of iudgement: for as hee is, euen so are we in this world.

18 There is no k feare in loue, but perfect loue casteth out feare: for feare hath painefulnesse: and hee that feareth, is not perfect in loue.

k Such as should trouble the conscience.

19 We loue him, because he loued vs first.

20 If any man say, I loue God, and hate his brother, hee is a lyar: for l how can hee that loueth not his brother whom hee hath seene, loue God whom he hath not seene?

l For God presenteth himselfe to vs in them, which beare his image. Iohn 13.34. and 15.12.

WHosoeuer beleeueth that Iesus is the Christ, is a borne of God, and euery one that loueth him which begate, loueth him also which is begotten of him.

2 In this we know that we loue the children of God, when we loue b God, and keepe his commandements.

3 For this is the loue of God, that wee keepe his commandements: and his * commandements are not c grieuous.

15 And if wee know that hee heareth vs, whatsoeuer wee aske, wee know that wee haue the petitions that we haue desired of him.

The second Epistle of Iohn.

He writeth vnto a certaine Lady, 4 Reioycing that her children walke in the trueth, 5 And exhorteth them vnto loue, 7 Warneth them to beware of such deceiuers as deme that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh, 8 Prayeth them to continue in the doctrine of Christ, 10 And to haue nothing to doe with them that bring not the true doctrine of Christ Iesus our Sauiour.

b We cannot receiue the grace of God, except we haue the true knowledge of him, of the which knowledge loue proceedeth.

4 I reioyced greatly, that I found of thy children walking c in trueth, as we haue receiued a commandement of the Father.

c According to Gods word. Iohn 15.12.

5 And now beseech I thee Lady, (not as writing a new commaundement vnto thee, but that same which wee had from the beginning) that we * loue one another.

The third Epistle of Iohn.

3 Hee is glad of Gaius that hee walketh in the trueth, 8 Exhorteth them to bee louing vnto the poore Christians in their persecution, 9 Sheweth the vnkind dealing of Diotrephes, 12 And the good report of Demetrius.

THe Elder vnto the beloued Gaius whome I loue in the trueth.
2 Beloued, I wish chiefly ỳ thou prosperedst & faredst well, as thy soule prospereth.
3 For I reioyced greatly when the brethren came, and testified of the trueth that is in thee, how thou walkest in the trueth.
4 I haue no greater ioy then this, that is, to heare that my sonnes walke in [a] verity.
5 Beloued, thou doest faithfully whatsoeuer thou doest to the brethren, & to [b] strangers,
6 Which bare witnesse of thy loue before the Churches, whom if thou bringest on their iourney, as it [c] beseemeth, according to God, thou shalt doe well,
7 Because that for his names sake they went forth, and tooke nothing of the Gentiles.
8 Wee therefore ought to receiue such, that we might be helpers to the trueth.
9 I wrote vnto the Church: but Diotrephes which loueth to haue the preeminence among them, receiueth vs not.
10 Wherefore if I come, I will declare his deedes which hee doeth, prating against vs with malicious wordes, and not therewith content, neither he himselfe receiueth the brethren, but forbiddeth them that would, and thrusteth them out of the Church.
11 Beloued, followe not that which is euill, but that which is good: hee that doeth well, is of God: but he that doeth euill hath not ‖ seene God.
12 Demetrius hath good report of all men, and of the trueth it selfe: yea, and wee our selues beare record, and yee know that our record is true.
13 I haue many things to write: but I will not with inke and pen write vnto thee,

The generall Epistle of Iude.

THE ARGVMENT.

SAint Iude admonisheth all Churches generally to take heede of deceiuers, which goe about to draw away the hearts of the simple people from the trueth of God, and willeth them to haue no societie with such, whom he setteth foorth in their liuely colours, shewing by diuers examples of the Scriptures, what horrible vengeance is prepared for them: finally, hee comforteth the faithfull, and exhorteth them to persuere in the doctrine of the Apostles of Iesus Christ.

IVDE a seruant of Iesus Christ, & brother of Iames, to them which are called and sanctified [a] of God the Father, and [b] reserued to Iesus Christ:
2 Mercie vnto you, and peace, and loue be multiplied.
3 Beloued, when I gaue all diligence to write vnto you of the common saluation, it was needfull for me to write vnto you, to exhort you, that ye should earnestly [c] contend for the maintenance of the faith, which was [d] once giuen vnto the Saints.
4 For there are certaine men crept in, which were before of old [e] ordeined to this condemnation: vngodly men they are which turne the grace of our God into wantonnes, and * denie God the onely Lord, and our Lord Iesus Christ.
5 I will therefore put you in remembrance, forasmuchas ye once knew this, how that the Lord after that hee had deliuered the people out of Egypt, * destroyed them afterward which [f] beleeued not.
6 The [g] Angels also which kept not their first ‖ estate, but left their owne habitation, he hath reserued in euerlasting chaines vnder darkenesse vnto the [h] iudgement of the great day.

THE ARGVMENT.

IT is manifest, that the holy Ghost would, as it were, gather into this most excellent Booke a summe of those prophesies, which were written before, but should bee fulfilled after the comming of Christ, adding also such things as should be expedient, as well to forewarne vs of the dangers to come, as to admonish vs to beware some, and encourage vs against others. Herein therefore is liuely set forth the diuinitie of Christ, and the testimonies of our redemption, what things the Spirit of God alloweth in the ministers, and what things he reprooueth: the prouidence of God for his elect, and of their glory and consolation in the day of vengeance: howe that the hypocrites which sting like scorpions the members of Christ shall be destroyed. But the Lambe Christ shall defend them which beare witnesse to the trueth, who in despight of the beast and Satan will reigne ouer all. The liuely description of Antichrist is set forth, whose time and power notwithstanding is limitted: and albeit that he is permitted to rage against the elect, yet his power stretcheth no further then to the hurt of their bodies: and at length he shall be destroyed by the wrath of God, when as the elect shall giue praise to God for the victorie: neuertheless, for a season God wil permit this Antichrist, and strumpet vnder colour of fayre speach and pleasant doctrine, to deciue the world: wherefore he aduertiseth the godly (which are but a small portion) to auoide this harlots flatteries and brags, whose ruine without mercie they shall see, and with the heauenly companies sing continuall prayses: for the Lambe is maried: the word of God hath gotten the victorie: Satan that a long time was vntied, is now cast with his ministers into the pit of fire to be tormented for euer, whereas contrariwise the faithfull (which are the holy citie of Ierusalem, and wife of the Lambe) shall enioy perpetuall glory. Reade diligently, iudge soberly, and call earnestly to God for the true vnderstanding hereof.

CHAP. I.

1 The cauſe of this reuelation. Of them that reade it. 4 Iohn writeth to the ſeuen Churches. 5 The Maieſtie & office of the ſonne of God. 20 The viſion of the Candleſtickes and ſtarres.

THe [a] Reuelation of IESVS CHRIST which [b] GOD gaue vnto him to ſhew vnto his ſeruants things which muſt ſhortly be done: which hee ſent, and ſhewed by his Angel vnto his ſeruant Iohn,

2 Who bare record of the word of God, and of the teſtimony of Ieſus Chriſt, and of all things that he ſaw.

3 Bleſſed is hee that readeth, and they that heare the words of this [d] prophecie, and keepe thoſe things which are written therein: for the time is at [e] hand.

4 Iohn to the [f] ſeuen Churches which are in Aſia, Grace be with you & peace from him, Which * is, and Which was, & Which is to come, and from the ſeuen ſpirits which are before his throne,

5 And from Ieſus Chriſt, which is a * faithfull witneſſe, and * the firſt begotten of the dead, and Prince of the Kings of the earth, vnto him that loued vs, and waſhed vs from our ſinnes in his * blood,

6 And made vs * Kings and Prieſts vnto God, euen his Father, to him be glory and dominion for euermore, Amen.

7 Behold, he commeth with * clouds, and euery eye ſhall ſee him: yea euen they which [h] pearced him thorow: and all kindreds of the earth ſhall wayle ‖ before him. Euen ſo, Amen.

8 I * am [i] Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, ſaith the Lord, Which is, and Which was, and Which is to come, euen the Almighty.

9 I Iohn euen your brother, and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdom and patience of Ieſus Chriſt, was in the yle called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the witneſſing of Ieſus Chriſt.

10 And I was rauiſhed in ſpirit on [k] the Lords day, and heard behind mee a great voyce, as it had bene of a trumpet, 11 Saying, I am [l] Alpha and Omega, the firſt and the laſt: and that which thou ſeeſt, write in a booke, and ſend it vnto the [m] ſeuen Churches which are in Aſia, vnto Epheſus, and vnto Smyrna, and vnto Pergamus, and vnto Thyatira, and vnto Sardis, and vnto Philadelphia, and vnto Laodicea.

12 Then I turned backe to ſee the voice that ſpake with mee: and when I was turned, I ſaw [o] ſeuen golden candleſtickes, 13 And in the middes of the ſeuen candleſtickes one like vnto the [p] ſonne of man, clothed with a garment [q] downe to the feet, and girded [r] about the paps with a golden girdle.

14 His head, and haires were [s] white as white wool, and as ſnow, and his eyes were as a [t] flame of fire,

15 And his feete like vnto ‖ fine [u] braſſe, burning as in a furnace: and his [x] voyce as the ſound of many waters.

16 And he had in his right hand ſeuen [y] ſtarres: & out of his mouth went a [z] ſharpe two edged ſword: and his face ſhone as the ſunne ſhineth in his ſtrength.

17 And when I ſawe him, I fell at his feete as [a] dead: then he layd his right [b] hand vpon me, ſaying vnto me, Feare not: I am the * [b] firſt and laſt, 18 And am aliue, but I was dead: and behold, I am aliue for euermore, Amen: and I haue the [c] keyes of hell and of death.

19 Write the things which thou haſt ſeene, and the things which are, and the things which ſhall come [d] hereafter.

20 The myſtery of the ſeuen ſtars which thou ſaweſt [e] in my right hand, and the ſeuen golden candleſtickes, is this, The ſeuen ſtarres are the [f] Angels of the ſeuen Churches: and the ſeuen candleſticks which thou ſaweſt, are the ſeuen Churches.

a Of things which were hid before.
b Chriſt receiued this reuelation out of his Fathers boſome as his owne doctrine, but it was hid in reſpect of vs, ſo that Chriſt as Lord and God reueiled it to Iohn his ſeruant by the miniſtery of his Angel, to the edification of his Church.

CHAP. II.

He exhorteth foure Churches 5 To repentance, 10 To perſeuerance, patience and amendment, 5. 14. 20. 23. Aſwell by threatenings, 7. 10. 17. 26 As promiſes of reward.

VNto the [a] Angel of the Church of Epheſus write, Theſe things ſaith he that [b] holdeth the ſeuen ſtarres in his [c] right hand, and [d] walketh in the middes of the ſeuen golden candleſtickes.

2 I know thy workes, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canſt not forbeare them which are euill, and haſt examined them which ſay they are Apoſtles, and are not, and haſt found them lyars.

3 And thou haſt ſuffered, and haſt patience, and for my names ſake haſt laboured, and haſt not fainted.

4 Neuertheleſſe, I haue ſomewhat againſt thee, becauſe thou haſt left thy firſt [e] loue.

5 Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, & do the firſt workes: or elſe I will come againſt thee ſhortly, and will remoue thy [f] candleſticke out of his place, except thou amend.

a To the Paſtor or miniſter which are called by this name, becauſe they are Gods meſſengers and haue their office common with Ieſus Chriſt, who alſo is called an Angel.
b Reade Chap. 1. 13.
c In his protection.
d According to his promiſe, Mat. 28. 20. he will be with them to the end of the world.
e The firſt loue that thou hadſt toward God and thy neighbour at the firſt preaching of the Goſpel.
f The office of the paſtor is compared to a candleſticke or lampe, forasmuch as hee ought to ſhine before men.

g These were heretikes which held that wiues should be common, & as some thinke, were named of one called Nicolas, of whom is written, Acts 6.5. which was chosen among the Deacons.

h Meaning, the life euerlasting: thus by corporall benefits he stayeth them vp to consider spirituall blessings.

i This is thought to be Polycarpus, who was minister of Smyrna 86. yeeres, as he himselfe confessed before Herodes, when he was led to be burned for Christs cause.

k The eternall Diuinity of Iesus Christ is here most plainely declared, with his manhood, and victory ouer death, to assure his that they shal not be ouercome by death.

l This was the persecution vnder the Emperour Domitian.

m In spirituall treasures.

n They are not Abrahams children according to the faith.

o Here he nameth the authour of all our calamity, incouraging vs manfully to fight against him, in promising vs the victory.

p The ende of affliction is, that we may be tried and not destroyed.

q Signifying many times, as Genesis 31.41. numb. 14.22. although these shall bee comfort and release.

r The first is the naturall death of the body, the second is the eternal death: from the which all are free that beleeue in Iesus Christ, Iohn 5.24.

s The word of God is the sworde with two edges, Hebr. 4.12.

t All townes and countreyes whence Gods word and good liuing is banished, are the throne of Satan, and also those places where the word is not preached syncerely, and manners aright reformed.

u In the very heate of persecution and slaughter of the Martyrs, they continued in the pure faith, and therefore are commended after a sort.

x All such are like counsellers to Balaam, which for lucre perswade to Idolatry or whoredome. Num. 23,14. & 25.1.

y And not common to all.

6 But this thou hast, that thou hatest the workes of the s Nicolaitanes, which I also hate.

7 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches. To him that ouercommeth, will I giue to eat of the tree of h life, which is in the middes of the Paradise of God.

8 ¶ And vnto the i Angel of the Church of the Smyrntans write, These things saith he that is first, and last, which was dead, and is k aliue.

9 I knowe thy workes and l tribulation, and pouerty, (but thou art m rich) and I know the blasphemy of them, which say they are Iewes, and are n not, but are the Synagogue of Satan.

10 Feare none of those things, which thou shalt suffer: beholde, it shall come to passe, that the o deuill shall cast some of you into prison, that yee may be p tryed, and ye shall haue tribulation q ten dayes: be thou faithfull vnto the death, and I will giue thee the crowne of life.

11 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith to the Churches. He that ouercommeth, shal not be hurt of the r second death.

12 And to the Angel of the Church which is at Pergamus write, This saith hee which hath the sharpe s sword with two edges, 13 I know thy workes and where thou dwellest, euen where Satans t throne is, and thou keepest my name, and hast not denied my faith, u euen in those dayes when Antipas my faithfull martyr was slaine among you, where Satan dwelleth.

14 But I haue a fewe things against thee, because thou hast there them that maintaine the x doctrine of x Balaam, which taught Balac to put a stumbling blocke before the children of Israel, that they should eate of thinges sacrificed vnto idoles, and commit fornication.

15 Euen so hast thou them, that maintaine the doctrine of the Nicolaitans, which thing I hate.

16 Repent thy selfe, or els I will come vnto thee shortly, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

17 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches. To him that ouercommeth, will I giue to eate of the Manna that is y hid, and will giue him a z white stone, and in the stone a a new name written, which no man knoweth sauing he that receiueth it.

18 ¶ And vnto the Angel of the Church which is at Thyatira write. These things saith the Sonne of God, which hath his eyes like vnto a flame of fire, and his feete like ‖ fine brasse.

19 I know thy workes and thy loue, and b seruice, and faith, and thy patience, and thy workes, and that they are moe at the last then at the first.

20 Notwithstanding, I haue a fewe things against thee, that thou sufferest the woman * c Iezabel, which calleth her selfe a Prophetesse, to teach and to deceiue my seruants, to make them d commit fornication, and to eate meate sacrificed vnto Idoles.

21 And I gaue her space to repent of her fornication, and she repented not.

22 Behold, I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit fornication with her, into great affliction, except they repent them of their workes.

23 And I will kill her e children with death: and all the Churches shall knowe that I am he which * search the reines and hearts: and I will giue to euerie one of you according vnto your workes.

24 And vnto you, I say, the rest of them of Thyatira, As many as haue not this learning, neither haue knowen the f deepenesse of Satan (as g they speake) I will put vpon you none other burden, 25 But that which ye haue already, hold fast till I come.

26 For hee that ouercommeth and keepeth my workes vnto the ende, to him will I giue power ouer nations, 27 * And hee shall rule them with a rod of yron: and as the vessels of a potter shall they be broken.

28 Euen as I receiued of my Father, so will I giue him the morning starre.

29 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith to the Churches.

z Such a stone was wont to be giuen vnto them that had gotten any victory or prise, in signe of honour, and therefore it signifieth here a token of Gods fauour & grace: also it was a signe that one was cleared in iudgement.

a The newe name also signifieth renoume and honour.

‖ Or, alcumine.

b To helpe the Saints. 1. King. 16. 31.

c As that harlot Iezabel maintained strange religion, and exercised cruelty against the seruants of God, so are there among them that doe the like.

d They that consent to idolatry and false doctrine, commit spirituall whoredome, whereof followeth corporall whoredome, Hose. 4. 13.

e Them that follow her wayes. 1. Sam. 16 7. psa. 7.9. act. 11.20. & 17.10.

f The false teachers tearmed their doctrine by this name, as though it conteined the most deepe knowledge of heauenly things, and was in deede drawen out of the deepe dungeon of hell: by such tearmes now the Anabaptists, Libertines, Papists, Arrians, &c. vse to beautifie their monstrous errours and blasphemies.

g The children of Iezabel. Psal. 2.9.

CHAP. III.

Hee exhorteth the Churches or ministers to the true profession of faith, and to watching, 12 With promises to them that persenere.

AND write vnto the Angel of the Church which is at Sardi. These things saith he that hath the seuen Spirits of God, and the seuen starres, I knowe thy workes: for thou hast a name that thou a liuest, but thou art dead.

a The minister liueth when he bringeth foorth good fruit, else he is dead.

2 Be awake and strengthen the things which remaine, that are ready to die: for I haue not found thy workes perfite before God.

I will come on thee as a theefe, and thou shalt not know what houre I will come vpon thee.

4 Notwithstanding thou hast a few ‖ names yet in Sardi, which haue not [b] defiled their garments, and they shall walke with mee in white: for they are worthy.

5 He that ouercommeth, shall be clothed in white aray, and I will not put out his name out of the * Booke of life, but I will confesse his name before my Father, and before his Angels.

6 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

7 ¶ And write vnto the Angel of the Church which is of Philadelphia, These things sayeth hee that is Holy and True, which hath the * [c] key of Dauid, which openeth and no man shutteth, and shutteth and no man openeth.

8 I know thy workes: behold, I haue set before thee an open [d] doore, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my Name.

9 Beholde, I will make them of the Synagogue of Satan, which call themselues Iewes and are not, but doe lie: behold, I say, I will make them that they shall come and [e] worship before thy feet, and shall know that I haue loued thee.

10 Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, therefore I will deliuer thee from the houre of tentation, which will come vpon all the world, to try them that dwell vpon the earth.

11 Beholde, I come shortly: holde that which thou hast, that no man take thy [f] crowne.

12 Him that ouercommeth, will I make a pillar in the Temple of my God, and hee shall goe no more out: and I will write vpon him the Name of my God, & the Name of the citie of my God, which is the new Ierusalem, which commeth downe out of heauen from my God, and I will write vpon him my new name.

13 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

14 And vnto the Angel of the Church of the Laodiceans write, These things sayeth [g] Amen, the faithfull and true witnesse, the [h] beginning of the creatures of God.

15 I know thy workes, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou werest cold or hot.

16 Therefore, because thou art lukewarme, and neither cold nor hote, it will come to passe, that I shall spue thee out of my mouth.

17 For thou sayest, I am [i] rich and increased with goods, and haue [k] need of nothing, and knowest not how thou art wretched, and miserable, and poore, and blinde, and naked.

18 I counsell thee to buy of me gold tried by the fire, that thou mayest bee made rich, and white raiment, that thou mayest bee clothed, and that thy filthie nakednesse doe not appeare: and [l] anoynt thine eyes with eye salue, that thou mayest see.

19 As many as I loue, I * rebuke and chasten: bee [m] zealous therefore and amend.

20 Behold, I stand at the doore, and knocke. If any man heare my voyce and open the doore, I will come in vnto him, and will sup with him, and he with me.

21 To him that ouercommeth, will I graunt to sit with me in my [n] throne, euen as I ouercame, and sit with my Father in his throne.

22 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The vision of the Maiestie of God. 2 He seeth the throne & one sitting vpon it, 8 and 24 seates about it with 24 elders sitting vpon them, and foure beasts praysing God day and night.

AFter this I looked, and behold, a [a] doore was open in heauen, and the first voice which I heard, was as it were of a trumpet talking with me, saying, Come vp hither, and I will shew thee things which must be done hereafter.

2 And immediatly I was rauished in the spirit, and behold, a throne was set in heauen, and one sate vpon the throne.

3 And [b] hee that sate, was to looke vpon like vnto a Iasper stone, & a Sardine, and there was a rainbow round about the throne in sight like vnto a Emeraud.

4 And round about the throne were foure and twenty seates, and vpon the seats I saw [c] foure and twenty Elders sitting, clothed in white rayment, and had on their heades crownes of gold.

5 And out of the throne [d] proceeded [e] lightnings, and thunderings, and voices, and there were seuen lamps of fire burning before the throne, which are the seuen spirits of God.

6 And before the throne there was a [f] sea of glasse like vnto a christall: & in the ‖ mids of the throne, and round about the throne were foure [b] beastes full of eyes before and behinde.

7 And the first beast was like a lion, and the second beast like a calfe, and the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying Eagle.

8 And the foure beastes had each one of them sixe winges about him: and they were full of eyes within, and they ceased not day nor night, saying, * Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and which is, and which is to come.

9 And when those beasts gaue glory, and honour, and thankes to him that sate on the throne, which liueth for euer and euer,

10 The foure and twentie Elders fell downe before him that sate on the throne, and worshipped him, that liueth for euermore, * and cast their crownes before the throne, saying,

Chap. 5. 12.

11 Thou art *worthy, O Lord, to receiue glory, and honour, and power: for thou hast created all thinges, and for thy willes sake they are, and haue beene created.

CHAP. V.

1 He seeth the Lambe opening the booke, 8. 14 And therefore the foure beasts, the 24 Elders and the Angels praise the Lambe, and doe him worship, 9 For their redemption and other benefits.

AND I saw in the right hand of him that sate vpon the throne, [a] a Booke written within, and on the backeside, sealed with [b] seuen seales,

2 And I saw a strong Angell, which preached with a loud voyce, Who is worthy to open the Booke, and to loose the seales thereof?

3 And no man in heauen, nor in earth, neither vnder the earth was able to open the Booke, neither to looke thereon.

4 Then I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open, and to reade the Booke, neither to looke thereon.

5 And one of the Elders sayd vnto mee, Weepe not: behold, the *Lion which is of the tribe of Iuda, the roote of Dauid, hath obteyned to open the Booke, and to loose the seuen seales thereof.

6 Then I beheld, and loe, in the middes of the throne, and of the foure beasts, and in the middes of the Elders, stood a [c] Lambe, as though hee had beene killed, which had [d] seuen hornes, and [e] seuen eyes, which are the seuen spirits of God, sent into all the world.

7 And he came and tooke the booke out of the right hand of him that sate vpon the throne.

8 And when hee had taken the Booke, the foure beastes, and the foure and twenty Elders [f] fell downe before the Lambe, hauing euery one harpes and golden vialles full of odours, which are the [g] prayers of Saints.

9 And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the Booke, and to open the seales thereof, because thou wast killed, and hast [h] redeemed vs to God by thy blood out of euery kinred, and tongue, and people, and nation,

10 And hast made vs vnto our GOD *Kings and Priests, and wee shall [i] reigne on the earth.

11 Then I beheld, and I heard the voice of many Angels round about the throne, and about the beastes and the Elders, and there were thousand thousands, 12 Saying with a loud voyce, Worthy is the *Lambe that was killed, to receiue power, and riches, and wisedome, and strength, and honour, and glorie, and praise.

13 And all the creatures which are in heauen, and on the earth, and vnder the earth, and in the sea, & all that are in them, heard I saying, Praise, and honour, and glorie, and power bee vnto him, that sitteth vpon the throne, and vnto the Lambe for euermore.

14 And the foure beasts said, Amen, and the foure & twentie Elders fell downe, and worshipped him that liueth for euermore.

CHAP. VI.

The Lambe openeth the sixe seales, and many things follow the opening thereof, so that this conteineth a generall propheſie to the end of the world.

AFter, I beheld when the Lambe had opened one [a] of the seales, and I heard one of the foure beastes say, as it were the [b] noyse of thunder, Come and see.

2 Therefore I beheld, and loe, there was a [c] white horse, and he that sate on him, had a bowe, and a crowne was giuen vnto him, and he went forth conquering, that he might ouercome.

3 And when hee had opened the second seale, I heard the second beast say, Come and see.

4 And there went out another horse, that was [e] red, and power was giuen to him that [f] sate thereon, to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another, and there was giuen vnto him a great sword.

5 And when hee had opened the third seale, I heard the third beast say, Come and see. Then I beheld, and loe, a blacke horse, and he that sate on him, had balances in his hand.

6 And I heard a voyce in the middes of the foure beastes say, A [h] measure of wheate for a [i] peny, and three measures of barley for a peny, and oyle, and wine hurt thou not.

7 And when hee had opened the fourth seale, I heard the voyce of the fourth beast say, Come and see.

8 And I looked, and behold, a [k] pale horse, and his name that sate on him was Death, and ‖ Hell followed after him, and power was giuen vnto them ouer the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sword, & with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.

9 And when hee had opened the [l] fift seale, I saw vnder the altar [m] the soules of them that were killed for the word of God, and for the testimonie which they maintained.

10 And they cryed with a loude voyce, saying, How long, Lord, holy and true, doest not thou iudge & auenge our blood on them that dwell on earth?

11 And long white robes were giuen vnto euery one, and it was said vnto them, that they should rest for a little season, vntil their fellow seruants, and their brethren that should be killed euen as they were, were fulfilled.

12 And I beheld when hee had opened the sixt seale, and loe, there was a great [n] earthquake, and the [o] sunne was as blacke as [p] sackcloth of haire, and the [q] moone was like blood.

a A similitude taken of earthly princes, which iudge by bookes and writings: and here it doeth signifie all the counsels, and iudgements of God, which are onely knowen to Christ the sonne of Dauid, verse 5.

b That is, many. Gene 49. 9.

c This vision confirmeth the power of our Lord Iesus which is the Lambe of God that taketh away the sinne of the world.

d That is, manifold power.

e Signifying the fulnesse of the spirit which Christ powreth vpon all.

f The Angels honour Christ: he is therefore God.

g This declareth how the prayers of the faithfull are agreeable vnto God, reade Act. 10. 4. and chap. 8. 3.

h Our Sauiour Iesus hath redeemed his Church by his blood-shedding, and gathered it of all nations. 2. Pet 2. 9.

i Not corpotally. Dan. 7. 10. Chap 4. 11.

a The opening of the seale is the declaration of Gods will, and the executing of his iudgements.

b Signifying, that there were maruelous things to come.

c The white horse signifieth innocencie, victorie, and felicitie, which should come by the preaching of the Gospel.

d He that rideth on the white horse, is Christ.

e Signifying the cruel warres that ensued when the Gospel was refused.

f Who was Satan.

g This signifieth an extreame famine and want of all things.

h The Greeke word signifieth that measure which was ordinarily giuen to seruants for their portion or stint of meate for one day.

i Which amounted to about foure pence halfpeny.

k Whereby is meant sickenesse, plagues, pestilence, and death of man & beast.

‖ Or, the graue.

l The continuall persecution of the Church noted by the fift seale.

m The soules of the Saints are vnder the altar, which is Christ, meaning that they are in his safe custodie in the heauens.

n Which signifieth the change of the true doctrine, which is the greatest cause of motions, and troubles that come to the world.

o That is, the brightnesse of the Gospel.

p The traditions of men.

q The Church miserably defaced with idolatry, and afflicted by tyrants.

r Doctors and preachers that depart from the trueth.

13 And the r starres of heauen fell vnto the earth, as a figge tree casteth her greene figs, when it is shaken of a mightie winde.

14 And s heauen departed away, as a scrole when it is rolled, and euery mountaine and Ile were moued out of their places.

15 And the Kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chiefe captaines, and the mighty men, and euery bond man, and euery free man, hid themselues in dennes, and among the rockes of the mountaines,

16 And sayd to the t mountaines & rocks, * u Fall on vs, and hide vs from the presence of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lambe.

17 For the great day of his wrath is come, and who can stand?

s Of Gods fauour.

t Realmes, kingdomes and persons, that did seeme to be as stable in the faith as mountaines. Isa.2.19.hose.10.8 luk.23.30.

u Such men afterward, of what estate soeuer they be shall be desperate, and not able to sustaine the weight of Gods wrath, but shall continually feare his iudgements.

CHAP. VII.

1 He seeth the seruants of God sealed in their foreheads out of all nations and people, 15 which though they suffer trouble, yet the Lambe feedeth them, leadeth them to the fountaines of liuing water, 17 and God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes.

AND after that, I saw foure angels stand on the foure corners of the earth, holding the foure a winds of the b earth, that the winds should not blow on the earth, neither on the c sea, neither on any d tree.

2 And I sawe another ‖ Angel come vp from the East, which had the seale of the liuing God, and hee cryed with a loud voyce to the foure Angels to whom power was giuen to hurt the earth, and the sea,

3 Saying, e Hurt ye not the earth, neither the sea, neither the trees, till wee haue f sealed the seruats of our God in their foreheads.

4 And I heard the number of them, which were sealed, and there were sealed an hundreth and foure and forty thousand of al the tribes of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Iuda were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Reuben were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelue thousand.

6 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Nephtali were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelue thousand.

7 Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of g Leui were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Issachar were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelue thousand.

8 Of the tribe of h Ioseph were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Beniamin were sealed twelue thousand.

9 After these things I beheld, and loe, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stoode before the throne, and before the Lambe, clothed with long k white robes, and l palmes in their hands.

10 And they cryed with a loud voyce, saying, m Saluation commeth of our God, that sitteth vpon the throne, and of the Lambe.

11 And all the Angels stood round about the throne, and about the Elders, & the foure beasts, & they fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God, 12 Saying, Amen. Praise and glory, and wisdome, and thanks, and honour, and power, and might be vnto our God for euermore, Amen.

13 And one of the Elders spake, saying vnto me, What are these which are arayed in long white robes? and whence came they?

14 And I saide vnto him, Lord, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and haue washed their long robes, and haue made their long robes white in the n blood of the Lambe.

15 Therefore are they in the presence of the throne of o God, and serue him day and p night in his Temple, and hee that sitteth on the throne, will dwell among them.

16 *They shall q hunger no more, neither thirst any more, neither shal the sunne r light on them, neither any heat.

17 For the s Lambe, which is in ỳ t mids of the throne, shall gouerne them, and shall leade them vnto the u liuely fountaines of waters, and * God shall wipe away al teares from their eyes.

a The Spirit is compared to winde, and the doctrine also: and though there be one spirit and one doctrine, yet foure are here named in respect of the diuersitie of the foure quarters of the earth where the Gospel is spread, and for the foure writers thereof, and the preachers of the same throw the whole world.

b Meaning, the men of the earth.

c That is, the ylands.

d Signifying all men in generall, who canno more liue without this spirituall doctrine, then trees can blossome and beare, except the winde blow vpon them. ‖ Or, Christ. e God preuenteth the dangers and euils, which otherwise would ouerwhelme the elect.

f Those that are sealed by the Spirit of God, and marked with the blood of the Lambe, and lightned in faith by the word of God, so that they make open profession of the same are exempted from euil.

g Though that this blindnesse be brought into the world by the malice of Satan, yet the mercies of God reserue to himselfe an infinite number which shall be saued, both of the Iewes and Gentiles through Christ. h He omitteth Dan, and putteth Leui in, whereby he meaneth the twelue tribes.

i That is, the tribe of Ephraim, which was Iosephs sonne.

k In signe of puritie.

l In token of victorie and felicitie.

m All that are saued, attribute their saluation vnto God onely and to his Christ, and to none other thing.

n There is no purity nor cleannesse, but by the blood of Christ only, which purgeth our sinnes, and so maketh vs white.

o That is, of the Maiestie of God the Father, the Sonne, and the holy Ghost.

p Meaning continually: for else in heauen there is no night. Isa.49.10.

q For all infirmitie and miserie shall be then taken away.

r They shall haue no more griefe and paine, but still ioy and consolation.

s Iesus Christ the mediatour and redeemer. t Which is very God. u Hee shall giue them life and conserue them in eternall felicitie. Isa. 25.8. chap.21.4.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The seuenth seale is opened: there is silence in heauen. 6 The foure Angels blow their trumpets, and great plagues follow vpon the earth.

AND when hee had opened the a seuenth seale, there was b silence in heauen about halfe an houre.

2 And I saw the seuen Angels, which stood c before God, and to them were giuen seuen trumpets.

3 Then another Angel came & stood before the altar hauing a golden censer, and a Vnder the sixt seale hee touched in generall the corruption of the doctrine: but vnder the seuenth he sheweth the great danger thereof, and what troubles, sectes, and heresies haue been and shall bee brought into the Church thereby. b That the hearers might be more attentiue. c He sheweth the onely remedy in our affliction, to wit, to appeare before the face of God by the meanes of Iesus Christ, who is the Angel, the sacrifice, and the Priest which presenteth our prayers, which remaine yet in earth, before the altar, and diuine Maiestie of God.

much odours was giuen vnto him, that hee should offer with the prayers of all Saints vpon the golden altar, which is before the throne.

4 And the smoke of the odours with the prayers of the Saints, went vp before God, out of the Angels hand.

5 And the Angel tooke the censer, and filled it with [d] fire of the altar, and cast it into the [e] earth, and [f] there were voyces, and thundrings, and lightnings, & earthquake.

6 Then the seuen Angels, which had the seuen trumpets, prepared themselues to blow the trumpets.

7 So the first Angel [g] blew the trumpet, and there was haile and fire, mingled with blood, and they were cast into the earth, and the third part of [h] trees was burnt, and all greene [i] grasse was burnt.

8 And the second Angel blew the trumpet, and as it were a great [k] mountaine, burning with fire, was cast into the sea, and the third part of the sea became blood.

9 And the third part of the creatures, which were in the sea, and had life, died, and the third part of [l] ships were destroyed.

10 Then the third Angel blew the trumpet, and there fell [m] a great starre from heauen burning like a torch, and it fell into the third part of the riuers, and into the fountaines of waters.

11 And the name of the starre is called Wormewood: therefore the third part of the waters became wormewood, and many men died of the [n] waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth Angel blew the trumpet, and the third part of the [o] Sunne was smitten, and the third part of the [p] moone, and the third part of the [q] starres, so that the third part of them was [r] darkened: and the day was smitten, that the third part of it could not shine, and likewise the night.

13 And I beheld, and heard one Angel flying thorow the middes of heauen, saying with a lowd voyce, [s] Woe, woe, woe, to the inhabitants of the earth, because of the soundes to come of the trumpet of the three Angels, which were yet to blow the trumpets.

d He meaneth by fire the grace of God, whereby we are purged and made cleane, Isa. 6.6.

e He powreth the graces of the holy Ghost into the hearts of the faithfull.

f When this grace is declared marueilous rebellions arise against it by reason of the wicked, which can neither abide to heare their sinnes touched, nor mercie offered.

g That is, proclaimeth warre against the Church, and troubles by false doctrine, and so admonisheth them to watch.

h That is, the most part of men were seduced.

i Euen the very elect were sore tried and proued.

k Diuers sects of heretikes were spread abroad in the world.

l Meaning the shipmasters, and so them that had any gouernment.

m That is, some excellent minister of the Church, which shall corrupt the Scriptures.

n Which here signifie false and corrupt doctrine.

o That is, of Christ who is the sonne of Iustice, meaning, that men by boasting of their workes and merits, obscure Christ, and tread his death vnder feet.

p That is, of the Church.

q Of the ministers and teachers, which haue not taught as they ought to doe.

r These are plagues for the contempt of the Gospel.

s Horrible threatnings against the infidels and rebellious persons.

CHAP. IX.

1 The fift and sixt Angel blow their trumpets: the starre falleth from heauen. 3 The locusts come out of the smoke. 12 The first woe is past. 14 The foure Angels that were bound, are loosed. 18 And the third part of men is killed.

AND the fift Angel blewe the trumpet, and I saw [a] a starre which was fallen from heauen vnto the earth, and to him was giuen the [b] keyes of the bottomlesse pit.

2 And he opened the bottomlesse pit, and there arose the smoke of the pitte, as the [c] smoke of a great fornace, and the Sunne and the aire were darkened by the smoke of the pit.

3 And there came out of the smoke [d] Locusts vpon the earth, and vnto them was giuen [e] power, as the [f] scorpions of the earth haue power.

4 And it was commaunded them, that they should not hurt the [g] grasse of the earth, neither any greene thing, neither any tree:
but onely those [h] men which haue not the seale of God in their foreheads.

5 And to them was commaunded that they should not [i] kill them, but that they should bee [k] vexed fiue moneths, and that their paine should be as the paine that commeth of a [l] scorpion, when hee hath stung a man.

6 *Therefore in those dayes shall men
[m] seeke death, and shall not finde it, and shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them.

7 *And the forme of the locusts was like vnto [n] horses prepared vnto battell, and on their heades were as it were [o] crownes like vnto gold, and their faces [p] were like the faces of men.

8 And they had haire as the [q] haire of women, and their [r] teeth were as the teeth of lyons.

9 And they had [s] habergions, like to habergions of yron: and the sound of their [t] wings was like the sound of charets when many horses runne vnto battell.

10 And they had tailes like vnto scorpions, and there were [u] stings in their tailes, and their power was to hurt men fiue mo-neths.

11 And they haue a king ouer them, which a That is, the bishops & ministers, which forsake the word of God, and so fall out of heauen, and become Angels of darkenesse.

b This authoritie chiefly is committed to the Pope, in signe whereof hee beareth the keyes in his armes.

c Abundance of heresies and errours, which couer with darkenesse Christ and his Gospel.

d Locusts are false teachers, heretikes, and worldly subtile Prelates, with Monkes, Friers, Cardinals, Patriarkes, Archbishops, Bishops, Doctours, Bachelers, and Masters which forsake Christ, to maintaine false doctrine.

e False and deceiuable doctrine, which is pleasant to the flesh.

f That is, secretly to persecute, and to sting with their taile as Scorpions doe: such is the fashion of the hypocrites.

g For the false prophets can not destroy the elect, but such as are ordeined to perdition.

h That is, the infidels, whom Satan blindeth with the efficacie of errour, 2. Thess. 2.11.

i Though the elect be hurt, yet they cannot perish.

k The elect for a certaine space, and at times are in troubles: for the grashoppers endure but from April to September, which is fiue moneths.

l For at the beginning the sting of their conscience seemeth as nothing, but except they soone seeke remedie, they perish. Isa. 2.19. hos. 2.10. 8 luke 23.30. chap. 6.16.

m Such is the terrour of the vnbeleeuing conscience, which hath no assurance of mercie, but feeleth the iudgement of God against it, when men embrace errour, and refuse the true simplicitie of Gods worde. Wisd. 16.9.

n Which signifieth that the Popes cleargie shall be proud, ambitious, bolde, stout, rash, rebellious, stubborne, cruell, lecherous, & authors of warre & destruction of the simple children of God.

o They pretend a certaine title of honour, which indeed belongeth nothing vnto them, as the Priests by their crownes and strange apparell declare.

p That is, they pretend great gentlenes and loue: they are wise, politique, subtile, eloquent, and in worldly craftinesse passe all in all their doings.

q That is, effeminate, delicate, idle, trimming themselues to please their harlots.

r Signifying their oppression of the poore, and cruelty against Gods children.

s Which signifieth their hardnesse of heart, and obstination in their errours, with their assurance vnder the protection of worldly princes.

t For as though they had wings, so are they lifted vp aboue the common sort of men, and esteemed most holy, and doe all things with rage and fiercenesse.

u To infect and kill with their venimous doctrine.

x Which is Antichrist the Pope, king of hypocrites, and Satans ambassadour.
y That is, destroyer, for Antichrist the sonne of perdition destroyeth mens soules with false doctrine, and the whole world with fire and sword.
z Which was the voyce of Christ, sitting on the right hand of the Father.
a Meaning the enemies of the East countrey, which should afflict the Church of God, as did the Arabians, Saracens, Turks & Tartarians.
b This signifieth the great readinesse of the enemies.
c Which signifieth their false doctrine and hypocrisie.
d And therefore were iustly destroyed. *Psal.*115.4. and 135.15.

is the x Angel of the bottomlesse pit, whose name in Hebrew, is y Abbaddon: & in Greeke he is named Apollyon.
12 One woe is past, and beholde, yet two woes come after this.
13 ¶ Then the first Angel blew his trumpet, & I heard a z voice from the foure hornes of the golden altar, which is before God,
14 Saying to the first Angel, which had the trumpet, Loose the foure a Angels which are bound in the great riuer Euphrates.
15 And the foure Angels were loosed, which were prepared at an b houre, at a day, at a moneth, and at a yeere, to slay the third part of men.
16 And the number of horsemen of warre were twenty thousand times ten thousand: for I heard the number of them.
17 And thus I saw the horses in a vision, and them that sate on them, hauing fiery habergions, and of Iacinth, and of brimstone, & the heades of the horses were as the heads of lions: & out of their mouthes went foorth fire and smoke, and brimstone.
18 Of these three was the third part of men killed, that is, of the fire, & of the smoke, and of the brimstone which came out of their mouthes.
19 For their power is in their c mouthes, and in their tayles: for their tailes were like vnto serpents, and had heades, wherewith they hurt.
20 And the remnant of the men which were not killed by these plagues, d repented not of the workes of their handes that they should not worship deuils, & * idols of golde, and of siluer, and of braſſe, and of stone, and of wood, which neyther can see, neyther heare, nor go.
21 Also they repented not of their murder, and of their sorcery, neither of their fornication, nor of their theft.

CHAP. X.

1 The Angel hath the booke open. 6 He sweareth there shal be no more time. 9 He giueth the booke vnto Iohn, which eateth it vp.

AND I sawe another mighty a Angel come downe from heauen, clothed with a cloud, and the b rayneb ow vpon his head, and his face was as the c sunne, & his d feete as pillars of fire.
2 And he had in his hand a little e booke open, and he put his right foot vpon the sea, and his left on the earth,
3 And cried with a f loud voice, as when a lion roareth: and when he had cried, seuen thunders vttered their voyces.
4 And when the seuen thunders had vttered their voyces, I was about to write: but I heard a voice from heauen, saying vnto mee, * g Seale vp those things which a Which was Iesus Christ that came to comfort his Church against the furious assaults of Satan & Antichrist: so that in all their troubles, the faithfull are sure to find consolation in him.

b Iesus Christ beareth the testimony of Gods loue towards vs.
c It ouercame all the darkenesse of the Angel of the bottomlesse pit. d Straight, strong, and pure from all corruptions. e Meaning the Gospel of Christ, which Antichrist cannot hide, seeing Christ bringeth it open in his hand. f Which declareth that in despight of Antichrist the Gospel should be preached through all the world: so that the enemies shall be astonied. g The whole graces of Gods Spirit bent themselues against Antichrist. Dan. 12.4. h Beleeue that that is written: for there is no need to write more for the vnderstanding of Gods children.

the seuen thunders haue spoken, and write them not.
5 And the Angel which I saw stand vpon the sea, and vpon the earth, lift vp his hand to heauen,
6 And sware i by him that liueth for euermore, which created heauen, and the things that therin are, and the earth, & the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things which therein are, that time should be no more.
7 But in the dayes of the voice of the seuenth Angel, when he shall begin to blowe the trumpet, euen the k mystery of God shall bee finished, as hee hath declared to his seruants the Prophets.
8 And the voice which I heard from heauen, spake vnto l mee againe, and said, Goe and take the little booke which is open in the hand of the m Angel, which standeth vpon the sea and vpon the earth.
9 So I went vnto the Angel, and said to him, Giue me the little n booke. And he sayd vnto me, * Take it, and o eate it vp, and it shall make thy belly bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth as sweet as hony.
10 Then I tooke the little booke out of the Angels hand, and ate it vp, and it was in my mouth as p sweet as hony: but when I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.
11 And he sayd vnto me, Thou must prophesie q againe among the people and nations, and tongues, and to many kings.

i That is, by God with whom Christ by his diuinity is equall.
k The faythfull shall vnderstand, and see this mystery of the last iudgement, the damnation of Antichrist and infidels, and also the glory of the iust at the resurrection.
l As S. Iohn vnderstood this by reuelation, so is the same reuciled to the true preachers, to discouer the Pope and Antichrist.
m Meaning Christ.
n That is, the holy Scriptures which declareth that the Minister must receiue them at the hand of God, before he can preach them to others. Ezek. 3.1.
o Which signifieth that the Ministers ought to receiue the word into their hearts, & to haue graue and deepe iudgement, and diligently to study it and with zeale to vtter it.
p Signifying, that albeit that the minister haue consolation by the word of God, yet shall he haue sore and grieuous enemies, which shall bee troublesome vnto him.
q Not only meaning in his life time, but that this booke after his death should be as a preaching vnto all nations.

CHAP. XI.

1 The Temple is measured. 3 Two witnesses raised by the Lord, are murthered by the beast. 11 but after receiued to glory. 15 Christ is exalted, 16 and God praised by the xxiii. Elders.

THen was giuen me a reede, like vnto a rod, and the Angel stood by, saying, Rise and a mete the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein.
2 But b the court which is without the Temple cast out, and mete it not: for it is giuen vnto the Gentiles, and the holy c citie shall they tread vnderfoot d two and fourtie moneths.
3 But I will giue power vnto my e two witnesses, and they shall prophesie a a Which declareth that Christ Iesus will build his church and not haue it destroyed: for he measureth out his spirituall Temple.

b The Iewish Temple was diuided into three parts: the body of the Temple which is called the court, whereinto euery man entred: the holy places where the Leuites were: and the holiest of all, whereeinto the high Priest once a yere entred: in respect therefore of these two latter, the first is sayd to bee cast out, because as a thing prophane it is neglected when the Temple is measured, and yet the aduersaries of Christ boast that they are in the Temple, and that none are of the Temple but they.
c That is, the Church of God. d Meaning a certaine time: for God hath limitted the times of Antichrists tyranny.
e By two witnesses he meaneth all the preachers that should builde vp Gods Church, alluding to Zerubbabel and Iehoshua, which were chiefly appointed for this thing, & also to this saying, In the mouth of two witnesses standeth euery word.

f thousand

f Signifying a certaine time: for when God giueth strength to his ministers, their persecutions seeme as it were but for a day or two.

g In poore and simple apparell.

h Whereby are signified the excellent graces of them which beare witnesse to the Gospel.

i Who hath dominion ouer the whole earth.

k By Gods word, whereby his ministers discomfit the enemies.

l They denounce Gods iudgement against the wicked, that they cannot enter into heauen.

m Which is to declare and procure Gods vengeance.

n That is, the Pope, which hath his power out of hell, and commeth thence.

o He sheweth how the Pope gayneth the victory, not by Gods word, but by cruell warre.

p Meaning, the whole iurisdiction of the Pope which is compared to Sodome for their abominable sin, & to Egypt because the true liberty to serue God, is taken away frō the faithfull, & Christ was condemned by Pilate, who represented the Roman power which should bee enemie to the godly.

q The infidels are tormented by hearing the trueth preached.

r Which shall be at the last resurrection.

s For it seemed that Antichrist had chased them out of the earth.

t Of the power of Antichrist.

u When they shall vnderstand by Gods word the glory of his, and the punishment of his enemies, they shall fall from the Pope, and glorifie God.

x Albeit Satan by the Pope, Turke, or other instruments troubleth the world neuer so much, yet Christ shall reigne.

y Iesus Christ

z This declareth the office of the godly, which is to giue God thankes for the deliuerance of his, and to prayse his iustice for punishing of his enemies.

f thousand two hundreth & threescore dayes, clothed in s sackcloth.

4 These are two h Olive trees, and two candlesticks, standing before the God of the i earth.

5 And if any man will hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouthes, and deuoureth their enemies: for if any man would hurt them, k thus must he be killed.

6 These haue power to shut l heauen, that it raine not in y daies of their prophelying, and haue power ouer waters to turne them into m blood, and to smite the earth with all maner of plagues, as often as they will.

7 And when they haue finished their testimony the n beast that commeth out of the bottomlesse pit, shall make warre against them, and shall o ouercome them, and kill them.

8 And their corpses shall lie in the streets of the great p city, which spiritually is called Sodome and Egypt, where our Lord also was crucified.

9 And they of the people and kinreds, and tongues, and Gentiles shall see their corpses three daies & a halfe, and shal not suffer their carkeises to be put in graues.

10 And they that dwell vpon the earth, shall reioyce ouer them, & be glad, and shall send giftes one to another: for these two Prophets q vexed them that dwelt on the earth.

11 But after three dayes and an halfe, the spirit of life comming from God, shall enter into them, & they shall r stand vp vpon their feete: and great feare shall come vpon them which saw them.

12 And they shall heare a great voyce frō heauen, saying vnto them, Come vp hither. And they shal ascend vp to heaue in a cloud, and their enemies shall see them.

13 And the same houre shall there bee a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the citie s shall fall, and in the earthquake shall be slaine in number seuen thousand: and the remnant shall bee afrayd, t and giue glory to the God of heauen.

14 The second woe is past, and beholde, the third woe will come anone.

15 And the seuenth Angel blew the trumpet, and there were great voices in heauen, saying, The u kingdomes of this world are our Lords, and his Christes, and hee shall reigne for euermore.

16 Then the foure and twenty Elders, which sate before God on their seats, fell vpon their faces, and worshipped y God, 17 Saying, z We giue thee thanks, Lord God almighty, Which art, and which wast, and which art to come: for thou hast receiued thy great might, and hast obteined thy kingdome.

18 And the Gentiles were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead, that they should bee iudged, and that thou shouldest giue reward vnto thy seruants the Prophets, and to the Saintes, and to them that feare thy Name, to small and great, and shouldest destroy them, which destroy the earth.

19 Then the Temple of God was opened in heauen, & there was seene in his Temple the arke of his couenāt: & there were a lightnings, and voices, and thundrings, & earthquake, and much haile.

a Which signifie the destruction of the enemies.

CHAP. XII.

1 There appeareth in heauen a woman clothed with the sunne. 7 Michael fighteth with the Dragon, which persecuteth the woman. 11 The victory is gotten, to the comfort of the faithfull.

AND there appeared a great wonder in heauen: A a woman clothed with the sunne, and the b moone was vnder her feete, and vpon her heade a c crowne of twelue starres.

2 And shee was with childe, and d cryed trauailing in birth, and was payned readie to be deliuered.

3 And there appeared another wonder in heauen: for behold, a great e red Dragon hauing f seuen heads, and ten hornes, and seuen crownes vpon his heads:

4 And his taile drew the g third part of the starres of heauen, and cast them to the earth. And the Dragon stood before the woman, which was ready to bee deliuered, to deuoure her childe when shee had brought it foorth.

5 So shee brought foorth a h man childe, which should rule all nations with a *rod of iron: and her sonne was taken vp vnto God and to his throne.

6 And the woman fled into i wildernesse, where, she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feede her there a thousand, two hundreth and threescore dayes.

7 And there was a battell in heauen, k Michael and his Angels fought against the Dragon, and the Dragon fought and his Angels.

8 But they preuayled not, neyther was their place found any more in l heauen.

9 And the great Dragon that old serpent called the deuill and Satan, was cast out, which deceiueth all the worlde: hee was a In this third vision is declared how the Church, which is compassed about with Iesus Christ the sonne of righteousnes, is persecuted of Antichrist.

b The Church treadeth vnder foot whatsoeuer is mutable and inconstant, with all corrupt affections and such like.

euen cast into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 Then I heard a loude voyce, saying, Now is saluation in heauen, and strength, and the kingdome of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast downe, which accused them before our God day and night.

11 But they ouercame him by the blood of the Lambe, and by the word of their testimonie, and they [m] loued not their liues vnto the death.

12 Therefore reioyce, ye heauens, and ye that dwell in them. Wo to the [n] inhabitants of the earth, and of the sea: for the deuill is come downe vnto you, which hath great wrath, knowing that hee hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that hee was [o] cast vnto the earth, he persecuted the woman which had brought foorth the man childe.

14 But to the woman were giuen two wings of a great Eagle, that she might flie into the wilderneſſe, into [p] her place, where shee is nourished for a time, and times, and halfe a time, from [y] presence of the serpent.

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water after the woman like a flood, that hee might cause her to bee caried away of the flood.

16 But the [q] earth holpe the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed vp the flood, which the dragon had cast out of his mouth.

17 Then the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went [r] made warre with the remnant of her seed, which keepe the commandements of God, and haue the testimonie of Jesus Christ.

18 And I stood on the sea sand.

CHAP. XIII.

1. 8 The beast deceiueth the reprobate, 2. 4. 12 And is confirmed by another beast. 17 The priuiledge of the beasts marke.

AND I saw a [a] beast rise out of the Sea, hauing [b] seuen heades, and [c] ten hornes, and vpon his hornes were tenne crownes, and vpon his heades the name of blasphemie.

2 And the beast which I saw, was like a [d] leopard, and his feete like a beares, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the [e] dragon gaue him his power, & his throne, and great authoritie.

3 And I saw one of his [f] heads as it were wounded to death, but his [g] deadly wound was healed, and all the world wondered and followed the beast.

4 And they worshipped the dragon which gaue power vnto the beast, and they [h] worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like vnto the beast? who is able to warre with him?

5 And there was giuen vnto him a mouth that spake great things and blasphemies, and power was giuen vnto him, to do [i] two and fortie moneths.

6 And hee opened his mouth vnto blasphemie against God, to blaspheme his Name and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heauen.

7 And it was giuen to him to make warre with the Saints, and to [k] ouercome them, and power was giuen him ouer euery [l] kinred, and tongue, and nation.

11 And I beheld another beast comming vp out of the earth, which had two [q] hornes like the Lambe, but hee [r] spake like the dragon.

12 And hee did all that the first [s] beast could doe before him, and hee caused the earth, and them which dwell therein, to worship the first [t] beast, whose deadly wound was healed.

13 And [u] he did great wonders, so that he made fire to come downe from heauen on the earth, in the sight of men,

14 And deceiued them that dwell on the earth by the signes, which were permitted to him to do in the * sight of the beast, saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make the [y] image of the beast, which had the wound of a sword, and did liue.

15 And it was permitted to him to giue a [z] spirit vnto the image of the beast, so that the image of the beast should [a] speake, and should cause that as many as would not [b] worship the image of the beast, should bee killed.

a marke in their right hand or in their foreheads.

17 And d that no man might buy or sell, saue he that had the marke, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

18 Here is wisedome. Let him that hath wit, count the number of the beast: for it is the number e of a man, and his number is fiue hundreth threescore and sixe.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 The notable company of the Lambe. 6 One Angel announceth the Gospel, 8 Another the fal of Babylon, 9 And the third warneth to flee from the beast. 13 Of their blessednesse which die in the Lord. 18 Of the Lords haruest.

THen I looked, and loe, a a Lambe stood on mount Sion, and with him an b hundreth fourtie and foure thousand, hauing his Fathers c name written in their foreheads.

2 And I heard a voyce from heauen, as the sound of many d waters, and as the sound of a great thunder: and I heard the voyce of harpers harping with their harpes,

3 And they sung as it were a new song before the throne & before the foure beastes, and the Elders, and no e man could learne that song, but the hundreth fortie and foure thousande, which were bought from the earth.

4 These are they which are not f defiled with women, for they are virgins: these follow the Lambe g whithersoeuer hee goeth: these are bought from men, being the h first fruits vnto God, and to the Lambe.

5 And in their mouthes was found no guile: for they are without i spot before the throne of God.

6 ¶ Then I saw another k Angel flie in the middes of heauen, hauing an euerlasting Gospel, to preach vnto them that dwell on the earth, and to euery nation, and kinred, and tongue, and people,

7 * Saying with a loude voyce, l Feare God, and giue glory to him: for the houre of his iudgement is come: and worship him that made * heauen and earth, and the sea, and the fountaines of waters.

8 And there followed another Angel, saying, * It is fallen, it is fallen, m Babylon the great citie: for she made all nations to drinke of the wine of the n wrath of her fornication.

9 ¶ And the third Angel followed them, saying with a loud voyce, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receiue his marke in his forehead, or on his hand,

10 The same shall drinke of the wine of the wrath of God, yea, of the o pure wine, which is powred into the cup of his wrath, and hee shall be tormented in fire and brimstone before the holy Angels, and before the Lambe.

11 And the smoke of their torment shall ascend euermore: and they shall haue no rest day nor night, which worship the beast and his image, & whosoeuer receiueth the print of his name.

12 Here is the patience of p Saints: here are they that keepe the commandements of God, and the faith of Iesus.

13 Then I heard a voyce from heauen, saying vnto me, Write, q Blessed are the dead, which hereafter die in the r Lord. Euen so saith the spirit: for they rest from their labours, and their works follow them.

14 ¶ And I looked, and behold, a white s cloud, and vpon the cloud one sitting like vnto the Sonne of man, hauing on his head a golden crowne, and in his hand a sharpe sickle.

15 And another Angel came out of the Temple, crying with a loude voyce to him that sate on the cloud, * t Thrust in thy sickle, and reape: for the time is come to reape: for the haruest of the earth is ripe.

16 And he that sate on the cloud, u thrust in his sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.

17 Then another Angel came out of the Temple which is in heauen, hauing also a sharpe sickle.

18 And another Angel came out from the x altar, which had power ouer fire, and cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharp sickle, and sayd, Thrust in thy sharpe sickle, and gather the clusters of the vineyard of the earth: for her grapes are ripe.

19 And the Angel thrust in his sharpe sica Iesus Christ ruleth in his church to defend and cõfort it, though the beast rage neuer so much: and seeing Christ is present euer with his Church, there can be no vicar: for where there is a vicar, there is no Church.

b Meaning, a great and ample Church.

c Which was the marke of their election, to wit, their faith.

d Signifying that the number of ỹ Church should be great, and that they should speak boldly, & aloud, and so glorifie the Lord.

e None can prayse God but the elect whom he hath bought.

f By whoredome: and vnder this vice hee comprehendeth all other: but this is chiefly meant of idolatrie, which is the spirituall whoredome.

g For their whole delight is in the Lambe Iesus, and they loue none but him.

h Which declareth that the faithfull ought to liue iustly and holily, that they may be the first fruits, and an excellent offering of the Lord.

i Forasmuch as their sinnes are pardoned, and they are clad with the iustice of Christ.

k By this Angel are meant the true ministers of Christ which preach the Gospel faithfully.

m Signifying Rome, foramuch as the vices which were in Babylon are found in Rome in greater aboundance, as persecution of ỹ Church of God, oppression and slauery, with destruction of the people of God, confusion, superstition, idolatry, impietie: and as Babylon the first Monarchie was destroyed, so shall this wicked kingdome of Antichrist haue a miserable ruine, though it bee great, and seemeth to extend throughout all Europa.

n By the which fornication God is prouoked to wrath: so that hee suffereth many to walke in the way of the Romish doctrine to their destruction.

o That is, of his terrible iudgement.

p The faithfull are exhorted to patience.

q For they are deliuered from the horrible troubles which are in the Church, & rest with God. ‖ Or, for the Lords cause.

r Which are ingafted in Christ by faith, which rest and stay only on him, and reioyce to be with him: for immediatly after their death they are receiued into ioy.

s Signifying that Christ shall come to iudgement in a cloud, euen as he was seene to go vp. Joel 3.13. mat. 13.39.

t The ouerthrow of the people is compared to an haruest, Isai. 19.5. also to a vintage, Isai. 63.3.

u This is spoken familiarly for our capacitie, alluding vnto an husbandman, who suffereth himselfe to be aduertised by his seruants when his haruest is ripe, and not that Christ hath need to be told when he should come to iudgement for the comfort of his Church, and destruction of his enemies.

x This was Christ, who is also the altar, the Priest, and sacrifice.

y That is, a certaine place appoynted, and not in the heauen.

z By this similitude he declareth the horrible confusion of the tyrants and infidels, which delight in nothing but warres, slaughters, persecutions and effusion of blood.

CHAP. XV.

1 Seuen Angels haue the seuen last plagues. 3 The song of them that ouercome the beast. 7 The seuen vials full of Gods wrath.

AND I sawe another a signe in heauen great and marueilous, b seuen Angels hauing the seuen last plagues: for by them is fulfilled the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were a c glassie sea mingled with fire, and them that had gotten victory of the beast, and of his image, and of his marke, and of the number of his name, stand at the glassie sea, hauing the harpes of God,

3 And they sung the song of Moses the *seruant of God, and the song of the Lambe, saying, Great & marueylous are thy workes, Lord God Almighty: iust and true are thy *‖ wayes, king of Saints.

4 *Who shall not feare thee, O Lord, and glorifie thy Name? for thou onely art holy, and al nations shal come and worship before thee: for thy iudgements are made manifest.

5 And after that I looked, and beholde, the Temple of the tabernacle of testimony was open in heauen.

6 And the seuen Angels came out of the temple, which had the seuen plagues, clothed in pure and d bright linnen, and hauing their e breasts girded with golden girdles.

7 And one of the f foure beastes gaue vnto the seuen Angels seuen golden vials full of the wrath of God, which liueth for euermore.

8 And the temple was full of the smoke of the glory of God, and of his power, and no man was able to g enter into the temple, till the seuen plagues of the seuen Angels were fulfilled.

a This is the fourth vision, which conteineth the doctrine of Gods iudgements for the destruction of the wicked and comfort of the godly.

b Meaning an infinite number of Gods ministers, which had infinite maners and sorts of punishments.

c Signifying, this brittle & inconstant world mixt with fire, that is, troubles and afflictions: but the Saints of God ouercome them all, and sing diuine songs vnto God, by whose power they get the victory.

Exod. 15.1. Psal. 145 17. ‖ Or, actes and deedes. Iere. 10.7.

d Which is to declare that Gods iudgements are cleare, iust and without spot. e As ready to execute the vengeance of God. f By the foure beastes are meant all the creatures of God, which willingly serue him for the punishment of the infidels. g God giueth vs full entry into his Church by destroying his enemies: for the Saints cannot clearely knowe all Gods iudgements before the full end of all things.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The Angels powre out their vials full of wrath, 6 And what plagues follow thereof. 15 Admonition to take heed and watch.

AND I heard a great voyce out of the Temple, saying to the seuen Angels, Go your wayes, and powre out the seuen vials of the wrath of God vpon the earth.

2 And the first went, and powred out his vial vpon the earth: and there fell a noysome and a grieuous a sore vpon the men, which had the marke of the beast, and vpon them which worshipped his image.

3 And the second Angel powred out his vial vpon the sea, and it became as the b blood of a c dead man: and euery liuing thing died in the sea.

4 And the third Angel powred out his vial vpon the riuers and fountaines of waters, and they became d blood.

5 And I heard the Angel of the e waters say, Lorde, thou art iust, (Which art, and (Which wast, and holy, because thou hast iudged these things.

6 For they shed the blood of the Saints, and Prophets, and therefore hast thou giuen them blood to drinke: for they are worthie.

7 And I heard another out of the Sanctuary say, Euen so, Lorde God almighty, f true and righteous are thy iudgements.

8 And the fourth Angel powred out his vial on the Sunne, and it was giuen vnto him to torment men with g heate of fire, 9 And men boyled in great heate, and h blasphemed the Name of God, which hath power ouer these plagues, and they repented not to giue him glory.

10 And the fifth Angel powred out his vial vpon the throne of the i beast, and his kingdome waxed darke, and they k gnewe their tongues for sorow, 11 And blasphemed the God of heauen for their paines, and for their sores, and repented not of their workes.

12 And the sixt Angel powred out his vial vpon the great riuer l Euphrates, and the water thereof dried vp, that the way of the Kings of the East ‖ might bee prepared.

13 And I sawe three m vncleane spirits like frogges come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet.

14 For they are the spirits of n deuils, working miracles, to goe vnto the o Kings of the earth, and of the whole world, to gather them to the battell of that great day of God Almighty.

15 (p Behold, I come as a theefe. Blessed is hee that watcheth, and keepeth his p garments, lest he walke naked, and men see his filthinesse)

16 And they gathered them together into a a This was like the sixt plague of Egypt, which was sores and boyles, or pockes: and this reigneth commonly among Canons, Monkes, Friers, Nunnes, Priests, and such filthy vermine which beare the marke of the beast, b This is like to the first plague of Egypt, which signifieth all kindes of pestilences and contagious diseases.

c That is, corrupt and infect.

d The first plague of Egypt was like vnto this.

e He bringeth forth these two Angels: the one which is gouernour of the waters, and the other from vnder the altar, as witnesse and commenders of Gods iust iudgements.

f Forasmuch as thou destroyest the rebels, and preseruest thine.

g Signifying famine, drought, and hote diseases, which proceed thereof.

h The wicked were hard hearted, and stubborne when God punished them.

i This answereth to the ninth plague of Egypt, which signifieth that the Popes doctrine is an horrible plague of God, which keepeth men still in darke ignorance and errours.

k They shall shewe their fury, rage and blasphemy against God, when the light of his Gospel shall shine. l By Euphrates which was the strength of Babylon, is meant the riches, strength, pleasures and commodities of Rome the second Babylon, which are the true Kings and Priestes in Christ, by discloshing their wicked deceite. m That is, a strong number of the great deuill the Popes ambassadours, which are euer crying and croking like frogges, and come out of Antichrists mouth, because they should speake nothing but lyes, and vse all maner of crafty deceite to maintayne their rich Euphrates against the true Christians.

n Albeit they call themselues spirituall and holy fathers. o For in all Kings courts the Pope hath had his ambassadours to hinder the kingdome of Christ. Chap. 3. 3. matthew 24. 44. luke 12. 39.

place called in Hebrew q Arma-gedon.

17 ¶ And the seuenth Angel powred out his viall into the aire: & there came a loude voyce out of the Temple of heauen from the throne, saying, r It is done.

r This is the last iudgement when Christ shal come to destroy the wicked and deliuer his Church.

18 And there were voyces, and thunderings, and lightnings, and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were vpon the earth, euen so mighty an earthquake.

19 And the great f city was diuided into three partes, and the s cities of the nations fell, and great Babylon came in remembrance before God * to giue vnto her the cuppe of wine of the fiercenesse of his wrath.

f Meaning, the whole number of them that shall call themselues Christians, whereof some are so in deede, some are Papists, & vnder pretence of Christ, serue Antichrist, and some are Neuters, which are neither on the one side nor on the other. s Signifying all strange religion, as of Iewes, Turkes and others, which then shall fall with that great whore of Rome, and bee tormented in eternall paynes.

20 And euery yle fled away, & the mountaines were not found.

21 And there fell a great hayle, like talents, out of heauen vpon the men, and men blasphemed God, because of the plague of the haile: for the plague thereof was exceeding great.

CHAP. XVII.

3 The description of the great whore. 8 Her sinnes and punishment. 24 The victory of the Lambe.

a Which was Christ Iesus, who will take vengeance on this Romish harlot.

THen there came a one of the seuen Angels, which had the seuen vials, and talked with me, saying vnto me, Come, I will shew thee the damnatio of the great b whore that sitteth vpon many t waters, b Antichrist is compared to an harlot, because he seduceth the world with vaine words, doctrines of lies, and outward appearance.

2 With whom haue committed fornication the kings of the earth, and the inhabitants of the earth are drunke with the wine of her fornication.

3 So he caried me away into the wildernesse in the Spirit, and I sawe a woman sit vpon a scarlet coloured d beast, ful of names of e blasphemy, which had seuen heads, and ten hornes.

c Meaning diuers nations and countries.

d The beast signifieth the ancient Rome: the woman that sitteth thereon, the new Rome which is the Papistrie, whose cruelty and bloodshedding is declared by scarlet.

4 And the f woman was arayed in purple and scarlet, and gilded with gold, & precious stones, and pearles, and had a cup of gold in her hand, full of g abominations, and filthinesse of her fornication.

e Full of idolatry, superstition and contempt of the true God.

5 And in her forehead was a name written, h A mystery, great Babylon, the mother of whoredomes, and abominations of the earth.

f This woman is the Antichrist, that is, the Pope with the whole body of his filthy creatures, as is expounded Verse 18. whose beautie onely standeth in outward pompe and impudencie, and craft like a strumpet. g Of false doctrines and blasphemies. h Which none can know to auoyd, but the elect.

6 And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of Saints, & with the blood of the Martyrs of Iesus: and when I saw her, I wondred with great marualle.

7 Then the Angel said vnto me, Wherefore marueilest thou? I will shewe thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that beareth her, which hath seuen heads, and ten hornes.

8 The i beast that thou hast seene, was, and is not, and shall ascend out of the bottomlesse pit, and shall go into perdition, and they that dwell on the earth, shall wonder (whose names are not written in the Booke of life from the foundation of the worlde) when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

i This is the Romane Empire, which being fallen to decay, the whore of Rome vsurped authority, and proceeded from the deuill, and thither shall returne.

9 Here is the minde that hath wisdome. The seuen heades are k seuen mountaynes, whereon the woman sitteth: they are also l seuen kings.

k Which are about Rome.

10 Fiue are fallen, and one is, and another is not yet come: and when he commeth he must continue a short space.

l For after that the Empire was decayed in Nero, Galba, Otho, Vitellius, Vespasian and Titus dyed in lesse then fourteene yeeres, and reigned as Kings: Domitian then reigned, and after him Coccceius Nerua which was the seuenth.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, is euen the m eight, and is one of the seuen, and shall goe into destruction.

m He meaneth Traiane the Emperour, who was a Spaniard, and adopted by Nerua, but because he persecuted the faithfull, he goeth also to perdition.

12 And the ten hornes which thou sawest, are ten kings, which yet haue not receiued a kingdome, but shall receiue power, as kings at one houre with the beast.

13 n These haue one mind, and shal giue their power and authoritie vnto the beast.

n He signifieth the horrible persecutions which haue bene vnder the empire of Rome, and in all other realmes subiect to the pot. 1. Tim. 6. 15.

14 These shal fight with the Lambe, and the Lambe shall o ouercome them: * for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings: and they that are on his side, called, and chosen, and faithfull.

same. o And breake them to shiuers as a potters vessel, Psal. 2. 9. Reuel. 19. 16. p Diuers nations, as the Gothes, Vandales, Hunnes, and other nations, which were once subiect to Rome, shall rise against it, and destroy it. q That in stead of doing homage to Christ Iesus, they should be cast in a reprobate sence to serue Antichrist, and to dedicate themselues and theirs wholly vnto him.

15 And hee sayd vnto mee, The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, are people, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.

16 And the p tenne hornes which thou sawest vpon the beast, are they that shal hate the whore, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eate her flesh, and burne her with fire.

17 For God hath q put in their hearts to fulfill his will, and to doe with one consent for to giue their kingdome vnto the beast, vntill the words of God be fulfilled.

18 And the woman which thou sawest, is the great city, which reigneth ouer the kings of the earth.

CHAP. XVIII.

3. 9 The louers of the world are sory for the fal of the whore of Babylon. 4 An admonition to the people of God to flee out of her dominion, 20 but they that be of God, haue cause to reioyce for her destruction.

AND after these things, I sawe another Angel come downe from heauen, hauing great power, so that the earth was lightened with his glory.

Isa. 21. 9. Iere. 51. 8. chap. 14. 8.

2 And he cryed out mightily with a loud voyce, saying, * a It is fallen, it is fallen, Babylon the great citie, and is become the habitation of b deuils, and the hold of all foule spirits, and a cage of euery vncleane and hatefull bird.

a This description of the ouerthrow of the great whore, is like to that whereby the prophets vse to declare the destruction of Babylon. b He describeth Rome to be the sinke of all abomination and deuilishnesse, and a kind of hell.

c The greatest part of the world hath been abused and seduced by this spirituall whoredome.

d When God threatneth the wicked, he euer comforteth and counselleth his what they ought to doe, that is, that they doe not communicate with the sinnes of the wicked.

e The Greeke word is, that her sinnes so follow one another, and so rise one after another, that they grow to such an heape, that at length they touch the very heauens.

f Blessed is hee that can repay to the whore the like, as it is written, Psa. 137.8,9. Isa. 47.8.

g The glorious boasting of the strumpet.

h But ful of people and mighty.

i Both they that temporally haue had profit by the strumpet, & also the spirituall merchants shall for sorow and want of their gaine, cry out and despaire.

k Which is very odoriferous and precious.

l Such as ỹ wantons vse at Rome.

m This is the vilest ware, ỹ these merchants sel, & best cheap, which soules notwithstanding ỹ Sonne of God redeemed with his precious blood, 1. Pet. 1. 19.

n That is, the things which thou louedst best.

o And so shew signes of great sorow.

3 For [c] all nations haue dronken of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the Kings of the earth haue committed fornication with her, & the merchants of the earth are waxed rich of the abundance of her pleasures.

4 And I heard another voice from heauen say, [d] Goe out of her my people, that yee be not partakers in her sinnes, and that yee receiue not of her plagues.

5 For her sinnes are [e] come vp vnto heauen, & God hath remembred her iniquities.

6 [f] Reward her, euen as she hath rewarded you, and giue her double according to her workes: and in the cup that she hath filled to you, fill her the double.

7 Inasmuch as she glorified her selfe, and liued in pleasure, so much giue you to her torment and sorow: for shee saith in her heart, *I sit being a qurene, and am no [h] widow, and shall see no mourning.

8 Therefore shall her plagues come at one day, death, and sorow, and famine, and she shall be burnt with fire: for strong is the Lord God which will condemne her.

9 And the Kings of the earth shall bewaile her, and lament for her, which haue committed fornication, and liued in pleasure with her, when they shall see the smoke of her burning,

10 And shall stand afarre off for feare of her torment, saying, Alas, alas, the great citie Babylon, the mighty citie: for in one houre is thy iudgement come.

11 And the [i] merchants of the earth shall weepe and waile ouer her: for no man buyeth her ware any more.

12 The ware of gold & siluer, and of precious stone, and of pearles, and of fine linen, and of purple, & of silke, and of skarlet, and of all maner of Thine [k] wood, and of all vessels of yuory, and of all vessels of most precious wood, and of brasse, and of iron, and of marble,

13 And of cynamom, and odours, & ointments, and frankincense, and wine, and oile, and fine flour, and wheate, and beasts, and sheepe, and horses, and [l] charets, and seruants, and [m] soules of men.

14 (And the [n] apples that thy soule lusted after, are departed from thee, and all things which were fat and excellent, are departed from thee, and thou shalt find them no more)

15 The merchants of these things which were waxed rich, shall stand afarre off from her, for feare of her torment, weeping and wailing,

16 And saying, Alas, alas, the great citie, that was clothed in fine linnen, and purple, and scarlet, and gilded with golde, and precious stone, and pearles.

17 For in one houre so great riches are come to desolation. And euery shipmaster, and all the people that occupie shippes, and shipmen, and whosoeuer trauaile on the sea, shall stand afarre off, 18 And crie, when they see the smoke of her burning, saying, What citie was like vnto this great citie?

19 And they shal cast [o] dust on their heads, and crie weeping & wailing, and say, Alas, alas, the great citie, wherein were made rich all that had ships on the sea by her ‖ costlinesse: for in one houre she is made desolate.

20 ¶ Reioyce of her, heauen, and yee holy Apostles and Prophets: for God hath [p] giuen your iudgement on her.

21 Then a mighty Angel tooke vp a stone, like a great millstone, and [*] cast it into the sea, saying, With such violence shall the great citie Babylon be cast, & shalbe [q] found no more.

22 And the voice of harpers, and musicians, and of pipers, and trumpetters shall be heard no more in thee, and no craftsman, of whatsoeuer craft he be, shall be found any more in thee: and the sound of a millstone shall be heard no more in thee.

23 And the light of a candle shall shine no more in thee: & the voyce of the bridegrome and of the bride shall bee heard no more in thee: for thy [r] merchants were the great men of the earth: and with thine inchantments were deceiued all nations.

24 And in her was found the blood of the Prophets, and of the Saints, and of all that were slaine vpon the earth.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Praises are giuen vnto God for iudging the whore, and for auenging the blood of his seruants. 10 The Angel will not be worshipped. 17 The foules and birds are called to the slaughter.

AND after these things I heard a great voyce of a great multitude in heauen, saying, [a] Hallelu-iah, saluation and glory, and honour, and power bee to the Lord our God.

2 For [b] true and righteous are his iudgements: for hee hath condemned the great whore which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath auenged the blood of his seruants, shed by her hand.

3 And againe they sayd, Hallelu-iah: and her [c] smoke rose vp for euermore.

4 And the foure and twenty Elders, and the foure [d] beasts fell downe, and worshipped God that sate on the throne, saying, [e] Amen, Hallelu-iah.

5 Then a voyce came out of the throne, saying, Prayse our God, all ye his seruants, and ye that feare him, both small and great.

6 And I heard like a voyce of a great multitude, and as the voyce of many waters, and as the voice of strong thundrings, saying, Hallelu-iah: for our Lord God almighty hath reigned.

7 Let vs bee glad and reioyce, and giue glory to him: for the [f] mariage of the Lambe is come, and his wife hath made her selfe ready.

8 And to her was granted, that she should be arayed with pure fine linen, and shining: for the fine linnen is the righteousnesse of Saints.

9 Then [g] hee sayde vnto mee, Write, *Blessed are they which are [h] called vnto the p And hath reuenged your cause in punishing her. Jer. 51.63.

q It shall not be like to other cities which may be builded againe, but it shall be destroyed without mercie.

r The Romish prelates and merchants of soules are as Kings and princes: so that their couetousnesse and pride must be punished: secondly their crafts and deceits: and thirdly their cruelty.

a That is, praise ye God, because the Antichrist & all wickednes is taken out of the world.

b So that all the Saints are confirmed, and ought nothing to doubt of the saluation of the faithfull.

c The wicked shalbe burned in continuall fire, that neuer shalbe extinguished.

d By the foure beasts are meant all creatures.

e Signifying that his iudgements are true and iust, & that we ought to praise him euermore for the destruction of the Pope.

f God made Christ the bridegrome of this Church at the beginning, and at the last day it shall be fully accomplished when we shall be ioyned with our head. g That is, the Angel. Matth. 22.2. chap. 14.13. h Whom God of free mercie calleth to be partakers of his heauenly graces, and deliuereth from the filthy pollutions of Antichrist.

Chap.22.8,9.

i Who am charged to testifie of Iesus, or which am partaker of the same Gospel and faith.

k He sheweth that none ought to be worshipped but onely God: and that he is of their number whom God vseth to reueale his secrets by to the Prophets, that they may declare them to others, also that we must beleeue no other spirit of prophecie, but ỹ which doth testifie of Iesus, and leade vs to him.

l Whereby is signified that Iesus Christ our Iudge shall be victorious, and shall triumph ouer his enemies.

m He meaneth Christ.

n So that the wicked shall tremble before his face.

o To shew that he was ruler of all the world.

p That is, none can haue so full reuelation how Christ is very God eternal, infinite & almighty, as he himselfe. Isa.63.1,2.

q Whereby is signified his victorie, and the destruction of his enemies.

r Signifying that Iesus Christ, which is the word, is made flesh, and is our Lord, our God, and the iudge of the quicke and dead.

Lambs supper, and he sayd vnto mee, These wordes of God are true.

10 And I fell before his feet * to worship him: but he sayd vnto mee, See thou doe it not: I am thy fellow seruant, and one of thy brethren, which haue the i testimony of Iesus, Worship God: for the k testimonie of Iesus, is the spirit of prophesie.

11 And I saw heauen open, and beholde, a white l horse, & he that sate vpon him, was called m Faithfull and true, and he * iudgeth and fighteth righteously.

12 And his eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were o many crownes: and he had a name written, that no man p knew but himselfe.

13 And * he was clothed with a garment dipt in q blood, and his name is called, THE r WORD OF GOD.

14 And the s warriours which were in heauen, followed him vpon white horses, clothed with fine linnen white and pure.

15 And out of his mouth went out a sharpe t sword, that with it he should smite the heathen: for hee * shall rule them with a rod of iron: for hee it is that treadeth the winepresse of the fiercenesse and wrath of almightie God.

16 And hee hath vpon his garment, and vpon his * thigh a name written, * THE KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.

17 And I sawe an Angel stand in the x sunne, who cried with a loude voyce, saying to all the foules that did flie by the mids of heauen, Come and gather your selues together vnto the supper of the great God,

18 That yee may eate the flesh of Kings and the flesh of hie captaines, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all free men and bondmen, and of small and great.

19 And I saw the beast, and the Kings of the earth, and their v warriours gathered together to make battell against him that sate on the horse, and against his souldiers.

20 But the beast was z taken, and with him that false prophet that wrought miracles before him, whereby hee deceiued them that receiued the beasts marke, and them that worshipped his image. These both were aliue cast into a lake of fire burning with brimstone.

21 And the remnant were slaine with the sworde of him that sitteth vpon the horse, which commeth out of his mouth, and all the foules were filled full with their flesh.

s Which declareth that his Angels shall come with him to iudge the world.

t Which driueth the wicked into eternall fire. Psal.2.9.chap.2.27.

u Which declareth his humanitie, wherein he is Lord of all, & shall iudge the world. 1.Tim 6.15 chap.17.14.

x This signifieth that the day of iudgement shall be cleere and euident, so that none shalbe hid: for the trumpet shall blow aloud, and all shall vnderstand it.

y For the Pope and the worldly princes shall fight against Christ, euen vntill this last day.

z The ouerthrow of the beast and his, which shall bee chiefly accomplished at the second comming of Christ.

CHAP. XX.

2 Satan being bound for a certaine time, 7 And after let loose, vexeth the Church grieuously. 10. 14 And after the world is iudged, hee and his are cast into the lake of fire.

AND I saw an a Angel come downe from heauen, hauing the b key of the bottomlesse pit, and a great chaine in his hand.

2 And hee tooke the dragon that old serpent, which is the deuill and Satan, and bound him a c thousand yeeres,

3 And cast him into the bottomlesse pit, and he shut him vp, and sealed the doore vpon him, that hee should deceiue the people no more, till the d thousand yeeres were fulfilled: for after that he must bee loosed for a little season.

4 And I saw e seates: and they sate vpon them, and iudgement was giuen vnto them, and I sawe the soules of them that were beheaded for the witnesse of Iesus, and for the worde of God, and which did not worship the beast, neither his image, neither had taken his marke vpon their foreheads, or on their hands: and they liued, and reigned with Christ a f thousand yeere.

5 But the rest of the g dead men shal not liue againe, vntill the thousand yeeres be finished: this is the h first resurrection.

6 Blessed and holy is hee that hath part in the first resurrection: for on such the i second death hath no power: but they k shall be the Priests of God and of Christ, and shal reigne with him a l thousand yeere.

7 And when the thousand yeeres are m expired, Satan shall bee loosed out of his prison,

8 And shal goe out to deceiue the people, which are in the foure quarters of the earth: euen n Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battel, whose number is as the sand of the sea.

9 And they went vp into the plaine of the earth, which compassed the o rents of the Saints about, and the beloued citie: but fire came downe from God out of heauen, and deuoured them.

10 And the deuill that deceiued them, was cast into a lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet shall bee tormented euen day and night for euermore.

11 And I saw a great white throne, and o one that sate on it, from whose face fled away both the earth and heauen, and their place was no more found.

12 And I saw the dead, both great and small stand before God: and the p bookes a This Angel representeth the order of the Apostles, whose vocation and office was from heauen: or may signifie Christ which should treade downe the serpents head.

b Hereby hee meaneth the Gospel whereby hell is shut vp to the faithfull, and Satan is chained that he cannot hurt them, yea, and the ministers hereby open it to the infidels, but through their impietie and stubbornesse.

c That is, from Christs natiuitie vnto the time of Pope Syluester the second: so long the pure doctrine should after a sort remain.

d After this terme Satan had greater power then he had before.

f That is, whiles they haue remained in this life.

g He meaneth them which are spiritually dead: for in whom Satan lyeth, he is dead to God.

h Which is, to receiue Iesus Christ in true faith, and to rise from sinne in newnesse of life.

i The death of the soule, which is eternall damnation.

k Shall be true partakers of Christ and of his dignitie.

l That is, for euer.

m After that the chaine is broken, and the true preaching of Gods word is corrupt.

n By them are meant diuers and strange enemies of the Church of God, as the Turke, the Saracens, and others, reade Ezek.38.2. and 39.1,2. by whome the Church of God should bee grieuously tormented.

o Which was Christ prepared to iudgement with glory and maiesty.

i Meaning the Church, which is married to Christ by faith.

k By this description is declared the incomprehensible excellencie, which the heauenly companie doe enioy.

l It is said to come downe from heauen because all the benefites that the Church hath, they acknowledge to come of God through Christ.

11 Hauing the glorie of God: and her shining was like vnto a stone most precious, as a m Iasper stone, cleare as Christall, 12 And had a great n wall and hie, and had twelue o gates, and at the gates twelue Angels, and the names written, which are the twelue tribes of the children of Israel.

13 On the East part there were three gates, and on the Northside three gates, on the Southside three gates, and on the Westside three gates.

14 And the wall of the citie had twelue foundations, and in them the names of the Lambes twelue p Apostles.

15 And he that talked with me had a golden reed to measure the citie withall, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16 And the citie lay foure square, and the length is as large as the breadth of it, and he measured the citie with the reede, twelue thousand furlongs: and the length, and the breadth, and the height of it are equall.

17 And he measured the wall thereof, an hundred, fourtie and foure cubites, by the measure of man, that is, of the Angel.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of Iasper: and the citie was pure golde like vnto cleare glasse.

19 And the foundations of the wall of the citie were garnished with all maner of precious stones: the first foundation was Iasper: the second of Saphir: the third of a Chalcedone: the fourth of an Emeraude:

20 The fift of a Sardonix: the first of a Sardius: the seuenth of a Chrysolite: the eight of a Beryl: the ninth of a Topaz: the tenth of a Chrysoprasus: the eleuenth of a Iacinth: the twelfth an Amethyst.

21 And the twelue gates were twelue pearles, and euery gate is of one pearle, and the street of the citie is pure golde, as shining glasse.

22 And I saw no Temple therein: for the Lord God Almightie and the q Lambe are the Temple of it.

23 * And the citie hath no need of the Sunne, neither of the moone to shine in it: for the glorie of God did light it: and the Lambe is the light of it.

24 * And the people which are saued, shall walke in the light of it: and the r Kings of the earth shall bring their glorie and honour vnto it,

25 * And the gates of it shall not bee shut by day: for there shall be no night there.

26 And the glory and honour of the Gentiles shalbe brought vnto it.

AND he shewed mee a pure [a] riuer of water of life, cleare as christall, proceeding out of the throne of GOD, and of the Lambe.

3 And there shalbe no more curse, but the throne of God and of the Lambe shall bee in it, and his seruants shall serue him,

4 And they shall see his face, and his name shall be in their foreheads.

5 * And there shalbe no [e] night there, and they neede no candle, neither light of the Sunne: for the Lord God giueth them light, and they shall reigne for euermore.

6 And he said vnto me, These words are faithfull and true: and the Lord God of the holy Prophets sent his Angel to shew vnto his seruants the things which must shortly be fulfilled.

7 Behold, I come shortly. Blessed is hee that keepeth the wordes of the prophesie of this booke.

8 And I am Iohn, which saw and heard these things: and when I had heard and seene, * I [f] fell downe to worship before the feete of the Angel, which shewed mee these things.

9 But hee said vnto me, See thou doe it not: for I am thy fellow seruant, and of thy brethren the Prophets, and of them which keepe the wordes of this booke: worshippe God.

10 And hee said vnto me, [g] Seale not the words of the prophesie of this booke: for the time is at hand.

11 He that is vniust, let him be vniust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and hee that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.

12 And behold, I come shortly, and my reward is with me, * to giue euery man according as his worke shall be.

13 I am * Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last.

14 Blessed are they, that doe his commandements, that their right may be in the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the citie.

15 For without shall bee dogges and enchanters, and whoremongers, and murtherers, and idolaters, and whosoeuer loueth or maketh [i] lies.

16 I Iesus haue sent mine Angel, to testifie vnto you these things in the Churches: I am the roote and the [k] generation of Dauid, and the bright morning [l] starre.

17 And the Spirite and the Bride say, Come. And let him that heareth, say, [m] Come: And let him that is a * thirst, come: and * let whosoeuer [o] will, take of the water of life freely.

18 For I protest vnto euery man that heareth the words of the prophesie of this booke, * If any man shall adde vnto these things, God shal adde vnto him the plagues that are written in this booke.

19 And if any man shall diminish of the words of the booke of this prophesie, God shall take away his part out of the booke of life, and out of the holy Citie, and from those things which are written in this booke.

20 He which testifieth these things, saith, [p] Surely, I come quickly. Amen. Euen so [q] come, Lord Iesus.

21 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with you all, Amen.

a He alludeth to the visible paradise, to set foorth more sensibly the spirituall: and this agreeth with that which is written, Ezek. 47.1.

b Meaning that Christ who is the life of his Church is common to all his, and not peculiar for any one sort of people.

c For there are al things pleasant and full of all contentation continually.

d Which sometime were vnpure as Gentiles, but now are purged and made whole by Christ. Isa. 60.19,20.

e The light shall be vnchangeable, and shine for euer.* Chap. 19.10.

f Now this is the second time that he suffered himselfe to be carried away with the excellencie of the person: which is to admonish vs of our infirmitie and readinesse to fall, except God strengthen vs miraculously with his spirit.

g This is not then as the other prophesies which were commaunded to be hid till the time appointed, as in Daniel 12.4. because that these things should bee quickly accomplished, and did now beginne.

Rom. 2.6. Isa. 41.4. & 44.6. chap 1.8. and 21.6.

i That maintaine false doctrine, and delight therein.

k That is, a true and naturall man, and yet God equall with my Father.

l For Christ is the light that giueth light to euery one that commeth into this world.

m Let them be afraide of Gods horrible iudgements, and as soone as they heare the Lambe call, let them come.

n He that feeleth himselfe oppressed with afflictions, and desireth the heauenly graces and comfort. Isa. 55.1.

o That is, when God beginneth to reforme our will by his Spirit. Deut. 4.2 & 12.32. prou. 30.6.

p Seeing the Lord is at hand, we ought to be constant and reioyce, but we must beware wee esteeme not the length or shortnesse of the Lords comming by our owne imagination, 2. Pet. 3.9.

q This declareth the earnest desire that the faithfull haue to bee deliuered out of these miseries, and to be ioyned with their head Christ Iesus.

The ende.

¶ THE PREFACE TO THE Christian Reader, touching the two Alphabets ensewing.

GOOD Christian Reader, because thou mayest enioy and reape the profite of these two Alphabets of directions vnto Common places hereafter following, which I haue in maner of a briefe Concordance, or large & ample Index, collected, digested, and caused to be imprinted for thy cõmoditie: I thought it not amisse to aduertise thee somewhat touching the principall contents, vse, and commoditie of them. Wherefore be it knowen vnto thee, that in the first of the said Alphabets, I haue together placed by themselues in a maner, all the strange names and wordes which are scatteringly to bee found here and there throughout the whole Bible, remayning written in the Hebrewe, Chaldean, Syrian, Greeke, or Latine languages: to the ende thou mayst by that meanes, learne to be conduced vnto so much of the interpretation, Historie, Common places, and knowledge of them, and euery of them, as I trust thou shalt thinke needefull. And for that in diuers translations these strange names & words are written diuersly, I haue, in respect thereof, only in this Alphabet, followed the Geneua translation, as most allowed in that behalfe, and yet haue placed in the Margent thereof how in writing, other Translations differ from the same: to the end not only such corruptions as are found for want of ỹ true Orthographie of them, may appeare vnto those that are skilful in those languages, to be amended, when time shall minister occasion (as some of them are already) but also the vnskilful Readers be not defrauded of such commodity, as might grow vnto them thereby, especially if they should haue occasion to looke for any word in the same Alphabet, after the same maner of writing, that they had seene or read it in other Copies, and not finde the same accordingly. Secondly, in the other of the said Alphabets, I haue likewise by themselues placed all, and as many proper and vsual English words, as are conteined in the same Bible, conducing to the finding out of the most fittest sentences, and best common places, tending to the prouing or verifying of any article and doctrine, concerning our Christian faith & religion, or belonging to any other godly or necessary instruction: so as if thou wouldest vnderstand what is to be learned in the Scriptures touching God or his power, his wisdome, or his loue, his mercie, or his trueth, his iustice, his promises, his plagues, or his punishments, &c. either else cõcerning Christ, or the holy Ghost, Angel, or Man, Nature, or Law, Sinne, or Grace, Faith, or Vnbeliefe, Predestination, or Reprobation, Iustification, Regeneration, Church or Sacraments, &c. or to be briefe, if thou wouldest vnderstand what is necessarily to bee learned in the same Scriptures, touching the estate, authoritie, office or duetie of Kings or Princes, Iudges or Magistrates, Bishops & Pastors, Elders or Ministers, Fathers and Mothers, Masters and Mistresses, Subiects, and Parishioners, Husbands & Wiues, Children and seruants, and how euery one, of what degree, estate, condition, or profession soeuer, he, she, or they be of, ought to behaue themselues towards God, and one towards another, and what is to be spoken and not spoken, and what is to be done and left vndone of them or any of them, by the rule of Gods word: thou art not voyd of competent knowledge or directions in this Alphabet to ayde thee. Thirdly, to further thee to finde out in these two Alphabets, any thing whereof I haue before made mention, thou art to resort Alphabetically vnto the first of them, with the name of any Man, Woman, Countrey, Citie, Place, Riuer, Idole, &c. in the same conteined: and also vnto the second of them, with the chiefe word of any sentence or cõmon place therein mentioned, which thou art most affected vnto, or desirest to be satisfied of: and by that meanes in euery of them ſhalt thou by Gods grace, without faile be conduced, and to thy great eaſe directed, and as it were, ledde by the hand, euen to the Booke, Chapter and Verſe, where the ſame, (or ſo much thereof, as for a godly, Chriſtian, and neceſſary knowledge ſhall bee thought requiſite) is to bee found out moſt readily: alwayes remembring, that whatſoeuer conuenient knowledge wanteth in theſe Alphabets, as touching the text whereunto it directeth thee, is there ſupplied by the Annotations, or quotations in the Margent. Moreouer, good Chriſtian Reader, thou haſt alſo to obſerue how that the firſt Figure, or Figures, which followe next after any Booke whereunto thou ſhalt bee guided, ſignifieth or ſignifie the Chapter, and the other the verſe or verſes of the ſame Chapter, where any of the foreſaid things is to be ſought for. Againe, whereas thou ſhalt after a Chapter, and otherwhiles after ſome verſe or verſes of a Chapter, finde this marke or Starre * quoted, thou art to vnderſtand, how that the whole Chapter, or from the verſe of that Chapter where the ſame Starre is placed forward vnto the ende thereof, entreateth, or in ſome good reſpects chiefly belongeth, and may be applyed to the ſame Hiſtorie, matter, or common place thou ſeekeſt for, except there be any verſes following the ſame *, for then the common place is to be vnderſtoode, not to exceede thoſe verſes. Finally, whereas I haue ſometimes in theſe Alphabets partly ſet downe the ſenſe, & that which may properly be gathered of the text, which thou art directed vnto, & not the very words themſelues, and otherwhiles repeated one thing in diuers places, but yet to diuers ends: I truſt that wil not offend thee, ſith I haue ſo done for the vnlearneds ſake, becauſe the ſame could not, ne can be made too plaine for them, and therefore haue vſed not ſo great a curioſitie and abbreuiation in that behalfe, as perhaps ſome others would haue had me: & yet conſidering to what a great quantity theſe two Alphabets are growen vnto, (ouer that I thought they would) I haue bene forced to leaue out ſomewhat, that otherwiſe I would haue added vnto them, which hereafter by Gods grace I will ſupply: thus much touching the principal contents, commodity, & vſe of the aforeſaid Alphabets, which with ſuch other doubts as may trouble thee, I miſtruſt not, but by well peruſing of the ſame, and practiſe (with the diuerſitie of letter, which is vſed in them) will ſoone appeare very eaſie, plaine, and apparant vnto thee, albeit I particularly touch not euery of them. Now therfore to conclude, if my ſimple trauaile and paines taken herein ſhalbe wel accepted of thee, I meane, of the more skilful and learned Readers to be poliſhed and amended of them (if they ſhall ſo deeme neceſſary and conuenient) to the better edification of the Church of God, whereof they are or ought to be ioynt members, helpers, and furtherers, ſo farre forth as their Talents wil ſtretch vnto, and that in the ſpirit of meekeneſſe, ſobrietie, and charitie: and of the leſſe learned or vnlearned Reader (vnto whom I confeſſe my ſelfe the greateſt debtour) as an aid and helpe to their godly ſtudies, and honeſt trade of life, and withal Chriſtianly to be conſtrued of al men, as a meanes and furtherance, and not an hinderance vnto any, I ſhall for my part thinke my ſelfe weil requited, and more then ſufficiently rewarded, in that I ſhall enioy my deſire, and that which I longed for. And ſo beſeeching Almightie God to giue vs his grace to be ſtudious of vnitie, and bringing forth ſuch fruites, as may declare our vndoubted election in Chriſt Ieſus, I take my leaue of thee, this xxij of December.

Anno Domini.

Thine in the Lord, Robert F. Herry.
